Local Man Gets Bit Part In 'Consent'

Joseph C. Weigand, 2-K Plateau, has been playing a dual role past few weeks. In addition to his job as a waiter at the Sheraton Park Hotel, he has been performing before the cameras in several scenes in the movie "Advise and Consent."

Weigand, or "Charlie," as he is known to his fellow workers at the Sheraton, was selected by Producer-Director Otto Preminger to play himself in the film.

Weigand's first scene was shot last week. His job was to push a room service table into the living room, and be brushed aside by actor Paul Ford. Walter Pidgeon also appeared in the sequence. This scene had to be shot many times. Weigand explained that timing was of the utmost importance. "It took about three takes before Preminger was satisfied with my part. Others in the scene also had to be reshot—once when Pidgeon was late on picking up the telephone."

Did Preminger's hollering bother him? "Didn't faze me at all," said Weigand. "After all, my 24 years of being a waiter prepared me well for such occurrences."

Not only is Weigand acting in the movie, but he is serving his coworkers as well. He has found Paul Ford, Walter Pidgeon, Spencer Tracy, Henry Fonda, and Preminger most congenial. "They are very nice people, and quite a lot of fun. I was invited to the reception for the stars in the Sheraton's Continental room and thoroughly enjoyed myself."

As for the future Weigand, who has been a waiter at the Sheraton for nine years, wouldn't mind a bit if he was offered "extra" parts. Weigand's wife Alyce is the owner of the Greenbelt Beauty Salon.

School Enrollments

Enrollment this year at North End School was 332 students, down 2.6% over last year's total, according to Mrs. Maxine Grimm, principal. New teachers on the staff are Mrs. Barbara Phillips and Mrs. Janet Culver.

Miss Hannah Long, Center School principal, reports an increase in enrollment from 330 to 342, a 3.6% increase. Mrs. M. Lentz, Miss A. Lleszerino, Mrs. P. Swanson and Miss M. E. Freeman are new teachers.

Both North End and Center School have 10 grade teachers, and two specials, a music and a physical education teacher, the latter, Mr. Craumer, starting his first year in Greenbelt. There is a kindergarten in both schools, each with 25 youngsters.

St. Hugh's reports a total of 430 students. This is a .9% drop from last year's total of 434. The school has ten teachers.

Greenbelt Junior High has an enrollment of 880, down 6.8% over last year's total, according to Mr. Anderson, Vice-Principal.

County Family to Live In Fallout Shelters

The Prince Georges County Civil Defense Agency is planning a realistic study of a typical family who will actually live in a fallout shelter for one week.

Hal Silvers, The County Civil Defense Director and Greenbelt resident, pointed out, "Individual home shelters against nuclear radiation-radioactive fallout—are practicable and will be needed no matter where the family lives" he continued, "because harmful radioactive fallout can occur hundreds of miles from the explosion of thermonuclear weapons."

The test shelter will be built in the vicinity of the Prince Georges Plaza in accordance with exact specifications as outlined in OGDW publication, MP-15, "The Family Fallout Shelter", and on exhibit for the general public to see.

The Civil Defense Agency as a part of its factual comprehensive study of living conditions inside a shelter have recruited a physician; representative from the Prince Georges Plaza Merchant's Assn., and assigned a member of its staff to 1) recruit a typical family of four who will be willing to remain in the shelter for a full one week period. Prior to entering the shelter the entire family will receive a full medical examination and after the one week tour the family will again receive a through physical and psychological examination.

The family selected by a special panel of civil defense experts will be presented with a $500 merchandise certificate by the Prince Georges Plaza Assn. after they complete their stay in the shelter.

Applicants for this study should write or call:

Spotters Contest

Some suggestions herewith to the youngsters who are entering the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department Hazard Spotters Contest. There are many small, seemingly unimportant things which are present in and around homes which can be considered hazards especially those items which can start a fire, if neglected, or even cause death or painful injury. Know someone who likes to read in bed and who just happens to smoke while doing so. That's hazard. Does your mom or dad have a tendency to doze off while watching television? If they happen to be smokers, this too can be a hazard.

