City Council Turns Down Another Request by CPVN

by Al Skolnik

A request by the Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Viet Nam for a permit to erect a table at the Center over the Labor Day weekend to sell books and literature was turned down unanimously by city council on Monday night.

The council stated that the request would not be in accordance with the criteria established for granting permission for use of public property. It referred especially to the requirement that the special use requested must not conflict with any other uses previously approved for the same time and place.

The city had previously granted permission to the Labor Day Festival Committee for use of all public property in the Center area for the dates requested by the Viet Nam Committee.

The Viet Nam Committee had asked that the location of the table be outside of, but within view of the festival, suggesting a location 100 feet from the barricades that enclose the festival. The proceeds from sales were to be contributed to the American Red Cross for a relief program in South Viet-Nam. The committee felt that a passive activity of this sort confined to one location would not disrupt the Festival, while giving satisfaction to all parties concerned.

Perimeter Road

In other action, the city council agreed to modify the city's Master Plan so that the perimeter road traversing the Springhill Lake area would be relocated. The council directed the city manager to notify the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission and the State Roads Commission that locating the perimeter road on the western boundary of Springhill Lake, rather than through the center, would be acceptable.

The Advisory Planning Board had recommended this action on the grounds that the division of Springhill Lake by a 4-lane perimeter road would isolate community facilities from the residents. Also construction of such a four-lane highway through the center would be difficult due to required grades and existing buildings. Location of the perimeter road along Cherrywood Lane, on the other hand, would allow access to the undeveloped industrial property without forcing this traffic through residential areas.

Other Action

The council voted to put into effect the 5 percent increase in city salary scales at the beginning of the October 9 pay period. The increase had been approved at budget time.

N.A.S.A. Exhibits on Display During Labor Day Festival

One of the major participants in the annual Greenbelt Labor Day Festival will be Goddard Space Flight Center, which will contribute two large exhibits devoted to our national space effort.

One of the exhibits depicts the communication satellite programs, developed and managed by the center, and includes full scale models of the "Relay" and "Syncom" satellites. In addition, a color motion picture film will be available describing the use of the satellite by President Kennedy when he bestowed an honorary U.S. citizenship on Sir Winston Churchill.

Another exhibit is devoted to the Gemini manned flight program. Panels utilizing models and photographs will recreate for the visitor the highlights of Gemini flights 3 through 8. It is possible that additional exhibits will also be displayed. All exhibits will be located in the council room of the Greenbelt Municipal Building.

Finan, Sickles to Ride In Labor Day Parade

Monday's annual Labor Day parade, organized by Sergeant Austin R. Green, will again be honored by the presence of the Ambassador from Colombia, Mr. Edward Uribe. Also scheduled to appear at the forefront of the parade are Congressman-at-large Carlton R. Sickles and Mrs. Sickles, Congressman Hervey G. Machen, P. G. Delegate Don Roberson, Attorney General Thomas Finan and Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein. Following these guests will be three divisions of the parade proper. The first division will consist of color guards, American Legion groups, drum and bugle corps and others; the second will have a varied assortment of antique cars, floats and local organizations, and the third will be comprised of police associations. Following these groups will be a display of fire equipment from several local companies. Bicycle and horse units will bring up the tail end. It is expected that this year's parade will be one of the largest parades in Greenbelt's history.

Long Distance Races

The D.C. Amateur Athletic Union Junior and Open Championship Races will be held Sunday, September 4, at 6 p.m., and start from Braden Field. All are invited to participate. Trophies will be awarded to the first ten finishers in the 9.32 mile race, and to the first three winners in the 1½ mile race. Also, three AAU medals will go to the Junior Championship competitors. A special trophy will be awarded to the first Greenbelt boy and girl finishers in each of the races, who have not otherwise won.

The short race will be run around the perimeter of Braden Field. The longer race will start at the tennis courts and proceed on a winding course throughout Greenbelt with an estimated winning time of 48 minutes.

Many nationally ranked distance runners are expected to participate.

High Point Opening

Allan I. Chotiner, principal of High Point Senior High School, has announced that the fall session will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 6, in accordance with the school calendar as set up for all Prince Georges County schools. "It is hoped," Chotiner said, "that students new to Prince Georges County come to the High Point Guidance Office to be scheduled before the opening day of school." Guidance personnel are available five days a week from 9 a.m. to 12 and from 1 to 4 p.m. for counseling on course offerings.

