Swimming Pool Swells Rec Budget; GHI to Hold Annual Meeting Budget Public Hearing Is May 14

by Leslie Robinson

The Recreation Department budget will increase more than any other city budget category in the 1991/92 (FY92) budget. This increase largely reflects the opening of the indoor pool, which accounts for three-quarters of the department's 34% budget increase over estimated FY91 expenditures. Council considered the proposed budget submitted by Assistant City Manager Michael P. McLaughlin at an April 30 worksession.

Even with the increase, the proposed FY92 expenditures, $1.4 million, represent a 6.6% decrease from the original FY92 authorization passed last year.

Swimming Pools

The largest budget category, and also the most uncertain, is for the city's swimming pools. McLaughlin proposes total expenditures of $399,000 for FY92, up from $74,400 last year when only the outdoor pool was in operation. The proposed FY92 expenditures are 10.6% less than those proposed in last year's budget. The largest decreases were for employee benefits, which McLaughlin attributes to better estimating procedures, not to a cut in benefits, insurance, and for building maintenance.

An additional reduction of $7,600 represents expenditures transferred to the capital improvements budget. However, the estimated expenses for the indoor pool are based upon the experience of other local pools. The city will not be able to determine the accuracy of these estimates until it actually begins operating the indoor pool.

The new projected costs reduce tax subsidy of pool expenses from $192,000 to $144,000. McLaughlin felt that the pool budget represented a conservative estimate of expenditures and revenues. City Manager James K. Giese disagreed, calling it difficult to generate full-scale revenue projections in the first year of operation. Mayor pro tem Thomas X. White suggested that curiosity may drive up first year revenues, but that future years' revenues may drop off.

McLaughlin cautioned that the city must consider what it will do if unexpected events delay opening of the indoor pool. Since the pool operates at a loss, White suggested that delaying the pool would decrease the deficit. Giese disagreed, reminding council that the city must hire and train the full-time staff before the pool is complete. It must continue to pay those staffers even if the pool does not open.

Position Eliminated

Another significant change in the FY92 budget is the temporary elimination of one recreation supervisor position. The original FY92 budget called for the creation of a new aquatics supervisor position and maintenance of the current two recreation supervisor positions. McLaughlin's new proposal still calls for the transfer of Recreation Supervisor George Rogala to the aquatics supervisor position, but it leaves his recreation supervisor spot vacant for the remainder of the fiscal year. Council will also need to determine Rogala's salary in the new position. Rogala gave council information on what other jurisdictions pay for similar positions, but neither he nor Recreation Director Hank Irving recommended a specific grade or pay.

County Money

Last year, the county Park and Planning Department paid

Budget Miscellany

The city will spend $66,400 in FY 92 on the intercity bus service, up 5.2% over estimated 1990/91 fiscal year. Of that amount, $7,000 (10.5%) will be funded by fare revenue, with the remainder financed from tax revenues. Assistant City Manager Michael P. McLaughlin said that since fares were increased last year, he did not consider a fare increase for the current budget. Children and senior citizens currently pay 75 cents per trip while other adults pay $1.25.

It will cost the city $743,000 to service its tax supported debt in FY92. This represents a 0.75% decrease from FY91 expenditures. FY92 expenditures are equivalent to 15.7 cents of the tax rate, down from 17.3 cents in FY91.

One change affecting all budget accounts is an across-the-board reduction in contributions to the city's replacement fund.

This fund finances expected equipment replacements. The cut will have no effect this year, but could be felt in the future, particularly if future budgets do not restore the full contribution.

$12,000 each for people to help with city arts programs and therapeutic recreation. These staffers do not appear in the city's budget. Because of the county's financial problems, the city may lose some or all of this funding. Irving felt that the arts funding, which is being actively supported by a vocal group of citizens, will probably be renewed, but was concerned about the therapeutic recreation money. Mayor Gil Weidenfeld reported that Parks and Recreation Advisory Board Chair Tom Renahan asked council to consider replacing the funding with city money if it is not in the final county parks budget.

Irving said that during the FY91 budget freeze, he had been unable to replace the Springhill Lake Recreation Center Director when John Webster resigned. He hopes to have a new director at work by the end of May.

McLaughlin's proposed budget also calls for discontinuing the fall, winter and spring concert series while maintaining the more popular summer concerts.

GHI Annual Election a Horserace: Seven Members Vie for Five Seats

by Leslie Robinson

The 1991 Candidates' Night on Monday, May 1, produced more candidates than positions available on the board of GHI (Greenbelt Homes Inc.) and its Audit Committee. In the words of Susan Walker, member of the Elections and Nominating Committee, who chaired the meeting, "It was the first time since I've been here that we've had a race."

Five of the nine board incumbents are up for election on May 15 for a two-year term. All five are running for office again — President Wayne Williams, Vice President Ray McCawley, Secretary Betty Deitch, Margaret Hogenson, and Alan Freas. Contesting these board members are newcomer Keith Jahoda, and present Audit Committee member Robert Rashkin.

All three Audit Committee positions are up for election for a one-year term. Incumbent Ed James and three other Greenbelters are competing for the three positions — Linda Levine, Virginia Moryadas, and Leonard Wallace. (Editor's note — Since the candidates' night Craig Tooley has entered the race for Audit Committee.)

Not all of the candidates were at the meeting. Williams was teaching at Prince Georges County Community College. His statement was read by board Members of Greenbelt Homes Inc. (GHI) will hold their annual meeting on Wednesday, May 15 at 8 p.m. in the Center School. After the meeting, members will vote for five board members and three members for the Audit Committee. Voting will be in the City Hall after the meeting and again on Thursday during business hours. In an effort to encourage attendance door prizes will be offered.

Seven candidates are running for five places on the board: incumbents Wayne Williams, Ray McCawley, Betty Deitch, Margaret Hogenson, and Alan Freas, and challengers Keith Jahoda and Robert Rashkin.

As of this writing there are six candidates for the three Audit Committee positions. Incumbent Ed James is running for re-election. Other candidates are Linda Levine, Leonard Wallace, Virginia Moryadas and Craig Tooley.

