Eisenhower Mourned, City Flags Lowered

Greenbelt, like the rest of the nation, observed a period of mourning for the late President Dwight Eisenhower. City flags will continue to fly at halfmast during the national period of mourning. They had been lowered a day earlier, however, as a sign of mourning for a former city employee, George Clinedinst, who used to drive the municipal bus.

On Monday, March 31, city offices were closed, with the exception of the Police Dept. and the Recreation Dept. The Youth Center operated with a typical program for a day with a school holiday. The Public Works Dept. also continued with scheduled trash collections. One crew was assigned to grading work at the ballfield, and the Parks crew was also on duty.

Two meetings which city employees were scheduled to attend were cancelled as a result of the Eisenhower funeral. The first was an informal conference with the chairman of the County Commissioners, Francis Aluisi, concerning road access to Springhill Lake. The other was the annual Congressional City Conference, sponsored by the National League of Cities. This marked the second year in a row that this conference has been cancelled—last year for the death of Martin Luther King.

"APRIL IN PARIS" DANCE

An "April in Paris" dance, sponsored by the Boxwood Civic Association, will be held on April 19 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the American Legion Hall. A semi-formal, the dance will feature the music of the Blues Master Combo and is open to the general public. There will be door prizes and a big surprise drawing.

For ticket information and reservations call 345-1635 or 345-3125.

CLOTHING NEEDED

Clothing for all ages is desperately needed for 24 Greenbelt families made homeless by fire this morning.

Articles may be brought to the fire house this evening, and to the Red Cross, 4112 Hamilton Place, Hyattsville, after tonight.

Lodgings are also needed for several days.

HELP-CAT OWNERS

Tamara Musick, aged 4, of 143 Westway was bitten in the head on Monday, March 31, by a white cat, apparently a stray. The cat has been cared for by a neighbor of the Musicks and is under observation. However, because of the location of the injury the child is already receiving rabies shots. Location of the original owner of this animal and information as to whether it has received the necessary rabies shots could eliminate the need for continuation of the series of painful shots for Tamara. The Musicks will appreciate hearing from anyone who can identify the cat or give any helpful information. Please call 474-4469.

City Supports State Legislative Bills

Greenbelt officials have expressed pleasure over passage of two bills by the Maryland General Assembly in which the city has had a particular interest. One of these authorizes the state to provide grants to municipalities toward the purchase of open space. Greenbelt hopes to be eligible for some portion of such funds.

The other bill requires a two-thirds vote by the District Council to override a municipality's objections to a zoning change within its jurisdiction. Previously a mere majority vote of the District Council was adequate. Similar bills endorsed by Greenbelt, had been introduced in previous years but had failed passage.

Both new bills await the signature of Governor Marvin Mandel.

City Notes

Hundreds of dead fish floating on the surface of the lake last week made an alarming sight. But distressing as it looked, this was a necessary stage in a conservation program for the lake park conducted by the Inland Game and Fish Commission. The fish were killed by a selective poison called rotenone, which reacts through the gills. The poison is not harmful either to humans or to birds which might eat the fish. Last week sea-gulls, attracted by the food supply, came in flocks to Greenbelt Lake.

Because in cold weather rotenone may have a lasting effect for as long as a week, the lake was not immediately restocked. At the present time the fishing there could hardly be worse—although catfish lovers may find their catches unaffected. Fresh water is now slowly refilling the lake, and after the restocking of the lake with new, desirable fish, it should offer more support than before for local fishermen.

Zoning Hearing For Local Gas Station

A zoning application for a gasoline station on the south side of Glenn Dale Rd. on the old Schrom property will be heard on Wednesday afternoon, April 16, before the county commissioners in Upper Marlboro. The property is presently zoned C-2 (General Commercial). The exact location is 540 feet east of the Baltimore access ramp to the Baltimore-Washington Parkway near where the obelisk (needle) is. The application has been referred to the city's Advisory Planning Board and will be taken up by city council at its next meeting on Monday, April 7.

By-law Changes on GHI Agenda For Annual Election Meeting

by Al Skolnik

At its Thursday, March 27 meeting, the Greenbelt Homes, Inc., board of directors approved a tentative agenda for the annual membership meeting on May 14 and 15. A major feature of the annual meeting will be proposed by-law changes. Other topics that might require membership action deal with the Lutheran Church site and the financing of the capital improvements program; both items took up a great deal of Thursday's meeting.

