Hearing Before PG Zoning Examiner

by Elaine Skolnik

The Prince Georges County Zoning Examiner will consider the rezoning application for Parcels 3 and 4 (A-9329) on Wednesday, April 30 at 9 a.m. The hearing will be held in the County Administration Building, Room 1040, in Upper Marlboro. The case will be heard by either Barry Cramp or Richard Romine, zoning hearing examiners.

On March 27, the majority of the Prince Georges County Planning Board recommended disapproval of a rezoning petition for townhouses (R-T) on the parcels and adopted the findings (see next column) of its technical staff, which called instead for detached single family homes (R-80). The board's action concurred with that of the Greenbelt City Council, Citizens for Greenbelt, and Greenbelt Homes, Inc. All three groups also recommend single family dwellings for both parcels, which are presently zoned rural-residential (R-R).

The tracts concerned are located between Greenbelt Homes, Inc. property and the northern border of Greenbelt. Parcel 3, on the east side, has 2.9 acres; Parcel 4, on the west side, has 7.4 acres.

According to the 1970 adopted Master Plan for College Park-Greenbelt & Vicinity, R-80 zoning is proposed for Parcel 3 and R-T for Parcel 4. Planning Board member Ann Shoch, who did not go along with the board's recommendation, felt sufficient evidence was not presented to justify changing the 1970 Master Plan.

The technical staff could find no "particular rationale" why townhouses were proposed for Parcel 4. The applicant's attorney did not believe anyone knew why R-80 was recommended for Parcel 3. City Manager James K. Giese believes Parcel 4 was "overlooked" when the county commissioners in the mid-sixties remanded the original Master Plan to the Planning Board for a reduction in densities from what had been previously proposed in the Greenbelt area (See Master Plan history, page 4.)

Factors to be weighed in considering the proposed rezoning include: (1) the Master Plan's land use recommendations for the parcels, and (2) whether a mistake was made in the original zoning map or a change has occurred since then in the character of the neighborhood to justify rezoning. Impact of the proposed zoning on adjacent properties, the surrounding neighborhood and public facilities and its compatibility with existing and proposed development for the area must also be considered.

Hearing

The rezoning petition, together with the Planning Board and technical staff recommendations and reports is now in the hands of the Zoning Hearing Examiner. At the formal public hearing next Wednesday, April 30 at 9 a.m., the applicant (Burton J. Reiner, Theodore N. Lerner and H. Max Ammerman, Trustees) will make a presentation, probably to include testimony by witnesses. Those opposing will then be given an opportunity to question the applicant on the testimony. Next the opposition will be heard, followed by interrogation by the applicant.

There is no set time requirement for the zoning examiner to send his findings to the District Council, but usually such proceedings take from 30 to 60 days. The final decision on the petition will be made by the District Council (County Council). Any decision by the District Council not agreeing with the recommendations of Greenbelt's City Council would require a super majority, or eight votes out of 11.

Persons wishing to speak who are not parties of record may register at the hearing. For more information call 952-3644.

Findings on Parcels 3 & 4

1. The R-80 Zone (single family detached) is consistent with the recommendations of the Adopted and Approved Master Plan for College Park-Greenbelt and Vicinity (November 1970) which specifically recommends R-80 zoning for Parcel "3", of the subject property.

2. Although the Master Plan recommends R-T zoning for Parcel "4", the physical and zoning changes in the neighborhood do not support rezoning the properties to the R-T Zone. However, these changes in the neighborhood support rezoning the properties to a single-family detached classification.

3. Although the existing R-R Zone is consistent with the zoning surrounding the properties on three sides, it is not consistent with the attached and detached single-family development patterns in the area.

4. Although the R-55 Zone is a viable alternative for the subject sites, the Master Plan does not recommend R-55 zoning for the sites and in fact recommends the R-80 for the vast majority of the remaining vacant land in the area including a portion of the subject properties.

5. Development of the parcels in the R-T Zone, considering their size and shape, will not appropriately reflect the intent of the R-T Zone as described in the Zoning Ordinance.

6. The R-80 Zone is the only zone which substantially conforms to the Master Plan recommendations, the change in the character of the neighborhoods and the existing character of surrounding development.

