GHI Board Considers Ways For Increasing Participation

by Leslie Robinson

At the last two meetings of the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes Inc. (GHI) the board among other things, approved the naming of an annual scholarship in honor of Charles F. Schwan Jr., permitted a student to sublease her unit for two more years, and reviewed a report by the N&E (Nominations and Elections) Committee.

Since the last regular GHI meeting on Jan. 29, the board met in special session on Feb. 6 and in regular session on Feb. 13. The special session was held mainly to review a report by the N&E Committee calling for greater member participation. A short business meeting preceded the discussion of the N&E Report.

ballot for the annual election met with either no response or negative response. GHI homeowner Barbara Likowski said that she felt the Cooperative idea was a precious one and that the give and take at the annual meeting was important. She reminded the board that in the past when people were able to have more than one proxy that people came to the meeting with many proxies. As a result the by-laws were changed to permit only one proxy per member. Likowski said that a vote by mail might result in a similar situation. Audit Committee member Craig Tooley also spoke against the idea of a mail-in vote.

Ken Barnes supported the need for a monthly GHI newsletter by saying that the coverage of the GHI meetings by the News Review was too selective in coverage. Currently the GHI Newsletter is published quarterly. Barnes would like to include the minutes of board meetings in the newsletter.

Regular Session

The board met in regular session on Feb. 13 to consider a number of issues including a memorial award and a sublease extension.

In 1990 the board granted permission to a member to sublease a unit for two years while the member attended school in Baltimore. At this meeting the board unanimously approved a two-year extension in order for the member to complete a course of study. In the discussion, board Secretary Betty Deitch made it clear that the important test in this case was that the member plans to return to Greenbelt Homes when studies are completed in Baltimore.

After discussing it at the last regular session, the board made it official at this meeting. Charles F. Schwan, Jr., will be the name of the memorial scholarship award in the contest sponsored by the National Cooperative Bank. The amount of the award is $1,350, the cost of one year's tuition at the University of Maryland. While it was at it, the board voted to make the award an annual event.

The winner of this year's award will be announced by the staff at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. According to board member Donald Comis, who is acting as liaison with the high school, the award ceremony will be in May.

State Bills

GHI General Manager Ronald Colton placed before the board two items of State legislation that could be of concern—the Intercountry Connector and a

Absentee Ballot

Tuesday, Feb. 25, is the deadline for receipt of non-emergency absentee ballot applications by local election boards for the Presidential Primary Election.

Registered voters qualify for absentee voting if they will be out of their county on election day; are disabled; are 65 years of age or older and their polling place is inaccessible; are full time college students residing on campus; or are confined to an institution.

Qualified persons may phone, write or go to their local election board to request an application. Phone 952-3270, TTY 627-3352.

Democratic Hopefuls To Debate at U.M.

The five leading presidential contenders in the Democratic Party will be in debate at the University of Maryland Tawes Theater. The debate is being hosted by the Public Affairs School as an "educational event." It will be televised on Maryland Public Television.

Robert Beckel, host of public television's "Off the Record" show on Sunday mornings, is expected to moderate the debate. Candidates expected to attend are former Massachusetts Senator Paul Tsongas, Arkansas Governor Bill Clinton, Nebraska Senator Bob Kerrey, Iowa Senator Tom Harkin and former California Governor Jerry Brown.

Scheduled for Sunday, March 1 at 5:30 p.m., the debate will be held only two days before the Maryland primary election. Tickets may be purchased at the Democratic Party state headquarters.

daylight bill specifically for co-ops.

Construction of the Inter County Connector, proposed in State bill PG-401, has been opposed in testimony by GHI and the City of Greenbelt, according to Colton. Williams instructed Colton to contact State Senator Leo Green to affirm GHI's opposition to the construction of the Inter County Connector.

The proposed daylight bill to make records of all Maryland cooperatives open to the public prompted the board to ask the General Manager to suggest to Senator Green that the bill be tabled and submitted to committee for study.

Housekeeping

The board set aside the evening of March 19 for a special session to hear testimony from local real estate firms and others concerning GHI subleasing and other related matters.

GHI has hired an assistant for Colton. The new employee, Jill Hudson, is a recent MBA graduate from Frostburg State University.

Thursday, Feb. 13, was a snow day, but surprisingly the contractor working on the landfill restoration behind the GHI headquarters was hard at work grading the site and constructing the stormwater interceptor required by Prince Georges County.

