Edgar Smith Dies; Former City Mayor for Six Years

Judge Edgar L. Smith, former mayor of Greenbelt for more than six years died at 10 a.m. on January 1 at the Washington Adventist Hospital after a long illness. He was 48 years old. Burial services were held at Salisbury today. Special memorial services will be held Saturday, January 22, 7 p.m. at the Greenbelt Baptist Church at which his fellow-citizens will pay tribute to his many years of community service. Smith, a 23 year resident of Greenbelt, is survived by his wife Paula and daughter Sandra Lynne of 118 Greenhill Road.

Smith was first elected to city council in 1959, declined to run in 1961, then served as city solicitor in 1962-63. In 1963 he was elected again - for the first of four successive terms as city councilman. As high man in the voting for 1963, 1965 and 1967, he was selected by his colleagues as mayor. He again served as mayor for a few months in 1971 succeeding Mayor Francis W. White who had run successfully for the county council. Smith resigned from the council in July 1971 to accept appointment as judge of the District Court of Maryland.

Edgar Smith's tenure as mayor was featured by a running bout with developers over the future growth of the city. Here, in his own words, was his description of this struggle:

"We faced unresponsive and un-concerned elected and appointed officials in many places. We opposed developers whose interests were strongly divergent from ours. Twice we took our case to the highest court in the state. The issues are still well known. The Master Plan. The location of a high school. Zoning revisions. Land development practices. Covenants and agreements. While we were not always successful and while there are still many problems relating to the growth and development of the city which remain unresolved, we have achieved a substantial decrease in the density of development which will occur in Greenbelt, and we have brought about a considerable change in the attitude and thinking of those county officials who must make the decisions which vitally affect our city. Greenbelt's voice is now heard throughout the county and listened to with respect."

Smith similarly took pride in the physical accomplishments of the city during his tenure in office.

"I believe the most important action to be the institution of a land acquisition program which resulted in the preservation of Greenbelt Lake as a public park, and the acquisition of fifty-five acres of land with the assistance of federal matching funds. Also of particular significance was the approval in 1965 of a major capital improvement program, still in progress, which has resulted in the reconstruction of Southway, the construction of Gentry Drive to serve Springhill Lake, the construction of additions to the Youth Center and the Fire Station, the purchase of Holy Cross Lutheran Church property on Ridge Road, and the planning of a recreation center soon to be constructed in Springhill Lake. Other improvements to the city include the reconstruction of the swimming pool, the construction of a new public works facility, the reconstruction of Parkway Road and Laurel Hill, the connecting of Greenhill Road to Hillside, and major curb construction and street widening in several locations as well as major street resurfacing."

Smith was born in Salisbury on the Eastern Shore and attended various Maryland institutions of higher learning. He received an Associate of Arts Degree from the Maryland State Teacher's College at Salisbury, a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Maryland, an LLB degree from the University of Maryland School of Law in Baltimore, and a Juris Doctor's degree from the University of Maryland School of Law in 1969.

Smith was selected "Outstanding Young Man of America (1964-65)" by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. He was active in numerous community groups - past president of the Greenbelt Democratic Club, past president of the Greenbelt Business Men's Association, member of the Greenbelt American Legion, an associate member of the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad and a member of the Board of Directors of the Greenbelt Boy's Club.

Smith was one of the organizers of the "Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt," a civic group organized in 1965 to muster support in favor of a low-density Greenbelt.

At the county level, he served on the board of directors of the Metropolitan Council of Governments, was chairman of the Prince Georges County Municipal Association, served for five years as Assistant Attorney General of the State, served as treasurer of the County Engineer's Association of Maryland for three years, was State Advocate Judge of the American Legion 1962-63.

"Yes, Virginia, There is a Santa Claus," City Learns

by Al and Elaine Skolnik

It was two days before Christmas. All the secretaries were busy at the city offices in Greenbelt as the telephone rang. Assistant city manager Dennis Piendak, sitting in for vacationing city manager James Giese, picked up the phone. It was U. S. Senator Charles McC. Mathias's office.

Suddenly city clerk Gudrun Mills and secretary Dorothy Lauber were startled to hear Piendak let out a whoop and a holler as he replaced the receiver on the hook.

"We got it, we got it," he happily chanted. The Senator's office had just informally announced that the city's public works grant application for funding an addition to the Municipal Building had been approved by the U. S. Economic Development Administration. The amount was $282,860 - precisely what the city had asked.

Long Shot Pays Off

"It was a long shot, and we won," said an elated Piendak. He immediately called Giese in Florida with the good news. Piendak and Giese had crammed many hours of work into the research and preparation of the application.

