Labor Day Festival Appreciation Party

The Festival is over, but the memories linger on. To show their appreciation to all those who worked so hard in the booths and the many special events, the Festival committee is having a party on Friday night, September 16, at 8:30 p.m. in the American Legion hall. A live band will entertain and pictures of this year's Festival will be shown. Anyone who participated in the Festival in any capacity is welcome to come and re-live a few happy, harried memories.

STRING PLAYERS WANTED

The Greenbelt Chamber Orchestra members welcome any interested string players to join them in informal music-making on alternate Sunday afternoons during the fall from 3-5:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room of the Greenbelt Youth Center. The next four rehearsals will be held on Sept. 18, Oct. 2, 16, and 30. Additional information can be obtained from Catherine Kerst at 345-5989 in the evenings.

COFFEE FOR PHILLIPS

There will be a coffee for city council candidate Robert Phillips at the home of Irene Hensel, 6 Orange Court, on Sat., Sept. 17 at 8 p.m. The community is invited. For further information, call Irene at 345-8630.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB

On Friday, Sept. 16, the Roosevelt Democratic Club will meet at the Greenbriar Community Center. The guest speaker will be the honorable Francis Burch, Maryland's Attorney General. A light buffet, for which a donation is required, will follow the presentation.

Scout Troop 746

All members of Scout Troop 746 are urged to attend the regular meeting on Friday, September 16 so that troop officers can be elected for the coming year. If most members attend, then a date for planning camp, in which the year's activities are planned, can be set.

Greenbelt Water Wins

Greenbelt's drinking water captured first place in taste and tied for first in smell with Brand X from among 16 samples of suburban locations circling the Washington metropolitan area. The water sample from the city of Rockville won the highest ratings with a second in taste and a tie with three other samples for a second in smell. Brand X was well water from Montgomery County.

The informal contest was held at the August meeting of the local chapter of the National Institute of Planners.

POLLS OPEN TUESDAY FOR COUNCIL ELECTION; 1400 VOTERS EXPECTED

by Elaine Skolnik

About 1400 Greenbelters are expected to trek to the polls next Tuesday, September 20, to cast their votes for the five city council members who will head the municipal government for the next two years. A referendum question is also on the ballot, asking for the issuance by the city of general obligation bonds in the amount of $75,000 for a fire station addition. The three polling places at the Greenbelt Youth Center (3rd precinct), North End Elementary School (6th precinct) and Springhill Lake Community Center (8th precinct) will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

All five incumbents are seeking re-election, Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and councilmen Richard Castaldi, Richard Pilski, Charles Schwan and Thomas X. White. Robert B. Phillips is the sixth candidate competing for a spot. Biographies of the candidates appear below.

Referendum

The referendum question requests approval to authorize the city to issue $75,000 in general obligation bonds which will mature in 25 years. This sum will pay the cost of construction for an addition to the fire station to supply additional bunk room facilities and office space. Construction costs, however, will not be charged to the taxpayers, since the city would be repaid by the fire department through a long-term rental agreement guaranteeing the bonds. The fire station is owned by the city and leased to the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad.

Election Procedures

All council members are elected at large. In order for a candidate to be elected, he must receive 40 percent or more of the votes cast. If fewer than five candidates receive such a vote, a run-off election will be held one week later on Tuesday, September 27.

In a run-off election, the ballot will consist of those unsuccessful candidates receiving the highest number of votes, up to twice as many names as there are positions to be filled. Candidates polling the greatest number of votes are declared winners in the run-off election, regardless of the percentage of votes received.

The 40-percent requirement for election was introduced in 1967. Earlier a majority vote was required, usually resulting in run-off elections. Since 1967 no run-offs have taken place.

Each voter is entitled to vote for five candidates. Voting for fewer than five obviously increases the possibility of a run-off election.

Registration Count

Some 2,661 Greenbelters are currently on the voter registration rolls down 12.8% from 1975. Only 48% of the registered voters cast ballots in 1975, with the highest percentages turning out at the Center (51%) and North End (55%) precincts.

This year the Center precinct, which includes new residents from Greenbriar, Glen Oaks and Windsor Green, has 1,176 registered voters; the North End precinct, 1049 and Springhill Lake precinct 436.

If all five council members are elected on September 20, there will be an organizational meeting on Monday, September 26 at 7:30 p.m. (This meeting is set by charter.)

Upon being sworn in, the newly elected council members will choose the mayor. Although the charter is silent on this point, past councils have generally chosen the top vote-getter.