Council Handles Speedbumps, Hill, Roofs, Cracked Floor

by Diane Oberg

At its February 10 regular meeting, the Greenbelt City Council addressed traffic problems on Northway, issues raised at the October Senior Citizens Open Forum and changes to the city's capital improvements plans.

Speed Bumps

Mark Davis, president of the Woodland Hills Community Association, presented the Association's petition calling for installation of speed bumps on Northway between Crescent and Hillside Roads. On several occasions in the past the association has brought the speeding problem to the attention of council and has now decided to request this specific solution. In accordance with its standing rules, council referred the petition to staff for comment. It will be considered for action at the Feb. 24 regular meeting.

Davis summarized the results of a speed survey conducted last October by the Greenbelt Police. The study found most drivers going close to the speed limit. However, Davis pointed out that during part of the survey week fog was dense enough "to prevent anyone but a total idiot from driving over the speed limit. Even during this period, however, 11 percent of the vehicles were clocked at over 30 miles per hour."

Davis also reminded council that the officer conducting the survey described that stretch of Northway as "probably one of the more dangerous roadways in the city," featuring curving and hilly terrain, on-street parking, no sidewalks and frequent pedestrian and bicycle traffic.

Senior Citizen Concerns

Council received a draft response to the issues raised at the Senior Citizens Advisory Committee's open forum on October 5. Betty Timer presented these issues to council at its January 13 regular meeting. The committee addressed several of the concerns, noting that space for seniors has been included in plans for the new community center, that a "Food and Friendship" program operated at Green Ridge House is open to all seniors, and that a speakers program for seniors is now being developed. The committee noted that planning is underway for a competitive sports program for seniors and for an outreach program for homebound seniors.

The committee also asked the city to address some lighting and walkway problems and to flatten the rise of the hill between Roosevelt Center and Green Ridge House. The staff has prepared information on the cost of improving the lighting around the Mobil station in Roosevelt Center and drafted letters to Greenbelt Homes, Inc. for some items on GHI property.

The most difficult issue is the request to flatten the rise in the hill between the center and Green Ridge House. In previous attempts to address this issue, the city installed a hand railing and additional benches to give seniors a place to rest partway up the hill. However, several councilmembers recalled that previously proposed engineering solutions to the problem became, in Mayor Gill Weidenfeld's terms, "tremendously difficult and costly."

Councilmember Edward Putens jokingly suggested installing a ski lift, but more seriously proposed that citizens, staff and engineers hold a "Senior Citizens Charette" to develop solutions.

Betty Timer noted that while seniors could avoid the hill by taking Southway to Ridge this greatly increases the length of the trip. Councilmember Rodney Roberts suggested an alternate path on the inner walkway and the use of the Greenbelt Connection. Timer felt that such an option violated the seniors' need to be independent.

The discussion ended with no action taken on the problems of the hill but with council approving the referral of two issues to GHI.

Capital Improvements

Council approved changing the city's capital improvements plans in recognition of lower than expected funds. The changes include: evaluation of using existing space in the Youth Center for a women's locker/shower room, instead of building an addition; deferring reconstruction of the Braden Field tennis courts until the cause of the cracks can be determined; deferring replacement of the gym floor in the Springhill Lake Recreation Center; proceeding with construction of the Public Works storage shed and salt storage structure; upgrading the current Public Works facility using funds currently designated for planning for a new building, and deferring the resurfacing of the roofs of the Youth Center and the Public Works garage.

The only controversy involved the indefinite delay in replacing the floor of the Springhill Lake Recreation Center gym. This project was originally proposed because the present flooring is harder on knee joints than hardwood floors. Councilmember Antoinette M. Bram requested a separate vote on delaying this project, which she argued was needed by seniors and youths in Springhill Lake. She lost 3-2 in the council vote, supported by Roberts, who called for equity in the treatment of Center and Springhill Lake youths.

FLASH . . . BANG

The final countdown for North End School has begun. According to school officials, the building will come down next week.

Charles F. Schwan, Jr. will be the name of the memorial scholarship award in the contest sponsored by the National Cooperative Bank.

Special Session

In the business part of the special session, which lasted less than four minutes, the board expedited the process of refinancing loans it owes to the National Cooperative Bank totalling about $8.7 million by approving for a second reading two contracts—an environmental review and an engineering study. The review and study are required by the National Cooperative Bank before it will refinance GHI's loans. GHI is seeking to trade two variable rate loans for a fixed rate loan at a slightly lower rate of interest.

