Council Backs Metro Nature Preserve, Welcomes Hobbs

Sunrise Wins Vested Rights Case As Judge Finds Footing Sufficient

by Diane Oberg

New City Manager Daniel G. Hobbs attended his first regular meeting of the Greenbelt City Council on July 15. In true Greenbelt tradition, the meeting featured extensive council/citizen debate, lasting almost until the next day.

After welcoming Hobbs to Greenbelt, council received a petition opposing the proposed elderly housing project, unanimously approved a resolution seeking to protect wetlands around the Metro site and announced the winner of the "Name the Pool" contest.

Welcome to Greenbelt

Hobbs thanked council for "giving him the opportunity" to serve a community with such a strong ethic of good government. He said he was "delighted" to renew his working relationship with Assistant City Manager Michael P. McLaughlin, whom he had hired 13 years earlier while working for Rockville.

Doug Love presented Hobbs with a "sensitive tree" on behalf of "a group of people" council knows well. He said that they "have been called the 'Tree People.'" While "Not all of us like to be singled out as 'tree people,'" he said, "like great appellations of the past such as Yankee or Shaker, this one will probably stick, and we may in time learn to cherish it." He presented the tree in hope that Hobbs "will be sensitive to our concerns in the present and future."

Name the Pool

Council presented an oversize pool pass to Joan Marie Conway, who submitted the winning entry "Greenbelt Aquatics and Fitness Center." Other entries included suggestions to name the pool after Franklin Roosevelt, former council member Charles F. Schwan, recently retired City Manager James K. Giese and the late Stephan Polaschik.

Elderly Housing

Mary Lindstrom, Leonie Penney and Dorothy Pyles presented a letter asking council to refer the Coop Senior Housing Committee's proposal to construct an eight-story senior apartment building adjacent to Center School to all appropriate advisory boards. They also presented a petition of concerns with 300 names. Penney said that they could easily have gotten more signatures, but stopped given the positive response of "everybody," including seniors, that they asked.

The proposed housing project had been on the published agenda for the meeting, but was removed at the request of the Housing Committee, according to Mayor Gil Weidenfeld.

Metro Wetlands

Under a suspension of the rules, council gave final approval to a resolution, proposed by the Anacostia Watershed Society, urging the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority to acquire the property around the Metro station for use as a wetlands nature preserve. Park and Planning officials have estimated that only 20 percent of the property can be developed, with the remainder being either wetlands or flood plain.

Advisory Boards

Under the consent agenda, council accepted the resignation of James Foy from the Advisory Planning Board. Foy will soon move to a community closer to his work.

The city has still been unable to find enough interested youths for the Youth Advisory Board. Despite a variety of recruiting efforts, only one youth has applied. The city needs five to seven young people before the board can be established.

State Revokes $190,000 In Schrom Park Grants

by Elaine Skolnik

To the dismay of municipalities, including Greenbelt, the Maryland State Legislature cut funding for Program Open Space. Greenbelt will lose $190,000 for Schrom Hills Park in Greenbelt East. Of this total, $165,000 was to provide reimbursement for the acquisition of the Steiner property, located at the park's planned entrance, and $25,000 was for development of the park.

The city and the property owner settled on terms of the purchase of the 1.2 acre Steiner tract before the start of a condemnation jury trial scheduled for early December 1990. In March, the premises (a house sat on the property) were vacated and the city paid for the property. Only then could the city request reimbursement for the purchase.

According to Greenbelt's Director of Planning and Development, Celia Wilson, municipality representatives at a meeting in April were told that monies earmarked in the 1990 Fiscal Year budget and earlier were safe (Steiner acquisition funds have been "banked" since Fiscal Year 1986). Later this assurance was reversed.

Wilson noted that the city is processing the paper work for reimbursement. "Greenbelt will move ahead in developing Schrom Park regardless," she said, noting that many improvements, such as installation of playground equipment, will be done by the city. The good news also was that the bids for the park's development came in lower than estimated. Kettler Brothers, the general contractors, will be constructing two community buildings, the parking lot and ballfields.

by Elaine Skolnik

A ruling by Prince Georges County Circuit Judge Jacob S. Levin will permit the developers of the Sunrise Apartment complex to construct the 467 unit complex in Greenbelt East.

Earlier Sunrise Development Limited Partnership had appealed unsuccessfully the Langley Park / College Park / Greenbelt Sectional Map Amendment's (SMA) rezoning of the 9.9 acre Sunrise tract from R-10 (multifamily high-density residential with a maximum of 48 units per acre) to R-18C (multifamily medium-density condominium with a maximum of 12 units per acre). Similarly, the County Board of Appeals had rejected the developers' argument that they had "vested rights" in the R-10 zoning.

The county has 30 days from the date of Judge Levin's "Opinion and Order of Court" to appeal. The Court ordered that the Board of Appeals finding be reversed, that the stop-work order on the Sunrise Apartments be nullified and that the building permit be issued for a one-year period. The order was signed on July 9.

At issue, the Court said, was whether a single column footing not visible from the main road on which it is located is sufficient to "vest rights" in a particular zoning classification. "The Court finds that it is and reverses the Board of Appeals."