Formal notification of the approval is subject to final signing by the Secretary of Commerce.

City officials and councilmen generally had not been optimistic that Greenbelt's application would prevail since only $20.4 million was available for the entire State under Title 1 local public works development and investment program of the Public Works Employment Act of 1976.

The Federal government will pay 100 percent of the cost of construction provided certain conditions are met. One is that the city must have workers on the job within 90 days of the award of the grant. The city has been moving rapidly to meet these conditions. The architect Dennis Madden has prepared final plans and bids will be advertised about February 1. The city is hopeful that construction can begin by April 1. A building permit has already been applied for.

How It Was Done

The city was able to qualify for the program because the project area the city defined consisted of 17 census tracts which had an unemployment rate close to the national level. A minimum of 10 percent of the workers employed on the addition must come from the Greenbelt project area and bidders have to guarantee this. Additionally, the city has had the Municipal Building addition on the drawing boards for many years.

The Federal grant is also welcomed by the city because it will release funds from the capital improvement budget which otherwise would have been used to finance the Municipal Building addition. The parkland acquisition program as well as the ballfield construction and park development program had to be curtailed because of the lack of capital improvement funds. As of July 1, 1976, the funds remaining in this budget (which represented the proceeds from the $950,000 bond issue approved by the electorate in November 1968) amounted to $411,142. All told, the city has spent $1,456,964 through June 1976 on capital improvement projects. This was accomplished by supplementing bond funds with Federal and State open-space grants, interest on investment, and contributions from other sources of costs.

Plans for Addition

The architect's plans call for a two-story, 6,562 sq. ft. addition (includes a 1,850 sq. ft. partial basement) on the site where the police cars are now parked. A new parking lot will be constructed behind the addition where a grassy area now exists.

The first floor of the existing 6,400 sq. ft. building would then be converted over in its entirety to a police station. The new addition would be connected to the existing building by a new lobby (at the parking lot entrance to the old building.) A stairwell and elevator, which is required for the handicapped, is planned for the lobby. The upstairs council room will continue to be used for this purpose and the two meeting rooms, now the offices of the city clerk and police chief, will be the new home of Greenbelt CARES.

City to Recycle Oil

Residents who change the oil in their automobiles may now dispose of it at the Public Works Warehouse on Crescent Road adjacent to the Lake Park. A barrel marked "Used Oil" is located at the rear of the Yard. The City has made arrangements with a private firm to recycle the oil.

Besides crankcase oil, brake fluid, transmission oil or any other petroleum based product may be deposited in the drum. Hours for depositing oil are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to noon Saturdays. City Ordinance prohibits the dumping of oil on streets or in storm sewers.

The warming hut will double as a locker room for use by swimmers during the swimming season.

When completed at a cost of $1,607,000 county residents will have a second public ice rink, the first being Tucker Road ice rink in Oxon Hill which was scheduled to reopen during the Christmas holidays. The new pool will be the fourth public swimming pool operated by the MNCPPC.

Edgar L. Smith

The following editorial originally appeared in the News Review issue of July 15, 1971 at the time that Edgar L. Smith resigned as Mayor of Greenbelt.

Edgar L. Smith's resignation as Mayor of Greenbelt marks the end of ten years of service on city council, more than six of which he has served as mayor. First elected to council in 1959, he chose not to run in 1961. When he began again in 1963, he received the highest vote and was chosen mayor by his colleagues. He then was elected for three more terms, and as top vote-gatherer in 1965 and 1967 was chosen again to serve as mayor.

When Edgar Smith's first term as mayor began in 1963, the city, already lured by the siren songs of those who argued that the salvation of Greenbelt lies in development of the vacant land, was entering a period of growth and transition. New subdivisions — Springhill Lake, Charlestowne Village, Boxwood Village, and Lakeside North — had sprung up to supplement the New Deal Greenbelt town.

This growth was soon accompanied by citizen disillusionment as developers disregarded covenants and fought master plans that were intended to restrict density and provide for orderly development. During the next few years, Greenbelt's attempts to stem the tide of high density development were only partly successful, as county zoning authorities and the courts repeatedly ruled against Greenbelt.

Yet throughout this period of trial and tribulation, Mayor Smith's adherence to the concept of Greenbelt as a low-density planned residential community remained steadfast. Even when the odds and pressures were greatest, he could be counted on to stand up for the public interest. By his example, he mustered a majority on council and helped consolidate community support in favor of the original goals of Greenbelt. During the last few years, most of these efforts were crowned with success, as the College Park-Greenbelt Master Plan was adopted and the frantic growth of new developments in Greenbelt subsided.