The evening session of the annual membership meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 14, in the Greenbelt Theater, starting at 8 p.m. Balloting for the five seats on the 9-man GHI board and the three spots on the audit committee will begin that night and continue the next day from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Twin Pines.

The board members whose 2-year terms expire this year are President Charles Schwan, treasurer John O'Reilly, James W. Smith (Greenhill Rd.), Norman Weyel, and Josephine Seay. Audit committee members are elected for 1-year terms; the present members are chairman Thomas White, Janet James, and John Leslie.

At the recommendation of the Nominations and Elections Committee, the board approved the awarding of four door prizes of $25 each (to be applied against monthly charges) at the evening meeting. Members must be present to be eligible. GHI directors and top management will not be eligible.

George Adams, chairman of the Nominations and Elections Committee, notified the board of new election procedures for this year. One would prohibit election campaigning within 50 feet of the polls. Another would prescribe a special color for proxy voting cards so that a check could readily be made on people voting two cards improperly.

A strong recommendation of the Committee was that each candidate run as an individual rather than as a member of a slate. Adams said that individuals were at a disadvantage when slates are organized, especially by incumbents. He said that he and the committee were having a particularly hard time in interesting candidates to run this year. The deadline for filing Candidates' Consent Forms is Sunday, May 4.

Mgr. Giese Testifies On Annexation Bill

Appearing at a meeting of the Judiciary Committee of the Maryland House of Delegates on Monday, March 3, City Manager James K. Giese testified on behalf of the city of Greenbelt against House Bill 175. This bill, introduced by Delegate Arthur Dorman of Beltsville, would prohibit annexation by municipalities of land already under the control of another jurisdiction. Specifically, the bill was drawn to prohibit annexation of a portion of the Agricultural Research Station by the city of College Park, as had been proposed a year ago. (College Park failed in that annexation attempt because of a procedural error.) The bill would also prohibit the annexation of any portion of a state road.

Greenbelt's opposition to Dorman's bill stems both from a question of principle and from a practical concern with the future disposition of land on its own border. As written Bill 175 would prohibit the annexation of government land under any circumstances whatsoever. Under some circumstances, a prohibition against annexation of a state road could be a critical matter, Giese argued.

Practically speaking, Greenbelt may be interested in annexing parts of both the Goddard Space Agency and the Agricultural Research Center. "Prestige" would be the reason for Greenbelt's interest in the Space Agency property, which already uses a Greenbelt postal address. But the city's interest in the agricultural property stems from its long-standing concern with maintaining a green belt around its outer boundary. The Research Center, which has in the past sold for private use some portions of its land holdings, may conceivably declare surplus in the not too distant future a piece of undeveloped land along the Baltimore-Washington Parkway and adjacent to parcel 1, north of the NASA interchange. If this land were already part of the municipality by annexation, it would first be offered to the city for purchase before being put on the open market. Some control over the city's northern boundaries would be crucial to the future development of the area, Giese argued.

(Editor's Note: The Maryland State Legislature adjourned without taking any action on House Bill 175).

David Lange announced that he was going to be a candidate for the GHI board and because of this was resigning as acting chairman of the Select Committee. In response to board sentiment that it did not see any conflict between candidacy for office and committee participation, Lange said that he would stay on as a member of the Select Committee but preferably not as chairman because he wanted to make sure that the Committee did not get involved in any politics.

Lutheran Church Site

Director Smith brought the board up to date on discussions of the ad hoc committee on the disposition of the Lutheran Church site. The crux of the problem, Smith said, is what to do with the church building. One solution deemed acceptable by the ad hoc committee would be for GHI to purchase the 3-acre site and lease the building to the city for use as a recreation center, Golden Age Club, etc. Smith indicated that financial terms might be negotiated on the basis of one-third down with a 10-year note.

The board decided to refer the matter to the Land Use Committee for their evaluation of the proposal. A question was raised by director Nat Shinderman whether acquisition of such a site would set an undesirable precedent in that GHI would be under pressure to purchase other church sites in similar straits, such as the Jewish Community Center site on Westway.

Smith did not think so, since, he

Answer to Mrs. Ford

To the Editor:

Two points in Mrs. Ford's letter of March 27 regarding GHI deserve comment. First is the matter of her friends who were "requested by the Board to attend a 'forum' at the GHI building. We were shocked when the 'public meeting place for open discussion' . . . was a 'closed' executive session."

