Council Discusses Problem of Lake Parking Overflow, Defers Solution

The October 15 city council meeting opened with the presentation of a plaque to former Councilman Richard Pilski. When presenting the plaque, Mayor Gil Weidenfeld praised Pilski's 20 years of city council service, which included stints as mayor and, most recently, mayor pro tempore. In a brief, graceful acceptance speech, Pilski thanked the council, the city staff and the people of Greenbelt for making this service possible.

In a long agenda, council took up several advisory board reports. One from the Community Relations Advisory Board dealt with Boxwood Village parking problems caused by overflow Attick Park visitors. The CRAB report recommended that parking in Boxwood be restricted to residents by using residential parking permits. The report also recommended that parking be permitted along Crescent Road on weekends and holidays and that additional parking be constructed somewhere in the vicinity of the park.

David Moran, Acting President of the Boxwood Civic Association said that although he had not had time to canvass all Boxwood residents, there was considerable opposition to a residential parking permit system among those to whom he had talked. He also noted difficulties and dangers associated with parking on Crescent Road. He emphasized particularly that the Boxwood Civic Association is "vehemently against any parking on Parcel 7." (Parcel 7 is the open land along Crescent Road and west of Lastner Lane.)

City Manager Jim Giese suggested that council consider banning parking on Crescent Road at all times. Parking is currently permitted during the day on weekends only. Since the rule is the reverse of most parking restrictions, Giese said, many motorists feel betrayed when they are ticketed for parking in the Crescent Road spaces on nights and weekends. Weidenfeld also commented on the hazards of cars pulling in and out of parking spaces on Crescent during the day when traffic on the road is at its peak.

Council member Antoinette Bram, however, expressed the fear that banning parking on Crescent might push additional cars into Boxwood streets. No firm figures are available on the number of cars which use the parking spaces during the allowed weekday hours. In any case, parking in Boxwood by visitors to the park does not seem to be a problem during weekdays. Council decided to defer action on the CRAB report until input from the Boxwood Civic Association is received.

Council adopted the position of the Advisory Planning Board in disapproving site plans submitted for the Witt tract at the intersection of Hanover Parkway and Greenway Center Drive. The plan provided for 79 units on 7-plus acres or 11.8 units per acre.

In answer to questions about this density by council members, Jim Hage, representing Western Development Corporation, said that the high density would be "the highest and best use" of the property. The Maryland-National Capitol Park and Planning staff was quoted as saying that the site plan could be approved if the site can be engineered to meet soil and storm water management requirements. Council Rejects Fees for Tennis Courts, Also Police Escort for Area Merchants

by Diane Oberg

In a relatively fast-moving city council meeting, the Greenbelt City Council on October 21 rejected several proposals to defer decisions or request additional studies. Instead they made decisions relating to tennis court fees, daytime police bank escorts and the construction of curbs and gutters at Attick Park.

Tennis Court Fees

After some discussion, council accepted on second reading the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board's recommendation that fees not be charged for use of the city's tennis courts. PRAB found that the administration of such fees would be unfeasible. Mayor Pro Tem Thomas X. White mentioned that part of the referral to PRAB had requested an evaluation of the city's tennis facilities. PRAB chair Keith Chernikoff reported that PRAB intends to work with the city staff to develop a method of conducting the survey that will take into account the different levels of use in different seasons.

White proposed that PRAB consider fees for tennis courts and other recreational facilities for the next budget. He expressed concern that certain of the city's recreation facilities recover funds to partially offset expenditures, while others do not; that tennis courts, which are an identifiable facility, may be amenable to fees, like other recreational facilities; and that there is a fairness issue involved in the city's providing facilities free that other residents pay for through their rents, condominium fees or other methods.

Chernikoff pointed out, however, that fees are not charged for the open tennis courts in Prince Georges County or elsewhere in the Maryland suburbs and Northern Virginia. Unless conditions change, PRAB members see no reason to change the policy; however, they will continue to make periodic reviews of policies for recreation department fees and charges. Councilmember Antoinette Bram stated that tennis has never been self-supporting in Greenbelt.

White moved that council ask PRAB to "consider fees again for recreation facilities including tennis courts in concert with the next fiscal year budget." The motion died for lack of a second.