A not insignificant quality which made citizens responsive to Mayor Smith's leadership was his ability to preside over a city council meeting. With calmness and firmness, he kept discussions within reasonable bounds; everyone was assured of having his say; and at the end one could normally be assured of action of some type.

No headline-seeker, Mayor Smith's quiet, effective manner instilled confidence and the public responded by electing him to council five times. We wish him well in his new career as District Court Judge.

Letters to the Editor

A Tribute

To the Editor:

We regrettably observe the passing of a very dear friend who was called by our Lord the first day of the New Year, 1977. "Ed" had been looking forward to a better new year for some time. He was loved and respected by those who knew him well and by those who knew him not so well and we truly regret the loss of so fine a man. We know few men of this caliber and still fewer are known to be so dedicated to the welfare of his fellow man as "Ed" constantly proved himself to be. Much of the good he did was known only to those whom it affected, for, he was not one who went about heralding his good works. With him it was just a normal routine "way of life". Knowing that there was no way you could pay him back was frustrating to us, but forgotten by "Ed". According to him you never owed him anything.

We fondly remember those loved ones he has left behind and the void in their hearts and the grief they share for having lost a fine father, a good husband, a willing friend, and a just and compassionate Judge.

You may be on the other side of the "Bench" now "Ed", but knowing you, you're putting in a good word for us still.

"Charlie" Kendall, and family.

An Educational Tour

To the Editor:

Last week's tour of some of the boiler plants by the GHI board and committee members should have been very educational and should help them understand what the manager or engineer is talking about at future meetings. This should be done very often so that the board members can feel that they could about run the plant. It is something that I thought of ever since I came to work for GHI. I did take a board member to a plant now and then. I am very satisfied with Mr. Mulder, GHI Staff Engineer. He did a wonderful job on answering questions and explaining things. This is the first engineer that I personally have faith in. I have confidence in this man.

It was a sight to see the young lady board members crawl into the crawl spaces. Now they know what the boys or we had to go into and through to check leaks, etc. I must say I also enjoyed going into much improved plants. Again, I say this should be done often. I believe the board members learned a lot. Wouldn't it be nice to have an electronic board showing the workings of a boiler with all its functioning devices?

Summer Conservation Program for Youth

Senator Edward T. Conroy (Dem. Prince Georges) announces that the Maryland Department of Natural Resources will once again operate the Summer Youth Conservation program for the youth of the State.

Conroy said, "All boys and girls between the ages of 15 through 18 are eligible to apply and, if accepted, will work at one of the 17 locations throughout the state on conservation-oriented tasks aimed at improving environmental quality of the land and water in our fine State". There will be 197 positions available and the deadlines for applications will be March 15, 1977.

Interested youths must be physically qualified with parental consent. A social security number and the ability to obtain State Work permit are required. The salary is $2.30 an hour for a 30 hour work week and an additional 10 hours a week devoted to environmental awareness activities. There will be residence and non-residential camps available. The duration of the program at most camps will be 90 days and selections are made at random by computer.

All applications and additional information on the program are available through local high schools or by writing to the Department of Natural Resources, Youth Conservation Corps, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, Maryland.

Urges Repeal

To the Editor:

It is unfortunate that the regulations of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) do not allow unmarried couples to jointly purchase homes run by the cooperative. In my opinion it is important that couples be permitted to live together before tying the knot. Such an arrangement allows the two people involved to find out how workable their relationship is on a day-to-day basis without the legal entanglements and commitments of marriage. Thus, exclusionary regulations preventing unmarried adult couples from living together do a disservice to our society.

In addition, regulations discriminating against such couples may well be unconstitutional in that they deny the equal rights of all citizens guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment.

It is my hope that GHI will decide to repeal this regulation.

Bicentennial Booklets Available at Library

Two Bicentennial booklets available at all Prince Georges County libraries and bookmobiles at nominal charge are "Reminders of Revolutionary Days in Prince Georges County" and "Guide to Historic Places of Prince Georges County, Maryland 1776-1976."

"Reminders of Revolutionary Days" is an illustrated booklet published in cooperation with the Daughters of the American Revolution Chapters of Prince Georges County as a tribute to those soldiers and patriots of Prince Georges County who served during the American Revolution. Also included are a tour map, photographs of gravesites, historic buildings such as Montpelier in Laurel, Marjetta near Collington, and Belair in Bowie.

Many of the historical markers in Prince Georges County, Maryland, recall people and events of the American Revolution.

