More Unknown Drainage Pipes Found on Elderly Housing Site

by Beth Wilkinson

The Elderly Housing project will be costing an additional $5,575, because of unforeseen drainage problems, but this additional cost may be offset if the Federal Government approves a Prince Georges County Neighborhood Strategy Area proposal, (NSA), which would provide funds for the improvement of Ridge Road including a sidewalk.

During construction, concealed storm drain outlets were discovered on the Elderly Housing property, making it necessary to provide for the permanent drainage of this water from outlets on the east side of the property to a large drain channel at the southwest corner.

The City Council decided at its regular July meeting to build a permanent underground system to these outlets, connecting them to the planned drainage system around the Housing project.

This means laying an additional one hundred and thirty feet of pipe and increasing the size of the storm pipes to handle the increased drainage.

City Manager James Giese was directed by the city council to make the necessary Community Development Administration (CDA) contract changes.

Prince Georges County has submitted a Neighborhood Strategy Area application (NSA) on behalf of Greenbelt Homes and the city to Housing and Urban Department which in part provides for the improvement of Ridge Road in the area of the housing project. If approved, $3,998 could be cut from the project - because the contractor would not have to improve the Ridge Road area. This work would be financed with money from the NSA grant.

But at this time there is no word as to whether or not HUD will approve the application. Therefore council deferred a motion to cut the Ridge Road improvements, and sidewalk building. Council hopes that the HUD decision will come before the sidewalk work must be initiated under the CDA contract. Mayor Richard Pilski expressed concern that the taxpayers not end up footing the bill. He said this could happen if the work were deleted from the CDA contract in expectation of NSA funding, and the funding did not come through.

Compost Plant Proposed in P.G. County Local Communities Asked For Support

by Linda Orenstein

After a painstaking review of more than 25 agenda items, at 12 midnight on July 10, Council heard the presentation of Robert Picardat, Vice President of DANO Resource Recovery Inc. DANO produces compost from solid waste and sludge at a number of locations around the world. The company wants to build a plant at the south end of 52nd Ave., a site bordered on the east by the Baltimore-Washington Parkway; on the south by the Anacostia River; and on the west by Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission. According to Picardat, the County Council has stated that this issue is up to the people of the surrounding communities. He asked for Greenbelt's support in the form of a letter to the County. Brentwood has already given its support to the project; Bladensburg leans toward it; and Cheverly has refused its backing.

If constructed, the plant, which would not be too far from the Blue Plains Sewage Treatment Plant, would be the largest in the world. Most other compost plants are small and owned by municipalities. Some 900 tons of trash plus 900 tons of sludge would be combined daily to undergo a process which would produce a total of 720 tons of compost; 250,000 tons of compost a year. The transformation, considered by Dano to be a safe process, would take place in an enclosed environment, adhering to specific guidelines. If the compost is marketable, the company could realize profits, selling the product in 50 lb. bags. Picardat pointed to advantages for Greenbelt in the reduction of hauling costs for trash disposal because of the plant's proximity, thereby lowering truck maintenance costs and also saving time. The site is not close to anything and is zoned properly for that function.

Council questioned Picardat about the facility and indicated that if the cost to dispose of trash were lower than using a landfill and if the plant were operating with required sanctions and the approval of other neighboring communities, it might interest Greenbelt. The matter is now being reviewed by Council.

Lease Accepted

Council voted to accept an interim amendment to the lease with the Fire Department which stipulates a $5000 rent increase until formal lease arrangements are concluded. In response to a motion made by Councilman Weidenfeld, Council accepted a bid proposal from Chasco Corporation in the amount of $71,000 for the construction of the Fire House addition. The financing of the addition is expected to exceed the bond issue of $75,000. The estimated cost of the project will be at least $83,500. A short-term general fund loan to the Fire House Addition Fund will bridge the gap between the bond issue and the projected cost, with repayment to be drawn from the $9500 per year rent.

