ON THE AVERAGE

GHI Monthly Charges Likely To Increase Less Than 10%

by Al Skolnik

An average increase of less than 10 percent in Greenbelt Homes, Inc. monthly charges for 1976 seems certain. The first go-around of the 1976 budget prepared by GHI manager Roy Breashears indicates an increase of 8.3 percent in total charges, effective January 1, 1976. The increase comes to 9.8 percent in terms of operating costs, when amortization payments are subtracted out.

The average increase in total charges comes to 4 percent for the brick homes, 12 percent for the frame homes, and 8 percent for the new homes. The differences are based on actual experience, as separate records are kept for each type of home.

Before final adoption, the 1976 budget will undergo further review by the board, as comments of GHI members at this week's information meetings are absorbed. No special membership meeting to approve the budget will be required if the increase in operating costs for all units combined is kept below 10 percent.

Favorable Factors

One of the major factors responsible for keeping the increase in monthly charges to less than 10 percent is the ruling of the Maryland Tax Court supporting GHI's appeal of the county real estate reassessment. According to GHI officials, the tax refund could be as much as $256,000, covering the last three fiscal years.

Of the $256,000, $50,800 is needed to repay the money advanced from the contingency fund to meet the taxes owed in previous years. Of the remaining $206,000, Breashears recommended that $106,000 be used to relieve 1976 monthly charges and $100,000 be placed in reserves to relieve 1977 monthly charges.

Both the board and management agreed that if the entire $206,000 were used to offset monthly charges in 1976, then GHI would be faced with the difficult and undesirable task of raising the difference for taxes in 1977 through higher monthly charges.

Another major factor that gives GHI some breathing room is the energy conservation program. Already in 1975, it is estimated that this program has managed to reduce oil consumption from a 1973 figure of 2,039,500 gallons to 1,891,700. The 1976 budget is thus able to keep the rise in heating costs to a modest amount. This is in sharp contrast with the previous two years when a large part of the increase in monthly charges had to be used to meet the rise in fuel oil bills, especially in the frame homes.

Pent-Up Demands

According to the manager, despite these favorable developments, pent-up demands arising from the 10 percent increase limitation imposed by the membership in the past two years make it necessary to increase monthly charges by the full amount allowed by the bylaws. However, an attempt has been made to minimize the immediate fiscal impact on members by launching a capital improvement program that would be financed through bank borrowings under a 10-year pay-back loan.

Car Wash and Bake Sale

On Nov. 1, 1976, Saturday, the Senior High and Older Youth Class of Mowatt Memorial United Methodist Church will sponsor a car wash and bake sale between the hours of 9 a.m. - 2 p.m. at the church parking lot. In case of rain, the event will be held Nov. 8.

ment program is $465,200 worth of maintenance work that has been neglected during the past two years because of membership refusal to allow more than a 10 percent increase in operating charges. These items include:

$127,800	Replacement of brick flat roofs
38,200	Replacement of frame roofs
82,800	Electrical heavy-up
34,500	Termite extermination
24,200	Sidewalk repairs
130,200	Parking lot repairs
27,500	Administration Building renovation

$465,200

The annual financing (debt service) charge for this program would come to $31,600 for the brick homes and $34,900 for the frame homes. For the first year, the charge to the budget would be about half because the money would not need to be borrowed until the middle of the year.

Other Additions

The 1976 proposed budget also includes other items that had been cut to the bone or eliminated in previous years. A major one is the exterior trim paint program. $60,100 is allocated for this program ($18,900 in the bricks, $41,200 in the frames). Nothing was included in the 1975 (current) budget for this.

Other augmented programs include 3 additional men for maintenance work in such areas as cleaning gutters, downspouts, swales and storm sewers, removal and trimming of trees, controlling of pests, and clearing of tree roots from sewers.

Another major change pushed by management is the addition of five new people to the heating department (the present heating staff is 13). The additional personnel will enable the director of maintenance to organize three work crews and assign them to specific boiler plants for essential operation and preventive maintenance of the heating systems.