Questionnaire

As in the past, the city staff has prepared an informal non-binding questionnaire which will be made available at the polling places and is published in this week's News Review.

Biographies Castaldi

Richard Castaldi was elected to city council in 1973. He is currently mayor pro-tem. He is 33 years old, married and the father of three children. He graduated from High Point High School and is now attending the University of Maryland, majoring in business administration. As a member of City Council, he served on the Council of Governments Transportation Planning Board and in addition was a member of the Human Resources Policy Board. He was appointed to the Prince Georges County Citizens Advisory Committee for the Community Block Grant Fund.

Castaldi has been employed for over fourteen years at the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission, where he is Acting Supervisor in charge of the Information and Permits Section. He served on the Board of Directors of the MNCPPC Credit Union and is President of the MNCPPC Employee's Fund.

He is a member of the Greenbelt Jaycees. He was awarded a certificate by the Commissioner of the Maryland State Department of Health after taking an advanced training program offered by American Public Housing Authority. He completed a management training course at Georgia Tech in 1972.

Castaldi, a second generation Greenbelt, is a member of GHI, and resides at 11 V Ridge Road. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Castaldi, residents of Greenbelt for over 38 years.

Against Bullet Voting

Disappointingly, this year's city council race has only six candidates competing for the five council seats. These are the five incumbents and one relative newcomer to Greenbelt. We do not know whether this fact reflects a certain complacency, a lack of issues, or general apathy. Certainly the vigor and enthusiasm — and, indeed, controversy of past elections — are lacking in this one. This will probably be reflected in a low voter turn-out.

We hope however, that we are wrong. Council will be faced with a number of tough issues in the coming two years, the most important of which concerns the development of the Golden Triangle and the elusive Greenbelt Metro line. Each member elected to council needs to know that the citizens are behind him, that when he casts his vote he speaks for the majority of Greenbelters and not merely a handful who show up at the polls on September 20.

Because there are only six candidates in this race, one issue has emerged during these last few weeks. This is the question of who will be elected mayor. Traditionally the slot of mayor is filled by the person receiving the highest number of votes. The mayor of Greenbelt has the same powers other councilmen possess. However, he does become the spokesman for the council at the state and county level, as well as chairing the council meetings. He thus enjoys a place in the limelight not shared by other council members.

We feel that the position of mayor should indeed belong to whomever the majority of citizens endorse. For that reason we deplore the idea of "bullet" voting, voting for only one candidate in order to give that person the highest number of votes. This attempt to circumvent the system says, in effect, that the voters do not care who the other four members of council will be or that they wish to abrogate their choice to someone else. Admittedly, with only six candidates running, the voter's other four selections might be made for him anyway. However, a power struggle for the top position should not obliterate the fact that five people sit on the council and cast their votes equally.

We would also point out that if any of the candidates fail to receive forty per cent of the votes cast, a run-off is mandatory. And this would be an absurdity in a council race with only six candidates.

We urge the voter to cast a ballot for the total number of candidates he or she can honestly support; let's not turn this election into a narrow mayoral race.

Tanya Ohlson

Tanya Ohlson, age 62, died on September 2 at the Medical College of Virginia Hospital. A resident of the Springhill Lake Apartments in Greenbelt for 13 years, she offered her time and talents with enthusiasm wherever she was needed.

Mrs. Ohlson served as a Republican election judge in general elections and was a judge and election clerk during many Greenbelt elections. She was a party hostess for the Golden Agers, Girl Scout Troop Organizer, Teen Party chaperone, and was active in civic affairs.

A graduate of Cornell University and the Katherine Gibbs secretarial school in New York, she worked for 10 years in the public school system of Huntington, N.Y.

Mrs. Ohlson is survived by her husband Franz Ohlson, Jr., a daughter, Nancy K. Ohlson of Washington, D.C. and a brother, Frederick Kent of Geneva, Switzerland.

Her family requests that expressions of sympathy be made to an endowment fund established in the memory of Tanya Kunitzky Ohlson, Class of '38, Cornell University, Raymond Handlan, Ithaca, New York, 14853.

In Memory of Mrs. Ohlson

We are deeply saddened by the death of our lovely and dear friend Mrs. Tanya Ohlson. We offer our prayers and expressions of comfort to Tanya's husband Franz and her family. Tanya was a dedicated and tireless Girl Scout volunteer. She met everyone with a smile and an encouraging word. Words seem useless when it comes to expressing our love and admiration for Tanya. Her chair may be empty but our hearts will remain full of Tanya Ohlson.