The County had argued that the column footing was not an "indispensable part" of the apartment building. The Court found that the column footing in this case is an "indispensable part" of the high-rise apartment building, and "the footing (for the portico of the main lobby connecting two 12-story apartment buildings) regardless of whether it was visible from Hanover Road, constituted commencement of construction."

Russell W. Shipley argued the case for the Sunrise Development Limited Partnership and Albert J. Lochte for the county.

Inn in Greenbelt East. (Bower Lewis Thruer/Architects drawing used by permission of developer.)

County Planning Board Holds Action on TDO Boundaries

by Elaine Skolnik

In a letter dated June 27, Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, on behalf of the city council, thanked Chairman John Rhoads of the Prince Georges County Planning Board for "deferring action on defining boundaries on the Greenbelt Metro Transit District Overlay Zone (TDO) until the city had an opportunity to review and comment."

The Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission (M-NOPPC) proposes that the TDO zone comprise the Metro Station and the northern half of the A. H. Smith property west of Cherrywood Lane. The city council and the city's Advisory Planning Board, on the other hand, have pressed for an expanded area. This area would include Beltway Plaza and Springhill Lake and is bordered by the Beltway, the CSX Railroad tracks, Greenbelt Road and Cherrywood Lane. The expanded zone would give the city more control over development in the TDO area. The Prince Georges County Council (sitting as the District Council) must approve the TDO plan. Later, all development on the site is subject to site plan review and approval by the Planning Board.

The TDO Zone

According to the Planning Board's publication, "Toward Quality Development in Prince Georges County," the TDO zone "is intended to insure that the development of land in the vicinity of Metro stations maximizes transit ridership, and serves the economic and social goals of the area. . . ." The TDO, a mapped zone superimposed over other zones in a designated transit district, may modify certain requirements for development within those underlying zones, such as uses permitted, parking and sign requirements and the location and size of buildings and structures. Although densities of the underlying zone may not be changed, it is a matter of interpretation whether the underlying zoning (Smith property, for example, which is mainly industrial) can be changed through the TDO process.

In the Letter

Weidenfeld noted in the letter to Rhoads that the city "recognized that expanded boundaries will dramatically increase the planning effort required to prepare and implement a transit district. However, the unique opportunities and impacts associated with Metro development demand that the boundaries be expanded beyond that originally proposed by your staff."

In approving the Master Plan designation for mixed-use development for the Smith and Metro properties, also known as the Greenbelt Employment Area in the Master Plan, the District Council retained the existing zoning of the Smith property (industrial) and directed the M-NOPPC to prepare a TDO for the Smith and Metro properties.

The SMA analysis of the area notes that "In the long-run, a coordinated M-X-T development proposal prepared by the owners is encouraged." M-X-T uses are transportation oriented and provide for a variety of residential, commercial and employment development - retail, office/research/industrial, dwellings and hotel/motel.

Letters to the Editor

Unresponsive

Anyone driving through Greenbelt is aware of our need to improve pedestrian safety. Recent accidents involving students injured on their way to and from school have heightened this concern. Students at Eleanor Roosevelt High School are particularly vulnerable because of the school's location on a major state highway.

Common sense tells us that lowering the speed limit near these schools or putting flashing lights to alert drivers of a school crossing could prevent injuries and save lives. Easy to achieve? Evidently not. Prince Georges County has no power to make these few changes because the State Highway Administration (SHA) has jurisdiction over all matters pertaining to state roads. Something as simple as the installation of a stop sign requires their approval.

Because the SHA had been so unresponsive to calls to improve safety near schools, for several years I sponsored legislation to give local jurisdictions the right to lower speed limits in designated school speed zones. Each year the General Assembly has killed the bill, primarily because of opposing testimony by the SHA.

Because of our efforts, the SHA met with the bill's sponsors to discuss a school area traffic control program that they are proposing. As part of that plan, the SHA is inventorying the 250 schools that are located on state roads to determine what safety problems exist and what solutions need to be developed. Unfortunately, SHA officials admitted that they are not consulting with local school personnel or area residents who could offer insight into their particular situations. It is difficult to understand why they have chosen to conduct this study in a vacuum or why they are not informing local officials of upcoming visits, the purpose of these visits, or the methods used to evaluate a specific school area. The SHA is also proposing a review process for problem locations but the effectiveness of this process remains to be seen.

On August 8, I will attend an SHA conference on school safety to learn the results of the inventory. Creston Mills, District Highway Engineer for our area will also attend. If you agree that additional steps must be taken to improve traffic safety near schools, I urge you to write him before this date. His address is 9300 Kenilworth Avenue, Greenbelt, MD 20770.

Stunned, Too

In response to Leslie Hilliard's letter entitled 'Stunned' in the News Review on July 18, believe me, you were not the only one stunned by the July 4 article regarding the senior housing project. Did you read the letters in the July 11 issue? There are at least four there that are negative in response and zero for the project and I'm sure there will be many more in the future. I'd like to know where you got the idea "that those living in 'Old Greenbelt' are trying to cram more enterprises into it?" Have you been to any Greenbelt Council meetings lately? If so, the number of people there should give you a hint that the residents of Old Greenbelt do not want more buildings or ballfields. Old Greenbelt does not have the roads to handle any more traffic! we are a nice quiet community that wishes to stay that way.

