Council Acts On Vandalism But Still Ponders Golden Triangle

by Al Skolnik

City council took some first steps toward combating vandalism at its Monday, October 7 meeting by directing the installation of improved lighting and the clearing of underbrush in the wooded area adjacent to St. Hugh's school. Msgr. O'Donnell of St. Hugh's had last month reported to council that windows at the church costing $2,500 had been broken.

Following Msgr. O'Donnell's report, meetings were held among city staff members to explore various ways of meeting the problem. The police Dept. was directed to apprehend the culprits and refer them to Greenbelt CARES. In addition, it was suggested there be a clearing of underbrush adjacent to the city roadway and parking area adjacent to St. Hugh's for a distance back from the parking lot approximately equal to the area cleared behind the Jaycee club house building.

At Monday's meeting, Msgr. O'Donnell expressed some concern that communication between the city and the citizens on this topic was inadequate. Council members assured him that they had every intent of pursuing the matter vigorously and that the next series of meetings on this topic will start to bring in the public.

Golden Triangle

The future status of the Golden Triangle once again caused a lot of head scratching at council. The city's Advisory Planning Board had prepared a report listing the advantages and disadvantages of several suggested types of development for the 57-acre tract located on Greenbelt Road between Kenilworth Avenue and the Capital Beltway.

Mayor Richard Pilski felt that the APB report was not decisive enough in its conclusions. He was joined by councilman Gil Weidenfeld who wanted to be in a position to offer specific suggestions on the use of the Golden Triangle when approached by the developer. Councilmen Tom White and Richard Castaldi, however, felt that it would be more fruitful if the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission would attach conditions to any development that would give the city input and a means of exercising its wishes. The APB was directed to continue its study.

Greenbriar

Upset by county action in permitting future Greenbriar tenants to store some of their possessions in the apartments they will eventually occupy even though no use or occupancy permit had been granted, White moved that the city urge the county Department of Licenses and Inspections to refrain from such practices in the future. The motion failed by a 3 to 2 vote, with Castaldi joining White.

White also read a letter into the record from a disgruntled Greenbriar purchaser who said that he had been promised a number of occupancy dates since July 1, none of which had materialized. White thought the developers' sales force should be chastised by the county for making such rash promises.

Pilski took exception to White's position, saying that White made it sound like Greenbriar was the only real estate project in history to make unfulfilled promises on occupancy dates. Besides, Pilski, said, this man is asking for council help to get into his condominium apartment as soon as possible and he wanted to know what White was doing to speed up the occupancy date for this man. White replied that in his opinion it was council's duty to make sure that the rights of future occupants were being protected.

Day Care Facility

In a related matter dealing with Greenbriar, the council, with White dissenting, approved a special exception and parking modification for the proposed day care facility in the Greenbriar Community Building. Two conditions suggested by the city's Advisory Planning Board were forwarded to the park and planning commission — (1) all loading and unloading of children to take place in the parking lot adjacent to the building; and (2) no green space be converted for parking to support the school. This school would be operated by the Campus Center for Early Learning which is associated with Prince Georges Community College.

White was concerned that the rights of the future condominium owners through their association, would be jeopardized by the fact that the exception was being granted to Greenbriar Associates rather than to the condominium association. But Kay said that the latter is not operative yet and that in order for the residents to have the day care facility available as promised when they move in, the application had to be filed by the developer.

Uniform Election Date

The council went on record in opposition to a proposal by the Maryland Commission on State and Local Government Functions (Sherbow Commission) that there be a uniform election date for all municipalities. The Sherbow Commission had suggested an April election date, which has also been opposed by the Maryland Municipal League.

The city felt that, in addition to stripping a city of its home rule right to select its own election day in accordance with its own needs, an April date would be undesirable since it puts the election in the middle of the budget process.

City manager James Giese said that the two justifications that have often been made for a uniform election date are that it would give better newspaper publicity and it would simplify record-keeping on the part of persons at the State level. With respect to the first, Giese said that in Greenbelt "we get ample local publicity," with respect to the second, he did not think that simplification of records is a significant need to justify the inconvenience and restrictions placed on municipalities.

