Council Appalled by WSSC Plans For Future Pond on Witt Tract

by Mavis Fletcher

Greenbelt city council disposed of a long agenda at its regular meeting on August 11. The unusual session was enlivened by the appearance of Councilman Joseph Isaacs sporting a jacket, tie, shorts, broken leg and walking cast and interrupted by time out for a brief executive session.

A presentation by City Planning and Development Coordinator Celia Wilson on the plans of the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission for a storm water management facility on the Witt tract in east Greenbelt introduced another chapter in attempts by the city to preserve some visual amenities east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. The Witt tract lies east of Hanover Parkway, and south of the Greenway Center Drive intersection. It contains about seven acres.

As reported by Wilson, WSSC plans a five-acre pond which will occupy almost all the roughly rectangular tract except for a small slice along the future Ora Glen Drive. The pond will also take some of the Smith-Ewing tract easement. The pond will be surrounded by a six-foot chain link fence. Unlike a pond of similar size in the Greenbrook/Schrom Hills Park area which will belong to the city, this pond will remain under the jurisdiction of WSSC. The Schrom Hills Park pond will be landscaped by the developer of Greenbrook and maintained by the city.

No landscaping is evident in plans for the Witt tract pond. Maintenance will be performed by WSSC. In his comments on the plan, City Manager James K. Giese pointed out that this pond will be sited in the midst of one of the most significant retail and office commercial complexes in the county.

Wilson emphasized that WSSC seems willing to work with the city to try to make the site more attractive. When Mayor Gil Weidenfeld asked if there could be some alternative to the wire fence, Wilson said that she had the impression that the fence is required by the state.

On a motion by Mayor pro tem Thomas X. White, the council voted to refer the pond design to the city's Advisory Planning Board and to apprise Prince Georges County Executive Parris Glendening, County Councilman Richard Castaldi and the county Economic Development Corporation of what White termed "this horrendous occurrence" to see what can be done to improve it. The vote was 4 to 0 (Councilman Edward V. J. Putens being absent because of the illness of his father).

Bond Issue Priorities

The continuing subject of relative priorities among building projects to be financed with bond issue money surfaced again at this meeting. Council considered an authorization to transfer $25,000 from the city's general fund (and later reimburse the fund from bond proceeds) for preliminary design reviews and topographical surveys for the police station, additions to the public works facility and the Youth Center, the indoor swimming pool and rehabilitation of the outdoor pool.

White objected to the inclusion of the addition to the public works facility on the list, saying that he was not aware that council had authorized proceeding with that project. He urged that a public hearing be held to get citizen views on the priorities of the various projects. Giese defended the proposed $5,000 expenditure for the public works facility, saying that the city needs to find out what the various projects will cost. He also said that he feels the aim should be to accomplish all the projects.

Isaacs supported the expenditure to find out what the cost would be; however, he also gave his support to a public hearing. On a vote of 3-1 (White opposed) the expenditure of $25,000, including $5,000 for the public works facility, was authorized.

White sounded the theme again of the need for a public hearing later in the meeting when council voted to employ Sullivan and Almy, Inc. as the architect for the indoor swimming pool, renovation of the outdoor pool and the Youth Center addition.

Weidenfeld suggested that preliminary planning for the Youth Center addition should be as comprehensive as possible so that desirable features will not be overlooked and have to be added at extra expense later. He suggested an exercise room, a food area and a senior daycare facility as the kind of features he had in mind. White, however, pointed out that a daycare facility was a new concept, essentially unrelated to a swimming pool, and one, moreover, which means "different things to different people."

Council member Antoinette Bram supported the idea of including a senior daycare facility in the preliminary planning. She said she knew of such facilities which regularly use a pool as part of their health and recreation programs. Bram also noted that council had approved money for a study assessing the needs of special populations (including the need for senior daycare) and hoped that this study and the architect's planning might be finished at about the same time.

Giese explained that the staff recommended that the entire recreation area should be planned. He noted, however, that a daycare facility had not been foreseen in the bond issue. Weidenfeld still supported the idea that all possibilities should be looked at. But White expressed concern about including a facility not planned for in the bond issue. He said that "the farther we get away from the May '85 vote" the more a hearing is needed to get current public views.

