Municipal Powers Referendum Included In Sept. 19 Ballot

City manager James Giese informed council on Monday night that the revised Area 13 plan is scheduled to be submitted by the MNCPPC technical staff to the Prince Georges County Planning Board in early October. The council decided to hold a meeting on Monday, August 28 to determine whether it wanted to make any further recommendations to MNCPPC before the plan goes to the board.

The major area still open for discussion is the Springhill Lake developers request for rezoning of the area north of Capital Beltway and west of Kenilworth Ave. The area is presently zoned R-18 (apartment dwellings), but the owners have requested C-O zoning for commercial-office development and C-2 zoning for a motel and gas station.

Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt have questioned the wisdom of making a decision on this tract without knowing what is in store for the rest of the undeveloped land. There has been general agreement, however, that the request for commercial-office zoning might be preferable to further apartment development, though there is less agreement about the C-2 request.

Advisory Referendum

The council agreed to place on the September 19 city ballot an advisory referendum question on municipal powers. The question is to be phrased as follows: "Shall the existing home rule authority of the city of Greenbelt and other municipalities (present and future) be guaranteed by a new Maryland Constitution?" The city fathers are concerned over a proposed draft of the new constitution which would take away present home rule powers of cities and make cities creatures of the county rather than of the State.

The council designated Center School or a city facility as the polling place and authorized use of three voting machines. It named eight of the ten election workers: David Snyder, Mrs. Joan Burkart, Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, Mrs. Evelyn Barcus, Mrs. Margaret Feeney, Mrs. Frances Herling, Mrs. Norman Weyel, and Mrs. Mary Ford.

Giese promised city council that steps will be taken to have the University Square project builders remove debris accumulating on city-owned property. Local residents asked for speedy action, complaining that trees were being destroyed, and the council agreed that no further delays would be tolerated.

Heading a petition signed by 23 families objecting to blacktopping the ground around play equipment, as part of a program to pave playgrounds, the council directed management to suspend the program in their area. It asked the manager, recreation director, and the Park and Recreation Advisory Board to take another look at courts that were scheduled to be blacktopped. The petitioners had cited the safety hazard to their children created by the hard surface.

Charter Chances

Council adopted a charter-revision at the suggestion of the Charter Review Committee, which limits the number of signatures needed to nominate candidates for city council to between 50 and 60. The present requirement is between 3 and 5 percent of the electorate. The Charter Review Committee felt that with the growth of the city the present percentage requirement would become too restrictive. The change will not become effective until after the current city election.

Council also adopted for first reading another Charter Review Committee recommendation which consists of a comprehensive amendment listing all existing powers of the city, plus all powers contained in the Model Charter enacted by the State Legislature.

The council tabled indefinitely a proposal to prohibit the issuing of group picnic permits at the lake park on weekends and holidays. The Park and Recreation Advisory

Monday Is Last Day To Register To Vote

Monday, August 21, is the last day to register to vote in the coming city council election. The city clerk's office will be open to 5 p.m. that day. Special hours for registration will also be held on Saturday morning, from 9 a.m. to 12 a.m.

Posted on the bulletin board at the city offices is a list of more than 200 names that have been stricken from the voting rolls because of the 1965 election. In the 1965 election, there were 1,724 registered voters of whom 1,245 voted.

To register to vote, one must be a citizen of the U.S., be at least 21 years of age and must have lived in Greenbelt at least six months, immediately preceding the election on September 19.

Those citizens who have voted in at least one of the two previous regular city elections need not register again, as long as they have lived continuously in Greenbelt.

The city election will feature the election of five city councilmen. Each voter is entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies to be filled.

The city charter, which governs election procedures, was recently amended to permit a candidate to be elected if he receives over 40 percent of the votes cast. Previously a candidate required a majority. If fewer than five candidates receive more than 40 percent of the vote a "run-off" election is held one week later among those top candidates failing to get the more than 40 percent.

GHI Sets Prices on New Homes Meets With FHA on Financing

by Al Skolnik

The selling price of the two new larger homes on Northway has been set at $26,244.50, it was announced by Greenbelt Homes, Inc. manager Roy Breashears at last Thursday's GHI board meeting. The other two homes on Greenhill Rd. and Woodland Way will sell at slightly lower prices.

The Greenhill Rd. house is without a buyer at the moment. GHI members interested in the purchase of this home or one of the 25 townhouses scheduled for construction by next summer are asked to contact the GHI offices. Occupancy of the Greenhill Rd. house can be had in six weeks.

Assuming a 10 percent down payment, Breashears stated, monthly charges for the Northway homes will be around $211. Of this amount, $142 represents interest and principal payments on a 6 percent, 30-year mortgage. The $211 excludes electric and gas bills, but includes maintenance, repairs, heating, insurance, taxes, etc.

Breashears stated that since the lists were first opened up for the larger homes, about 7 or 8 applicants have moved out of town and others have indicated their disinterest because of the hassle that rose over the corporation's resale policy.

