Commercial Zoning East of Hanover Is Rebuffed by the Hearing Examiner

by Elaine Skolnik

Prince Georges County Zoning Hearing Examiner Barry S. Cramp on April 8 recommended that the commercial portions of the rezoning applications for the Tidler and Smith-Ewing tracts be denied. Cramp recommended that the applications for residential use for other parts of the tracts be approved. Located in Greenbelt on the east side of Hanover Parkway, south of Greenbelt Road (see map), the properties total 105.19 acres - 21.8 acres on Smith-Ewing and 83.37 acres on Tidler.

Cramp's decision mirrors that of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission (M-NCPPC) technical staff. Both recommended denial of the commercial zone for four applications because it was not in conformance with the 1970 College Park-Greenbelt and vicinity Master Plan. That plan called for residential land use of the properties east of Hanover Parkway. The M-NCPPC staff recommended R-T (residential townhouse) zoning in lieu of any commercial zoning.

Hanover Parkway "divides commercial areas located to the west (Maryland Trade Center Park and Greenway Shopping Center) from residential areas to the east and south (Windsor Green and Glen Oaks townhouse developments) of Greenbelt Road to Hanover Drive," Cramps noted in his decision.

No opposition to either the commercial or residential applications was voiced at the February 27 hearing before Cramp. The Greenbelt City Council unanimously recommended approval of all applications, and the Prince Georges County Planning Board rejected the M-NCPPC staff report and also dispatched a favorable recommendation for all the rezoning changes. Approval of the commercial zone "would satisfy the spirit of the Master Plan", the Planning Board said, as it provides a "transition" between Greenway Plaza and the residential development east of Hanover Parkway.

Final decisions on the rezoning applications rest with the Prince Georges County Council sitting as the District Council. According to Cramp, "All applications require a two-thirds vote (of the District Council) to approve the zoning requested or recommended herein due to the conflicts with the Master Plan."

The vital issue of adequacy of public facilities, in particular roads, to serve the proposed development is not determined at the time of rezoning. This process will be undertaken when the property is subdivided.

Charette Survey Wins Council OK Other City Studies Are Proposed

by Leta Mach

What does "endorsed by" really mean and how much support should Greenbelt's city council give the charette were some of the questions council faced at its April 8 meeting.

The proposed design charette for the improvement of Roosevelt Center Mall is going forward through the efforts of volunteers. One of these, James Parker, chair of the survey committee, asked for council's endorsement of the proposed survey. The survey will be done both in person in the Center and over the telephone.

The request led to a review of the proposed survey. One question directing people who do not know the Center to skip to question 19, which asked for the individual's sex, puzzled councilmember Toni Bram. "Is sex relevant?" she asked.

"Sex is always relevant," quipped Parker, who then explained that the question was the first of several demographic questions.

Councilmember Thomas White expressed misgivings especially with the survey's introduction, which said surveyors were "calling on behalf of the Greenbelt city council." He felt it was "difficult for the city to sponsor such a survey unless the city controls it."

Parker explained that the surveyors felt interviewees would be more amenable to answering a survey sponsored by the city council. Mayor Gil Weidenfeld agreed that, in an interviewee's place, he would try to cut a phone call short if he didn't know where it came from—the caller could be trying to sell something. He suggested changing the survey wording from "on behalf of" to "the sponsorship" of the city council.

Councilmember Ed Putens felt that the statement that the city council had "commissioned" the survey should be changed to "endorsed."

Bram commented, "We want to remind ourselves that we want to take a positive approach to the charette." Council passed a unanimous motion, 4 to 0, (councilmember Richard Pilski was out of town) to sponsor and endorse the survey.

Council members also felt they needed to see a budget for the small support the city would give the charette. Bram moved that council give general support for the charette. Putens amended this to include minor support such as use of city facilities, reproduction help for such things as notices of meetings and use of the city bus. The motion passed 3-1 with White opposed, explaining that he would rather wait for a budget.

Greenbriar to Host Bond Issue Meeting

The ABC's of Greenbelt's upcoming Capital Improvements Bond Issue, what it will buy, how much it will cost, why now, and some history and background, will be addressed by Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and members of council in a public meeting in Greenbriar. The meeting, on May 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Terrace Room of the Greenbriar Community Building, will be sponsored by the Greenbriar Community Association and is open to all Greenbelters. Questions from the audience will be welcomed.

The Association will also be registering new voters for city elections and the bond referendum in conjunction with the meeting.

Spring Cleaning

Saturday, April 27 will be Spring Clean-up Day for GHI. Members are urged to remove trash that has accumulated during the fall and winter from yards, common areas, roadsides, and from adjoining wooded areas—whether this is their own or not. The city will provide special trash pick-up on Sunday, April 28, of all trash that has been secured and located at curbside instead of by calling Special Trash pick-up. However if members have large items to dispose of such as old appliances these should be left in service areas for a regular special trash pick-up. The Special Trash number is 474-8004.

Volunteers are wanted to help clean up common and wooded areas. Volunteers or organizations willing to take special assignments should call Joe Remenick at 474-7087.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB HOSTS LEGISLATIVE WRAP-UP

On Friday, April 19, the Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt Democratic Club will hold its annual legislative wrap-up session, at which the 23rd District's delegation to the Maryland General Assembly will discuss the accomplishments and failures of the legislative session and respond to questions from the club and others in the audience.

The wrap-up session will take place following the club's regular business meeting, which is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Greenbriar Community Building (off Hanover Parkway and Greenbelt Road). The public is invited to attend; refreshments will be served. For further information, contact Club President Gary Kohn at 474-8423 or Vice President Joe Isaacs at 345-5671.

Youths to Hold Car Wash

As part of Greenbelt Community Church's annual Yard Sale this Saturday, April 20, the G.C.C. Youth Fellowship will hold a Car Wash from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m. People can choose a basic bath for the car or have the interior vacuumed as well as the wash. There will be a bake sale and other activities.

National Astronomy Day To Be Celebrated at Lake

Since Saturday, April 27, is National Astronomy Day, if the skies are not too cloudy the Goddard Astronomy Club will be found at the west end of Greenbelt Lake starting at 7 p.m. Their meeting will be open to the public. They will have telescopes and other astronomical tools for use by the public and hope to get more Greenbelters interested in astronomy. Anyone having a telescope or strong binoculars is urged to bring them. Further information can be obtained by calling 794-5114 days and evenings at 441-9413.

What Goes On

- Fr., Apr. 19, 8 p.m., E. and F. Roosevelt Democratic Club. Legislative report and forum.

A Measure of the Man

To the Editor:

It was most disappointing to me that the article in the News Review on Charlie Schwan and the speeches at the memorial service seemed to pay so little attention to what was to me his outstanding trait: his liberalism. At the moment "liberalism" seems to be a dirty word in the United States, but Charlie's liberalism was consistent and life-long.