I cannot believe that she or her friends could have been shocked to be at an executive session. As she well knows, the meeting was to discuss problems within a court. Her friends were advised as to the reason for the meeting and of the general nature of the problem. It is simply not true that they expected to attend a public discussion of corporation business.

In GHI we live close to our neighbors. There may be friction between families, sometimes involving juveniles. Whenever any member complains about another, that complaint must be investigated. For many years these matters have been handled in executive session. Correspondence in connection with them follows routine forms worked out with our lawyer. At a formal hearing should a case go this far, the GHI lawyer is present, and individuals concerned are told they may bring counsel. However, these meetings are not open to the general membership, to any news reporters, or to any scandalmongers. We are concerned that reputations not suffer, since many accusations may be false or mistaken.

Second, much is being made of the interpretation of a burst of applause at the special membership meeting of December 18 when Mr. Schwan announced that difficulties in getting a reasonable interest rate might postpone building of the new town-houses. The Greenbelt Record apparently concluded that this should have been regarded by the Board as a mandate not to build. Not only was there no accurate way of knowing whether a majority of those present clapped, but also a burst of applause is not a vote, and the Board could not so interpret it. (In fact, even had there been a motion, it would have been out of order inasmuch as all business for special meetings must be announced to members before such meetings.)

We may all interpret applause as we see fit, but it never entered my mind that I as a Board member should feel that I had received a general membership directive for abandonment of the town-

"Our Thing"

The Worship Commission at Mowatt Memorial United Methodist, 40 Ridge Rd. will sponsor "Our Thing", April 19 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. at the Church. They plan to have a white elephant, baked goods, needlecraft, handiwork, "what have you" sale. The sale is in benefit of the Choir, to provide new robes. Light lunch available.

house project. Any directive was still that of August 4, 1965, when a clear majority at a special meeting voted to build larger homes including townhouses.

Baptist Easter Service

Greenbelt Baptist Church will have two Worship Services on Easter Sunday at 8:30 and 11 a.m. Pastor S. Jasper Morris will bring a message on "Standing by the Open Tomb" at both Morning Worship Services. The Lords Supper will be observed at both services. At 8:30 the Youth Choir will sing the anthem, "Christ Is Risen Today" by Mozart. Linda and Dan Swinson will sing "He Shall Feed His Flock" from Handel's Messiah. At the 11 o'clock service the Junior and Chancel Choirs, under the direction of Major James Doolittle, will sing "The Lord Is King" and "Our Lord Christ Hath Risen." At the 7 p.m. Worship Service the Youth Choir will sing "MY REDEEMER LIVETH," an Easter Cantata by Handel and Mozart.

Friends in the Greenbelt area are cordially invited to share in these special Easter Day Services.

Phyllis A. Seips

Phyllis A. Seips of 17-H Parkway Rd. died Saturday March 29, after an illness of several months. Miss Seips had lived in Greenbelt a number of years and was recently retired from the U.S. Government. Burial was in Chicago, Illinois, her former home.

Cantata-Easter Sunday

The public is cordially invited to join members and friends of Greenbelt Baptist Congregation in a special evening of Easter music when the Youth Choir, under the direction of Mrs. S. Jasper Morris, Jr., will present "My Redeemer Liveth," an Easter Cantata for mixed voices with music by George F. Handel and Wolfgang A. Mozart, at the 7 p.m. Easter Sunday Worship Hour. Soloists are Arlene Costlow, Karon Davis, Harriett Blankenship, Sherry Pate, sopranos; Ella Nichols, Linda Swinson and Robin Webster, altos; Dan Swinson, tenor; and Dean Costlow, bass.

"Say Nothing to No One"

"Say Nothing to No One"—this is the title of the sermon for the April 6 Easter festival services to be delivered at 8:30, 10:30, and 11:30 a.m., at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, 22 Ridge Rd. The Reverend Edward H. Birner, congregation pastor, will deliver the message.

Choral music for the three services will be furnished by the Senior and Junior Choirs and the Boys' Chorus, directed by Miss Ann Falkenheim.

George Clinedinst

George M. Clinedinst, 54-C Ridge, died on March 26 at the age of 56 after a long illness. A railroad worker, he was a brakeman for the Washington Terminal Company in the Union Station, and a member of the United Transportation Union, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Associated with the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad since Mary 1957, he was a past captain and chief of the Rescue Squad and one of the department's leading first aid instructors. At the time of his death, he was on the Board of Trustees of the department. Mr. Clinedinst was also a member of the Congress Lodge No. 37 of the Masons, and the Birmingham Chapter No. 26, Order of the Eastern Star.