New Dispute

Overtone of that hassle reverberated again at the board meeting when GHI president Charles Schwan read a letter from Norman Kilpatrick, a member of the losing slate in last June's board election, taking issue with the minutes of last month's board meeting which stated that an invitation had been extended to him to consult with the board's Committee for Larger Homes.

Kilpatrick wrote that he had not talked to any GHI official regarding such an invitation and had not received any written invitation.

In reply, Committee Chairman Nat Shinderman stated that management was asked to invite Kil-

City Council Hears Proposal For Fair Housing Ordinance

A proposal for a fair housing ordinance limited to rental apartments was presented to city council by a group of Greenbelt residents, including four clergymen, at Monday's council meeting. The council referred the proposal to the city's Community Relations Advisory Board with instructions to report back by the next regular council meeting, September 11. The proposed ordinance was also sent to the city solicitor for review.

The petitioners, headed by Jan M. Turkiewicz, stated that all except one apartment development in Greenbelt - Charlestowne Village - follow racially discriminatory rental policies. Present legislation, the group said, does not cover apartment renting policies. "The recent Dept. of Defense 'Off Limits' ruling does not apply to Greenbelt which is outside the 7-mile radius (of defense installations). The recently enacted (Maryland) Fair Housing Law does not affect existing apartments, and the recently enacted ruling by the Real Estate Commission of the State of Maryland which bars racial discrimination by agents and brokers does not affect rental of apartment units," the petitioners explained.

The proposed resolution would make it an unlawful real estate practice in Greenbelt for any agent or owner to discriminate against any person because of race, religion, national origin, or color in the showing, renting, furnishing, of any facility, or in the conditions of the lease of any dwelling unit which is part of a commercial housing accommodation.

It would be unlawful for any agent or owner to withdraw from the market any commercial dwelling unit for purposes of circumventing the ordinance. The ordinance would apply to any building containing 5 or more dwelling units. Provisions requiring conformity with Maryland's anti-block-busting law would be included. Fines of $50 would be authorized for first violations, and up to $300 for subsequent violations.

Gough Speaks

Councilman Gerald Gough stressed

the desirability of coordinating city action with county proposals for a fair housing law. Gough said that the Prince Georges county commissioners will be holding public hearings in the early fall for the purpose of drafting such an ordinance. Any law passed by the county commissioners would apply to Greenbelt.

Norman Kilpatrick argued for immediate enactment of a commercial fair housing ordinance on the grounds that (1) the city has the authority to act, while the county's powers are still in dispute; (2) the city's ordinance would be restricted to apartments, leaving to the county the enactment of a more comprehensive law; and (3) the passage of such an ordinance might slow down undesirable apartment development in Greenbelt.

Louis Pohoryles thought nothing would be lost by waiting to see what the county does. "If the county doesn't act, the city can enact an ordinance," he said. It was his opinion that the county's ordinance would be stronger and preempt the area. He saw no urgency, he said, as he understood that the larger apartment developments in Greenbelt were already renting to Negroes. Later, he told the News Review that he had been erroneously informed and that the apartment units were still discriminating.

City manager James Giese told council that it did have the power to enforce fair housing regulations. However, he felt that the subject would be better handled at the county level where building and zoning regulations are adopted.

In referring the subject to the Community Relations Advisory Board the council expressed its view that any city proposals should be closely coordinated with the county. In this connection, Gough reminded the council that the county commissioners had been elected on a platform which included a fair housing plank.

Pohoryles New Attorney For Zoning Appeal Board

Louis Pohoryles, 9115 Springhill Lane, has been appointed attorney for the Prince Georges County Board of Zoning Appeals by the County Commissioners. The 30-year-old attorney is a 1963 graduate of George Washington University Law School, where he was on the board of editors of the Law Review. He has been admitted to practice before the U. S. Supreme Court as well as Maryland and District of Columbia courts. Pohoryles is on the executive boards of the Prince Georges Young Democrats and the Democratic Steering Committee, and served on the Home Rule Charter Committee. He is married, with two children.

A Regrettable Decision

We regret the decision of the local chapters of the American Legion and the Disabled American Veterans to refuse to participate in Greenbelt's traditional Labor Day Festival because the Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Viet Nam is participating. Approximately 20 local organizations generally sponsor booths in the festival, and it does not seem reasonable that each of them should have to meet the approval of the Legion's Americanism Committee.

Is this really Americanism?

Community Church News

Members and friends of Greenbelt Community Church will welcome back this Sunday, as guest minister, a former minister of the Church, the Reverend Eric T. Braund. Mr. Braund and his wife Ann will be visiting Greenbelt this week end from their home in Springfield, Massachusetts. Mr. Braund is currently Executive Director of The National Conference of Christians and Jews, Inc. for the Connecticut-Western Massachusetts Region.

Special music for this Sunday has been planned, including a quartet from Rossini's "Stabat Mater" which will be sung by Mrs. Francis White, Kenneth Keeney, Harold Hufendick and Mrs. Jeanne Miller. Punch and cookies will be served under the trees on the Church lawn, weather permitting.

Members of Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church are worshipping with Community Church members during the month of August.