He was appalled at attacks on welfare recipients of the "They just don't want to work" type, at cuts in services for the physically or mentally handicapped, and in educational programs. He told me on one of my visits that "You and I are just fortunate, fortunate that we had the ability to earn our own livings, and this current insensitivity to the problems of the poor, to the people on welfare, is terrible."

He grew up during the Great Depression and believed firmly that the purpose of government was not merely to maintain order and protect persons and property but also to provide services that would enhance the quality of life for all people. Of course he was opposed to the present mindless build-up of nuclear weapons. He deplored the appeal to greed that says we should make cuts in taxes and then insist that social services must be cut because we can't afford them.

He believed in maintaining the great freedoms of the first ten amendments to the Constitution, including that which says there must be no law establishing religion, a principle the non-liberals constantly attack.

He simply had no use for race prejudice. "Too many worthy causes," he said in the story of the Schwan family he wrote for his children, "are lost to those who are motivated by selfishness, racial intolerance or similar feelings that they do their best to disguise as interest in the common weal."

Finally, in the same book Charlie mentioned what he hoped the future of Greenbelt might be: "Quality of life is more than keeping Greenbelt green. It is housing for elderly and handicapped persons, an exceptionally rich and varied recreational program, hiking trails and bike-ways, counseling of troubled youths and their families, a cultural arts center, rehabilitation of housing, safe passage of students to and from school, and above all freedom of the press to report factually what takes place at meetings of publicly elected bodies."

Charlie's faith in liberalism was a constant part of his life, and a measure of the man.

A Very Tall Person

To the Editor:

Since the real measure of a person is whether he or she left the community better off than it was before coming on the scene, I feel that Charlie Schwan was a very tall person who enriched all our lives in one way or another, though some of us may not have realized it.

Vandalism Reports

To the Editor:

I read with interest the column which describes activities of the Greenbelt Police Department in last week's edition of the News Review. I found nothing of the three reports we made to the Greenbelt police in the preceding week (on April 5, 7 and 8, 1985). They were incidents of vandalism against the private property of the owner of the building on Centerway in which our offices are located.

How are the incidents chosen for inclusion or exclusion in the News Review? We think that the people of Greenbelt should know of vandalism incidents in the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Plaza (the old Greenbelt Center). I am writing this letter in that spirit.

We were pleased with the helpfulness of Officers Murray, Riskin, and Field when they took our reports of the vandalism incidents.

COMPUTERIZED LIONS

Radio Shack's computer expert Vanessa Young, will be the guest speaker at the next regularly scheduled dinner meeting of the Greenbelt Lion's Club set for Monday, April 22 at 6:44 p.m.

In addition to addressing the Lions, Young will also have computers on hand for demonstration and instructions.

White Cane Week

Lions Club volunteers will be selling white canes during White Cane Week, April 23-26. The proceeds will benefit the Lions Eye Bank and sight conservation projects.

The Eye Bank is the primary area supplier of tissue for sight restoring cornea transplant surgery. There is no charge to recipients for this service.

For more information, call E-Y-E-B-A-N-K.

Correction

The name of a letter writer in last week's News Review was inadvertently omitted. The letter writer who asked that the GHI Board consider the long range financial implications of converting a boiler room to a community center was Stephen Polaschik.

Free Theatre Course For Senior Citizens

Prince Georges Community College is offering senior citizens a free theater course. The course explores theatrical experience through the study of great plays. The course will include class readings, improvisations, discussions and an optional field trip.

"Introduction to Theater," a 10-session course, will be held from 10 a.m. until noon, beginning April 22 and ending July 1 at the Springhill Lake Community House.

Although the course is free, pre-registration is required. For additional information, call 322-0158.

Free Educational Seminar On Toxic Substance Law

Dominic N. Fornaro, Commissioner of Labor and Industry, today announced the scheduling of free educational seminars to assist employers in complying with the Maryland Access to Information about Hazardous and Toxic Substances Law. On Friday, May 10, from 8:45 a.m. to 3 p.m. a seminar will be held at the State Highway Administration Building, 9300 Kenilworth Avenue in Greenbelt.

The law, often referred to as the "Employee Right to Know Law", covers most private and public sector employers throughout the state. Included are such diverse industries as construction, manufacturing, auto repair, printing and painting. The purpose of the seminars is to review the law and pertinent regulations and to inform employers and employees of their rights and responsibilities. There is no charge for the training. However, since space is limited, interested persons should contact Georgia Duffee, Maryland Occupational Safety and Health, telephone 1-800-492-6226.

Psychology Class Set For Senior Citizens

"Psychology for Senior Citizens," a free ten-session course, will be held from 10 until 11:30 a.m. beginning April 30 and ending July 2 at the Springhill Lake Community House. For additional information call Prince Georges Community College, 322-0158.

Last Chance to See Offering at Utopia

Mystery enthusiasts have two more chances to unravel the clues that thread their way to a stunning conclusion in "The Bad Seed," playing at the Utopia Theater Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m., April 19 and 20.

The Greenbelt Arts Center's production has drawn favorable comments in the News Review and in the Prince Georges Journal. This is the Greenbelt Players' fourth play of the season, and they are already planning their last play, "Arsenic and Old Lace," coming in June.

Automotive Maintenance Clinic at Greenbriar

"Automotive Maintenance Clinic," a one-session course, will be held on Saturday, May 4, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. at the Greenbriar Community Building. There is a fee. Registration ends three days prior to the class starting date. For additional information call 322-0875.

Nursery School Fair

Zoning Examiner Recommends Changes

County Council by May 8, to any portion of the Hearing Examiner's decision, and may request oral argument before the District Council. If there is no request for oral argument, the District Council may act upon the applications and must make a decision within 120 days or the rezoning requests will be considered denied.

City Council Stand

In giving the green light to the rezoning applications, Greenbelt's city council felt that the final agreement reached with the developers was the best compromise — one that was supported by the Greenbriar, Windsor Green and Hunting Ridge homeowner associations. These developments are closest to the Tidler and Smith-Ewing properties.

City council's support for some commercial use on the Tidler tract induced the developer to include "much needed" single-family homes.

Council's agreement to commercial zoning for Smith-Ewing eliminated the possibility of R-10 (high-rise, high-density, 45 units an acre) apartment buildings on the tract. Since the R-10 land is already subdivided, there would be no requirement for a public facilities test. However, in its comments on traffic generation, the M-NCPPC technical staff stated that the proposed commercial development would generate greater traffic than high rise apartments at peak rush hour with townhouse development generating the least.

