5-man Youth Center Board to be Retained

The city council voted to keep the Youth Center Advisory Board membership at the present number — five — instead of the proposed seven, and approved for first reading an ordinance amending the original document which created the board. A special meeting will be held Monday morning at 10 a.m. to consider final approval of the bill. With the absence of Mayor Alan Kistler and mayor pro-tem Tom Canning, because of illness, the three-man council split 2-1 on the vote. Councilman Dave Champion, proponent of the seven-man board, voted against the five-man figure.

The new ordinance calls for the election of three new members in January of odd-numbered years, and two new members elected in January of even-numbered years. At the Saturday meeting, election of two new members will be considered, with present YCAB chairman Bev Fonda standing for re-election. The other member elected will fill the place vacated by Mrs. Henry Walter, who moved from Greenbelt several months ago. As the oldest member, in terms of service, Fonda was considered most suitable for re-consideration. Other citizens to be considered for the vacancies, as disclosed by Champion are: Fred Birdseye, Ben Goldfaden, Father Liston, Dr. Glenn Samuelson, Richard Hoffman, Joseph O'Laughlin, and John Merricks.

Duties of the board as stated in the new ordinance are that it serve in an advisory capacity to the superintendent of recreation (1) in prescribing rules and regulations for the supervision, operation and direction of the Youth Center Building, (2) in the operation of the Teen Club program, (3) in securing chaperones, and (4) in carrying out reasonable programs and events to raise funds to meet the cost of operating the Teen Club programs.

Present members of the YCAB are Mrs. Janet Parker, Mrs. Jean Mogel, and Ed Burgoon.

A Note of Interest

Like most of its citizens, the city of Greenbelt will borrow money to tide itself over a lean period, the council decided last Monday night. City manager Charles McDonald was authorized to negotiate a loan of $30,000 from the Suburban Trust company for a 90-day period. Interest of 4% was approved, and the loan will consist of two $15,000 notes.

For the past several years, despite the repayment of taxes by Greenbelt Homes, Inc., the city has been forced to borrow sums to meet payrolls and expenditures during the part of the year when tax and other revenue sources are short in supply.

One man votes, by councilman Dave Champion, resulted from his opinion that other lending institutions should be canvassed in order to get better interest rates.

FIRE HOUSE CALLS

A number of calls have been received at the Fire House for the City office from persons needing the assistance of the Fire department or Rescue Squad. For the fastest assistance, please make your calls direct to the county Fire Board number which is UN. 4-1122. The men at this number have the mechanisms necessary to sound the siren in Greenbelt immediately. And a further request is made that persons needing help should give the location of the trouble and a telephone number where they can be reached if necessary.

Police News Review

The police report a number of children injured as a result of sleigh riding this past week. None of the injuries were very serious, although some children required stitches. Reports were called in to the City Office concerning children (teen-agers included) who were hitching their sleds to the rear of cars. There were also some windows broken at the Center by misguided snowballs.

A ten-week-old puppy who showed signs of possible distemper or rabies, and who died, has been examined and found not rabid.

The trial of Jack L. Katz, a District resident accused of larceny of cigarettes from the Co-op store, has been postponed until Mar. 17.

Two Greenbelt boys, part of a gang of five boys charged with breaking into a Mighty Mo restaurant in Dec., have been found guilty and are now awaiting presentence investigation.

Teen Club Program Reaps High Praise

A report on the Junior Teen Club program held at the North End elementary school was highly praised by the city council and city manager Charles McDonald at the city council meeting last Monday night. Submitted by the program director, Joseph O'Laughlin, the report disclosed that the club has a membership of 80 youngsters, of junior high school age, and a board of directors of seven boys and girls. They are: Kenneth Powell, Kirk McCauley, Jimmy Robertson, Clarice Rowe, Sandy Ciatto, Dorothy Kendall, and Ronnie Rowe. The board meets every other Saturday at noon, and the club is run entirely by the board.