I'd like to know who the people are who are really coming up with these ideas for more congestion, who asked Greenhorne & O'Mara to come up for plans for the senior housing project, who asked for plans for more Ballfields to be added on Northway Road? I'm sure Greenhorne didn't come up with it on their own. The last meeting I went to, the council admitted that the city is or will be in the hole when the pool opens up, so why more plans? How do we stop the growth?

Redistricting Hearing

The Prince Georges County Redistricting Commission will hold a public hearing on proposals for redistricting the nine Councilmanic districts on August 6 at 7 p.m. in the County Council Hearing Room, County Administration Building, Upper Marlboro.

For the past several months the Commission has held public discussions in each of the nine Council districts to hear proposals from the public. These proposals are available for review in county libraries.

Copies of the proposals received to date by the Commission can be reviewed at any of the County's libraries prior to the August 6 hearing.

Anyone unable to attend the August 6 hearing may submit in writing comments for consideration of the Commission anytime prior to that hearing.

The redistricting finally selected by Council will apply to the 1994 and 1998 Council elections.

Redistricting Hearing For School Board

The Maryland Legislative Redistricting Committee for Prince Georges County Board of Education has scheduled public hearings. On Wednesday, July 31, at 7 p.m. a meeting will be held at Bowie City Hall, 2614 Kenhill Drive and on Friday, August 2, at 7 p.m. in the Hyattsville Municipal Building, 4310 Gallatin Street.

Citizens may register to speak at the public hearings on site between 6 and 7 p.m.

Free Senior Olympic Booklet Available

The registration booklet for the 12th annual Maryland Senior Olympics is now available. This year's games, open to Maryland residents, age 55 and older, will be held October 10-12 on the campus of Towson State University.

The free registration booklet outlines the training guidelines and the rules governing each event. Team sports have been expanded this year to include three-man basketball, in addition to softball and volleyball. Spectators may attend free of charge. There is an entry fee.

To register for the 1991 games, athletes must return a completed application, a signed liability release form and the registration fee postmarked no later than August 3 for the softball event and August 24 for all other events.

Sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Maryland, in cooperation with the Maryland Office on Aging, the Maryland Senior Olympics is the single largest senior athletic event in the state.

Registration forms may be obtained at public libraries, or by

Police Seeking To Identify Body

The United States Park Police are seeking information from anyone who can help to identify the body of a woman found along the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, near Riverdale Road, on July 11.

The body is believed to be that of a woman in her 30's and was approximately 5'8" to 5'9" in height. She was clad in a pair of black "Guess" jeans and a blue, short sleeve top. She also had a small hoop gold earring in her right ear. There also was a leather key pouch with "Salem" on it, attached to her jeans.

The Baltimore medical examiner's office estimates that the woman had been dead for approximately six to seven days prior to discovery.

Anyone with information on a missing person fitting the physical or clothing descriptions should contact the U.S. Park Police, Criminal Investigation Branch at (202) 433-1050.

COMMUNITY EVENTS

Festival Notes

Toastmasters Club

The Columbians Toastmaster Club invites people interested in improving their speaking and leadership skills to attend their meetings at 10140 Cherry Hill Road on the first and third Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. For information or directions call John Taylor of Greenbelt 345-1608 or Tom Shortino 422-0909.

Lake Park Concert

On Sunday, July 28 at 7 p.m. "Sandy Mitchell and the Mesquite Messengers" will perform at the "Buddy" Attick Park. All residents and guests are welcome.

Tour Wetlands

Join a National Park Service Ranger at Greenbelt Park, a unit of the National Park Service, for a two mile hike to view a wetland area. Learn about the vital ecological roles that wetlands serve while discovering the plant and animal communities in a forested swamp. Meet at the entrance to the campground. Hikes will be 1-2:30 p.m. on Saturday, July 27 and Sunday, July 28.

For information call 344-3944 or 344-3948.

Auditions Scheduled

The Greenbelt Arts Center will hold auditions at 7:30 p.m., July 29 and July 31, with call backs on August 1, for "Heaven Can Wait," the first presentation of its 1991 drama series. There are roles for seven men and four women, with many parts for extras. The auditions will be held at the Greenbelt Youth Center. A late September performance is planned for the play.

The Arts Center also is seeking stage crew, technical staff, and others who would like to help with the performance. Working with an Arts Center production is an excellent way to increase a knowledge of theater, gain experience in dramatic arts and staging, and contribute to expanding the performing arts in Greenbelt. For more information call 474-8770 or reach the Arts Center president, Marie Tousignant, on 441-1033.

Shoppers & Readers For the Blind Needed

Readers and shoppers are needed for the blind and visually impaired in the District of Columbia, Montgomery and Prince Georges counties.