Daytime Bank Escorts

The next item on the agenda related to the provision of daytime bank escorts by city police officers to local businesses. On September 1, all businesses in the city were notified that this practice would be discontinued as of October 1. The cost of providing escort service once a day to all businesses in the city has been estimated at $52,000, an amount approximately equal to the salaries of two police officers.

A representative from Jaspers had since called Mayor Gil Weidenfeld to ask that the escorts be continued. Since this request occurred after the last council meeting before the city election, Weidenfeld asked that escorts for Jaspers be continued until the new council had a chance to act one way or the other. This matter had been deferred from the October 15 meeting because Jaspers informed the mayor that a letter would be sent to council, but as of the October 21 meeting, such a letter had not been received. Because only a week had elapsed between meetings, Weidenfeld recommended that the matter be deferred until the November 4 meeting.

Bram, however, saw no reason why the decision could not be made that night—"if they felt strongly about it they'd be here." Councilmember Joseph Isaacs agreed, expressing his belief that sufficient time had been allowed for communications.

Bram expressed her view that this was a policy question.

ATOM to Meet Saturday, Plan for State-wide Rally

Several important rallies of the locked-out S. & L. depositors will take place in the coming first week of November, starting with a meeting here in Greenbelt on Saturday, November 2 at 1:30 p.m. in the Greenbelt Library meeting room.

This will inform people of the latest status of their money, and discuss preparations for a massive Statewide rally to be held in two weeks on Saturday, November 16, which it is hoped will show elected officials how determined the depositor's movement is. The A.T.O.M. steering committee (Alex Barnes, Lekh Batra, Alex Chavrid, Jerry Conway, Irene Hensel and David Lange) urges all concerned persons to attend this meeting.

Community Savings and Loan, the S. & L. of most importance to Greenbelt because of residents' deposits in its local office, has not been helped at all by the state's recent controversial deal with Chase Manhattan Bank which concerned only three larger S. & L.'s (Merritt, Friendship and Chesapeake) in the Baltimore area. Saturday's meeting will clarify this aspect of the current legislation passed by the Maryland General Assembly, which has not been addressed in most news coverage by the larger metropolitan newspapers. The extension until March 5 of the freeze on withdrawals at Community S&L will also be covered.

In addition, information will be presented on available sources of funds that could be used to provide some relief to many depositors. These funds are being held while a Depositors' Plan is developed and no schedule for either the Plan or distribution of the funds has been announced by the Governor.

Two other area rallies of S&L depositors also will be held at Bowie Senior High School, on Monday, November 4 and next day at Gaithersburg Senior High School on Tuesday, November 5, both in the evening at 7:30 p.m. Bowie Senior High School is at 15200 Annapolis Road (Md. 450).

Council Prepares for Metro Hearing

by Diane Oberg

On Wednesday, Nov. 6 at 7:30 p.m., there will be a public hearing on the Greenbelt Metro station. The hearing will be held in the cafeteria of the Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

The Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority, WMATA, proposes: to build the Greenbelt station just south of the Beltway adjacent to the B&O railroad tracks, which the metro line will follow; to construct ramps for east-bound Beltway traffic to enter the station and exit west-bound; and to create a lake-oriented park for the residents of Berwyn Heights and College Park. Access to Metro from the east would be via Kenilworth Ave., Greenbelt Rd., and Cherrywood Lane.

The Greenbelt city council discussed the city's position at their October 21 meeting. The hearing is being held, according to City Manager James K. Giese, to cover the legal requirements. There had never been a full public hearing on the decision to move the station from the original Berwyn Road location to the Beltway location.

Giese also pointed out that of the three proposals covered by the hearing, council had supported the Greenbelt Extension Alternative in the past. Council has noted in the past, and continued at this meeting to note, that the proposed Beltway ramps would only provide access from the western side of the Beltway and hence would provide better access to the station for those com-

News Review Will Be Open Monday Afternoons

Beginning Monday, November 4, the News Review will extend its office hours by opening its door to the public on Monday afternoons from 2-4 p.m. in the 15 Parkway basement office. This is the first time daytime hours have been offered. The traditional Tuesday night two hour session, which has been in effect longer than any of the present staff can recall, will continue.