Little change has been made in the bus schedule for students, and Chotiner suggested that students be at their regular bus stops on the first day, approximately 15 minutes earlier than last year.

Finan Comments On School Site Matter

Attorney General Thomas B. Finan, candidate for Governor in the forthcoming Democratic primary, has taken the Greenbelt school site situation under advisement.

In response to a letter from Kenneth Adelberg, candidate for House of Delegates, Finan has indicated that he will first act by "calling this matter to the attention of Commissioner John Funk of the State Roads Commission, in an effort to see whether or not better access facilities to the school property may be possible from the Baltimore-Washington Parkway."

While noting that, as Attorney General, he has no jurisdiction, Finan did also add that he will personally urge the Board of Education and the County Commissioners to reconsider the school site decision.

In his letter, Adelberg called Finan's attention to what he described as "the unresponsiveness of some of our county officials" to a school site location "that is entirely unsuitable from a planning viewpoint."

Mr. Finan responded by stating his regrets that the "citizens who signed the petition concerning this educational complex were not successful in their efforts to persuade your county officials to accept a different location."

Art Guild In Festival

A highlight of the Art Guild Booth for the Labor Day Festival will be the presence of two well-known portrait artists, who will share the "sidewalk gallery" schedule, doing both on-the-spot drawings and more detailed portraits. M. Dupre and Janice Ritter are both in great demand as professional portraitists, and their appearance will give visitors an opportunity to obtain excellent sketches. Other demonstrations, providing a chance to see some of our better artists in action, will be scheduled on a continuing basis.

In keeping with tradition, an outstanding painting by a local artist will be raffled off during the celebration. This year's prize is a choice between two harbor scenes by Helene Burns, oil paintings which are both presently on display at Twin Pines.

Center School to Open, Two Schools in One

The delay in the opening of the new Springhill Lake elementary school has led to a complicated school-scheduling problem at Center School this year. Due to construction delays, the new school will not open until November or later.

As a result, two separate school bodies, with separate personnel and different hours will be housed in the Center School building when it opens next Tuesday, Sept. 6.

Regular Center School pupils will attend school from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the main building.

However, the pupils who will be transferring to the Springhill Lake School when it opens will have lessons in the four temporary classrooms at Center and in the auditorium. These pupils include children from Springhill Lake, Charlestowne Village, Boxwood, and Lakeside North, according to the current plans of the Board of Education.

As for the scheduling of the Springhill Lake School pupils, hours for the double shifts for the first four grades will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon for half the students, and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. for the other half. Grades 5 and 6 will be on regular hours: 9 a.m. to 3:15 p.m.

GHI Wins First Round, School Board Must Answer Complaint

At a hearing on August 30, Prince Georges County Circuit Court Judge Ralph Powers denied the request of the County Board of Education to dismiss the bill of complaint filed against it by Greenbelt Homes, Inc. Paul A. Nussbaum, attorney for the school board, had filed a demurrer arguing that the injunctive relief sought by GHI in having the school board restrained from purchasing parcel 2 for a senior high school site or from building a high school on the parcel was moot because the land had already been purchased.

City Requests Denial of Petition to Abandon Public Rights of Way

In reply to a petition by the owners of parcels 8, 9, and 10 (John Lewis Kelly and Solomon Grossberg, trustees), for abandonment of public rights of way on old Crescent Road near Greenbelt Lake, the city of Greenbelt has asked the Circuit Court to deny the petition, on the grounds that the abandonment will adversely affect the land owned by the city.

The city's petition points out that the city of Greenbelt has filed suit to acquire parcels 9 and 10 and that if the proposed abandonment is permitted, it would increase the city's cost of acquisition.

LWV Will Present Election Candidates

The League of Women Voters of Prince Georges County will sponsor a candidates meeting Wednesday, Sept. 7 at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria at Northwestern High School, Adelphi Road, Hyattsville. Candidates for County Commissioner and State Central Committee, both Democrat and Republican, have been invited.

Four questions on issues vital to the County have been submitted to the Commissioner candidates. Each will choose one and briefly discuss his position.

The voting public is urged to attend this non-partisan meeting.

