Citizens and Council Approaching Consensus on Lake Park Plan

by Betsy Likowski

A general atmosphere of heading towards agreement pervaded the final public hearing on the production of the master plan for the "Buddy" Attick Lake Park. It was held on Monday, April 6. City consultant Cleve Stover of Greenhorne & O'Mara (G&O) explained the park plan G&O had produced. The concerns most often voiced were that the master plan, which will be a guideline of what can be done in the park, include goals and clearly defined limits on such things as benches. Council told the city staff to prepare one document embracing these concerns and bring it to council in about 30 days.

This plan is "just reorienting what is out there in a more logical fashion," said Stover. In the plan major portions of the park would remain as they are, such as the wooded area between Crescent Road and the lake path, the open and wooded areas west of the lake, the wooded area south of the lake, and the lake path.

Stover quickly ran through the changes the master plan suggested. The concession stand should be combined with restrooms and renovated to have a more rustic appearance. The amphitheater should be moved east to the edge of the woods so the view to the lake could be more apparent. The backdrop "shell" should be portable so that it is only in place when needed.

Relocating the recycling center to behind the public works building is suggested so that the two would help buffer the park from the Beltway. A planting of evergreen trees between the park and building would be a further buffer.

It is suggested that the playground remain in its present spot. No new picnic tables should be added, and existing ones should be placed around the edges of the open area near the entrance of the lake park and be consolidated into set areas. It is suggested that there be two paths in the form of two large loops in this area to allow people to use them to walk from the parking area to the lake shore.

More parking places are suggested, as are evergreen trees between the parking lot and Crescent Road to provide screening. A formal entrance with a kiosk for information would also be near the parking lot.

Shade and ornamental trees could be planted on the peninsula and boulders placed at the water's edge to make that area "fun to use," Stover said. Boulders could also be placed in the well-used spots along the south shore.

Numerous suggestions were made in the master plan for dealing with spots that need maintenance, such as eroded areas, and suggestions for plantings and park maintenance.

Goals for the Park

Werner Neupert, of Lakeside Drive, thought a master plan was very close. But he wanted some things added to the plan: clearly spelled out guidelines, clearly spelled out who has responsibility for review, and a goal for the park. He said he thought the goal enunciated by the Lakeside Citizens Association in their plan for the park said it best: a park for rest and relaxation. So he urged council to adopt report 91-6 by the council's Parks and Recreation Advisory board (PRAB) as part of the master plan for the goals it sets forth.

Willard Larkin, of Pinecrest Court, agreed that the PRAB report should be added. He emphasized that there should be one single document for the master plan.

Councilmembers spent the meeting listening to what the consultant and citizens had to say. Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and Mayor Pro Tem Thomas White agreed with Larkin's idea, so city staff was directed to work on the two documents to combine them as one.

As policy recommendations PRAB suggested: the current level of development in the park never be exceeded; the level of use of the park never reach a level which hurts the park; there be a detailed maintenance policy, the plan and policies of the lake park be part of a city wide park plan, the natural environment of the park should be improved and preserved; and development and activities on adjacent land be controlled to prevent impact on the park.

Citizen Input

Several citizens wondered why there could not be a number limit set on various things, such as benches, rather than the general guidelines. And several pointed out problems in the park such as dogs running loose, cyclists riding too fast, and fights. In a detailed statement, Hugh Jascourt, of Maplewood Court, talked of the need to clean out the silt basins; pollution and sedimentation from outside the park affecting the park; and the removal of ice and snow from the path and the steps leading down to the path. He called the vista of the lake and the lake path the number one and two priorities.

Julie Greer, of White Birch Court, was concerned that the needs of the handicapped be addressed since she has seen some handicapped people having difficulty with the gravel path.

Lola Skolnik, chair of PRAB, said priorities were needed for the park. She noted some of the items PRAB discussed were not in the master plan, such as relocation of the basketball court, and an incomplete path between the amphitheater and the concession stand.

Recycling committee member Deborah Henson expressed concern about the plan to move the recycling center. Another committee member, Don Comis, thought the center should be as visible as possible; easily accessible; no smaller than it currently is; and recycling should be integrated into the trash gathering system of the park and that it was wasteful to move the center.

At the end of the meeting council members commented briefly. We are "moving in the right direction," said Weidenfeld. Council member Antoinette Bram told city staff to listen to what people had to say. "We want to enhance the views and vision of the park," she said.

City to Seek Drug Grant

by Diane Oberg

At its March 30 regular meeting, the Greenbelt City Council gave the police department permission to apply for a $97,575 state drug enforcement grant to fund a two person drug enforcement unit. If approved, the city would have to contribute one-quarter of the total program cost of $130,000 with $32,525 in new funds, over and above those previously approved for the police budget. Under the terms of the grant, the officers must be used exclusively for drug enforcement.

Craze cautioned council that the chances of the grant being approved are "not good" and that even if granted, there is no guarantee that it would be renewed in future years, leaving the city the choice of disbanding the unit or funding it completely.

Legislation

Council introduced several ordinances for first reading, with final action to be taken at the April 20 regular meeting. If approved the ordinances would insure city officials and staff against lawsuits for actions taken in carrying out their official duties, increase city parking fees, allow booting of chronic scofflaws and increase the fees for road and residential driveway permits.

In a related action, council approved a staff summary of charges to be increased administratively. These include increased fees for traffic and crime reports and a new fee for staff review of development proposals.

