GHI Board Accepts Bid on Revised Plans for Town House Construction

by Rita Fisher

Construction of the new townhouses by Greenbelt Homes, Inc., in the near future may be a reality if current plans progress as discussed in the meeting of the GHI board of directors on Thursday July 11.

Nat Shinderman, chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on Larger Homes, reported to fellow board members that bids had been received from seven concerns, varying in amounts from $488,000 to $793,000. The lowest acceptable bid was made by the firm of J. R. Lawrence for $519,219. The Ad Hoc Committee recommended that management consult with a representative of the firm to review specifications concerning modifications which could bring the price lower without endangering the structure of the new buildings. Management did this and a list of proposals was presented containing reductions and also additions which might be desirable.

Under consideration would be a reduction in the size of the basement area, better air circulation, change in the type of windows and doors, flooring, painting, and plumbing that would result in a savings of $52,950. Also recommended was air conditioning, which would cost about $400 for middle houses and $500 for end houses.

Unanimously approved by the Board was a motion to accept the bid of J. R. Lawrence as builder with modifications as proposed with the amount of the bid not exceeding $490,000. Arrangement will be made with Attorney Al Ginsberg regarding the contract and the acquisition of building permits through the architect, Greenhorn and O'Mara. Ground boring, to test the building sites, will be made before the contract is let out.

Approximate cost for interior homes will be $19,000 and $20,000 for end houses. These will be four-bedroom homes.

Member Complaint

Also taking up about an hour and a half of the board's time was a complaint from a member (an attorney) who felt that the corporation exercised coercion in regard to resale of his home. He claimed that he was instructed to deposit a check for $50 before executing the resale. When he appeared at the office, he was told that the amount would be deducted from the settlement instead. He stated that Maryland laws provide that a lease for over seven years is conveyed by a deed and must be acknowledged. It was finally agreed that a meeting would be arranged between the member and the corporation's attorney.

Another request was received from a member who wanted to have a free-standing shed (5x7). He was advised that this was only permitted under special circumstances - for instance, near undeveloped wooded areas. Board member Jim Smith expressed the feeling that, since the regulations were being considered for revision, no exceptions be made until the new regulations are in force and better guide lines can be followed. The member withdrew his request until such time as the regulations are drawn up and approved.

Chairman of the Maintenance, Standards and Improvements Committee, George Adams, commented that he felt that a relaxation of the regulations was necessary. A report from the sub-committee on sheds should be upcoming by the middle of August, Adams stated. He also presented the Board with revised fence regulations. Consideration of the proposed fence regulations will be added to the agenda of the special meeting to be held for the board to review the revised regulations, the date not yet announced.

Another member informed the Board that he was becoming impatient waiting for painters to come and paint the trim. The Board informed him that the delay was caused by the problem of getting and keeping painters on the staff.

Parkdale High School Is Already Operational

by Virginia Beauchamp

When Greenbelt's tenth and eleventh graders enter the new Parkdale High School for classes for the first time on September 3, they will be having a once-in-a-lifetime experience. Everything will be new—building, athletic plant, textbooks, laboratory equipment, furniture, library collection. And only a few of the people will be familiar—some of the staff and some of their classmates.

Parkdale, located on auspiciously named Good Luck Rd., south of Greenbelt Park between Kenilworth and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, will draw its eleventh graders from DuVal, High Point, Northwestern, and Bladensburg High Schools. Besides Greenbelt, students will come principally from Berwyn Heights, College Park Estates, Carrollton, Landover, Woodlawn, Glenridge, Parkway Estates, and East Pines. Of the faculty, ten reside in Greenbelt. One of the three vice-principals, Gerald E. Boisvert, is a former Greenbelter, active in civic affairs, and a long-time teacher at High Point High School. The principal, Dr. G. Allen Sager was formerly administrator at Northwestern High School.

Dr. Sager seems to be taking in stride the many problems entailed in getting the new school ready for its expected 1800 students. The building itself is complete, although some final adjustments to the air conditioning system are still being made and the school clocks have yet to be started. Final work is also being done on the athletic plant, including a bowlshaped stadium seating 3,000, which is set into a deep valley in the natural contour of the land. Still to be constructed is a second access road from Good Luck Rd., the current driveway having too steep a grade to meet regulations governing the use of school buses.