Are there certain electrical outlets that you can spot where there seem to be many wires connected. This could mean shortcircuiting and also lead to trouble in the wiring inside the walls. These are hazards that could mean fire. Ever notice heavy oil-drippings in the garages? Or half used paint cans up on the closet shelves that have not been covered tightly? Does mom use oil on her furniture or leave rags used for waxing around where they can change a little spark into a horrible uncontrollable blaze?

Hazard Spotters, between the ages of 9 and 16 are eligible to write a letter to the Greenbelt V.F.D.&R.S. A trophy will be awarded the winner.

Safety Patrol Week Slated for January

Sgt. Austin R. Green, School Safety Coordinator, is now making plans for the fourth Annual Safety Patrol program which will be held at North End School this year. Deputy Chief John E. Winters of the Metropolitan Police Department of Washington, D.C. will be the guest speaker. The week of January 14 through January 20, 1962 will be designated as Safety Patrol Week.

Over 770,000 Safety Patrols are now serving at some 33,000 schools throughout the nation. At their posts on the street corner, they protect the lives of more than 15,500,000 children on their way to and from classes.

The safety record of the Patrols is impressive. Since the early 1920's, when they were organized, the traffic death rate of school-age children has dropped to nearly one-half, while the traffic fatality rate of all other age groups has doubled. It is safe to say the efforts of the Safety Patrols have played a major part in this reduction.

JCC Given Charter

The Jewish Community Center of Prince Georges County, having affiliated with the United Synagogue of America, will receive its Charter of Membership on Saturday at 8 p.m. The presentation will be preceded by a buffet dinner.

Rabbi Morris Gordon will preside and Philip Goldstein, President, Seaboard Region, United Synagogue of America, and President, National Federation of Men's Clubs will speak. Ethel Gerring will offer several musical selections.

Police News

In an accident Tuesday at Laurel Hill and Ridge, a motorist, after stopping at the stop sign on Laurel Hill, turned right and hit a car going south on Ridge. Police records indicated that the car on Ridge was on the wrong side of the road. The other driver was not charged with collision.

On Wednesday morning, a school bus carrying two children started sliding as it approached Edmonston and Crescent Rds. The bus sideswiped a car but no injuries were reported.

Minutes later, another urgent call was received at the Police office that a 13 year old boy had been hit by a car near Westway. Eyewitnesses said the boy was so intent on catching the school bus that he did not look to see if any cars were approaching. He had not been waiting in the place assigned to students, and opinion was that the accident might have been avoided if he had done so. This is a constant worry to motorists every morning, police said. Youngsters usually dart from many directions when the busses approach, even though they have an assigned place to wait. The youth suffered cuts on the head and was released from the hospital.

Another Greenbelt youngster, about three years old, was rushed to the hospital this past week after eating about 35 aspirins. This, too, could have been avoided if parents would keep medicines outside the reach of small hands.

A motorist driving down Northway had to jam on her brakes suddenly and barely missed colliding with an ice cream truck when a balloon filled with water was thrown into her car, exploding over two passengers. The driver tried to locate the children who had thrown the balloon, but they disappeared almost immediately.

Two auto parts thefts were reported. A motorist reported two dummy spotlights stolen and another motorist reported the theft of a battery.

Donna Evans to Sing In High Point Concert

Donna Evans, 16-V Ridge Road, will be featured in the pops concert to be given jointly by the High Point concert chorus and orchestra at High Point High School on Friday night, September 29, at 8 p.m. Admission is free. The Summit Singers, selected choral group, will sing one number, "Black is the Color of My True Loves Hair" by Bartholomew. Ray Ulmer is director of the choral groups and Robert Nehus is director of the orchestra.

Donna Evans, a senior at High Point, will sing one number, "Autumn in New York" by Vernon Duke and will join Tom Hughes, as soloists in a second number, "Sweet Sunny" by Norman DelloJoio.