THANKS

To the Editor:

The Boys and Girls Club would like to sincerely thank the members of the Greenbelt Garden Club who, after spending a long hot summer working and worrying over their gardens, then picking the best of their vegetables and spending three days at the Labor Day Festival selling raffle tickets on these vegetables, donated the proceeds of this raffle to the Boys and Girls Club for the use of Greenbelt's youth.

This donation is even more appreciated when you think of the work and care needed on their gardens because of this year's extremely hot dry summer.

Outgoing Council Winds Up Term With Catch All Meeting

by Sandra Barnes

As I was given this assignment by my friendly editor, I was told, "Look up one of Bob McGee's stories and write something humorous" for this last-city-council-meeting-of-the-year-before-the-election story. Bob could always add that particularly irreverent stroke to a meeting which was all light and no substance.

But as I sat in my straight-backed chair, wondering how come the press doesn't warrant a table and a more comfortable chair for all those hours we put in (endure?), not a whimsy popped into my head. This turned out to be a meeting with a seemingly endless number of resolutions, petitions and business matters to tidy up before work begins anew with the next council. And, as usual, council members ended the evening by patting each other on the back, burying any grievances they may have harbored, and generally agreeing that theirs had been a most hard-working and constructive city council. Indeed, Councilman Richard Pilski noted how every council member he had ever known in his seven terms on council had been a dedicated person, reflecting the wisdom of the voters, no doubt.

The Rev. Kenneth Buker also congratulated council, adding however that he felt future councils could do an even better job "if you get inspired—excited about the many things you have yet to do."

Buddy Attick to Retire

With regret, council received the news that the head of the Public Works Dept., Buddy Attick, will retire in October 1978 after forty years of service to the city of Greenbelt. Attick will then have reached age 65. Attick's letter to council, informing them of his decision, also expressed his enjoyment in working for Greenbelt from the time when it was being built by the federal government to the present. He has served under four city managers and numerous councils. Before joining the city work force at the age of 22, he lived on a farm near the present Greenbelt Junior High School. The farm burned in 1938.

Metro Petition

Having received a copy of the petition signed by a number of Greenbelters who were dissatisfied with the current schedule of buses connecting to Metro at the Stadium-Armory, council agreed to write to the County Council and to the Washington Metropolitan area Transit Authority reflecting these grievances.

In particular, the group is seeking more rush-hour express buses from Greenbelt to run straight into the District of Columbia and more buses connecting from the Stadium-Armory to Greenbelt in the evening. Councilman Tom White noted that if a person left work downtown at 5 p.m. and took the Metro to Stadium-Armory station, he could not make the express buses; he then arrived home by local bus some two hours later. From the audience, Mat Amberg also complained about the lack of telephones, rest room facilities and police protection for those left standing on the platform in the evening, waiting for their buses. Council's letter will stress the need for safety precautions as well as additional express buses.

Passed Unanimously . . .

Council unanimously passed the following: an ordinance requiring developers to construct streets 40 feet wide instead of 36 feet wide; a resolution to purchase pagers for the Greenbelt Fire Dept. to cost not more than $7,587; a resolution transferring $47,800 from a reserve account to the operating budget to provide for a salary increase for classified employees; a change in the by-laws of the Advisory Planning Board requiring that all their meetings be open to the public; a resolution to convert the Ridge Road Center property to an elderly housing facility and replace the space lost by acquiring 9.9 acres on Parcel 2; a resolution to begin condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of the acreage on parcel 2.

In addition, council agreed to subsidize the cost of the shuttle bus service from the Armory to the carnival area that was sponsored by the Labor Day Festival Committee. Council further stated that they would like to see the bus service continued next year and the route extended to include parts of North End, Boxwood, Greenbriar and Windsor Green.

Council approved the mural design depicting "Three Generations of Greenbelters" being painted on the Co-op wall under a grant from the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission, Arts Division. The mural is to be extended to the entire width of the building and there will be more colors than are currently visible. It is expected to take three to four weeks for completion.

Police Complaint

Council received a complaint from an irate citizen that Greenbelt police were ticketing cars on Greenbelt Road which were crossing over the solid white line and driving on the shoulder. The police had been notified of this problem by irate bicyclists driven off the shoulder by some motorists. Since Greenbelt Road is a state road, the city manager notified the department that Greenbelt police should not handle such traffic problems but should forward them to the State Police.