Staff engineers and management maintain that this preventive maintenance program will enable GHI to save 500,000 gallons in oil per year when fully implemented. At 35 to 40 cents per gallon, this would more than pay for the five new men and stop the accelerating cost of heating which has played havoc with the budget for the past two years.

The proposed budget assumes a 5 percent increase in GHI salaries, an increase in water and sewer rates that will absorb $34,000 more in 1976, and an increase in city waste collection fees that will absorb $17,400 more.

Recreation Department Wins National Award

by Jane Connolly

"The more we talk about it, the prouder we feel." Betty Lehman, Recreation Department secretary, describes the staff's reaction to the news they received last week that Greenbelt was a Grand Award Winner in the annual Gold Medal Award program, which recognizes excellence in the field of park and recreation management.

Little Support Shown Greenbelt Metro Line

There was not much support at the October 20 county council public hearing for the Greenbelt "E" METRO subway line. Even with the modifications suggested by the county council in its proposed resolution CR-92, the rapid rail system got little encouragement. Citizens rejected the system as being too disruptive to residential areas in the vicinity, as well as too costly.

The city of Greenbelt was one of the groups to voice otherwise. It lent its support to CR-92 to the extent that it considered alignment 22 and the Adopted Regional System (ARS) alignment as possibilities. Alignment 22 would run north of Prince Georges Plaza and west of University Boulevard and then loop east to a terminal near the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks and Greenbelt Road. The ARS alignment calls for the subway to run along Queens Chapel Road to the east side of College Park and then parallel the B&O tracks north to Greenbelt Road.

Delegate Leo Green also expressed support for alignment 22, with location of a needed end-of-the-line yard at the south side of the Beltway and a Metro access road from the Beltway to the terminal station.

But many of the speakers at the public hearing echoed the sentiments of Mayor Dervy Lomax of College Park who stated that "As far as we are concerned, no route is satisfactory." Many asked the county council to truncate the line at the District of Columbia's Fort Totten station, and to use the saved funds to improve existing area transportation, such as the B&O commuter rail system.

The county council is not expected to make a decision on the Greenbelt route until mid-November.

Celebrate Halloween

Center School Parade

Masked ghosts and goblins will be parading around the center mall on Fri., Oct. 31, to celebrate Halloween. The parade will start from center school at 1:30 p.m. and will include children from kindergarten through 6th grade.

Between 9:30 and 10 a.m. that same day a mini-parade will take place with members of the morning kindergarten marching. All Greenbelters are invited to come down to the mall and watch both parades.

North End Parade

North End School will be having a Halloween Parade on Friday, October 31, at 2 p.m. The parade will begin in the school's parking lot on Ridge Road near Laurel Hill Road. The costumed children will parade down past the 5 court of Laurel Hill Road, turn around and come up Ridge Road along the 65 court and return to the school. All Greenbelt citizens are invited to come to the parade.

Youth Center Activities

All ghosts and goblins, witches and warlocks are invited to participate in Greenbelt's Annual Halloween activities Fri., Oct. 31. The Youth Center will be the scene of the costume parade for pre-schoolers thru sixth graders from 4:30 to 5:45 p.m. Prizes will be awarded for best costumes in the different age categories. There will be treats and surprises for all participants.

Harry "Hank" Irving, Recreation Dept. Director, accepted the award which includes a Grand Award Winner plaque, a flag and a gift of $1,000 on Oct. 22 at the 1975 Congress for Recreation and Parks in Dallas, Texas.

"There were more than 7,000 people in the audience... it was a great feeling to accept that award," Irving said. He added that the Recreation Dept. in applying for the award had stressed the theme of community involvement in Greenbelt, and that it is "really a Greenbelt award. The whole city shares in the honor."

Irving said the money will be used for a renovation project which has been postponed previously for lack of funds. Harry James, Assistant Recreation Director, accompanied Irving to the Dallas convention.