In the end, the staff recommendation to employ the architectural firm, omitting mention of

"Outstanding Citizen" Award Honors All Volunteers

by Thomas M. Renahan

On August 16, the Selection Committee for the 1986 Outstanding Citizen award reviewed 20 nominations supporting 14 people. This number, which may be an all-time high, continues an upward trend over the past few years. The entire committee felt that every nominee really qualifies as "outstanding" and that many others who probably deserved to be nominated were not. In short, the list of "outstanding citizens" in Greenbelt is a long one.

The Outstanding Citizen award honors the contributions of all the city's outstanding citizens, and indirectly the even larger number of people who contribute their time to one or more volunteer activities.

Whoever wins the award will obviously have to have made fantastic contributions and will have earned all the appreciation he or she may receive. Unfortunately, others whose contributions are also fantastic will have to be passed over.

Several months ago, I was privileged to be part of the City's presentation at the All-America Cities final competition, where citizen action is the main criterion. The case for Greenbelt was easy. In fact, we had more examples than we had time to mention. In Greenbelt, citizen action is everywhere, as almost any issue of the News Review will illustrate.

Consider some of the major citizen accomplishments of 1985-1986: the planning for a revitalized Roosevelt Center, planning for our 50th Anniversary, the growth of crime prevention programs, saving the Co-op supermarket and service station, promoting the bond issue referendum, the depositors' response to the savings and loan crisis, the volunteer campaign for the News Review, the coordination of development planning in East Greenbelt. Add in all the volunteer-run recreation activities for our children, all the work contributed by the board and committee members of our residential associations, the charitable work by our religious organizations, service on the many city boards and commissions, the contributions of several civic organizations, among other examples.

When the "Outstanding Citizen" award is given on Friday, August 29, the committee hopes all of Greenbelt's citizen volunteers will be there. They hope also that everyone attending will keep in mind the true purpose of the award: although given to one, it honors the many people whose collective efforts are the reason why "Greenbelt is great."

National Night Out Is "Huge Success"

Greenbelters who watched the ten o'clock news on Channel 5 TV on August 12 saw their neighbor Paul Rall, organizer of the Lakewood Neighborhood Crime Watch, standing in front of the Baptist Church, told how a robbery had been foiled there because of the activity of his Neighborhood Watch group.

Also on the program was Greenbelt's Chief of Police, Frank Hutson, who emphasized that it was very important for people to "watch." The police are helped by people who are being observant, he added.

All over Greenbelt people participated in the Third Annual National Night Out by turning on their outside lights and coming outside to show that they cared about helping to prevent crime. According to Valerie Siegel, chairman of Greenbelt's Crime Prevention Committee, who rode with Hutson, five crime watch groups participated, including members of the new Windsor Green group who were out for the first time. Also a mobile unit was out in Springhill Lake. All three phases of Greenbriar had their groups out. Several groups served refreshments at their base stations, some to as many as 40 people.

Siegel characterized the Greenbelt National Night Out as a "huge success."

Tidbits

—After a brief executive session requested by White, council voted to employ Greenman, Pederson, Inc. as inspection engineer to perform review and inspection services within the public right-of-ways in new developments under city permits. Council also authorized the city manager to employ John D. Emmer and Associates, former inspection engineer, on special engineering problems as needed.

In Memoriam

A Gift of Love

In February 1962, the Greenbelt Ladies Auxiliary of the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad received a special gift—Dot Varda. Since 1962, Dot has held the offices of president, vice-president, and chaplain several times and served on numerous committees. Dot also was a life member and received the president's award for her outstanding and dedicated years of service. Dot's greatest gifts to our auxiliary were her love, devotion, dedication, and hard work. Dot never knew the words "I can't" or "I won't." It was always, "I can" and "I will."

Representing my Auxiliary, I have written a letter to Dot that I would like to share with each of you.

Kathy Reynolds

Dearest Dot,

You will always be remembered for your creations of love that you brought to the firehouse. But most of all for your love of family, friends, and children.

When one thinks of you one can see your contagious smile, your sparkling eyes and hear your spontaneous giggle. How we miss your talents and gifts.

You were always one to give so much of yourself and never asked anything in return. You never complained even when you had your bad days. You always showed strength, courage and determination to keep on going—no matter what.