A petition received from 10 members proposes that 82.5 acres of wooded land now held by GHI be put under an environmental easement. The easement, under the Maryland Environmental Trust, would allow areas not near habitation to be left entirely to nature. There would be no property taxes for the first 15 years, after which the land would be assessed by the state at a value reflecting the reduced value because of the easement.

Currently the 82.5 acres are under a forest management agreement with the State of Maryland. The current annual taxes are about $300 per year for the entire tract. Added to this cost is about $3,700 that GHI has to spend on reforestation, according to Ron Colton, General Manager of GHI.

The board decided that more information is necessary and will recommend that the matter be tabled for a year for further study. It is up to the membership to decide.

Three door prizes will be offered to get members to the meeting — one $100 U.S. Savings Bond and two $50 bonds. These amounts are down sharply from the $200 bond and two $100 bonds offered in 1990.

member John Mongelli, who also read board member McCawley's statement. James' statement was read by Diana Liebscher. Two candidates, Moryadas and Wallace, were not present and had no statements to be read.

Opening Statements

Chairman Walker gave each candidate three minutes to say why they should be elected and what their personal qualifications were (covered elsewhere in the News Review). After this introduction each candidate was given a chance to answer questions from the audience.

Williams' prepared statement cited accomplishments during his presidency such as work to prevent further stress cracks in masonry homes, correction of faulty swales, installation of ridge vents, and paint-saving vinyl trim. The financial reserve policy that allowed correction of storm drains and sewer lines without an increase in members' fees was mentioned. The looming issues for GHI, according to Williams, are the management of GHI's 82.5 acres of forest, recycling, review of the by-laws, the economic recession, and mid-range financial planning.

Deitch said she would like to continue serving on a board because of her concern for Greenbelt.

Jahoda proposed a "creative solution" to managing GHI's 82.5 acres to set an example for the city to follow in managing its 140 acres of forest. Jahoda favored a review of board procedures concerning committee membership.

Freas praised GHI's system of financial reserves that financed new hot water heaters without straining the budget.

Rashkin said it was time to change from a corporate view to a coop view in running GHI. Rashkin is the lead author of the proposal to place GHI's 82.5 acres under an environmental easement instead of the present day forestry management agreement with the state.

Hogenson said a cooperative has to be fiscally sound. She felt that the board should get more GHI residents to serve on committees. She expressed caution about changing the management of GHI's 82.5 forested acres without consulting the lenders who hold GHI notes.

McCawley's statement urged members to come out to vote because "participation makes Greenbelt great."

Levine praised the News Review for a "lot of good information on these meetings." She thinks the forests surrounding Greenbelt are a very good idea.

The statement by James set forth his 14 years of residence in Greenbelt and his professional interests.

A New Look

We have a new look. Perhaps our readers have noticed. Although not as drastic as when we moved to print from the mimeographed format of the old Cooperator, the forerunner of the News Review, the new changes are designed to make us brighter, more unified in type faces, and, we hope, more fun to read. No more of those long uninterrupted columns of gray. We can't move to color, it's true, but we'll be printing more pictures and other graphics.

We hope you approve.

THANKS

To the Editor:

The bereaved family of John "Buzz" Sauls wishes to express our appreciation for all the expressions of sympathy and love extended to us at the time of our great loss.

Also, to Rev. Daniel Hamlin for a eulogy so beautiful that copies of it are being made for the family to keep and treasure.

Many thanks to the American Legion Post 136, for the buffet for family and friends following the graveside service.

Capital Office Park Hosts Third Annual Health Fair

The third annual Capital Office Park Fair is set for Thursday, May 16 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on the lobby level of 6301 Ivy Lane. This year's fair focuses on total body fitness, including good nutrition, a variety of exercise options as well as health and beauty secrets. The public is invited.

The day's events kick off with a discussion by Tammy Wolfe from "Face the Future," a full-service salon in Greenbelt. She will bring a special "scope" to determine sun damage and recommend the best sunscreen for particular complexions.

Employees at the Park curious to know their cholesterol levels, may take a quick and painless test for a small fee. In just three short minutes people can learn exactly what their cholesterol count is and speak to qualified dieticians from the American Heart Association about modifying their diet if necessary.

Other Attractions

GHI Changes Meeting Date

by Leslie Robinson

In a routine bimonthly Thursday meeting on April 25, the board of GHI (Greenbelt Homes Inc.) decided to delay the scheduled date for the last meeting in May because it was on the same night as the May 23 Giese-Mills retirement affair. Board President Wayne Williams skillfully steered the board members through a flurry of motions, finally pinning them down to May 30 as the new meeting date.

In other actions the board approved a first reading of a proposal to spend $30,000 for parking lot repairs. These repairs will be made at 18 Ridge Road, 7 Research Road, 24 Ridge Road, portions of 7 Southway, and a few potholes in other courts. The board approved General Manager Ron Colton's proposal to allocate the calendar year 1990 surplus of $21,695 to reserves for frame homes, masonry homes, and large homes.

The board made a gift of a $100 savings bond to the American Legion Auxiliary, hosts of a USO carnival and dance at Greenbelt Day Weekend on June 2, a 54th anniversary. At the board's direction GHI members will soon receive a new and greatly simplified breakdown of maintenance responsibilities between GHI staff and GHI members. The board delayed action on adopting a "Restated Conflict of Interest Policy" prepared by the staff of GHI.

Two Letters

The first of two letters resulted from the recent shortfall in County tax revenues that caused County Executive Paris Glendening to propose an increase in property taxes. The projected tax bite may cost GHI an estimated $25,000, or more, said Colton. Williams requested that Colton draft a letter to Glendening that would point out, among other things, that GHI is one of the largest taxpayers in the County.

The second letter was about the uncertainty over the county's commitment to recycling. According to the manager's memo, when the board reviewed recycling procedures some time ago, it agreed to support participation by the city in the county's program, provided that door-to-door pickup from GHI homes was part of the procedures. At the recycling festival on April 6, Jesse Buggs, Prince Georges County Recycling Coordinator, announced his decision that door-to-door pickup would be provided for only one year. The board approved a letter initiated by board member Donald Comis, asking Buggs to explain the basis for his comments.

Board member Betty Deitch voiced the frustration of many GHI members with the recycling scheme. "What should I do with one pickle jar and one plastic milk jug?" she asked. Besides, she continued, "the yellow topless container doesn't fit in my garbage closet."