A Statement From

CHARLES F. SCHWAN

The preservation of Greenbelt's character and quality of life has been the major issue facing our city for nearly two decades. Over the years the city has taken its fight to the county, to the State and, when appropriate, to the courts. Our batting average has been high, but the good fight must be continued as we confront today's pressing problems which include:

● DEVELOPMENT OF THE GOLDEN TRIANGLE AND SPRINGHILL LAKE NORTH.

Both tracts are zoned for commercial use, the Triangle over the city's opposition — we took the case to court, but lost. Purchase of the Triangle appears to be out of the question. The cost would be not less than $5 million. A bond issue for such a sum would mean that the current tax rate would have to be increased to at least $1.71 from the current 99c. Council must continue to take the lead — indeed must increase its efforts — to ensure that development does not impact our community adversely.

● TRAFFIC FLOW IN THE KENILWORTH AVENUE/GREENBELT ROAD AREA, PARTICULARLY AS ADJACENT AREAS ARE DEVELOPED.

At present, traffic at this intersection is horrendous, particularly rush hour traffic. Plans call for one road to run under the other, but they are years away from completion. Traffic improvements should precede, not follow commercial development.

● INTERCONNECTION AMONG THE SEVERAL SECTIONS OF THE CITY.

Social and political integration of the city is impeded, if not made impossible, by multi-lane, divided highways (B-W Parkway, Beltway, Greenbelt Road, Kenilworth Avenue). They separate the city into seven distinct sections (Greenbriar and Eleanor Roosevelt High School, Windsor Green, "Old Greenbelt," Greenbelt Regional Park, Golden Triangle, Springhill Lake and Springhill Lake North). Ideally, one section should be connected to another by residential-type streets. At an absolute minimum, we should have pedestrian and bicycle access over or under major highways.

● COMPLETION OF METRO TO A GREENBELT TERMINAL.

The answer to Metro's many problems is not to be found in eliminating some lines, including the Greenbelt Line. Doing so would mean no relief from pollution, no improvement in traffic movements, no reduction in fuel use and more urban sprawl. Moreover, completion at a later date would mean even higher costs. The cost of not completing the system would exceed the cost of completing it.

These are issues on which there appears to be a consensus in our community. Unfortunately, the power of decision lies in county, State and Federal agencies. However, the city can and must try to influence decisions in the interests of Greenbelt citizens.

During my 24 years in our community, my energies have been devoted toward preserving our unique environment — chairman of the committee which advised the city to create the Advisory Planning Board, member of the Steering Committee of Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt, President of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., and Member of Council.

$75,000 BOND ISSUE REFERENDUM FOR FIRE STATION ADDITION

At the request of the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Inc., the City Council is proposing to issue up to $75,000 in bonds to finance the construction of an addition to the Greenbelt Fire Station. This bond issue should not affect city tax needs as the Fire Department has agreed to pay the cost of repaying the money borrowed plus interest expenses.

The Fire Station

The city built and owns the fire station building. It originally was leased to the Fire Department for $10.00 a year. However, in 1969 bonds were sold for the construction of an addition to provide for a social hall. Since then the Fire Department has paid sufficient rent to pay the cost of debt service on this addition. Now the Fire Department would like to see a smaller addition constructed to provide additional bunk room space and office space. (Some volunteers sleep in at the station each night in order to reduce the need to sound the siren to call volunteers for ambulance calls and to provide faster response.) Again, the Fire Department has agreed to pay sufficient rent to pay the cost of debt service for this new addition. The Fire Department is supported by funds received from Prince George's County and from various fund raising activities it conducts.

Ordinance Number 838

This ordinance authorizes the bond issue, subject to voter approval at referendum. Bonds sold may not exceed $75,000. The money can be borrowed for not more than 25 years. The proceeds of the bond sale are to be used only for paying the cost of a fire station addition, the expenses involved in selling the bonds, and — if any money is left over — for repaying the money borrowed.

The ordinance requires the city to enter into a revised lease with the Fire Department prior to selling the bonds, with the lease providing rent sufficient to pay the debt service on the bonds. Therefore, this bond issue should not be a tax burden on the city. However, the full faith and credit of the city will be pledged to repay the bonds, and — in the unlikely event the Fire Department fails to pay its rent — the city would have to pay for the cost of debt service from other funds. Of course, the city will still own the building which is a valuable asset worth far more than the outstanding debt.

Why Doesn't the Fire Department Borrow the Money?