Springhill Lake Offer

The city has received an offer from the Springhill Lake Apartments to pay one-half the cost of two additional lighted tennis courts at the Springhill Lake golf course. The city staff has completed a plan for the development of the golf course property, maintaining seven holes and including two new tennis courts. The council referred the offer to the city's Park and Recreation Advisory Committee.

Tot Lots

Council received a lengthy report (#16-74) prepared by Mary Clarke of PRAB on suggested improvements in the condition of the city's tot lots. The report stressed the need for trash containers and See CITY COUNCIL, p. 7, col. 1

Temperature Controls Are Installed in Brick Homes

Greenbelt Homes, Inc. has installed variable temperature controls on the heating plants of all of the masonry homes and the 12 Court of Ridge Road. In an effort to conserve fuel, these controls will regulate heat in a manner somewhat different than in the past. This new system should result in fuel savings during this and subsequent heating seasons.

These new controls are variable temperature units which react to restore heat losses in accordance with a present comfort index or room temperature. As the outdoor temperature drops, these controls react automatically to add the additional heat required to maintain the inside room temperature at a constant pre-determined level. Unlike the old system, it should be noted that under the new arrangement radiators will only be as warm as needed to keep the temperature at the required level. During periods of changing weather conditions the temperature of the water inside the system will vary from cool to hot since the overriding consideration is the room temperature and not the radiator temperature.

The system is designed so that all radiators in the unit should be utilized during the heating season and as with any new system many problems were evident at the onset. Since the systems were disassembled for modification one of the prime problems was air pockets in the radiators and supply lines, and it became necessary for members to bleed trapped air out of the radiators more often than they have in the past. Bleeder valve keys are available at the maintenance office. Caution must be taken to open the bleeder valve no more than one-half turn and the valve should remain open until water begins to appear.

Once the new system is working properly it should prove to be a considerable improvement over its predecessor and should afford considerable savings in fuel oil.

Sewage Plant Passes Tests But Now Faces EPA Hearing

by Elaine Skolnik

by Al Skolnik

The long-awaited results of the tests of the Greenbriar sewage treatment facility show that the plant has met the discharge standards set down by the State of Maryland and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), according to a Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission (WSSC) engineering staff report of September 26.

The report said in summary that "under the conditions existing at the time of the test program, the plant demonstrated that it is capable of producing an effluent equal to or exceeding in quality any plant that we presently operate."

However, WSSC cautioned that it still adheres to its previously stated position that it is not aware of any plant operating which produces an effluent at all times that is within the limitations established by State and Federal permits for the Greenbriar plant.

WSSC further pointed out that the test program did not duplicate the actual operating conditions that will be experienced when the plant is placed in operation. On the other hand, it observed that Greenbriar is unique, since it has been the practice with other plants to place them in service without any test program.

To assure an adequate basis for reliably assessing the test program results, effluent analyses were made by five different laboratories — WSSC, Maryland Resources Administration, Blue Plains, Biospherics and WARF Institute, and England laboratory. All but Biospherics were engaged by WSSC. Greenbriar Associates retained Biospherics.

A ten-day operating test (Sept. 9-19 inclusive) was conducted to determine the plant's capability to meet the conditions of the EPA and State of Maryland discharge permits. The test was conducted under the direction of JTC Environmental Consultants, Inc. who were retained by Greenbriar Associates. WSSC personnel operated the plant. Approximately 25,000 gallons per day of raw sewage was trucked in from the Western Branch treatment plant, processed through the Greenbriar plant, and discharged into the emergency interconnecting sewer line which returns to Western Branch.

The number of analyses made of the final effluent during the test program was approximately twice the number anticipated for routine operation of this plant, and routine operation will be subjected to 2-3 times the testing for other plants.

According to Greenbriar consultant John T. Cookson of JTC Consultants, the results collected by each laboratory indicate very close agreement on all parameters measured. "In no case," he said, "did any laboratory measure an effluent sample which was in vio-

On September 19, the Prince Georges Environment Coalition formally requested EPA for an adjudicatory hearing on the granting of a discharge permit for the Greenbriar treatment plant facility. It listed 19 issues that EPA should consider before the permit is finally approved.