Registration for Arts & Crafts will be held Friday, September 29, at the Youth Center from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Registration fee is .50¢ for a 15-week period plus $2.00 for the cost of materials and supplies for the 15 weeks.

Elementary Roller Skating - Saturday Sept. 30th. Roller skating for the 2-3-4 grades will begin at 12:30 p.m. The 5 and 6 grades will skate at 2 p.m. Admission .25¢.

Francis White Is New Mayor

By a unanimous vote, Francis W. White was elected Mayor of Greenbelt at last Monday's organization meeting. He was nominated by Thomas Canning who had finished second in the balloting behind White. Canning, in turn, was elected mayor pro tem unanimously.

Retiring Mayor Alan Kistler presided at the swearing-in ceremony of the new councilmen: White, Ben Goldfaden, and Bill Phillips. Goldfaden was then named temporary chairman, pending the election of the mayor.

Seating arrangements for the new council place them in this order: Goldfaden, Canning, White, Champion, and Phillips. No other business was taken up. The council will meet next Monday, October 2, for its first regularly scheduled meeting.

The council will take a tour of city installations this Saturday morning under the guidance of city manager Charles McDonald.

New Public Meeting On Ederly Housing

The GHI Advisory Committee on the Elderly Housing Program, has scheduled its second public hearing on the proposed project Wednesday night, October 11. At this meeting, all aspects of the program other than financial will be discussed. The financial problems were discussed at the hearing two weeks ago.

The new material to be discussed at the future meeting will include a report on the need for such housing among the elderly population of Greenbelt and the adjacent area, an analysis of a model HHFA contract, a consideration of admission policies and of the structure of the subsidiary corporation, and a review of the architectural features of the project. Architect Victor Smolen will attend the meeting, as well as other outside experts.

Prior to the scheduled meeting, the Advisory Committee plans a survey, by mail, of all present member-families to determine their present or future interest in being tenants in such a development.

School for Adults

The Prince Georges County Board of Education, Maryland, is offering courses in elementary mathematics, writing, grammar usage, developmental reading, and spelling for adults who do not have an elementary school education and want an opportunity to develop understandings and to gain additional knowledge, or who wish to review the basic skills.

Classes will be held at the Bladensburg Senior High School on Monday and Wednesday, from 7:00 p.m. to 9 p.m. Registration is on October 2 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Bladensburg Senior High School, Adult Education Office, 56th Street and Tilden Road, Bladensburg, Maryland.

Center PTA to Meet

The first meeting of the year for the Center School Parent-Teachers Association will be held Tuesday, October 3, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Registration will be held from 7:30 to 8 p.m., with a short business meeting until 8:30 p.m. The remainder of the evening will be devoted to visits of parents to the classrooms of their children to meet the teachers and hear about the year's curriculum.

4-H Cloverbud News

At the last meeting of the Cloverbuds had their annual election of officers. The president is Laura Simonson, the other officers are filled by: Ruth Amberg, vice president; Benise Ungar, secretary; Kathy Labukas, treasurer; and Linda Simonson, county delegate.

Use of Youth Center

TO THE EDITOR:

I have been giving serious thought lately to the place that the Greenbelt Youth Center is playing in the lives of a certain element of Youth in our city. All I can base my opinions on are the things which I have seen and with the few that I have spoken to regarding my thoughts.

My observations have been made mostly in the vicinity of the shopping center and the places of business there. My first reason for questioning true availability of the Youth Center to youth came last year on Wednesday evenings when I would be at the bowling alley as a member of a team bowling in the Women's League. I noticed many young boys and girls of teen age who came in, had a Coke and just seemed to lounge around for a short while. Then they took off but, later in the evening, they again were down in the bowling alley, again for a short time. It seemed to me then that although skating was offered to these kids, they had to go elsewhere for a short social hour.

