Norman Weyel Elected New GHI Director

Norman Weyel 2-F Plateau was elected Thursday to fill the vacancy on the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. created by the resignation of Frank Lastner. Directors Ed Burgoon and Nat Shinderman were then promptly elected vice-president and secretary respectively, completing the required slate of officers.

Weyel received 5 votes, Leo Gerton 2 votes, and George Adams, 1 vote, in a written ballot. At last May's election, Weyel had the highest number of votes among the unsuccessful candidates.

Resident Earl Bragonje's request to build an addition on the service side of his house was given a thorough hearing by the board. Bragonje had previously been turned down on a similar bid. An opposing petition signed by some residents of his court was read to the board, while an adjacent neighbor spoke in favor of the applicant. Burgoon argued for full and open-minded consideration of the request, while O'Reilly opposed it on the ground that the proposed use of the structure (as hobby shop) was not a good enough reason to make an exception. Bragonje was given time to state his own case; he gave as his opinion that the present open garages were more unsightly than the proposed structure would be. The board, however, finally moved to disapprove the application, by a vote of 5 to 2. Directors Gerald Gough and Velma Chapman cast the minority votes.

Some preliminary meetings with Group Health Association representatives have been held exploring the possibility of erecting a medical clinic building in Greenbelt. The land being considered lies next to the Fire Department, on Crescent road. A clinic of this nature would serve the residents of a large area around Greenbelt. Roy Davis, heading an ad hoc committee on behalf of GHI, has been active in these meetings and was commended by the board for his efforts.

The perennial problem of jurisdiction over the various walkways was one of the topics discussed and reported on by the joint GHI-city council committee. While these have still to be settled in further meetings, the committee did propose relocation of a playground behind 1 Research road to a better area just across the street. This was agreed to in a motion by the board.

Edgar Smith is Chosen Outstanding Young Man of America by J.C.C.

Edgar L. Smith, Greenbelt's 35-year-old Mayor, has been selected as an "Outstanding Young Man of America", an annual award presented by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Smith was notified of his selection for this honor by Mr. Douglas Blanchard, committee chairman and past president of this organization. The selection was made on the basis of his outstanding ability, accomplishments and service to the community, country and profession.

Mayor Smith is a past president of the Greenbelt Junior Chamber of Commerce, president of the Greenbelt Democratic Club, and a member of the "Lyndon B. Johnson for President" steering committee. He is an organizer and chairman of the Citizens for Charter Convention and a candidate for the Charter Board in November.

Mayor Smith is a 13-year resident of Greenbelt. He served on the city council from 1959-1961 and was City Solicitor from 1962-1963. He was again elected to the city

Art Festival Attracts High Quality Exhibits

As part of the Labor Day Celebration, the Greenbelt Arts and Crafts Group ventured into the field of area-wide art competitions with an Art Festival at the new Municipal Building.

The chief judge, Prof. George O'Connell of the University of Maryland Art Department, stated that it was unusual to find such a high quality of work in the Amateur division, particularly in the category of oils. This was borne out in the awarding of ribbons, more awards were made in the amateur oils division than in any other.

In the professional category I, first prize was awarded to A. Karafyllakis for an oil landscape and honorable mentions were given to Ann Beyer and to a second work of Mr. Karafyllakis.

In Professional category II, first prize went to Patrick Kelly for a water color, and an honorable mention was given to Lawrence Lewis.

In the Amateur I division, a first was given to Michael Griffen for an oil abstract, while second place went to Phyllis Godlieb and third to Marie Picard. Honorable mentions were given to Lillian Malkus and Warren Phillips.

In the Amateur II category, first prize went to Sandra Bracken, while a second was given to Dede Bachler. Honorable mentions went to John Fleming, Barbara McGee, and Leslie Plater.

The show had wide representation from D. C. and Virginia, and entries from as far away as Baltimore.

The technique of Spectator Judging was employed during the show, asking all visitors to cast ballots for works they considered especially worthy. Two special awards of $20 certificates were made available by Muth's. Although both winners were on the official Judge's list, the public "elevated" them from honorable mentions, for in the Professional category Ann Beyer won the popular vote for a floral still life with butterflies, and Lillian Malkus won in the Amateur category for a very realistic wine-and-cheese setting.

The awards presentation was concluded by a drawing of the name of Samuel Jacobs as the winner of the oil landscape painted by Marie Picard for the festival.

Nearly 200 entries were received for the show, with more than $200 in cash prizes and merchandise certificates shared by the winners.

The Arts & Crafts Guild is planning for a less competitive but equally satisfying all-Greenbelt Children's Show, to be announced soon.