The Gold Medal Awards program is sponsored by the Sports Foundation, a non-profit organization founded to stimulate interest and participation in sports and related activities. Awards are presented to the top five recreation departments in the country, based on population size.

Sponsored by Irving's Sports Shops, the Recreation Dept. last spring filed a 10-page application for the Class V, or under 20,000 population, award. Applicants are judged on creative leadership, diversified programming, sound financing, far-sighted land acquisition, cooperation with federal, state and local agencies, and overall responsiveness to the community's recreational needs and desires.

The Recreation Dept. has applied other years for the annual award, but never advanced beyond the first round of competition. When the staff learned that Greenbelt was a finalist, Mrs. Lehman says, "We were dumbfounded... From mid-September on, we held our breaths."

The staff hurried to prepare for the final competition — no small task with the dedication of the new Springhill Lake Center fast approaching, as well as the usual ongoing activities and programs. Working many nights until 11 p.m., they assembled a scrapbook and slide show illustrating some highlights of the past year, such as the Christmas crafts show and sale, Bike-A-Thon for the Retarded, tennis and softball tournaments, Camp Pine Tree, Run-For-Your-Life race, and the holiday celebrations at Christmas, Easter, 4th of July and Labor Day.

The judging panel, made up of nationally-recognized authorities in the fields of park and recreation management, praised Greenbelt's Recreation Dept. for its "comprehensive long-range planning program with broad funding and far-sighted acquisition."

Judges commended also Greenbelt's "strong base of community support, indicated by the large number of local organizations which participate in the department's realization of its projects."

The slide show and scrapbook submitted for final competition, as well as the Gold Medal Award plaque and flag, will be presented as the first agenda item at the next City Council meeting, Nov. 3 at 8 p.m. in the Council Meeting Room. Anyone may attend.

Square Dance

A Barn Dance featuring the Ralph Case Square Dancers will be held at the Mishkan Torah Congregation Ridge & Westway Roads, on Sat. Nov. 1 at 8:30 p.m. Persons of all ages are welcome. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Congratulations Rec. Dept.

Others may have been surprised by the news that came out of Texas last week, declaring that the Greenbelt Recreation Department was Number 1 for its size, but we were not.

We and the community knew only too well from day-to-day observations that we had something special here. The National Gold Medal Award was for excellence in park and recreation management, but it need not have been so restricted. The holiday celebrations at Christmas, Easter, 4th of July, and Labor Day alone would have warranted additional awards.

Recreation director Hank Irving and his staff can take great satisfaction in this award which was not only for curriculum and administration but also for engendering citizen interest and support.

This award symbolizes Greenbelt at its best — volunteer services combining with public services, each drawing strength from the other, to produce a standard of excellence that is the envy of the State.

Thanks to the Community

On October 22nd, the Greenbelt Recreation Department received the highest honor in its field, the 1975 National Gold Medal Award for excellence in park and recreation management.

I can't begin to express the sense of pride and appreciation the staff of the Recreation Department has in receiving this award on behalf of the City of Greenbelt. It is appropriate to say that this honor is one in which the entire community shares and is yet another example of the spirit and involvement of its citizens.

On behalf of the Recreation Department, we thank all of you for your contributions in making our programs succeed. We also extend our thanks to the many dedicated individuals serving the community on the City Council, Advisory Boards, Service Organizations and last, but not least, the staff of all the other city departments bringing people together.

'Community' is a state of mind, where neighbors support one another for richer or poorer, in sickness and in health. When neighbors interact with each other economically, socially and spiritually, the community sprouts naturally. This is the theme of the National Gold Medal Award; this is Green belt.

Again, congratulations and thanks to all.