School Colors

Interestingly enough, building school spirit has been one of the major concerns of the faculty, even before the school opens. Because the first football game is scheduled for Sept. 15, less than two weeks after the school term begins, athletic uniforms had to be ordered early. But this ordering could not be done without a decision on what the new school colors would be. Preferring to bring the future students into the choosing process, Dr. Sager asked the principal of the various feeder schools to name student representatives, proportional to the size of the student contingents coming to Parkdale. Acting as a temporary student council, this committee of students narrowed down the choices to two possible color combinations. Then over 1500 of the prospective student body of 1800 filled out ballots. By this method the official school colors—forest green and gold—were adopted. Also helping to strengthen school spirit will be the high school band. Already it has been rehearsing three times a week throughout the summer.

During the summer also guidance counselors, each in a two-week shift, have been on duty to register and counsel incoming students with curricular and other problems. By the final week of the vacation period, homeroom lists will have been prepared and posted. In this way, each student will be able to pick up his homeroom assignment early. These assignments will be made on a purely alphabetical basis, Dr. Sager said. School bus routes will also be posted on the outer doors of the school as soon as they have been determined. Students are urged to drop by for homeroom and bus information during the last week before school begins.

Faculty

Among the professional staff of the new school there will be, besides Dr. Sager and the three vice-principals, five guidance counselors, two librarians, and 82 teachers, a total of 93. Teachers will offer course work in the following fields: English, social studies, science, mathematics, Spanish, French, Latin, German, art, industrial arts, physical education, home economics, vocal and instrumental music, remedial reading, and driver education. Other staff members include five school secretaries, a school nurse, cafeteria workers, and custodians.

Greenbelt residents among the new faculty are: Mrs. Catherine Gilbert and Mrs. Mary Jane Euler (English), Arthur J. Maas (history), Mrs. Mary J. Osantowski (French), Haynes M. Pridden (biology), William K. Guthrie (chemistry), Gary G. Griffith (physical science), Mrs. Ellen Lamison (home economics), James J. Pasante (industrial arts), and Joseph Arbutina (physical education).

School Plant

When the $3.7 million structure opens this fall, it will be already at nearly the capacity load for which it was designed, even without the 12th grade class. In 1969, with all three senior high school grades, it will be overloaded by about 800 students. Thus, before the school opens, a new 24-classroom addition is being planned; but it is not expected to open until the fall of 1970.

For the first year of its operation, however, the school plant should be ideal. Since it duplicates the Crossland High School in Camp Springs, it has been tested in use

Seek Queen Contest

The Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad and Ladies Auxiliary is looking for a Greenbelt girl, between the ages of 18 and 25, to represent the department in a beauty contest at Gwynn Oak Park on August 11 and at the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival.

Applications may be picked up at the firehouse. The girl who is selected to represent the Fire Department will become the Fire Prevention Queen and will be guaranteed an experience that could lead to her entry in the Miss Maryland Contest. Entries will be considered no later than July 31.

C-2 Opposed on Jaeger Track, Council Approves Archery Range

by Virginia Beauchamp

In a half-hour long special meeting Monday night, the city council approved a special exception to permit an archery range in the new Greenbelt Sports Center, to be located below the Co-op Supermarket in the Center; authorized the disbursement of $150 to pay for construction of a gas main which provides hot water for the swimming pool; and voted to express disapproval of a petition by the developers of the Jaeger tract for commercial office buildings on the southern end of that tract.

Expressing their wish for the success of the new business venture in the Center to the representative of the owner, Mrs. Helen Cratty, 7-F Ridge, council unanimously granted the special exception for archery in fulfillment of a county regulation governing new types of recreational use. They queried Mrs. Cratty briefly concerning safety measures to be taken in connection with the archery program. When she explained that the 10 targets, riding on rails in the old bowling lanes, will move to the archers to have the arrows removed, while all archers shoot from behind the same line and never approach the target area, the councilmen were satisfied that the new sport will offer no danger to patrons.

Council was unanimous in its opposition to the plans for commercial development in the Jaeger tract, which juts into Greenbelt Park from Kenilworth Ave. Although the section in question is already zoned for high-rise apartments, council agreed with Mayor Edgar L. Smith's objection to the commercial zoning for what would not constitute a significantly different type of structure—that it would establish a precedent for what could become a chain reaction of commercial development southward along Kenilworth.