Anyone who can give 1½ to 2 hours per week, call Suzanne Jones at Volunteers for the Visually Handicapped, 301-589-0894. Monthly training sessions are provided at their location, 8720 Georgia Avenue, Suite 210, Silver Spring.

Miss Greenbelt

Photographs and momentos of past Miss Greenbelt Pageants are on display in the Greenbelt Library Showcase (ground floor) through the end of July. Miss Greenbelt Pageant holds its second fund-raising event, a car wash located at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church, on Greenbelt Road, on Saturday, August 3, from 10 to 3. The pageant fund-raising defrays costs of the pageant and its community activities.

Photos Wanted

The 1991 Greenbelt Labor Day Festival will be previewed in the Greenbelt Library Showcase during the month of August. Anyone who has photos of the 1990 Festival or earlier Labor Day celebrations to lend to the display, please call Sandy Smith on 474-6127.

Outstanding Citizen

Nominations are due August 11 for the 1991 Outstanding Citizen honored during the Labor Day Festival opening ceremony.

The Outstanding Citizen serves as Grand Marshal in the Labor Day Parade. Nomination forms appear in the News Review or call Tom Renahan on 345-5352.

Photo Exhibition

Jim Parker, photo exhibition chair, has announced new categories for this year's photography exhibition and competition. Awards will be given for best prints in these categories: landscape, nature, abstract, and general. As in the past there will be an award for the best entry from a young photographer under 16 and the community favorite, selected by visitors to the exhibition. Up to 3 prints per person are accepted. Prints must be framed, wire attached, ready to hang, and no larger than 16 by 20 inches. There are no fees or registration necessary. Photographers should bring their entries to the Youth Center on August 30 between 6 and 8 p.m. For more information contact Jim at 345-9573.

Talent and Variety

Performers have registered for this year's Talent and Variety Show, but more are needed. Performers of all ages and solo and group entries are welcome. Prizes and awards will be given in each age category as well as an overall winner selected. Talented entertainers who sing, dance, perform magic, play a musical instrument, give dramatic readings, want to try their skills or get on-stage experience should call Cheri Gainer for more information on 441-8589.

Meetings

The Labor Day Festival Committee will hold its next meeting at 7:30 p.m., August 1 at the Greenbelt Library. The Committee will meet each Thursday during August.

Events at Goddard

There will be bus tours of the Goddard Space Flight Center on Sunday, July 28 at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Tours begin at the Goddard Visitor Center, which is inside the entrance off of Soil Conservation Road.

Greenbriar News

Many thanks to all the volunteers who helped to make the annual pool party picnic a super event this year; even "Mother Nature" did her part to make it a great evening. The pool staff, the Greenbriar social committee and many individual volunteers deserve credit for a job well done.

The Kids Crafts held on July 17, at Greenbriar was a big success. Many busy hands engaged in bead jewelry making, designing paperbag puppets and other crafts. Due to popular demand, another craft event will be scheduled. Watch bulletin boards for information.

The social committee is busy making plans for a hot dog roast on Saturday, July 27, in the picnic area from 1 to 4 p.m. An outdoor brunch is also planned for August 4, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. For more info call 441-1096.

Tour the Green Belt

Tours of the "green belt", sponsored by the Committee to Save the Green Belt, are held each Saturday at noon. Meet at the playground at the end of Gardenway. Refreshments provided. For information, call 474-4863.

FOURTH ANNUAL

LITTLE MISS GREENBELT PAGEANT

The Labor Day Festival Committee invites Little Misses ages 7 to 10 to participate in the 1991 Little Miss Greenbelt Pageant to be held Labor Day weekend. Like it's "Big Sister" the Miss Greenbelt Pageant, each contestant will compete in 3 stages of competition, personal interview, modeling theme wear and party dress. For registration information, please call Cheri at 441-8589.

Outstanding Citizen

Remembering Bill Hoff

by Betty Allen

At the memorial service for Bill Hoff in February, 1985, the Rev. Perry Miller said that "... He touched the generosity in each of us by his example; he brought out the best in people." Happily, Bill had heard similar thoughts expressed in September, 1981, when he was honored as Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen. In his 30 years in Greenbelt, his public service included several terms on the City Council, numerous city and GHI committees, the Garden Club and the Methodist Church. In recognition of his long career as manager of the University of Maryland Student Union, the theater in that building was named the Hoff Theater.

Much of the heartfelt applause when Bill Hoff's name was announced at that 1981 Labor Day Festival program came from those of us who remembered him, not only for his public service, but for our appreciation of his kindness and warmth. When the election polling place at North End School opened, there was Bill—greeting his neighbors from both political parties and antagonizing none.

As the season is now here when Greenbelters can nominate their neighbors for 1991 Outstanding Citizen, the committee hopes our residents will look around—and look back. Bill Hoff was first of all a good neighbor and valued friend, with deep concern for his community and a desire to keep it a good place to live. There are many like him, and they deserve nomination—but only the citizens of Greenbelt can make that happen. It is an honor to be nominated—an honor which reflects on all Greenbelt volunteers. Make it happen!