Cramp noted that "our planners" recently reevaluated the R-10 and R-30 (garden apartments) zones and found them "to be unrealistic considering the real estate market. Townhouses are the present wave of affordable housing."

Covenants

In recommending approval of the rezoning requests, city council insisted that the developers agree to covenants that the normal adequate public facilities tests of the M-NCPPC would be met at the time of subdivision review and again at the time of site plan review. Council will also be given site plan review opportunity. In addition, a traffic circulation plan will be prepared by the developers at the time of those two reviews. Other covenants include controls on buffer zones, preservation of trees and exterior signage.

Proposed Development
The proposed commercial development on Smith-Ewing would include two low-rise office buildings on 16.29 acres and a 136-unit hotel—The Brocks Residence Inn—on 5.53 acres. Developers of the inn told the News Review they want to get started as soon as possible.

On the drawing boards for the Tidler property are 109 detached single-family homes on 39.43 acres in the R-55 (7 units an acre) zoning category. These homes would be constructed south of Windsor Green. About 232 townhouses would be located on 34.25 acres — the majority of the units situated south of Glen Ora with a strip also along Hanover Parkway across from the Hunting Ridge complex. Low-rise office buildings totaling 176,000 square feet will be constructed on 9.69 acres immediately south of the Smith-Ewing property and east of Hanover Parkway.

City of Greenbelt, Maryland
Looking to the Future

Information About
The Six Million Dollar Bond Issue

Dear Greenbelt Residents:

Greenbelt is proud of its record of excellence in providing necessary services to its citizens. Recent growth in the city has increased public demand for city services, particularly police, recreation and public works. On March 18, 1985, your City Council unanimously adopted an ordinance authorizing a $6 million bond issue to address this demand.

Before this ordinance can become effective, it must be approved by a majority of registered voters of the City of Greenbelt. A special referendum election for the bond issue will be held on May 14, 1985. Citizen approval of the bond issue will provide the funds needed for capital improvements to maintain the high level and quality of services that Greenbelt residents expect. This is the first of a series of articles on the bond issue proposal. This article will provide a brief summary of the proposal and information on voter registration.

The Bond Issue At A Glance

Voters must approve the authorization for the city to issue bonds for capital improvements.

- Approval will permit the issuance of up to $6 million in bonds.
- The City Council has allocated bond issue funds as follows:
 - Park land acquisition and improvement - $2 million.
 - City building improvements - $2 million.
 - Swimming pool facilities - $2 million
- Many projects are included in this bond issue. These will be accomplished over a period of years. Determination of priorities will be made by the City Council.
- The city intends to acquire more park land:
 - In the developing area east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway
 - At Northway Fields
 - In the vicinity of Attick Park/Greenbelt Lake
- Park improvement projects include:
 - Greenbelt Lake at Buddy Attick Park
 - A neighborhood park to serve Windsor Green and Hunting Ridge
 - Enlargement of the Northway Fields and athletic complex
 - Development of the Northway Fields athletic complex
 - Development of the Perimeter Trail and other pedestrian-bicycle trails
- City building needs include:
 - New police station
 - Addition to the public works facility
 - Addition to the Youth Center
 - City Museum
- Swimming facility projects include:
 - An indoor swimming pool
 - Major repairs and improvements to the Greenbelt city outdoor pool and bathhouse
- Although payment of annual principal and interest could increase city property taxes by as much as 23 cents, the City Council will make every effort to keep the tax increase as low as possible through financial planning and careful scheduling of debt payments.
- Last year city taxpayers enjoyed a net reduction in their combined city and county tax rate of 31 cents as a result of the Prince George's County tax differential program. This year there will be a further reduction of 08 cents for a total reduction of 39 cents. This reduction is more than the maximum increase possible with this bond issue.
- Greenbelt residents must be registered with the city to vote in city elections. This is a separate registration from federal, state and county elections.
- Voting will take place on May 14, 1985 from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Why A Bond Issue?

Greenbelt is one of the most attractive places to live and work in Prince George's County and the metropolitan area. The city is experiencing growth in both new homes and commercial development. The City Council and Advisory Planning Board have been working hard to guide this growth towards quality development with adequate facilities to serve the new community and development.

A growing city needs new facilities and expansion of existing facilities. Because of the large cost of capital projects, it is best to finance the expenses over a period of time, so that future residents and commercial developments will help pay for the capital projects as well.

After extensive consideration of our capital needs by the Council and staff, further review by the city's advisory board and hearing citizen comments at public hearings, the City Council decided to seek citizen approval for the city to borrow $6 million. This amount was arrived at to meet the critical needs of Greenbelt. Although it is not enough to meet all the needs of the city, it will enable us to accomplish many projects. You might wish to consider the following in making your decision on the bond issue.

- An outside consultant has confirmed the fact that our police station is seriously deficient in space and facilities.
- Vacant land in the city is rapidly disappearing as development takes place. Little time remains to acquire land for park and open space use.
- Our Public Works Department must store expensive equipment outside and has cramped working quarters. It lacks space for storage of needed materials and supplies.
- Greenbelt has a national award winning recreation program. Greenbelt can keep its place as a leader by providing an indoor pool facility to offer all citizens, young and old, an opportunity to participate in an increasingly popular and beneficial lifetime sport.
- The city owns 100 acres of undeveloped park land. It also owns 140 acres of developed park land and athletic fields, much of which could be improved for the enjoyment of residents.

Voter Registration

To vote in the city elections, you must be registered with the city. Being registered to vote in federal, state or county elections does not make you eligible to vote in city elections. The last day to register for the referendum is Monday, May 6. Registration information is published elsewhere in this newspaper in a city ad.

Greenbelt Day Is Coming!

Join In the Celebration

Sunday, June 2 marks the City of Greenbelt's 48th Anniversary recognizing its founding and incorporation in 1937. Traditionally, the first weekend in June is celebrated with a host of community programs, special events and a wide range of recreational activities. For this special occasion, all events are open to the public.

Scheduled for the weekend of May 31, June 1, and 2, all Greenbelt organizations, groups, clubs and businesses are invited to participate. Residents are encouraged to attend the variety of commemorative happenings. Participation may be no more than preparing and displaying homemade posters or perhaps a birthday banner acknowledging the occasion. For a more active involvement, consider a special program observing Greenbelt's past, present and future, in relationship to an organization, that can be included in the published weekend schedule of events for other residents to enjoy.

Annual activities include the Anniversary Address by the Mayor and City Council and the performance of the Greenbelt Concert Band of Prince Georges County on the Roosevelt Mall. Special events will be held at the Municipal Swimming Pool, a teen dance, plus weekend tournaments in tennis, golf and softball. Table games, Recreation Centers' Open House, city historical displays and much more will be available. This year, additional programs include presentation and judging of the Roosevelt Center Charette design renderings by community participants and architects.