The environmental review, at a cost not to exceed $3,500, will be performed by Carnow, Conibear and Associates. Wiencek and Zavos will conduct the engineering study at a cost not to exceed $6,000.

N&E Report

The N&E Committee submitted a 14-page report to the board, dated January 1992, suggesting ways to encourage candidates to seek GHI elected office and to encourage more members to vote at the annual meeting in May. The committee consists of Susan Walker, Chair, and Ken Barnes, Marsha Barrett, Diana Liebsher and Bob Mongelli. The report was three years in the making.

No action was taken by board members at this meeting regarding any of the suggestions in the N&E report. President of the board, Wayne Williams, praised the N&E Committee for its new approaches to encourage member participation, which included banners over Crescent Road and the thought-provoking questions for board candidates on the Candidate Consent Form.

The suggestion for a mail-in Roberta Kreisberg

Roberta V. Kreisberg, 36, of Canning Terrace, died February 14 at the Hospice of Washington. She had a brain tumor.

A University of Maryland graduate, she came to this area in 1976 when she was a student at the university. She was born in Towanda, Pa. Mrs. Kreisberg joined the staff of the Hospital for Sick Children in 1978 and was chief of the recreational therapy department there at the time of her death.

She was a member of the National Therapeutic Recreation Society and the Association for the Care of Children's Health.

Survivors include her husband of 11 years, David K. Kreisberg and son Andrew, of the home address; mother and stepfather Aima Vite Clarke, and Hugh Clarke, Modena, N.Y. and four brothers.

A memorial service was held at First United Methodist Church.

Expressions of sympathy may be sent to the Hospice of Washington, D.C. 3720 Upton St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20016.

Letters to the Editor

"Board Erred"

To the Editor:

Marguerite Wolfe's letter (February 14 News Review) expressed the frustrations of thousands of parents and school system employees who were confronted by the abrupt switch in the school furlough schedule.

I share her frustration and anger. The board and its attorney clearly erred when we failed to anticipate the potential $2 million unemployment claim the school system faced if we went ahead with the original furlough schedule. Rescheduling the furlough with only two weeks notice was grossly unfair to the parents and employees who had made other arrangements for themselves and their families.

Despite the threat of a giant unemployment claim, I personally voted to keep the furlough as scheduled. I saw it as the only fair alternative at the time. However, the board majority believed all of the $6 million savings from the furlough had to be retained. The system could not afford the unemployment claim. That meant the unpaid days could not be scheduled consecutively.

The real problem is we simply don't have the money to adequately fund our schools. The state legislature and the county council allocate the monies we get. It is up to us to do the best we can with those funds. I regret the inconvenience this oversight caused. It will now be up to the board and the school system to restore the confidence of our citizens and our employees. With your patience and your understanding, we will begin doing that.

Suzanne M. Plogman
Board Chairman

Correction

Doug Love of the Greenbelt Greens refuses to cover up his mistake in scheduling the Indian Creek watershed tour for last Saturday. He told us, "It might be politically expedient to cover it up, and claim that we really meant to announce our trip for this coming Saturday, Feb. 22. But the environment is in too much danger for us to play politics with it. We might as well just admit a mistake and continue from here."

Marsha Barrett, stream coordinator for the Anacostia River Project of the Potomac Basin Interstate Commission scheduled the tour for this coming Saturday afternoon, but Love heard the date as the "15th," and put it in the paper last week. When the discrepancy was discovered, Marsha took Doug and a stack of Anacostia literature to Joe's Deli, the starting point, for those showing up in the pouring rain.

Keep on Going

The olive-drab ones—they just keep going, and going and going. . . .

In reference to the previous letters about the olive-drab aerial visitors over Greenbelt, I wish I had a dollar for every one that has flown over our residential area since the beginning of Operation Desert Waste (oops! I mean Storm). Why, I'd have a few extra hundred bucks in my pocket.

Are we planning another dirty morale-boasting, chest-pounding, headlines-grabbing, pre-election military adventurism in Cuba, or maybe Iraq again? I mean, look, we know our equipment works.

When are we going to seriously declare war on our problems right here at home: unemployment and meaningful non-military jobs; housing and homelessness; declining education standards; wetlands, woodlands and ozone destruction; crumbling infrastructure; affordable health care; the list goes on, and on, and. . . .