Again I noticed many of those same youths, good kids, gather at the bowling alley at the end of the school day. The manager of the alleys commented that they would come in, cause no trouble, usually drink Cokes, Pepsi's or what they had a thirst for and then they would leave. And they are still "hanging around" the Center Mall in the evenings.

What am I driving at? Am I seeing only one side of things. Are the kids I see the "bad" or "uncontrollable" element in our town that could never be drawn to the Youth Center. Actually I have noticed that some of these boys and girls are the ones who do participate in the activities at the Youth Center when the "Schedule" allows for it.

What am I after? And how do the young people feel? For one thing, I would like to see the youngsters going in and out of the Youth Center whenever it is open. Perhaps this means cutting out more of the scheduled activities so that a place to lounge would be available. Why must they leave the building when the skating sessions (as a for-instance) are over. Couldn't the building be left open for another half hour for social talk? Why isn't the Youth Center open on Sunday? Because they should attend a place of worship? That doesn't take all day. It seems to me that now-a-days, most kids have chores to do on Saturday and usually their free time is on Sunday afternoon. What is there for them to do. Stay home or go visiting relatives with their parents. Maybe when I was young, many many years ago, but not today's children. Try as we may, the youth of today is a much more independent lot than we ever were.

I can remember being introduced to the P.A.L. (Police Athletic League) when I was a teenager in New York. It was always open house there even though there were scheduled activities for the day.

I have four growing youngsters, all girls, and one of them has just become a teen-ager. I am honestly worried about what the future has to offer in the social world of teen-agers. Just recently, while enjoying some late-night bowling with my husband, I noticed three young girls peeking through the door at 2:30 a.m. Where could they have been coming from? What were they doing? But then, maybe they have to seek adventure because there isn't enough offered to them during the respectable hours of the evening.

This is my answer to what I consider a problem. There should be a portion of the Youth Center that is available to youths as long as the Youth Center is open. Proper supervision will eliminate the few who cannot respect what has been offered to them. They should be able to play the juke-box, buy their soft drinks and candy and even ice-cream or cookies from machines which in turn will bring some money into the Center.

Make the Youth Center interesting enough to the teen-ager and he will be willing to comply with the rules and regulations. Most kids want to be part of a gang. Let the Youth Center Gang be the most popular one in town. Am I wrong?

MRS. RITA S. FISHER

Fallout

To the Editor:

The Fallout is falling, Now what do we do? Where are we going? I don't know, do you?

The children were worried, Wrote letters, to scare The grownup, unhurried Who rocked in his chair.

Our Civil Defense Made no preparation. In our little town Nor in the whole nation.

The Fallout is falling, No shelter I see, Death will be calling Our "land of the free."

Our nation's motto:- "In God is our trust," The Fallout is falling, Trust in God we must.

FREDA DICKMAN

DIVIDEND AUTHORIZED

At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of Suburban Trust Company, a resolution was passed authorizing the payment of the regular quarterly dividend, payable Friday, September 29, to stockholders at the rate of 50 cents per share (on the basis of $2 per annum) in the aggregate amount of $85,000.

PUBLIC THANKS

To The Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank the Greenbelt News Review for the wonderful manner in which it stimulated public interest in the past city election. The editorial staff's sensitivity to local issues was found to be of great interest to all, and I am quite sure, deeply appreciated by all.

Although my position among the candidates was "last man on the totem pole," I was greatly heartened by the response and support given me by 408 citizens of Greenbelt. My deepest thanks to all of these unknown friends. I hope that I can count on their support in the city elections of 1963.

Finally, I would like to wish a sincere "good luck" and best wishes to the successful candidates. At this time, a crucial point in our city's history, I have the deepest faith that our five councilmen will work for the welfare of Greenbelt.

GERALD E. BOISVERT

APPRECIATION

To The Editor:

I want to express my appreciation and thanks to the many individuals who encouraged me and offered their assistance during my recent campaign for the city council, to those that actively participated on my behalf, and to the 446 voters who cast their ballot for me at the polls. I enjoyed meeting and talking with the large number of people I met personally, whether they agreed or disagreed with my ideas or my platform. These exchanges have not only crystallized my own thoughts on ideas or issues, but provided me with a better insight as to the feelings and opinions of many segments of our population. The greatest benefit I've derived however, has been the new friendships I've made, many which I hope will mature in the years to come.