City Notes

Alterations to the Municipal Building are substantially complete. In the council room, the air conditioner has been silenced, new storage space has been provided, and exhaust fan installed for winter use. The air-conditioning unit in the meeting room is being modified by the installation of a fan, enabling air to be circulated there in winter time. Both rooms will now have adequate winter ventilation without any accompanying draughts of cold air.

Builders of the high-rise Charles-towne Village North apartments and of the University Square apartments have recently been burying building debris on their property on Lakecrest Drive. However, it was discovered that in this operation some debris had been buried on city-owned Lake Park property, in a wooded area, with the chance of damage to the trees. This situation is being remedied by the builders, who are now removing this fill.

A storm sewer problem at Ivy Lane and Boxwood has been solved by the contractor responsible for it. The sewer has been opened up and now functions properly, whereas previously, in times of heavy rain, large quantities of water used to overflow from it down the street.

The Public Works crew has paved a small playground near 2-Court on Southway, finished the gravel pathway on the south side of the lake, and painted traffic lines at the Lake Park parking lot and on Centerway.

"Christmas in August" Finds Wide Response

An appreciation for the community's support of last Monday's appeal "Christmas in August" was voiced by Mrs. Fred Ford, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church. "Over 500 pounds of good used clothing and toys were donated for school children and adults of Washington, D. C. Much of this came from interested friends in the community and we wish to thank them for their support of this worthy cause."

The "Christmas in August" celebration included decoration of a Christmas tree in the church yard by children of the Church School, and a family picnic. Following the supper, Christmas Carols were sung and the Rev. Keith W. Johnson, pastor of the Church, gave a brief talk on the significance of "Christmas in August". He reminded the audience that no one knows the true day of Christ's birth, but that on any day on which persons give generously they are celebrating Christ's birthday appropriately. A group of children led by Mrs. Richard Craig sang "Love Is Something".

Further donations will be accepted until the end of August; please call Mrs. Ford at 474-8343 for details.

Visiting Baptist Choir In Youth-Led Revival

Forty-three members of the Chapel Choir of Emmuel Baptist Church, Alexandria, La., together with their Minister of Music, Mr. Joe Santo, and their sponsors, will arrive in Greenbelt Friday to be guests of Greenbelt Baptist Church and conduct a weekend youth-led revival.

The visiting team will conduct services Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:30 p.m. and on Sunday at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. At the Evening Worship on Sunday, the Chapel Choir will present a full-length concert. The public is invited.

Dale Carnegie Program Demonstration Here

A pre-introductory session to the Dale Carnegie program for effective speaking, human relations and leadership will be presented on August 22 and August 29 between 8 and 9:30 p.m. at the Springhill Lake Community House, 6220 Springhill Drive, Greenbelt. Call 474-4555 for reservations and further information. Babysitting services will be provided.

Labor Day Festival News

Legion, D.A.V. Withdrawn From Festival Over CPVN

The local posts of the American Legion and the Disabled American Veterans have withdrawn from participation in the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival because they object to the participation of the Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Viet Nam (CPVN). This announcement was made following a meeting last Friday, Aug. 11, of the festival committee and representatives of groups planning to take part in the traditional weekend celebration, during which the Legion had demanded the ouster of the CPVN.

The matter will be discussed further at a meeting on Friday, Aug. 18, at the municipal building.

In the past, all Greenbelt organizations except those involved with partisan politics have been invited to participate in the festival. Last year, however, the festival committee, in a controversial decision, bowed to pressures from the Legion and D.A.V. and barred the CPVN from participation.

Expanded Art Festival Planned For Labor Day

The three-day Art Festival and Competition sponsored by the Greenbelt Art Guild as part of the Labor Day program promises to be even more notable than last year's event. Full cooperation has been given by county officials concerned with the arts, and a much wider circle of artists and patrons has already indicated interest.

Frank Getlein, art critic of the Washington Evening Star, has again agreed to judge the competition. In addition to cash prizes, gift certificates have been made available by area art stores. The youth category is being stressed this year with savings bonds and other awards awaiting the winners in the 13 to 17 and the below-13 age groups.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the time of submission at the Youth Center Friday night, Sept. 1, from 7 to 9, or Saturday, Sept. 2 from 10 a.m. to noon. Details are also available at Twin Pines, or further information may be secured from the Guild President, Jo Scheibel, 474-5041.

Labor Day Festival Meeting

A meeting of great importance to all concerned with the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival will be held on Friday, August 18 at 8 p.m. at the Greenbelt Municipal Building in the City Council Room. Representatives of all organizations should attend this meeting.

FIRE PREVENTION BOOTH PLANNED FOR FESTIVAL

The Greenbelt Fire Department invites all residents to visit its Fire Prevention Booth, to be open on the Labor Day Week-end during the Annual Festival.

Literature will be passed out, by members of the Fire Department and the Ladies Auxiliary, that could be of great importance in preventing many fires in and around the home. Some of it will stress OPERATION EDITH, which is to offer information on a planned escape route within the home in case of fire.

Novelties will be presented to the younger children in the form of balloons and fire hats, so bring them along on your visit.

