Annual Banquet

Volunteer Fire Dept.-Rescue Squad And Auxiliary Honor Their Own

By Elaine Skolnik

Over 200 persons attended the annual banquet of the Greenbelt Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Inc. and the Ladies Auxiliary on March 13 at the Greenbelt Fire Station. William F. Dunn, Jr. was named "Fireman of the Year," Ronnie Walters was tapped for "Rescue Squadman of 1981" and Cindy Trudeau was dubbed "Fire Lady of the Year."

A plethora of awards were presented to the men and women of Company 35, and the Auxiliary turned over $10,000 to the men to be used within the department. The GFD&RS is celebrating its 27th anniversary.

Master of ceremonies was H. John Crisman. Presenting awards were Robert R. Lauer, GVFD-RS president, Michael Dutton, chief, J. Paul Williams, Cleo Dutton, past president of the Auxiliary, and Kathy Reynolds, present president. The invocation and benediction were delivered by Dot Varda, chaplain.

Dunn

Assistant Fire Chief Dunn has been with the department for 13 years, three years as a chief officer. In presenting the "Fireman of the Year" award, Chief Mike Dutton cited Dunn's valuable service to the GVFD & RS - his dedication and commitment. "He assisted me . . . picked up the loose pieces and put them together," Dutton said.

Walters

In presenting the "Rescue Squadman of the Year," Dutton commended Walters for his "quick thinking that saved a life." The department had received a call for help at 28-H Ridge Road. Upon responding, the home was found to be unoccupied. Walter's hunch that the distress call could have come from similar-sounding house number 20-A Ridge proved correct. CPR was administered in time to save the man's life. Seventeen-year-old, Walters has been with the department for 4 years.

Trudeau

Trudeau, "Fire Lady of the Year", has served with the Ladies Auxiliary for four years. Auxiliary president Kathy Reynolds presented the award to an overwhelmed Trudeau. "Clady brings a lot of sparkle into our kitchen," said Reynolds. "She is never afraid to tackle anything and presents us with creative ideas for our fire prevention and other projects. Cindy is always there when we need her."

Chief's Awards

Honorary memberships were presented to Mayor Richard Castaldi, Mayor Pro-tem Gil Weidenfeld, Councilmen Thomas X. White, Richard Pilski and Ed Putens, former Councilman Charles Schwan, John Crisman and Don Shell. Shell and Crisman received several awards, with recognition given also to Rocky White and Bob Lauer.

Recreation Director Harry "Hank" Irving was recognized for "promoting the volunteer spirit." John Rowland and Danny Brown were honored for their service with the department as participants in Eleanor Roosevelt High School's work-study program.

Awards were presented to the company's paid county firemen: Steve Wurtz, Bill Bayles, Mike Bryant and Chip Almoncy.

Equity Referendum, Electric Heat Options Occupy Greenbelt Homes Bd.

By Sandra Surber Smith

Procedures for voting on the larger homes equity issue protective guards for the electric baseboard heating units, and options on kitchen and bathroom units occupied the Greenbelt Homes Inc. Board of Directors at its regular meeting on March 11.

On a 5 to 4 vote the board directed management to proceed with a mail referendum to decide the equity issue for the larger homes. There are three basic choices: put large townhouses on the same basis as other GHI homes; (2) freeze equity; (3) make no change in the existing formula to determine equity. The board supports the first option. (Ballots were mailed to members on March 19; members have until April 2 to vote.)

Mail Referendum

There was opposition to voting by mail from board members as well as other members at the meeting. Board member Margaret Hogensen said, "I am against the mail referendum. I believe members need to come to the meeting and vote." Board member Wayne Williams continued, "If it is decided in open session, the issues can be described better."

Board president Jim Smith responded that more people might vote with a referendum and that GHI should try this type of voting and see how it works.

Barbara Likowski said that she was at this meeting specifically to speak against the mail referendum because she did not think it was in the spirit of the cooperative. The mail referendum she said offered no opportunity for discussion and was undemocratic. Katherine Keene thought a drawback to the mail referendum was that it couldn't be modified as many motions are when introduced at a membership meeting.

Board member Steve Curtis reminded members that there will be an information meeting on this issue on Saturday, March 27, and that the mail referendum, offering members who can't attend the opportunity to vote, actually might be more democratic. Board members Frank Gervasi, Donald Volk, Hogensen, and Williams wanted the mail referendum to continue through the annual membership meeting. This procedure was not approved nor was the move to have voting only at the upcoming annual membership meeting.