Properly Insulated Homes Cut Down On Fuel Usage

As a result of upgrading the insulation in their homes, the Washington Gas Light Company estimates homemakers can expect an average reduction of 16 percent in the rate at which they use fuel for heating.

According to the company, most area homes were built before the energy crisis — when fuel costs were low — and are poorly insulated by today's standards. The National Bureau of Standards recommends minimum insulation standards for attics.

The gas company re-insulation program is available to all area residents, whether they are gas customers or not. Homeowners interested in making an appointment with a company sales representative should telephone the Energy Conservation Department at 354-5700.

Parent Discussion

The next meeting of the Greenbelt Parent Discussion Group will be held Wed., Jan. 12, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Greenbelt Baptist Church. The topic for discussion will be "The Role of Women in Today's Family." Babysitting is available and refreshments will be served. For more information call Betty Hughes at 474-8458.

Garden Club Meets

The Greenbelt Garden Club will meet on Tues., Jan. 11 at 7 p.m. at the Greenbelt Library.

Richard Herfurth, vice president of Goddard Garden Club, will speak on "Growing Plants Under Lights." Interested gardeners are welcome.

We have it on high authority that sharing the ride is a very good idea.

It made sense to Noah. After all, it was a whole lot more economical and efficient to get together and share the ride than it would have been for everybody to go their own way. And that still holds true today. Sharing the ride with just one other person can cut your commuting costs in half. Think about it.

Share the ride with a friend. It sure beats driving alone.

Greenbelters were saddened by the untimely death of Judge Edgar L. Smith, dedicated former Mayor of Greenbelt who served on council for many years. Edgar will be missed and we extend to his wife, Paula and daughter Sandra (118 Greenhill Rd.) our heartfelt sympathy.

Mrs. Josephine Lester of Los Angeles visited daughter Eileen Peterson and family, Maplewood Court, for their first Christmas together since 1952.

Mark Lakshmanan, 48-G Ridge, has been accepted at Georgetown Medical School. He will start classes in August and graduate in 1981. In May he will graduate from the University of Maryland with a degree in biochemistry. Mark was named to the Dean's list for spring semester 1976.

Happy to hear that Mrs. Agnes Mitchell, 62-A Ridge, was home after an extended stay in the hospital to enjoy the holidays with her family. We wish her a speedy recovery.

The new Science Center located adjacent to DuVal Senior High School bears the name of the late Dr. Howard B. Owens who at one time resided on Hillside Road. Owens was the superintendent of Science in P.G. County from 1956 until his death in 1971.

IT'S NOT TOO LATE
The News Review wishes to thank its many readers who gave Christmas contributions to the paper's delivery boys and girls. Because many people were away for the holidays, our carriers will continue to be accepting such donations for the next few weeks.

154 People Ran In Snow

On Sun., Dec. 26, 154 people ranging in age from 7 to 70 ran on the icy and snow covered course of the 20 and 10 mile races throughout the streets of Greenbelt and the Agricultural Research Farm. Even the path around the lake for the 1 and 1/2 mile race was in bad shape for running. The featured 20 mile race was won in remarkable time for the conditions. Phil Stewart of the Washington Running Club, and one of the best of the marathoners in the area, easily won in one hour 49 minutes and 1 second, only 68 seconds more than the record set by Bernie Allen of England in 1972. Two Greenbelters finished; Hugh Jascourt was 30th in 2:36:21 and Shalom Fisher was 33rd in 2:41:56.

The 10 miler held at the same time was won by Jeff Peterson (20) of Springfield, Va. in 54:01. Three Greenbelters finished; Jubie Aulisio was 8th in 56:56, Tom Noel was 9th in 60:41 and Larry Wenzel was 19th in 69:33.

In the 1 and 1/2 mile Mark Albers won in 9:36 leading seven Greenbelters; led by Nelson Oertel, 14th, in 12:14.

Complete results of all races are at the Youth Center. The races were co-sponsored by the D.C. Road Runners, Greenbelt Running Club and the Greenbelt Recreation Department.

Before we could raise the flag, we had to raise the money.

And it wasn't because Betsy Ross charged too much.

Building an independent nation cost plenty. In lives, in property, and yes, in money.

So, our Founding Fathers asked their fellow Americans to take stock in their country.

And we did. To the tune of $27,000,000.

With that kind of support, it's no wonder that, after the smoke cleared, the star-spangled banner kept waving.

Yes, folks really took stock in their country back then. And you still can by buying United States Savings Bonds.

Because when you join the Payroll Savings Plan at work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you save, you're investing in a brighter future for you and for America.

So buy United States Savings Bonds. They're a great way to raise the flag. Or a family.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.