Hank Irving
 Director of Recreation

Praise for the Police

To the Editor:

We have lived in Greenbelt since 1957 and occasionally needed police assistance in connection with juvenile rowdiness. We have nothing but praise for the Greenbelt police, who in every instance, responded promptly and - if possible - effectively. I want to illustrate this with one specific case. Driving home one afternoon through the wooded area of Hillside Road, my car was hit by an egg. The window was open and, had the egg hit me in the face, it could have resulted in a serious accident. As it was only the car was messed up. I drove straight to the police station and asked whether an officer could return with me in my car to the scene of the incident. Within minutes an officer accompanied me, however we were not able to spot anyone. But I wonder in how many American cities one gets such prompt assistance? It is more than worth the extra taxes we pay here. And I want Chief Lane to know that not only business proprietors are concerned about vandalism but private citizens as well. Also, bear in mind that the threat of vandalism is greater nowadays as discipline in Parkdale Senior High School has been deteriorating markedly. Thus the school environment exerts an additional negative influence on already unstable youngsters.

Accolades to P.G. Fire Chief

To the Editor:

It may be caused by "friction" under the collars of a few paid and volunteer firemen. These few "men" have attempted to disrupt the efficient and orderly growth of the Prince Georges county fire service, BUT...

We now have a new Chief "hose-man" who passed his "probation" and has displayed his efficiency in putting out these fires caused by "friction".

County Fire Chief Frank Briguglio was recently appointed unanimously by P. G. county council. We applaud these endorsements given by both factions of the fire service - volunteer and paid.

Thanks, Chief Briguglio, your staff, the paid force, the Fire Commission, the P. G. County Volunteer Firemen's Ass'n. and all members of the volunteer fire companies who are now working together, as a team, in providing a smoother transition during these "growing pains" years of our fire service.

Collar fires are being quenched, the smoke is becoming lighter and the future of the County Fire Service - - "brighter". Bob Mogei

A Matter of Taste

As an avid theatre goer, and also a patron of the Greenbelt Theatre, I would like to respond to the letter your newspaper printed by Paul Sanchez in reference to a letter by Mr. Anthony Madden. Mr. Madden does indeed have poor eyesight, to quote Mr. Sanchez. I had occasion to walk by the theatre, as I do frequently since I live in the vicinity, and I saw nothing to substantiate Mr. Madden's criticism of the poster displayed being in bad taste. I feel that if Mr. Madden took the time to look at the poster, then he should have no reason to feel it was in bad taste. Everyone is entitled to their personal tastes, and if Mr. Madden finds that certain posters, such as "Super Vixen" as distasteful to him, then next time he should avoid them like the plague. After all, I think we should all keep in mind that this is the twentieth century.

In addition I would like to say that, although I am not a resident of Greenbelt proper, I have been to the Greenbelt Theatre many times over the last four and a half years. During that time, I and my husband have seen the theatre transformed from dereliction to its present pleasant and comfortable atmosphere. We know that anything of this nature takes hard work and hard-earned money to make it a profitable business. We also know that the vandalism, theft, and bands of teenagers can wreak havoc with any business. In my opinion, I think Mr. Sanchez is to be commended for making the Greenbelt Theatre a decent place to be entertained in, and I think that the citizens of Greenbelt should feel the same.

THANKS

To the Editor:

John and I want to thank our friends, neighbors, and relatives who helped us with food, babysitting, and other kindnesses during Elizabeth's recent hospitalization.

After what seems to be very successful open-heart surgery at Children's Hospital, she is convalescing at home. While we are not required to replace the blood used during her operation, (John is a 7-gal. donor at Goddard,) we do want to thank all those who donate regularly and to urge others to do so, since such complicated surgical procedures could not be attempted without a steady supply of blood.

Elizabeth celebrated her fifth birthday in the hospital and will soon be back with her class at the Ardmore Developmental Center in Lanham. And we have learned once again that when situations like this arise in a family, Greenbelt is a nice place to be living.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

SITE SELECTION

HOUSING FOR THE ELDERLY

Monday, November 10, 1975, 8:00 P.M. — City Offices

The City Council has reduced the number of sites to two — Ridge Road Center and opposite G.H.I. offices on Hamilton Place. The two sites were selected, in part, because it is possible to build housing for the elderly at those locations without constructing a high rise building.