7. There is a need to provide a proper balance of housing types in a planned community that reflects consideration of the unique and historic character of the community; and to implement the continuing integrity of the planned design of land uses through the zoning process.

May 4 Ride-A-Bike Features Awards

The annual Greenbelt RIDE-A-BIKE for the RETARDED will be held on Sunday, May 4 with rain date set for Sunday, May 18. Starting time is 11 a.m. and the event will continue until sundown.

Greenbelt's 10-mile, round-trip route will begin at the Youth Center and run through the city into the Research Farm and back as in previous years. The route can be repeated or shortened as each rider wishes. Last year's event included several 100 mile riders and family groups. It is hoped the number of these special participants will increase this year.

Members of the Washington Capitals Organization will participate in the Greenbelt Ride-A-Bike for the Retarded on Sunday, May 4 and will bring with them an assortment of souvenirs from the hockey team for distribution to the other riders.

Another feature of this year's event will be the awarding of a special trophy donated by McDonald's to the organization or club bringing in the most money in pledges. Local groups are encouraged to adopt the Ride-A-

Bike project and compete as a group for this award.

Other specials include the awarding of a bicycle to the elementary school student and the junior/senior high students bringing in the most money in their respective age groups; the awarding of a trophy to the elementary school student and the junior/senior high student riding the most miles in their individual age groups; and recognition of the adult with the most pledge money and the most mileage.

The RIDE-A-BIKE is cosponsored by the Greenbelt Recreation Department and the Prince Georges County Association for Retarded Citizens for the benefit of programs for the retarded in the county.

Pledge forms are available at the city recreation centers, the library and area schools. For additional information, call one of the committee members: Eileen Labukas, 474-9486; Dorothy Davis, 474-9125; Winnie Pibbs, 474-4031; Eleanor Knight, 474-1196; or Donna Fluke, 345-1276.

Participants may bike or hike—or support a rider/walker with a pledge.

Loss of 15 Parking Spaces

by Leta Mach

A new issue was generated by a citizen complaint at the April 21 meeting of the Greenbelt City Council. David Goodkind, a resident of the Crescent Square Apartments, explained that just two days before, after only a short notice for the apartment residents, no parking fire-lane signs had been posted on the service road which had provided parking for years. This action resulted in the loss of almost fifteen parking places in front of the building.

City Manager James K. Giese explained that he had first heard about the matter that evening from Goodkind. Council directed the city staff to look into the problem and asked the citizen, who had appeared to leave their names so they could be contacted after more information was known.

In response to an inquiry from the News Review, the property manager for Weaver Brothers, owners of the building, reported that they had been sent a notice to post fire lanes by the Bureau of Fire Prevention of the Prince Georges County government. They had been given only 15 days to carry out the order. A spokesperson for the Bureau of Fire Prevention explained that new regulations had expanded the fire lanes. She explained that the fire departments feel more room is needed for fire lanes, especially because of a greater incidence of apartment fires.

In other actions the council: —Deferred action on Capital Improvement expenditures until after a work session.

Disturbs City Residents

—Deferred action on honoring Rexford Guy Tugwell. (Council would like suggestions from citizens and staff on an appropriate way to commemorate Tugwell.)

—Introduced for first reading an ordinance increasing the fee for impounding cats and dogs and a resolution to transfer funds within departments.

—Accepted the low bid of Sport Chevrolet (by one dollar) for a 3/4 ton truck.

—Moved to send a thank-you letter to Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission for a small parcel of land on Ridge Road near Lastner Lane. The land was dedicated by the owners for park land.

—Reappointed JoAnn Volk, Kenneth Buker, Joseph Wilkerson, and Thomas Greer to the Park and Recreation Advisory Board.

—Decided to prepare a statement favoring early completion of the Greenbelt Metro line for two upcoming public hearings on Metro.

—Decided to send a letter to the county council expressing Greenbelt's desire to be a part of Program Open Space for the landfill ballfield park. The projects submitted by the city this year have not been included for funding under the county executive's proposal.