Activities at the club have included bowling, horseback riding, roller skating and dancing. The members keep their own financial accounts and inspect the building before and after activities. About six members are from Berwyn Heights and College Park. Clayton Werner secures chaperones, and no parent has had to chaperone more than once, thus far. The club was formed October 3, 1959, after "a number of junior high school boys and girls, who wanted to have a dance . . . similar to the ones they had in elementary school" requested the program.

The club operates every Saturday from 8 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. and on special occasions when other activities are planned.

A financial statement, accompanying the report, disclosed revenue of $229.80 and expenditures of $215.63.

Mothers' March Success

The Mothers' March in Greenbelt on behalf of the new March of Dimes was a job well done, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Iseli, Chairman, and Mrs. Peg Baldwin and Mrs. Cleo Dutton, co-chairmen.

The drive netted $50477, exceeding last year's drive. This year the money will be used not only to further research on polio, but will help researchers in the field of crippling diseases and arthritis.

Helping with the drive were the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary and many other women around town.

JCC

The Jewish Community Center of Prince Georges County will hold their Second Annual Monte Carlo and Bingo on Saturday, February 27, at 8 p.m. in the JCC building, Ridge and Westway.

Approve New Ordinance To Ease Court Parking

The city council tackled the ticklish parking shortage in Greenbelt and approved an ordinance providing for reserved spaces in courts of Greenbelt Housing, Inc. homes. Under the new legislation, fifty-one percent of the residents of a court can petition the council to mark off spaces, assign them to residents of the court, and enforce the permits with penalties for violation. After one year, the court's residents can petition for rescinding the reservations or re-assignment.

In courts where there is a shortage of space to provide one parking area to each resident, the manager is permitted to assign space in an adjoining court or parking area. In courts where there is a surplus of space, the extra area will be marked off for visitors, under carefully spelled out restrictions. The general rule to prevail, the council declared, is to provide one space per living unit. The ordinance does not apply to parking courts in apartments or other housing not under GHI ownership.

GHI courts have been dedicated by intent to the city for policing and maintenance; other courts are still privately owned. A summary of the ordinance will appear in the News Review and in the GHI newsletter.

Recreation Advisory Committee Is Created

A new Recreation Advisory Committee was created by the city council at its regular meeting last Monday night. Purpose of the committee as stated by the resolution is to make recommendations to the council, city manager and recreation director on ways of developing and improving the overall recreational program for the city. Each councilman will nominate two citizens for the proposed ten-man committee. Discussion of the proposal disclosed that the intent of council is to form a group of interested citizens in order to coordinate the many recreational activities not directly under the city program.

According to Warren Leddick, recreation director, these "left field" groups often lobby for and secure city funds to finance their programs, and some method of screening, correlating and approving the programs is needed.

Appointment to the committee is for one year, and quarterly reports are directed by the council.

Fashion Show Contest Held by Women's Club

The Greenbelt Women's Club Vogue Fashion Show was held on Thursday, February 11. Prizes were won by the following: Mrs. Lawrence C. Mott; Mrs. Warren N. Steffen; Mrs. Lloyd L. Moore; Mrs. John F. Townes.

First prize in the Vogue Contest went to Mrs. Beverly G. Fonda, who will compete in the District Contest at a later date. Mrs. Fonda had made a brown print dress, over which she wore a beige wool coat lined with manmade fur. Her orange feathered hat was made by Mrs. Dora McNeel.

Judges for the Contest were Mrs. Wanda Pope, Mrs. Louise Gibson, and Mrs. Esther Bradshaw.

In spite of the first real snow storm of the winter, the Sweet-heart Dance was well attended. Many of those attending said that it was an affair they would like to see resumed as an annual event.

BUSMAN'S HOLIDAY

The Greenbelt bus will not be operating on Monday, Feb. 22, George Washington's birthday.

Annual Membership Meeting for GHI Board Election, to be March 16

By Al Skolnik

Wednesday, March 16, has been set for the annual membership meeting of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. at Center School auditorium, starting at 8:15 p.m. Highlighting the meeting will be the election of a 9-man board of directors, a 3-man audit committee, and a 5-man nominations and elections committee. Balloting will begin on the evening of the meeting and resume again the next day from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Present members of the nominations committee are George W. Adams, Ben Rosenzweig, Beverly Fonda, and Steve Polshik. The committee will meet shortly to elect a chairman and to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of former chairman George Frenner.