The Fire Prevention Booth will also have on display, during the entire Festival, the Trophy that was won at the Convention of the Maryland State Firemen's Association last June, the Silver Spring Award for efforts in Fire Prevention during the past year.

Festival Queen - 1967

The 1967 Greenbelt Festival Queen Contest will take place Sept. 4, 1967. To be a contestant, the young lady must be a resident of Greenbelt, unmarried; between the ages of 16 thru 18; not a previous first place winner and represent only one organization. Any organization wishing to sponsor a young lady or any young lady wishing to enter please call Mrs. Wuermsler at 474-6012.

Labor Day Talent Contest

The Greenbelt Festival will feature a talent contest on Saturday, Sept. 2, and Sunday, Sept. 3, beginning at 7 p.m. Cash awards will be given to winners of the first and second place each night. Amateur performers of vocal, instrumental, dance and other talent are invited. Performers are asked to provide their own music, and/or instruments.

For further information call Elizabeth Maffay, 474-6666.

To the Editor

"Unfair to the Community"
The following letter submitted to the Washington Post was made available to the News Review.

In "Greenbelt - A Town's Fading Dream", which appeared in Potomac, July 23, 1967, Mr. Wolf Von Eckardt was unfair to the community, to Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI), and to me. His effort to draw from Greenbelt's history examples of what newer communities should avoid was marked by misinformation, misunderstanding, and misquotation.

For example, he stated, "The original town's plain row houses . . . are now occupied by families who still pay a surprisingly low $119.75 . . ." Mr. Von Eckardt implies this is the sum per month paid by all residents of original Greenbelt. This is not the case. Monthly payments, which include mortgage principal and interest payments, heat, structural maintenance, administration, taxes, water, and waste collection, range from $64.00 to $119.75 per month. In the so-called "defense homes", monthly payments range from $51.00 to $78.75.

Mr. Von Eckardt pointed out that the housing cooperative owned 708 acres of vacant land but "when GHI found the market unfavorable, it sold most of that, too, to private developers." At best, this statement is half-truth. It would be more accurate to say that a young, inexperienced corporation sold the land (but with covenants to protect its development) because its members felt that its assets were insufficient to hold the land for future development by the corporation. Hind-sight would indicate that the sale was unwise, but those who sold had the benefit of neither Mr. Von Eckardt's hindsight nor mine.

Mr. Von Eckardt was critical of the failure on the part of Greenbelt citizens to protest the locations of the routes of the Washington-Baltimore Parkway, the Beltway and Kenilworth Avenue which "sliced what was to be Greenbelt to pieces." Citizens did protest the location of the roads, which are creating problems, but Mr. Von Eckardt is silent on what is being done to overcome them.

At another point, in a fine example of a non sequitur, he is scornful of the tardiness of the city in developing a master-plan which "it should have prepared a dozen years earlier. Now it was too late. The plan has no legal standing since only the Prince Georges County Commissioners have the power to adopt masterplans." Would a plan "prepared a dozen years earlier" have any greater "legal standing" than the plan adopted in 1965?

It was "a dozen years earlier" that the government sold the land. Only then could the city begin to plan its own destiny. A little time was needed to attend to first things first, but in 1959 the initial steps were taken toward development of the Greenbelt master plan which was adopted in 1965. Desirable though it may have been to have had the plan earlier, development of such a plan takes time.

Incidentally, the Greenbelt master plan contemplates a balanced development between owner-occupied homes and rental units. It is an absolute misstatement that, "Greenbelters, like most suburbanites, want only home owners, not renters, for neighbors."

Mr. Von Eckardt evidently found in me an example of "suburban mentality". After indicating that there are "only a handful of negroes" in Greenbelt, he quoted me as stating that "it would not be feasible to build moderate, let alone low income, housing in his town. His cooperative demands high down payments to assure 'compatible' neighbors."

I stated that "it would not be feasible" for GHI to build government subsidized low and moderate income housing in Greenbelt until the city had a "workable plan". Surely Mr. Von Eckardt should be familiar with the workable plan requirements of the Section 221 (d)(3) program. Incidentally, in what category—low, moderate or high income housing—would one place monthly charges ranging from $51.00 to $119.75?

As to the allegation that the "cooperative demands high down payments", this is nonsense. The facts, as explained to Mr. Von Eckardt, are that GHI has but one mortgage held by the Federal National Mortgage Association. In buying a GHI home an individual is acquiring the seller's equity in a mortgage on which payments have been made for almost fifteen years. These "high down payments" are a serious problem to buyer and seller alike—one on which Mr. Von Eckardt was told GHI was working.

It is regrettable that Mr. Von Eckardt's zeal to make the point that Columbia and Reston should avoid Greenbelt's mistakes should lead him to make factual errors. Even more regrettable is his conclusion that a combination of errors of omission and commission by its citizens and civic leaders has led to what he terms "Greenbelt—A Town's Fading Dream". This is not the view of the great majority of Greenbelters. Despite any errors that may have been made or setbacks that may have been experienced, we are continuing to fight to preserve the historic values associated with our community. We are confident that it will continue to be a good place to live for persons of all races, creeds and colors and of widely varying incomes. Unfortunately, Mr. Von Eckardt has done us a disservice in our struggle.