Cultural Center Starts Fund Drive

by Konrad Herling

The Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center (GCAC) announced at its Board of Directors Meeting last Tuesday that a multifaceted fund-raising and membership drive will begin Saturday, April 26. Individual citizens, professionals and businesses will be contacted for contributions. Additionally, theater seats recently purchased are being sold at ten dollars, a rummage sale is scheduled for May 10 and a Gong Show for Sunday, May 31.

The immediate goal is to raise $10,000 within the next six weeks so as to have funding adequate to convince theatre owner George Christacos that GCAC can meet its rent obligation as agreed to orally in work session with Christacos, the city council and GCAC.

Board member Jeffrey Gallagher, is coordinating the door-to-door campaign. The objective is to reach the approximately 6,000 doors in Greenbelt in the effort to raise money and increase membership. Current membership stands at 200.

Requirement for membership is a ten dollar contribution. Members will be eligible to vote at annual meetings and will also receive a newsletter with a calendar of events.

Charter Members

Charter members must contribute fifty dollars by June 1, 1980. Special recognition will be given to charter members and discounts on tickets will also be available. These benefits and others yet to be determined by the board will be perpetual.

A $5,000 grant request has been submitted to the Maryland Arts Council. Lindley Darden, Board Member and philosophy professor at the University of Maryland is coordinating this aspect of fund-raising. Anyone interested in helping with research and preparation of grant applications is urged to call Lindley at 474-0037.

The theatre now has 240 seats which were purchased now largely due to the high cost of insurance. With permanent seating, the rate will be reduced sharply. Seats are being sold at ten dollars each. Checks should be sent to: See CULTURAL ARTS, page 5

Ashamed of Greenbelt

To the Editor:
 It's been a long time since I've written a letter to a newspaper, but I felt, after taking a drive through Greenbelt, that I must write. I used to live in Greenbelt quite a few years ago. What a pretty little town it was. I was proud to say I lived there.

I live in the West now and come back here to visit friends and relatives regularly. I thought I'd drive around Greenbelt and through my old neighborhood. My first stop was Plateau Place—8 court to be exact. If I'd not known where I was, I'd have thought I was in the slums of a large city.

What happened to all the rules and regulations Greenbelt used to have? I remember when someone left trash in their yard they were notified at once to remove it immediately. Now I see trash bags full of trash, broken furniture, tree limbs and branches piled on the street in front of the fences of many houses in this court. The children have been allowed to write all over the street and walks with chalk. The trees and fences have been cut and damaged by some sort of sharp instrument. The street signs and no ball playing signs have been hit by rocks and damaged, or bent double so they can't be seen.

I saw backyards and some front ones full of trash and by the looks of the trash it's been piled up in these yards for some time. It is not only an eyesore but an invitation for rats to move in and stay. Some of these yards look like a city dump.

What's happened to Greenbelt anyway? Don't you care anymore? You evidently don't or you'd make these people clean up their yards and keep them clean and neat. You'd also make them keep their children under control and not allow them to damage and deface property that isn't theirs alone.

The people I really feel sorry for are the few in that court that have neat clean places. Their efforts to keep things as they used to be are all in vain, for they are living in the shadow of trash filled yards, chalk marked streets, damaged trees and signs, and with a lot of people who don't care how things look.

I'm happy to say I used to live in Greenbelt for I'd be ashamed if I had to say I lived there now.

"Let's Clean It Up!"

To the Editor:
 The yards and some of the common areas of Greenbelt are filled with lovely flowers now; however, we are like peacocks, fine feathers but we look at our feet and our feathers fall for the ugliness of the scraps of paper, paper cups, bottles, glass and soft drink cans in our hedges and along the inner walkways and the edges of the road and the wood. Let's clean it all up before the first of May. Neither Greenbelt Homes nor the city has any spare money to hire cleaner-uppers, but they shouldn't have to anyway.

If each one will see that his/her hedge is clean and also common areas nearest his/her home, we'll just be beautiful, and that doesn't hurt property values either and will attract a better type of buyer for those homes that are for sale. It's great to live in Greenbelt; let's clean it up and keep it that way.