Members of the board of directors receive a salary of $400 a year and officers $500 a year. In addition, board members are eligible to participate in GHI's group life insurance, hospital, surgical, and major medical expense plan for its employees. This insurance plan is jointly financed, with GHI paying 65 percent of the cost.

Proposed By-Laws Chances

In anticipation of the annual meeting, the GHI board on Thursday, Feb. 11, approved a series of by-law changes to be submitted to the membership for its approval. These changes were recommended by a 4-man committee consisting of Bruce Bowman, Bernard Borde-

Fire Plug Plugged By Fire Department

The local volunteer fire department and rescue squad needs a fire plug to protect its new building, it was revealed this week. A request to the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission to have one placed directly in front of its new home was approved, providing the fee of $660 was paid. The normal location of the plug would be across the street, but fire department spokesmen declared that its use during demonstration and trials would be hampered if hoses were stretched across the road, subject to vehicular traffic.

The city council approved the measure, but asked that serious consideration be given to placing the fire plug between the fire house and the proposed city administration offices to be erected in the adjacent site.

Fire Detection System To Be Demonstrated

There will be a demonstration of fire detection equipment on Saturday, Feb. 20, at 1 p.m. in the basement of the fire house. The purpose of this demonstration is to allow interested persons to become acquainted with this field of fire protection. This type of equipment has proven invaluable in the protection of life and property from the ravages of fire. It can be used in homes, business, industry and places of public assembly for the prompt and automatic detection and alarm in case of fire.

The proposed fire detection and alarm system which will be installed in the new fire department house, Youth Center and Municipal Building will be explained.

Women's Slimnastics: The women's slimnastics class is meeting every Tuesday in the gym at Center School at 8 p.m. The class consists of a period of exercises, followed by a recreation period of volley ball, basketball, etc., for those who wish to participate.

House wife Bowling League: Starting on Tuesday, Feb. 23, at 10 a.m., the women will begin to bowl for averages at the Greenbelt Ten Pin Lanes. You can sign up at that time.

net, and Allan Morrison. If approved, these changes will alter the election procedures this year in the following manner:

(1) Board members (and other elected officers) will be chosen by a plurality vote, not a majority vote. This means that the candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be elected, regardless of whether they receive more than half of the votes cast. Adoption of the plurality system will mean the elimination of run-off elections, which have featured almost all the previous GHI elections.

(2) Board members will be elected for staggered terms. At present, all 9 members are elected at one time for a one-year term. Under the proposed by-law change, board members would be elected for two-year terms, with half the body standing for election each year. To initiate the system, and for the first election only, the four candidates with the highest number of votes would be designated for the two-year term; the remaining five would serve a one-year term.

The argument advanced for staggered terms is that continuity of the board would be assured in that there would always be some experienced persons on the board familiar with the corporation's problems. It was also thought that a fewer number of vacancies would assure keener contests.

One disadvantage cited is that in event that membership is dissatisfied with the board's performance, it would take two elections under the new plan to achieve a complete turnover. Furthermore, it is argued, the proposal is not really needed since, as a matter of fact, the contests in recent years have produced a significant amount of continuity in the board's membership. For example, in last year's election, 7 out of the 8 incumbent board members running were reelected.

Quorum Lowered

The board adopted a by-laws committee recommendation that the requirements for a quorum be reduced from 10 percent of the membership to 5 percent or 75 members, whichever shall be less. This action was spurred by the fact that the last three annual membership meetings had failed to produce a quorum. Last year only 110 of the 154 members needed for a quorum made an appearance. As a result, all official action requiring membership approval was stymied.

The quorum proposal also provides that in case a quorum fails to show, Maryland law can be invoked which permits the members present to call a further meeting at which time the members present, regardless of numbers, shall constitute a quorum for purposes of transacting official business.

All by-law changes require approval by a two-thirds vote. A quorum of 10 percent will still be needed to adopt validly the quorum changes as well as other proposed by-law changes.