City Manager James K. Giese was directed to send a letter to the MNCPPC expressing this opinion. He was also directed to write to the Secretary of the Interior, notifying him of the city's opposition to a proposed scheme whereby the developers of the Jaeger tract might exchange the southern end of their land, which cuts into the park, for the corner of the park at the intersection of Kenilworth and Greenbelt Rd. Commercial development on that corner would go a long way toward making the intersection "another Langley Park," as Councilman William Hoff expressed it.

Labor Day Committee Approves Political Rally

The Greenbelt Labor Day Festival Committee has approved plans for a political rally during the Crab feast which will be held in the Carnival area right after the Labor Day Parade.

The rally will allow all political candidates running for office a chance to speak for 5 minutes. No reservations will be necessary. As the political candidates appear, they will be scheduled.

Various political organizations have already requested booths for both the distribution of literature and amusement. Being an important political year, the Festival Committee voted to approve these booths, which have been discouraged in the past.

Help for Children

The Court Parent Plan was introduced to Greenbelt at the end of June by the Center School PTA. The plan is designed to help children get fast medical treatment or to prevent suspected molestation or minister to any other emergency. For this purpose the cooperation of volunteers is needed. Volunteers will be recognized by a green and white sign stating "Court Parent" and by the green helping hand emblem.

Each volunteer receives a window sign and a paper with the telephone numbers for the rescue squad and the police department; in addition they receive a record of visits from children. The Greenbelt Lions Club has donated the current city directory to all volunteers for fast reference of parents' telephone numbers.

Working with the Center School PTA are St. Hugh's PTA, Joseph Murray, president; and North End PTA, Howard Brinkley, president.

Forty-two active "Court Parents" have so far volunteered, but more are needed. If you would like to have an active part in helping children of Greenbelt, please call Mrs. Demus, president of Center School PTA, 474-1187, Mrs. Brigham, 474-8651, or Mrs. Lawson 345-3125.

Greenbelt Policemen Score High in County

Three new police officers from Greenbelt added luster to the department when they scored in the top half of their training class in the Prince Georges County Police Academy. Officer Robert L. Mulkey graduated in first place, and Officer Michael R. Kerr took second place. The other high-scoring officer was Thomas H. Miswell. They were honored at graduation exercises on June 25. Officers Mulkey and Miskell also received permanent appointments to the Greenbelt force from Greenbelt Police Chief Lane at the ceremony, culminating their six-month apprenticeship period. Both officers joined the force in October, 1967. Officer Kerr, formerly Police Dispatcher, who went on the rolls as a police officer in February, has not yet completed his probationary period.

Training programs for police officers rank high in the scheme of priorities of the local police force. Greenbelt requires two weeks of formal training and two to three weeks of field training for every new officer before he begins his official duties. This training is then supplemented by a state-approved 160-hour course in any of six police academies, such as that in Prince Georges County. Officers meet for classes twice a week, for four hours each night. At the end of the course they receive a certificate granted by the State Training Commission for completion of the state's minimum standards for police officers. One other Greenbelt officer is fulfilling these requirements by attending the State Police school full-time.

But Greenbelt's requirements do not stop there. With assistance from federal funds, the Greenbelt Police Dept. purchased a sight-sound training system (film strips) from the International Association of Chiefs of Police, which is used for brief training sessions at each daily roll call. In addition, many men seek additional advanced training on their own time. Currently two men are taking advanced work at the F.B.I., two at American University, and one at the University of Maryland.

The Greenbelt Police Dept. is currently at full strength. It is composed of 14 officers, including Chief Lane. More men on the force have now passed the probationary period than at any time since Chief Lane took over direction of the force.

City Notes

Sales of swimming pool passes are already up by 10% this year over end-of-season figures for sales last year in all but one category, according to figures released this week by City Manager James K. Giese.

Comparative figures as of July 10, 1968, and September, 1967, are as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Category, 1968, 1967. Rows: Resident Family (551, 503), Resident Single (70, 76), Non-resident Family (134, 119), Non-resident Single (11, 5).

City Treasurer Mabel Kandler reported this week that the city's surplus above the budget for the last fiscal year was $51,400. This is $21,000 more than the $29,000 surplus previously estimated and rebudgeted by the City Council.

Notice of a raise in fees charged for refuse collection was sent out by the city last week to all refuse customers and members of GHI, along with a special brochure of information on municipal taxes.

In addition, notices concerning changes in scheduling of collections have been sent to residents affected, Lakeside Dr. will now have a three-times weekly trash pick-up since the city is discontinuing all twice-weekly routes.