Dot, you have shared your many gifts and talent with each of us. May we always remember them and share with others as you so unselfishly did for so many years. We will miss your leadership, guidance and determination. We will never forget you and you will remain in our hearts and minds. May you have everlasting peace and eternal life. Thank you Dot for your greatest gift of all—you. We love you and always will.

Until we meet again our most precious friend, all our love,

Ladies Auxiliary to the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad.

Lions Club Sells Pretzels At Labor Day Festival

Once again the Lions Club will be selling soft pretzels at their Labor Day weekend booth. All proceeds will go towards the Lion's community activities—assisting needy and less fortunate Greenbelters, eye glasses, eye operations, hearing problems, etc.

"Drop by, have a tasty pretzel and in doing so help some fellow Greenbelter," urges Lion Emory Harman.

THANKS

To the Editor:

I would like to . . . thank the many Greenbelt citizens who participated in the National Crime Prevention Night Out on August 12.

In particular, I would like to commend the neighborhood crime watch groups who actively came out to patrol their neighborhood and provide refreshments for the participants. I, along with members of the Crime Prevention Committee, visited each neighborhood crime watch group that was active, and was especially pleased at the turnout, as I noticed a great improvement over last year, when only one of the crime watch groups, Greenbriar Phase III, took an active role.

It was very gratifying to me and the members of the Greenbelt City Police to observe the community's response to such a worthwhile endeavor. As I have said many times, a police department is only as good as the community it serves.

Thank you for your support.

Invitation Is Issued

To the Editor:

I would like to extend an invitation to the "Concerned Homeowner" in the Windsor Green Homeowners Association (News Review, August 14).

There are currently many openings . . . available on committees in Windsor Green and as a "CHO," we could use your services (i.e. Neighborhood Crime Watch).

I think it most commendable that you take time to attend board meetings and to write letters to the editor with your opinion. It is apparent that you are truly concerned about the happenings at Windsor Green, and because of this, I feel compelled to write and extend the invitation to become actively involved if you're not already, since you failed to identify yourself.

If you will call me, or anyone of the Committee Chairs, I'm sure you'd be welcome, as volunteers are badly needed and always in demand.

It takes a lot of "team-work" to keep a community going, and we, like others, have to work together for one goal. That is to make Windsor Green/Glen Ora the best it can be.

I am proud of our community and feel we have a good thing here!

Let's all get involved and do our part to maintain and build a unified team for the sake of Windsor Green/Glen Ora.

New Law Gives Tax Break for Child Care

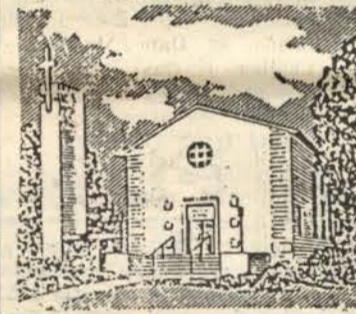

Governor Harry Hughes has signed into law the only Maryland county bill designed to provide tax incentives for the establishment of child care facilities. The Prince Georges County bill sponsored by Delegate Joan Pitkin would provide a property tax credit for property owners who develop child care facilities for the children of employees. A tax credit of $1,000 will be given to the property owner for property used to provide child care for the children of at least 25 employees.

The dramatic increase in working mothers and single parent families accentuates the need for child care facilities. In Prince Georges county there are 100,000 children under the age of 14.

Festival Notes

It takes considerable time and money to put on the four-day Labor Day Festival — the largest of its kind (all volunteer run) in the State of Maryland. Linda Parker is the Festival Committee Donations Chairperson. She is soliciting cash donations for the Festival. Any organizations or individuals interested in making a donation are urged to call her (345-9573). All donations are sincerely appreciated and help put on a terrific weekend for Greenbelt.

Salute to Workers

The Salute to Workers is an activity appropriate to the Labor Day Festival. During the Salute, from 2-4 p.m. Sunday, August 31, many people will demonstrate their skills and talents. A new exhibit this year will be a race car. NASCAR stock car driver Joe Clidmore will park his car at the Salute to Workers and answer questions about his occupation. He is sponsored by H.P. Kidd Oil Company and Chaney Enterprises.