Monday work sessions are staffed mostly by new volunteers drawn from this summer's volunteer and fund drive. The staff will accept news stories, club and organization news, letters to the editor, sports news, and classified advertising. The office will continue to be open Monday evening from 8 to 10 p.m. for display advertising.

The staff would like to encourage use of the new hours on Monday afternoons in order to reduce the increasingly heavy work load Tuesday evening.

Buddy Attick Park Will Be Dedicated Sunday, Nov. 3

Everyone is invited to attend the dedication of the Albert S. "Buddy" Attick Park on Sunday, November 3 at 2 p.m. The ceremony will take place at the park entrance on Crescent Road near Lastner Lane. A reception will follow at the Public Works Municipal Service Building next to the park. In case of inclement weather, the ceremony will be held at the Public Works Building.

"Buddy" was one of Greenbelt's first employees and first residents. He was also one of the first police officers and first firemen. He was the first Public Works Director, and retired in 1977. Buddy served the city for 40 years, longer than any other employee, and in 1978, the City Council honored him with a special Career Achievement Award.

"Buddy" died in May, 1982, leaving a loving family, thousands of friends, and an entire town better for having known him.

just past Md. 197, on the left (north) side of the road. Gaithersburg Senior High School is at 314 South Frederick Avenue in Gaithersburg. Ben Bialek, Governor Hughes' Chief Legislative Officer and the person presenting the Chase Manhattan plan to the Legislature, will be the speaker at the Gaithersburg meeting. Greenbelters are urged to go to these meetings, if possible, to reciprocate the support recently shown here by participants from those areas and strengthen the areawide nature of the movement.

Other rallies are being held in Glen Burnie (November 7), Ocean City (November 8), and the Middle River/Essex area of Baltimore County (November 14). An earlier one was held last night in the Randallstown area of Baltimore County. President of the Senate Steinberg, Speaker of the House Cardin, and several other state legislators had announced plans to attend this rally.

In addition to these rallies sponsored by the ten chapters of the combined depositors' organizations, several meetings have been held with top Maryland officials. In addition to the two-hour meeting with Governor Hughes on October 10, two meetings have been held with Speaker Cardin to obtain information and insights on legislative actions and approaches. In addition, depositor representatives Marje Hoban, David Lange, John McHale, Fred Schnur, and David Zinner met with Judge Joseph Kaplan on October 29 to discuss possible legal actions. Judge Kaplan supervises conservatorship actions dealing with Old Court and Community Savings & Loans. These too will be discussed at the November 2 meeting in Greenbelt.

Jaycees Hold Halloween Party on November 2

Halloween is extended two days by the Greenbelt Jaycees. The 4th Annual Greenbelt Jaycee Community Halloween Party will be held in St. Hugh's Grenoble Hall (not the Jaycee Clubhouse announced earlier), on Saturday, November 2, at 1 until 3 p.m. It's free and all Greenbelt area kids are welcome to participate, especially Little Brothers and Jaycee families. People can decide whether to dress up. There will be games, munchies and a costume contest. Parents are welcome to assist, take photos and participate. Soccer Update

by Sue Cornelius

The youngest of Greenbelt's Soccer teams, the mighty 6 year olds, had a tough game last Saturday against first place Lanham and the final score was a 0-0 tie. Although April Collmer did punch in one goal with 10 seconds left in the game, it was called back for a penalty. Goalies Karl Friedheim and Tommy Bradley were instrumental in shutting out home team Lanham. Mike Mehringer and Mike Todd really hustled while playing defense. Their standings are now 2-1-3 — a winning season!

Our County team tied Lanham 1-1, two weeks ago, and Alex Collmer scored the Greenbelt goal, while Seth Hamlin played very well at halfback and David Dettaven was important in fullback. This past Sunday they took a tough loss to Beltsville, but Mike Kramer managed to score his second goal of the season.

Greenbelt's 13 year old team had a rousing victory over Lanham, 6-3! Nick Jones scored once, Jonathan Schacter scored twice, Sasha Gomelsky and Joey Murray each scored once for their team. After teammate David Kooyman broke his leg in the first quarter, the team came together, intending to win one for him. And they were very successful!