Peace In Vietnam Rally

An open air rally, to be sponsored by the Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Vietnam, will be held in front of Greenbelt Center School on Sunday, September 4, beginning at 7 p.m. Several speakers will discuss the issues of civil liberties and Vietnam. This meeting is being held in response to the recent exclusion of the Greenbelt committee from the Labor Day festival. Rally chairman, Bertram Donn, stated "The war in Vietnam vitally affects every citizen of Greenbelt and deserves full discussion. We invite everyone attending the Labor Day festival to hear our viewpoint and express his own. The American Legion is particularly invited to explain why they seek to prevent free discussion of the war."

Junior Hi Bus Schedule

Greenbelt students attending Greenbelt Junior High School should go the following pick-up stations on Tues., Sept. 6 at 7:30 a.m.: bus no. 141, North End Elementary; bus no. 89, Hillside and Crescent, Greenhill and Crescent, Lakeside North and Crescent; bus no. 416, Westway and Crescent; bus no. 157, Ridge and Plateau, Crescent and Lakeside North; bus no. 148, Hillside and Crescent, Westway and Crescent, Charlestowne Village and Greenbelt Rd.; bus no. 414, behind Co-op store; bus no. 112, behind Co-op store.

It is possible that some buses may be able to pick up approximately five minutes later after having operated one week, provided they can keep their schedules to other schools.

The school day for pupils will be from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. starting Sept. 6. Buses will depart from Greenbelt Junior High in the afternoon at 2:38.

SCHOOL REGISTRATION

Elementary school registration for pupils who are transferring from other schools or have recently moved into the area will be held on Friday, Sept. 2. Registration hours are 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., at the North End and Center Schools.

Judge Powers, in overruling the demurrer, stated that the bill of complaint did not reflect the issue of mootness and therefore could not be raised by the demurrer. GHI counsel David Reich included this and other points in his August 23 reply explaining why the school board's demurrer should be denied. Early in the twenty-minute hearing, Nussbaum requested that additional points in support of the demurrer be considered at the hearing. This was not granted because the material had not been filed in time.

Unable to have the case dismissed at the outset, the school board must now answer the bill of complaint. It has 15 days in which to reply.

County Planning Board Acts on Parcels 7 & 8

The Prince Georges County Planning Board on August 24 supported the recommendations of its Technical Staff concerning two petitions for rezoning adjacent parcels 7 and 8 located between Boxwood Village and Kenilworth Ave.

The first petition, filed by Charles Bresler, owner, requested a change from R-55 (single-family homes) to C-1 (restricted commercial) for 8.8 acres in parcel 7 located between Ridge Road and Lastner Lane, just north of Crescent Road. The County Planning Board recommended that the property remain in the R-55 category.

The second petition filed by Crescent Leasing Corp., owner, requested a change from RPC (rural-planned-community) to C-2 (general commercial) for 2.45 acres in parcel 8. This is the long narrow strip of land between Ridge and Kenilworth and north of Crescent. The County Planning Board recommended denial of C-2 zoning, but suggested approval of a C-1 zoning appropriate for a neighborhood shopping center.

Mayor Edgar Smith, representing the city, requested that both pieces of land be retained for R-55 zoning. Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt had also made known its opposition to commercial zoning in a letter dated March 31, 1966, pointing out that "single-family homes in the Boxwood Village development would be adversely affected with such an area close by generating traffic, noise, lights, and litter."

The County Board made its decision in light of the proposed relocation of Crescent Road and its juncture with Kenilworth Ave. It felt that C-1 zoning for the land west of the relocated Crescent Road and R-55 zoning for the land to the east would be in keeping with the intent of the original Area 13 College Park-Greenbelt plan.

Junior Miss Pageant

An outstanding high school senior will be selected Greenbelt Junior Miss during the Labor Day weekend. The girls, contestants in the Junior Miss Pageant, will be presented to the public on Saturday and Sunday evening at 9 p.m., and the winner chosen.

All the contestants will ride in convertibles during the parade and then be seated in the grandstand.

The contestants, their schools and sponsors are: Theresa Markowich, Seton (American Legion); Sharon Pugh, High Point (Ben Franklin); Mary Beth Turner, Regina (Federal Credit Union); Linda White, High Point (Lions' Club); Claudia Kennedy, Regina (Little League); and Carrol Beck (Springhill Lake).