Janet M. James

THANKS

To the Editor:
 I wish to thank the Greenbelt Fire Department for not "breaking and entering" my apartment to cool off those very well done and crisp baked potatoes. Smoke alarms do work, my neighbors can attest to that.

I do wish to apologize to my neighbors in the court for the disturbance my hot potatoes caused. I do appreciate and gratefully thank my dear friends who showed such concern for me.

Beautiful Concert

To the Editor:
 The Greenbelt-Prince Georges Band gave a beautiful concert at our own Youth Center Sunday at 3 p.m.

This is a fine organization and the members spend time and effort to give these concerts for our pleasure.

The Greenbelt citizens were lax in the support they showed at this event. I hope in the future both adults and children will fill the auditorium to show our appreciation.

School Board Adopts Reduced Busing Plan

by Hally Ahearn
 School board member Susan Bieniasz's proposal to reduce busing in county elementary schools has been tabled in the face of the board's approval of the plan presented by the Citizens Advisory Committee on Busing. That plan was approved in principle, but could be modified before schools open in the fall, 1980.

Greenbelt's school board member Leslie Kreimer said, "I feel the proposal as a whole does not segregate. I support it because it adds to integration of schools." However, black board member Bonnie Johns voted against the plan, charging that it addresses only transportation problems and not the question of quality education for all children.

The Advisory Committee's plan, which would not significantly affect busing into or out of Greenbelt's elementary schools, would return some 3,700 county students to neighborhood schools, and nearly 1,800 of those elementary students would no longer ride buses. The plan is designed to proscribe busing from integrated neighborhoods, wherever possible.

Home Heating Fuels Tax Break Awaiting Governor's Signature

The two year elimination of the sales tax on home heating fuels has been made permanent under the provisions of a bill by Delegate Gerard F. Devlin, if Gov. Hughes signs the bill. During the 1979 session of the General Assembly the legislators voted to take the sales tax off home heating fuels but an amendment was offered to the bill to sunset the tax break effective July 1, 1981.

Devlin explained that ending the 5% sales tax on home heating fuels is a $50,000-a-year benefit to residents of GHI and with home heating fuels expected to climb to still higher levels the tax break could be worth as much as $7.50 per month to some Greenbelt residents if next winter is an unusually cold one.

Devlin, who has represented Greenbelt since 1975, is vice chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and was a sponsor of the original bill as well as this year's amendment to the law.

The bill ending the sales tax on home heating fuels is presently waiting the State's Chief Executive signature. Devlin urged Greenbelters to drop the Governor a note urging him to sign the bill, H.B. 620. Letters should be addressed to: Gov. Harry R. Hughes, State House, Annapolis, Md. 21401.

participants viewing "Am I Normal?" Jim Holmes and Wendy Wexler led the second of an 8-session Parent Discussion Group. They also spent Tuesday at Mary Bethune Junior High, where they presented a workshop on Substance Use and Abuse to 210 students.

Parking Permit

Greenbelt residents are reminded that permits may be obtained at the Greenbelt Police Department for use of the permit parking area at Greenbelt Lake Park. A nominal fee is charged for this annual permit. While it is expected that adequate spaces will be available for all permit holders under normal circumstances, spaces are available to permit holders on a first come, first served basis. On special occasions, all spaces may be occupied.

The permit parking area was established so that Greenbelt residents could drive to the Lake Park on busy weekends and have a parking space available. Public parking spaces are expected to be scarce, as parking is prohibited between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays along Crescent Road, Lastner Lane and Ivy Lane in the vicinity of the Lake Park.

The College Park - Greenbelt Master Plan: A History

The College Park-Greenbelt Master Plan originally known as the Area 13 North Plan has had a long and stormy history. The preliminary plan was first released by The Maryland National Capital Park & Planning Commission (MNCPPC) in the spring of 1964. It ran into solid opposition at once from Greenbelters because of such features as four-lane divided arterial highways running through the heart of the city, limited single-family development in the core of the city, high-density apartment development in the outskirts (especially on the Smith-Ewing property), and location of commercial centers in residential areas.

Almost a thousand persons protested the plan at an MNCPPC public hearing, held in the Center School in July 1964. Other parts of the plan were also protested by neighboring municipalities. As a result of this opposition, the plan was withdrawn and reissued in February 1965.