Colton reported that GHI staff was assisting members to resolve servicing problems as a result of the transfer of mortgages from (1) Twin Pines, (2) Community Savings and Loan, to (3) Epic, to (4) Skyline, and finally, for now, Loyola Federal Savings and Loan.

Refreshing and a Good Job

The meeting was brightened up when a GHI resident and candidate for the board, Keith Jahoda, complimented GHI management and the board on actions taken to phase out the dump behind GHI headquarters. Williams thanked Jahoda for his "refreshing views."

Another bouquet was tossed by board member Alan Freas to Joe Whalen, director of maintenance, for a good job on trimming some "humongous" oak trees in Freas neighborhood.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS (Vote for Five)

BETTY DEITCH

3-H CRESCENT ROAD
Board of Directors (2-year term)
Betty Deitch has been a member of GHI for 22 years. She retired from the National Security Agency as an Administrative Assistant after a varied career including overseas assignments. Betty was a concerned and involved member for many years before being elected a Director. Before her service on the Board, she was chairperson of the Members and Community Relations Committee for four years and directed many special GHI events. Betty serves as secretary of the Board.

When asked what experience or skills she felt would allow her to make a contribution to GHI and other questions she replied:

Long time involvement in GHI affairs and participation in Eastern Cooperative Housing Organization conferences and the National Association of Housing Cooperatives has broadened my knowledge of problems and workable solutions.

GHI really needs informed members taking an active role in furthering the goals of our cooperative.

One of GHI's best recent achievements is the establishment of the mandatory attendance at the Pre-Purchase meetings in order to more fully inform prospective members about the Co-op before purchasing.

RAY McCAWLEY

7-A RESEARCH ROAD

Ray McCawley moved to GHI in 1977, was elected to the Audit Committee in 1981 and the Board in 1984. He served as treasurer for 4 years and is now vice-president.

McCawley is a member of the city's Advisory Planning Board, past chair of the city's Park and Recreation Advisory Board, serves as judge at city and county elections and has served on the Board of the National Association of Housing Cooperatives.

Ray was born near Pittsburgh, received his engineering degree in 1976, buys paper for his paper and relaxes by running and skydiving.

When asked what experience or skills that he felt would allow him to make a contribution to GHI and other questions Ray McCawley replied:

I have over 12 years involvement with GHI, including seven years on the Board.

GHI really needs to continue the long range approach we have taken in looking at maintenance and finances.

The Board of Directors should get more involved in city activities.

The biggest problem facing GHI right now is the aging of an increased percentage of our members and their inability to care for themselves.

MARGARET HOGENSEN

53-F RIDGE ROAD

Margaret Hogensen was born and raised in Kansas. She has a degree in Library Science from the University of Denver and has worked in public libraries, in a reference library in a TV station and done film research. She and her late husband moved to Greenbelt in 1972. She has been on the GHI Board of Directors since 1977, serving as President for 5 years. She is now serving on the Board of the National Association of Housing Cooperatives, and is Vice-Chair of the Eastern Cooperative Housing Organization. She has served on the Board of the National Cooperative Business Association and on the Board of the National Cooperative Bank. She has also served locally for two years on the Board of the Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative.

When asked what experience/skills she felt would allow her to make a contribution to GHI and other questions, Margaret Hogensen replied:

She values her many years of experience on the Board. Relationships with national organizations give us information about legislative and legal issues that could have an effect on us and put us in a position to have an influence in solving these problems.

GHI really needs more active informed member participation.

The biggest problem facing GHI right now is potential tax issues because of changing IRS treatment of cooperatives.

ALAN FREAS

2-A SOUTHWAY

Alan retired from the U.S. Forest Service after 35 years, almost 32 of them in the computer business. He moved to GHI in 1985 wanting to get involved in a unique community. He first served GHI on the A & E Committee, was elected to the Audit Committee in 1986 and in 1987 was elected to a term on the Board. When this term expired in 1989, he declined to run again due to the heavy pressures of his job, not wanting to shortchange GHI. This March he was appointed to fill a Board vacancy.

He has been active in Citizens for Greenbelt in his years here, and has served on their Board for over two years. A staunch supporter and patron of the performing arts in the DC area, he contributes to many such organizations, large and small, and in April was elected to the Board of the Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center.

When asked what experience/skills he felt would allow him to make a contribution to GHI and other questions, he replied:

I believe that my three plus years of service to GHI on the A & E Committee, the Audit Committee, and the Board of Directors is the most important experience I have which will allow me to continue to make a substantial contribution to GHI.

I think GHI really needs a dedicated, conscientious and experienced Board fully attuned to the needs and concerns of the members, particularly in these times when the economy in general is in trouble.

The biggest problem facing GHI right now is how to maintain adequate services, continue to build our necessary reserves, and at the same time minimize fee increases in these times of a poor economy.

ROBERT RASHKIN

2-A RESEARCH ROAD

I have lived in GHI for 3 years since moving to this area from Texas. I have served on the audit committee for two years and have attended almost every board meeting in that time. I am a civil libertarian and environmentalist.

When asked what experience/skills do you feel would allow you to make a contribution to GHI and other questions Rashkin answered:

My skills include analytical reasoning from my training as a physicist and my management experience as a result of my current job. Also, I have experience in cooperative living during five years of overseas geophysics.

I think GHI really needs to encourage more cooperative activity such as general maintenance and clean-up.

I think the Board of Directors should take a more active position on the environment.

The biggest problem facing GHI right now is gentrification.

WAYNE WILLIAMS

7-H CRESCENT ROAD

Wayne Williams has been President of Greenbelt Homes for the past three years. First elected to the Board in 1977, his service to the cooperative includes many years as Vice-President and membership on several GHI committees. In addition, he has served the Greenbelt community as a member of various other organizations, including the Labor Day Festival Committee, the 50th Anniversary Committee and the Board of Directors of the Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative.

Wayne has a M.S. degree in Technology of Management from the American University. He has been in the computer field for 27 years, and recently has been working as a private consultant for several organizations in the Washington area. He is a member of the adjunct faculty at Prince Georges Community College.

Wayne and his wife Ginny have three children, and they have been members of Greenbelt Homes since 1974.