Cancer Prevention Education Meeting

"Taking Control," a free presentation on cancer prevention sponsored by the American Cancer Society, will be held on Thursday, August 1, 1 to 1:30 p.m., in the cafeteria conference room of Leland Memorial Hospital, 4409 East-West Highway, Riverdale. The program will feature practical steps that may be taken in an effort to prevent cancer.

For further information, call Leland's Department of Education at (301) 699-2283.

Nominate Now

Nominations for the Outstanding Citizen of 1991 may be made by filling out the form elsewhere in this paper. Nominations from previous years may also be updated. (So many remarkable candidates are nominated each year, when only one can be chosen, that this group alone becomes a viable pool from which to choose).

Nominees must be Greenbelt residents. Current elected officials are not eligible. City employees may be nominated only for activities for which they are not paid.

Phone Callers Sought

The American Cancer Society of Prince Georges County will be conducting the annual Phone-A-Thon fundraiser this summer. Volunteer callers are needed July 30, 31 and August 1 from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Beltsville C&P Telephone Company office. Calls will be made to past contributors requesting their yearly donation to support cancer research, education and patient services. Light dinner and training provided before Phone-A-Thon begins.

To volunteer call the Prince Georges Voluntary Action Center, 779-9444.

by Jerry Conway

The Greenbelt Seniors, with homeruns hit by Ray Reed and Jerry Conway, defeated Holarbird 19-17 in a seven-inning slow pitch game.

A close game against Parkville was marked by excellent hits. Jim McGann homered and Bill Grennon, Ike Armstrong and Mac Maye each tripled. This game was close throughout 10 innings. A runner ran to first safely for Greenbelt's catcher and was ready to move to second base when the catcher also ran to first. The would-be winning run scored but didn't count because the two runners went to first base, creating the third out.

That score would have ended the game with a win for Greenbelt, but when the game continued another inning, Parkville scored a winning run. The final score was 10-9. There were other simple errors during the game.

Nominations Sought

The College Park Business and Professional Women (BPW) is soliciting nominations for the Young Careerist Program. Young Careerist contestants will compete for recognition at the local level, with the winner going on to compete at the state and possibly the national level.

To qualify, nominees must be women between the ages of 21 and 35, living, working, or training in Maryland, and those who have: assisted other women in their advancement, provided guidance to other young career women, and/or shown excellent career achievement.

For more information or to submit nominations, call Laurie Zebrowski after 6 p.m. at 301-572-6072. Deadlines for application submission is August 15.

Tennis Courts, Northway Ballfields Focus of Council Worksession

by Leslie Robinson

In a work session of the Greenbelt City Council on the evening of July 10, tennis courts joined ballfields in the continuing controversy over Greenbelt's future recreational needs. The purpose of the meeting was to hear Kim Finch, one of the authors, explain a just released M-NCPPC (Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission) report entitled "Greenbelt 1X: Parks and Recreation Assessment Study."

This meeting was the latest in a series of meetings on recreation beginning in 1989 and continuing through January 1991 in which the city's Parks and Recreation Advisory Board (P-RAB) and the city recreational staff have discussed plans for more recreational opportunities for the city. These plans called for developing the Schrom Hills Park in Greenbelt East; expanding the recreational opportunities in historic Greenbelt, particularly at the east end of Northway; where there are now two ballfields and an unpaved parking lot. The plan calls for two new softball fields, two new combined soccer/football fields, a paved parking lot, field lights, rest rooms and more, in addition to the fields now there and having a trail and sidewalk system.

The News Review has reported opposition to these plans for the Northway park. Council has taken no action on the Northway plans other than to request more information.

M-NCPPC Report

Finch had barely started to explain the report when she was served a volley of questions and statements which threw the subject of the meeting back and forth between tennis courts and ballfields. A few other subjects on recreation were briefly mentioned, including: ice skating, bowling, the soon-to-be completed indoor swimming pool, and basketball. Also, Marsha Barrett presented a written report to the council on passive recreation. And suggestion was made to name local parks after local dignitaries.

Tennis players objected strenuously to a proposal in the report to convert two tennis courts at Braden Field to outdoor racquetball courts. Council learned from Ed Kaplinger, a resident, that there are 180 members of the Greenbelt Tennis Association and that some people moved to Greenbelt because of the tennis courts and other recreational amenities. Hank Irving, Recreation Department Director, testified that all of Greenbelt's public courts are needed and are heavily used. Council member Antoinette Bram said that council had battled about tennis courts before, and as far as she was concerned they will stay there.

Northway Ballfields

As the meeting progressed, the subject of Northway ballfields popped up again and again. The council learned that the M-NCPPC standard for baseball is one field per 6000 residents.

The city recreation staff are concerned that the current ballfields are over-used. Nevertheless, concern was expressed, especially by Rodney Roberts that Greenbelt's woodlands would be cleared for ballfields. In the course of discussion estimates for forest clearing for the maximum proposed four softball fields and two soccer fields at Northway were whittled down from 35 acres to 16.5 acres, then to 10 to 12 acres.