Lake Park Priorities

The topic of Lake Park improvements continues to be a focus of Council's attention. In accordance with a city staff request of the Soil Conservation Service that a sediment control survey be done of the Lake Park area, Council has deferred action until this report is received. City Manager James Giese indicated that the report would be forthcoming within a reasonable period of time. The matter of soil erosion stressed in the plan prepared by the students of the University of Maryland remains a concern to Council. It was generally agreed that erosion control is a necessary first step in the Park's rehabilitation. When the sediment control report is issued, the park crew will begin the task of reestablishing grass in the eroded areas. Councilman Charles Schwan suggested that rip-rap material (pieces of flat stone to be used on a bank) which has already been budgeted for, be used on the lake shore, but no decision to do so has yet been made.

4-H Exchangers Welcomed

The Gene Marie Brown and Daniel Dambrauskas families of Greenbelt and Joan McFarland, formerly of Greenbelt, are hosting 4-Hers from Trinidad-Tobago through August 12. These 4-Hers are on a 4-H exchange program with Prince Georges County. They financed their trip by opening the first general store in their village in Tobago where they sold their 4-H projects and other items of use to the community. Prior to the opening of the store, the villagers had to travel fourteen miles to purchase their goods. Next summer 4-Hers from Prince Georges County will see this store when they visit their new friends from Tobago.

Joint Installation Held At Greenbelt Legion

A joint installation of officers of the Greenbelt Post and Unit No. 136-American Legion and Auxiliary Department of Maryland was held on Saturday evening, June 21. Three hundred and fifty guests attended the installation at the post home on Greenbelt Road. Rev. Monsignor William O'Donnell of St. Hugh's church delivered the Invocation.

Past president of the auxiliary Linda M. Newsome turned over her gavel to Greenbelter Leslie B. Tanenbaum. Tanenbaum, who was listed in the Melrose Press Two Thousand Women of Achievement and the 1973 Who's Who of American Women, has served as publication editor for the U.S. Department of Agriculture and national technical editor for Biological Sciences. She has also contributed to other publications.

For the Legion, Herbert Rosenberg of Silver Spring was installed Commander of Greenbelt Post and Unit No. 136 by the outgoing Commander J. Eugene Sparks.

Distinguished guests included Mayor Richard R. Pilski and his wife Claire and State Senator Edward Conroy and his wife Mary.

Outstanding Citizen

Who will succeed Greenbelters Al Cousin, Al and Elaine Skolnik, Henry Fisher, Reverend Kenneth Baker, and Leo Gerton as the recipient of Greenbelt's annual Outstanding Citizen Award? Additional nominations are needed for this year's award, sponsored by the Labor Day Festival Committee. Individuals or groups may nominate any person who has provided service benefiting the Greenbelt community, and who also meets the following criteria: (1) must be a Greenbelt resident, (2) current elected officials and candidates for political office may not be considered, (3) a city employee may not be nominated for services for which he/she is salaried.

Nominations, which should include a detailed description of services rendered to Greenbelt by the nominee, should be submitted in writing to Linda Shevitz, 9004 Breezewood Terrace, Greenbelt by August 3. For further information call 345-9358.

Commission Hears Testimony From Condominium Owners

by Linda Orenstein

On July 12, the Maryland Commission on Condominiums held a hearing at the Greenbelt Library to air concerns and problems of condominium owners in this area of the state. It was the fifth such meeting. Others have been held earlier in Columbia, Towson, Ocean City, and Rockville. Unit owners attended from condominiums in Silver Hill, Largo, Oxon Hill and Seat Pleasant, as well as from Greenbelt.

In 1977, the General Assembly passed a resolution creating the Commission, which was later appointed by Acting Governor Blair Lee III. The panel, consisting of two condominium owners, two state department heads, four state legislators, two bankers, two developers and a lawyer, was given the job of examining the condominium industry, its developmental problems in the areas of conversion, construction and sales; condominium management and operations. The Commission will report its findings to the 1979 General Assembly and the Governor with recommendations for remedial legislation. Following that presentation the Commission will be dissolved.

Testimony Given

Testimony was presented at the July 12 meeting by eight concerned condo residents - James F. McIntyre, Jr. President of the National Capital Condominium Federation, gave a comprehensive picture of common condominium problems and suggested possible solutions. Complaints range from unacceptable behavior, pet problems, owner apathy, too high a proportion of rental units and absentee owners to the inconsistency of bylaws with the law, financial problems arising from delinquent condominium fees and difficulties in selling units. McIntyre noted the lack of owner responsibility toward themselves and the community, and the failure of communication in the relationship of condominium owners to their Board of Directors. He advocated the creation of a condominium control board, and monetary punishment for failure to adhere to the established guidelines. He suggested modifications of the present Horizontal Property Act, which requires 75% of the co-owners to vote on changes in the bylaws. Rampant non-attendance at meetings, he noted, makes it difficult to enact constructive measures.