Charles F. Schwan, President
Greenbelt Homes, Inc.

Attempt to Impose Views

Because the American Legion attempted to turn the Labor Day Festival Committee Meeting on Friday, August 11, into a repetition of last year's events, when the Legion's objections to the participation of the Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Viet Nam led to its being barred, the CPVN believes that a statement of its position is necessary.

The CPVN's request to participate in the Festival was accepted and we were invited to attend the Festival Committee meetings. Last Friday, during a discussion of the Peace Committee's booth, the American Legion and the D.A.V. said that further discussion was unnecessary because they objected to the presence of the CPVN and would refuse to take part in the Festival unless the Peace Committee was barred. This ultimatum was followed by an immediate walk-out of the representatives of the veterans' groups, including Councilman Richard Pilski. Despite this attempt to choke off discussion, the Festival Committee did consider the matter at some length. The general attitude of the members present seemed to be that as a Greenbelt organization the Peace Committee is entitled to participate but that withdrawal of the Legion would jeopardize the success of the Festival.

We do not believe that any organization should dictate terms or attempt to impose its views. Nor do we believe that the Festival best serves the youth of Greenbelt by avoiding the serious matters that affect young people. The CPVN is fully prepared to discuss this issue in an effort to reach a mutually acceptable solution. The other groups at the meeting in the best American tradition, made a serious effort to reach such a solution through open discussion. We hope that the veterans' groups will also be willing to join in these democratic procedures for resolving differences.

Bertram Donn
for the CPVN

Wants Public Discussion To the Editor:

At last week's meeting of the Labor Day Festival Committee, Richard Pilski prominently joined with several other members of the local American Legion Post in a walk-out. The walk-out was the response of these gentlemen to the Festival Committee's attempt to discuss the pros and cons of the proposed participation of the Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Vietnam in the Festival.

This festival is dedicated to the youth of this community. It is held for their benefit. Now the most important issue facing our young people today is the war in Vietnam. This issue cannot be brushed aside. Their lives are directly affected. The Peace Committee believes that we best serve our young men by working to end the unnecessary war that threatens their lives. Mr. Pilski believes otherwise. I invite Mr. Pilski to meet me in a public debate during Labor Day weekend on the question: Are the youth of Greenbelt best served by a continuation of the war in Vietnam, by its step-up, or by its de-escalation and a U.S. disengagement?

Dr. Allen M. Lenchek

For Unity in Diversity To the Editor:

I deeply deplore the efforts of the American Legion and the Disabled American Veterans to force the ouster of the Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Viet Nam (CPVN) from the Labor Day Festival for the second year.

Last year, a few scant weeks before the festival, the Legion and the D.A.V. suddenly announced that they would quit the fair if the CPVN was given a booth. The Legion had ferris wheels and brass bands to offer and the CPVN only a handful of leaflets and some dozen members. The festival committee gave in, ejecting the CPVN on the grounds of the "public interest" because the withdrawal of the Legion would too greatly diminish the fair.

I felt at the time that this decision was a mistake, and I and my family did not attend the fair. I wonder how many others also stayed away. In the past years we have never missed an event. Still, I felt I just couldn't give tacit endorsement to a policy I believed was morally wrong, for I do not agree that large, powerful groups have the right to intimidate small, weak groups and push them around.

However, I did sympathize with the festival committee because the problem had been sprung on them at the last moment, when all their plans had been made, and they really didn't have time to examine all sides of the question.

This year it is different. We have had a year's warning. Again the Legion has sprung its little surprise a short time before the festival. This year, the festival committee, much to its credit, didn't cave in immediately, and so the Legion and the D.A.V. have said they refuse to continue participating.

This is a shame. These groups have always made a great contribution to the fair, and they will be missed. I wish they would change their minds, and I want to ask them, publicly, please to reconsider, for the benefit of the community, especially the kids.

I do not think, however, that any organization's contributions, however great, justify the use of pressure tactics of this type to divide the community and create ill-feeling at the precise moment everyone is slaving to get a topnotch festival ready by Labor Day. I don't understand why the Legion feels it has the right to insist that all the groups in the festival must echo its own opinions.

But even if the Legion refuses to reconsider, I hope that the rest of the organizations in the festival will resolutely retain their unity—their "Unity in Diversity," as that colorful slogan near the entrance to Greenbelt puts it. In my opinion, that's the kind of unity that makes this town a good place to live. And this country, too.

The issue at stake here is not the war in Viet Nam, whatever the Legion or the CPVN may think. The issue is the depth of our conviction—and of the Legion's conviction—that we live in a free society where all men have an equal right to express their opinions; even about a question like Viet Nam on which so many disagree so bitterly.

Hal Siegel a Candidate For Greenbelt City Council

The second candidate to file his nominating petition for the city council is Harold Aryai Siegel, 16 Maplewood. The first candidate was Leo Gerton. The election for the five-man council will be held on Tuesday, September 19, but all nominating petitions must be in by Monday, August 21. The biography of Hal Siegel follows.