Council Discusses Traffic Light At Beltway Plaza Intersection

by Rita Fisher

City Council after much discussion, took a middle of the road stand at Monday night's meeting on the deadlock between the State Roads Commission and the developers of the Beltway Plaza over who should install the much needed traffic light in front of the Beltway Plaza Shopping Center.

There was one area of agreement: a light is definitely necessary.

A letter from a representative of the developers to City Council, said, in effect, that the State Roads Commission should install the light and then sue the landowners if they thought litigation was in order.

The letter also explained that such court action would be fought. It added that research into the state laws uncovered no rulings that anyone other than State Roads was responsible for the payment of such installation.

Councilman Dave Champion, arguing in favor of the Beltway Developers, recommended that the city write to State Roads, favoring that position.

Councilman Bernstein, disagreeing with Champion, said it was the developer who should install the light and then protest the payment of an installation fee to State Roads. Councilman Hoff agreed with Bernstein.

Mayor Smith's statement that the two parties concerned should get together to decide the matter, was acceptable as a compromise to the rest of the council. Smith emphasized that the light is needed and it is hoped that it will be installed before a death occurs at the intersection.

Following more discussion, Councilman Bernstein proposed that a letter be written to the developer, with a copy sent to State Roads, stating that a legal dispute is evident and suggesting that the developers install the light and then take whatever steps they feel necessary.

A letter would also be written to State Roads, inquiring whether there is a procedure whereby it could install the light and then sue for payment of installation costs.

The motion was passed unanimously. Councilman Cliff Simonson was absent because of illness.

A complaint from a citizen reporting abuse from teen-agers at the Center was discussed by Council. The Greenbelt Shopping Center Association also, in a letter being considered by Council, had complained of the youth problem in the Center.

Manager Giese said that the matter was being studied by Police Chief Lane, who has been asked to submit a report to Council. Four new men have been added to the police force, and the possibility of a foot patrolman was being considered.

Zoning hearings were scheduled for Sept. 16, 18 and Oct. 16 involving properties within or adjacent to Greenbelt's city limits.

A hearing was to be held by the District Council in Hyattsville Sept. 16, with a petition from Mrs. Frieda Bell for rezoning of 10 acres of land adjacent to the Capital Beltway south of the Schrom property. The request was to change the zoning from RR (Rural Residential) to R 10 (high density apartments). MNCPPC has recommended that the property be rezoned R-18.

The Oct. 16 hearing, to be held in Hyattsville, will be a plea for rezoning of property which is located about 800 feet south of Glendale Road, adjacent to the city limits.

On Sept. 18, at 10 a.m. there will be a hearing at Hyattsville on a zoning petition from the developers of Springhill Lake requesting that land now zoned I-1 (Light Industrial) be changed to R-18 (low density apartments). MNCPPC has recommended approval.

Mr. De Paul, an attorney hired by the city on matters of zoning, has been instructed by council to request deferral of these zoning petitions until approval of the Master Plan. Further, Mr. De Paul has been instructed that in the Springhill Lake request, the City would not go on record as favoring the rezoning, but not opposing it either.

Voter Registration

Saturday, September 19, is the last opportunity for Greenbelters to register locally to vote in November's General Election. The County Service Building in Hyattsville will be open from 1 to 9 p.m. tomorrow and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday. Thereafter until September 22, the courthouse in Upper Marlboro will be open for registration from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Voters who have not registered before must do so by September 22 to be able to vote in the November election. All United States citizens who will be at least 21 years of age on or before November 3 and who will have lived in Maryland 1 year and in the county 6 months by November 2 may register to vote. Those who have registered previously do not have to register again if they have voted once within the last 5 years. Changes of address, however, should be reported to the Elections Offices.

Improvements to West Parking Lot

On Tuesday, Sept. 8, the general crew began to remove sections of broken curbing in the west parking lot to be replaced with new curb and gutter this week. In addition to this renovation, 400 feet of new curb and gutter is being installed around the west edge of the parking lot. As a final touch, the entire parking area will be resurfaced with 2 inches of asphalt. The new curbing and resurfacing is being installed by contract.

Improvements in the North End.

On Thursday, in another contract project, concrete was poured for a new sidewalk on Research Road extending from Hillside to Ridge. This new sidewalk will now be utilized by the many school children in the north end of town.

Another improvement in the north end was begun on Monday when the general crew removed the old curb and gutter along Ridge Road. About 400 feet of the curbing has been taken out for replacement by a contractor. A portion of the street will also be resurfaced with asphalt adjacent to the new curbing.

New Surfaces for Parking Courts.

Last Friday fifteen parking courts about the city were resurfaced with a half-inch treatment of asphalt and chips. Two more courts will be treated shortly, completing the program for this budget year.