When asked what experience and skills he felt would allow him to make a contribution to GHI and other questions, Williams responded:

I have been a member of the Board since 1977, including periods of pre-Rehab, Rehab and post-Rehab and have been president of GHI for the past three years, vice-president for about 6 years, and served on various GHI committees.

My skills include my background and experience in analysis and in management theory.

I have had both membership and sometimes a leadership role in many groups and cooperatives that serve the Greenbelt community, such as Labor Day Festival Committee, Consumer Cooperative, Nursery School, Baby Sitter's Co-op, Garden Club and the 50th Anniversary Committee.

Also I have attended many conventions and training sessions on housing cooperatives.

I think GHI really needs more participation by members.

The Board of Directors should have shorter meetings and more workshops.

Management should work on the issue of how management and staff should interact with members.

The biggest problem facing GHI right now is the possible results of the recession and the sewer pipe problems.

One of GHI's best recent achievements is the balancing of last year's budget.

KEITH JAHODA

45-C RIDGE ROAD

Keith Jahoda has been a GHI member for three years, lived in Greenbelt for 4 years and been employed as an astrophysicist at NASA for 5 years. He is a local environmental activist and has worked to maintain and improve the interior and exterior of 45-C Ridge Road.

When asked what experience/skills he felt would allow him to make a contribution to GHI and other questions, he responded:

I have the patience to talk to members on any subject at any length and the commitment to bring your concerns before the Board whether I share them or not. I believe that GHI is an excellent place to live and feel that it is the responsibility of the Board to keep it that way. Among the things that I like about GHI, and which I will work to preserve, are the wooded open space which borders our homes, the community open space between our homes, the diverse community, the high value and modest cost of GHI homes, and the tolerant and respectful attitudes of most GHI members towards their neighbors.

I think GHI really needs to clarify to the membership the role of the Board, the role of the committees, and the procedures for becoming a member of a committee and for addressing concerns to the Board.

I think the Board of Directors should listen to individual members and guarantee that every concern expressed to an individual Board member is brought before the entire Board. The Board should create policy and set direction for management.

Management should seek creative and financially prudent solutions to the short and long term challenges associated with running a 1600 member, multi-million-dollar cooperative. Management should present to the Board recommendations (as it now does) and alternatives.

The biggest problem facing GHI right now is uncertainty in the future of the Green Belt. We live next to this land and we own part of it. We, the members of GHI must take the lead in protecting our part of the Green Belt and set an example to the city of finding creative ways to protect the Green Belt.

One of GHI's best recent achievements is attracting four candidates to serve out the remaining two months of a vacant term on the Board. GHI's next great achievement will be to make a wise choice from among the members who have volunteered their time to serve on the Board and on the Audit Committee.

AUDIT COMMITTEE

(Vote for Three)

LINDA LEVINE

25-A RIDGE ROAD

Linda Levine has resided in GHI for six years. She is interested in becoming involved in civic affairs. In the past she has been involved in the garden plots, county parks, city recreation parks as part of her interest in the environment. She is a volunteer at Greater Laurel Beltsville Hospital and Greenbelt Nursing Center. She is starting training at Prince Georges Community College as a geriatric aide.

Voting for Board and Audit Committee positions on May 15 after the recess of the meeting and on May 16 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the City Offices first floor conference room.

you to make a contribution to GHI and other questions, Linda Levine replied:

There are numerous skills of training I have received through the public works of the county. Working as a laborer in the parks and recreation crew, J&H Nursery, and the Youth Conservation Corps, I have picked up experience working with botany, horticulture, and public ground repair.

I think GHI really needs to consider the priorities of the resident through use of speed in matters that retain special emergency work. Such things as matters of emergency should be priority.

Management should work less on special landscaping and work towards the needs of the resident like drainage problems, exterior and interior work where rules mandate work obligations and repair.

The biggest problem facing GHI right now is recycling needs to be given every priority to combat national sewage problems and pollution. Given rise to the popularity of recycling GHI should give priority in educating each resident to its special and environmental need.

One of GHI's best recent achievements is the tree benefit with the privilege of planting is an excellent means of keeping the green belt in good tidal and drainage need. Through the use of trees the green belt will continue to prosper as a city rich in need of horticulture and beautification as undermined in the years of the new deal proliferation and examples of foundation.

The visitors from the Soviet Union were given the experience of the foundation of the green belt and its economy of city government. Clearing of the gardenside units has proven to abide the regulations governing the sanctions in the rule book. Many complaints about the litter and leaves on the gardenside have now been enhanced by the clearing away of the trash and litter which at one time made walking and accessibility difficult for many of the residents.

EDWARD JAMES

56-D CRESCENT ROAD

Ed has lived in GHI for 14 years and has been active in the Greenbelt community for most of that time. He has served on the GHI Board as Treasurer, chaired the Finance Committee, been a member of several other committees and is currently a member of the audit committee. He has been a Greenbelt Jaycees Director and Treasurer, has taught CPR for the Recreation Department and chaired Citizens for Greenbelt.

His academic background includes degrees in Physics, Biochemistry and Ecology. He is currently completing a degree in computer science while working as a computer consultant professionally, while working part time as a teaching assistant for University College in College Park.

When asked what experience/skills do you feel would allow you to make a contribution to GHI and other questions, Ed replied:

I have experience on the GHI Board and Audit Committee. My professional skills involve communication, interpersonal relations and organizational abilities, and a history of community involvement and I am proud to take an active part in GHI.

I think GHI really needs to encourage and maintain involvement of the membership in the GHI and city communities.

I think the Board of Directors should be more involved with community affairs on a larger level such as the city and county.

Management should be more attuned to the feelings of the membership.

The biggest problem facing GHI right now is its debt load.

One of GHI's best recent achievements is maintaining itself as an outstanding community to live in.

LEONARD WALLACE

65-A RIDGE ROAD

Leonard Wallace first visited Greenbelt in 1972, and became a resident on Parkway in 1977. He purchased his first GHI home in 1985, in the 1 Court of Plateau. He currently resides at 65 Court of Ridge Road with his wife Holley.

In 1986, he founded Realty 1 to specialize in the selling of co-op homes in Greenbelt. Holley and Leonard now work together at their office in Roosevelt Center. His desire to become involved in the Co-op administration is a result of numerous dealings with the owners. He would like to see the management return their focus to serving the needs of the members.