Siegel has been a Greenbelt resident since 1959. He came to Maryland with his wife Consuelo in 1951, shortly after receiving his Engineering degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mr. and Mrs. Siegel have six children, including two sets of twins.

In 1963, Siegel received his law degree from Georgetown University. He was admitted to the Maryland Bar in 1963 and subsequently to both the United States Tax Court and the United States Supreme Court.

In civic affairs, Siegel has served Prince Georges County for 12 years in the volunteer position of Chief of the Radiation Defense Service of the County Civil Defense Agency. He conducts frequent on-site radiation detection facility capability inspections throughout the County.

Siegel is a member and past president of the Greenbelt Jaycees and a past president of the Lakeside Citizens' Association. His most demanding activity has been in his role at the helm of Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt, Inc., (C FPG) Greenbelt's largest citizen's association. He served as that group's first vice-chairman, and has held the chairmanship for the past two years.

He is also an active member of the Greenbelt Lions Club as well as several professional organizations, including the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, the Maryland Bar Association, and the American Bar Association.

He previously was appointed by the Council to both the City's Personnel Advisory Board and to the City's Charter Review Committee.

Jaycee Meeting Tonight

The Greenbelt Jaycees meet tonight at the municipal building at 8 p.m. Young men between the ages of 21 and 35 who are interested in the Jaycees are invited to attend, or to call Gregg White, president, at 345-2145.

Little League World Series

The 1967 Greenbelt Little League World Series was held July 29th and 30th at McDonald Field, with the D.A.V. Tigers, managed by Larnie Palmer, and the Co-op Cubs, managed by Howard Wesley pitted against each other for the World Series Championship. Spectators who witnessed the two game series saw a very good brand of baseball played by both teams.

The D.A.V. Tigers this year set a new Greenbelt Little League record by winning 20 games without a loss, and capping it off with 2 wins in the World Series.

We are very proud of the players and coaches of the entire Greenbelt Little League for a fine baseball program.

Many thanks too to our sponsors and supporters throughout the year.

The final standings for the 1967 Season:

American League		W	L
Co-op Cubs		13	7
W.C.L. Orioles		11	9
GHI Giants		5	15
Pepsi Athletics		5	15
National League		W	L
DAV Tigers		20	0
Lions Club Lions		9	11
Carry-Out Indians		10	10
American Legion Cards		9	11

TRAFFIC TIP

Many drivers have the mistaken idea that a "stop" sign means "stop" only. It doesn't. A "stop" sign requires a stop and a wait until it is absolutely safe to proceed.

COUNCIL STORY from p. 1

Board advised council that it did not favor this proposal and that it intends to prepare a comprehensive series of rules and regulations for the use of the lake park.

The PRAB also recommended, and the city accepted, a suggestion that the new fulltime position authorized in the current budget for the Youth Center be called Assistant Recreation Director rather than Youth Center Director.

The Advisory Planning Board submitted a series of organizational changes which will be considered at next council meeting. The most significant are the suggestion that the secretary shall be an employee of the city rather than a member of the APB and that the specific designation of committees be eliminated to allow the APB greater flexibility in organizing its committees.

The city has received two resignations from its advisory boards: John Churchill from the PRAB due to his moving out of the area and Lawrence Goldberger from the APB due to his absence from the city while attending school for a nine-month period.

The council approved a bill of $375 for three adjustable fulcrums needed to qualify its swimming pool diving boards for competitive diving meets.

Child Education Discussions

Family Service of Prince Georges County, a counseling agency, located at 4318 Hamilton St., Hyattsville, plans a series of group discussions on psychological and behavior problems of young children. Mothers of young children who are concerned about such problems in their children, of any age, are invited to call the agency and discuss their problems and learn about the discussion group. The series of weekly meetings will begin in September and continue for eight weeks. Applications are now being accepted for the group which will be limited in number. Telephone: 927-1441.

sons, and persons displaced from their present homes by government action.

Section 213 would permit restriction of purchases to present GHI members and would not involve income limitations.

A major area of uncertainty is the question of whether GHI would have to form a separate corporation to qualify for such financing. FHA officials have agreed to consider and explore GHI's special needs and GHI will submit a proposal incorporating its desires in this area.

Committees

The board approved the organization of committees for the coming year: finance committee, John O'Reilly, chairman; land committee, Roy Davis, chairman; landscape committee, Gordon Allen, chairman; maintenance committee, George Adams, chairman; member complaint committee, Norman Weyel, chairman; Newsletter committee, Katherine Keene, chairman; and personnel committee, Nat Shinderman, chairman.

Other committees approved for which chairmen have yet to be named include member relations, larger homes, parking, by-laws, and select committee on long-range construction and reconstruction.

The latter is a new committee with its subject matter the structural condition of GHI homes, current and foreseeable maintenance expenditures, possible future remodeling or building programs, and possible acquisition of land for building.

Except for the member complaint, newsletter, and personnel committees, membership is open to non-board members. One change from last year was the opening of the Committee on Larger Homes to non-board members. A similar request for the Newsletter committee was turned down.