Art Show

August 22 is the deadline for submissions to the Art Show. Artists of all ages are invited to pick up registration forms at Mellon Bank, the Springhill Lake Community Center, the Youth Center and the library. Besides numerous prizes given by local merchants two special awards—the Community Favorite and the Cipriano Award for the best salute to American workers—will also be presented. Oil paintings, water colors, drawings, prints, etchings, three-dimensional art forms and mixed media, collage, etc. are welcome for submission. The Art Show will be held August 30-31. Call Terry Kepler (345-2670) or Lynn Lube (474-4718) for more details.

Photo Show

The Labor Day Festival Photo Exhibit and Competition will be held August 30-September 1. Photographers of all ages are invited to submit their work. A fairly new category is the young photographers category and work is needed from youngsters 12 and under for this category. The Utopia Theater will be open 6-9 p.m. Friday, August 29, to accept photos for the exhibition. For information, call Jim Parker (345-9573).

Pet Show

The annual Pet Show will be held Saturday, August 30, from 10:30-11:30 a.m. Individuals planning to show their pets are reminded that, where appropriate, pets must have proof of rabies shots. All pets must be on leashes or in containers.

Food to be served at the carnival ranges from hot dogs, hamburgers, pizza and soft drinks to funnel cake, sukiyaki, tacos and non-alcoholic strawberry daquiris. Activities will include bingo, tic-tac-toe, zoo dip, ball toss, guessing game, birth year computer read-out, face painting, trivial pursuit and painting. T-shirts, bumper stickers, caps, mugs, flags, calendars, postcards, tote-bags and books will be sold at the carnival. There should be something for everyone.

Parade

One of the most entertaining events over Labor Day weekend is the annual Labor Day Parade. Any group interested in marching in the parade should call Parade Chairperson Richard Semler (474-0885).

Talent Show

This is the last call for performers 18 and under to appear in the 1986 Labor Day Festival Talent Show. This year's show promises to be one of the best, highlighting a number of fine dancing groups. Eleanor Pernia's School of Dance has taught a number of this year's performers and the audience can look forward to seeing dancers who have studied for many years. Heather Conway, age 14, will be performing a jazz solo. A cowboy tap routine will be performed by Majorie Dorak, Elizabeth Nikle, and Suzanne Nikle, who have studied dance for 10 years. A tap duet will feature Marti Dorak and Nicole White; and two 11-year old girls, Danielle Dorak and Victoria Nikle, will entertain with a jazz dance duet. The Chiklettes will be singing for pleasure and another dance troupe, the New Nation, has just joined the program. Add these to the acts already on the program and the show is definitely going to be a success. There is still time for additional acts to be included in the show. A rehearsal for new acts will be held at 2 p.m. at the Youth Center, on Saturday, August 23. Performers should bring music recorded on a cassette tape. Call Sandy Smith (474-6127) for more information.

Municipal League

Honors Green, Devlin

The Maryland Municipal League at their annual convention in Ocean City recognized two area lawmakers for their legislative contributions on behalf of Maryland's cities and towns. Senator Leo Green (D-Bowie) and former Delegate Gerard Devlin (D-Bowie), recently appointed to the District Court bench, each received Certificates of Appreciation for their service to local government.

Both Senator Green and Judge Devlin sponsored the successful legislation to amend the Constant Yield Tax Rate law in their respective chambers. This legislation allows about 50-60 of Maryland's smallest towns to save tax dollars by not requiring newspaper advertisement if less than $2,000 is raised over the constant yield. Both legislators also battled for a significant local government share of the ill-fated "tax amnesty" revenue.

The Maryland Municipal League is a non-profit, non-partisan association representing 142 cities and town governments in Maryland. MML works to strengthen the role and capacity of municipal government through a program of services including legislative representation, research and technical assistance.

Adventist Hospital to Hold Free Cardiac Roundtable

SAVINGS AND LOANS

We are all aware of the savings and loan crisis which created: Chaos in the Savings and Loan industry; and adverse effects on the thousands of depositors who were directly affected by this situation.