The Prince Georges County Planning Board approved an amended plat for industrial development in the west end of Springhill Lake near the railroad tracks.

The Public Works Dept. recently completed landscaping around the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Tree. They graded the top soil surrounding the tree, removed a temporary ramp leading to the site, and took out a nearby unsightly tree.

Footings have been poured for the Municipal Services Building. Carpenters are now at work on the framing for the concrete foundations.

Recovery, Inc. Meets

Recovery, Inc., an organization offering a systematic method of self-help to persons with nervous and emotional problems and to former mental patients, will open a local group in June at the Prince Georges County Memorial Library, 6530 Adelphi Road, Hyattsville.

Meetings will be held at the Library every Friday evening at 7:30 beginning June 7.

The Recovery method explains nervous reactions and their effects in simplified language and offers techniques the individual can use to help himself cope with them. It in no way supplants the physician or professional counselor.

Meetings are conducted by Recovery leaders, who are patients or former patients who have been trained in the Recovery method and practice it themselves.

Additional information, and lists of other groups in the Washington Baltimore area can be obtained by writing to Recovery, Inc., P.O. Box 852, Washington, D. C. 20044.

Parkdale School

for several years. Only one minor change in the design — the addition of fire doors to close off long corridors — has been introduced. One staff member who formerly taught at Crossland considers the design superb.

Except for the gymnasium, Parkdale is fully air conditioned. Its most noteworthy architectural feature is an octagonal multi-purpose room with a stage, to be used both as a cafeteria and meeting hall or auditorium. In the same wing, opening on inner courtyards or atriums, are the administrative offices, guidance counseling center, the library, and the gym.

During the rest of the summer unpacking, cataloguing, and placing of books and equipment will be major functions of the custodial and professional staff. Approximately 1,000 books have been ordered for the school library when it opens in September.

The city crew also cut vegetation in the area of the dam and sprayed for poison ivy and poison oak.

Recreational improvements continue to be the major activity of the Public Works Department during the summer. They did extensive work on the ballfields, prepared the horseshoe pits for the competition over the Fourth, and installed park benches so that each playground throughout the city has at least one.

Propose County Ordinance For Regulation of Signs

Thousands of flashing, blinking, rotating and oscillating signs may disappear from the Prince Georges scene if the County Commissioners adopt a new sign ordinance, set for public hearing on Friday, August 2 at 10 a.m., at the County Service Building in Hyattsville.

The ordinance, which updates the 1949 law, is designed to clarify and give "teeth" to already existing but often unenforceable regulations, which business community spokesmen have indicated were "confusing and misleading."

The proposal includes: —regulations governing erection, location, size and quantity and display of outdoor signs and other exterior advertising.

—removal of unsafe signs; setback requirements to avoid power lines; unclear signs and flashing and moving signs within 50 feet of a public right-of-way.

—requirements for issuance of sign permits and their duration.

—limitation on number and size of business and free-standing signs and billboards in specific areas.

—phase-out (within 30-days) of non-conforming signs and uses.

The ordinance is available at the office of the Clerk to the County Commissioners, at the Courthouse in Upper Marlboro, or by calling 627-3000, Ext. 201.

Lushine-Glending

Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Lushine, 115 Periwinkle, announce the engagement of their daughter Angeline Ruth to Michael David Glending, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vane Glending, 101 Rosewood Dr. An August wedding is planned.

Commissioners Consolidate County Fire Services

Consolidation of all fire protection services in Prince Georges County under a single administrative head was voted June 14 by the County Commissioners. Under the new ordinance Fire Administrator William E. Clark will direct and coordinate activities of all appropriate county agencies with the Volunteer Firemen's Association and various local volunteer fire companies.

Commissioner M. Bayne Brooke, who is police and fire liaison commissioner, in recommending the decision, declared: "We have long seen the need for consolidating in this area, for both administrative reasons and, more importantly, to provide better service at a more reasonable cost to the County."

The ordinance also provides that all fire and rescue companies receiving tax monies from the county government will be covered under the ordinance with respect to determination of the areas for which the various companies are responsible.

Kerlan Room at PG Library Features Children's Books

Anyone interested in choosing books for children, whether he is a baby sitter, a parent, or a teacher, can gain ideas through a visit to the Irvin Kerlan Room at Prince Georges County Memorial Library.