Renovation

The board gave the go-ahead to a face-lifting project initiated by 44-Ridge court residents. The project calls for improving the outward appearance of the frame homes by using such materials as aluminum siding, redwood and cedar panels, perma stone, and shutters.

The board turned down a request for a special exception for a $300 free-standing shed whose size was in excess of newly-adopted regulations. It felt that the amount of investment by the homeowner could not serve as an excuse for ignoring the regulations. The board asked management to cooperate with the homeowner in working out arrangements for moving the shed so as to conform with board regulations.

Tid-bits

Shinderman reported that there are 8 vacancies on the GHI maintenance staff. High-quality salary increases were voted to two employees, Guy Miller and Edward Reed. The board rehired its present auditors — Oehmann and Co., for another year, in accordance with Audit Committee recommendations. Progress was reported on working out an arrangement with the city on responsibility for maintenance of storm drains. The county school attorney has asked for an additional month to reply to GHI's appeal on the senior high school site, now pending in the Court of Appeals.

Now — U. S. Savings Bonds Pay More Interest

4.15% when held to maturity

Higher interest on the Bonds you already own, too!

U.S. Savings Bonds are a better way to save than ever

Because now all Series E and Series H Bonds bought after December 1, 1965, will earn the new, higher interest rate of 4.15% when held to maturity. That's only 7 years for Series E — 9 months quicker than before. All H Bond interest checks will be larger beginning in June 1966.

And your outstanding bonds will earn more, too, from now on. So, you don't have to cash in your present Bonds to get the attractive new rate. Ask about buying Bonds where you work or bank. For America's future. And yours.

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. It is presented as a public service in cooperation with the Treasury Department and The Advertising Council.

"Today, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines."

"Today, above all, is a time for all Americans to rededicate themselves to the spirit that animated the Minutemen of Concord—who serve as a symbol of the Savings Bond program. For today, as at the founding of our nation, it is freedom which is again at stake. Not all of us are called upon to fight in the jungles of Vietnam, but while our men are there, in the front lines of a distant land, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines. We must all do our share—in every way we can—to support our men in Vietnam. One sure way is open to all Americans through the Savings Bond program."

Sid Barnett and Tony Pisano squeezed out a 1-point victory in last Friday's duplicate bridge game. Second place was a tie between the teams of Seymour Levine - Julie Churchill and Carl and Peg Gruber. Next game: Friday, August 25.

Captain Paul S. Britt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Britt, 9129 Breezewood, graduated from the Air University's Squadron Officer School at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama on August 4. Captain Britt has been reassigned to Kirtland Air Force Base in New Mexico as a nuclear research officer for the Air Force Systems Command.

Note the following new addresses: M. E. Barstow, 39-H Ridge,

D. Beck, 3-D Ridge, and H. Ray, 4-H Ridge.

The best of luck to the Marchal Fuller family, 7-N Research, who are moving to Ellerslie, Maryland, where Marchal will be assistant director of the Alleghany County Welfare Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Taubman, 227 Lakeside, holidayed in Nassau at the Sheraton-British Colonial Hotel.

Vacationing at the Nassau Beach Hotel in Nassau were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Teitel, 205 Lakeside.

The Nassau Beach Hotel was also the vacation home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ploff, 201 Lakeside.

Happy birthday to Ellen and Susan Kessler, 2-D Woodland. Ellen's ninth birthday falls on August 17 while Susan celebrates hers on August 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Haber of 1G Westway are proud grandparents of Marc Howard Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Goodman of Silver Spring, Md. They were vacationing in Hawaii with former Greenbelters Jack and Fran Sanders and greeted their first grandchild at the age of 9 days.

News Review Staffers Victor and Rita Fisher and their daughters spent the first part of their summer vacation at Ocean City and found that they were next door neighbors to Greenbelt's Mayor and Mrs. Edgar Smith and their daughter. The Fishers spent the remainder of their vacation in Kenosha Lake, New York with Vic's parents.

Don't forget to register to vote for the forthcoming city elections. The city offices will be open on Saturday morning from 9 a.m. to noon for this purpose.

Twin Pines Newsletter

TWIN PINES SAVINGS & LOAN ASSN.

GREENBELT SHOPPING CENTER GREENBELT, MARYLAND

AUGUST, 1967

July Income

totalled $10,555; expenses were $4,157; leaving net earnings of $6,398. Deposits for July exceeded withdrawals to give an increase in savings of $7,903 compared to a much greater increase of nearly $33,000 in July 1966. Loans increased by $32,396. Total assets and liabilities of $1,450,942 represent an increase of almost a quarter of a million ($245,000) over last year at this time.

EXPO '67 TOURS

The Greenbelt Travel Club has only two remaining vacancies on the August 27 - 30 Expo Tour. However, if you still wish to go, the Travel Club can make arrangements for you to go with either of two other groups. One group, which leaves from Capital Plaza on August 19, is very similar to our 4-day, 3-night tour. A few places are still available.

