County "Festival of Flight" Offers Balloon Rides, Contests, Fireworks

It all began in a field near Bladensburg on June 17, 1784. On that date a young attorney named Peter Carnes made the first successful hot air balloon ascension in the Western Hemisphere. In the 202 years after that historic event, much of the history of American aviation has continued to take place in Prince Georges County.

In celebration of the numerous aviation milestones which are part of the county's history, the Prince Georges Travel Promotion Council and the Coca Cola Bottling Company are sponsoring a "Festival of Flight" on June 14 and 15 at the historic College Park airport. The festival will feature aeronautical exhibits, model airplanes and model rocketry, antique aircraft displays, historical films on aviation and lectures by aviation authorities. There will also be corporate blimp fly-overs, hot-air balloon rides, musical entertainment and fireworks displays.

Dr. Ronald Parise, Astro Payload Specialist for the Computer Sciences Corporation, is the Honorary Chairman of the event. Dr. Parise will join with County Executive Parris Glendening for the official opening ceremonies at noon, Saturday, June 14 at College Park Airport.

Baseball Hall of Famer Brooks Robinson will be on hand to sign autographs from 2 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, June 15.

More than twenty hot air balloons will be at the airport over the weekend to give tethered rides starting at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday and at 4:30 p.m. on Sunday.

At 9 p.m. a fireworks display will conclude the day's activities at the airport Saturday evening.

Two Contests

The festival is also sponsoring two special contests: a Wright Brothers Early Aviator Look-Alike Contest and a Paper Airplane Design contest. Contestants for the "Look-Alike" competition will have the opportunity to dress up like Orville or Wilbur Wright, Amelia Earheart, Charles Lindbergh, Wiley Post, Jimmy Doolittle or any other famous early aviator. The judging, which will be held at 3 p.m. on Saturday, June 14, will be based on the costumes' creativity and authenticity.

County residents also will have the opportunity to enter a "Paper Airplane Design" contest. All entries will be put on display in the airport hangar during both days of the Festival. Judging will be held at 3 p.m. on Sunday, June 15.

Plogman to Run For School Board

Suzanne Plogman, a Greenbelt Advisory Planning Board member and former chairperson of the county's commission for women, filed on Tuesday to run for the Prince Georges County School Board's second district seat. She is the first to file for the position currently held by Lesley Kreimer.

A county school teacher for the last eight years, Plogman will remain on leave during the campaign from her special education position at Northwestern High School. While on leave, Plogman has been serving on the county committee monitoring the magnet schools program.

In the 1984 presidential primary, she ran on the Mondale ticket as a candidate for Democratic national convention delegate. She is a vice president of the Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt Democratic Club and a member of the Greenbelt Democratic Coordinating Committee. She is also on the Family Crisis Center's board of directors and is a former secretary of the Greenbelt Arts Center's board of directors. Elected last year to the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) Nomination and Elections Committee, she also handled the public relations for the Save Our Services Campaign and was a committee member of the Citizens for the Bond Referendum in May, 1985.

Greenbelt city council member Joseph Isaacs is her campaign treasurer, and Susan Robbins, a former aide to county executive Parris Glendening and a Glen Ora resident, is the campaign's chairperson.

The candidate is 32 years old, married and has a six-month-old son. She has lived for nearly six years in Greenbelt, in a GHI house on 2 Court Northway, with her husband, Rennie Mihalovic. Before moving to Greenbelt, Plogman and her husband lived in Seabrook for two years. She grew up in Pikesville, a Baltimore suburb. She received her bachelor's degree in special education from Hood College, Frederick and her Master's Degree from the University of Arizona, Tucson.

For further information on the contests, call Cathy Wallace at 779-2011 on weekdays.

College Park Airport is located off Calvert Road, at 6709 Cpl. Frank Scott Drive. Additional "Festival of Flight" sites will include the Goddard Space Flight Center, the Paul E. Garber Museum and Andrews Air Force Base.

For more information on the "Festival of Flight", call 927-0700.

New Police Station Is to Be On Parcel 8, Council Says

by Andrea Edie

The Greenbelt City Council unanimously selected Parcel 8 as the site for the city's new police facility at its May 5 regular meeting. Located between Ridge and Crescent Rds. and Kenilworth Ave., Parcel 8 was recommended by the city staff because of its central location and size and because it can be acquired for the cost of replacing the parkland.

At a work session on May 14, council met with architect Steve Parker of Grimm & Parker and with city Police Chief Frank Hutson to discuss building plans and the size of the facility.

The proposed main building requires about 18,000 square feet. An additional 2,000 square feet is needed for the sally port for prisoner entrance and for the detached two-bay garage.

