38 Pet Owners To Receive 30-Day Termination Notices On August 30

By Al Skolnik

About 100 members of Greenbelt Homes, Inc.—the largest number ever to attend a regular board of directors meeting—overflowed into the corridors of the corporation's Administration building last Friday night to witness the unanimous adoption by the board of a resolution terminating the mutual ownership contract of 38 leaseholders for the keeping of unauthorized pets. About 105 pet owners had originally received warning notices to dispose of their pets or face eviction.

These leaseholders will be notified by registered mail on August 30 that the termination of contract will be effective 30 days from the date of notice. Members will have the right to appeal their case to the entire membership body, provided the board is informed of this desire within 10 days after receipt of the termination notice.

Preceding the action of the board, a spirited exchange of views took place between those opposing and those favoring the ban on pets. The crowd was orderly at all times, despite the fact that the audience was almost evenly split between the two factions. It was expected that only pet-fanciers would make an appearance, but a sizeable group of residents showed up defending the position of the board.

The case presented by the pet owners consisted of two major arguments. (1) It was their inalienable right as property owners, guaranteed by the U. S. Constitution and Maryland law, to keep a dog, cat, or other pet, and this right could only be abridged in cases where a pet was a public nuisance.

(2) The mutual ownership contract does not specify the prohibition of dogs but merely that Public Housing Administration regulations in effect at time of the purchase from the government would apply. Since GHI is now a non-governmental organization, PHA rules cannot have any further pertinency.

To the first argument, defenders of the prohibition replied that while GHI members are property owners in one sense, they are also members of a mutual housing corporation. In such a corporation, an individual willingly surrenders certain rights and privileges in order to achieve greater rights and advantages as a member of a larger group. The keeping of pets was one of the individual rights which the majority of the membership in the most democratic means possible—by an advisory mail referendum conducted in accordance with Section 8(b) of the by-laws—decided should be surrendered for the betterment of the entire group.

To the second argument, corporation supporters replied that the language of the mutual ownership contract makes it evident that the corporation has the power to prohibit dogs and cats regardless of whether the PHA rules are or could still be held applicable to the current situation of the corporation.

From this vortex of arguments, many other minor arguments stemmed. Pet-fanciers continually rose to state that their dogs were being carefully taken care of, were always kept on leashes, and were no hazard or nuisance to any of their neighbors. Others inquired, if this were so, what was the basis for all the complaints the corporation was receiving? Back came the retort that it was only jealous and envious neighbors.

One neutral party suggested that the particular question of whether a member's dog was a public nuisance or not could be settled by having the dog owner require everyone in the court to sign a petition agreeing to the presence of the dog in the court. Someone added that such a vote would have to be by secret ballot, since in many cases neighbors conceal their true feelings in order not to be personally offensive to pet owners. One pet-fancier objected, telling of her neighbor who voted for the general pet ban, yet liked her individual pet, even leaving food out for her at night. Some wag suggested that perhaps the food was poisoned.

The case made by the supporters of the pet prohibition can be summarized as follows: Greenbelt was built ostensibly with children in mind. The houses with their close quarters cannot give maximum freedom to both pets and children. While Greenbelt could certainly accommodate a few dogs, it is equally certain that Greenbelt could not handle a dog in every house. The question then arises whether some members, because of their obstinacy and selfishness, should be allowed to attain a privileged position in the community in disregard of the sacrifices the majority of members have made in abstaining from keeping pets. Failure to enforce the prohibition now will only mean a steady influx of pets into Greenbelt in the future with its problems further intensified.

In commenting upon the huge assemblage, GHI president Ed Burgoon stated that if a crowd of this size had descended upon the city council demanding that the city enforce its restrictions on strays and other dogs creating a public nuisance, this situation might never have reached a head. Instead, he continued, the situation was allowed to deteriorate, with the result that members came screaming to the corporation to put teeth into the ban.