When asked what experience or skills that Leonard felt would allow him to make a contribution to GHI and other questions, he replied:

As the owner of Realty 1, I am involved in the administrative process on a day to day basis. Few people are as exposed to the operations of the management as I am. I would like to accent the positive and correct the deficiencies that exist in the functioning of the Co-op. I feel that if members are enticed to take an active role the Co-op will benefit.

I think GHI really needs to re-involve the members in the activities and meetings of this Cooperative.

I think the Board of Directors should develop a code of conduct as regards the treatment of members by the employees of the Co-op.

Management should refocus its duties to servicing the needs of its members.

The biggest problem facing GHI right now is the members apathy towards the process of running the Co-op.

VIRGINIA MORYADAS
11-J RIDGE ROAD

Virginia Moryadas is a long time resident of GHI, having lived here for 25 years. For six years, she served on the Board of Directors and became familiar with the Corporation's various services and functions.

She has been employed by Prince Georges County as a Program Manager, sold real estate, taught a variety of courses for both Prince Georges Community College and Montgomery College and is currently attempting to rehabilitate a house in Hyattsville for future resale.

She holds a B.A. in Government and Politics, a M.U.R.P. in Urban Planning and may one day complete the requirements for a Ph.D.

When asked what experience/skills she felt would allow her to make a contribution to GHI and other questions, she replied:

Six years as a GHI Board member. Extensive knowledge of real estate practices in Prince Georges County, including two years as a Director of the County Board of Realtors and several years teaching real estate courses at Prince Georges Community College.

Currently engaged in rehabilitating a house in Hyattsville which needs painting, patching, plumbing, kitchen work, etc.

GHI really needs a little more attention placed on preventive maintenance and follow through including deferred trim paint.

The Board of Directors should spend more time evaluating operations.

Management should review the various departments from the perspective of the residents, seeking out ways of increasing communications and following up on problems.

The biggest problem facing GHI right now is the inability of maintenance to keep up with its responsibilities and perform fee for service requests.

CRAIG TOOLEY

9-M RESEARCH ROAD

Craig Tooley moved to Maryland in 1983 from Indiana and has lived in GHI since 1986. He has bachelors and masters degrees in Mechanical Engineering, and is employed at NASA Goddard Space Flight Center as a supervisor of a group of engineers responsible for building mechanical systems for various Space Shuttle payloads. He is active in The Committee to Save the Greenbelt conservation group, and the Citizens for Greenbelt civic association. He is married, and 31 years old.

Craig feels he could contribute to GHI because of his experience in technical, personnel, and budgetary management, and his creative, commonsense approach to problem solving and conflict resolution.

He thinks that GHI really needs to strive to maintain a balance between the rights of individual members as share owners, and the needs of the cooperative and community. The biggest problem facing GHI right now, in Craig's view, is charting a course throughout the next decade which will maintain the quality of life in GHI in the face of increasing urban development pressures and Greenbelt's changing demographics. Issues such as maintenance of our physical and financial assets, preservation of our natural spaces and GHI's relationship with the City must be addressed wisely.

Robert Mongelli has lived in GHI since July of 1969. He and his wife Carole have raised two sons in Greenbelt. He has worked for the U.S. Department of Agriculture and retired from the department in 1990 with over 26 years of federal service. He is now a substitute teacher at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. Susan has been an elected member of Nominations and Elections for four years, one year as a chairperson. Having been chairperson the year the referendum was held (1990), she is committed to having the membership consider holding the annual election as a referendum, since on the average only 100 people elect our officers under the present system but 700 people voted in the referendum.

Budget Review

City Council will hold a public hearing on the FY 92 budget and capital improvement budget in the council room on Tuesday, May 14, at 8 p.m.

A work session on the Green Ridge House Budget will be held in the dining room of Green Ridge House on Wednesday, May 15, at 8:00 p.m. The final council work session on the budget will be held Monday, May 20 at 8 p.m. in the first floor conference room of the municipal building.

Adoption of the budget is scheduled for the regular council meeting on Wednesday, May 29.

Projected Revenues

The city now estimates that total revenues for fiscal year 1992, which begins this July 1, will total $10.2 million, approximately $1 million under the original projections. This total is 7.6 percent more than estimated FY91 revenues, but 8.9 percent less than the city's original FY92 projections.

All categories of revenue except fines and forfeiture are now expected to be less than the original FY92 projections. Several categories, including licenses and permits, revenues from other agencies and miscellaneous revenues are now projected to be less than estimated FY91 revenues.

McLaughlin told council at an April 30 work session that the city is conducting an inventory of city businesses against county tax rolls.

Potential Sources

Assistant City Manager Michael P. McLaughlin said that Police Chief James Craze has proposed empowering the animal wardens to issue parking tickets. City Manager James K. Giese said that another idea being considered by city staff is the use of coinless meters for limited time parking places. These meters eliminate the need for police to mark tires to establish that a car has been parked for longer than is permitted. He suggested that council consider using regular meters at the lake park.

The city's interest revenue is also down from projections. Besides the recent lower rates, the reduced revenues reflect a lower unallocated balance following two years of budget deficits. Giese said that the city is watching carefully to ensure that the lower balance does not create cash flow problems for the city, which does not receive any revenue during the first three months of the fiscal year.

Taxes

Property taxes are also down significantly from projections. Real property taxes are now projected to be 10.4% less than the original projections. Giese said that the city staff has examined 100 homes and determined that there has been an average increase in assessed value of just 2%. Some homes, especially in the newer parts of the city, have actually received decreases in their assessed values.

Income tax revenues are also projected to decline. However, the city will not know the final extent of the decrease for some time. Giese explained that although the city will not receive its portion of residents' 1990 taxes until the coming August, the money gets credited to FY91, which ends this June, and not FY92, in which the money is actually received.

General Government

Expenditures for general government will increase 1.1% over estimated FY91 expenditures if council adopts the budget proposed by Assistant City Manager Michael P. McLaughlin for FY92. This account covers expenditures for council, the city manager's office, the finance and administrative services staff, planning and development staff, legal counsel, community promotion and maintenance of the Municipal Building.