Bob Snyder

Proud & Pleased

I would like to reply to the letters complaining about helicopters flying over our homes.

These same helicopters that are being discussed and the people who fly them are obviously military. As such, they are also the same or represent the same men and women who without questions risk their lives to ensure our freedom. They also realize that this freedom includes the freedom to disagree with the military and the men and women in it.

When they fly over my home, I not only feel a thrill and pride in my country's military, but a thankfulness that they are there to protect the many freedoms that make my life enjoyable, safe and free. I would like them to have my support and anything else I can do to make their jobs easier.

I personally am proud and pleased to have a U.S. military helicopter flying over my home.

Spotlight On the Arts

by Sandy Smith

Kate Brett and Kevin Enoch, musicians who have studied and played authentic string music in West Virginia and North Carolina, will perform at the "Evening with Friends," the second annual variety show sponsored by the Greenbelt Arts Center. The program will be held Saturday, Feb. 22 at 7:30 p.m. at the Springhill Lake Fountain Lodge. The show features a variety of performers, with a broad spectrum of musical styles and specialties, rounded out with comedy, storytelling, and a fashion surprise.

Brett and Enoch, newcomers to Greenbelt, are not newcomers to an old form of American music — string music — which preceded bluegrass. Enoch moved to Greenbelt last year from Asheville, North Carolina, where he attended woodworking school to further his skill in making instruments. He was also involved in the area's music scene, playing regularly in weekly square dances.

Brett came to Greenbelt in July from Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Prior to that she lived in West Virginia, where she had moved to play more music, both with young and old players. She studied with Melvin Wine, a 70-year-old fiddler from Copen, West Virginia, who was a 1991 recipient of a National Heritage Arts Award. She has toured throughout the Southeast and Midwest, playing for square dances the past two years. She has won several national contests for old-time banjo. Both Brett and Enoch play regularly at the Mandarins in Silver Spring for clogging on Thursday nights.

For Saturday night's show they will play tunes indigenous to West Virginia, North Carolina and other parts of the Southeast. The music is not written down and so is learned from listening to and playing with others. Most of the music originally had words but over time most of the words have been lost. They will perform instrumentally only. Brett will play banjo and guitar and Enoch will be playing fiddle and guitar. They hope to generate some interest in starting up a local square dance group in Greenbelt.

Helen Oring, a member of the Prince Georges Seasoned Players, will sing several traditional favorites. Other members of that troupe will also perform. Aston "Paddy" Bailey plans on singing several Western favorites and, bringing us back East, Phil Brandis will perform a George M. Cohan medley. Bailey, a native of Jamaica, has lived in Greenbelt for the past four years. He is a volunteer with RSVP and is busy now assisting seniors in preparing their tax returns. Prior to retiring he traveled frequently for his work with the international credit union movement. Brandis came to Greenbelt about two years ago, just moving around the Beltway from the Temple Hills area. Originally a native of New York, he performed in last year's show. All will be accompanied by Lucille Lushine and are a part of a group of Greenbelters who will be performing an original Greenbelt song.

Mike Burchick wrote the lyrics for a Greenbelt theme song and formed a group of performers to present it for the first time on the stage at last year's Labor Day Festival. In addition to Helen, Phil and Paddy, other members of the group are "Toni" Fusco, Irene Pavlish, Louise Swiderski, Raymond and Rose Haber, and Bernie Kozick. Talented singer and music teacher Jean Cook coached the group.

Rounding out the variety show performers are stand-up comedienne Lori Moran, well-known storyteller Bill Mayhew, Doug Love on the zither, and Jane Love, who performs as the "urban lady." Konrad Herling will play several classical and popular selections on the piano. Herling, the producer of the show, feels that he has achieved the goal of developing a forum to showcase the varied talents of Greenbelters for the enjoyment of their friends and neighbors.

For information on the show or transportation, tickets or reservations, call the Arts Center on 441-8770. Tickets are available at the door or in advance at the Co-op or at Springhill Lake Fountain Lodge.

Greens Invite Citizens to Tour Water Shed, Again

The Greenbelt Greens again invite their neighbors to join them for a tour of the Indian Creek watershed this Saturday, February 22, starting from Joe's Deli in Roosevelt Center at 2:30 p.m. Several cars will be available to drive to the various sites where important features of the watershed will be explained. Rain date will be Sat., Feb. 29.