The Coalition stated that the effluent from the plant would endanger the health and welfare of people residing in and downstream from the Greenbelt community and the natural environment of public parks and other lands. It saw these dangers multiplying once the permit is final because such final determination "is certain to influence subsequent decisions with respect to pending applications for even larger interim treatment plants in the metropolitan Washington area."

The Coalition therefore requested denial of the permit, because

(1) the developer will soon be able to discharge into the public treatment system (about July 1975) and (2) such action would discourage the proliferation of poorly supervised private sewage systems as a means of circumventing the present sewer moratorium.

As an alternative to the denial, the Coalition suggested amendment of the permit to require nitrogen removal, virus testing procedures, virus parameters, and higher levels of phosphorus and chlorine removals, lower effluent pH, and complete pre-operation testing.

Greenbriar Appeal

The request of Greenbriar Associates for an adjudicatory hearing has also been formally filed. The developers took exception to the requirement that a Class "A" superintendent be present on the treatment site at all times, declaring that EPA did not have the authority to mandate the manner of operations of a public sewer agency. Greenbriar proposed instead that (1) an operator shall be on site at all times and (2) a qualified supervisor who is certified by the State of Maryland as at least a Class "C" superintendent shall be in charge of the plant.

WSSC also requested that EPA's requirement be changed, except that it recommended that the plant's around-the-clock operators shall be under the general overall supervision of one of the Commission's two "Class A" superintendents. According to WSSC, a superintendent's category is determined by the capacity of the plant and "Class A" personnel are stationed at regional plants where over a million gallons of sewage are treated daily.

The developers asked that the requirement basing effluent limitations on maximum daily results of samples taken be replaced by a 7-day average standard. They

Masonry Heating Explained

Early last week the following letter was delivered to the GHI members living in the masonry homes. Unfortunately, not all of the members received it, therefore, it is being reprinted here. Additional information relating to the new variable temperature control heating system for GHI masonry homes is printed elsewhere in this issue of the News Review.

Dear Member:

With the installation of the variable temperature controls in the masonry home heating plants, the regulating of heat within the unit will be considerably different than it was in the past.

With our old heating system the water circulating through the radiators was always at a constant temperature level and members regulated the amount of heat within the unit by opening and closing the radiator valves. With the change-over to variable temperature controls, on moderately cool days the water will not be as hot but as the outside temperature drops the water temperature inside the radiators will rise correspondingly. So you can see that it will be necessary for you to keep your radiators on at all times in order to be comfortable.

Of course, some adjustments will be necessary to the radiators of members living near or over the plants because the water will naturally be hotter closer to the plant since it does not have as far to circulate as it does to reach those homes on the end of the row.

If you have any questions, or if any problems develop after the heat is turned on for this heating season, please contact Mr. Dunlap, Director of Maintenance on 474-6021.

A Greenbelt Candidate

To the Editor:

(This is with respect to) the six-way race for the three seats in the House of Delegates in the 24th Legislative district comprising Bowie, Greenbelt, Seabrook, and sections of Lanham Kettering, Glenn Dale, Mitchellville and Upper Marlboro.

While it appears quite certain already that the rest of the new district will certainly object to being represented in Annapolis by three Delegates from the City of Bowie (or four, counting State Senator Conroy) and all from the same party, Mrs. Betty Maffay, mother of five children, a four-year member of the Greenbelt City Council and active for fifteen years in school, youth, civic and county affairs, did not enter the race for geographical representation alone. She was urged to run by her many friends inside and outside Greenbelt because of her knowledge of county and state government issues and her wide acquaintance with county and state officials.

She believes in and has worked hard for two-party government and that is why she filed.

Choral Society Has Moved

The Greenbelt Choral Society has moved its place of rehearsal from Greenbelt Center School to St. Hugh's Catholic Church. The new time is 8:15. All who are interested in singing in the Christmas Concert are urged to join.

Cable Television Survey

A survey of the community attitude toward cable television and its programming possibilities will be conducted on election day, as announced at Monday's council meeting by Carol Ann Breyer, chairman of the city's CATV Advisory Committee. A series of background articles has been prepared by the committee for the News Review prior to the survey.