As an observer of this situation I believe, if there had been a sufficient Watchdog service which would have monitored the activities of both the savings and loans institutions and the MSSIC, the crisis would not have occurred. The State of Maryland is partially responsible for this situation, and to this day the problem has not been resolved.

Therefore, my intentions are to present legislation whereby those depositors who have not received their monies will be allowed to withdraw those funds at once with the help of State funding, and the assets of the problem Savings and loans themselves. To make sure that this crisis will not happen again, I will propose additional legislation to protect the depositors interests.

She fought them off and prevented the rape. They were described as both black, 27 years, 5'7", heavy builds, both having military type haircuts and wearing white shirts and red shorts.

A 65-year-old woman, walking in the 7800 block of Mandan Road about 9:45 p.m., August 12 was the victim of an indecent exposure by a man who exposed himself, then fled. He was black, in his late teens or early 20's, wearing a gray jacket and walking with a pronounced limp.

A resident of an apartment at 6 Parkway, investigating suspicious noises in the basement, found two men breaking into storage bins. One of them struck him several times in the face; then they fled. purse was gone.

Vandalism was reported August 12 at the Holiday Inn on Hanover Drive. Building walls were defaced with spray paint.

On August 14 a wallet was stolen from an employee's purse in a rear office at the Fifth Avenue Card Shop at Beltway Plaza.

Officer David Buerger, investigating a car stopped in the traveled lane on Crescent Road about 10 p.m., July 30 arrested a 27-year-old Greenbelt woman for driving while intoxicated and possession of PCP. She was released pending trial.

A man who entered an apartment in the 100 block of Westway about 11:20 p.m., July 30 through an unlocked door fled when he was discovered by the occupants. He was described as white, 20-25 years, 6', 180 lbs.

GHI Members

YOU CAN IMPROVE OUR COOPERATIVE BY JOINING A GHI COMMITTEE

GHI committees assist and advise the Board of Directors and are vital to the democratic functioning of the cooperative. Committee members lighten the Board's burden of researching issues and making recommendations. In short, committee participation strengthens the co-op.

To improve the functioning and usefulness of committees and to increase participation in them, the Board has restructured the committees. Three standing committees have been established and ad hoc committees will be appointed as necessary to consider other matters.

The three standing committees are as follows:

- Architectural and Environment — concerned with all aspects of GHI homes and yards including common areas, playgrounds, parking facilities, and additions and modifications.
- Member and Community Relations — involved in planning and arranging special GHI functions such as an annual committee reception, an annual community clean-up, and an annual home and garden tour and involved in GHI participation in community affairs including the Labor Day Festival.
- Finance — concerned with the financial records and affairs of the corporation, including recommendations on auditors with scope of services and the annual GHI budget.

Members are needed to serve on these committees for the coming term — September 1, 1986 to August 31, 1987. Any GHI member interested should complete the following form:

I am interested in serving on a GHI committee for a one-year term from September 1, 1986 to August 31, 1987.

With him for the presentation at the annual meeting of the Greenbelt Cooperative, Inc., is Margaret Hogensen, president of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., the largest housing cooperative in the state.

Councilman White Honored For Work on Commission

The Maryland Cooperative Law Coalition presented a "Cooperative Spokesman Award" to Greenbelt Mayor Pro Tem Thomas X. White in recognition of his services to Maryland Cooperatives as a member of the Governor's Commission on Condominiums, Cooperatives and Homeowner Associations. In presenting the award, Coalition Chairman Donald K. Hanes noted that "Through White's leadership and tangible efforts, the Coalition was able to have two landmark bills enacted by the legislature — the Consumer Act of 1985 and the Cooperative Housing Corporation Act of 1986.

White has been a member of the Governor's Commission for the past three years and has participated in a major rewrite of the Condominium law enacted in 1984 and proposed legislation governing homeowner associations that will be considered in the next session of the Maryland Legislature.

The Maryland Cooperative Law Coalition is an association of agricultural, consumer and housing cooperatives whose purpose is to encourage the development of legislative proposals benefiting Maryland cooperative organizations.

Roosevelt Center Association Meets

The Roosevelt Center Association (RCA) met on July 8 in the employees lounge of the Municipal Building. Assistant City Manager Michael McLaughlin discussed the July 2 city council meeting on the charrette with the group, sparking considerable discussion. As a result RCA voted to send a letter to the city council supporting council's basic plan for the Roosevelt Center.