In one other important item, the board decided upon a special board of directors meeting on Friday, September 6, to discuss plans submitted by architect Alfred Kastner for the remodeling of the North End store property recently purchased from Gilbert Realty Co.

Co-op Kindergarten Parents to Meet

School will begin for the Greenbelt Co-operative Kindergarten on September 11. An important membership meeting will be held September 9 in the basement of the Center school. Parents are urged to attend.

For all mothers and fathers helping in the kindergarten a regulation of the health department requires a chest X-ray. Parents should keep this in mind when the mobile unit is in Greenbelt in September.

All records of immunization for children entering the kindergarten are required and must be recorded before the beginning of school September 11.

CHEST X-RAY

CHEST X-RAY Mobile Unit will be stationed in Greenbelt, at the Center School on September 3 from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. Keep this date in mind and have your chest X-rayed—"No Charge".

Registration Day

The Board of Education has designated tomorrow, Friday, August 30, as the pre-school registration day for all pupils who may be entering the first grade and have not registered heretofore, and for all pupils who have moved into the area served by the school during the summer months.

The schools will be open from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. to facilitate this registration. Registration will be held in the school office.

The following information should be brought for all first grade children being registered:

1. Birth Certificate: (According to State law, a child must reach his sixth birthday during the 1957 calendar year)
2. Vaccination Certificate
3. Certificate of Immunization against Diphtheria (Adequate immunization consists of the initial two doses of diphtheria toxoid or a booster diphtheria shot since Jan. 1, 1954.)

NOTE PATROL MEMBERS, Greenbelt Center School: Will all patrol members please meet at the school Friday, August 30 at 1 p.m. to receive instructions for the first day of school.

Hi-Point Registration

Registration for all students at High Point High School will take place from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on August 30, Principal Allen Chotiner has announced. Classes will begin on Thursday, September 5.

Students are to report as follows: 9th graders from the junior high school will go to the cafeteria to receive their home room assignment cards; last year's students will report to their last year's homerooms to receive their new assignments; new students transferring from other schools will go to the school library.

Four school buses to accommodate students from Greenbelt will leave regularly at 8:15 a.m.—two from the Center and one each from Laurel Hill at Ridge and Crescent at Hillside.

School officials are happy to announce that a normal 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. schedule will be possible this year, since the opening of the new Rollingcrest High School has greatly reduced the enrollment at High Point. Ninety-two teachers made up the faculty last year to instruct 2300 students. This year's student load is expected to fall between 1750 and 1800. The faculty will consist of 72 members. In October any crowding at High Point High School will be further reduced with the projected opening of the new wing.

Nursery School

The Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School will open its 1957-58 season on the same date as the public schools, next Thursday, September 5. Sessions the first day and throughout September will run from 9 to 11 a.m. Regular hours are 9 to 11:30.

The school urgently needs a small mattress for the children to use for tumbling. Anyone having a felt or foam-rubber (not inner-spring) pad to donate may take it to the school basement on 14 Parkway during the hours above or call equipment chairman Elizabeth Cormack, 2883.

Although the school is opening with a full enrollment of 16 three- and four-year-olds, applications are still being accepted for the waiting list. To apply call vice president Leah Warner, 4-D Southway, phone 8551.

Bloodmobile-Sept. 6

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Center School from 1 to 7 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 6. Every home in Greenbelt will be contacted by members of the LIONS CLUB, as sponsoring body, to sign up willing donors of blood for this date.

The present need for blood is so urgent that hospitals have had to limit many operations requiring additional blood. Donating at this time may possibly save a life. Won't you please be ready to sign-up when one of the Greenbelt Lions calls at your door (If you need transportation to and from the Bloodmobile, or baby sitting service, please indicate this on the signature sheet and arrangements will be made for you.)

Climax of the Festival is the crowning of the Queen of the Festival at 11 p.m. on Sunday night. At that time all voting for the seven candidates will end, and the one who has received the most penny votes in the Popularity Contest will receive the crown and a beautiful trophy. The queen and the two members of her court, the runners-up in the contest who will also win handsome trophies, will be featured in the big parade on Monday morning at 10 a.m.