A questionnaire will be distributed at the polling places on Tuesday, November 5 for completion by voters. This method is used by the city for bi-annual surveys. Greenbelt CARES Youth Service Bureau will distribute the questionnaires. In the event of inclement weather alternate arrangements will be made for conducting the survey.

Mrs. Breyer told the council that the committee has been studying such questions as what CATV has to offer Greenbelt, economic considerations in franchising CATV, metropolitan perspective for CATV, and impact on Greenbelt of county and State CATV activity.

The committee is scheduled to make a final report early in 1975.

County Rent Rebate For Aged, Disabled

Prince Georges elderly and disabled subsisting on limited incomes will have one smaller financial woe: rent payments.

County Council on Sept. 3 enacted a rent rebate system that will return to those 65 or older and those totally disabled from work 15 percent of their annual rent bills to a maximum of $200 yearly.

Retroactive to July 1, the proposal by Council members Francis W. White, Gladys Noon Spellman, Winfield M. Kelly, Francis B. Francois, Ronald R. Reeder and Lucille B. Potts will make the holiday season a little brighter by assuring citizens of the first rent rebate check at Christmas. The bill ends July 1, 1975, the date a state "circuit breaker" bill is expected to be funded to return tax dollars to those on low and limited incomes.

According to Council's rent proposal, oldsters and the disabled can earn up to $7500 annually plus Social Security payments to be eligible for the grant. A year's residency requirement was added to the bill's provisions after Council members determined few county residents would be affected.

County officials estimated the program will cost approximately $800,000, but have assured county citizens that a tax increase won't be necessary to fund the cost.

Vice-Chairman White originally proposed the rent rebate program last year, but was forced to wait the additional legislative year for state enactment of enabling legislation. The proposal was reintroduced only a month after state enabling legislation was passed.

The bill was proposed in an effort to bring the same monetary relief to elderly renters that Council granted elderly homeowners two years ago when it enacted a property tax credit bill effectively freezing tax payments at the level paid during the first year's eligibility.

Councilman Samuel Bogley cast the only dissenting vote as Carriety, Burcham, Francois, Hart, Kelly, Potts, Reeder, Spellman and White voted for the program. An alternate method to fund rebates by granting in cash the difference between household income and $14,000 was tabled 6-0 for this legislative year.

In other action, council approved legislation extending the property tax credits to all those certified disabled as well as those on a government or public agency disability pension. The property tax credit program covers those 65 or older on limited incomes as well. Authored by Council members Spellman, White, Kelly, Burcham, Reeder and Francois, the bill was enacted 9-1 with Councilman Bogley casting the only negative vote.

WHEREAS, the City Council believes that our Greenbelt Community has just reason to be proud of our local Credit Union, which has worked for the benefit of our Community for the past thirty-seven years and which is unquestionably a factor in the city's progress; and

WHEREAS, the City Council considers it fitting and proper that public cognizance be taken of this fine group during the 37th Anniversary Year of the Greenbelt Federal Credit Union;

NOW THEREFORE, I, Richard R. Pilski, Mayor of the City of Greenbelt Maryland, by authority vested in me by the citizens and Council of Greenbelt, designate and proclaim the week of October 13-19, 1974 as removal of trash regularly, benches for mothers and baby sitters, and installation of new types of playground equipment.

In addition, the report visualized legislation that might alleviate the littering problem. For example, in connection with the broken glass problem, the report suggested consideration of a ban on the selling of non-returnable bottles. With respect to dog feces, the report thought that perhaps a "pooper-scooper" law is needed.

Council thought that the legislative suggestions would need more thinking, but directed the city manager to improve the city's clean-up program. It also asked Giese to report back to council what it would cost to implement the proposals contained in the report.

New Ordinances

A series of ordinances were introduced for first reading. One provides for the appropriation of $320,000 for the cost of constructing the Springhill Lake Recreation Center, bringing the total appropriation to $380,000. A second increases the appropriation for major emergency repairs by $5,500. A third amends the financial disclosure law so as to make clear that members of a cooperative housing or condominium project would not have to list fellow-members or their interest in common property of the condominium or cooperative.

