New Business Comes To Commercial Center

With the completion of Greenbelt Consumer Services' move into its enlarged store, the face of the Greenbelt commercial center has begun to change. Already in operation are Tanner's Cleaners in the former valet shop, run by Si Tanner, who has another cleaning store in Washington; and the beauty shop in quarters above the theatre, run by Mattie Haggerty of 2-J Gardenway, who formerly managed the GCS beauty shop. The barber shop is now being run by Prystay; the shoe repair shop by Paul Milasi, repairman under GCS' tenure; and the movie theatre by Jack Fruchtman, who until last July 1 operated it for GCS. The local office of Nationwide Insurance Co. has moved to offices over the theatre, and the telephone company has taken enlarged space there.

High's Dairy Products Co. has leased the former beauty shop for an ice cream store, but its opening date is still indefinite. The tobacco store is to be run by Jack McNeel. Tidewater Oil Co. has agreed to buy the filling station and new services to the dry cleaning Co. for one of its Tydol stations.

The former drug and variety stores have not yet been leased. According to Abraham Chasanow, attorney for Gilbert, there are several prospective tenants, but decisions have yet to be made among them.

Tanner Plans Modern Dry Cleaning Plant

Si Tanner, ex-Greenbelter and new proprietor of the local Valet Shop, opened his doors for business this week. Located at 125 Centerway on the same site as the former GCS Valet Shop, Tanner plans to add new services to the dry cleaning operation.

"We are installing the most modern dry cleaning equipment known to the industry," he announced. He was referring to the "Synthetic Solvent System," which uses a dry cleaning chemical called perchlorethylene made by Dupont.

This modern wonder solvent is used in the Detrex machine, he explained, and does a cleaning job in less than an hour. The chemical has no flash point and will not burn, even if spilled on an open fire. Both the chemical and the machine have been approved by the Fire Underwriters' Laboratory, and the entire operation will be subject to inspection by the local fire and building inspectors.

County C commissioner Frank Lastner, contacted by telephone to find out if there were any objections to the installation of this equipment, indicated that he was not opposed to it. "I am familiar with the equipment," he said. "It's the most modern on the market, not inflammable, no fumes, and not explosive." The County, in fact, has approved it for installation in other shopping centers because of these safety features.

Tanner, meanwhile, plans to provide Greenbelt with a modern dry cleaning plant geared for one-hour, one-day, or regular two-day service.

Polls Open 7 am - 7 pm Vote at Center School

About 3,000 Greenbelt residents will be eligible to vote in the General Election, next Tuesday, Nov. 6. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Center School.

Although seven voting machines will be in operation, election officials urge citizens to vote during the day before the evening rush. Under election rules, voters waiting in line at 7 p.m. are permitted to vote but any voters joining the waiting line after that time may not be able to vote.

Voters are reminded that they are eligible to vote if they have participated in any Greenbelt General Election in the last five years.

Besides the Presidency, Greenbelt voters will cast ballots for one U. S. Senator from Maryland and one House Representative from the Fifth Congressional District. Vieing for the Senate seat are incumbent Republican John Marshall Butler and Democrat George P. Mahoney. The battle for the House seat is being waged between incumbent Democrat Richard E. Lankford and Republican William B. Prendegast. Also on the ballot are seven constitutional amendments which are relatively non-controversial. These amendments were supported by a 3/5 majority vote of the Maryland General Assembly.

Boy Scouts Urge Citizens to Vote

Local scouts will be among the nation's 4,175,134 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders, who will climax their nationwide Get Out the Vote campaign beginning Saturday, November 3. On that day and on Monday, November 5, they will call on a total of 35,000,000 homes and leave on front doorknobs a Liberty Bell hanger urging citizens to vote.

They have been conducting a nonpartisan campaign, without reference to any candidate or party. It has been sponsored jointly with Freedoms Foundation, Inc., of Valley Forge. The message on the Liberty Bell hanger reads:

"Heed youth's call. Vote as you think, but vote November 6, 1956. Use your freedom to vote." Householders will be invited to display these hangers in their windows, indicating their intention to vote.

Scout leaders believe that organized boyhood can exert a strong influence among parents, relatives, and neighbors in doing their share in rolling up a record vote this year. They feel that while the campaign hopes to stimulate adults to meet their responsibilities of good citizenship by voting, the scouts themselves will also get a lesson in their duty to vote when they come of age.

Councilmen Comment On Laundry Trailer

By I. J. Parker

A trailer parked on Greenbelt Consumer Services property, operating an outlet for the Q & S Laundry, is causing some concern to residents and to members of the city council, who will discuss the subject at the regular meeting next Monday night.

According to GCS, the trailer was a stopgap arrangement after the closing of the store handling laundry-drycleaning service, formerly provided to GCS by Q&S. When Q&S suggested a trailer pickup station, GCS agreed providing county and city officials approved. Q&S assured GCS that it had gotten that approval.

The trailer is situated on land zoned commercial.