Eli DonBullian, director of the Festival on behalf of the Youth Center Advisory Board, has commented that there are fewer candidates for the title this year because some girls assumed that the American Legion-sponsored candidate would walk away with the contest as happened last year. However, as it has turned out, Kathleen Jane Madden, the candidate of the Fire Department and Rescue Squad, has an overwhelming lead.

Other entrants in the contest are Ellen Marie Maguire, the candidate of the American Legion and Auxiliary; Martha Louise Haggerty, sponsored by the Lions Club; Judy Anne Moore, carrying the colors of the Izaak Walton League; Alice Bell, representing the Greenbelt Theater; Lois Ann Pettit, the GCS candidate; and Glenda Haber, the candidate of the Little League. The penny votes may be cast by depositing them in the appropriate containers in the jars at the Coop store.

Another big feature of the Festival will be the nine-mile road run, which will begin at 2 p.m. on Sunday. The course will circle Greenbelt and is expected to take about two and a half hours to complete. Several prominent runners from out-of-state are expected to compete. Another special feature will be a swimming carnival beginnings at 5 p.m. on Sunday. It will include races and diving contests.

On all four evenings there will be a talent show produced by Richard Coulter at 7:30 p.m. and a jitterbug contest at 9 p.m. The first three nights will be preliminaries with the finals on Monday night. A square dance will be held Saturday night at 8:30 p.m. behind the swimming pool. Saturday is also the day for the band contests including some drum and bugle corps. A special judo exhibition is scheduled for Monday night at 9 p.m. Official programs giving exact time and date for all events will be distributed.

The parade on Monday will feature TV star Dick Mansfield as master of ceremonies. It is hoped that youngsters will decorate their bikes and enter the parade since one of the nicest trophies yet offered will go to the winner of that event.

Approximately 15 booths will take up the walkway at the center. One of them will be a bingo game for cash prizes. An airplane kiddies ride will also be set up and possibly other rides.

RESERVATIONS

Reservations are now being accepted for the use of the Community building during the school season.

Space is limited due to the increased number of recreation activities being planned. All requests must be in writing and mailed to the Recreation Department by September 20.

ART SHOW

To the Editor:

Once a year we have an art show in Greenbelt that lasts for three days and gives the city new color and excitement. We three, Gordon Lawson, Don Uhlin, and I—plus Connie Lawson, who is joining us this year—are arranging the shows and hope for a greater participation each year.

Every family makes things. It would be a poor home indeed that had no model airplane or dolly or hand-made hooked rug. Few have not the photo "bug," the "talented" child, the "handy" father.

This art show is not limited to a particular kind of work: it is open to everything that is made by hand. Most people stay away because of shyness. Remember how you all enjoyed seeing the work of others in past years. It's fun. Think about it and look around the house. You're certain to find something for our show.

The grassed plot at Centerway is a pretty place, shady and comfortable on weekend afternoons, large enough for hundreds of things. We have prizes of money and materials.

Albert Ellerin of the Arts and Crafts Supply Co. offers $15.00 worth of certificates for art materials. He is a generous supporter of the annual exhibits.

The awards will be given out Monday afternoon, September 1. Join in and enjoy the pleasure of sharing your work with others.

Baptist Music Month

September will be Music Month in the Greenbelt Baptist Chapel according to the plans of the music committee of which Mrs. John J. Oleksak, chairman. The purpose of music month is to present the value of the music ministry in the church program and to encourage members and friends to join one of the choirs for the next church year.

A new choir will be formed bringing the total to four choirs. The choirs by age groups will be as follows: Cherub 5-8, Carol 9-12, Concord 13-16, and Church for those who are 17 and older. Choir directors and pianists for each choir will be announced after the annual chapel election to be held on September 12.

During September announcements will be made at the morning and evening services explaining the music program. On Sunday evening, September 15, the Chapel choir will present a sacred music concert.