New Rain Gutters for Firehouse.

On Monday the old downspouts were removed from the front of the firehouse and new aluminum rain gutters were installed along the roof line. Two downspouts were placed at the two ends of the building. Now, most of the water will drain to the sides of the building which will lessen the problem of ice in front of the building during freezing weather.

School Crossings.

The line marking crew has been busy during the past week lining off school crosswalks. Now that school has started please drive carefully.

Free Health Check

At the Prince Georges Fair, Sept. 22 through Sept. 27, the County Health Department in cooperation with the County Medical Society will provide a free physical screening to all persons over age 15.

The health check will take approximately 10 minutes and will include a simple blood test for diabetes, a glaucoma check on those over 35, a vision test for persons under 35 and a chest X-ray.

Dr. Daniel L. Finucane, Health Officer, points out that the health screening is "in no way a substitute for a physical examination by a doctor, and medical findings will be released to the individual's family physician only." Each person taking part will receive a notice from the Health Department reporting the results of the screening.

THANKS CITIZENS

At last Monday's meeting, the City Council discussed the very fine Dedication Ceremony of the Municipal Building and the Festival which took place over the Labor Day weekend. All the members were in agreement that the many, many citizens who gave their time to make these events so outstandingly successful should receive the City's expression of its appreciation for their work.

I, and the other Members of Council, have tried to personally thank as many of the people connected with this affair as possible. However, because so many individuals were involved, I am sure we have inadvertently failed to express our thanks to each and everyone. Therefore, Council requested that I express on their behalf through your newspaper our very great appreciation for the many hours of work performed by all of those who were connected in one way or another with the success of the Labor Day Festival and the Municipal Building Dedication ceremonies.

This voluntary effort on the part of so many people typifies the spirit of Greenbelt which so greatly distinguishes our community from other suburban areas.

Greenbelt Grab-bag

by Punchin' Judy

Having noticed that being an inquiring reporter can lead to greater opportunities, we have decided to try our hand at it. Consequently we have interviewed four people in the vicinity of Centerway. Subject: How do you like the new Circumferential Beltway?

Mr. Douglas Fir, resident of Greenbelt: I like the Beltway real well. Every Sunday I pack up the wife and kiddies and take them for a nice ride. Sometimes we get on at Exit 28 and off at 29, and sometimes, for a change, we get on at 29 and off at 28.

Mr. Hy Test, gas station attendant: The Beltway sure has increased traffic through this station. We used to get maybe ten, twenty cars a day looking for the Baltimore Parkway or Klein's. Now we get that many in an hour that come off the Beltway by mistake. Funny thing, though, they all got a full tank of gas just before they came here.

Unidentified motorist: What are you, some kind of nut or something? I'm on my way back to New Jersey minding my own business. How'd I get to this burg anyway?

Miss Citronella von Tummel: Oh yes, I just love that new road. You can be anywhere in minutes. And the signs, they are so clear and easy to follow. Oh excuse me, please, I must catch that elephant in my butterfly net. Such a pretty shade of pink, don't you agree?

Festival Committee Meeting

All members of the Greenbelt 1964 Festival Committee are requested to attend a meeting to be held on Tuesday, Sept. 22 at 8 p.m. at the Youth Center.

The purpose of the meeting is to hear reports from all participating organizations on finances and other matters, and to sum up the experience gained from this year's festival.

STREET NAMES

To the Editor:

The new city directory is a very useful book, and the Lions deserve credit for a good job.

Before the next edition comes out, it is to be hoped that Greenbelt will have a uniform system of house numbers. It is true that our streets do not readily conform to the grid system used in the metropolitan area, but a reasonable conformity could be achieved by dividing Crescent and Ridge into a north segment (Galilee Crescent and Galilee Ridge, running east-west) and a south segment (Zion Crescent and Zion Ridge, also running east-west). The north-south part of Ridge Road would be called, say Samaria Ridge. The decimal system would apply except to malls, courts, and circles. Most street names would be retained except those that duplicate others in the metropolitan area or that might confuse people about directions of the compass.

The change would have several advantages: (1) At least, we'd have one system throughout the city. (2) That system would be recognizable as the same one used throughout the area. (3) Each house or separate entrance to a building would have a number, without the letter suffixes which seem to indicate apartments or parts of buildings. (4) We'd get rid of numbers such as 14-Z-7 which are monstrosities, hard to explain and suggest barracks or zoo compounds rather than some family's home, sweet home.