The new plan met some but not all of the objections. It recognized the undesirability of four-lane highways in the core of the city by designating a perimeter road to channel off traffic. At the same time, the plan did little to reduce the density of the city, which was projected at 50,000 people. It continued to show high-density apartment development in the environs and no further single-family development to speak of in the core of the city.

To counter this Master Plan the Greenbelt City Council in March 1965 adopted its own master plan, calling for a projected city population of 36,000. The county commissioners (County Council) then took the two master plans under advisement and in July 1965 returned the MNCPPC master plan to the planners for revision and reduction in the proposed densities. Before doing so, however, the county commissioners approved the zoning of the Golden Triangle for a regional shopping center. They also approved zoning for the Smith-Ewing property, scaling down the high-density apartment development for that area and including a large tract for single-family use.

On November 27, 1970, the County Commissioners, sitting as the District Council, unanimously adopted the proposed Master Plan for College Park-Greenbelt and Vicinity. The action culminated six years of planning, hearings, rejections, counter-proposals, compromises and approvals.

Now, ten years later, the Master Plan for the College Park-Greenbelt area is being reevaluated by the MNCPPC technical staff. Residents of the area, municipalities and property owners will also participate in the process. Greenbelt's Advisory Planning Board has already begun a review of the undeveloped land in the city.

EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

CULTURAL ARTS cn't fr p 1

Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center, P.O. Box 439. If there are any questions call Irving Siegel, Treasurer, 474-7628. Contributions will help to defray the cost of purchasing the seats and give Greenbelters an opportunity to buy a "piece of the theatre" as the names of the donors will be printed on the backs of each seat.

Rummage Sale

The rummage sale will be held at the Center Saturday, May 10 beginning at 10 a.m. Volunteers and other essential ingredients such as baked goods, plants, clothing, toys, games, plants, books and furniture are needed. Anyone wishing to donate should call Helen Oring at 474-9347.

The Cultural Center will also be requesting $3500 from the city for equipment: lighting, sound equipment and projectors. These materials may be used by the city for other recreational purposes if GCAC does not succeed in its quest for lease of the theater.

Programming

While the play "Night Watch" was very successful both at the gate and on the stage, its income has been spent on the purchase of seats. It served as a salient example of support from the community. It also gave Christacos an opportunity to observe first hand use of the theatre's lobby and its essential value to the operation of the theatre.

Another fortunate by-product of the play was the coverage in local papers. Among those to read one of the reviews was Barbara Temchin, producer of WAMU(FM)'s "Spotlight." This Friday evening at 10:30, an interview by Temchin with Director Angela Schreiber and Konrad Herling will be broadcast. Highlighted are future programming and a note on the urgent financial situation.

Next week's programming will include: Thursday, May 1, 9 p.m. - Coffeehouse featuring Mike Jones; Friday, May 2, 8 p.m. - "Frankenstein", the original film classic; Saturday, May 3, 9 p.m. - Concert with "Solstice", a six-piece band which plays contemporary music with jazz and classical undertones; and Sunday, May 4, 8 p.m. - Concert with Willis Gault and Virginia Bishop. Chamber music performed with viola d'amore and piano. For fur-

GHI NOTES

GHI has a May 1 closing date with the Department of Housing and Urban Development to settle on a HUD 312 loan. It is possible, however, that the HUD-financed portion of the program may be revised to focus more particularly on the rehabilitation of the frame homes because historical issues involving the masonry homes have not yet been resolved.

Members with boats and trailers in the Boat and Trailer yard are cautioned about leaving the gate open. In order to protect everyone's property, the gate to the yard should always be kept locked.

Court meetings are being held nearly every evening and on week-ends in individual members' homes to answer questions about the heat conversion and rehabilitation programs. Any member willing to host a meeting for his or her court may contact Sandra Barnes, 474-6682. Board and staff members plan to attend these meetings.

Coming Up: Monday, May 12 and Saturday, May 17—Information meetings on heat conversion and rehabilitation. Meetings: GHI Board tonight at 8 p.m.