First of all, the building is owned by the city. For the Fire Department to borrow the money it would have to mortgage a building it doesn't own. Second, the city as a municipal corporation with taxing authority can sell bonds for a much lower rate of interest than can the Fire Department thereby reducing the cost of borrowing funds.

Why a Bond Referendum?

The City Charter requires that before a bond issue of the kind provided by Ordinance No. 838 can be authorized, it must be approved by a majority of the voters at a referendum election.

Will this Issue Affect the City's Ability to Borrow Funds for Other Purposes?

As of September 1, the city has $1,030,500 in outstanding bonds payable until 1990. Our Charter limits the total bonded debt to not more than 10% of assessed valuation. Presently, this limit would amount to $8,608,613, and the city could borrow an additional $7,503,113 besides the $75,000 bond issue proposed for the fire station construction. It is unlikely that the city would ever consider borrowing that much money as the additional tax burden that would be imposed on the residents would be more than the City Council or the voters at referendum would be willing to accept.

NOTE: A copy of Ordinance No. 838 may be obtained at the office of the City Clerk at the City Offices, 25 Crescent Road, Greenbelt, Maryland. For further information concerning this referendum, please contact either the City Clerk, the City Manager, or the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Inc.

This statement has been prepared by the city staff in order to provide the voters with information concerning the referendum question.

RE-ELECT

GREENBELT CITY COUNCIL

SEPTEMBER 20

"Outstanding Municipal Official of Prince George's County - 1976-1977" award presented by the Prince George's Municipal Association.

A MESSAGE TO GREENBELT RESIDENTS FROM MAYOR GIL WEIDENFELD

Greenbelt is the third largest city in Prince George's County and the tenth largest in the State and, therefore, should exercise a leadership position on County and State levels. This leadership is needed to get and keep Greenbelt's problems before County and State legislators.

I believe that one of Greenbelt's major problems is tax inequity. Not only are our property taxes too high, but, in addition, Greenbelt's citizens are not getting a fair distribution of the income taxes they pay to the County and the State.

During the past four years, I have been very active in County and State municipal organizations working for Greenbelt. As a result of my active concern, I was elected president in 1976 of the Prince George's Municipal Association and in 1977 to the Board of Directors of the Maryland Municipal League (MML), a state-wide municipal organization. In these roles, I have been able to promote Greenbelt's interests on the County and State levels. I have been in the forefront of the successful efforts of these organizations in getting County and State legislation passed that will provide some tax relief for Greenbelters. However, much more needs to be done. Even at this time of the summer, I have been attending meetings with the Board of Directors and the Legislative Action Committee of the MML to formulate proposed legislation for tax relief.

While these meetings are a heavy burden on my time, they do not reduce my total effort on other problems the City faces. Indeed, during my six years on the City Council, I have never missed a single meeting. Also, my door and phone are always open to receive your comments and complaints. The many residents who have contacted me know that I have been responsive to their concerns and have always made an immediate effort to take action on their problems. In addition, I have often taken time off from my regular job to represent the City or to be present at hearings or special meetings with County, State or Federal officials.

I have worked hard toward making Greenbelt a better community and having Greenbelt recognized as a leader on County and State levels. Now I need your help to continue this work and I ask for your support on September 20 for a good Greenbelt government and a better tax break for Greenbelters.

Sincerely,

Gil Weidenfeld

Registered Voters Interviewed During Labor Day Festival

by Barbara Likowski

"The most interesting thing about the election is the lack of interest in it," according to one Greenbelt citizen who was interviewed by a News Review reporter at the Labor Day Festival. Although several other Greenbelters agreed with this man, reporters found that the largest number of those queried were concerned with the Golden (Greenbelt) Triangle, the quality of life in Greenbelt, development and land use, the traffic situation and the Greenbelt Lake Park.

Because the News Review survey was not done scientifically, the results gleaned by reporters cannot be taken as a true picture of the way citizens in the city feel about the issues mentioned. However, it does show concerns some Greenbelters have about their city. Between 50 and 60 Greenbelters were questioned as they attended the festival. Only those who professed to be registered to vote in the city elections were interviewed. The reporters attempted to query people from different areas of the city and from different age groups. Unfortunately few younger people (18-early 20's) were interviewed because of the inability of reporters to meet registered voters in this age group. Those questioned were asked what they thought were the most important issues in Greenbelt today and what would be issues in the future. Their answers do not reflect the opinions of the News Review staff.