Everyone is cordially invited to add a group's activity to the list of weekend happenings. Contact the Greenbelt Recreation Department Business Office, weekdays 9 a.m.-5 p.m., at 474-6878 for additional details. Join in—show city spirit and civic pride!

Greenbelt Grab Bag

by Punchin' Judy

"I'm mad," yelled my neighbor Crossly Krankheit.

"So what else is new?" I inquired. "You're always mad."

"This time I'm really mad," he insisted. "Do you know what this big map company has gone and done?"

"Calm down and tell me," I suggested.

"How can I calm down when I'm so mad!" he screamed. "They have rated the ten best and the ten worst cities in the country, and Greenbelt didn't make the list!"

"Don't get mad, Krank, but I gotta break it to you. They probably only rated big cities; bigger than Greenbelt. Just bigger," I added hastily, seeing his face turn purple. "Just bigger, not necessarily better."

"Of course not better," he exploded. "What could be better? Look which city they put first—Pittsburgh! Would you want to live in Pittsburgh?"

"Certainly not," I assured him. "It would be much too far to commute to work."

He looked slightly mollified. "And another thing, all they do there is steal."

"Not exactly," I said gently. "They do steel, not steal."

"That's what I said, didn't I?"

Why do you always contradict me?"

"Sorry," I apologized. "Which was the second best city?"

"Boston," he growled. "Can you imagine? Nothing but beans and scrod and tea parties. Big deal! You can buy all those things right at the Co-op."

"What other cities made the Big Ten?" I asked timidly.

"San Francisco," he snapped. "Hills and windy streets and fog. Who needs it? Besides the whole state will probably fall into the Pacific soon. At least Greenbelt won't do that."

"You're probably right. Not even into the lake."

"We don't have big earthquakes either," he pointed out. Then he got mad again. "Not like Philadelphia," he roared.

"I don't think Philadelphia has too many earthquakes," I suggested hesitantly.

"What do you know about it," he howled. "How do you think the Liberty Bell got cracked?"

"I don't even know how you got cracked," I murmured, but I did it very quietly and slipped out of reach.

"Louisville — Norwalk — Seattle," I heard as I made my get-away, hands clapped over my ears. The ground was still shaking under foot. Sometimes he registers 6.5 on the Richter scale. I wonder if that's how the Liberty Bell was cracked.

Transportation Assistance Bill Sponsored by Devlin

A bill to provide $1.5 million in state aid for the transportation of the elderly and the handicapped sponsored by 23rd District Delegate Gerard F. Devlin was approved by the Senate in the last hours of the 1985 session.

The bill was strongly backed by the Greenbelt city government. It will assist both counties and municipalities.

Devlin said that he was pleased that Governor Harry Hughes was an early supporter of the measure including $1.5 million in his budget contingent upon the passage of the bill.

"I am very concerned about the lack of transportation for people who cannot use public transit," Devlin said. "My bill sets in motion a program to make life just

CARES

The 10-week spring session of the G.E.D. class began last week with nine participants ranging in age from 16 to 26 years. The classes are being held Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10 to 12 noon.

Molly Schuchat spent a morning in New York City's East Village at the Sirovich Day Center, one of the oldest Senior Day Centers in the United States.

Sue Parker, Assistant Regional Director for Juvenile Services, spoke to the CARES counseling staff recently about placement services for juveniles within the juvenile system.

a little brighter for the elderly and the infirm." The bill, originally called for a $3-million program, but was scaled down because of budgetary constraints.

Take Used Oil to Collection Center

When motorists and boaters change their oil the old oil should be taken to a used collection center. It should not be dumped on the ground or poured into a gutter or storm drain and it cannot be legally placed in the household trash.

"Waste or used oil, unless properly collected and re-processed, will find its way into ground water or a stream or river, and as little as one quart of oil to 250,000 gallons of water can cause taste and odor problems," said Dr. Cliff Willey of the Maryland Environmental Service. "Also," he said, "every effort should be made to keep the oil from reaching and polluting the Bay."

Under the Used Oil Recycling Law dumpers of used oil can be fined up to $250 for a violation.

The Maryland Environmental Service maintains a toll-free telephone line from 9 to 4 during normal work days to help callers locate collection stations closest to them. The number is 800-492-9188.

Some collection stations in and near Greenbelt are: City of Greenbelt, 555 Crescent Road; Greenbelt 66, 5930 Greenbelt Road; Greenbelt EXvall, Co-op Service Station, 20 Southway Road, Greenbelt Exxon Service-center, 5900 Greenbelt Road; Greenbelt Road Shell, 6327 Greenbelt Road; University of Maryland, behind Ritchie Center; Larry's Greenbelt Auto Body, 5106 Branchville Road; and Beltway Plaza Shell, 5550 Greenbelt Road.

Sugar and Behavior Study Needs Child Volunteers

Sugar and Behavior Study Research scientists at Children's Hospital National Medical Center are looking at the effects of sugar on the behavior and attention of children. Volunteers are needed; the child and one parent will have to make three trips to Children's Hospital and will be reimbursed for expenses after completing the study.

Children considered eligible for this program should be 8-13 years of age, not afraid of having blood drawn, physically normal, and must be able to sit still for 20 minutes at a time. For further information contact Lynn Caldwell at 745-3247 or 745-3254.

Greenhorne & O'Mara Is Finalist In Award for Engineering Excellence

Greenhorne and O'Mara, Inc., of Greenbelt, recently won an award for a unique transportation planning project at the National Zoo. The Consulting Engineers Council of Maryland selected the design, "Strategic Planning for Engineering at the National Zoological Park," as the top entry in the "Research/Studies" category, making it a national finalist for the American Consulting Engineers Council's 1985 Engineering Excellence Program. The visually compelling entry met criteria set for meeting client's needs, originality, social and economic considerations, technical value to the engineering profession, and complexity.

Greenhorne and O'Mara's winning project is unique because it integrates both engineering and business science strategies to improve the Zoo's parking, circulation and access problems. In addition to performing traditional technical tasks, Greenhorne and O'Mara's engineers separately interviewed Zoo officials—from the Director to the animal curator—to gain a personal perspective on the Zoo's problems. They then synthesized both types of information into a workshop format providing feedback to the Zoo officials and generating recommendations. By using these Strategic Planning methods, Zoo officials gained insight into the nature of the engineering decisions and the engineers came closer to meeting their objective: a solution which met the exacting standards of the Smithsonian Institution and the general public.

Headquartered in Greenbelt, Maryland, the firm offers a full range of professional services including civil engineering, architecture, environmental sciences, water resources planning, transportation planning and earth sciences.

Landscaping Training Program Is Offered

The Prince Georges Private Industry Council, Inc., is recruiting applicants for a tree trimming and landscaping training program.