GHI NOTES

Free blood pressure testing will be offered from 2-4 p.m. on November 6 in the Board Room.

Because there was no quorum at the Special Membership Meeting about the bylaws on October 22, a new meeting has been set for November 19 at 8 p.m. Members are urged to mark their calendars now and plan to attend this meeting.

Over the weekend, calendars were delivered to GHI members. The Information Office developed this as a special commemorative for Co-op Month. It is hoped that members can use this all year to keep informed of co-op activities. Anyone who has not received a copy should call 474-6644.

ing from Montgomery and Howard Counties than for Prince Georges residents.

Council member Thomas X. White said Greenbelt should continue to "make clear the city's position regarding the overall improvement to the Metro access in conjunction with a crossover of Cherrywood to Ivy." Mayor Gil Weidenfeld noted that the crossover is a county project, rather than a Metro project, while Giese noted that since Metro uses several private planners who may not be aware of the county's plans for the crossover, it might not hurt to include the issue in the city's statement.

Other council and city concerns also related to access to the station and the service, inspection and repair yard. White asked about an access road from Edmonston Road to the yard shown on the Metro maps. He stated that previous proposals had shown access to the yard from Sunnyside Avenue. Given the traffic volume on Edmonston, he questioned the advisability of the new access road.

Giese noted that he did not recall any previous proposal for access from Edmonston Road and that originally the access to the yards was to be from the station. He pointed out that since this proposal would affect Agricultural Research Center land, the city might wish to get their reaction. In addition, the access road would cross the flood plain, which might be undesirable. On the other hand, the whole area could possibly be considered flood plain.

White also verified with Giese that there would be pedestrian access from residences in the Hollywood area, as well as from the Maryland Commuter Rail Station. Such pedestrian access would relieve some pressure from the surrounding roads.

Keith Chernikoff asked if it is true that "the city has no firm commitment from the county or Metro to provide access from this side of town save going down Kenilworth (to Greenbelt Road to Cherrywood Lane) and coming in?"

Giese replied that the overpass is in the county's capital improvements plans and in the District TIF (Tax Incremental Fi-

The Greenbelt scoring machine just keeps rolling along, taking New Carrollton this week as its latest victim. From the opening whistle the offense pummeled the visitors unmercifully in what was slated as a "payback" game from last year.

Miguel Boardman/Pereira led the attack with three goals for his first "hat trick" this year. He made it look easy!

Corey Lee got his foot in the show with two devastating shots for scores. He also made it look easy.

Melissa Svoboda, on a high pressure penalty shot, blasted the ball in for her first goal, but to no avail. The referee ruled a re-kick. No problem for her—she just planted her foot and blasted it in again!—this time for keeps!

Special thanks to the Greenbelt goalie, Jonathan Murray, who was drafted by the coach. It's tough being the goalie for this team. Maybe next week we should bring the "draftee" a book and a chair! The final score was Greenbelt 6, New Carrollton 0.

nancing) but that it is not funded at this time because the county sees no need for the project until several years from now.

Weidenfeld pointed out that due to a change in the rules governing TIF funds, there would be more competition for these funds in the future.

Member of council Joe Isaacs proposed deferring a decision on this matter until city staff had more time to review it, but Weidenfeld noted that a decision at the next (November 4) meeting would not give city staff sufficient time to prepare a statement. When the time came for a vote, council unanimously approved a motion to go on record for the Greenbelt Extension Alternative and ramp structure. Weidenfeld volunteered to present the statement at the hearing and invited other councilmembers to attend for their comments and support.

Mail Comments

To the Editor:

Permit me the following observations re Shop Steward Kremnitzer's letter on the virtues of the Greenbelt Postal employees.

1. Shop Steward Kremnitzer states that Greenbelt's similar street names and numbers can create unique problems. He gives as an example Greenhill Road and Greenbelt Road. Well, I am having right now on my lap a letter addressed to a resident of Greenhill Road, whereas I live on Northway Road. However, I have to admit that our house-numbers are identical. Having identical house numbers is surely not a uniquely Greenbelt problem. By the way, I get these Greenhill Road letters on a regular basis.