Council directed Giese to prepare a resolution proclaiming the first Sunday in June as "Greenbelt Day". This suggestion had come from the local Bicentennial Committee, which noted that Greenbelt was incorporated on June 1, 1937.

Other Matters

The council approved a request for a picnic permit at the Lake Park for the MNCPPC Employees' Fund by waiving the requirement that the majority of the membership of the group must be Greenbelt residents. Members from the audience expressed some curiosity as to why the MNCPPC Employees' group could not use its own agency's facilities.

The council expressed opposition to two county bills (#166 and #182), one of which would permit funeral parlors in residential zones under certain conditions. The other would allow roller and ice skating rinks in local commercial and rural-residential zones.

The council accepted the resignations of Peter J. Watters from the Community Relations Advisory Board, Helen G. Peterson from the Bicentennial Committee and Michael D. White from a COG citizens advisory committee.

Greenbelt Lake Run

The 1st Annual 2 1/2 Mile Greenbelt Lake Run took place Sat., Oct. 5 under ideal weather conditions. The overall winner and winner of the 16-19 age group was Andy Feeny, 18, who led from start to finish in a course record time of 14:33. Other age group winners, their age and time are as follows: 10 and under: Teresa Downs, 10, 19:31; 11 - 15: Tom Noel, 14, 15:20; 20-29: Martin Greenbaum, 29, 15:40; 30-39: Alexander Barnes, 37, 15:19; 40-49: Tony McQuillan, 46, 18:23; and 50-59: Harvey Geller, 53, 20:25. A total of 36 runners started and finished the race. All finishers received trophies or t-shirts which were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Bowman, operators of the Lake Concession Stand. A five year plaque with the winners name of each year from 1974 to 1978 will be on display at the concession stand. A list of all the finishers will be posted at the Youth Center for the next two weeks.

Lion Belles Plan Future

The Greenbelt Lion Belles held a dinner meeting on September 24, at the Fireside Inn, with President Joan Freeman presiding. Mrs. Margie Wheeler explained and displayed the Christmas Art of using sea shells. The Belles are busy planning for their Fall Fashion Show to be held on October 23, at Grenoble Hall. During these past 19 years, the Skolniks have dedicated themselves to discovering the facts on every major issue that has confronted Greenbelt. Though her heart is in the big issues — like zoning and sewage (of late), Elaine always has time for birthdays and anniversaries for her "Our Neighbors" column. As for Al, his dedication to the News Review is total as his presence at city council meetings on Monday, at the News Review office for copy reading on Tuesday and at make-up on Wednesday reveals.

As one of their admirers' comments, "... they perform an extremely valuable public service to maintain the longest running volunteer effort in the community. The key to Greenbelt is community — not a mere aggregation of housing units — and the News Review is one of, if not the most important of the many volunteer efforts that sustain and enhance the community characteristic."

"In-Focus", a photo contest sponsored by the Young Adult Dept., Bowie Library, will be held Oct. 14 through Nov. 11. Photographers, ages 13-18 years may submit photos to the Greenbelt library. There is no entry fee.

Solar Heat Project For GHI On Its Way

The Greenbelt Homes, Inc. board of directors met on Oct. 3 to discuss the NASA-Greenbelt Homes solar heating project. Director Hugh O'Donnell informed the board that NASA is moving ahead on the project and is presenting the Greenbelt proposal to a joint committee of the Federal Energy Resource Office for possible funding. The committee is made up of representatives of the Bureau of Standards, HUD, and NASA.

GHI will be the sole source contractor for insulating material and storm windows.

A motion to approve Phase I of the proposal was seconded and was carried unanimously with the provision that there would be no out-of-pocket cost to GHI.

GHI president Jim Smith designated staff engineer George Craft to write to NASA informing it of the board's decision. Director Ted Byerly made a motion that Phase II of the proposal be submitted to the committee on aesthetics for a review of the proposed structural alterations before the board makes any further commitments.

Football - Saturday our 65, 85, and 105 lb. teams met with defeat, but Ron Brooks' 75lbs. still were in first place with a 6-6 tie in a thrilling and tough game. The 105lb team will be the only scheduled game on Braden Field at 2 p.m. this Sat.