Other aspects of ballfields that were discussed were: that compaction mats will allow more use of ballfields; fields on flood plain land are technically possible using underground drainage; it will be difficult to acquire land for recreational purposes outside of city limits or in the federally operated park south of Greenbelt.

Toward the end of the meeting, councilman Thomas X. White said that the M-NCPPC report was just a tool and did not contain a "user" assessment. He said that council should relegate the planning of Greenbelt's recreational facilities to PRAB and to the city recreation staff.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld concluded the meeting by observing that the M-NCPPC report was applicable to almost any municipality. The next step, he said, was to make it fit Greenbelt. He went on to say council now needs a user survey, but council can't do a whole lot now for recreation because of the depressed economy.

Police Blotter

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

Two citizens reported that as they were walking in the 5900 block of Springhill Dr. around 12:00 a.m. on July 13, a man placed a handgun in the back of one of them and demanded their purse and wallet. He then fled. He is described as black, in his early 20s, 5'0", 160 lbs., wearing a black and yellow shirt.

A woman reported that as she was driving on the ramp from northbound I-95 onto Kenilworth Ave. around 10 p.m. on July 12, a car pulled up alongside her vehicle and a passenger in that car fired a shot into the air with a handgun. The car then fled southbound on Kenilworth Ave. The car is described as a 1984 or 1985 two-door, blue, Ford Tempo with Maryland license plates.

Assaults

As a man was changing a tire in the 7700 block of Hanover Pkwy. around 1:15 a.m. on July 16, three teenagers approached him and assaulted him: one of them punched him in the face and demanded money; another hit him on the head with a bottle. The juveniles then ran towards the 7800 block of Hanover Parkway.

A 22-year-old resident male was arrested and charged with assault on July 16 after he threatened someone with a BB-gun in the parking lot of Chi Chi's Restaurant (5900 block of Greenbelt Rd.). The incident was a continuation of an earlier, verbal, domestic dispute.

Another citizen reported being battered by ten juveniles in Beltway Plaza around 11 p.m. on July 13.

As two citizens were walking in the 5800 block of Cherrywood Terr. around 11:15 a.m. on July 13, they were punched and kicked by four males who then ran toward Beltway Plaza.

Sexual Offenses

On July 12 a 35-year-old non-resident male was arrested for fourth degree sexual offense after he assaulted someone in Beltway Plaza and was detained by someone else until the police arrived.

A 30-year-old nonresident male was arrested for indecent exposure on July 16 after he exposed himself in the Academy 6 Theater while watching a movie.

On July 18 a male was noticed exposing himself while watching a movie at the Academy 6 Theater. This man is described as black, 5'11", 175 lbs., wearing a white T-shirt and light-colored sweatpants.

Break and Enter

A breaking and entering was reported in the 9100 block of Edmonston Rd. on July 16. Stereo equipment and an answering machine were stolen.

Vehicles

Around 2:15 a.m. on July 18, police tried to pull over a vehicle for a traffic violation on Greenbelt Rd. at Kenilworth Ave. but the driver did not cooperate. A short chase ensued. It ended when the driver and a passenger bailed out of the vehicle and ran in the 5900 block of Pontiac St. The driver was immediately apprehended but the passenger was not. Investigation of the situation revealed that the vehicle had been stolen and that the driver had possession of credit cards belonging to the owner of the vehicle. He was arrested and charged with two counts of theft and two counts of malicious destruction; a 16-year-old nonresident male, he was taken to Boys' Village pending action by Juvenile Services. The passenger (who was not apprehended) is described as male, black, 16 years old, 5'9", 160 lbs. wearing black pants and a light colored T-shirt.

A four-door 1782 Volvo was stolen from the 7700 block of Hanover Pkwy. on July 14; it was later recovered.

Vandalism to, thefts from, and attempted thefts of autos were reported in the following areas: Beltway Plaza, the 6100 block of Breezewood Dr., the 8500 block of Cherrywood Lane, the 9000 block of Edmonston Rd., the 7800 block of Hanover Pkwy., the 200 block of Lakeside Dr., 2 Court of Laurel Hill Rd., the 8000 block of Mandan Rd., the 8100 block of Mandan Terr., 26 and 45 courts of Ridge Rd., and the 7200 block of South Ora Ct.

Resident Arrested

Greenbelt resident Victor Hugo Watson III was arrested by Greenbelt Police Officer Carl Schinner on Friday, July 12. Officer Schinner stopped Watson for a traffic violation about 10:30 p.m.—at the intersection of Cherrywood and Ivy Lanes. After finding out that there was an open warrant for Watson's arrest from a prior traffic violation, Officer Schinner searched the car and found a plastic bag containing 26 rocks of suspected crack cocaine, according to Sgt. John Lann, of the Greenbelt Police Department.

Watson, of 9308 Edmonston Road, Apt. 201, was charged with possession of crack cocaine with intent to distribute, which is a felony, and incarcerated.

Watson was freed on July 15 on "supervised release," according to Cpl. Saida Burnett of the Prince Georges County Department of Corrections. Supervised release means that Watson will be monitored by a case worker, Burnett said.