Guards for electric baseboard units

The board next turned its attention to the electric baseboard units and discussed the protective guards which are available. There were several suggestions about the guards: purchase and let members put on as they wished, purchase and later have GHI install, or the motion which passed, have installed as part of the basic rehab package, unless this change poses insurmountable problems for moving ahead with the heat conversion.

(Later the News Review interviewed GHI management and learned that protective guards will be installed on all baseboard units. The next and all subsequent shipments of the heating units will have the guards factory installed. The contractor will install the guards on units already in place as soon as the schedule permits.)

Bathroom and kitchen options

There was considerable disagreement about the necessity of heating units in the bathroom and kitchen. Williams reported that a number of members do not like the ceiling units for the kitchen and bathroom, and it will be hard to install them in many units—for example, those with dropped ceilings. He suggested that these units be optional.

Staff architect Stan Sersen replied that the units were neces-

The Unthinkable

The News Review has not failed to publish even one of its weekly issues in the more than 44 years of its existence. But yesterday morning we were hit by one of life's unthinkables, and in the first panic it seemed we might have nothing — absolutely nothing — to print this week.

The ritual is that every Tuesday evening all the copy for that week's issue is "put to bed" ready for printing. Wednesday morning a community volunteer takes the entire bundle, in a brown vinyl briefcase, to the printshop in Hyattsville. Our conscientious courier for the past year has been a young man who makes the trip on motorcycle. Yesterday morning he set out as usual, with full briefcase strapped on behind him — and then, the unthinkable happened.

Southbound on Kenilworth Avenue, in rush-hour traffic, the briefcase fell off. By the time our courier could get turned around, the briefcase, and its contents, had disappeared. Despite a day of searches along Kenilworth's shoulders, phone calls to area police jurisdictions and schools, and radio appeals for return of the lost material, by late last night the briefcase and its contents were still missing.

All day yesterday the few available members of our volunteer staff worked hurriedly to reconstruct as much as possible of the missing material, and our printer worked late to set the copy and ads. The result is not the paper we had planned. Perhaps the most that can be said is that we haven't let the News Review's record of continuous publication be broken.

We apologize to any of our contributors, our advertisers, or our readers who are inconvenienced in any way as a result of . . . the unthinkable!

Roosevelt Musical Groups Excel at Spring Festival

by Mary Lou Williamson

Eleanor Roosevelt High School did very well at the annual Prince Georges County Music Festival held last weekend at Northwestern. The orchestra maintained its superior rating — all 1's for performing two grade VI (highest level) selections, Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" and Dvorak's "Symphony No. 5 in E Minor." The Schubert symphony is one of two pieces the orchestra will play in Vienna, Austria this summer. The orchestra is under the direction of Dr. Dorothy Pickard.

While not yet emulating the orchestra, Sally Wagner's three bands as a group brought home an impressive record. Roosevelt's Blue and White Band (basic) played grade III music: "Caccia" by Dello Joio and "Dorian Festival" by Ericson. Their ratings were 2, 2, 1; 1 for an overall rating of 2. (The first three numbers are the individual ratings by three adjudicators, the fourth is for sight reading new music at one grade below the practised selections.) Festival participation was a first for this group. There were no other basic bands entered in the festival.

The Concert Band, the largest of the three, went into the festival at a grade IV-plus, the highest grade of music for an intermediate band. They played "Chant & Jubilo" by McBeth and "Toccata" by Frescobaldi, arranged by Slocum. Their ratings were 1, 1, 2; 2 for an overall 1—a first for the group.

The Symphonic Band played grade VI music: "Excerpts from Sebastian Ballet" by Menotti and "March from Symphonic Metamorphosis" by Hindemith. Their ratings were 2, 1, 1; 1 for an overall 1.

Of the 32 groups entered in the festival nine received 1's, earning them an invitation to their respective state festivals. Three of those nine were from Roosevelt. The orchestra will participate in their sixth consecutive State Orchestra Festival on May 12-13. The two bands will enter the State Band Festival May 7-8, a first for these two groups.

Band director Wagner is very pleased with her students' achievement. "They're a great bunch of kids who work very hard," she said. Wagner had directed at Beltsville Junior High for one year before coming to Roosevelt this fall and in Virginia and Michigan before that.

The Roosevelt Concert Choir, with 106 voices, received a 1 rating at the Prince Georges County Choral Festival held this week at Prince Georges Community College. The chorus is under the direction of Dr. Barbara Baker.

Gordy Receives GDCC Endorsement

The Greenbelt Democratic Coordinating Committee voted unanimously at its meeting Sunday, March 21 to recommend that the vacant 24th District Prince George's Democratic Central Committee seat be filled by the appointment of Jeanette Gordy, a Greenbelt resident from the Greenbriar community.