Located at the Hyattsville branch of the county library system, the room (named for the late Irvin Kerlan, well-known collector of children's literature and an area resident) contains a representative collection of the best books in children's literature. The unique collection is for reference use only, and the room is comfortably furnished with upholstered reading chairs and low tables, as well as study tables and chairs, according to Miss Louise MacDiarmid, Coordinator of Children's Services.

The basic collection contains outstanding picture, poetry, and fairy-tale books, and good examples of creatively written informational books, such as history and geography. The best standard works, including old favorites like "The Wind in the Willows," are represented in a variety of attractive, current editions. There also is a complete set of the Newberry and Caldecott Award books, which are given annually by the Children's Services Division of the American Library Association to the artist for the most distinguished American picture book for children (Caldecott), and to the author of the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children (Newberry).

In addition the room contains a carefully chosen group of outstanding paperback editions of children's books and juvenile books in foreign languages. The historical development of children's literature in this country and abroad is also on display. For example, it contains several editions of the original "St. Nicholas" children's magazine, which delighted youngsters in the early 1900's. There also is a sizeable collection of books, pamphlets, and selection aids concerned with the study of children's literature and the use of books with children.

Population and Apartments Grow at Highest Rate Here

A status report on population and housing units released by the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission last week indicates that the Berwyn election district (which includes Greenbelt) was among the 5 districts with the greatest increase in multi-family (apartment) units from April 1, 1960, to January 1968 in Prince Georges County. These were the districts that reported at least a 500 percent increase.

The number of multi-family units in Berwyn in April 1960 were 1,035, compared with 7,149 in January 1968. Other districts which showed similar percentage increases were Vansville, Oxon Hill, Bowie, and Lanham.

On the other hand, the increase in 1 and 2-family units for Berwyn was only 31 percent, from 6,483 to 8,496. Thirteen of the 21 districts in Prince Georges County showed greater increases.

At the overall county level, the increase in multi-family units was 227 percent, and the increase in 1 and 2-family units was 44 percent. In Montgomery County, the respective increases were 158 percent and 32 percent.

During the eight year period, the overall population increase in Prince Georges County was 72 percent, compared with 45 percent in Montgomery County. Berwyn was exactly in the middle of the 21 districts in Prince Georges County. Ten districts had greater increases and ten had smaller increases than Berwyn's 79 percent.

Berwyn's population as of April 1, 1960, was 30,855. In January, 1968, the population was estimated at 55,180.

The premature popping off of firecrackers and numerous interruptions to locate parents of lost children didn't phase members of the Greenbelt Concert Band and its director, Howard Carle at all during the Fourth of July festivities at the Greenbelt Lake-Park. Theirs was a rousing performance that rounded out a truly perfect evening. The weather was great, the fireworks zingy, the crowd, happy-congenial and feeling a wonderful sense of pride in their city. New Animal Shelter

If you are among those sweating out summer's muggy nights with nothing more than a cool drink to give you comfort, think about Prince Georges stray dogs. They will be spending the night in odor-controlled, air conditioned shelters. Yes, and if your furnace conks out in mid-winter, you may ponder about the electronic coil-heated floors that keep them warm and cozy. You might, then well conclude that the phrase "a dog's life" no longer means what it used to.

Be it as it may, a new $194,000 Animal Shelter, incorporating all these comforts, was scheduled for formal dedication at 10 a.m., Saturday, June 8. It is located at 8311 D'Arcy Road in Forestville, across the street from the 14-year old structure which it replaces.

Of course, if you are Animal Superintendent Kriel Harris, who supervises the 8000 square foot structure with its 300-pet capacity, you'd welcome the air conditioning feature as much as you'd welcome a breath of fresh air. Superintendent Harris, you see, is allergic to dogs and cats. But in addition, it is also expected to cut down the spread of disease and to add to the comfort of visitors, as well as of the four-footed occupants.

Prospective pet adopters, please note: the shelter is open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays. Rates for adoption, including rabies shots and dog tags, are $6.00 for dogs and 50c for cats. For additional information, the shelter may be called at 336-3221.

Red Cross Needs Drivers

Your neighbor may have no means of transportation for that necessary visit or treatment at a hospital or clinic and counts on Red Cross to provide it, according to Mrs. V. Bertram Shoemaker, Chairman of Transportation Service of Prince Georges Red Cross. In order to collect life-saving blood, transportation is needed to take donors, volunteers, and supplies to bloodmobile sites.