Two are Arrested On PCP Charges

Two residents were arrested on July 12 by Greenbelt Police following a search of their apartment at 6140 Springhill Terrace, according to police spokesman Pfc. George Mathews. Police held a search warrant, reviewed and signed by a circuit court judge, based on information obtained by a Greenbelt officer while on routine patrol.

Members of the warrant entry team searched the apartment at 4:22 a.m. Items seized, according to Pfc. Mathews, include 400 grams of suspected phenacyclidine (PCP), packaging material and $500 cash. The street value of PCP is about $10 per gram in Prince Georges County, which is the main source of PCP in this area, according to Cpl. Mark Polk, of the Prince Georges County Police Department. The value increases with the distance away from the county and can cost as much as $125 per gram in West Virginia, he said.

The two men were charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) with intent to distribute, and possession of a CDS.

According to Cpl. Saida Burnett of the Prince Georges County Department of Corrections, Edward Albert-Anthony Hawkins, 36 was incarcerated in lieu of $50,000 bond; James Lee Edwards, 35, is being held in lieu of $10,000 bond.

A preliminary hearing for Hawkins has been scheduled for August 12 in the Court House in Upper Marlboro.

Greenbelt's Business

The Courtyard Hotel off of Greenbelt Road opened its doors on June 26. — photo by J. Henson

Marriott's Courtyard Is Open

by Elaine Skolnik

Courtyard by Marriott opened its doors in Greenbelt on June 26. The contemporary, off-white hotel is located on four acres at the corner of Greenbelt Road and Kenilworth Avenue within the Golden Triangle Office Park.

The four-story lodging facility has 152 rooms, 12 suites and two conference rooms, each serving up to 50 persons. Half of the units overlook a central landscaped courtyard where a gazebo is the focal point. Guests sitting in the hotel's lounge also have a view of the courtyard. The dining room seats 50 persons and is open to the public. Soft colors—muted teal and mauve—were the interior designer's choice for rugs and upholstery.

Amenities include an indoor pool, exercise center and a guest laundry room.

Courtyard's General Manager Catherine L. Estrada said, "We are pleased to be in Greenbelt. We have a beautiful hotel and want to make our customers happy." The hotel, managed and owned by the Marriott Corporation, expects to attract the "pleasure traveler" and the "individual business customer" seeking lodging for one or more days at moderate prices.

According to Estrada, the nearby larger Marriott Hotel located in the Capital Office Park, caters to large groups in need of space to hold conventions, weddings, banquets, etc. The hotel is managed, but not owned by the Marriott Corporation.

Estrada noted that the problems dealing with the parking lot and the retaining wall have been corrected. Further landscaping is planned for the steep slope running down from the retaining wall at the end of the parking lot to the stormwater management basin along Greenbelt Road. The hotel's property begins about six feet above the stormwater basin.

The Courtyard employs 50 persons. Sales Coordinator is Laura Capella. Coakley and Williams Construction Company was the general contractor. The value of the hotel's property, including land acquisition, is about $10 million.

Chaverini Promoted

Vince Chaverini, Agricultural Research Services, 6303 Ivy Lane, has been promoted to Procurement Analyst and will move to the Procurement Division.

Dawson Named Recycling Director

Dave Dawson, property manager for Capital Office Park, has been named director of the Commercial Recycling Program's Business Advisory Council for the Prince Georges County Department of Environmental Resources for a one-year term.

The group is responsible for helping the county meet its mandated recycling goal of 20 percent of total waste generated by 1994 and 35 percent by 1999.

Capital Office Park began its Office Recycling Program in March of this year, collecting and sending office paper products for recycling. By July 1 it was estimated that Capital Office Park had collected over 12 tons of office paper per month. One ton of paper equals 17 trees, according to Waste Management, Inc.; therefore, the employees working at Capital Office Park are responsible for saving 816 trees as of the beginning of the summer.

"We are very excited about the recycling program here at the Park and the enthusiasm it has generated from all of the firms," said Dawson. "I am looking forward to working with area business and community leaders to develop similar programs in other work sites around the county."

Mac Donald Named To County Committee

William N. MacDonald, Jr., of Maryland National Bank (MNB), 7474 Greenway Center Drive, is one of seven economic and financial experts from the private and public sectors to be appointed by Prince Georges Executive Parris Glendening to the Spending Affordability Committee. This committee will provide the county government with advice on taxes and government expenditures.

MacDonald is senior vice president responsible for MNB Financial's Wholesale Middle Market Division.

Record Net Earnings

Legg Mason Wood Walker Inc., 6404 Ivy Lane, announced for the second year in a row, record net earnings for the quarter and fiscal year ended March 31, 1991. Revenues for the year were $242.7 million, compared to record revenues of $243.7 million in the prior fiscal year.

Johnson Named 1991 Affiliate of the Year

Realtor Donna Johnson of Sears Mortgage Corp., Greenbelt, has been named "Affiliate of the Year" by the Prince Georges County Association of Realtors.

Johnson has been a member of the Association since 1982 and during that time she has served on the Directors Advisory Committee, has served on the Credit Union Committee for seven years, has been an active member of the Women's Council of Realtors for ten years, and is currently Chairman of the Christmas Party and Outing Committee.