The 10-week program will include instruction in planting, pruning, lawn care, tree care (often at high heights), and the operation and maintenance of equipment. Placement assistance will be provided.

To be eligible, applicants must be economically disadvantaged residents of Prince Georges County, at least 18 years old, in good physical condition, willing and eager to work outdoors in all types of weather. They should also possess a valid Maryland driver's license and have a good driving record.

For further information call 350-9760, Ext. 100 or 101.

Host Families Needed For Foreign Students

Approximately 20 host families are needed in the Maryland-Virginia area for foreign students ranging in age from 15 to 19. They will come from France and Spain for 4 to 8 week homestays. All will speak English, although some are more fluent than others.

Students live as fully participating family members, not as guests in the home. It is an opportunity for American families to share their home and life with someone from a different culture and learn something of the language and customs of the homeland of their new family member. It is a friendship and cultural exchange. For more information or an application contact the local Bendall International coordinator, Mrs. Elaine Smith, 47 Windemere Parkway, Phoenix, Md. 21131. Phone (301) 592-8818.

TWO FOREIGN STUDENTS LIVING IN GREENBELT

Two foreign students, sponsored by the American Field Service (AFS), have been spending this school year living in Greenbelt. Mette Pedersen from Høsten, Denmark, and Fabienne Marechal, from Liege, Belgium, attend Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Mette, who lives with the Moryadas family on Ridge Road, likes ballroom dancing and singing. Fabienne, who lives with the Reitzig's on Tamarisk Court, is a volleyball player and a photographer. Both girls participate in sports and enjoy living so close to Washington. They will be returning to their respective countries in July.

For more information on hosting foreign students call Sue Reitzig on 441-2464 after 7 p.m.

GHI NOTES

The GHI Annual Meeting with the election of Board, Audit Committee and Nominations and Elections Committee members will be held on May 22 and 23. Each GHI unit is entitled to one voting member at the meeting. No registration is necessary to vote. However, only people on the GHI Mutual Ownership Contract are eligible to vote. If a husband or wife is not on the contract and wishes to vote in the upcoming elections, he or she should contact the GHI Contract Processing Office (474-4161) immediately to find out how to change the contract.

The next GHI Board of Directors meeting will be Thursday, April 25 after a brief GHDC meeting which will begin at 8 p.m.

Don't forget. Saturday, April 27 all day is the annual spring clean-up throughout GHI. Everyone is encouraged to participate.

In response to a membership directive at an earlier Annual Membership meeting, GHI staff is resuming yard inspections to check for compliance with yard regulations.

Since many people think about working on their fences when warm weather arrives, members are reminded that fence regulations prohibit the use of reflective or bright colors on fences. Subdued browns or greens are suggested instead.

Artist League Forms

The Greenbelt Artists League has recently been organized to promote community awareness of the work of Greenbelt artists. The League is open to professional painters, sculptors, print-makers, etc. living in Greenbelt. Anyone interested in the League should call Barbara McGee 474-2192. The League is now making plans to participate in the 50th Anniversary of Greenbelt celebration.

Teenagers and Modeling

A free program for teenagers, "How to Look Like a Model," will be given at the Greenbelt Library on Tuesday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m. The program will be presented by staff and students from Universal Creations, Inc., a professional modeling school, and will give information of interest to young people interested in becoming or looking like a model. For more information, call 345-5800.

Volleyball — Competitive and Recreational

Co-educational volleyball, both competitive and recreational, is played at the Center School Gymnasium. Competitive games are scheduled on Monday evenings with recreational play on Wednesday evenings. Both are from 8:30-10:30 p.m. Everyone, age 16 years and over, is welcome. In the event that the county schools are closed, the program will be cancelled.

City Athletic Field Permits

First priority for practice and game use of the city's athletic fields is to city permit holders. All other use is on a first-come, first-serve basis. Due to the heavy amount of field maintenance and renovation being planned this spring, participants should be prepared for field play at the Northway and Braden Field complexes. Weather permitting, field projects will be carried out as timely as possible.

Discount Amusement Park Tickets

For convenience at a substantial cost savings, people can pick up theme park tickets at the Greenbelt Recreation Department Business Office, Monday thru Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m. and Saturdays, 9 a.m.-1 p.m.

This special discount program is sponsored for the benefit of the Maryland Recreation and Parks Association to continue its efforts in improving conservation of parks and recreation in the State of Maryland. People can support the Recreation Department and save money on future amusement park trips at the same time. Payment by certified check, money order or cash.

City Tennis Court Use

The spring weather is coming. Tennis players are reminded to check the posted rules regarding sign-in and reservation procedures for the city's tennis courts located on Braden Field and Lakecrest Drive. These regulations are to insure equal playing time for all participants. Greenbelt residents have priority for use of the city courts. Please refer to the registration boards for full details on tennis use, court etiquette and information on classes, tournaments and court closings.

CPR

The last CPR session before summer recess is to be held Tuesday, May 14 and Thursday, May 16 from 7-10:30 p.m. at the Youth Center. To preregister, call the Recreation Department Business Office, 474-6878 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Sue Cornelius Is Winner of Volunteer of Year Award

by Valerie Gompf

Sue Cornelius' passion for soccer has earned her the 1984 Volunteer of the Year Award, presented March 29 by the Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club.

Cornelius, singled out from over 100 recreation volunteers, received this award at the Annual Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club Appreciation Night, held at Greenoble Hall.

What began seven years ago as a one-year stint as an assistant coach has snowballed into a love for the game and its players.

Cornelius said her enjoyment of coaching has been a rewarding experience. As a coach she spends time teaching her players how to handle defeat. "It's nice to win, but we're teaching good manners and sportsmanship," she said.

Cornelius decided to become an assistant for the team her son Torey had joined, even though she had no coaching experience. "I had never done anything athletic before," Cornelius said. "I had never played before when I was a kid."

As Cornelius learned the game, her involvement with the club's soccer program grew, long after Torey stopped playing. She has been a head coach for the past four years, served on the Board of Directors for four years, and accepted the responsibilities of Soccer Commissioner for 1984 along with her other commitments.

As if this were not enough to show she had the fever, Cornelius joined a coed soccer team herself. "I'm always talking soccer, and you will always find a lot of soccer balls around the house," she said.

The soccer league is the club's largest program, operating in both fall and spring, with over 120 participants each season. One of her duties as commissioner is to run registration, which begins one month before the start of each season.

Cornelius goes out of her way to encourage participation. "People always call up after the registration dates and ask if it's too late. I never say no, unless the teams are full, but it would be helpful if people registered on time," she said.