The total expenditure of $1.256 million represents a decrease of 6.1% from the original FY92 authorization approved last year. McLaughlin proposes that the part-time planner authorized but not hired in FY91 be hired for FY92. However, a part-time office assistant and part-time cable programmer authorized last year will still not be hired.

Enough for TDOZ?

Council member Thomas X. White asked whether the planning and development budget of $134,800 provided for city analysis of the Transit District Overlay Zone around the Metro station. Director of Planning and Development Celia Wilson said that it did not provide for the city doing an independent assessment and developing its own plan. However, she felt that the proposed budget will permit approaching Metro's TDOZ plans in the same manner as the city would review any developer's proposal. She assured council that if the $12,000 budgeted for professional services proved insufficient, she would seek additional funds from the council.

Personnel Cuts

The city administration budget reduces personnel expenses 3.2%, in part reflecting lower salary and benefits for the new city manager. However, the final figures cannot be determined until the negotiations with the new manager are complete.

Smaller cuts include converting the quarterly city newsletter to a semiannual publication and elimination of the employee banquet and picnic. The budget also proposed dropping the $2,100 for the Prince Georges Municipal Association's legislative program.

Greenbelt CARES

The budget for Greenbelt CARES, the city's youth services bureau, will be increased 7.4% over estimated FY91 expenditures, under the FY92 budget proposed by Assistant City Manager Michael P. McLaughlin. However, the department's funding is uncertain due to the grants it receives from the state and county governments.

*Estimated Expenditures

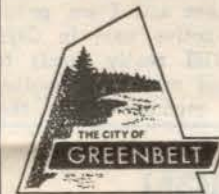

At the April 10 work session, CARES Director Carol Leventhal said that it appears that the state funding will be cut. The city had attempted, unsuccessfully, to meet, along with College Park and Bowie, with state Delegate Charles Ryan to discuss the funding problem. McLaughlin's budget assumes that the county grant to CARES will remain at $10,000 while the state grant will stay steady at $97,300, down from the $105,500 originally expected for FY-92.

Under McLaughlin's proposal CARES spending will total $234,500, which is 2.9% less than in the original FY92 budget tentatively approved last year. Approximately 84% of the agency's budget goes for salary and benefits. The next largest expenditure is for professional services. Other than insurance, no other expenditure categories exceed $10,000.

Leventhal characterized FY91 as a "rather difficult year." The CARES staff is operating at full capacity and has had to turn some people away. CARES' waiting list has been closed to everyone except city residents and youths referred by juvenile services.

No major changes are proposed for FY92. Leventhal said that the department continues to benefit from substantial amounts of donated time. She said that alcohol continues to be the major drug problem affecting clients, but that it seems to be affecting younger children. She said that CARES' ability to address this and other drug problems is limited by the lack of space in current treatment programs.

Public Works

by Diane Oberg

Assistant City Manager Michael P. McLaughlin praised Acting Public Works Director Kenny Hall and Administrative Assistant Dave Helmecki for their recommendations for budget reductions. He said that if their proposals are successful, the department will "have truly done more with less." McLaughlin's budget for fiscal year 1992 (beginning July 1) calls for increasing public works expenditures just 0.2 percent over estimated FY91 expenditures.

Under McLaughlin's budget proposal, FY92 public works spending will total $1.653 million, up from $1.650 estimated expenditures for FY91. This represents a 3.9 percent decrease from the FY92 authorization in last year's two-year budget. Public works moves from the city's second largest budget category, behind the police, to the third largest in FY92 as the indoor pool pushes the recreation and parks budget into second place.

Staffing

For FY92 the department will experience significant cuts in staffing authorization. The refuse collection staff was recently reduced from eight members to six as the county recycling program began. Now that the regular refuse crews no longer collect newspapers on Wednesdays, the two refuse crews collect special trash on Wednesdays, allowing the separate special trash crew to be disbanded.

Last year's FY92 authorization added a maintenance crew member for the indoor pool building and two parks crew members for Schrom Hills Park. Although the revised '92 budget retains the pool maintenance staffer, it eliminates the two Schrom Hills staffers. Summer help positions have also been drastically reduced. Instead of the original 20 four-month positions, the new budget provides for only six three-month spots.

Refuse Collection

Refuse charges would remain unchanged under McLaughlin's proposal. Although the county is raising landfill tipping fees by 12 percent, the city expects that the new recycling program will reduce trash volume by the same amount. In addition, the city should receive a landfill disposal rebate from the county in an amount still uncertain.

The Public Works staff has taken several steps to reduce costs of refuse collection, such as extending the life of trash collection barrels and beginning a recycling program for appliances. Under this program, discarded major appliances will be sold to a salvage yard for a small revenue gain, rather than the city's paying to dump these machines in the landfill.

McLaughlin's budget also calls for stopping the weekend cleaning of Roosevelt Center, although trash will still be collected on both Saturday and Sunday. The city has ordered larger trash containers for the Center to eliminate the problem of overflowing barrels.

Equipment

To reduce expenditures, the Public Works Department decided not to purchase a $50,000 bulldozer. In addition, purchase of a $2,000 sign machine was deferred. Hall still supports purchase of this machine if the city can find the funds. In the long run, Hall said, this machine will pay for itself by eliminating the city's need to purchase road signs.

Purchases of landscaping supplies have been cut by more than half from FY90. The city has reduced expenses by using more perennials and by growing more of its plants in a greenhouse funded in the '91 budget.

Street Work

Greenbelt East residents have complained that line markings on Hanover Parkway are difficult to see at night and in bad weather. In response to these complaints, the Public Works budget provides for relining with reflective paint all city streets having a center line. Hall said that staying on top of the center lining is the best the city can do, short of installing reflectors in the roadway.

Council Tidbits

At its April 22 regular meeting, City Council:

* Agreed to support the petition of Domino's Pizza before the Prince Georges Planning Board for a Departure from Parking and Loading Standards, if an agreement can be reached with the owner of the building and Domino's. The conditions of the agreement would be that the parking spaces along the side of the building, which were eliminated during the Centerway construction, be used only for landscaping, which the city would be willing to help with, and that the DPLS would not convey with the property but would end with Domino's lease of it.

* Denied the request of Capital Cadillac for support of re-acquisition and development of state-held property in the Golden Triangle.