"The facility is insuring competition in the laundry and dry-cleaning field in Greenbelt," GCS asserted. Also, the trailer site is "dead" space from the standpoint of parking and trucking use, and the attractive-appearing trailer also hides the rear of the store, GCS added. "If, however, significant community opposition develops, we would immediately give every consideration to discontinuing it."

City manager Charles McDonald said last night that the trailer, without wheels, would be considered an "erected building" subject to all laws and regulations pertaining to such a structure. It must meet county building inspection requirements and have a usage permit. However, there are no city ordinances that prohibit it.

Commenting on the trailer, the following councilmen gave their views last night:

Robert Hurst: "The trailer poses many problems dealing with taxation, zoning and aesthetic values. The council had hoped for planned development and orderly growth which would be a credit to the community. I don't believe this trailer meets those requirements."

Mayor Tom Canning: "I don't See TRAILER, Page 4

GVHC Revises Commission Charges On Future Sales Of Greenbelt Houses

By Al Skolnik

Revision of commission charges for homes sold by Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation was voted by the GVHC board of directors at its regular meeting last Friday night. For all future homes listed with the corporation, the commission will be 2½ percent of sales price, instead of 2½ percent of GVHC original list price as at present. In addition, the $25 handling fee for transferring contracts will be added to the commission, instead of included as part of commission.

Election Roundup

As the election campaign enters the final stages, Democratic leaders remain confident that their party ticket will gain a clean sweep in Greenbelt in the voting next Tuesday, Nov. 6.

They expect Greenbelt to give their Presidential aspirant, Adlai Stevenson, a comfortable margin and to contribute heavily to the unseating of Republican Senator John Marshall Butler by George P. Mahoney. In addition, they expect no difficulty in carrying the city for incumbent Democratic Representative Richard E. Lankford over challenger William B. Prendegast.

While conceding that Mahoney and Lankford will run ahead of Stevenson, Democratic officials estimate that Stevenson will garner as much as 58 percent of the popular vote in the city. Republicans dispute this, contending that Stevenson's majority will be far below this as the result of ticket-splitting by many Democrats.

In 1952, Stevenson barely squeezed out a 51-vote victory over Eisenhower. His Greenbelt vote was 1061 to 1010 for the President, for a 51.2 percent majority. In the same election, Mahoney, running against Republican J. Glenn Beall for the Senate, attracted 54.3 percent of the votes in Greenbelt. Mahoney, like Stevenson, also failed to carry the state, but by only some 40,000 votes, whereas Stevenson lost Maryland by over 100,000 votes. If the Greenbelt vote is a fair belwether, then Democratic majorities of less than 57 percent in Greenbelt presage a losing state ticket.

Registration in Greenbelt favors the Democrats. Of the 3,048 eligible voters, 68 percent are registered Democratic, 27 percent Republican, and 5 percent independent. What proportion of the eligibles will vote is uncertain, though generally the number of people voting in Presidential years is greater than in off-years. This is shown by the following table of the Greenbelt vote for the Congressional seat:

	Rep.	Dem.	% Dem.
	Small	Lank.	Maj.
1952	839	1136	57.5
1954	496	965	66.5

In 1952, Lankford lost the district as a whole by about 1000 votes. His victory in 1954 was by over 8,000 votes. This would indicate that if Republicans can keep Lankford's majority to below 60 percent in Greenbelt, they may expect a Prendegast victory.

UNICEF Trick or Treat Collects Total of $263

The young people who rang doorbells Sunday evening, chanting "trick or treat for UNICEF", have done it again! By their magnificent efforts on behalf of the United Nations Children's Fund, and through the generosity of Greenbelt Citizens who gave so freely, the pennies, nickels and dimes collected came to an exciting total of $263.03.

The sponsors of the Hallowe'en "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" Project, Mrs. Peggy Smith of the Mowatt Methodist Church, Mr. Samuel Vernoff of the Jewish Community Center, and Mrs. Helen Hufendick of the Community Church, thank everyone concerned - the young people who rang the doorbells, the adults who contributed for the financial success, which will help extend the assistance UNICEF gives in the form of milk, food and drugs for less privileged youngsters overseas.

Five members of the board - Al Long, Frank Kriby, John Pharris, Hans Jorgensen, and Robert Halpin - voted for the change over the opposition of Percy Andros and Bruce Bowman. Frank Lastner, as acting president in the absence of ailing Ed Burgoon, did not vote.

GVHC Manager Paul Campbell initiated the move for the commission change on the grounds that normal real estate practice is to apply the commission rate to the final sales price. He felt that competition would be fairer, and the computation of the commission amount less confusing, if GVHC followed the same procedure.

However, Campbell suggested a reduction in the rate to 2 percent. By applying the reduced rate to a higher base (the sales price instead of the original book value), the corporation would probably net a greater income, Campbell said, especially if the $25 transfer fee were made an extra charge.