"The beginning of the season is really crazy," said Cornelius, "but once the season starts it pretty much runs itself." She inventories, orders and dispenses soccer uniforms and equipment, recruits coaches, schedules referees, passes on playing schedules, and applies for field permits for practices with the recreation department.

The duty that Cornelius dislikes the most is handling complaints. "But fortunately we don't have that many," she said. "The parents are great and are really supportive of the program."

What makes Sue Cornelius really happy is the Boys and Girls Club's appreciation for her dedication. "I probably know every kid who plays," she said. "The 13-year-old team now playing is the one I started out with seven years ago. It's fun to see them develop."

"Playing soccer is my social life," Cornelius said. Many friends have been made through working and playing within the league, she said.

On any given Saturday you will

Survivor Support Group

A Widowed Persons Service, under the sponsorship of local community organizations and the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) is being formed in Prince Georges County. This survivor support group for all ages is run by survivor volunteers and receives no funds except donations for mailings and related costs.

Men and women who have been widowed 18 months or more are needed to train as aides to reach out to the newly widowed. Remarriage does not disqualify anyone. People who are interviewed and accepted, will receive three afternoons or three evenings of training and an annual fee. Also, those widowed a year or more are needed for other work.

Recruiting and information meetings will be held at the Bowie Public Library, 15210 Annapolis Road, on April 11 at 3 p.m., and April 18 at 7 p.m. Anyone who wishes to attend please call 779-8342 or 721-2189.

most likely find her on the soccer field. "Saturday's are great," said Cornelius, adding, "I can go to the field and watch a game, coach a game and then go play a game. If I dreaded it, I wouldn't do it."

CITY NOTES

The general crew worked at the Springhill Lake Recreation Center preparing the sidewalk for landscaping. At the Youth Center the crew completed the drainage work. Pessoa Construction, the city's contractor, installed 147 feet of sidewalk between the Youth Center and the utility building on Braden Field. This sidewalk serves pedestrians and also keeps the natural flow of water off the ball fields. It is a supplement to the underdrain system installed this spring. The general crew also moved earth and placed crushed stone on shoulders on Ridge Road near Lastner Lane.

The parks crew worked on all athletic fields and also rebuilt the front lawn area at the Municipal Building. This area has been re-seeded with a newly developed dense shade grass. Trees were also planted: four Golden Rain trees in front of the swimming pool and one Bradford Pear in the Parking area behind the Co-op.

Special trash is getting exceptionally heavy due to the usual annual spring clean up. Scheduling of pickups is running nearly a week behind.

Legion Crowns New Queen Council's Cable Debut

Carla Williams, a Howard University student and resident of Takoma Park won the "Miss Greenbelt America 1985" title in the third annual preliminary pageant Saturday sponsored by Greenbelt Unit No. 136, American Legion Auxiliary. She was also awarded the talent trophy for her rendition of "Keepin' Out of Mischief" from the show "Ain't Misbehavin'" in which she recently appeared at Burn Brae Dinner Theater. Williams will represent Greenbelt at the "Miss Maryland Scholarship Pageant" in Hagerstown in June. In addition to her official "Miss America" crown and trophy, banner and flowers from Beltway Florists, Williams will receive a $150 scholarship and gift certificates from Face the Future, AMC Academy 6 theatres and Holiday Spa in Greenbelt and Dance Center Theatrical in New Carrollton. Williams was crowned by the 1984 winner, Wendy Whitten of Greenbelt, who will represent Annapolis in this year's state pageant.

First runner-up was Fim Johnson, a University of Maryland senior from Bowie who is employed by Celebrations in Greenbelt and is a member of Greenbelt Unit 136. Recipient of both the gown and swimsuit awards, Johnson twirled the baton to the "William Tell Overture" for her talent presentation. Vocalist Terry Toot of Silver Spring, an employee of the Greenbelt firm Henco Software, was second runner-up. Third and fourth runner-up positions were awarded to two University of Maryland students, Tammy Wyatt of Clinton and Christina Cicala of Temple Hills, respectively. Former Greenbelt resident Carolyn Boone was voted "Miss Congeniality" by the other contestants for the second year.

Entertainment at the gala eve-

History was made at the March 18 city council meeting — it was the first regular council meeting to be cablecast on the city's government access cable channel A-10. In an effort to maximize communication between the city and its citizens, all city council meetings will be made available for public viewing through a regular cablecasting on A-10.

Regular city council meetings are held at 8 p.m. on the first and third Monday of each month unless otherwise scheduled. During the months of June, July, August and September, council meetings are held once a month — the second Monday of each month. Other meetings to be cablecast include public hearings and special charter meetings, such as the June budget approval meeting.

The government access channel (A-10) provides other programming for Greenbelt citizens. The 24-hour message service displays announcements of upcoming meetings and events, a brief report on city council actions, the Greenbelt Police Log, important city and emergency phone numbers, and other messages of interest. Community programs shown thus far have included, "A Tribute to Eleanor Roosevelt," "Greenbelt, Maryland: A Unique American City," public hearings on the capitol bond issues and crime prevention program, and a series of programs which captured events from the 1984 Labor Day Festival.

ning included performances by Angela Schreiber, who was crowned "Miss Greenbelt" after the Labor Day Festival, and 10-year-old Greenbelter Tony Codi, who did two impressions of Elvis Presley hits.

Congratulations to Sharon L. Anthony of Springhill Court, Althea Carol Bacon, Hanover Parkway, and Marie T. Sergeant of Ridge Road, who have been selected for inclusion in the 1984 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America, which is a program designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their homes, their professions and their communities.

Greenbelters newly elected officers of the College Park Business and Professional Women are second vice-president Debra Cooper, who is an office manager for Maxam Technologies; recording secretary Jean Nachtway, who is a health planner with the Southern Maryland Regional Health Planning Agency; and corresponding secretary Kathleen Kearns, who is a sales assistant with Johnston, Lemon and Company.

Happy fourth birthday to Lorin S. Cahill of 10-J Southway. Her brother Michael, age 6, and parents Carol and Steve Cahill and Carol's mother, Shirley Loftus of Silver Spring, together with Lorin's many friends, celebrated the event with a party at McDonald's, where they enjoyed food, favors and movies.

Three stockbrokers in Johnston, Lemon's Greenbelt office received awards at ceremonies at the firm's annual Research Conference held recently at the University Club in Washington, D.C. Edward McGehrin, CRP Senior Vice President, and a 28-year veteran stock broker, was presented the firm's "Chairman's" award for outstanding client service during 1984. John Yetman received an award for client service and achievement by a senior stockbroker. Martin McGehrin received an award for superior client service and achievement by a younger broker.

Certificate of Recognition as 1985 National Space Educator was presented to Melodye A. Garner of Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Duplicate bridge players Doris and Bob Johnson tied with the team of Ruth Schutzle and Peg Wainscott for first place. Tony Pisano and Harvey Geller captured third. The Duplicate Bridge Club will play again Friday at 8 p.m. in the Youth Center. Interested players are welcome.