Three trophies for the contest were donated by Mrs. Mildred DonBullian, widow of the late Eli DonBullian, who organized the Miss Greenbelt contest for many years.

Welcome Aboard

We welcome the entrance of a new paper — the "Greenbelt News Express Section" of the Bel Air News Express — into the community. We say this for several reasons.

First, the community will be assured of more complete news coverage as there is less likelihood that a news event will escape the notice of two newspapers.

Second, although we take pride in our ability to report the news fairly and objectively and to provide a forum whereby all sides of controversial issues can get an airing, it is obvious that a second newspaper will provide a further outlet for exchange of views.

Third, as the only newspaper in the community, the News Review has had the burden of setting standards on what constitutes printable news and which items are better left unpublished because they exceed good taste, invade individual privacy, or create irreparable damage to the community. With another newspaper to share this burden, we will have a way of measuring how reasonable our standards have been.

So, we say to the Greenbelt News Express Section, come on in, the water's fine. We do, however, add one cautionary word. Sometimes the water gets heated and if you want to survive in Greenbelt, you will have to get used to being in hot water!

Letters to the Editor

My Country, Right or Wrong

I was truly surprised to read the reaction to the denial of a booth to the "Peace in Vietnam" group.

Whether these people like it or not, whether John Q. Public likes or not, the fact remains that this country is involved in a war. I am not going to discuss whether or not we are justified as this can only be settled by one's personal conscience.

I am only following the dictates of our leaders, our ELECTED leaders, who are more cognizant of the issues involved than I am.

To quote an earlier leader, "... In her intercourse with other nations, may she always be in the right, but right or wrong, MY COUNTRY."

I am not a member of any veteran organization. I was 4-F during World War II. There is little doubt that veterans' organizations are political in nature. However, the local veteran groups participate in other activities in the area, whether for their own good or the good of their neighbors, that go beyond the sheer border of politics.

One of the self-imposed duties of veteran organizations is the spotting and calling out of subversive organizations, as they did during the pre-World-War-II period in declaring the German-American Bund and other organizations the phonies that they were.

For these reasons, I support the decision of my wife, Rita Fisher, to refuse a booth to the above-mentioned group.

Victor M. Fisher

Labor Day Politicking

The statements of the Labor Day Festival Committee and Mayor Smith which have appeared in this newspaper suggest that their primary reasons for opposing the participation in the festival of the Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Viet Nam were that the CPVN is a political organization and that it does not plan to offer a "healthy entertainment." We wonder, though, if all groups are being screened by the same standards. For example, we are forced to conclude that the American Legion must have proposed entertainment healthy enough to raise the dead since the committee ignored the Legion's political nature. (Or has no one bothered to compare the time and money spent by the Legion on political activity with that of all the peace groups combined?) Could there be a double standard?

Even the town fathers' basic assumption that Labor Day festivals should be nonpolitical is not in the American tradition. Unfortunately, they have failed to observe that even in communities which have none of the political heritage of Greenbelt, Labor Day political speeches and politicking, even by radicals, are as much an American tradition as apple pie. It is even sadder to see a candidate for political office in America actually commending the Festival Committee for not permitting the use of festival facilities for the "expounding of political ideologies." We have serious doubts about sending to the State Senate a man who cheers so loudly when the political activity of minorities is suppressed. Little does he realize that he provides grist for the propaganda mill of those who choose to point to such suppression as typical in America rather than exceptional.

Hopefully, Mayor, Council and Festival Committee will gather their courage, put their trust in fundamental democratic processes and the good sense of the people of Greenbelt, and re-institute the participation of political organizations in the Labor Day Festival. After all, political activity may not be entertainment (although this point is debatable), but it sure is healthy.

Face-Saving Formulas

I was disappointed by the statement issued last week by Mayor Edgar Smith, on behalf of the City Council, condoning the ouster of the Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Viet Nam (CPVN) from the Labor Day Festival. I had hoped for wiser, more forthright leadership.

The face-saving formula hit upon by the Council—that they were "disturbed about the controversy that has developed over the intrusion of political activists into the Labor Day Festival"—doesn't quite fit the facts.

When the CPVN requested a festival booth in July, it was granted without question, let alone controversy.