2. Shop Steward Kremnitzer complains that his profession requires tremendous physical and mental discipline, because it requires up to 16 miles walking daily. I have no way of checking the accuracy of this number, but even if the number is correct, it seems to me that nobody forces one to become a mailcarrier.

There are plenty of "sitting" jobs around, admittedly paying less in both paychecks and fringe benefits. I do know that many people would be only too happy to become a mailcarrier because of the high pay scales.

3. The service in the Greenbelt Post Office has been notoriously poor. Fortunately there has been quite some improvement lately. I base this evaluation on comparisons with the service at other Post Offices.

4. Lastly I do not think that it is too much to require from mail carriers that they are capable of distinguishing between Northway and Southway as well as between Northway and Greenhill. This should be their specific skill for which they were hired and for which they are being paid. It is part of their specific job. Yes, everybody makes mistakes, but the number of mistakes made by professionals should be minimal in their field of endeavor.

Not Satisfied

To the Editor:

In his reply to my letter to the News Review concerning postal service, Dave Kremnitzer, shop steward of the National Association of Letter Carriers, was quite condescending. His three step procedure for dealing with Postal Service complaints was not at all helpful.

The issue at hand—5 day mail service within Greenbelt was not addressed by Kremnitzer. Additionally, I don't understand the logic of his similarity examples in our situation.—North-way-vs.—Green-hill.

Following my letter to the editor, a number of citizens expressed their concerns with the service, some of which have been corrected by the Regional Postal Facility in Riverdale

THANKS

GREENBELT IS GREAT. I would like to thank the Greenbelt Police Department, especially the officer whose name I forgot to get, for the help I received last Friday night, October 25, while stranded on Crescent Road.

It's very reassuring to know you live in a neighborhood where you feel safe when stranded, because help is soon on the way.

I also would like to thank the citizens who were on duty for the Lakewood Neighborhood Watch, who watched out for me, and followed me home to make sure my car made it all the way. It certainly felt good to know there are nice neighbors who look out for each other in times of despair.

Again, Greenbelt is great.

Letters Outline Hardship Withdrawal Guidelines

The State of Maryland Deposit Insurance Fund Corporation (M-DIF) today began mailing letters to 80,000 depositors in Old Court and Community Savings and Loan Associations describing the recently approved hardship withdrawal plan.

The letters will include an explanation of the various categories of the plan, a tear-off form for eligible depositors to request an application, and a pre-addressed return envelope.

Governor Harry Hughes has announced that hardship withdrawals will be permitted for institutional, custodial or medical care, emergency medical services, payment of tuition or other educational expenses, payment of funeral costs, necessities of life such as food, clothing or shelter, consummation of residential property settlements entered into before the dates of the conservatorship. In each case, the depositors must certify that no other source of funds is available to meet the hardship.

A similar plan is currently being developed for First Maryland Savings and Loan Association, a thrift where withdrawals have been temporarily halted by executive order. First Maryland depositors will be sent details of the plan in the near future.

On October 25, Governor Harry Hughes signed into law emergency legislation to allow Chase Manhattan Bank to acquire Merrit, Friendship and Chesapeake Savings and Loan Associations, an action that will give depositors full access to nearly $500 million in savings early next month. Governor Hughes noted that all withdrawal restrictions will be automatically lifted at Merritt, Friendship and Chesapeake when Chase Bank receives the expected State and Federal regulatory approvals.

Ben Dyer Associates told the council that by piping the water to the southwest corner of the property, the storm water disposal problem would be "expensive, but solvable."

This parcel, however, has been proposed as a storm water management facility for the entire area. According to Giese, it appears that the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission and the owners of the tract are at 'an impasse' about WSSC acquisition of the tract.

On a motion by Bram, council voted to adopt the APB recommendation to disapprove the site plan. On a motion by council Member Ed Putens, the council also voted to contact the WSSC and urge that the site be acquired for storm water management.

Travel Funds

Turning to more cheerful matters, the council voted to put up $5,000 "seed money" to send approximately ten persons to the final judging of the All-America City finalists (of which Greenbelt is one) in Cincinnati on November 15-18. Giese also told the council of plans to prepare for the judging. There will be a special edition of the News Review and two committees have been formed and will start work this week. One committee will plan the presentation in Cincinnati and the other will plan the display booth.