Although McIntyre's speech had encompassed many points, other speakers made observations. Nancy Hindman, president of the Board of Charlestowne Village Condominiums in Greenbelt, stressed that if condominiums are to become a viable concept, the state must assist in their development. She stated that small budgets allowed by developers and unrealistically low condominium fees create a bad beginning for first owners and make it hard for the condominium to get off to a good start.

A Takoma Park resident proposed that money be held in escrow for the eventual rehabilitation or tearing down of condominium communities when it would become necessary. He felt that practical planning for the future would prevent the decay of communities and the further decline of the cities.

Statements Solicited

Roy Schiller, a member of the Commission representing the financial community, observed that condominiums are homes that are not homes - a combination of apartment and house dwelling - and that such a combination is difficult. The consensus was that buyers are not properly informed about what they're getting into and may not understand the subtleties of the documents presented to them. Most present agreed that legislation is needed to make condominiums a more acceptable idea, and that the public should be made aware of the need for some sort of regulatory body. Someone suggested that it is impractical to use state funds to this end, there is the possibility of taxing condominium units $1 per year to fund such an administrative arm.

The Commission on Condominiums held its last hearing in Annapolis on July 19, but urges all citizens who would like to give testimony to submit their written statements to the State of Maryland Commission on Condominiums, P.O. Box 6278, Aspen Hill, Maryland 20906. Chairman Richard Arkin stated that each commissioner will receive a copy of written material, and that every grievance brought to their attention is a vote for constructive measures to be taken.

School Registration Urged

Prince Georges County school officials are appealing to new county residents and those who have moved within the county with school-age children to register their youngsters for school as soon as possible. This will help both the student and the school in finding out if he or she needs any special placement consideration or special services. Decisions on how many teachers and other staff members are assigned to a school are based on the number of students expected to attend that school in the fall.

New residents who are not sure where their children should be enrolled may find out by calling the school system at 952-4390. Before going to a school to register, parents should call the individual school first, to determine summer office hours. Telephone numbers for schools are listed under Prince Georges County Public Schools, in the white pages of the Maryland Suburbs telephone directory.

When registering a child in a county school for the first time, the child's immunization record, proof of age (preferably birth certificate) and legal proof of residence (such as settlement papers, rental contract, lease, etc.) are required.

Golden Age Sidewalk Sale

Greenbelt Accepts Softball Challenge

Greenbelt's Mayor Dick Pilski recently received and accepted an invitation from Laurel's Mayor Bob DiPietro to participate in a Municipal Softball Game. Laurel's challenge read in part, "It has been brought to my attention that Greenbelt has a rather second rate softball team that with the proper encouragement, may become brave enough to compete against Laurel's CHAMPION Municipal Softball Team . . . If you are interested in a game, and if you can convince your team the embarrassment of defeat can be lived with, we invite you to bring your team to Laurel."

This prompted the following response from Mayor Pilski in the traditional Greenbelt spirit, "Greenbelt has never shied from a challenge - nor will it this time! We accept your challenge to a softball game, which is a disguise for Greenbelt to thrash Laurel!"

Greenbelt's Mayor and City Council will be joined by employees of all City departments for this challenge match. The game is scheduled for Saturday, July 29 at 1 p.m. on Laurel's American Legion Field, located at #1 Main Street in Laurel.

All Greenbelters are invited to accompany the home team to Laurel to share in the invitation and lend resident support. An afternoon of fun for players and spectators alike is anticipated. In addition, arrangements are being coordinated to benefit the American Cancer Society through individual contributions at the game.

Hearings on Proposed Consumer Protection

Four Prince Georges Councilmen are proposing that the Consumer Protection Commission be given more clout in dealing with merchants who flagrantly break the law and disregard the commission's rulings. To this end they have scheduled for public hearing two measures which significantly strengthen the commission. The hearing will be held on August 1 at 2 p.m.