Other Changes

Another by-law change sets down the regulations which will guide the board in making loans and investments. Funds must be deposited in insured financial institutions or invested in securities approved by the Probate Court of the District of Columbia for investment of trust funds.

The board of directors is given authority to hold one meeting a month in June, July, and August. Present by-laws require at least two meetings monthly. The board is also given authority to set the annual membership meeting for any day in the month of March. Present by-laws fix the date as the third Wednesday in March.

Music For Pleasure

Last week the recreation department of Rockville, Maryland, presented its Municipal Band to a Greenbelt audience in a lively program under the stimulating direction of Frank Troy. This band is not an old organization; it was begun only two years ago in a small way, but it has now grown to the place where some sixty citizens of Rockville and neighboring areas meet once a week for an evening of music making. It is an activity strictly for pleasure — recreation in the truest sense. To see the faces of the participants at the concert was to realize what a thoroughly good time they were having.

Greenbelt is indebted to Rockville, not only for the evening of fine music, but for the example and encouragement that their band offers our community to develop a like program of music by and for adults. The Greenbelt recreation department circularized the city last week with a questionnaire in an attempt to ferret out interested talent.

Band director Don Smith indicated this week that the initial response has been strong enough for him to anticipate a working nucleus around which the Greenbelt Woodwind and Brass Society can develop. He hopes for additional replies by Friday, the nineteenth, the published deadline for the questionnaires to be returned to the recreation office or to the box in the food store. Those replying to the questionnaire will be notified of the first meeting of the Society in the near future.

When The SIREN BLOWS

By Rita Fisher

Rescue Squadsmen with Advanced First-Aid cards are invited to attend another course being given at Andrews Air Force Base. This course, running eighteen weeks, will be given by Air Force doctors who are specialists in their field.

A certificate from the U.S. Air Force Medical Corps will be presented to all men completing the course.

The men are preparing now for their annual Ambulance Club Drive, which will begin on the first of March. Look for a supplement in the News Review in the near future.

The Ladies Auxiliary has announced plans for holding their Bazaar on June 4. It is hoped that the new fire house will be ready for use by that time.

The siren blew three times only once this past week. This was in response to a call for help because a steam hose on an automobile had ruptured. There was no fire and no injuries.

The fallen snow had the men on the go. A number of injuries to children were reported. One boy, while on a sled, hit a fire hydrant and received a cut on the back of his head. He was taken to P. G. Two boys received cuts over the eye and were treated at the doctor's office. One boy received a cut over the eye that looked bad enough for treatment at the hospital. Another boy was transported to P. G. for treatment of a lacerated right shin. A little girl was injured on a sled. She suffered a cut tongue and a chipped tooth. She was taken home. And on Feb. 16, the men were called to assist a man who fell in the street on the ice. No injury was reported and the man proceeded home.

On the 13th, a man suffering an epileptic convulsion was taken home by the Rescue Squad after the man was treated on the scene by the doctor.

The boys made one routine trip this week. A Greenbelt resident requested and received transportation from Prince Georges Hospital to Perry Point Veterans Hospital.

Crusade Director Addresses Baptist

Rev. Walter Smyth

Rev. Walter H. Smyth, Director of the Billy Graham National Capital Crusade, will preach during the evening service of the Greenbelt Baptist Church, Sunday, Feb. 20, at 7 p.m. Rev. Smyth will report about the Billy Graham preaching mission in Africa and inform the congregation how to prepare for the forthcoming Billy Graham Crusade to be held in Griffiths Stadium, June 19-26.

Rev. Smyth returned to America last August after spending twelve months in Australia preparing for Dr. Graham's tour there. Among the Crusades which he directed was the Melbourne Crusade, which saw a record crowd of 140,000 in attendance at the final meeting.

In America he directed crusades as those in San Francisco and Wheaton, Ill. Prior to his work as Crusade Director, Rev. Smyth was in charge of the world-wide film ministry of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association.

He is a native of Philadelphia, where he was the Director of Youth for Christ. His varied ministry has also included pastoral work and the holding of his own evangelistic meetings in America and Europe. Simultaneously with his work here, he is directing an eight-day crusade for Spanish-speaking people which Dr. Graham will hold in New York City in November.