Problems identified included adequate parking and the need for a coordinating council of interested parties. These include not only the city and RCA, but the Board of Education, the Co-op, the professionals who have offices in the Center, owner George Christacos, and the owner of the apartments.

The next meeting of RCA will be held on August 26 at 7:30 a.m. in the Co-op meeting room.

Greenbelt Dis-Connection

On Saturday, August 9, the city's Mercedes bus was used on a charter for the Recreation Department to Hagerstown, Md. On the return trip an electrical fire started in the front of the bus. The driver was able to get the bus off the highway at Urbana, Md.

There were no injuries and the Recreation Department arranged for a transfer bus, so the people on the charter were delayed getting home about two hours. The fire required the electrical system of the bus to be completely rewired. The down time on the bus is not known at this time. In the meantime, other vehicles are being used to keep the Greenbelt Connection running.

Adult Co-Ed Soccer League

The Greenbelt Co-Ed Soccer League will be open to all teams on a first-come, first-serve basis with priority going to resident teams. Sanctioned referees will officiate the games. Games will begin on Saturday, September 13. For further information, call the Recreation Department Business Office at 474-6878.

Where can you count on quality?

Quality banking. It's more than the smile on a teller's face. Or the right kinds of services. It's a hundred things—some measurable, some not—that can make a bank a pleasure to deal with.

Quality is being every place you're needed.

At Mellon, we've always made it a point to get close to our customers.

That's why we have more than 300 community offices of our Mellon Banks in Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland. Mellon customers in Maryland can also take advantage of MOST[®] machines in Maryland, Virginia and Washington, DC. And soon CashStream[®] and CIRBUS[®] machines will be available as well.

Quality is giving easy answers to hard questions.

It's help from people who are smart, knowledgeable, and really want to help. The kind of people you find at your neighborhood Mellon office.

Quality is keeping one jump ahead of the times.

Did you know, back in the 50s, a Mellon Bank was one of America's first banks with its own computer? Ever since, we've been a leader in using technology to serve you better. And soon, we'll have more innovative services in store for you.

Quality is safety in numbers.

Nowadays it's good to be sure that a bank is solid and well run enough to protect your hard-earned money.

With over $30 billion in assets, Mellon is America's 12th largest banking company, the largest by far in the Central Atlantic region. Despite the fact that we have nearly a million customers, we make sure each one receives the highest standard of service.

Quality is being a good neighbor.

For all of us, a bank represents far more than money. Mellon's role as a responsible neighbor goes well beyond our daily business. Last year alone, Mellon and its employees contributed more than $12 million to local causes ranging from child care to career training, from neighborhood improvement to health services.

This all adds up to quality banking. You have a right to expect it anywhere. And you can count on it at Mellon Bank.

Army Reserve Pvt. Michael F. Barrett, son of Mary M. Condon, Hanover Road, has completed an airplane repair course at the U.S. Army Transportation School, Fort Eustis, Va. During the training, students studied the inspection, maintenance and trouble-shooting procedures used in the repair of Army aircraft.

Meet Greenbelt's newest pilot Doreen B. Branch — the 1980 graduate of Howard University learned to fly out of Hyde Field, Clinton and obtained her Private Pilot's License this past June. Right now she says, she will be flying strictly for pleasure and plans to add a helicopter rating in the near future. When she is not flying, Doreen is a Case Manager with the Center for Community Development, a local non-profit human services organization and she is also pursuing graduate studies in Social Psychology at Howard University.

Barbara Schmidt, a Prince Georges Community College instructor and resident of Greenbelt, was among the first to graduate from a pioneer program sponsored by the county's Human Development Commission.

The Prince Georges County Leadership Development Forum, from which Schmidt graduated, provides training in leadership and style techniques. The goal of the program, Schmidt said, is to encourage people to accept leadership roles in the community and to acquaint them with community programs and problems.

Schmidt, who is active in refugee affairs at the county, state and regional levels, is coordinator of English for Speakers of Other Languages for Prince Georges Community College. Last year, she was cited by Governor Harry Hughes for outstanding service as chairperson of the State Advisory Committee for Refugee Services.