Controversy erupted only when the American Legion and the Disabled American Veterans informed the Festival Committee in mid-August, that they would refuse to participate unless the CPVN was ejected. Their action, less than three weeks before the festival, has created some resentment. Greenbelters young and old have been looking forward to the occasion, but apparently these organizations were quite willing to risk wrecking it in order to get their own way.

How could the American Legion or the D.A.V. conceivably be harmed by a CPVN festival booth? If the Legionnaires detest the views of the group, they can either avoid the booth or argue with the booth-keepers. This is the American way. To stifle the public airing of a public issue is not.

The Council's statement also claimed that the festival "was never intended to be used for the promotion of political organizations or political causes . . . (or) political ideologies." However, according to the chairman of the festival booth committee (who ought to know), the CPVN was originally granted a booth "on the basis that they were a Greenbelt organization and that all Greenbelt organizations, except those involved with partisan politics, were invited."

Everyone knows what "partisan politics" is, but what are "political organizations . . . causes . . . ideologies?" These terms are far from clear. Is the League of Women Voters beyond the pale? The Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt and the United Nations Committee (both booth-holders last year)? How about the PTA when it lobbies for county-wide free kindergartens? Man is a political animal.

If the majority of Greenbelters believe that more detailed qualifications should be established for participating in future festivals, this can be done. I am inclined to feel the present exclusion of partisan political groups is sufficient. I certainly cannot see the justification for excluding the CPVN from this year's Labor Day Festival.

Greenbelt Hosts Championship Softball

The Sixth Annual Washington Metro-Slow Pitch Softball Tournament was held August 13 - 27 at Greenbelt's Braden Field. For the fourth consecutive year, the Greenbelt Recreation Department was asked by the Washington Commissioner to be the host for this important tournament.

Family Tavern, the defending champion, fought its way through two weeks of gruelling competition to win the championship for the third consecutive year. Twenty teams, all winners of their respective leagues, were entered at the outset. These leagues were from Montgomery County, Prince George's County, Greenbelt, Arlington, Alexandria, Fairfax, and the District of Columbia. Each team had its sights set on the National tournament to be held at Parma, Ohio over the Labor Day weekend.

With thirty-nine games played featuring four hundred of the area's finest softball players, the players, the interest and enthusiasm remained at a fever pitch throughout the tournament. As the teams came down the home stretch, Banning & Sons was the only undefeated team left in the tourney. Family Tavern was once defeated and had to defeat Banning and Sons twice to win the trip to Ohio.

P. G. COUNTY 4-H FAIR HEADED BY E. SIMONSON

The annual 1966 Prince Georges County 4-H Fair was held this year at Capital Plaza rather than the customary fair grounds in Upper Marlboro. Four action-packed days saw the coming and going of over 1,000 exhibits, a dog show, a style review, a judging contest, a square dance, an auto driving contest, and demonstrations.

Mrs. Clifford H. Simonson of Greenbelt was in charge of the fair. She shouldered the responsibility of organization and supervision when it appeared that no fair would be held this year.

Her husband, who is with radio-television station WTOP, is a graduate of the University of Maryland, where he is a graduate assistant. The couple will live in College Park.

CORRECTION

Elementary school pupils from Boxwood and Lakeside North will begin the school year at the Center School, not at the North End School as was announced last week. They will transfer to the new Springhill Lake School when it is completed later in the term.

School registration will be held on Friday, Sept. 2, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the North End and Center Schools, for children who are transferring from other schools or have recently moved into the area. For further information, call the Prince Georges County Board of Education, 627-4800.

Aquatic Booster Club

Greenbelt's Recreation Department in something of a surprise move, announced organization of a Greenbelt Aquatic Booster Club last Thursday during a meeting for swim parents at the Municipal Center. Broadened aquatic activities programs to include competitive swimming, competitive diving, synchronized swimming and water polo, are envisioned.

An Executive Committee comprised of J. W. Brubaker, David Butcher, Mrs. Flood, George Jones, Jr., Ed Klukowski, Gary Myers, and Mrs. Leonie Penney were elected for "... general management of the business of the Club."