I translated 10-4 as "signing off." Sorry. Correct translation is, "message acknowledged."

Mrs. Greenbelt at Home

By Vivian Greenbaum

One morning a week I wake up with more than my usual reluctance to get up. It doesn't take long for my foggy brain to focus on the reason. This is the morning that I drive the nursery school car pool.

About 10 minutes to nine I collect Eric and the nursery school children in our court and we troop out to the car. There I face the first obstacle of the morning in the form of a puddle between us and the car. The average three-year-old, confronted with a mud puddle, will do one of two things; he will plunge right through it, or he will pause at the edge and stare into it indefinitely. What you have to do is to balk the bolters and bolt the balkers. In other words, you straddle the puddle, grab each child as he comes up to it, and heave him into the car. If any mother has figured out how to do this without spraining her back, I wish she would let me know.

At last, this contingent is in the car, and we're off to pick up Maxie. Maxie sits up front with me. I feel safer that way. If he were ten years older, I would probably frisk him for a switch-blade knife before I let him in. He eyes me warily as he slumps down on the seat. We are acknowledged antagonists, with a respect for each other's tactics. He is holding a piece of toast which he has no intention of finishing before he gets to nursery school, and which he knows full well that he will not be allowed to take into school with him. He nibbles a little of it to keep up his strength for the fight ahead.

At this point Roger reminds me that I have forgotten to pick up Jimmy. "Jimmy is sick this morning," I reply. "Jimmy isn't sick," He's too sick!" I maintain, and grid myself for the usual argument. "He's got a temperature of 126. And what's more his mother is sick, and his father is sick, and his guppies are sick, too."

There is a silence while Roger contemplates this veritable epidemic. Then he pipes up again with, "Jimmy isn't sick," and the children take it up in a repetitive chant. Some child (my own, I suspect) then interposes, "You're cuckoo," and this is taken up also so that the chant now goes, "Jimmy isn't sick; you're cuckoo."

Fortunately, by now we have arrived at the school, and I begin to help the children out of the car. Roger has to be forcibly extracted because he forgot to bring a book he especially wanted read this morning and insists on going back for it. Eric is trying to convince me, perish the thought, that I am really helping mother this morning, and Mandy repeatedly asks me whether her newly-acquired white rat is going to survive the morning without her. I bend over to reassure her, and, without looking at Maxie, I snatch the toast away from him, deftly avoiding the kick in the shins that followed this.

We are now at the nursery school door, which I open, and the children file through. Someday I will take you through that door and let you see America's hope for the future at work and play. But not now. Now I'm going home to take a tranquilizer and go back to bed.

Dental Health

Orange and grapefruit peel in crystallized form may even find their way into the candy jar.

Oranges and grapefruit are just right for eating out-of-hand or in fresh fruit cups.

Modern scientific research has revolutionized the treatment of patients with dental diseases. The use of anesthesia and modern high speed drills represents a far cry from the time when patients had to sit and endure extreme pain while the dentist set about his task.

In that the prevention of all dental problems is our ultimate goal the theme of National Children's Dental Health Week Feb. 8 was "Start a Lifetime of Smiles."

THE GREAT HUNGER. There have been many mighty eaters who have left their records for history and one such was a Persian, Cantebaras. Whenever his jaws were weary with eating, he had slaves to pour food into his mouth which he kept open, as if they were pouring into an empty vessel.

Mr. and Mrs. "X" who lived in Greenbelt needed a larger house but had no cash. Greenbelt Realty Company, through its Multiple Listing Service, found the ideal house for them - a 4-bedroom detached house, with a basement, large yard, and other features which they had always dreamed of AND promptly sold their Greenbelt frame house for enough to take care of the down payment, settlement charges, and moving expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. "Z" who had a brick house did even better. Greenbelt Realty Company found exactly the house they had always wanted and sold their Greenbelt house for enough to take care of the down payment, settlement charges and moving expenses - with enough cash left over to furnish the living room of their new home.