Hutson said the facility is designed for 75 police personnel. There are presently 52 employees in the department, but Hutson projects an increase in staff of about 25 in the next 10 years.

Although 52 people will not be in the building at one time, Hutson said separate areas are necessary for male and female prisoners as well as for minors and adults. Prisoners under the influence of PCP also need to be kept separate, Hutson said.

Currently, there is only one holding cell in the police station in the municipal building. Some prisoners must be handcuffed to hooks that are bolted to hallway walls within the station.

Council member Joseph Isaacs told Hutson, "I won't presume to tell you what should go in the police facility. My concern is the view of the facility from Hedgewood Drive."

Council in general was concerned about putting up a building larger than would be needed by the police department at this time. One option discussed was to design the building so that an addition could be built later. Council member Edward Putens wanted justification for every square foot of space requested before he would approve any specific design.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld summed up council's responsibility by saying, "We shouldn't decide the floor plan, but we need to be convinced all the requested space is necessary."

No Paper? Please Tell Us

During the summer, many News Review carriers will be on vacation and substitute carriers will take over their routes. Because these substitute carriers may not be familiar with the route they are delivering, News Review readers in the core of Greenbelt would be doing them and the News Review staff a favor if they would call the circulation manager, Mike Jones, at 982-9388 if they experience problems with their delivery.

Also, substitute carriers are needed for the summer starting immediately for the Lakeside and Lakewood routes. Please call Mike Jones at 982-9388 for more information. Nominal pay is given for each route.

Invitation to Peace Fair

To the Editor:

The people are schizophrenic over the subject of peace; they deeply want it but can't believe that the nations will ever bend enough to tolerate it. It appears natural for conflicts to build to eminent proportions which no amount of effort can improve!

This crisis is the opportunity for focusing the creative energies of mankind to modify its priorities. This peace fair is a place for concerned people to seek out each other; to exchange and develop the ideas that will bring about a unified world. Join us at the Second Annual Prince Georges County Peace Fair to be held June 21, 1986 at the Prince Georges County Community College in the Community Room of the Largo Student Center starting 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Well-Earned Praise

To the Editor:

The people of this community, indeed of the State of Maryland, owe a deep debt of gratitude to those who took upon themselves the burden of leadership in the campaign to preserve and release the funds many of us had in the Community Savings and Loan and other S&L's in Maryland. Yet there has not been one word of editorial commendation, no letters to the editor saying thanks, expressing gratitude and admiration for the efforts of Dave Lange and Lekh Batra, and others. They voiced the indignation, displeasure, anger and disgust of the depositors who had been betrayed by those to whom hard-earned money had been entrusted. They let the governor, the members of the state legislature and the various state agencies know that we, the people, hold them as well as the financial freebooters responsible for the messy situation. They organized and led the demonstrations in Annapolis which were so helpful.

Now, Governor Hughes is posing as the "savior" of the depositors in the S&L's. His negligence and that of many other politicians were responsible for the S&L scandal and collapse. Those of us who go into the Mellon Bank these days owe it to ourselves, at least, to utter a prayer, silent or otherwise, of thanks to Dave Lange, Lekh Batra, Irene Hensel and others who acted in the interests of the people.

Dramatic Workshops Offered by Arts Center

The Greenbelt Arts Center will offer summer performing arts classes for adults.

The Creative Dramatics classes for children ages 4-12 are taught by Laura Farrall, and focus on improvisation, characterization, pantomime, movement, make-up and storybook theatre. There will be two summer sessions, with two classes in each session.

A puppetry workshop for ages 7-14 will be taught by Dorothy Hicks. Hicks, who has studied with Bob Brown, will explore the art of puppetry from making the puppets, to planning performance. This workshop should appeal to the child interested in crafts, as well as the performing arts.

Youth acting classes, for ages 10-14, will be taught by Pamela Billig. Students will learn acting techniques and performance basics. At the end of the session, students will tour an appropriate production to area senior citizen homes.

Two adult classes have been added, both taught by Brad Baker from the University of Maryland. One workshop focuses on special performance skills, such as stage movement, stunt work, basic circus skills, and staging scenes that require special effects such as fight scenes. This will be a fun workshop designed to provide the skills that can give the "edge" in auditions. The second adult workshop is an acting workshop, focusing on techniques and performance basics.

Workshops begin June 23. Registration is open until the first class in each session, however, many classes fill quickly, and early registration is advised.

For more information, or for registration forms, call the Greenbelt Arts Center at 441-8770.

Seniors Co-ed Team Ties in Slow Pitch

by Jerry Conway

On May 30, Memorial Day, the Greenbelt Senior Citizens Co-ed Slow Pitch Softball Team played an exhibition game with Senior Citizens of Upper Montgomery County at Braden Field at 11 a.m. The teams played a seven inning game with 13 players on each team batting around each inning. The teams were evenly matched and the score was 7-7, a tie game.