Greenbelt CARES

Paul Fischetti and Wendy Wexler attended the 8th Annual Family Therapy Network Symposium on Friday, March 29 and Saturday, March 30 in Arlington, VA. The topic was "A Multi-System Perspective to Family Therapy." One of family therapy's pioneers, Dr. Salvatore Minuchin, was keynote speaker.

A new G.E.D. class to prepare students for the high school certificate is slated. Applications for the few remaining slots are still available.

CASH PRIZES OFFERED IN RENOVATION CONTEST

The Prince Georges County Board of Realtors reminds all property owners of the Residential Renovation Contest sponsored by county realtors which offers $2000 in cash prizes to homeowners who enter the contest.

The contest is a "Make America Better" project which is designed to encourage residential homeowners to improve their property through exterior renovation, remodeling or landscaping. Prizes will be awarded for those efforts which, in the opinion of the judges, are the best efforts submitted. First place prize is $1,000, second and third place winners will receive $700 and $300, respectively.

Any homeowner, excluding members of the Board of Realtors, who renovated or remodeled or landscaped the exterior of their property between July 1, 1984 and June 30, 1985, is eligible to enter the contest.

Contest entry forms are available at all Prince Georges County Realtor Offices or may be obtained by calling the Board of Realtors office at 350-7700.

CITY OF GREENBELT
OFFICIAL NOTICE

VOTER REGISTRATION LIST
for
MAY 14, 1985 SPECIAL ELECTION

City Charter provides that "No registration will be accepted during the following periods: Between the close of business of the Monday of the calendar week immediately preceding the week in which the day of the special election has been set and the close of the polls on the day of such special election, or runoff election, if any."

NOTICE IS, THEREFORE, GIVEN THAT THE VOTER REGISTRATION LIST OF THE CITY OF GREENBELT, MARYLAND, WILL CLOSE ON

at 4:30 P.M.

AND PERSONS NOT REGISTERED WITH THE CITY OF GREENBELT AS OF THAT TIME WILL NOT BE ABLE TO VOTE IN THE MAY 14, 1985 SPECIAL ELECTION. Mail registration forms must be received no later than May 6, 1985 to be included in the list of qualified voters.

Greenbelt residents are reminded that registration with Prince George's County, for federal, state, and county elections DOES NOT qualify them to vote in CITY ELECTIONS. Any person in doubt as to his or her eligibility to vote in city elections may check with the City Clerk at 474-8000 or 474-3870.

Philharmonic Gives Excellent Evening Here At Low Cost

by Alexander E. Barnes

The Prince Georges Philharmonic Orchestra concluded its concert Saturday, April 13, with a flourishing rendition of Berlioz's SYMPHONIE FANTASTIQUE. This ensemble seems to be at its best when it has the opportunity to warm up to and coalesce about a simple theme. It certainly had every opportunity to do that with the recurring theme of the FANTASTIQUE's Beloved One. The players, having concentrated on its subtle presence and continuity, finished in a flourish as they swaggered through the final Dies Irae of the Witches Sabbath.

For the first time in this reviewer's experience Maestro Fowler took a moment before playing the piece to explain the musical program to the audience, even having the violins play the brief recurring theme. Fowler's presentation was excellently done, and undoubtedly added to the listener's insight.

We were also greatly pleased by the opening piece, "Finlandia" by Jan Sibelius. It too has a strong and straightforward theme surrounded by richly romantic harmonies. Like Berlioz, Sibelius does things with the orchestra which are uniquely his. Berlioz may be more characterized by splashes of color, while Sibelius paints with pastels. In their somber moments the former has a darker brooding, as in the moments before the death blow in the "March to the Scaffold." Sibelius on the other hand seems occasionally to move to a grey which might be characteristic of his homeland's long winter night. The orchestra continued its practice of having an invited soloist, a new performer having established some credentials and in the process of building a career. It is always a delight to have an opportunity to hear such new talent. Mary Carrigan, who has an excellent voice, gave a very polished performance of Mozart's Exultate Jubilate (K-165). It is a unique work in being a concerto for voice. The ensemble was reduced to half its size for the piece and produced a very nice balance with the soloist.

It was, all in all, an excellent evening. Two of the pieces brought out some of the very best the Prince Georges Philharmonic has to offer and the third introduced us to a new and proficient performer. The house was deservedly well-filled. We here in Greenbelt are exceptionally fortunate to have the opportunity to hear such excellent music-making within walking distance, and within a modest budget.

"Come Blow Your Horn"

To Open at Petrucci's

Nell Simon's comedy "Come Blow Your Horn" will be presented at Petrucci's Main Street Dinner Theatre in Laurel April 18 through July 21.

The play is about a school-of-hard-knocks manufacturer whose older son has turned playboy and whose younger son leaves home for his brother's apartment and way of life. Mom also leaves Pop to move in with the boys.

The play will run Thursday through Sunday evenings with selected Wednesday matinees. For more information or reservations call 725-5226.

Craftpersons Sought For Annual Mall Fair

The Stoney Run String Band will again highlight the festivities at the Greenbelt Arts Center's third annual Traditional Arts and Crafts Fair on Saturday, June 1, in Roosevelt Mall.

Hand-crafted items will be on sale by mainly local artists, and in some cases—the Greenbelt chapter of the National Quilting Association is an example—handiwork will be demonstrated throughout the 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. fair. Held under the trees in front of the Utopia Theater, the occasion has drawn visitors to buy, ask questions and often just to sit and listen to the various musical artists who perform during the day.

A small, tax-deductible donation to the Arts Center is given by each artist participating. At the moment, there are openings for craftspeople who work in metal, clay and wood. For information, leave name and phone number at 441-8770.

MVA TO REQUIRE SEAT BELTS IN TRAINING CARS

Motor Vehicle Administrator Mati Koiva has proposed regulations requiring all occupants of driver training vehicles to use safety belts. The regulation would apply to student drivers, student observers and instructors of professional driving schools. The proposed regulation also requires all such vehicles to be equipped with safety belts with which the vehicle was originally equipped.

In addition the proposed regulation requires that professional driving schools use birth certificates to verify the student's name and date of birth. The proposed effective date of the regulation is July 1, 1985.

Comments may be submitted in writing but must be received by May 27 and should be directed to Rebecca Cody, Director, Division of Licensing and Consumer Services, 6601 Ritchie Highway, Glen Burnie, Md. 21062. Comments by telephone may be called in Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on (301) 768-7421.

What's the best type of toothbrush?