Gordy, who has lived in Greenbelt for six years, received the support of the GDCC after interviews with prospective candidates were conducted earlier in the evening. Following its newly adopted rule of procedure, the committee reached agreement on the unanimous endorsement after six ballots.

GDCC will submit Gordy's name to the Democratic Central Committee when that group holds its scheduled public hearing on March 30 in Greenbelt.

Misleading Flyer

To the Editor

Some anonymous people have fixed up a paper against electric heat and have distributed it to GHI homes. I would usually not pay attention to anonymous papers, but some of that one might mislead GHI members; for example, the statement that heaters are to be installed abutting bathtubs. The heaters in the bathtubs are to be on the ceiling and I just can't quite picture how one is to get a bathtub up there! I suggest that members who are interested go to the library and look up the citations given in the anonymous paper. They will see that the articles from which they came recommend electric portable heaters as additional heat in cold weather but warn against certain brands and types, none of which GHI is to use.

However, the matter in the paper to which I wish to address myself is the cost of electric heat. We have in Greenbelt a member with eleven years' experience with baseboard electric heat. She lived on the northwest side of South Mountain, near Boonsboro. Potomac Edison was her supplier, whose rate was about 2c per kilowatt-hour higher than Potomac Electric Power, our supplier. She lived in a five-room house — 2 bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen and bath, with a full basement. She used electric power for heat, hot water, cooking, lighting, and even for pumping water for a private water system. Her bill was averaged over the year, as ours can be after the first year when we have some experience to base it on. In 1978, in her South Mountain, her electric bill was $48.00 a month the year round for all of that. In her Honeymoon Bungalow in Greenbelt, with one wall shared with another house, one bedroom, small living room, kitchen and bath, her heating costs alone are now $58.73 a month. Add to that an average electric bill, and it averages about $75.00 a month.

THANKS

A heartfelt thanks to our wonderful Rescue Squad for responding so promptly to my call for help when my mother fell Sunday, March 14. Although she is still in the hospital, their speed certainly assured that everything to help her would be done as soon as possible.

The Virginia Electric Power Co., with one of the highest rates in the area, may have said Electric Heat is relatively inefficient, but it did not say relative to what—certainly not relative to the worn-out, incomparably complicated heating systems in Greenbelt Homes!

The above-members' experience is factual, not statistical. She and many others of us who know people with experience in electrical baseboard heating are waiting impatiently for that installation in our GHI homes.

Raiders Score Well In Metros

The Roosevelt Raiders were one of four P. G. County high school clubs to qualify swimmers for the "Metros" high school swimming and diving championships, February 24-27, at White Oak/Colesville Swim Center.

The ERHS men came in 7th with 97 points against 38 teams from D.C., Montgomery County, and northern Virginia, where swimming is a varsity sport. Those scoring for the Raiders included: Bill Bussing, 2nd in 50 and 8th in 100 freestyle events; *Craig Dies, 6th in 100 breaststroke and 8th in IM; *Dan Sutherland, 7th in 100 butterfly and 12th in 500 free; Peter Ulrich, 14th in diving; and the 200 medley relay of *Brian Dies, *Craig Dies, *Dan Sutherland, and Bill Bussing, 6th.

The women's 400 freestyle relay of *Lynda Blue, *Margaret Williamson, Karen Davis, and Gretchen Weinbach was 15th.

Raider club records set during the meet included: Bill Bussing - 50 free (22.34), 100 free (50.58); *Dan Sutherland - 100 fly (56.45), 500 free (5:22.60); Peter Ulrich - 203.45 diving; men's 200 medley relay (1:46.07); and the women's 200 medley relay of *Lynda Blue, Karen Davis, Laura Sutherland, and Gretchen Weinbach (2:11.60). ( denotes Greenbelters.)

Other P.G. County high schools also fared well; the High Point women came in 5th against 33 teams and the Bowie young ladies were 9th. Crossland's swimmers scored 16 points.

The excellent performance by these clubs provides further evidence of student interest in swimming in Prince George's County and reinforcement for efforts to gain official recognition of swimming in P.G. County high schools. Plans are currently underway to propose the establishment of swimming as a varsity sport. The Committee for Prince Georges County High School Swimming holds its next planning meeting in April. Interested persons may call 345-6119.

The Greenbelt Co-op Nursery School is holding an Open House on Saturday, March 27 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Hillside and Crescent. Registration is now taking place for September 1982. Parents are invited to see the school with their children.