Members or offspring of members who would be interested in helping senior citizens with yard work on a paid or volunteer basis are needed now that the grass-growing season is here. Contact Sandra Barnes if able to do these jobs on a regular or occasional basis.

Golden Age Club

A few more reservations for the Williamsburg trip are available, for June 12 and 13. The trip is not restricted to members of the Club. Any seniors interested please call Zelpha Parsons, Travel Chairman, 345-3904 as soon as possible.

The Club is most grateful to the Greenbelt Woman's Club for responding to their need and presenting them with a 50-cup coffee maker. Many thanks.

For further information about programming, contact Angela Schreiber at 341-3916 or Konrad Herling at 345-9369. Also consult the News Review.

GREENBELT MUNICIPAL SWIMMING POOL
1980 SEASON ADMISSION
PASSES ON SALE
NOW

The Greenbelt Pool will be open for the 1980 season on Saturday, May 24th, at 1 pm. Season passes are now on sale and offer a considerable savings over the daily admission fee. These season passes remain one of the most inexpensive pool rates in the Metropolitan area.

POOL HOURS: Normal hours of operation are 1:00 to 8:15 pm, seven days a week for recreational swimming. Morning hours are scheduled for swimming classes, swim team practice and general pool maintenance. When the public schools are in session, the pool will open at 4:00 pm weekdays.

SPECIAL DISCOUNT FOR PROMOTING PASS SALES

Former pass holders can get as much as an $24 discount off the price of a new season pass by getting someone who did not have a pass last year to purchase a pass. Because there are fewer Greenbelt residents with children and a new pool has opened in the area, season pass sales have declined. Since season pass sales are the principal source of pool revenues, it is becoming increasingly difficult to pay for the cost of operating the pool. By offering this discount, we hope that former passholders will become active sales persons for the pool and both the passholder and the City will benefit.

To qualify for a discount, you must have had a season pass last year and wish to purchase a pass this year. You must sponsor a person or family who did not have a season pass last year (a person who had a pass as a member of a family last year is considered a former season passholder whether or not that person purchased the pass last year). The discount you will receive on your pass purchase will be twenty percent (20%) of the fee paid by the new pass holder. Both your application and payment for a season pass and that of the new passholder must be submitted to the City at the same time. Only one credit is allowed towards the purchase of a season pass. Extra application forms may be obtained at the City Offices, the Greenbelt Youth Center, the Swimming Pool (after it opens) and will be mailed upon request.

AVAILABLE BY MAIL AND AT THE CITY TREASURER'S OFFICE: Please fill out the application below. Mail the application with your check made payable to CITY OF GREENBELT and passes will be sent to you by mail. Season passes may be purchased at the Finance Office (first floor of Municipal Building Addition), Monday thru Friday from 8:00 am to 4:30 pm.

250 People Enjoy Festive Anniversary at Library

The celebration of the Tenth Anniversary of the Greenbelt Branch of the Prince Georges County Memorial Library was a festive occasion for the nearly 250 people who attended. The event, on Saturday, April 12, was highlighted by the presentation to Librarian Carolyn Estridge of a proclamation from the City of Greenbelt by Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and a resolution of the Senate of Maryland presented by State Senator Edward T. Conroy. Many patrons came in to express individually how much the library has meant to them and to the community of Greenbelt.

Throughout the day events were planned with appeal to all members of the community, programs presented to highlight the services available to the public at the library. Children were entertained with a showing of a Star Trek episode, two puppet shows, and storytelling. In addition there were adult films from the collection of the Prince Georges County Memorial Library System. During the day the Rexford G. Tugwell Room was open to the general public and librarian Elizabeth Allen was on hand to explain the collection of materials on the history of Greenbelt. It is hoped that many will return to examine these historic items in the future.

The day ended with refreshments for all served by the Greenbelt Woman's Club and the drawing of winners for the door prizes.

Parent-Alumni Dinner to Celebrate 40 Years of Greenbelt Nursery Schools

by Leta Mach

"If enthusiasm, cooperation and work mean anything, this new cooperative venture is to be a great success," predicted the Greenbelt Cooperator (now the News Review) in April, 1941. To celebrate the beginning of its fortieth year, that same "cooperative venture", Greenbelt Nursery School, Inc., is planning a Parent-Alumni dinner on May 4.