A comparative analysis of both sites is being prepared and persons desiring a copy may request one at the City Manager's office, 25 Crescent Road, Greenbelt, Maryland. The purpose of the public hearing will be to hear the views of citizens concerning the two sites.

Ray Bladen Retires

Few Greenbelt Homes, Inc. members realize that a recent retiree of GHI can boast of coming to Greenbelt with Rexford Tugwell in 1936. Raymond Bladen who retired on October 1 came to Greenbelt in July 1936 shortly before his 21st birthday, working on the construction of the original project — pouring concrete in the Parkway Apartment buildings. In January, 1938, he accepted a permanent position with the Federal government, working in and with all sections of the maintenance department. Finally in 1941, he decided to stay with the heating department, and was advanced to shift supervisor. In those days, the buildings were heated with coal.

Working out World War II hadn't been part of Bladen's plans — he had a physical disability that caused both Army and Navy to turn him down. So he says, "Greenbelt has been both my ocean and by battle-field."

When GHI took over in 1953, Bladen elected to stay with GHI. For several years, Bladen served as the night maintenance man on the 12 to 8 a.m. shift. He had spent so many years — 39 in all — with the Greenbelt homes that he was familiar with all phases of maintenance.

Although Bladen does not live in Greenbelt, he has always felt a great fondness for the town. He says that there may be rough times ahead, but with the cooperation from members, management, and employees, GHI will continue to be "both a wonderful place to reside and to work."

Twin Pines Meeting

There will be a special membership meeting for members of Twin Pines at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 5, 1975 at the Twin Pines office.

This meeting is a reconvened meeting of the special meeting held on Jan. 20, 1975. The purpose of the meeting is to find out the total votes that have been obtained in order to ratify the article of Amendments for Twin Pines.

Beltway Plaza Mall Marks Anniversary

Beltway Plaza Mall will mark its Anniversary on Fri. and Sat., Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, with a gala celebration featuring the University of Maryland Gymkana Troupe and Aladdin the Magician with Lollypop the Magic Clown, on the Mall's Center stage.

Known as "Ambassadors of Goodwill", the collegiate group of fifty men and women, will perform routines on olympic apparatus, plus unique balancing, acrobatic, and comedy skills. The Gymkana Troupe will be seen Friday evening, 6:30-9:30 p.m.

On Sat., Aladdin the Magician and Lollypop the Magic Clown will provide a light hearted comedy show suitable for the entire family beginning at noon in the Mall.

The public is invited, free of charge, to help Beltway Plaza Mall celebrate its Anniversary and to participate and aid in the National Cancer Research Crusade.

School Board Gets Tough On Disruptive Students

by Elaine Skolnik

Superintendent of Schools Carl W. Hassel announced at the October 9 meeting of the Board of Education a "crack-down" policy on disruptive students on school buses. According to Hassel, "The Prince Georges county school system cannot and will not tolerate misconduct or vandalism on our school buses. Bus drivers cannot guarantee a safe trip for school children if their attention is divided between the passengers on the vehicle and the road ahead."

Hassel appealed to students and parents to work together effectively to correct discipline problems immediately. He also directed that principals suspend students who continue to violate school bus safety regulations. He noted that if these measures fail, safety considerations may make it necessary to discontinue certain bus runs.

There has been increased concern since the start of the school year with the breakdown of discipline aboard buses — throwing objects inside the bus and out of windows, tearing up the seats, harassing the drivers and aides, smoking, etc. This behavior creates a hostile and hazardous atmosphere which school officials fear can lead to accidents.

A potentially serious situation arose in Greenbelt recently on a bus headed for Mary Bethune Junior High School. After being harassed by several students to the point they could no longer bear, the driver and aide stopped the bus and discharged their passengers. A spokesman for the transportation department observed that, while the driver should probably have opted to drive to the Greenbelt police station for help, she and her aide were under intense pressure. He appealed to all parents to support the drivers, aides and principals when they employ disciplinary action, and by talking these matters over with their children.

The county employs about 300 aides to assist drivers on runs. Serving the schools are 800 buses.