Golden Triangle

About 40% of those questioned were concerned with the Golden Triangle, the commercial aspects of the proposed building on it as well as the traffic congestion that many feared would result from the added number of vehicles using the intersection at Greenbelt Rd.-Kenilworth Ave. Others mentioned traffic problems in the city itself which they felt would be generated by those people who did not want to risk using the Greenbelt Rd.-Kenilworth intersection and also traffic problems resulting from the traffic overflow from other development in the area. One citizen pointed out the potential pollution problem that could occur, saying that he and his family tried to eat well, get enough sleep, etc., but had no control over the air they breathed. Two others reacted to the traffic situation with a hope that a safe way could be found for people to walk to Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High School. One man would like the police to keep skateboarders off the streets.

Besides development on the Golden Triangle, other development and land use in the area were cited by 27% of those answering as being major problems. A few mentioned keeping it green.

Quality of Life

The quality of life in Greenbelt was of primary importance to about 35% of those interviewed with people wanting to keep the "homey" atmosphere and "community" feeling of the city. One saying, "I love it." Several were concerned about finding ways to integrate the newer sections of the city and binding the different sections together into a community. Other concerns mentioned were: keeping it possible for people to walk around the city, that is, including planning for walkways in all new building programs; working towards and planning for the elimination of discrimination of those of different races, and, one woman wanted a definite policy about housing discrimination against those people who choose to live together, though not married to one another. Only one woman disliked the idea that people lived so close together and were, she felt, so isolated from Washington. She planned to move.

Lake Park

Although only about 15% of those asked mentioned the lake park as a major concern, those who talked about the park generally tended to have strong feelings about it. Parking at the lake was seen to be a continuing problem, as was overuse and lack of proper maintenance. One woman advocated charging non-residents for parking on weekends as she said she had discovered that non-county residents had to pay at regional parks on weekends.

Apathy

If the number of people who seemed not interested or could not note a major issue were added to those who cited voter apathy and those who felt there was poor communication between the city and voters - that would amount to about 30% of those interviewed

Some of those concerned about Greenbelt did not see their concerns as being actual election issues.

There are a few voters who felt that communications between the city and citizens was not good. One man said, "We feel so helpless." A couple noted that in other years candidates came to their door & discussed issues, so far this year none had come. One man even suggested that the city communicate directly with citizens and not leave it up to the News Review. He felt that the News Review did not give enough information

Council

There were some indications that people felt council was doing a good job (about 8%) but as one woman put it, "There's always room for improvement" A man pointed out that being on council was a part time job and we got what we paid for. He added quickly that he was pleased with council and thought they did well. A positive suggestion from one woman advocated that the election be used to educate voters, get across to them that it's up to us (citizens) to go down to County Council (to protest overdevelopment, etc), that city council couldn't do it alone. Another said we should get someone on council "who knows what the people want." Still another remarked that he would like to see other areas of the city represented on council. (He suggested for example, a ticket containing 2 from GHI, 2 from Springhill Lake and 1 from University Square.)

Misc.

Other areas of concern were parkland ranging from more, to all we can get, to none (better maintenance of what we have); elderly housing; subway to Greenbelt; and a concern with youth and use of drugs. (Also contributing to this story was Mary Lou Williamson).

3. Construction of METRO (Rapid Rail Transit)

Portions of the Metro system are now operating. However, there are many people who question whether the entire 98-mile system should be built. One line in jeopardy is the line to Greenbelt. Some people propose terminating it at Prince George's Plaza or Fort Totten. The State Highway Administration is pressuring for it to be relocated to end at I-95 and the Beltway. Increased construction costs and estimates of greater operating deficits will necessitate Prince George's County and other local governments increasing their contributions to Metro unless additional funds from new taxes, the State or Federal Government are obtained. Some people advocate increasing the gasoline tax or allocating part of the existing tax for funding Metro.

Please express your opinion about the following statements:

- a. I now use Metro regularly Yes No
- b. I expect to use Metro regularly when completed Yes No
- c. Additional funds should be raised to complete the Metro system Agree Disagree

- d. A portion of the gasoline tax should be used to help finance Metro Agree Disagree
- e. Metro should be constructed to terminate between Greenbelt Road and the Beltway near the B&O tracks as is now planned Agree Disagree
- f. Instead of the original plan, Metro should be constructed to I-95 at the Beltway Agree Disagree
- g. Instead of constructing Metro to Greenbelt, commuter rail service on the B&O should be improved Agree Disagree
- h. Instead of constructing Metro, better bus service should be provided Agree Disagree
- i. Instead of constructing Metro, additional highway construction should be undertaken Agree Disagree

4. Additional Services