Soccer - This fast growing sport had three exciting games here last Sunday. The boys 10 and under team played to a 1-1 tie. Our undefeated 12 and under boys coached by Alberto Yanez came thru with a 4-1 victory over South Bowie. Riki Maeda kicked two goals in the net with Paul Felsher assisting on one, Craig Fitzreiter and Jimmy Vanderzon made one goal each. The 16 and under girls lost a disputed game to Cheverly 2-1. Sue McCloskey boomed a penalty kick to tie the game but Cheverly went ahead later. This Sun. we encourage everyone to come to Braden Field starting at 1:30 p.m. to cheer our teams to victory.

Police Blotter

A young woman reported that as she was walking on Crescent Road in the area of the Roosevelt Memorial Tree at 8:40 p.m., she was approached from the rear by a male subject who had a knife. He attempted to take her to a wooded area. However, upon the approach of a passing car, the suspect ran from the scene. The area was searched with negative results and a lookout was issued.

In another case, a young lady resident of Springhill Lake reported that she left her apartment door unlocked while checking on her mail and the laundry at 6:45 p.m. When she returned to her apartment a male subject, who was inside behind the door, struck her with a rawhide mallet, raped and further assaulted her. Neighbors upon hearing her scream, approached the apartment and the suspect fled. The department was called and checked the area. The victim was treated for her injuries and shock. A lookout was issued.

A house on Ridge Road was entered without force, by way of an unlocked window. Fifteen dollars in cash was stolen. Houses were also entered on Lakeside Drive and on Northway Road in both cases a small amount of cash was stolen. Investigation is continuing.

An apartment on Westway Road was entered by forcing a patio door. A watch and stereo were reported missing. Another apartment was also entered without force on Westway via the patio door, however, nothing was reported missing.

Two male subjects were arrested in Springhill Lake after Sgt. Van Valkenburgh investigated and found that they were stealing gas from a parked car.

The radar unit has issued 25 speeding tickets for speeding in the school zones.

The Department has received a number of vandalism complaints from the library, the Youth Center and St Hugh's School. An officer has been detailed to cover this area.

Police remind parents that B-B and pellet guns are illegal and should not be in the hands of children.

Cpl. Janney, during routine patrol on the midnight shift, early one morning discovered a fire in an apartment on Cherrywood Court. He summoned the fire department and then went through the building to alert the occupants. Upon receiving no response from the apartment that was on fire, Cpl. Janney and PFC Craze forced their way in through the patio door. PFC Craze found an occupant asleep in the apartment, awoke her and took her to safety. The actions taken by these officers did save a life.

The department investigated a missing person report concerning a 15 year old girl. The child left home for Parkdale High School on September 20. She was found in Clovis, New Mexico.

A car stolen in Springhill Lake was recovered as a result of our lookout in the Beltsville area by the county police who also arrested the operator. Another car stolen from Ridge Road was recovered via police lookout by the U. S. park police in the Research Center area.

A lady shopper, while at the A & P in the Beltway Plaza, reported the theft of cash from her purse, which she had left in the shopping cart while shopping.

Even the kids got into the act at the groundbreaking. They are helping to dig to speed along construction of the Recreation Center at Springhill Lake.

Lake Clean-up a Success

Over 1500 cans and bottles were collected during the Jaycee Creek/Lake Cleanup on Oct. 5. Most of the debris was netted in the area between Crescent Road and the lake. Much work still remains to be done in the area between the Jaycee/Camp Pine Tree Center and the lake.

In terms of throw-away containers removed from the park, this project was by far the most ambitious. This unprecedented success was due to the combined efforts of individual citizens, the city, Jaycees, and especially to Boy Scout troops 1746 and 746.

Walk In Counseling Centers

A free counseling service to residents of Prince Georges will be offered every Thursday at DuVal Senior High School, 9880 Good Luck Rd., Lanham from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. The center is staffed by school counselors, psychologists and pupil personnel workers.

People interested in the service needn't bother to make an appointment in advance or identify themselves by name. The conferences are private and no records are kept. There is little, if any red tape. For further information on the walk-in center, call 627-4800, ext. 225.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Because over the years his parents have invested in U.S. Savings Bonds—in his name, for his future—by participating in the Payroll Savings Plan at work.