The latest studies have shown that a soft toothbrush cleans just as well or better than a hard natural bristle brush without the undesirable side effects. Hard bristle toothbrushes can actually irritate the gums ultimately causing them to recede. In addition, under certain conditions, they can create abrasion grooves in the tooth near the gumline.

Switching from a hard to a soft brush usually requires modification in technique. Consult your family dentist for the proper technique for you. At first the different feel of a soft brush may be mistaken for inadequate cleaning but the long term result will be a cleaner and healthier mouth.

CONSIDERING A CHANGE IN RESIDENCE?

There are three key elements to consider:

- A) Your needs: things you positively have to have.
- B) Your wants: things you'd like to have, but don't necessarily need.
- C) Your qualifications:
 - 1) Your initial investment (cash to move in)
 - 2) Your total income (gross yearly income)
 - 3) Your debt service (total indebtedness)

I would like the opportunity to discuss with you how we can combine these three factors to assist you and your family in achieving your housing goals both within Greenbelt and the metropolitan area - of course with no obligation.

Council Opposes Sale of BARC Land

mit to the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission (M-NCPPC). The city staff had suggested four studies:

1. "New" Greenbelt study providing maps and demographic data on that section of the city east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway and Beltway and south of Greenbelt Road;
2. City cemetery-memorial park concept plan;
3. Strategic plan for Greenbelt;
4. Concept plan for Northway fields and adjacent school property.

White spoke up vigorously for a study not on the list and previously suggested by Bram. Bram envisioned that study as planning for new Greenbelt to give it an identity like that which the older parts of Greenbelt have. Administrative Assistant Mike McLaughlin explained that M-NCPPC found it difficult to define that project. Bram explained that she was thinking of some object—trash cans, bus shelters, etc.—that would be unique to Greenbelt and placed throughout the city to immediately identify the city.

Council showed preliminary interest in that project with better definitions, as well as the new Greenbelt map study and the concept plan for Northway Fields. A final decision was postponed until better definitions could be developed for the first suggested project.

Council also deferred selection of auditors for FY 1984/5.

BARC Land

Council received copies of letters sent to the M-NCPPC and various public officials stating the city's continued opposition to the surplus disposal of Beltsville Agricultural Research Center (BARC) land. City Manager James Giese reported that since the letters were sent he had heard that the University of Maryland was interested in one parcel just north of the agricultural library. White stated that he would like to know more about the university's intentions for the property. Council decided to stand by its earlier action.

Under the "petitions and requests" part of its agenda, council heard from citizens concerned about the Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center (GCAC), the city's proposed computer system, and the subdivision of a parcel of property near Beltway Plaza Shopping Center. In response council directed staff to send a second letter to the GCAC landlord and discussed possible ramifications of the proposed subdivision with Springhill Lake resident Jose Morales, who said he would attend a hearing on the matter.

Council also accepted several advisory board reports. In one, the Advisory Planning Board (APB) recommended that for such projects as the Attick Park professional consultants be used, public input be sought and plans be submitted to the appropriate advisory board. The Board of Elections presented recommendations on polling places, voting machines, transportation, and police escorts for the upcoming referendum.

In response to a council referral, the Crime Prevention Committee reported on possible problems in the Roosevelt Center Mall. The committee had conducted a public forum and had not found factual information to substantiate an increase in crime and harassment in the area. Instead the committee found that people had long-term memories of problems. The committee made five recommendations: 1) Center merchants be told to call the police promptly when there is a problem; 2) the merchants hire a security guard; 3) a spotlight be installed in the alcove by the Utopia Theater; 4) the Merchants Association consider a Roosevelt Center crime watch; and 5) the committee's report be provided to each merchant. Council passed a motion to convey the report to the merchants and the landlord of the Roosevelt Center Mall.

In other actions council — voted to participate in the mosquito control program.

— appointed Suzanne Plogman to the APB and Margaret Hogsens to the cable TV local origination advisory committee.

— nominated Dorothy Pyles and Corporal Sappington for National Crime Prevention awards.

— directed letters be sent to city's PTA's suggesting a school study committee be formed.

Prove Competence as an Adult, Qualify for High School Diploma

For adults who never got their high school diplomas, it can be a very scary thing to go back and begin the process of earning that "piece of paper." But what most people don't know is that they may have already earned their diploma, simply through living, working and raising a family.

The External Diploma Program is a method to earn a high school diploma by proving that through life people have earned the skills necessary to make them competent adults. It is a program funded by the Maryland State Department of Education and the Prince Georges County Board of Education. It is now available at Crossland High School.

This is not a teaching program. It is designed only to evaluate the skills of the client in three areas: basic academic skills, life skills and job skills. A client must prove that he/she is competent in reading, writing and math before moving into the area of earning the diploma. Once one's skill is proven in the basic academic areas, one then begins the work that will actually earn him/her the diploma, by proving that he/she is a competent adult who functions well in life. The criteria for proving this competence has been established by the Maryland State Department of Education. Some of these skills include knowing the resources offered in the community, writing a resume, knowing the government process, basic first aid and consumer shopping.

Proving that the person has job skills can take three forms: the current supervisor of the client can rate him/her as an employee if he or she has been employed full-time for six months or more, the client can do a checklist of skills for a specific job, thereby proving he/she can do the job, or he/she can do the requirements for the advanced academic portion, which the program recommends if the client is planning to attend college.

The program is conducted on a one-to-one basis, with individual appointments. There is no pass or fail, but the clients have the chance to redo anything they do not demonstrate the first time. Participation in the program is confidential.

For more information call 449-7550.

Police Blotter

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

On April 4, a woman reported that she had been sexually assaulted and gave a description of the suspect. The attack took place at the rear of Beltway Plaza. At about the same time, officers of the Greenbelt department responded to a report of a domestic argument in the 6000 block of Springhill Drive and detained a man who matched the description as a possible suspect in the assault. Subsequently, the woman identified the suspect as her assailant. The suspect was arrested and charged with second degree sexual assault.

On the basis of a citizen's report, a suspect was caught with a stolen car. The incident took place on April 5 in Julian Court.

On April 6, Pfc. Michael Rasmussen apprehended a suspect after a foot chase from the lake parking lot toward Ridge Road. The suspect was charged with attempted theft from auto.

F. JOHNSON

OF IN-HOME COLOR TV/VCR SERVICE

565-0001

I provide in-home service in this neighborhood 3 days each week as well as some evenings and weekends. I'm bonded, licensed and top rated for over 25 years. You can count on my estimates and prompt fair service. I always call before visiting, carry more than 5 times the normal inventory of parts, and can (almost) always repair your Color TV IN YOUR HOME, ON ONE TRIP. I repair HI FT'S and VCR's also. I buy broken color Zenith portables. Call with model and chassis no's. from back of set.

Thanks for reading my AD. Please save it.
