Council Hears Citizen Petition, Sets Hearing on Renaming Lake Park

by Mavis Fletcher

Demonstrating its ability to handle citizen concerns expeditiously, City Council members heard and acted on a petition from a group of senior citizens headed by Clara Brandt of the Golden Age Club to remove a Center Mall bench which is used as a gathering place by a group of young persons and as a vantage point from which they can harass passersby.

The bench in question is located under the covered walkway between the Greenbelt Cleaners and the Coop Supermarket entrance. The petitioners pointed out that all Coop patrons who enter from the Mall must pass close to this bench and may be subjected to foul language and harassing remarks. All members of the Council spoke in support of removing the bench in an effort to curb such offensive behavior. A motion to accomplish the removal was quickly passed. According to the City Manager's office, an order to remove the bench has been given to the Public Works Department.

Zoning

Having gotten its August 9 regular meeting off to such a fast start, the council moved rapidly to other matters including recommendation of approval of the request to rezone a 21.78-acre tract north of Ivy Lane from Multiple Family, Medium Density Residential (R-18) to Commercial Office (C-O). George Brugger of Fossett and Brugger represented the owners of the tract on which three ten-story buildings will eventually be built. The first building is scheduled to be completed in 1985.

In a matter related to the city's input into zoning requests, Council voted to oppose adoption of County Council bill CB-105-82 which would change some of the procedures under which municipalities make their recommendations on proposed rezoning actions by the District Council. Councilman Thomas X. White expressed the opinion that the form and substance of the municipalities' recommendations would be affected by the proposed changes and the net result would be a diminution of the municipalities' voice in rezoning actions. On a motion by Councilman Gil Weidenfeld, Council voted to inform the County Council that it is opposed to the bill.

Lake Park Hearing

Council set August 23 as the date for a public hearing and special meeting to hear public sentiments in regard to the proposed renaming of Greenbelt

Lake and Greenbelt Lake Park. Proposals to rename these Greenbelt areas in honor of Franklin D. Roosevelt and in honor of Greenbelt long-time resident Albert S. "Buddy" Attick were received by the council and referred to its three advisory boards. The advisory boards' recommendations were not in agreement and the council agreed to hold a public meeting to gather public opinion on the proposals. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

Code Enforcement

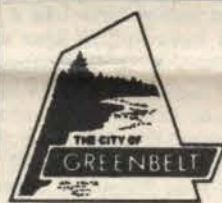

Mayor Richard Castaldi added the item of "code enforcement" to the council's agenda and opened a discussion of the item by saying that there appeared to be an increasing number of incidents in the city where conditions in violation of city codes are existing. He cited instances of rubbish accumulation, litter and other unsightly or annoying conditions. Council passed a motion directing the staff to develop a code enforcement program and to analyze codes to determine whether there are any which are not being enforced or are unenforceable.

The next regular meeting of the council will be held on September 20 instead of September 13 as originally scheduled.

FOR

MONDAY, AUGUST 23, 1982 — 8:00 P.M.

Council had referred these proposals to the city's advisory boards who have submitted the following recommendations, which will also be considered at the public hearing:

- The Advisory Planning Board recommends that the Lake Park be named in honor of Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt and that the Lake be formally named Greenbelt Lake. The Board further recommends that further study be done to find a suitable honor for Buddy Attick: perhaps a Greenbelt museum or renaming of the Indian Springs Park.
- The Park and Recreation Advisory Board recommends that the renaming proposals not be adopted, as proposed, due to the fact that they involve a name change. The Board notes its approval of honoring Buddy Attick for his outstanding contributions to the city and recommends that an appropriate, significant, unnamed or a future parcel of city property be named for him.
- The Community Relations Advisory Board agrees with the proposal to name the Lake Franklin D. Roosevelt Lake and the Park the Albert S. Attick Park.

FDR Commemoration Plans Snag on Renaming of Lake

by Virginia Beauchamp

The bi-partisan controversy that used to circle around the figure of President Franklin D. Roosevelt has long since died away, but little eddies of dispute and disagreement have continued to dog the efforts to prepare in his honor a suitable memorial. That has been true of the plans for a national monument, or memorial garden, or other recognition.

Now it seems to be happening as well in Greenbelt—complicating the rather modest plans of the Greenbelt Commemoration Committee to prepare a suitable recognition of the 100th anniversary of FDR's birth. Such a celebration is considered appropriate because of the late President's personal association with the founding of this city.