Two Hurt in Airplane Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Donald King, of 102 Hedgewood Drive, Greenbelt, are recovering and in good condition after their light plane crashed at the South Plainfield, N. J. airport, on August 29th. The couple were flying from Connecticut to Philadelphia when bad weather forced them to land in Central New Jersey. They were treated for minor injuries at a local hospital.

The Police Blotter

A 17-year-old soldier was observed driving overcautiously by Officer Salvatore at 3 a.m. a few days ago. Salvatore stopped the car and found that it belonged to a resident of Oxon Hill who was not aware that his car had been stolen. Salvatore is now being recommended for a commendation. This is the third stolen car which he has recovered and for which an arrest has been made.

An apartment on Parkway is becoming notorious for its parties. Three guests were arrested at the last party for being drunk and disorderly. Other guests have been arrested before.

Several reports of thefts from autos were reported during the last two weeks. In one instance, the person responsible was found trying to remove a wheel when the police arrived.

Three people were arrested at the Beltway Plaza for disorderly conduct in the theater after allegedly creating a disturbance in the lobby, shoving the usher who tried to eject them . . . finally breaking a cartful of milk bottles in front of High's.

An indecent exposure was reported by three young girls who had been walking on Crescent Rd. when they noticed a man in the woods nearby. According to the girls, the man was dressed only in a brown baseball cap. The police have given his description as a "white male in his 40's, light hair, weighing approximately 200 lbs. and approximately 5'11" in height."

A D.C. newsboy visiting Springhill Lake fell into conversation with a local boy out for a walk. He was invited to continue the talk in the second boy's home, but after he had left it was noticed that $78 was missing from a tackle box in the bedroom. The D.C. boy was traced and the money was recovered. Missing mail? The police received a call from a resident on Ridge Rd. reporting that mail left out for the mailman to pick up was missing. The next day the mail had been delivered to the right party, but who mailed the letters is still unknown. The police have marked the case "closed."

Officer Fuca, on routine patrol in the Edmonston area, noticed a parked car with the key in the ignition. He requested a tag check to determine the owner and found that the car had been stolen from Cheverly. The owner picked up his car the next day.

A case of breaking and entering was reported on Ridge Rd. from some residents-to-be, who are to move in next month. It turned out that the current owners had returned to their home for a few items.

A man leaving for Indiana left his wallet lying around while the movers were in the house. Checking his money later he found a $100 bill missing. The police found the money hidden in a package of cigarettes belonging to one of the movers.

Telephone calls of an indecent nature have been reported to the police. Chief Lane suggests that if you receive such a call, hang up quickly and notify the police.

Reminder

The police are no longer sending out notices when animal licenses expire. Expiration dates can be found on the license receipts. Licenses are good for one year only and can be renewed.

quicksilver

There may be $40 worth of quick "silver" waiting for you if you buy a quick-recovery electric water heater between now and September 30th. If you need a new water heater, or think you're going to be needing one soon, now's the time for action. A quick-recovery electric water heater does just what its name implies—replaces hot water as fast as your family needs it. What's more, it's efficient on the inside, cool on the outside, and you can put it anywhere, since no flame or flue is involved. Be sure of quick-recovery. Ask for it by name, and by September 30th.

The Greenbelt Swim Team will challenge all competitors by diving into the Labor Day Festival with a sale of pizzas again this year. The support of the entire city is needed to help us score another victory. Plans are being made to sell more pizzas in record breaking time. The line-up calls for more stoves and equipment to serve everyone better than ever before. So join the swim to the starting line at the pizza booth on the opening day of the event; Friday, September 2.

Officials will be needed to work in the booth. All interested adults may sign in with the cashier at the swimming pool.

Our Neighbors

When the telephone rang one morning back in June, I lifted the receiver to my ear and heard a cheery voice on the other end of the line announce "You have just won a vacation for two." My initial reaction was "Who's the practical joker?" but after a repeated explanation from Mr. Fryling of the Washington Gas-Light Company that ours was the lucky name pulled at the company's annual drawing, I knew it was for real. So, off we flew to Europe, touring London and the lovely English countryside where the grass is as thick and plush as the most luxurious green velvet carpet and the flowers brilliant in color. Every home-owner in Britain has a garden and those in apartments, gay flower boxes. The United States and Britain should really have an exchange program, a little of their rain for some of our sunshine. Wonderful, wonderful Copenhagen with its sparkling Tivoli (a park dotted with concert halls, flower gardens, ponds, amusements, restaurants, etc.) was on our itinerary as was Stockholm where Al attended the international conference of the Congress of Labor Law and Social Legislation, and I visited a satellite city, better known here as a planned community. Our trip ended with a four day stay in the "City of Lights"—gay Paris, about which all I can say is "oo-la-la."