The hosts are Michael Judge and Marsha Barrett, stream coordinators of the Anacostia Watershed Project of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin. They hope to share knowledge with local residents who want to become actively involved in returning the tributaries of Indian Creek to clean, pollution-free watercourses.

One of the benefits of taking responsibility for the cleanup of a stream is the privilege of naming it, if it does not already have a name. The Greenbelt Greens are looking for long-time and former residents who know if any of the streams have ever been named. Perhaps there is a Hamilton Branch. If not, names can be proposed by the conservators of the streams.

Meanwhile, the Greens are planning to adopt a stream after watching a video by the Anacostia River Project at the March meeting. For details call Doug Love at 474-8663.

Kevin Wilkinson Is Top Greenbelter in Race

In the 28th running of the D.C. Road Runners 10-mile race there were 89 runners on the certified course through Greenbelt and the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center on December 28, a beautiful day for running.

One of the area's top distance runners, lawyer Jim Hage from nearby Lanham won in 56:58 over Jody Weatherwax, 34, of Woodbridge, Va. who finished only 24 seconds back in 57:22. Ron Moore, 40, Burke, Va. was the first master in 60 minutes flat. Klaus Hirtes, 51, Arlington, Va. was first in the 50 age group in 1:11:12. Larry Dickerson, 60, Burke, Va. ran 1:15:47 and Jim Latz, 71, Ventnor, N.J. did 1:33:52. Donna Moore, 31, Kensington, Md. was 15th overall and won the women's division in 1:04:38 over Anne Nash, 23, Gettysburg, Pa. in 1:07:27.

Kevin Wilkinson, 36, led at least 3 other Greenbelters in 22nd place in 1:10:51. The others were: Jim Keat, 59, 40th in 1:18:50; Dave Chitwood, 41, in 48th place in 1:21:15 and Mark McElreath, 47, in 50th in 1:21:23.

In the 20-mile field of 51 runners celebrating the 28th running of this event, Ben Beach, 42, of Bethesda, who has won here in 1987 and 1989, repeated this year in 1:59:14. Ted Baca, 46, Arlington, was second in 2:05:16. Laura DeWald, 34, Springfield, returned to the scene of her great triumph when she ran the fastset 20-mile by a U.S. woman in 2:00:39 in 1982 and won today in 2:09:35 in a controlled injury race over Kathleen Latz, Ventnor, N.J. second in 2:30:27. DeWald also led all the women 10 milers to the 10-mile turnaround point. DeWald was in the Houston Marathon January 26 but did not qualify for the U.S. Women's Olympic Team.

Gerry Ives, 52, Cabin John, Md. was first in 50 age group and was 17th in 2:29:15, and Walt Washburn, 69, Vienna, Va. was 28th in 2:41:38. Anne McHenry, 41, in 2:39:47 was the first master with Judy Flannery, 52, Chevy Chase in 2:40:30. Paul Robertson, 53, Gaithersburg, veteran ultra distance racewalker, finished the 20-mile in 4:24:20.

Four racewalkers competed in the 10-mile with nationally ranked Bob Briggs, 34, Alexandria, Va. and Richard Quinn, 28, having the same time of 1:20:33.

Since the 20-mile relay was canceled last year it looked like a good opportunity to hold it today. Six teams made up of two people ran with two brothers, Tom, 22, and Leo, 24, Cafery of Silver Spring, winning easily in 1:55:45. Second was the team of Bill Wooden, 47, Silver Spring, and Bernie Greene, 47, Silver Spring in 2:08:16.

Some local volunteers, the Police, the REACT volunteer mobile radio unit (with Greenbelter Myrna Burchick) and the Recreation Department combined to make these races safe.

P.G. T.A.G. Sponsors Program on Testing

The Prince Georges County Association for Talented and Gifted Students (PG TAG) will sponsor a seminar, "Maryland School Performance Plan (MS-PP): Testing and Policies" featuring Karen Ganjon, administrator/liason with the Maryland School Performance Office at the Maryland State Department of Education; Nancy Bishop, director of staff development, Prince Georges County Schools; and Dennis Younger, executive director of curriculum, Anne Arundel County School System. Ganjon will provide an over-

House Delegation Cancels Hearing

The public hearing announced last week that was to be held at the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission Auditorium on Tuesday, February 25 has been canceled, as the four bills to be considered will not be introduced in the House of Delegates during the present session. These bills would have made changes to campaign contributions to County Council members, levied police costs in criminal and traffic cases, reduced jurors' per diem expense money, and required certain Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission employees to reside in a county served by the Commission.