* Accepted with regret the resignation of City Manager James K. Giese, expressing, in Mayor Gil Weidenfeld's words, "respect for his counsel, wisdom, guidance and knowledge of running the city."

* Appointed Assistant City Manager Michael McLaughlin as Acting City Manager, with a 10 percent raise in salary for the duration of his acting tenure.

* Gave a verbal "sense of council" that the Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School "historically has been a viable, well-run part of Greenbelt," in Councilmember Antoinette Bram's words, and "it's a great asset to Greenbelt," in Weidenfeld's. The Nursery School was seeking reassurance that it would be given consideration if space were allocated in the community center for a day care program.

* By the consent agenda, directed staff to request the State Highway Administration to install signs on Greenbelt Road directing traffic to the Roosevelt Center, as a Historic District; approved the employment of the firm of Macris, Hendricks and Witmer/Trace Associates for engineering services for the Roosevelt Center parking lots consistent with the Coffin and Coffin master plan, to be paid for out of a Community Development Block Grant; and granted the Fire Department an extension on its lease until June 1, 1991, and placed the matter of revising the lease on the agenda for the May 13 regular meeting.

Your Police Are In Trouble And They Need Your Support!!

In 1990, City Council approved a 4.5 cent tax increase in order to fund a new pension plan for City Police Officers. With the additional revenue from this tax increase, the available pool of funds for police pensions was nearly $350,000. Although the tax increase was a large one, not one city resident publicly opposed it, but instead supported changing from 30 to 25 the number of years required before a City Police Officer could retire.

What the residents were not told, was that as part of the change to a 25 year plan, Staff recommended a drastic cut in benefits which is expected to result in a 50% or greater reduction in earnings for Police Officers at time of retirement. This substantial cut in benefits applies only to City Police Officers. The justification, Staff believed, was simple — since Police could retire after 25 years, then they should receive less at retirement than all other City Employees. This despite the City's recognition of the need to implement the 25 year plan.

After 1980, with the majority of all classified city employees in the Maryland State Retirement Systems pension plan, the City implemented a supplement to the pension. Since all employees in the pension plan and the new police pension will receive about 31% of their average final salary upon retirement, the City established a deferred compensation plan through I.C.M.A. In the early 1980's, realizing that 31% at the time of retirement was grossly inadequate, the City began matching employee contributions to the deferred compensation up to 5% of an employee's salary. The pension plan plus deferred compensation with the matching funds, was thereby intended to provide an adequate retirement that the pension alone could not.

If current Council decisions stand, City Police Officers have lost their matching deferred compensation funds. City Police Officers need your help in changing the Council's mind and restoring this very important benefit.

Since Staff's initial proposal to drastically reduce benefits, one member of Council has stood by the City Police Officers. At the direction of Mayor pro-tem Tom White, Staff drafted a resolution that called for the continuation of matching funds for City Police Officers. In August, 1990, that resolution was introduced for first reading by City Council. On September 17, 1990, with the resolution being considered for 2nd reading and final passage the matter was tabled with no discussion of the issue permitted, over the objection of Mayor pro-tem White.

Meanwhile, of the nearly $350,000 ($220,000 from the tax increase) made available for the new pension plan, less than half was spent on the new pension. The remainder of those monies were diverted elsewhere.

Since early last year the leadership of the Fraternal Order of Police has been working with Council in an effort to have this vital benefit restored. Since we have not met with success, we are turning to the Community for help. Taking out newspaper ads is an extraordinary step, and one we had hoped to avoid. We feel that the significance of this issue, and the profoundly negative impact this has had on the morale of the City Police Officers, makes it essential that each citizen be informed of this situation.

We believe that providing an adequate retirement is essential if the the City hopes to attract and retain top professionals to provide the level of police service the Citizens of Greenbelt have come to expect and deserve. We further believe that undue financial hardship is placed on Police Officers when they are expected to draw a retirement that is substantially less than other employees.

We hope that you will agree that this situation is unfair and unjust. Your Police Officers desperately need your support at the final budget work session of the city council to be held on Monday, May 20, 1991 at 8:00 p.m. at city hall.

If you support your Police, Please plan to attend. We Thank You !!!

Area Student Receives Presidential Award

by Eileen Peterson

A Presidential Scholarship has been awarded to 17-year-old Zandra Renee Brown of Maplewood Court.

The Eleanor Roosevelt High School senior is the daughter of Ben and Dottie Brown, who moved their family to Greenbelt six years ago.

Zandra plans to use her scholarship, which will pay one-third of her college expenses, at High Point College in High Point, North Carolina. She is one of 35 recipients from seven states honored with this award.

Competition standards for a Presidential Scholarship are high: applicants must have a grade point average above 3.5 (of a possible 4.0), score a combined total above 1,100 points on the Scholastic Aptitude Tests given college-bound students, and be involved in school as well as constructive extra-curricular activities in the community.

Zandra has been on school honor rolls continuously since kindergarten, the year she began taking piano lessons. Except for a period in the fourth grade (when the county schools weren't offering instrumental music to that grade level), she has studied music; her older sister Kendra helped her learn to play the flute, and she took piano lessons. Kendra, sister Carmen and their mother, Dottie, play the piano, and Kendra also plays the cello.

Keeping a calendar so she can tell where and when her busy schedule will take her next, Zandra is the principal English horn player in the ERHS Wind Ensemble (there are only three English horn players in the county's high schools), principal oboist in the Chamber Orchestra and Symphonic Band (where she also plays any English horn parts), oboist in the Symphony Orchestra, and second oboist in the Prince Georges Senior Youth Orchestra.

She is an active member of Berwyn Presbyterian Church. Her out-of-school activities include serving as treasurer of the Junior Civitan Club, a service organization that, among other projects, painted benches in Greenbelt Park during a revitalization program there.

Until recently, Zandra also worked over 11 hours a week as an aide at the Greenbelt Library; recent staff cuts have reduced that time to about eight hours a week.

During the school spring break Zandra travelled with the ERHS Chamber orchestra to Bermuda for four days of musical competition and sight-seeing. Zandra's mother was able to go with the group. The Chamber orchestra received a silver medal in the competition.

College life will include music as its largest component. "Music," Zandra reflects, "is a second hat for me." She may tutor music students in the future, but she is most interested in performing music.