A homerun with bases loaded by Bill Grennon of the Greenbelt team played a significant role in this low scoring game. Other triples, doubles and singles illustrated good hitting on both teams, but the excellent fielding of each team kept the game score low. The atmosphere of good sportsmanship, social fun and a sense of humor provided players as well as spectators an enjoyable day.

The Greenbelt Senior Citizens Co-ed Softball Team this year is being sponsored by the Greenbelt American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary. They proudly wear the blue shirts with the name Greenbelt Seniors in gold. The remaining game series is scheduled with the five teams of Montgomery County. The following games are to be played at Layhill Park in Montgomery County: June 18, Greenbelt vs. Forest Glen Seniors; June 25, Greenbelt vs. Up-

State Fire Marshal Warns Against Illegal Fireworks

Maryland State Fire Marshal Rocco J. Gabriele has announced a crackdown on the possession and use of illegal fireworks. As the Fourth of July approaches, Gabriele advises citizens that fireworks are illegal in Maryland. Only gold label sparklers are legal in Maryland except in Prince Georges and Montgomery Counties and the City of Baltimore, where all types of fireworks, including sparklers, are illegal.

In an effort to stop the flow of illegal fireworks into the state, the State Fire Marshal's office, acting on the advice of the Attorney General's office, has notified several common carrier parcel delivery companies that shipping or transporting fireworks into the state of Maryland from other states or countries is illegal. Such shipments of fireworks can be seized by the state. If a person is found in possession of or using illegal fireworks anywhere in the state, the fireworks may be confiscated by the State Fire Marshal's office or any other law enforcement agency, and the individual charged with violation of state law. The fine for possession or use of fireworks is $250 while the fine for selling or distributing fireworks in Maryland can be as high as $1,000.

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

On June 1, Officer Tom Kemp stopped a vehicle for a traffic violation on Kenilworth Avenue at Crescent Road. The operator of the vehicle jumped out and fled on foot across both lanes of the Beltway. The suspect then forced his way into an occupied townhouse in the 9200 block of Edmonston Road and assaulted the resident before fleeing. Despite an extensive search, the suspect was not found. However, the suspect was identified by Officer Kemp and warrants have been issued.

While on routine patrol on June 3, Officer Leslie Hodge found two men going through a bin designed to hold items donated for charity in the East municipal lot off Centerway. The men, adult Greenbelt residents, were throwing clothing about the parking lot. The men were charged with disorderly conduct and released pending a court hearing.

On May 30, Detective William Allwang, assisted by uniformed patrol officers, arrested two non-residents at Beltway Plaza Mall for possession of cocaine with intent to distribute.

Officer Troy Harding arrested three intoxicated men who had removed a fire extinguisher and then discharged it in a hallway of an apartment building in the 5800 block of Cherrywood Lane.

Police Blotter

The incident occurred at 4:40 a.m. on June 2.

Two men, who were observed shoplifting in a store in the Greenway Shopping Center on May 30, threatened a store clerk who confronted them. The suspects fled with the items they had stolen.

A breaking and entering was reported on June 4 at 7 p.m. in the 5900 block of Springhill Drive. The break-in apparently occurred in the morning hours. The suspects used a key to enter the apartment and removed several items.

A jogger at Greenbelt Lake had money stolen from his wallet when he left it in his car with the window down. The theft was reported on May 31 at about 10 a.m.

After responding to a complaint on May 31 about midnight about a disorderly person at Ridge Road and Plateau Place, Officer Leslie Hodge arrested a male adult resident and charged him with disorderly intoxication and possession of a controlled dangerous substance. Among other actions, the man was lying in the roadway so that traffic could not pass.

On June 4 during daytime hours, an apartment in the 5900 block of Springhill Drive was broken into. Jewelry and other items were removed.

On May 30 at 3:17 p.m. three men were observed removing a spare tire from a Nissan truck parked in the 9000 block of Edmonston Road. The suspects fled in a late 70's black Ford LTD 4-door car and took the tire with them.

On June 4, one of the drivers involved in an accident at Hanover Parkway and Greenbelt Road fled the scene in his vehicle. When Pfc. John Squires found the vehicle in the 7800 block of Hanover Parkway, the operator jumped out and fled on foot. He was apprehended by Squires and Sgt. Philip Coombes after a brief foot chase and charged with numerous traffic violations.

After stopping a traffic violator on Parkway on June 4, Officer Troy Harding arrested the operator for driving under the influence of drugs and possession of suspected PCP.

A 1981 blue Ford Granada 2-door was stolen from the 9100 block of Edmonston Court on June 5.