One bill out of the four, entitled "Prince Georges County Ethical and Elections Standards" will be introduced by the Prince Georges County Senate Delegation. It will prohibit applicants in zoning cases from contributing to County Council or County Executive election campaigns, prohibit council members from voting on a zoning case if they have received a contribution from the applicant within three years, require zoning applicants to disclose their contributions and solicitations for the past three years, and require zoning applicants and elected County Council officials to disclose any private communications with each other within five working days. Filings must be made with the Clerk of the County Council, but implementation and supervision is under control of the State Ethics Commission.

Some contributions, however, are exempt from this law. These include contributions and transfers to slates of candidates, transfers between committees of different candidates, or to a political party central committee.

view of the program and a description of the review process, and Bishop and Younger will speak on how the MSPP is being implemented in their respective counties. The program will be held at Kenmoor Middle School, 2500 Kenmoor Drive, Landover on Thursday, Feb. 27 at 7:30.

News Review Board Seeks To Recruit New Members

by James Giese

Increased staff and modernization were the principal subjects of discussion in a broad spectrum of issues raised at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Greenbelt Cooperative Publishing Association, Inc., publishers of the News Review, held during a five hour session on February 9 at the home of President Emeritus and News Editor, Elaine Skolnik.

In addition to the five board members attending, Editor Mary Lou Williamson and Business Manager Mary Halford participated. The board members are Diane Oberg, president; Pat Scully vice-president and secretary; Virginia Beauchamp, treasurer; Assistant Editor Barbara Likowski and Jim Giese.

Finances

Halford reported that for the first nine months of the paper's fiscal year which began April 1, 1991, there was an operating loss of $115.

The News Review is a hand-to-mouth operation. Each Tuesday night the amount of paid advertising is totalled and this determines the size of the paper.

The participants then proceeded to tackle a 28-item agenda prepared by President Oberg.

More Volunteers Needed

A number of the items dealt with ways and means to increase the number of persons who work on the paper. To publish each weekly paper, the News Review relies on a large number of volunteers. There are not only writers and editors, but proof readers, make-up specialists, advertising clerks and solicitors, persons to work the business office, and circulation and delivery personnel. The more volunteers the paper has the less demand is made on any one staff person's job.

To publish each weekly paper, the News Review relies on a large number of volunteers.

Proposals to run advertisements and articles seeking volunteers were discussed, as well as other ideas such as annual awards, photography awards, open houses or volunteer informational meetings, and recruiting from special groups who might be interested. Because the News Review is not only the paper for this community but produced by this community, it was felt that greater citizen involvement should be encouraged. The reporting staff is barely enough to cover essential meetings in the city. Residents could greatly assist by writing up or at least submitting written information on other events which occur in the community in which they participate.

Modernization

When the paper purchased a used copy machine recently, President Oberg proudly announced that the News Review had moved into the 1960's. At this meeting, there was discussion of how to further modernize the paper's operation.

In other business, the Board established a committee to rewrite the bylaws, a task last done in 1949. The bylaws are out-of-date. It also dealt with some bill collection problems, staff needs, plans to do more interviews of Greenbelt citizens and revisions made and to be made to the paper format. Best of all, the participants dealt with a delicious lunch prepared by Elaine and Vic Nicholson.

Editor's Note: Anyone interested in more information about working on the NewsReview should leave a message on 474-4131 or 441-2662. A staff member will return the call, although it may take a few days.

County Programs Cancelled Feb. 24-25

Employees of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission's Department of Parks and Recreation in Prince Georges County will be furloughed on February 24 and 25. As a result, all County Parks and Recreation offices, community centers, after-school child care, ice rinks, swimming pools, golf courses, historic sites, arts centers and other facilities will be closed with the exception of the College Park Airport. M-NC-PPC classes will also be cancelled, but students may be offered make-up dates later in the session.

Job Hunter's Group

A new job hunter's group to help people in need of career counseling services will begin in College Park in March. College Park United Methodist Church is hosting the group. All are welcome to attend. The group, called the Job Hunter's Weekly Meeting, is designed to examine transfer of skills to new occupations and to focus on job hunt strategies, including resume-writing and interviewing skills.