I am confident that this experience has made me a better citizen of the community, and I hope, more useful. I will continue to work for those portions of my platform that I feel are absolutely necessary if Greenbelt is to grow in a manner that will retain its unique features. As in the past, I will render whatever service I can or am called upon to do for the city.

HARVEY GELLER

Birthday greetings to Stephen Dean, 62-F Ridge, who was recently 12 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Striano, 35-B Ridge, sailed on the Grace Line's "Santa Rosa", and for 13 days enjoyed the cruise which took them to Curacao, N.W.I., La Guaira (Caracas), Venezuela, Aruba, N.W.I., Kingston, Jamaica, Port-au-Prince, Haiti, and Port Everglades (Fort Lauderdale, Miami), Florida.

Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, reports that Stephen Groark, 1-G Gardenway, is enrolled as a freshman. Stephen's friends can mail their letters to Box 258, Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa.

Seen dancing under the moonlit sky on the patio of the Glen Dale Country Club last Saturday were the Joe Pattersons, Andy O'Connells, Frank Galvins, David Falters, Bud Moyers, Ed Burgoons, and former Greenbelters, Andy Andrusics. The occasion was the Glendale Golf Association Trophy Dance.

The best of luck to the David Shurrs, 51-C Ridge, who will be leaving Greenbelt for San Francisco, California.

Visiting the Harvey Gellers, 117 Northway, are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hess, and their two children of Woodland Hills, California (this is not a typographical error).

Lassies End Season

The season is over for the Lassies, but the wonderful memories linger on for over sixty girls (aged 9 to 13), their coaches, and followers. Lassie Commissioner Bud Dean was elated with the spirit of the teams, and expects the girls to carry on as enthusiastically as ever next season.

Many thanks to coaches and managers Effie Chicchitto, Judy Boone, Nita Hudson, Helen O' Loughlin, Betty Raley, Theresa Shoemaker, Ruth Wolfe, Madeline Moore, Ruth Miller, Pat Rowland and Pauline Hill. The understanding and encouragement they gave to the teams instilled in each girl the desire to do her best. Peg Baldwin, Bud Deane, Warren Leddick, John Huffman and other Recreation personnel should be commended for the help they gave the team.

14 year-old Susan Johnson, 21-C Ridge had a major operation last week. She will be at Children's Hospital, Green Springs Ave., Baltimore for several months and would appreciate any cards or letters.

Sgt. Austin R. Green, local police officer and his wife, Evelyn, are leaving for a 2-week trip to Florida, on Oct. 2, hoping to see some of the old friends from Greenbelt.

Junior Hi-Lites

New teachers welcomed at Greenbelt Junior High last week include Miss Dunagan, a graduate of North Carolina Women's College, Mrs. Crum, Mrs. Blake, Frostburg State Teacher's College, and Miss Phillips, Towson State Teacher's College. Also on the staff is Mrs. Linquist, who taught two years ago at our school, and now has her Master's Degree in Religious Education from Asbury College. Others are Mr. Kernan, a graduate of McWeese State College and Mr. Kimmel, who received his education at the California State College. Mr. Scott, a Core teacher, left for duty in the National Guard at Andrews Air Force Base. Mrs. Marshall has replaced him.

This year, Greenbelt Junior High has an Executone, which is an intercommunication system between classroom teachers and a pupil at home. Michael Gallagher, 38-C Ridge, who has muscular dystrophy, is using this service.

Road Work

Finishing touches to the widening of Greenbelt Rd. and the construction of the new interchange with the Baltimore-Washington Parkway are now being completed. Most of the banks, shoulders, and center strips have been seeded. Permanent signs to route traffic will be installed shortly.