It's a boy for John and Mary Ann Culbertson, 11-T Ridge. William James, born Aug. 25, joins his brother John VI.

Enjoying a week's vacation in the tiny resort islands of Bermuda are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Jessee of 6013 Springhill Drive. The couple arrived in the colony on Aug. 21 and returned home on Aug. 25.

So sorry to hear that Lorraine Barr, 120 Lastner, and Debbie Wagner, 3-C Crescent, were injured in an automobile accident last week. Both girls were hospitalized, Lorraine in Prince Georges Hospital and Debbie in George Washington Hospital. We wish them a quick recovery.

Harold Siegel, 16 Maplewood, has been appointed as corporate contract director of Keltec Industries. Siegel, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the Georgetown University Law Center, is active in many Greenbelt organizations. He is president of the Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt, president of the Junior Chamber of Congress and Lakeside Association.

Our deepest sympathy to Bonnie Balch who lost her father, William K. Tinsley, of Landover Hills.

Condolences to City Solicitor Thomas Brooks on the death of his father.

Vallance-Thompson

Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Vallance of Honolulu, Hawaii, formerly of Brecksville, Ohio, announce the engagement of their daughter, Andrea Lana, to Mr. Martin Douglas Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace J. Thompson, 2-M Laurel.

Miss Vallance is with the C & P Telephone Co., in Washington, and Mr. Thompson is a member of the Metropolitan Police Dept. An October wedding is planned.

Ging-Brock

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Ging of Greenbelt, announce the marriage of their daughter, Kathleen Ann, to Gerald Anthony Brock, of Thibodaux, Louisiana. The wedding took place Aug. 20 in St. Hugh's Catholic Church. The couple will live in Suitland, Md.

Wilson-Bridge

Mrs. Gertrude Wilson of Washington D.C. and Leaksville, N.C., announces the marriage of her daughter, Nona Glenn, to Stephen E. Bridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Bridge, of 8-A Ridge.

The ceremony took place at Greenbelt Community Church on August 26, with the Rev. Kenneth Wyatt officiating. The young couple will reside in Greenbelt.

The Norman Weyels, 2-F Plateau, have just returned from a vacation at Virginia Beach.

Congratulations to Shirley and Bob Donkis, 126 Northway, on the occasion of their tenth wedding anniversary.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Jim Hanna, 102 Greenhill, who recently underwent surgery.

Glad to hear that Burt Eastep, 45-L Ridge, is feeling better after sustaining a leg injury.

As the only team able to play above-average bridge, Sid Barnett and Virginia Shepler easily won last Friday's duplicate bridge session. Next game: Friday, September 10.

Birthday greetings to Ann Marie Mongelli, 45-G Ridge, who celebrated her seventh birthday.

Happy-happy birthday to Richard Skolnik who was nine years old today.

Airman James E. Brown Jr., son of Mr. & Mrs. James E. Brown, 5-A Ridge, has been selected for technical training at Lowry AFB, Colo. as a U.S. Air Force munitions specialist.

Home on leave from two years' assignment at Anchorage, Alaska, comes A2C William A. Aleshire, U.S. Air Force. While there he worked for the Alaska Air Rescue Center and his primary duties were with the Air Force Security Service. Airman Aleshire will join his brother Pvt. Larry Aleshire, USMC, at Da Nang Air Base, South Vietnam on September 11. They are the sons of Mrs. Omata Aleshire 11-H Laurel Hill Rd.

Regards to friends and neighbors from Dot and John McGee, 7-D Hillside, who are touring France and Spain in a new Volkswagen.

Kathy Labukas, 21 Lakeside Dr., spent the summer in Mexico City taking part in a student exchange program sponsored by her school: Regina High of Hyattsville. She was the guest of a Mexican family, attending school with their teenage daughter. In the spring, her young Mexican friend will join the Labukas family for a similar visit at which time she will attend Regina with Kathy.