The group will run for seven-week sessions. The first session is Tuesday, March 10 through Tuesday, April 21 from 7:30-9:15 p.m. Meetings will be led by a career counselor. Preregistration is necessary. For more information, call College Park United Methodist Church at (301) 345-1010 between 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Police Blotter

As a man was getting out of his car in the parking lot of Beltway Plaza around 7 p.m. on Feb. 7, two men approached him and asked for a light. Then one of them produced a black revolver-type handgun and ordered the man to get into his car; the man with the gun got in. too. He demanded and received money from the victim, and then he left with his companion. The robbers are described as (1) black, 18-25 years old, 6'1", with a scraggly beard, wearing a green nylon jacket, blue jeans, and a red baseball cap; (2) black, 18-25 years old, 5'9", wearing a full-length Raiders jacket, and a blue baseball cap.

While on routine patrol in the 7900 block of Mandan Rd. on Feb. 8, an officer noticed a suspicious vehicle driving in the parking lot and stopped it in order to investigate. The officer found tools commonly used to steal vehicles and consequently arrested both occupants, charging them with rogue and vagabond. Both non-residents, the men aged 18 and 19, appeared before a District Court Commissioner and were released pending trial.

Breaking & Entering

A breaking and entering was reported in 16 Court Ridge Road on January 23. Stereo equipment was stolen.

On Feb. 10 a resident reported a breaking and entering of his home in the 5800 block of Cherrywood Terr. Cash was stolen.

On Feb. 7 a breaking and entering was reported at the construction trailer in the 5700 block of Cherrywood Lane. On Feb. 9 a breaking and entering was reported at the Beauty Center (6200 block of Greenbelt Rd.); cash was stolen.

Vehicles

On Feb. 8 a burgundy four-door 1991 Honda Civic, MD tags YBD 635, was reported stolen from the 6400 block of Morrison Dr. On Feb. 12 a red two-door 1985 Toyota Celica, MD tags VPI207, was reported stolen from the 8400 block of Canning Terr.

A 24-foot motor home, a 1989 Jamee Skyliner bearing Florida registration HBX86C, was reported stolen from the 6000 block of Greenbelt Road.

Vandalisms to, thefts from and attempted thefts of autos were reported in the following areas: Beltway Plaza, the 9000 block of Breezewood Terr., the 9100, 9200, and 9300 blocks of Edmonston Rd., the Greenbelt Public Library, the 6900 block of Hanover Pkwy., and the 7500 block of Mandan Rd.

The View from Ridge Road

Christina O'Boyle

The Children's Story

Most of us stay in our ends of town, rarely crossing Greenbelt Road to investigate the new developments behind Hanover Parkway. Likewise, some of us in GHI stay on our respective ends of Ridge Road and so have completely forgotten about - perhaps don't even know about - North End School. You'll have to discover it soon; it's about to come down.

The school has never been a pretty sight, but it is familiar and holds memories. And thanks to the January snowfall, maybe some children will have memories about this place like their parents do. You see, it's got a great sledding hill in the back towards the woods. And that day we came out in numbers to celebrate the snow, and say goodbye.

I heard sledders began arriving about eight o'clock that morning. By the time my son and I got there the hill had been packed down by a variety of sleds, toboggans and disks. As we approached the new chain-link fence surrounding what will soon be a construction site, kids and adults leaving warned us of the speed and treachery awaiting us. Eager for adventure, Michael and I ran through the open gate, past bulldozers and piles of branches, trunks and tree roots to the top of the hill. It was Michael's first real sledding experience so we screamed and laughed all the way to the bottom - and THE DITCH. We knocked heads and bit tongues and got our initiation into the "Fraternity of Survivors of the North End School Sledder's Hill."

Between runs, adults and kids exchanged names and shared ditch tactics. We commented on our good fortune that it had snowed and that the fence was open.

The morning had the air of a children's story. The kind of story that describes a day when you're young and it snows and you go to the old school hill to sled for the last time. When you're older and keenly aware of changes, of how life passes quickly, of how impossible it is that you are no longer a kid on her sled but a mom with her kid on a sled, then such a day as we had is a special story. The kind you want to capture forever.

"Make a Difference" At Patuxent Center

February 29 is "Make a Difference Day" at the Patuxent Wildlife Research Center, which is inviting citizens to spend part of the day cleaning up litter on the land it recently acquired from Fort Meade. Anyone (individual or group) who would like to participate should call 301-674-3304 for information on when and where to arrive. Participants should bring their own work gloves and boots; garbage bags will be provided. They will also have to sign a safety notice acknowledging the possible presence of unexploded munitions on the property.