Previous plans of the committee, an ad hoc group of citizen volunteers, called for a special ceremony on Sunday, October 3 to name the lake for the President who participated in stocking it with its first fish. But that was before the reports of three city advisory boards were received by the city council at their last regular meeting on August 9. As reported elsewhere in this issue, the Advisory Planning Board recommends that the Lake Park be named for both Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt and that the lake itself be formally named Greenbelt Lake. The Parks and Recreation Advisory Board, on the other hand, favors no name changes for the lake and the Lake Park; and the Community Relations Advisory Board recommends that the lake be named for Franklin D. Roosevelt and the park that surrounds it for the late city Director of Public Works, Albert S. Attick.

To resolve these inconsistencies,

Utopia Presents One-Act Plays

by Nancy Knoll

The Utopia Theatre is presenting "A Festival of Plays" this weekend and it is heartily recommended that those who enjoy good amateur theatre see this show. The evening consists of two one act plays, directed by Bruce Lloyd.

In "Water Engine" by Walter Memet, the play examines the contrast between the myth and the reality of industrial capitalism. The myth is represented by the Chicago World's Fair of the 1930's, which extolled the virtues and rewards of the system. The reality is expressed by the representatives of the system, who wish to deny the young inventor the fruits of his efforts. Counterpoint is provided by the references to chain letters, indicating the desire of people for reward without effort and their willingness to be gulled.

The play requires some intellectual effort by the audience.

The young director delivers an effort above the usual amateur level.

The second play, "Fumed Oak," is a comedy of manners. It carries the message that one can best escape the persecution of women by leaving them while the leaving is good. Noel Coward's attitude toward women was negative. The play is well directed and well acted.

The two plays make for an entertaining evening.

council has scheduled a public hearing on August 23 at 8 p.m. to receive citizen recommendations on these varying proposals for honoring both the local and the national figure. But in the meantime the Commemoration Committee is still going ahead with plans to celebrate Greenbelt's debt to FDR. "We have definitely designated the weekend of October 1-2-3 for events reminiscent of the Depression era when Greenbelt was founded," said Dorothy Lauber, spokesperson for the committee.

Community groups have come forward with specific suggestions for the weekend's activities, she said. Among these are the Lions Club and the Lion Belles, who plan a dance—possibly a sock hop—in the styles of the 30's and 40's. GHI is making tentative plans for a reception honoring the original Greenbelt families.

"It is hoped also," Lauber said, "that Leonore Thomas, the sculptor who designed the mother and child statue in the Center, will be able to be present." Another possible participant will be Joseph Lash, author of the biography of Eleanor Roosevelt.

Lauber said there had been "a really good response" from original Greenbelt settlers willing to participate in the commemoration ceremonies, and others have sent in reminiscences, she said, of early times in the city.

A Peaceful Parade

Is peace controversial? Even the armed services claim that to preserve peace is their reason for being. Surely there is room in the Labor Day parade for a group whose only goal is to work to maintain peace. And can anyone fault their plan for a group of marchers, dressed in working garb and singing labor songs? "Jobs, Yes — War, No" would seem to touch the spiritual center of the festival itself. We commend the Festival Committee for granting the Greenbelt Peace Committee their proper place in the line of march.

Appropriate Memorial

To the Editor:

The FDR Centenary Committee feels that a most appropriate way of marking this 100th anniversary of the birth of Franklin Delano Roosevelt would be to rename some important segment of Greenbelt for FDR. The lake, offering recreation and revitalization to all Greenbelt citizens, and which was warmly approved by Mr. Roosevelt as he released its first fish, is a memorial he himself would appreciate. Short of renaming the whole city (not very feasible, or, perhaps, desirable), the lake has that vitality and natural beauty most appropriate for a living memorial. This is a year in which to remember our past, so that future generations cannot say we were not grateful.

Betty Allen, for the FDR Centenary Committee

Explanation of Heating Charges And Energy Rebate Policy

To Members of GHI:

Last month the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. Board of Directors received a petition requesting a change in policy concerning the way heating charges are allocated for 1982. Essentially the petitioners are requesting that GHI stop collecting a major portion of heating charges effective September 1, so as not to "discriminate unfairly" against the majority of GHI members. The petition makes reference to two different methods of handling heating charges — one for members who had converted to electric heat on their own prior to 1982, and the other for members converting under the rehab program in 1982.

The first method (for those converting prior to 1982) refers to a program adopted when rehab financing was uncertain. It allowed members to convert to electric heat (on a row-by-row basis) if all members on a heating plant agreed to go forward, came up with their own financing, and took care of hiring contractors, etc. The system was devised to allow people to get off the oil heating system as soon as possible without penalizing others. It attempted to be fair to members switching to electric heat and to those remaining on oil. Each member who switched over to electric heat was charged for the amount of fuel burned to provide heat and hot water for his unit up to the point of switch-over. If the member had not contributed enough through monthly charges to pay for the amount of fuel burned, then he had to make up the difference at the time of conversion.