Stress Class Offered

"Managing Your Stress" (how to relax in a tense world) is again being offered by the Greenbelt Recreation Department. Taught by Helen Geller, biofeedback therapist, it will run for six weeks, starting Wed., April 14, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the Youth Center.

This course will cover the nature of stress, how stress affects the individual mentally and physically, and how to construct a stress profile, as well as teaching specific relaxation techniques and strategies for dealing with stress.

Some signs of stress are rapid pulse, pounding heart, tightened stomach, gritting of teeth, clenching of the jaw, inability to sit still, racing thoughts and shortness of breath.

Medical statistics suggest that 50 to 80 percent of diseases today may have their origin in stress, and are often seen in such disorders as ulcers, migraine and tension headaches, backaches, colitis, loss of energy, hypertension etc.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 474-6878.

sary for heat in both kitchen and bath and that the heat conversion had been calculated including these units. Gary Morningstar, GHIDC Assistant General Manager, remarked that it was too late to delete these units and that attempting to do so would cause contractual problems.

Board member Joe Jenkins thought that the problem with the heat unit was an initial but short-lived shock about their appearance and that members will soon get used to them. "I can't remember when I last looked at my ceiling," he said.

Smith thought there were some energy saving reasons for having the bathroom and kitchen units. Members may be setting back the thermostats in other parts of their houses and the kitchen and bathroom units can warm those rooms quickly on a cold morning.

Various management speakers made strong appeals to continue with the rehabilitation program and said that attempts to change it now would jeopardize the whole project.

Hogensen, Gervasi and others thought that management should be more responsive to individual needs and to remember that GHI members are not tenants but home owners and that their needs should be considered. The motion to have bathroom and kitchen units optional was defeated.

Other rehab items

Member Services Coordinator Dennis Lewis reported on the pre-conversion meetings and their success in providing information to members about the steps in the heat conversion. Lewis outlined the program for the post-conversion meeting scheduled for March 17 and featuring a Pepco speaker. The post conversion meetings will be held on the second Wednesday of each month.

June Didas and Likowski objected to the 5-6:30 p.m. time for the weekly pre-conversion meetings as being inconvenient for many members, particularly women. Lewis mentioned that he would arrange an 8 p.m. pre-conversion session as needed and advised members to contact him if they could not attend the earlier meeting.

Hogensen again reminded management of the need for adequate member notification of rehab work. Smith mentioned that he had visited the homes which were test units for the heat conversion and that he found things going well and members satisfied.

GHI NOTES

The GHI Board of Directors will meet March 25 at 8 p.m. in the GHI Board Room. Items on the agenda include a resolution on emergency status of heat conversion and the revised GHI Handbook. Greenbelt City Manager Jim Giese will also discuss proposed Ridge Road improvements.

Other meetings include a Nominations and Elections Committee meeting on March 25 at 8 p.m. in the Contract Processing Office and a Membership Briefing on the larger homes equity issue on March 27 at 2 p.m. in the Greenbelt Library. The weekly pre-conversion meeting will be held on March 29 from 5-6:30 p.m. in the GHI Board Room.

GHI members can check the ad in this paper for a revised heat and hot water conversion schedule. Until a member receives the day-before electrical pre-placement door hanger notice, no work will be done inside the unit. By calling the rehab information hotline (474-6644), members can get the up-to-date schedule which will help them determine when work will start in their units.

Pre-construction inspections are on schedule. GHIDC inspectors consider the member's wishes when conducting the inspection. If members have a particular piece of furniture behind which they don't want a baseboard heater, please mark the area with masking tape. Keep in mind, however, that there is a limited amount of flexibility for the placement of baseboard units and the requested placement cannot be guaranteed.

They have recorded eight albums and 24 singles, and will have a new album coming out this spring.

The Harris Quartet will open for the Blackbyrds. The quartet focuses on classic jazz, after the style of Miles Davis. The group, which was formed from the University of Maryland Jazz Workshop, performed earlier at the Cultural Arts Center as an opening act for Russ Russel.

Uncle Mortimer dropped in for a visit. "Hear you've been to Austria," he said. "Guess you did a lot of waltzing."

"No, Unk," I answered. "Not unless you count 'Waltzing Matilda.' I went to Australia, not Austria."

"Oh yeah," he said. "That's the place with all the kangaroos. I bet they were everywhere."

"Actually, the only place I saw either kangaroos or koalas was in a zoo," I told him.

"How about that," he marveled. "But tell me about the natives. Do they wear loin cloths? Did you have any trouble dodging the boomerangs?"