LAFFTERS MEET

On a beautiful Saturday early in May the LAFFters of Greenbelt, a social club for differently-abled adults, had fun participating in many activities at Patuxent River Park. Under the guidance and direction of Parks and Recreation personnel and volunteers, they rode a boat on the Patuxent and made their own pork sausages the way early middle-class plantation owners would have.

The Leisure Activities for Fun and Friendship group members have been busy rehearsing for a Talent Show and Ice Cream Social on May 15 at 7:15 p.m. at the Youth Center. The public is invited to become part of the audience. A good time is promised for all.

Boys Club Begins Baseball Season

Play Ball!! The season has begun for the Greenbelt Boys & Girls Club's Boys 14 & under county baseball team. The team played Beltsville and Kent last week. On Monday, May 13 the team will play Silver Hill at the County's B&G Sports Park on Woodmore Road, off Rt. 193, at 6:15 p.m. On Thursday, May 16, at 8:15 p.m., they will play Allentown also at the County's B&G Sports Park.

There are eight teams in the league, including also; College Park, Ft. Washington and Clinton. The team is scheduled to play 14 games — four home games — May 31, June 3, 7, and 17. All games at Braden start at 6:15 p.m. The team plays on a major-league 90-foot baseball diamond under high school rules. Come out, get excited and support this team!

The 14 & under team has a roster of 22 players, ages 13 & 14. Five of those players played for the Club's only team last year as 15 & unders, they are: Brian Doss, Buddy Humphreys, Jack Inman, Miguel Pereira and Jason Tanner. The team's head coach is Rod Gore. Assisting Rod, part-time, is Chuck Kennedy. A full-time assistant coach is still very much needed. If interested, call Rod at (H) 345-2370.

The Club's 15 & under team does not begin its games until after Memorial Day. There are currently 14 players on the roster; the roster still remains open. Boys born in 1976 or 1977, can still register. Call Jeff Keir at (H) 552-9234, or come down to Braden on Monday, Wednesday or Friday evenings, when the team practices. The team's head coach is Jeff Keir; the assistant coach is Tony Molden. Another coach is still needed.

For more information regarding the Club call: (202) 310-1066 (24 hrs.).

I endorse the proposal to transfer 82.5 acres of GHI woodlands from the current Forest Management Agreement (FMA) to an environmental easement, because I enjoy the presence of the animals, woodpeckers, and other birds that require "dead, deformed, and undesirable trees" for their habitat (which the FMA plans to remove). Not to mention the fact that the environmental easement will save money for GHI members and will allow GHI personnel more time for the upkeep of our homes and common areas.

Families interested in the host family program should call Toll Free: 1-800-SIBLING.

CITY OF GREENBELT

NOTICE OF A PROPOSED PROPERTY TAX INCREASE

The City Council of the City of Greenbelt proposes to increase property taxes

1. For the tax year beginning July 1, 1991, the estimated assessable base will increase by 4.0%, from $442,176,703 to $459,791,643.
2. If the City of Greenbelt maintains the current tax rate of $1.30 per $100 of assessment, property tax revenues will increase by 4.0%, resulting in $228,994 of new property tax revenues.
3. In order to fully offset the effect of increasing assessments, the property tax rate should be reduced to $1.25, the constant yield tax rate.
4. The city is considering not reducing its property tax rate enough to offset increasing assessments. The city proposes to adopt a tax rate of $1.32 per $100 of assessment. This tax rate is 5.6% higher than the constant yield tax rate and will generate $320,952 in additional property tax revenues.

A Public Hearing on the proposed property tax increase will be held at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, May 14, 1991 in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 25 Crescent Road, Greenbelt, Maryland 20770.

The hearing is open to the public, and public testimony is encouraged.

Persons with questions regarding this hearing may call 474-3870 or 474-8000 for further information.

three parts, about crime and the "flavor of Greenbelt."

Levine replied — "If we don't recycle there is going to be a pollution problem." Rashkin said that in the "unfashionable north-side" where he lives, "We haven't had any crime to speak of." He went on to say that "I can't imagine a prettier place to live and I want to keep it this way." Freas said Greenbelters were subject to crime in the shopping centers, which is understandable because they are on the Beltway with easy access roads in and out. Jahoda told of his experience when his neighbors helped police to catch a crook. He said one line in the real estate ads said it all for him — "backs to the woods."

Janet Parker asked the board and committee hopefuls what they would do about walkways where hedges impede passage, unsightly sheds erected on the gardenside of homes, unkempt yards, and bamboo thickets.

Deitch called free standing sheds "barns" that obstruct the view and the breezes. But she didn't think members would stand for an increase in fees to correct hedge and sidewalk problems. Jahoda thought it best for each member to set a good example. Freas made the point that GHI didn't have the staff to patrol the sidewalks. Rashkin said that GHI did not have the staff to address each walkway everyday. Hogenson said that GHI obviously has to do better. Levine replied with "I look out sometimes and think, why doesn't someone clean this mess up?" She suggested that members should clean up the walkways themselves.

Donald Comis, a board member whose term expires next year, raised the question of conflict of interest by those who might serve on the board or Audit Committee such as a real estate person or vinyl siding salesman.

Rashkin said there is nothing in the rules to single out a profession. Freas said he would have no objection to board or committee members excusing themselves from voting once or twice a year. Deitch said a member should be able to vote 99 percent of the time. Walker said "I personally trust the residents of Greenbelt to make a proper decision."

Rodney Roberts took the floor to propose that the annual savings in taxes and reforestation expense of $4,000 made by switching to the environmental easement on the 82.5 GHI acres be spent on sidewalks, to which Rashkin responded that the money saved be used to reduce member's payments. Jahoda suggested spending it on playgrounds. Freas asked to keep the forest under the present forestry management plan or Greenbelt might suffer a holocaust with burning embers raining on the town. Hogenson needed more facts before commenting. Levine would like the trees to remain standing.

And Julian Weiss had the honor of the last question. He asked how well GHI was managed. Freas replied that we have about one of the best managed coops in the country and Deitch agreed. Rashkin replied that he knew of a vocal minority that felt that "We are not doing a very good job." Jahoda observed that he wanted a board that directs the management and not the other way around.