The other, which will depart from the Silver Spring B&O R.R. station on August 22 is a 5-day, 4-night bus tour that includes a full day in New York City, with accommodations at the Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel in New York. This tour will return you to your court in Greenbelt about 3 a.m., Sunday, August 27th. Further information about these tours is available at Twin Pines office.

Greenbelt Travel Club is considering plans for this Fall and Winter in which by combining with other groups (such as the "Y" and the Teachers Association) it could provide a wider variety of a regular monthly schedule.

Reactions are invited: Would you be interested in an October tour to EXPO '67? Would you prefer a "bare bones" Skyline Tour, including only transportation, or would you like to include Monticello, Luray Caverns, arranged meals, etc.? Would you be interested in a trip to a Broadway show? Let us know some of your ideas and preferences.

Government Employees -

New Members

have your checks sent direct to Twin Pines on a regular basis. Because of special handling and more frequent mail delivery, checks often arrive as early as office delivery. Deposited to your account immediately they could earn increased dividends and bonuses. Though the funds are always available for withdrawal the balance builds faster for future needs. No special arrangements are necessary during vacations, TDY, or sick leave and receipts are always mailed to you from Twin Pines on the day of deposit.

SUMMER BONUS

will continue on into September. A penny will continue to be added to every ten dollars deposited to your account in order to encourage greater savings. Because of state regulations, the maximum bonus is $2.50 per account.

Art Preview

A limited number of paintings on our newly cloth-covered exhibit space will advertise the annual and extensive art exhibit to be held at the Youth Center during the Youth Festival over Labor Day Weekend.

This exhibit will be the beginning of the new Fall schedule and interested persons may sign up for a new series of art lessons to be given by Woody Ritter of the University of Maryland. There will also be interesting and valuable critiques scheduled.

Tennis News

The fourth tennis tournament of the summer was held on August 12 and 13. The mixed doubles team of Ray McDonald and Sally Magnan defeated Tom Kelly and Lynn Shipley for the championship (6-2, 6-1). In the father and son contest, Ray and Phil McDonald beat Tom and Tommy Kelly (6-2, 6-3, 6-4) for the title.

SWIM TEAM NEWS

Swim team practice is now limited to one hour a day: from 8 to 9 a.m. Everybody should use this opportunity to remain in good condition. Practice is especially useful for the first place winners in the Divisionals: K. Labukas, H. Meyers, O. Penney and alternates R. Merlene and A. McCallon, who will participate in Saturday's All Star Meet at Carrolton. Also for those swimmers who will be going to the Novice Meet on Saturday, September 2, at Adelphi. All swimmers who did not receive a first, second or third place ribbon for an individual event are eligible to participate in the Novice meet. Medals will be awarded to the swimmers who place first, second or third.

Plans for winter swimming are in the making. Anyone who is interested (this includes non-swim team members, should contact Dennis Adams at the pool.

Men's Basketball

Lew Buck made 20 points for the victorious Blues in a game over the Kangaroos, 64-58. Steve Cox and Tom Meadows made 15 points each for the losers. Matt Gantt helped the winning cause with 17 points and several fine defensive plays.

A. J. Nuzzo led the Red team with 24 points in their 54-39 win over the Black team. Horseman had 16 points for the losers.

City, Merchants Discuss Rising Center Costs

A public meeting on August 14 on the proposed increase in the special assessment service charge for cleaning the Greenbelt commercial center ended with council directing management to meet with the local merchant's association to explore alternative ways of meeting the rising costs.

Several years ago council established the policy of sharing 50-50 with the property owners the cost of cleaning the center. Since the service charge on property owners was a fixed amount the proportion paid by the city rose as costs rose. The proposed ordinance change would restore the 50-50 ratio.

Protesting the four-fold increase in the service charge were several of the center's property owners and residents, including a representative of the major owners, William and Charles Cohen, Benjamin Rosenzweig of Greenbelt Consumer Services, Inc., Dr. Wil-

Saturday, August 19, is National Aviation Day, and the occasion will be marked by a large air show at Dulles International Airport. The show, which will last all the day, will feature a large variety of airplanes, from a 38-year old Ford Trimotor to the 200-passenger DC-8-61, largest passenger airliner this side of the iron curtain. A special attraction will be "flight-seeing" trips in one of American Airlines Boeing 707 jetliners, lasting 30 minutes and costing $5. These flights are scheduled every hour on the hour, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Also on Saturday, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., the Delacarla water processing plant will be open to visitors, as part of "Willing Water Week." The plant is located in the 5900 block of McArthur blvd., at the northwestern end of the District of Columbia, and visitors arriving by car should use the northern entrance, near the District line.

Finally, during the same hours, the USNS Kane, the Navy's newest oceanographic vessel, will hold an open house at the Washington Navy Yard.

liam Weintraub, of the professional building, and Robert Auerbach,

It was argued that much of the trash is attributable to city facilities in the area, and that these high service charges could not be passed on to tenants at this time. Better and more efficient city service was also demanded.

Harold Kramer, representing the Springhill Lake management, said he would be glad to enter into an arrangement for the city to pay half the costs of cleaning the Springhill Lake shopping center.