History

The school first opened its doors at 9 a.m. on April 15, 1941, in the basement of an apartment at 14 Parkway. Thirty-one students met in two 2½ hour sessions. The school's first teacher was Charlotte Wagner who had taught at "the Little Red School House" and the Bankstreet School in New York City.

Two years ago Mary Jane Kinzer, who helped found the school, gave this reason for the success of the school: "Anything you organize with a sound basis will survive." Kinzer was the director of Greenbelt Family Services in late 1940 when a group of Greenbelt parents expressed interest in a nursery school. This group which became the Nursery School Committee surveyed all Greenbelt parents with preschool children to determine the extent of interest in such a school.

Although interest was high, many could not afford even a small monthly tuition charge. The Federal Government provided help by donating the school room and the time of maintenance men to help parents clean, paint and install a toilet. In addition, the town council loaned the school $150 for equipment and supplies. Tuition in 1941 was $4 a month which paid the teacher's salary, janitorial services and juice or milk for the children.

One reason for establishing the school as a cooperative was to keep costs low. Thus the first parent members made the school's blocks. Before school officially opened a meeting was held to elect officers and organize committees to work on the school. Kinzer remembered that there were never any problems with vandalism or theft even though the school had no door in the beginning.

Parent Education

Another important reason for organizing as a cooperative was the desire to educate parents. As Kinzer observed Greenbelt court life, many "people didn't know what to expect of three and four year olds." Thus the Greenbelt Cooperator reports that at the April 23, 1941, membership meeting, Wagner discussed the views of child psychologists about behavior of children at different age levels.

During its infancy, the school struggled hard to survive. The war years especially caused hardship, as fathers were drafted and families moved away. Fund raising projects kept the school going. A map of Greenbelt, a town directory, bake sales, and raffles were some of the earliest projects. Other problems during these years included closing during a measles epidemic and limiting field trips due to gas rationing. The nursery school minutes of December 9, 1941, mention a discussion of "children and the war scare, especially during a Black-out."

In 1958, the school became incorporated and in the next year moved to its present quarters in Fellowship Hall behind the Community Church. From one teacher, the staff has grown to four teachers and one aide. Special programs for two-year-olds and kindergarten children have been introduced. In addition, provision has been made for working mothers through the help of "paid-parent aides."

Open House

On Saturday, April 26 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. the school will hold an open house. Parents and children interested in the school for next year are invited to attend.

Spring Yard Sale and Fair

The tradition of school fundraisers continues this year on Saturday, May 3, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. At that time the annual spring yard sale and fair will be held. A rainedate of May 4, from 1-4 p.m. has been set. Activities at the fair will include face and finger painting, arts and crafts activities, and games for children. Baked goods, hot dogs and lemonade will be sold. Numerous items such as books, trinkets, small appliances, and children's clothing, toys and furniture will be sold at the white elephant sale. The world-famous "Greenbelt is Great" shirt can also be purchased at the event.

Parent-Alumni Dinner

The May 4 Parent-Alumni dinner will be held at the Fireside Beef House on Greenbelt Road. There will be a cash bar from 7-8 p.m. before dinner is served. Menu selections are lasagna, fresh fish, fried shrimp, fried chicken, and New York strip steak. A vegetable, roll, salad, gratuities and reservation fee are included in the prices. Former members may call Beverly Colvin at 441-8822 or Ginny Williams at 474-1259 for information and reservations. Reservations and payment must be received by April 25.

Jewish Family Life Discussion Sunday

The final segment of a three part series on Modern Issues in Jewish Family Life will be presented on Sunday, April 27 at Mishkan Torah synagogue from 10:30 a.m. until noon. Aging and all its attendant problems will be discussed. The public is invited to attend.

Still Time for Census

It's not too late to be counted in the 1980 census, the U.S. Bureau of the Census has announced. There is no penalty for a late return of the census questionnaire, but census answers should be given as of the April 1 date regarding births, deaths, changes of address, and other facts.