With conversion under rehab, where money was borrowed by GHI and allocated to the entire membership, a different program was devised. Again the key element was an attempt to be fair to all members. This program was much larger — it could not all be accomplished at one time. (It would be spread over approximately 10 months.) This means that some members would have to be converted in the beginning, and other members near the end. If no rebate program had been put into effect, the members converted first would have had a great advantage and those converted last would have had to bear an unfair burden.

Consider the hypothetical example of two units, similar in every way except that one is converted during the first week of the program and one is converted in the last week. With no rebate program, the first one would almost immediately be free of the burden of paying for oil use and would enjoy the lower cost of electric heat from the beginning. The other would be forced to pay for oil heat for almost the entire year before being converted. The Board felt that this would be unfair, and devised the rebate program to compensate for differences in timing.

Under the rebate program, both members would pay GHI for heating as part of their monthly charges. Both members would be supplied by GHI with oil-fired heat until the point of change-over, and after that with rebate checks to pay the cost of electricity used in heating. The first member (the one converted early) would receive mostly rebate checks while the second would receive mostly oil-fired heat and hot water supplied by GHI. Both would receive heat until November 30, and both would pay for it as part of monthly charges over the year.

(A member who was careful with electric use would find that the rebate was more than enough to cover the costs incurred for space heating and hot water; a member who was not careful would find that the rebate was not sufficient to cover costs; the average member would break even.)

After the end of November, all members will be on an equal footing — all will be converted to electric heat and each will pay his own heating bill. The rebate program was designed to take care of the inequities occurring during the conversion period when some members would be on electric heat and some would not.

The Board deliberated a long time before settling on the policy now in effect. The Board and Management tried to devise a program that would be fair and reasonably simple. We believe that the existing policy is as fair as possible without being unduly complicated.

The changes proposed by the petition certainly fail to meet the test of fairness. They also fail to meet the test of fiscal responsibility. Prior to the beginning of this year the 1982 budget was calculated so that projected expenditures were balanced by projected income. In the heating category, the costs of fuel and electricity for the oil burners were added to the amount needed for rebates, and the monthly charges were set at a level to recoup the expenditures. If we now suddenly change the budget by no longer collecting for heat after September 1 (as the petition proposes), we will end up with a deficit of almost half a million dollars.

A Finance Committee meeting on this subject is scheduled for Tuesday, August 24. If you have questions or wish to discuss the petition, come to the meeting in the GHI board room.

MEETINGS

Weekly rehab information meetings are held on Mondays from 5-6:30 p.m. in the GHI Board Room. The purpose of these meetings is to provide information about all aspects of the Rehab Program. GHI staff are present to answer questions and information sheets are available for members. Meetings will be held on the following Mondays:

AUGUST 23
AUGUST 30
SEPTEMBER 13

Because of the holiday, there will not be a meeting on September 6.

Meetings on energy conservation for those converted to electric heat are held once a month on the second Wednesday at 8 p.m. These meetings feature a speaker from PEP-CO. In September, the meeting is scheduled for the following day:

SEPTEMBER 8

If members have specific issues they would like addressed or find the meeting time inconvenient, they may contact the rehab hotline staff. Arrangements can be made for other meetings or information can be provided.

Members can call the Rehab Information Hotline (474-6644) for information during business hours. A pre-recorded message with scheduling and other information will be available on the line at all other times.

Lakeside Civic Group

As a group of neighbors interested in the ongoing welfare of their community skirting the edge of Greenbelt Lake, the Lakeside Citizens Association will meet on Tuesday, August 24, at 7:30 p.m., in the City Council Room of the Municipal Building.

The meeting is planned to revive interest in the Association's role in promoting mutual welfare and friendship in the community. The organization is able to speak to important matters before the city and county governments as representative of the views of the 119 homeowners in the development.

Questions about the meeting's agenda should be addressed to Eileen Peterson, 345-2454.

Police Blotter

Compiled by Mavis Fletcher

Acting on a call from a concerned citizen, Cpl. Edward D. Blake located four juveniles who had managed to gain access to the storm sewer system under University Square. Two of the children were so young they required assistance in getting out of the system. The juveniles were returned to their parents.

On Tuesday at approximately 11 p.m., an indecent exposure was reported outside a home on Crescent Road. A nude male tapped on a window in order to get attention from an occupant of the home. The suspect, a white male, 5'9", 130 pounds, approximately 20-30 years of age, fled before the arrival of the officers.