The city expects to recoup most of the seed money from profits

by Sue Cornelius

There comes a time when a team "gels" into a solid working unit. That time has come for the eight-year-old Greenbelt I team. For the Lanham home team last Saturday, it was a very dismal day. The Greenbelt offense left them amazed and confused trying to defend against a passing game that many adult teams would envy.

Miguel Boardman - Pereira scored two goals with Peter Timmer's and Adam Wheatley's assists. Corty Lee scored the third goal, displaying his powerful foot with a 20-yard "fireball" shot. The Greenbelt goalie again had a busy day as the Lanham team only had two shots on goal, and shut them out - scoreless - once again. Excellent defense, Greenbelt... just excellent!

The 'Good Hustle' awards this week go to T. J. Trimble, Stacey King and David Martin. Their team is still in first place, undefeated and unscored on!

Ray Vidal, D.D.S.

What is a partial denture?

Although in most situations a nonremovable bridge is the preferred method to restore one or more missing teeth, it may not always be feasible or practical. Partial dentures are removable appliances which can also replace missing teeth. They are held in place by clip-like structures called clasps. The clasps are designed to encircle the designated teeth to provide support and resistance to movement of the partial denture.

Partial dentures are utilized in situations where either many teeth are missing or the remaining teeth are not strong enough to support a bridge. Since crowns are usually not needed for the supporting teeth the cost is somewhat less than a bridge. All factors must be thoroughly evaluated by your family dentist in determining the proper type of restoration for your particular needs. In most cases a choice of treatment plans can usually be offered.

CONSIDERING A CHANGE IN RESIDENCE?

There are three key elements to consider:

- A) Your needs: things you positively have to have.
- B) Your wants: things you'd like to have, but don't necessarily need.
- C) Your qualifications:
 - 1) Your initial investment (cash to move in)
 - 2) Your total income (gross yearly income)
 - 3) Your debt service (total indebtedness)

I would like the opportunity to discuss with you how we can combine these three factors to assist you and your family in achieving your housing goals both within Greenbelt and the metropolitan area - of course with no obligation.

 "whether or not the chief of police makes the decision with the agreement of the city manager . . . No matter what Jaspers has to say it would not change the policy." Weidenfeld countered that council can determine what services the city will provide, but Bram pointed out that they were talking about an exception for one business.

In response to a question from White, police chief Francis T. Hutson reported that before the policy change was announced, four or five businesses were frequent users of the service, while only one used it on a regular basis. That one business, Jaspers, was receiving police escorts twice daily. Hutson emphasized that only daytime escorts were being discontinued, night-time escorts would still be provided.

White suggested that during the annexation of the Greenway Center/Maryland Trade Center area, the escort service may have been used as an example of the benefits of annexation. If so, White felt, this should be taken into consideration. Hutson pointed out that other businesses in the annexed area were affected as well and understood the reasons for the policy change.

For a time, council seemed ready to defer action. But when Hutson said he did not feel that he could refuse additional requests as word of continuation of service to Jaspers spread. Weidenfeld agreed that the same policy must apply to all businesses until a final decision had been made.

Isaacs declared himself troubled since the costs and justification for the change were well documented. He noted that "progressive" police departments were discontinuing the provision of escort services. Stating that he supports the chief's policy, he moved that council support the policy "tonight in terms of allowing it to be applied fully without exception."

Bram seconded the motion, which was amended by White to include "eliminating the delivery of council packets" by the police. In response to comments by city manager James Giese and several council members, the motion was clarified to relate only to the regular council packets, not to special announcements. White said the intent of his amendment was that the police not be messengers.

The amended motion passed four to one, with Weidenfeld dissenting "not because I disagree with the position, I don't . . ." but he felt Jaspers should have a chance to be heard before council adopts a policy that adversely affects it.

Other Actions

White also asked Giese about a proposal by the Milton Co. to develop the area beside the American Legion, and asked about proposals previously discussed by council with the owners of the parcel at which there had been a "meeting of minds," with only a few steps necessary to complete an agreement. Giese stated that Milton may become the contract purchaser of the parcel and is not interested in the type of development previously discussed. White suggested that the city look into the matter to avoid going "back to square one." The item was put on the agenda for the next meeting.