If this cleanup day is successful, the Center is considering setting up an "Adopt a Section" system, where volunteers would clean assigned areas every three weeks.

Girl Scouts Planning Bowl-A-Thon Drive

Greenbelt Girl Scouts are planning a Bowl-a-Thon to take place Sunday, February 23 at College Park Fair Lanes.

The Bowl-a-Thon has been planned to help individual girls from Junior Troop 1161 and Cadette Troop 3030 raise money for an upcoming trip to Savannah, Georgia, birthplace of Girl Scouting. Girls are now looking for sponsors who agree to pay the girl a certain money amount for each pin knocked down.

For further information or to make a pledge, call Karen Yoho at (301) 982-9626.

Our Neighbors

by Linda Savaryn, 474-5285

Our sympathy to Lorene Hanna and family on the death of her mother, Bernice Nelson. Mrs.
Nelson was a pioneer Greenbelt-er who was a nurse in Greenbelt's hospital.

Sympathy is extended to David Kreisberg and son Andrew on the death of his wife and Andrew's mother, Roberta Kreisberg.

Condolences to Wilma Vazquez, music teacher at Center School whose mother died last week.

Our sympathy to Marcia Marino, 6th grade teacher at Center School whose mother died last week.

Rumonda Tyre Smith is one of 11 students named to the President's list during the fall semester at Chowan College. Rumonda is an ERHS graduate.

Matthew Stauffer has recently been named to the dean's list at Maine Maritime Academy. Matthew is a sophomore at the ocean college, majoring in marine transportation.

Jenne and Gary Hibbs are happy to announce the arrival of their firstborn, Anneliese Grace.
Their daughter arrived on Jan.
28, weighing 6 lb. 2 oz.

The delighted grandparents are Sue and John Bauhofer from Goldsboro, N.C. and Shirley and Ray Hibbs of Greenbelt.

Wind Ensemble Will Perform on Campus

The University of Maryland Department of Music presents the Symphonic Wind Ensemble, under the direction of John Wakefield, in free concert on Tuesday, February 25 at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Chapel on campus. Works to be performed include Copland, Dvorak, Beethoven, and Weber. These are also some of the works to be included in a recording that the Symphonic Wind Ensemble will be doing for Toshiba-EMI, Ltd. in May.

For any additional information please call the band office at (301) 405-5542.

Legion Cancer Drive Raises $650 at Mall

Top fund raiser and, therefore, winner of the "Ms. Cherry Pie" title at Beltway Plaza Mall on February 17, was Marie Johnson of North Beach. The eight-year-old is a Junior member of Greenbelt Unit 136, American Legion Auxiliary, which sponsored the activity to raise funds for the American Cancer Society.
First runner-up in a close race was Beth Manual of Greenbelt with third place awarded to Denise D'Anna of Silver Spring, who also entertained shoppers with her baton performances.

Contributing their talents during several variety shows held throughout the day were Jenifer Klem of College Park, Stacy Smith of Westminster, the reigning Teen Young Miss of America-Maryland, and several young performers from the Emerald U.S.A. Showcase directed by Barbara Edick-Smith of Reisterstown. In addition to the baton performances, mall shoppers were treated to a variety of local performances along with jazz, tap and polka dance performances. The energetic efforts of the contestants and performers netted approximately $650.

Playhouse Presents
"Columbus" Feb. 22

Saturday's Finest Family Matinees Series presents Columbus, a fast-paced musical salute to the explorer at The Publick Playhouse on Saturday, February 22 at 11 a.m.

Theatreworks Productions, which originated in 1961, portrays Columbus the explorer to provide today's young people with a positive role model. This fast-paced new musical celebbrates the spirit of exploration in Columbus's efforts to push beyond old boundaries in the face of great skepticism and social resistance.

On Friday, February 28 and Saturday, February 29 at 8 p.m., and again on Sunday, March 1 at 3 p.m., Sisters' Circle will present "Time to Move On." This is a dramatic story of the African-American's aspirations to climb higher to the abundant life promised by God.

For further information or to purchase tickets, call the Playhouse Box Office at 277-1710 (V/TDD). The Playhouse, which is located at 5445 Landover Road in Cheverly, is wheelchair accessible and equipped with an infrared listening system.