Mrs. Shoemaker said there is desperate need for volunteers to drive the chapter vehicles and provide the much needed transportation. "Every day we are cancelling runs and depriving our neighbors of care because we have no drivers," she said. She urges men and women who are at least 21 and have a valid driver's license to give a few hours of their time to help. Interested persons should call 927-4400 between 9 and 4:30 weekdays.

Fire Prevention Tip for July

by J. Wenrich

It is better, during the hot summer months, when purchasing gasoline for your car, to tell the attendant to not fill up the tank completely. When your tank is full and is parked out in the sun at home or at work, the gas in your tank will expand from the heat of the day and will overflow on the street. Gasoline may come from the vent in the gas cap or overflow on your tank.

A carelessly tossed cigarette or match falling on the gas on the street could cause heavy damage by fire to your car, not to mention the injury to people close by if a fire should suddenly flare up, or damage to other vehicles and property in the area.

The next time you say "Fill it up", think again . . . and allow for this expansion by cutting it back to being a gallon or two short.

4-H Roundup

by Olga Penney

Greenbelt 4-H'ers reaped a good harvest this year at County Demonstration Day! Championships were won by: Laura Simonson, Junior Leader of the Evergreens, for "Strawberry Charlotte Russe", Holly Geller of the Evergreens for "Know Your Knives", Jenny Simonson of the 4-H Spirits for "Collar Construction", Lisa McFarland (4-H Spirits) for Orange Nut Bread, Eileen Karlander (4-H Spirits) for Banana Nut Bread, and Carl Simonson (Seabrook Mustangs) for Contact Printing.

Nancy Burns demonstrated "Basic Dog Obedience, Olga Penney and Mary Jo Evans "Tossed Salad and Dressing", Janis MacFarland "Raggedy Ann Salad," Linda Simonson "Molded Seafood Salad", Kathy Coyne "3-in-one Sandwich", Barbara Balluch "Knittin' Mittens", and Ruth Kaplan "Shaping Yeast Rolls".

Nancy Burns of the Evergreens placed second in the 4-H Dog Show.

Recreation Review

Teen Club Chatter

Many disappointed teens and sponsors watched the "S.S. Ocean City" sink. Out of a possible 39 spaces available, only 16 teens signed up. Another attempt for "more things to do" bites the dust.

Regular Splash Party will be held on Friday, July 19, at 8:30 p.m.

Lake-Park Concert

On July 20, at 7 p.m. the Pickwick Players will present three children's plays - "Goldilocks," "Red Riding Hood," and "Three Little Pigs." In the event of rain, the presentation will be held at SHL Elementary School.

On July 25 at 7:30 p.m. the High Point Concert Band will present a concert at the Lake Park.

Pool Weather Policy

It is our policy to keep the pool open whenever good weather prevails. However, it is not always possible to anticipate changes in the weather (even the weather man can't do that). Therefore, with a sudden clearing of a storm, we may not be able to reopen because of lack of staff. The following is our policy for closing and reopening the pool as a result of inclement weather: 1) Sudden storms - pool staff will remain on hand for a 60-minute waiting period in the event weather will clear. 2) Lightning and thunder, same as above. 3) Cold, damp, windy, temperature below 68 degrees. 4) Prolonged rain.

Judo Classes

The next adult and children's judo classes will begin on Tuesday, July 23, at 5:30 p.m. at Center School. All interested persons should plan to attend this first meeting. Classes are held on every Tuesday and Thursday evening for 10 weeks. For information concerning the tuition, call the Recreation department 474-6878.

P.G. READING PROGRAM FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

Prince George's County Memorial Library's Children's Services Department is about to launch its annual summer reading program for the eighth consecutive year.

Last year approximately 2,000 children enrolled in the program, whose objective is to broaden and develop children's reading interests through the use of a large variety of reading materials.

The program aims to encourage children to read widely in many different fields and to develop their individual tastes.

The program runs from June 15 to August 31. Children in grades 1 through 7 are eligible to join.

The theme of this year's program is SAIL AROUND THE WORLD WITH BOOKS.

Foreign Student Service Council Seeks Area Hosts

The number of international students in the Greater Washington area has been increasing yearly. With this growth there has been an increasing need for a Host Family Program to provide personal assistance to students arriving in the area for the first time.