One measure, sponsored by Councilmen Francis W. White, Frank P. Casula, Floyd E. Wilson, Jr., and Francis B. Francois, would allow the commission to impose civil penalties up to $1000 against merchants who have chalked up a pattern of consumer fraud, instead of the present cease and desist orders and the requirement that merchants make good on certain product defects.

A pattern of consumer fraud would have to be proven by two or more violations of the county's consumer protection law within the past year.

The legislation stipulates that the commission is to consider a merchant's history of violations before imposing the fine. Additionally, the commission must consider the gravity of the violations, a merchant's efforts at cooperation and the ratio of violations to business activity.

A second measure, set for public hearing at the same time, would, for the first time, include implied warranties as part of the commission's jurisdictions. The bill is sponsored by White and Wilson.

If enacted, both bills would become effective March 1, 1979.

To The Editor:
 The Greenbelt News Review does not like to print my letters and just ignored my last one. However, I feel constrained to answer their editorial tidbit "The Silly Season?" Journalism students would do well to realize, if they intend to follow the profession of journalism, the importance of words (semantics if you please). One word can do more damage than a bullet—take the two simple ones, "yes" and "no". The wrong one can destroy man, nation, universe.

For my part, it is a comfort to know that my local government examines carefully every document presented to it for approval.

Bettie G. Denson
 (Editor's Note: We did not ignore your letter, Mrs. Denson. We did not print it because we could not understand it. It is the only letter of yours that we have not printed.)

Cormack-Derrington

Holy Trinity Episcopal Church was the setting for the exchange of marital vows between Dolores T. Cormack of Seabrook, Maryland, and Darrell B. Derrington of Woodbridge, Virginia, on Saturday July 15.

Dolores spent the first five years of her life in Greenbelt. Her devoted grandparents, "Mac" and Wilma Cormack were long time residents of Greenbelt, "Mac" serving as the last Government Administrator of the PHA operated town of Greenbelt.

Holly Cormack, sister of the bride from Salisbury, N.C., was one of the bridesmaids. One of the special features during the ceremony was her reading of I Corinthians 13. Charles Cormack III, the brother of the bride was an usher.

The couple spent their honeymoon at St. Croix and plan to settle in Woodbridge, Virginia.

Firecracker Softball Champions

Pictured above are the Champions of the Men's and Women's Firecracker Softball Tournaments. Both tournaments were extremely exciting as each championship team came through the loser's bracket to win it all.

In the Women's Tournament, National Bus defeated Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department in two straight games 0-2 and 8-4.

In the Men's Tournament, the Greenbelt American Legion team defeated Hogan's Heroes in two straight games 14-12 and 14-9.

Greenbelt, Major Richard R. Pilski, was on hand to present trophies at both tournaments. The Recreation Department extends its congratulations to both National Bus and Greenbelt American Legion.

Del. Green Endorses Pilski For State Delegate Race

Mayor Richard Pilski's campaign for the House of Delegates has been endorsed by Delegate Leo Green, candidate for the Democratic nomination for the State Senate in the 24th Legislative District. Green's endorsement came on July 24 when he announced the formation of a "New Team for New Leadership" in the Maryland Assembly. Another candidate tapped for the team is Bowie civic leader and housewife, Joan Pitkin, also running for the House of Delegates.

Green said, "The purpose of a primary is to let the voters decide who will be on the ballot for them in November. A primary should be a completely open process, with candidates campaigning on their merits, not on the strength of appointment by the so-called Democrats '78."

The team concept, Green said, is based on mutual respect and support and allows "each of us independently to offer certain strengths to bring a new, fresh and vigorous leadership . . ." "Dick Pilski," he said, "is an expert on, and an advocate of municipalities, with strong fiscal experience."

The three will be distributing joint literature and appearing together at a variety of events around the district.

Conroy Urges Nutrition Programs for Greenbelt

A letter has been sent to Dr. Matthew Tayback, Director of the Office of Aging for the State of Maryland by State Senator Edward T. Conroy (Dem. 24th) urging his approval and the necessary funding for the implementation of a Nutrition Program for senior citizens in Greenbelt. Conroy had been contacted earlier by the Greenbelt Golden Age Club concerning the proposal.