State Agency Gives CARES Hard Time

The city is having a hard time convincing the Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice that its grant condition specifying that Greenbelt CARES must receive a minimum of seven referrals a month from the county Department of Juvenile Services (DJS) is not feasible.

On October 16, councilman Charles Schwan, Dr. Les Schiller of CARES, and asst. city manager Dennis Pjendak presented the city's appeal of this grant condition. State Senator Edward Conroy also submitted a letter on behalf of the city's position. Hearing the appeal was a 5-member appeals committee empowered to act for the Governor's Commission in cases of appeal.

The tentative decision of the appeals committee was to retain the grant condition and to specify a reduction in the grant funds by 20 percent over the remaining 5½ months of the Governor's Commission funding if the condition is not met. This could cost the city about $5,000 in lost funds.

The city maintains that the number of referrals Greenbelt CARES receives is something over which it has no control. It is more than willing to accept seven or more DJS referrals a month. During the past year, CARES referrals came from the following: schools - 33%, courts and Greenbelt police - 5% DJS - 12%, County Department of Social Services - 11%, friends or relatives - 19%, walk-ins - 16%, physicians - 4%.

In September, CARES counseled 20 families, seeing them at least once a week. Other services during the month included informal counseling for 20 youngsters under 18 and drop-in counseling for 13 teenagers. Additionally 23 tutoring sessions were given 17 youngsters; 13 part-time and 2 full-time jobs were obtained for youth; 6 work training sessions were offered to 9 youths; and the clothing exchange assisted three families (5 adults and 7 children under 18).

OCTOBER, 1975

Good Earnings and Growth

The July, August, September quarter was a period of good earnings and healthy growth for Twin Pines. Income totaled $142,632, of which $30,957 went to meet expenses, $85,345 was paid in dividends, and $7,800 was put into the Reserve for Bad Debts — which left $18,530 to be added to undivided earnings.

During the quarter Assets increased $407,095, reaching a total of $6,121,428 on September 30th.

Members increased their investment in 6%, 7% and 7½% Savings Certificates some $434,482, but 5½% Passbook Savings Accounts decreased $69,340. Savings Certificates totaled $2,601,463 at the end of the quarter, while passbook savings totaled $3,189,670.

Twin Pines put this money to work by increasing FHA-insured and VA-guaranteed home loans by $264,360 to a total of $988,120. Co-op home loans were increased $135,557 to a total of $3,590,610. Conventional first mortgage loans increased $38,051 to a total of $1,058,751.

So far in October, savings are continuing to increase, but at a slower rate, while loan applications are increasing at a faster rate than last quarter. Currently, loan commitments are being granted with the proviso that the loan will be made when the funds become available. So keep the money coming in, folks!

Loan Passbooks

As of Oct. 1975, all loans taken out after January 1973, will be on the computer. A loan passbook will be given to each borrower affected by this change. This passbook should accompany all payments.

By doing this Twin Pines hopes to provide its customers with better and more accurate information on each loan.

As with all changes, problems may arise. In that event the staff asks for your patience and they will do their best to correct any difficulties promptly.

Madeleine Gorr

Since February 1970, Madeleine Gorr has worked for Twin Pines. She began as a teller and was soon working as a "jack-of-all-trades."

She still is a "J.O.A.T." but, since August 1975, her official title is Loan Officer. Her expertise in the savings and loan field is very reassuring to many Twin Pines members, especially during times of transition.

One proof of Madeleine's loyalty to Twin Pines is that she drives 70 miles round-trip each day to work at Twin Pines. She and her husband and 12-year-old daughter live in Fairfax. She had been a Greenbelt resident from 1963 until 1967, living first in a G.H.I. house, then in a Springhill Lake apartment.

Dividends

Twin Pines has paid nearly $300,000.00 in dividends in the past twelve months. Listed below are quarterly totals.