With the support of the Foreign Student Advisors at the local institutions of learning, the Foreign Student Service Council has undertaken to coordinate the requests and responses so as to care for all entering foreign students.

This year The University of Maryland expects approximately 75-100 newly arrived students from overseas. Many local residents have relatives and friends at the University and might find welcoming one of these newcomers a satisfying experience.

Host Families will be matched with students according to family preference and similarity of interest. The family will meet the student on arrival, provide a few days' home stay and help him settle at the university. No financial or academic responsibility is assumed by the family.

Veteran volunteer families agree that the experience is enjoyable and the best method of increasing international understanding.

FSSC is a private, non-profit educational and community service organization, which for the last 12 years has served the needs of foreign students in the National Capitol area.

To volunteer, or for further information, call 262-2548 or write FSSC 1860-19th St., Washington, D.C. 20009. An immediate response would be most helpful for welcoming students for the Fall semester.

Post Office Requests Withdrawal of Savings

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson announced that the Post Office Department will continue to service postal savings accounts beyond June 30, the date originally set for transfer of all accounts to the Treasury Department. Postmasters will retain uncashed postal savings accounts for a limited period at their offices, and applications for the savings may be made directly to them.

The postal savings system was abolished April 27, 1966, and, since then no accounts have earned interest. There are still an estimated 550,000 accounts yet uncashed, involving a total of about $30,000,000.

Holders of accounts may go personally to the post offices where the records of the savings are maintained, taking their postal savings certificates with them, or they may arrange for withdrawals by writing to the postmasters at those offices.

After the application forms are completed and certified through postal data centers, they will be transmitted to the Treasury, which will make the final payment by checks mailed to the depositor.

Youth Job Center Opens

Jobs — of all kinds, part-time, full-time, day and evening, will go to youths of Prince Georges County, with the opening of the county's first Youth Employment Center at 7123 George Palmer Highway, in Seat Pleasant.

Under joint sponsorship of the county's Community Development Department, the business community and the State Department of Employment, and funded by the county, the center will serve as a "clearing house" matching youngsters, ages 16-21 with suitable summer employment. Types of jobs offered include: clerical aides, messengers, laborers, office aides, file clerks, and clerk typists.

The center will be open weekdays, 9 a.m. - 8 p.m. and Saturdays, 9 a.m. - 1 p.m. Both employers offering jobs and youth seeking jobs are encouraged to call the center for further information, 925-8300.

Now — U. S. Savings Bonds Pay More Interest

4.15% when held to maturity

Higher interest on the Bonds you already own, too!

U.S. Savings Bonds are a better way to save than ever

Because now all Series E and Series H Bonds bought after December 1, 1965, will earn the new, higher interest rate of 4.15% when held to maturity. That's only 7 years for Series E — 9 months quicker than before. All H Bond interest checks will be larger beginning in June 1966.

And your outstanding bonds will earn more, too, from now on. So, you don't have to cash in your present Bonds to get the attractive new rate. Ask about buying Bonds where you work or bank. For America's future. And yours.

"Today, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines."

"Today, above all, is a time for all Americans to rededicate themselves to the spirit that animated the Minutemen of Concord—who serve as a symbol of the Savings Bond program. For today, as at the founding of our nation, it is freedom which is again at stake. Not all of us are called upon to fight in the jungles of Vietnam, but while our men are there, in the front lines of a distant land, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines. We must all do our share—in every way we can—to support our men in Vietnam. One sure way is open to all Americans through the Savings Bond program."

Frost never starts.

Ice never stops.

Ice can be nice . . . when it's in a snowball, or when it's cooling a shrimp salad.

But ice can also be not-so-nice . . . as in frost that builds and builds in your refrigerator 'til it practically crowds out the food.

Today, you can buy a refrigerator-freezer that knows which ice to make, and which to forget.

It's the new frost-free, with automatic ice-cube maker. Frost never starts. Cubes never stop.

There are other reasons for stepping up to a new refrigerator-freezer. Far more food space, for one thing, in the same floor space you're probably now using. Efficient freezer positioning —top, bottom, side-by-side. Changeable door fronts. Interesting new colors, ranging from mild to wild.

Break the ice, with a visit to The Electric Institute Showroom, first floor, PEPCO Building, 10th & E Streets, N.W. Then, when you're familiar with all the makes, models and features, you'll be in a better position to make the buy . . . at your favorite appliance dealer or department store.