Johnson has participated in the 1991 Board of Trade Convention and is currently a member of the Young Mortgage Bankers Committee.

Brady Thinks Fast

Jerry Brady of West and Brady Advertising, 6411 Ivy Lane, made front page news in the Washington Post recently when he spotted one of two fugitives emerging wounded from the woods along the north side of Route 50.

Thinking fast, Brady swung his car off the road into the median and began flashing his lights and honking his horn to alert police. He then sped east back on Route 50 toward the last state police car he had seen. The fugitive, Donald Nelson, was captured, thanks to Brady's efforts, and was later treated for gunshot wounds to his right leg.

Computer Firm Has Record Year

Group 1 Software Inc., 6404 and 6411 Ivy Lane, earned nearly $4 million for the fiscal year ending March 31, a record for the 4-year-old computer program developer. Revenues for the year increased 30 percent, to $26.3 million, while net earnings increased 31 percent, to $3.86 million, or 92 cents per share.

The company attributes much of its growth to the postal rate increase, making Group 1 mail sorting and management software more attractive to mass mailers hoping to cut costs, and the expanded variety of computers compatible with its software.

Parent company Comnet Corp. also reported a 61 percent increase in earnings in the past quarter, ended March 31, 1991.

Creative Grandparenting Workshop to Be Offered

Creative Grandparenting Inc. and the Greenbelt Recreation Department will be co-sponsoring a "Creative Grandparenting" workshop at the Youth Center. The purpose of the workshop is to explore the ideas of "Creative Grandparenting" and how they might be used in an on-going way to enrich the lives of young people, older adults and the community.

In order to conduct a workshop that will meet the needs of the community's "grandparents" (any caring older adult who interacts with young people, kin or non-kin), information is needed on "grandparents'" interests.

The following are suggested: the joys of grandparenting; child development; uplifting grandparenting experiences; surrogate grandparenting; grandparenting groups; long distance grandparenting; grandparenting problems (divorced parents, alienation, blended families).

Please call Karen Haseley at 474-6878 to express interest in these or other topics, to get more information on Creative Grandparenting Inc. and to register for the upcoming workshop.

Global Warming Talk

The Sierra Club of Prince Georges County is sponsoring a slide show on global warming. Marty Hayden, a specialist in energy and global warming for the national Sierra Club, will discuss the latest on global warming and what can be done nationally and locally to curb it. Come Monday evening, August 5, 7:30 at Hyattsville Public Library on Adelphi Road near East-West Highway. Call (301) 345-5735 for more information.

The View from Ridge Road

by Christina O'Boyle

THE FIVE & DIME

I miss the Ben Franklin store we used to have in Roosevelt Center. Screws, construction paper, curtain rods, baby clothes, lace, laundry baskets, even potting soil were kept in stock. When our bathtub plug deteriorated the other day, I found myself thinking of the back wall of "Benji's" where its replacement would have been found.

Five and dimes like Ben Franklin were throw-backs to shopping before convenience malls and stadium-size supermarkets. Walking into one of them is like walking into the 1950s, which can be a pleasant relief from the 1990s. You won't find designer labels but you might discover a sale on 13-gallon trash bags for a dollar. You won't hear Muzak softly playing or gaze into mirrored display cases. You will probably get the static of the local radio station and Johnny Mathis' voice fading in and out as you riffle through the pillowcases piled on a table.

I have been drawn to five and dimes since my freshman year at college. There were plenty of variety stores then; now there are fewer. I hunt them down whenever we travel, like a collector sniffing around for another piece to add to her collection. It is individuality that distinguishes one five and dime from another. There is one in Burlington, Vermont that sells a complete line of artist supplies. One in Evanston, Illinois has a wonderful toy department. One in Easton, Maryland should be renowned for its tin cans. My most recent discovery was a two-story five and ten in Cumberland, Maryland which contains a soda fountain running the length of the store, three aisles of greeting cards and wrapping paper, a pet supply area, (replete with goldfish and hamsters), and a shoe repair station. I did not emerge for over an hour. When I did, I had kitchen towels, boys socks, cheap chocolate chip cookies and the bathtub plug.

Twelve years ago I wandered into the Greenbelt Ben Franklin as a newlywed with a GHI unit to decorate. In 1979 Greenway Shopping Center did not exist, so I bought my first kitchen curtains at "Benji's". It is just an old affair I carry in my heart.

Our sympathy to Melissa Voight on the death of her mother, Sara B. (Jennie) Kiger. Congratulations to John W. Rudmann, of Ivy Lane, who made the dean's list for the spring semester at West Virginia University.

The Prince Georges County Commission for Children and Youth has awarded "Certificates of Achievement" to 144 Prince Georges County students, and we are proud to announce that two of them are Greenbelters. Sunny Yi, a student at Magnolia Elementary, earned her certificate for social and personal growth, and for scholastic achievement. Shugi Zheng, a student at Springhill Lake Elementary, earned his certificate for scholastic achievement. Congratulations to both of you.