Quarter ending:
December	66,513.44
March	71,279.23
June	74,812.92
September	85,344.88
Year's total	$297,950.47

A Comparison . . . Certificates and Passbooks

Twin Pines savings certificates offer the advantage of higher dividends than passbook accounts. Certificates requiring a minimum of $2000.00 deposited for one year earn 7% per annum compared to 5.5% per annum earned by passbook accounts. A minimum of $4000.00 deposited in a certificate account for four years earns 7.5% per annum.

Certificate accounts opened by the twentieth of the month earn dividends for the entire month. These earnings are credited to the accounts quarterly. Dividends for passbook accounts are calculated from day of deposit to day of withdrawal and also paid quarterly.

When a certificate is paid dividends, these dividends also earn dividends, but at the passbook rate of 5.5% calculated on a monthly basis. If a certificate account accumulates dividends amounting to $1000.00, the certificate holder cannot earn certificate rates on these dividends unless he/she uses the dividends to purchase another certificate. Twin Pines does not automatically issue a new certificate; written request of the certificate holder is required.

Certificates withdrawn before the end of the quarter do not earn any dividends for that quarter. Also, if certificates are withdrawn before the stipulated amount of time, dividends will be paid at the passbook rate of 5.5% (computed monthly and paid quarterly), not at the certificate rate.

G.H.I. members,

Twin Pines can send your monthly payment from your Twin Pines savings account to Greenbelt Homes, Inc., automatically each month, free of charge. The tellers have the necessary forms for you to fill out to receive this service.

Greenbelt Grab-bag

by Punchin' Judy

There is a book that is predicted to make it to the top of the best seller list this winter. I won't tell you the name, because I don't want to be accused of contributing to anyone's literary delinquency, but it concerns the manner in which a number of well-known people were deprived of their innocence.

Confession being good for the soul, I have decided to let my vast public in on the secret of how it happened to me.

A good many years ago, a letter appeared in the Greenbelt News Review. It was signed "Irate Housewife", and in it a Greenbelt resident related her fears that the proximity of NASA would cause space monsters to descend upon our peaceful town. As a matter of fact, she claimed that just such a space monster had invaded her son's room, finding the boy's clutter to be a rich treasure trove.

A week later, another letter appeared, this time a rebuttal written by the space monster, who felt that he was being discriminated against merely because he possessed a superabundance of legs.

Now it can be told! Both letters were written by your humble columnist, and I must admit that the guise of space monster fit more comfortably that that of irate housewife. Years have passed, but some things don't change. My son's room is still one that only a space monster could love.

However, seeing my words in print had a devastating effect. It went to my head and I am still punchin' the typewriter. But those two letters to the editor were my virgin efforts, and I was turned from an innocent reader into a by-line.

You're disappointed? Well, what in the world did you think I was going to tell you about?

Introducing the New Battery Operated 1976 SmokeGard

Fill'er Up with Regular

That's right. Our new 800A SmokeGard ionization smoke detector is powered by six regular AA 1.5 V alkaline batteries. Use Mallory MN 1500 or Eveready E 91. They last at least a year, then the detector "clicks" to remind you it's time to replace them. Think of it, a power source that's available just about anywhere.

So, when your 800A runs low, just drive to your corner drugstore and fill'er up with regular.

Weidenfeld Elected Head of Municipal Association

Greenbelt Mayor Gil Weidenfeld was elected chairman of the Prince Georges Municipal Association for the coming year at the Oct. 16 meeting in College Park. Elected as vice-chairman was councilwoman Mildred Harkness of Hyattsville. Mayor Susanna K. Christofani of Bladensburg was re-elected as secretary treasurer.

A major topic on the Municipal Association's agenda was tax differential proposals. The county council has appointed a committee to consider various means for establishing a simpler and more reliable procedure for determining tax differential payments to municipalities each year.

At its Oct. 16 meeting, the Association adopted a motion which approved the proposal of the county council committee to establish a simplified tax differential formula tied to the assessable base of municipalities in order to provide for growth, but indicating that the amount the county proposed to allot to municipalities would only partially correct the inequity in taxes that now exists.

The Association also indicated that it would prefer a different formula from the four proposals made to the county committee.