He is survived by his wife, Charlotte, daughters Mrs. Harriet MacDonald and Mrs. Barbara Tower, son, George M. Clinedinst, Jr., and five grandchildren.

Bill Shields Retirement Party A Huge Success

The Golden Age Club of Greenbelt was host to an open house party for Bill Shields, mail carrier for 27 years in Greenbelt, on March 19 at the Youth Center.

The members of the Golden Age Club brought covered dishes for the luncheon. Postmaster Emery Harmon arranged for the party for Bill with the help of May Griffin, president of the Golden Age Club. Entertainment was furnished by Ethel McLean and Frank Mitchell, who plays the musical saw.

It was a grand success and Bill is wished a happy retirement by the Greenbelters for the many years he served so faithfully.

Elena's Hairstylists

Ladies of Beltsville and Greenbelt:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many women of the community who have made us feel so welcome and who have made our first two months so successful.

Some of you have shown obvious surprise at the changes in our salon, others just quiet appreciation. In either case we have noticed and are pleased. More changes are coming.

Our staff is larger now too. Frances and I have been joined by Amy, an experienced hairdresser new to this area. We hope you will show her the same welcome you have given us.

Those of you who have not yet visited us, prepare yourself for a delightful surprise on your first visit. Just bring in this letter or mention it and an unexpected treat is yours.

Sincerely,
Elena

SENIOR CITIZENS SOCIAL

Seventy-five of Greenbelt's senior citizens turned out for the first meeting of the Monday social activities program. The Saint Patrick's Day program at the Youth Center featured a card party, square dancing, a sing-a-long, live entertainment, and eats. The famous "Krazy Kats" and the "Harmoniacats" delighted the audience with their music and comedy. This weekly program is free of charge and meets Mondays from 11 a.m. - 3 p.m. All of Greenbelt's young at heart citizens are invited to attend these weekly gatherings.

BUS TRIP FOR SENATOR'S OPENER

Greenbelt sports club reports that the bus trip for baseball fans to D.C. stadium for the Senator's opener is all set for Monday April 7 at 12:15 p.m. from behind the Post Office.

For further details call Emory A. Harman at 474-5156.

Continued from page 1 said, any action taken by GHI would be in the self-interest of the corporation and its members (to assure desirable land use), and not for the benefit of any church. Nevertheless, the board asked the Land Use Committee to also evaluate the JCC site.

Mortgage Refinancing The board decided to pursue further with GNMA—the corporation's mortgage holder—the possibility of refinancing GHI's mortgage as a means of financing the capital improvements program. By spreading the remaining mortgage payments over, say, another 15 years, even at a higher interest rate of, say, 6 percent, the corporation, in effect, would be borrowing money under much more favorable terms than a bank loan at 7½ percent.

Group Hospitalization

The board approved a switch in carriers for GHI employees' health insurance. The present carrier, Paul Revere Life Insurance Co., hiked its monthly rate last October from $29 to $39. GHI has been absorbing the entire increase (normally employees pay 35 percent of the cost), while investigating other carriers.

For hospitalization and regular medical, the new carrier will be the community-rated Blue Cross preferred, the premium for which will be $29.64. For the major medical part, the new carrier will be Monumental Life Insurance Co. with a monthly premium of $3.75. The major medical policy will have a $15,000 lifetime maximum, with an annual deductible of $100 and an 80 percent coinsurance feature. There are no restrictions on pre-existing conditions under either the hospital or major medical insurance plans.

Other Matters

The board approved a general policy that the larger homes being built opposite the North End School will not be available to single-member families unless there are no other applicants. The vote was 5 to 2, with board members Katherine Keene and Douglas

Hawes in the minority.

The board favored the "get-tough" policy with respect to violators of parking regulations in the 2 court of Gardenway. The grassy plot in the court has been used for parking and the corporation will start towing away cars found there.

Management was asked to prepare recommendations with respect to complaints of the 4 and 6 courts Ridge that Lakeside children were cutting across GHI property on their way to school, instead of using designated footpaths.

Gordon Allen, Chairman of the Landscape Committee, reported that his committee was finishing work on a survey of the corporation's common areas. The committee, he said, was impressed by the following conditions: (1) the extreme amount of litter left on common property; (2) the need for tree maintenance and for removal of heavy undergrowth; and (3) the desirability of designating common areas for particular use — recreation, park, etc.