In the letter Conroy stated that, "Greenbelt has a population of over 500 Senior Citizens. They have the Center and facilities required to start the program without additional costs that other towns in the County have needed. They have 25 volunteers."

Green in Greenbelt

Leo Green, member of the House of Delegates and candidate for the Democratic nomination for the State Senate, spoke to a meeting of the Greenbelt Jaycees on July 18, at the Springhill Lake Recreation Center, where he presented the club with a Maryland state flag.

He told the group that he intends to introduce legislation which would ease the property tax for homeowners by returning new state lottery profits to the local subdivisions, including the city of Greenbelt. At present, he said, all net proceeds from the lottery go into the state's general fund. In 1977, the state received $58,640,966 in profits from the lottery, contributing to a surplus which made the "tax relief package" passed by the 1978 General Assembly possible. Green says that this is just one step toward real tax reform.

Democrats '78
Re-elect Senator Ed Conroy
Senator Ed Conroy is a loyal democrat, who is always available to help citizens regardless of their political beliefs. He has been active in opening up the political and governmental processes of the Maryland Legislature for the past 16 years. He has been a sponsor and strong supporter of such laws as the Common Cause 'Sunshine Law' which opened up all meetings of public bodies in Maryland. So, Ed Conroy is a good democrat who believes in good government and who believes strongly that politics and government are two institutions which need a lot of sunshine to survive. That's why I urge all my fellow democrats to support Senator Conroy for re-election as the Senator of the 24th Legislative District in the primary election on Tuesday, September 12th.

Tips To Make Homes Burglar Resistant

The Police Department needs resident's help and cooperation in order to protect their property, and would appreciate it if they noted the following suggestions when they leave their houses.

A "Lived-in" Look

The first step is to give the vacant house a 'lived-in' look. This means to make it appear that some one is home. While a resident is away, he should make arrangements to have the lawn mowed, handbills and circulars picked up, the sidewalk swept. Mail should be forwarded or held at the post office. Milk, newspaper and other deliveries should be cancelled so they don't accumulate on the doorstep.

Light is one of the burglar's worst enemies. He hates to work in a lighted place and when house lights are left on, he will believe someone is home. But, if the same light is burning night and day, this is a tip-off that no one is there. An automatic timer should be used to turn lights on at dusk and off at bedtime. A good idea is to have one timer-controlled light downstairs, or in the living room and another, with a later "turn-off" time, in the bedrooms. Outside lights at the front door and in the yard are also good prowler-chasers and should also be timer-controlled to turn off at bed time. Window shades and blinds should be left partly open, not tightly closed. Closed blinds mean an empty house and also allow an intruder to move about freely, once inside, without fear of being seen.

"Buttoning-up"

"Buttoning-up" the house means closing up every possible entrance. Strong locks should be placed on all doors, particularly rear or side doors which can not easily be watched. A lock with the "dead lock" feature is good; that is, one with a bolt that cannot be pushed back by a knife blade or thin strip of celluloid. If a door has a glass panel which could be broken to allow access to the inside lock, the owner should be sure to use one which can be opened only with a key. Windows also should be locked and screens securely fastened from the inside. Garage doors should be closed and locked for several reasons. An open door and empty garage is a tip-off that no one is home. Also, the garage may contain tools, ladders, etc., which could be stolen or used to break into the house. Basement windows are frequently over-looked but could admit prowlers if not locked. And, everyone should be sure to USE the locks.

Reduce Risk

If a resident's home is burglarized while he or she is away, it should be made sure that there is very little to steal. To reduce the possible loss, one should keep jewelry, cash, securities and other valuable items in a safe deposit box. An up-to-date list of appliances, tools and other property, including serial numbers or other identifying marks should be maintained. This will help the police in locating any stolen items which the thieves may try to sell.

Tell the Right People

Finally, the Police department should be told when residents are leaving, where they will be, and when they will return. The police will then check their homes at frequent intervals during their absence. It is also a good idea to notify one trusted neighbor and to leave a key with them in case of emergency. One shouldn't tell every one in the neighborhood, however, and the local newspaper shouldn't be allowed to publish a notice of a trip in advance.

By following these tips, the chances of being burglarized will be greatly reduced.