THANKS FESTIVAL HELPERS

To The Editor:

Many persons from Greenbelt and elsewhere contributed a great deal of time and effort towards making the 1964 Labor Day Festival a success but still remain anonymous. We would like to mention and thank those groups and individuals who assisted us in our areas and who were not named in last week's issue: James Cassels and the 4H boys and girls who sold ride tickets, Mrs. James Giddings who assisted with parade preparations, the Joseph family who brought in some enjoyable rides and who made many favorable comments about Greenbelt and Greenbelters, Mrs. Rita Fisher who assisted with publicity and was pressed into a last-minute job as dispenser of lemonade after the parade, Sgt. Green who acted as the official greeter for dignitaries in the parade, the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad who stood by for emergencies and loaned us their generator, and the City of Greenbelt employees with their infinite patience and cooperation — particularly James Giese, Ronald Dick, Lt. Zoellner, and Buddy Attick and his crew: Paul Williams, Otis Keys, Cecil Breeden, Ralph Diest, Nelson Hall, Chester Jenkins, and Gary White.

C.C.C. Explains Position

To the Editor:

This letter is written in reply to Mrs. Schossler's letter printed in last week's edition of the News Review. On behalf of the Citizens for Charter Convention, I wish to thank Mrs. Schossler for giving us the opportunity to explain publicly rumors which have previously been circulated by the "committed" charter group and the anti-charter forces. If Mrs. Schossler had taken the time to investigate or contact a representative of our group, she would have been enlightened as to the purposes of the C.C.C.

Our group represents many young people who organized because of the great concern about the direction taken by both the anti-charter and the "committed" charter groups for the past two years. They have had an excellent opportunity to explain the meaning of Home Rule and the advantages and disadvantages of the various types of government which are available under a charter. We find that after two years the public is still thoroughly confused and because of the level to which the charter campaign has deteriorated, there has been little communication with the people on this complex and extremely important issue. There has developed widespread dissatisfaction resulting from the "committed" charter group whose basic philosophy is that they know better than the people what is best for Prince George's County.

I make it clear that the C.C.C. is dedicated to a strong charter for the county. Under a charter form, the elected officials will have greater latitude in passing laws unique and necessary to our county government, which in many instances we do not now have. We favor a modern and efficient charter which will be sufficiently flexible to accommodate the fastest growing and most important county in the nation.

The "committed" charter group has pre-conceived prejudices as to the type of government which we should have under a charter, and therefore have already eliminated the public from participation. The Citizens for Charter Convention realize that there are many advantages and disadvantages to (1) the County Council, (2) The County-Council executives (3) the County Council-Manager, etc. and that there are variations of all of these and, this being a government of the people the only democratic way of arriving at a decision would be through public hearings and full public participation. Our philosophy is "let the people decide". Another strong argument against the "committed" charter group is that if elected they would propose a charter which must be submitted to the voters in 1966 and, without public participation in drafting the charter, it is conceivable that it would be rejected and the battle for home rule would have to be started from the beginning.

If one should examine the makeup of our group, they could easily determine that Mrs. Schossler's statement "to split the vote" could not be further from the truth. Our members represent a cross-section of all walks of life, including Insurgent and Old Line Democrats who fought each other in the last election, Republicans and Independents. Anyone acquainted with the individuals associated with our organization can clearly see that the C.C.C. is not and could not be committed or associated with any of the existing charter and anti-charter groups.

I wish to again thank her for giving us the opportunity to explain our position and answer the rumors which are being circulated, by our opposition. If she will contact me personally, I will be happy to explain our position in more detail. We are confident that ours is the only charter board slate in the November election which truthfully represents the voice of the people, and that the voice of the people will support our candidates.

 YOUTH CENTER SUFFERS $250-$500 DAMAGES !!! STATUE AT CENTER BURNED AGAIN !!! HIGH'S PELTED WITH EGGS !!! If the News Review were given to sensationalism the above occurrences would have made headline news in the past month. The above instances of vandalism were brought to this writer's attention by one of the business men in the Center.

To corroborate the facts, this writer contacted Chief of Police Lane. Chief Lane acknowledged the happenings. A rock had been thrown through the Youth Center door. When an officer, in checking it out, opened the door the entire glass fell out. There was also some damage to the stakes near the Youth Center.

Asked what police protection is now provided at the "Center", Chief Lane stated that a part-time man is assigned there and as conditions warrant other officers are assigned to this "beat". The writer was told that the police roster showed 7 full-time officers and 2 part-time men. Chief Lane is in the process of "reorganizing" the department and has just finished a police manual to be used as a guide for the police department. If this writer can venture a prediction, in the months to come the Greenbelt Police Force will, under the guiding hand of Chief Lane, become one of the finest in the County.

To the citizens of Greenbelt: Let's not be critical of the department until we know the facts. When all the facts are in, and no action is forthcoming, then I feel we are justified in criticizing. L.L.