He probably doesn't even know. And right now, he couldn't care less. But when he's older, that money can be used for a lot of things—a car, a college education, or even a new home.

The Payroll Savings Plan is an easy way to save money for you and every member of your family. When you join, an amount you designate will be automatically laid aside from your paycheck and invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. It's a painless way to save.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and make your son the richest kid on the block.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

WATKINS REGIONAL PARK

INDOOR TENNIS COURT RESERVATION

WINTER 1974-1975

The Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission's Department of Parks and Recreation is accepting season reservations for the use of indoor tennis courts located in the air-inflated structure in Watkins Regional Park, Largo, Maryland. Reservations are for the 26 week winter season beginning November 11, 1974 and ending May 10, 1975. (One court is being set aside for "Spot-Time" play.)

Designed to provide comfortable, all-weather tennis throughout the winter season, this structure is heated and lighted.

The public demand for a facility of this type is so great that reservations for play are a necessity. Therefore, to be absolutely fair and give each potential user an equal opportunity to reserve a court at a preferred time, the Associate Director of Parks has established the following schedule of fees and system for requesting reservations on a full-season basis.

26 WEEK SEASON
Monday, November 11, 1974 through Sunday, May 10, 1975
MON.FRI.	RATES SEASONAL
7 A.M. to 4 P.M.	$130.00	($5-hr.)
5 P.M. to 11 P.M.	$156.00	$6-hr.)
SAT.& SUN.
7 A.M. to 4 P.M.	$162.00	($7-hr.)
5 P.M. to 11 P.M.	$156.00	($6-hr.)
Rates are per court hour (2 or 4 may play)

No Membership or other annual fees.

Letters of request are now being accepted for seasonal reservations (only one 1-hour reservation per customer.)

Residents of the Maryland-Washington Metropolitan District within Montgomery and Prince George's Counties will be given preference in acceptance of seasonal reservations. Each application should request a court reservation for a specific hour and day of week as well as up to two (2) alternate times in order of preference.

Each reservation request must be accompanied by a check for $75.00 in order to be considered. (Send check only; checks will be returned to those not receiving time allocation.) Balance due by November 4, 1974. Make check payable to: SECRETARY-TREASURER, M-N-CPPC.

All applications received through the close of business at the below address on the 18th of October, 1974, will be held in their sealed envelopes, as received, and drawn one-by-one on the 21st of October, 1974, allocating each individual's time in order of stated preference until either all requests have been filled, or all requested times have been filled from the number of applications on hand.

Following the above drawings, applicants receiving a time allocation will be notified by mail. Send your reservations request (in a standard-size envelope) with CHECK and complete address and telephone number(s) to:

Council Discussion

At Monday night's meeting, city council scheduled a work session for Wednesday, October 23, to determine what, if any, participation the city should take in the adjudicatory hearing. A motion by councilman Tom White to urge WSSC to not accept the plant until the questions raised at the adjudicatory hearing were settled was defeated 3-2, with councilman Richard Castaldi supporting White.

WSSC has the option of accepting the plant and operating it under the original State discharge permit, without regard to the conditions which it is challenging at the adjudicatory hearing. (WSSC has filed for an adjudicatory hearing for the same reasons as Greenbriar Associates.) Under the regulations, conditions being appealed are subject to a stay and the treatment plant can ignore these conditions until the final adjudication.

White's motion was an attempt to forestall this possibility, but the council majority felt that the changes recommended by WSSC and Greenbriar Associates were reasonable. Councilman Charles Schwan said it was "asinine" to insist upon a Class A superintendent at all times at the plant. Considering 8-hour work shifts and time off for vacation and illness, this would be the equivalent of hiring 4 or 5 Class A superintendents, when there are less than 25 licensed active Class A superintendents in the State and WSSC has only two on its payroll. "It's like hiring a general for guard duty," he said.

But White said that to adhere to the conditions provided under the original State permit is not good enough, considering the performance of other treatment plants around the State. Developer Alan Kay countered that the pollution created by other plants is not due to the operators but to the overloading of plants that are technologically deficient.