HELPFUL BROTHERS?

To the Editor:

I attended the meeting of the Board of GHI Friday, August 23, held for the discussion of possession of pets, and since then I have been troubled by the substance of a remark made by the spokesman of the GHI Board which was that they would rid Greenbelt of undesirable people. This remark was not made in connection with the possession of pets but those people of unfortunate circumstances.

I have been asking myself since—by what standard and whose standard are they using as a yardstick in determining which individuals are measuring up, or who will be thrown out of Greenbelt? Is there a legal right for this decision? What qualities and conditions are considered "undesirable" by the Board? What are the duties of the Board other than sending eviction notices to families who may possess a pet as personal property, and deciding who are unworthy to live as their neighbors.

Is not the control of unwanted pets under the jurisdiction of the police department in other cities? Why not Greenbelt? Do other cities have a group (except those cities who have the Klu Klux Klan) who assume the role of dictatorship? Why does Greenbelt have this unkindness?

Those groups in Greenbelt not belonging to GHI prove that it is not essential to have a Board control.

As one member of GHI I like to think of people as helpful brothers.

Nine-Mile Marathon

Sunday, September 1, at 2 p.m. thirty top distance runners from the East Coast will be competing in Greenbelt in a nine mile road race for top honors. Topping the entry list is Browning Ross of the Penn A.C. Browning was a member of the 1948 and 1952 Olympic Team. He is the winner of the Berwick Marathon for the past 6 years, S.A.A.U. six mile Champion, and holder of many national long distance records. The race will start at Braden Field and go through St. Hugh's at Crescent Road and continue up Crescent past the Center and connect with Ridge Road down to Southway, then down Southway to Crescent and continue past the lake to Edmonston Road, out Edmonston Road to Beaver Dam Road, right on Beaver Dam Road to Research Road extended, right on Research Road and up the mile hill to Ridge Road. Left on Ridge down to Gardenway, left on Gardenway to Crescent, right on Crescent to St. Hugh's and into Braden Field for the finish. The distance is 9 miles.

ges County League. The team weights will not be known until after the meeting on Friday.

COMPROMISE

To the Editor:

My husband and I have long admired the GVHC homes and would like to purchase one of them. However, we are not in agreement with the ruling against pets. Having an interest in the problem, we would like to express the following opinions.

Greenbelt justly takes pride in its democratic form of government, but it should be remembered that democracy's basic axiom, the greatest good for the greatest number of people, does not mean a simple rule of majority alone. Inherent in the idea is a respect for the rights of minorities in so far as they do not interfere with those of other people.

The problem seems to be not so much the pets as the nuisance they cause neighbors. In line with these thoughts, we would like to suggest this compromise. Pet owners could be required to fence in their pets or chain them in some way and thereby check their trouble making tendencies.

It has been argued to us that this would be difficult to enforce. There are two answers to this point. It could be no more difficult than enforcing an absolute ban on pets. Also, if the above comment is insufficient guarantee, it might be required that pet owners pay a certain fee to the town to support a dog catcher to check up on pets and control strays.

Certainly this would satisfy the greatest number of people. Both sides would be giving some ground in the interest of solving a community problem and, at the same time, furthering a feeling of mutual satisfaction in keeping with good community living.

POLITICS

To the Editor:

In considering councilman Kistler's article in last week's New Review the language of the English Poet naturally comes to mind. "In politics as in fashion the same rule will hold,

Alike fantastic if too new or old,
Be not the first by whom the new are tried,
Nor yet the last to lay the old aside"

Jim Smith

City Councilman

THANK YOU

To the Editor:

I wanted to personally thank each and every one of my friends for their thoughtfulness and kindness during my recent illness but as I will be away from Greenbelt for a little while I am taking this means of expressing my deep appreciation for the ever so many cards and letters that I have received. It makes me feel that it was worth going through what I did to find out that I had so many good friends. I am sure that if it were not for your prayers I would not have come through the most trying time of my life. May God bless you all.