"The natives wear business and sports clothes, and the only thing I had to dodge was the traffic, which drives on the wrong side of the street. Funny thing is that they think that we are the ones that drive on the wrong side."

"Foreigners," he snorted. "Were

Lion Belles Fashion Show To Aid Roosevelt Orchestra

by Gudi Mills

On Wednesday, March 31, at 7:45 p.m., the Greenbelt Lion Belles will hold a fashion show at St. Hugh's Grenoble Hall. Members of the Greenbelt Lion Belles will model fashions furnished by the Vogue Shop of Laurel. There will be door prizes.

In previous years, the Lion Belles have donated proceeds from their fashion show to the pre-school for the blind, Green Ridge House, and the Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center. Tickets may be obtained by calling Pat Hand, 474-4663, or any Lion Belle, and will be available at the door.

you able to understand their language?"

"Most of the time," I said. "Once I got used to such statements as 'white for a dye or two and we'll tyke the tryne'."

"Tryne? Is that something to eat?"

"No, it's their way of saying train, and it refers to the subway. They eat all the same foods that we do, but you have to remember that french fries are chips and cookies are biscuits and biscuits are scones, pronounced 'scuns,'" I said.

"Why can't they talk plain English?" he grumbled. "They have that problem in England, too."

"Actually, you'd be surprised at how much Russian, Greek, Italian, and other languages you hear on the streets of Sydney," I told him. "They have a lot of migrants."

"Migrants? In a city? Aren't they working on the farms?"

"No, migrants is the Australian way of saying immigrants," I said.

"Well, I hope you're not planning to become one of those migrants."

"It's tempting," I admitted. "The climate in Sydney is wonderful, the people are friendly, and their inflation rate is less than ours."

"Lead me to it!" he enthused.

"I'll gas up the car, check under the hood, stick my bag in the trunk, and drive to the airport."

"You mean you'll get petrol, look under the bonnet, and stow your swag in the boot," I informed him.

"Never mind," he groaned. "Turn on the kettle and make some tea."

"You mean put on the billy," I amended. "Would you like your tea black or white?"

"Let's just have coffee," he said.

BROWNIE TROOPS HOLD INTERNATIONAL DINNER

by Ann Rodgers

On March 5, Greenbelt Brownies in troops #2427 and #1132 and their families had an International Pot Luck Dinner at Mowatt Memorial United Methodist Church. After an exotic dinner, Troop #2427 conducted a flag ceremony followed by a World Pin and Awards Ceremony. First year Brownies who received the World Pin, which symbolizes the friendship and unity with other Girl Scouts and Girl Guides across the world, were: Troop #2427: Katie Terrell, Heather Kruger, Holly Berg, Heather Mechler, Heather Sparks, Jamie Brukiewa, Jennifer Drake, Miriam Hunanian, Rachel Guinn, Christie Desposito, Cathy Colvin, Jeanne McCarthy, Susie James, Amy Mach, Jackie Piazza, Alexandra Katsouros, Julie Amos; and from Troop #1132: Laurel Berg, Nicole Cooper, Jennifer Cory, Kimberly Ellis, Lisa Meetre, Christie Peters, Catherine Sanford.

Second year Brownies receiving a 1980-81 participation patch were: Amy Abbott, Abigail Boldt, Kim Goshorn, Allison Haber, Eric Mardis, Ann Olek, Jenny Piazza, Nancy Rodgers, Laura Shields, Mindy Small, and Marie Wilkinson. Three third graders, Amy Abbott, Laurel Berg, and Laura Shields were awarded the World of Today and Tomorrow Dabber Badge.

Following the award ceremony five Senior Girl Scouts spoke about their exciting 1981 summer experiences in scouting here and abroad. Sandy Gadsby, a 10th grader from Suitland, spoke about her visit to the Girl Scout Center West in Wyoming. Chrissie Klinglesmith, Marnie Knox, Terri Lanctot, and Diane Kane from a Senior Scout troop in Silver Spring shared their experiences at Olave House, a Girl Scout International Center in London, England.

Beverly Colvin made a surprise appreciation presentation of yellow roses to the following leaders and assistants of the two troops for their work during the year: Alma Marsden, leader, and Lillian Terrell, assistant, from Troop #2427; Ann Rodgers, leader; Sandi Olek, assistant; and Jeanne Goshorn, assistant, from Troop #1132.

Parents, Brownies, and guests then sang "Happy Birthday" to Girl Scouting as a beautiful cake baked by Mrs. Tina Sanford was brought out by the Seniors. Both troops will participate in Girl Scout Week, March 10-13 at Prince Georges Plaza in recognition of the 70th birthday of Girl Scouting.