College Park Council Chooses Metro Route

The College Park City Council has come out in favor of a future METRO line running along the western edge of the University of Maryland campus and away from a line paralleling Route 1. The latter route which would have had a stop at Greenbelt Road near the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks was favored by the city of Greenbelt.

College Park instead favored the location of a METRO stop near the University's west side, from which the line would proceed north to a terminal at the end of I-95 at the Capital Beltway. In this way, the subway would avoid College Park's major residential areas.

Rhea Cohen, representing the Prince Georges Environment Coalition, saw the decision as not being advantageous to the residents of College Park. It means that residents of this area have to come to METRO, instead of METRO coming to them, she said.

Work Begins on B-W Pkwy.

From now through December 1 the Baltimore-Washington Parkway from route 450 to the District of Columbia line will be partially closed for major resurfacing work.

Jack Fish, director of National Capital Parks, which administers the parkway, said at least one lane in each direction will be open at all times.

Festival Party

The thank you party for everyone who worked on the 1974 Labor Day Festival will be held tomorrow evening, Fri., Oct. 11, from 8 to 1 a.m., at the American Legion Hall on Greenbelt Road. There will be recorded dance music from the fifties. Admission is free and all adults are cordially invited.

lation of the State and EPA permits. Both the maximum 24-hour as well as the average value over the testing program exceeded all requirements as specified by permits."

WSSC operations division engineer Alfred Machis, however, stated that several portions of a split sample taken on one day and tested in an alternative procedure for suspended solids exceeded the EPA but not the State permit. He said that he did not consider this a failure of the plant to meet the test requirements, but rather a further indication that the standards are so extreme that even a modest difference in laboratory size sample might place the results in violation of the effluent standard.

Cookson's report also contained a comparison of the Greenbriar Plant's effluent quality with typical values for drinking water as it is discharged from taps. Test results showed that with regard to turbidity (condition and color of water), Greenbriar's effluent was 10 times clearer than the standard required as specified by the U.S. Public Health Service and EPA for drinking water. Coliform comparisons showed that the plant's level was 0.06 coliforms per liter while the PHS drinking water standard is 10 coliforms per liter. The EPA and state permit set a standard of 1 coliform per liter for effluent.

In the meantime, it was reported at the October 2 meeting of the WSSC commissioners that the treatment plant is receiving an operational inspection of its electrical and plumbing systems. Plumbing in those buildings completed has been inspected and found satisfactory and sewer lines within the street rights-of-way have passed the air test. A final release on the plumbing will not be granted until the plant is operational. The WSSC legal counsel also reported that still being awaited is a letter of credit from the developer for the on-going costs of testing the plant.

Clerk for Public Works

The first office clerk ever employed by the Greenbelt Public Works Department began work on Sept. 30. She is Mrs. Linda Smith, 56-K Crescent Road. At present this position is being funded under the Federal Public Employment Program but it is expected that the City will continue to finance the position after Federal Funds terminate.

Mrs. Smith will handle a number of clerical tasks that were previously handled by the City offices. Of particular interest to residents will be the processing of special trash requests and refuse complaints. Although the City office staff will still take these calls and relay the messages to the Public Works Department the fastest procedure for getting the requests and complaints to the workmen will now be by calling the Public Works office at 474-8004.

In addition to handling telephone calls Mrs. Smith is responsible for handling Public Works correspondence and maintaining a variety of records such as time sheets, gasoline tickets and equipment maintenance records.

Woman's Club News

Club members will tour the Portrait Gallery on Oct. 16. They will also visit the embassies of Australia, France, Iran, Madagascar, Turkey and Roumania.

Rough grading for the new Springhill Lake Recreation Center began last Wednesday following the ground breaking ceremonies held Tuesday evening. A large enthusiastic crowd of Greenbelt residents were on hand to assist the contractors with their digging.

Two equipment operators from the general crew have been working on the chipper and the refuse loadpaker engines. Both engines will be back in service soon.

The special detail crew has been issuing fuel, picking up supplies and doing some sign work. A man was furnished to work with Prince Georges County in painting the center lines on city streets.

The general crew also removed the chain link fence near the No. 1 tee at the Springhill Lake Golf Course, as well as removing some sprinkler heads.

The crew has been busy getting the heat turned on in the city buildings.