The majority of the board, however, felt that 2½ percent was a fair competitive rate and that the Sales Department could probably use to advantage the extra income for expansion of its sales force and advertising campaign.

New Pump

Campbell announced the installation of a pump at 24 Research rd. for the carrying of water from the sump beneath the floor to the sewer. A child last year was badly burned by scalding water from an open drain and the new installation is intended to prevent such accidents.

A similar installation will be made at one other heating plant where the sewer is accessible. In two other instances, the drain has been extended. Campbell assured the board that explicit instructions have been given the heating staff that there will be no blowing down of boilers until after midnight.

Landscaping

A letter was received from City Manager Charles McDonald advising the board that no funds were available in this year's city budget for a joint city-GVHC landscaping project. The board decided to postpone action until it was determined whether next year's city budget, due for adoption in December, would allow funds.

Patronage Refund

Campbell announced receipt of $9,826 in patronage fuel oil refund from Southern States Cooperative - $7,380 in cash and $2,446 in certificates redeemable in cash after 10 years.

GCS Picks Winners Thursday At 8 p.m.

The name of winners of a host of prizes offered by Greenbelt Consumer Services to kick off the opening of its new service station in Greenbelt will be pulled out of a well-shaken-up box by Greenbelt's mayor, Thomas J. Canning.

The brief ceremony will be held promptly at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 1, at the filling station on Southway. Top prize is one year's supply of gasoline or 500 gallons.

Folk Dancing

Community Folk Dancers will hold the first of four monthly dances this Sunday, 8:30 p.m. at the JCC building, Ridge at Westway. With the well-known Dave Rosenberg teaching, calling the dances, and filling in with colorful background, the group will swing their partners in squares and rounds from a variety of countries. The size of the group will be limited, and over twenty couples have already subscribed to the series of four, but for this first dance individuals will be admitted at the door for a nominal charge.

Letters to the Editor

I DISAGREE

I disagree with you most heartily in your editorial comment implying censure of Paul Campbell for his recent letter to the GVHC membership.

The GVHC Newsletter is the official communications channel from the GVHC board and management to the membership. Not only is it in good taste for Mr. Campbell to express management's views in it; he would be remiss not to do so. The News Review is Greenbelt's one and only newspaper; its position in the community is as yet unchallenged, and the citizens depend upon it to present all points of view. The GVHC Newsletter was not established to compete with or usurp the place of the News Review; the Newsletter is a house organ. Even more surprising than the seeming confusion in the mind of the News Review's editor as to the function of the GVHC Newsletter is board member Al Long's comment on the publication becoming a "tool in the hands of management." That is what its meant to be.

It is Mr. Campbell's duty and responsibility to inform the membership of the reasons underlying the development of policies and practices established by the board. The membership has had little understanding of the situation between the corporation and the Greenbelt Realty Co., because the news accounts during the past several months appearing in the Greenbelt News Review and in the GVHC Newsletter alike were too brief and intermittent for a complete picture. The resulting puzzlement has bred unease among the membership and Mr. Campbell's letter is a welcome antidote to that.

It may be that Mr. Chasanow has rendered the corporation a legal service by his "insistence on legitimate operation." It is easy to understand, appreciate and commend his continuing sense of responsibility to the corporation which was established under his legal guidance. It would be entirely erroneous, however, for the membership to think these later services cost the corporation nothing. Many of us have had some experience with investigating or evaluating procedures; we know what the operational losses in time, energy, and nerves are at such times. The daily tack, the normal routines suffer, or the working staff suffers as it carries on under a double burden. Who can wonder that the cost to the corporation in terms of staff morale and fatigue over a period of many months caused the manager to express indignation? This evidence of patience worn thin in a man of the equable temperament of Mr. Campbell is a sure sign that the price which the corporation paid was high.

like the honky-tonk looks of the trailer, and it certainly does not add to the appearance of the shopping center."

Alan Kistler: "The trailer has a transient connotation that is undesirable in the Center. After all, this is the civic center of the community and should retain a more dignified atmosphere. It's a poor thing at best."

James Smith: "I would like to hear about both sides before I make up my mind; however, tonight I am inclined to be against it. It represents an invasion, and Gilbert would expect the same privilege."

Ben Goldfaden: "It certainly isn't desirable in our Center, and would lead the way to similar types of stores."

GCS officials deny hearing any opposition to the trailer. "We were quite surprised to find that there was a problem in connection with this subject," they declared.

"Oklahoma"

Washington premiere of Rogers & Hammerstein's "Oklahoma" on new TODD-AO screen, will be November 1, at 9:30 p.m. in the Stanley Warner Uptown Theatre.

Featuring one of the area's largest theatre screens, this technicolor musical will be presented at two daily performances, 2 and 8 p.m., and three performances on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays, at 2, 5 and 8 p.m.

A $12,000,000 investment, "Oklahoma" will be on a reserved seat basis. This new film process involves a curved screen which gives the viewer the feeling of "being part of the screen."