Council also introduced a resolution amending the city's memorial guidelines to establish a hall of fame and memorial

New Census Data Reveal Typical Greenbelt Profiles

by James Giese

Are you a typical Greenbelter? Based upon demographic data provided by Celia Wilson, Greenbelt Director of Planning and Urban Development, which was obtained from the results of the 1990 federal census and other sources, the following profile of a typical Greenbelter has been drawn. For this purpose, average and majority data are used to define typical. In fact, few people are average—they are either above it or below it—so the typical Greenbelter really isn't typical at all.

The typical Greenbelter in 1990 was a white female who was a few months under 30 years old. She was single (or at least not living with her spouse), but had been married at one time and lived with one or two other members of her family, most probably another adult, and a child. She lived in a 5-room rental apartment in Greenbelt center, and paid $685 a month. The apartment was between 20 and 30 years old. The annual income for her household was $41,121.

Some Variations to Typical

Although there were more females living in Greenbelt, there were almost as many males (48.2% of the population). Most persons over 15 were either married or previously married, but almost as many (43%) had never married. Those persons who were currently married in 1990 comprised 39% of the population over 15.

While almost two-thirds of the residents lived in family households (65.1%), slightly more than half of the city's 8,910 occupied housing units were occupied by nonfamily households. Nearly half of the occupied housing units (46.5%) were owner occupied. The median value of these units was $96,811. Interestingly, the average household size of owner occupied units was somewhat less than it was for rental units (2.14 vs. 2.31), even though there were on the average 1.5 more rooms in owner occupied homes.

Differences Between Areas

Although census data by blocks is not available, Wilson was able to break down some of the census data by the three basic areas of the city—Greenbelt East (i.e., that area of the city east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway), Greenbelt West or Springhill Lake (that area west of Kenilworth Ave.), and Greenbelt Center (between Kenilworth and the Parkway). The typical Greenbelters for these areas are somewhat different than for the city as a whole.

Greenbelt East

In 1990, the typical Greenbelt East resident was a little more apt to be a female than in the city as a whole and was 1.4 years older in age. A resident of Greenbelt East was a member of a family and lived in an owner occupied home instead of renting. The typical East resident

Delays on Parkway

Every Friday until further notice traffic on the northbound lanes of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, between Riverdale Road and Interstate 95, will be reduced to one lane from 7 p.m. Friday, until noon, Sunday.

All lanes of traffic will be available for use beginning noon on Sunday. Lane closures can also be anticipated Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 6 a.m. Expect major traffic delays. Alternate routes are recommended.

And the Loser Is

Tomorrow, Friday, April 17, is the deadline for entries in the city's contest to propose a new name for Schrom Hills Park. The present name was given the park before the area around it was annexed by the city and before the city acquired the land for the park. It is therefore appropriate for the city council to reconsider what this new park should be named.

Nevertheless, we are concerned about the process being used for this naming.

In the first place, we are far from convinced that the park's name should be changed at all. However, if this point is conceded, we do not believe that the contest procedure used, if it follows the procedure for naming the indoor pool offers enough opportunity for public review and comment. That brings us to our second point.

We were less than enthusiastic about the results of the last contest to name a city facility. While the Greenbelt Aquatic and Fitness Center is an accurate name for the facility (or at least will be once the old bathhouse is renovated as an exercise facility), the name seems to us excessively long and undistinguished. We further note that the name was decided by the council without public notice or input.

If We Had a Vote . . .

This beautiful new park is an important city facility and a significant part of the Greenbelt East community. The community should not lose the opportunity to help name it. A decision about its name should be carefully considered, not rendered as a surprise announcement.

It is important to us that Greenbelt preserve its history. Although only in recent years has the southern part of Greenbelt East, including the park, been within the city limits, the area has been part of our larger community since the beginning.

When the federal government purchased the land to build Greenbelt in the early 1930s, much of this area was comprised of family farms, one of which was owned by the Schroms. Although targeted for purchase by the government to become a part of Greenbelt, the farm was never acquired.

Earlier a "flight-crazy farm boy," Frederick ("Fritz") Schrom, built an airport on his family's land. Hanover Parkway runs along a part of the old runway.

Fritz Schrom operated Schrom Airport from 1928 to 1942, when it was closed by the federal government, and again after the war until part of the land was acquired for the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. In its heyday it was used as a training field for young pilots, many of them University of Maryland students. More than 120 pilots, mechanics and instructors were trained annually and more than 50 planes were parked there. Young Greenbelt boys and girls hung out at the airport, some with eager anticipation of flying themselves, others eyeing the dashing young pilots.

Today the family farm and the historic airport have been replaced by a shopping center, office complexes, town houses, ribbons of concrete — and the park.

As we cherish our beginnings as a planned community and our civic activism that dates back to 1937, should we not also recognize and honor the farming community that existed before Greenbelt? Retaining the Schrom Hills Park name would be one way to preserve that past and to remind future generations of a family and a long ago era when flight was akin to romance in the sky.

For an Easement

At last year's GHI annual meeting, a motion to grant a Conservation Easement on 82.5 wooded acres within the community was tabled. The Board appointed an ad-hoc committee to study this proposal and other issues related to woodland management. The unanimous committee recommendation to the Board includes granting a Conservation Easement at the earliest possible date.

The proposed easement would prohibit development of these woodlands and would prohibit the use of these woodlands for commercial purposes. Some members of the GHI community and Board have expressed concern that the proposed Conservation Easement on GHI's woodlands would give control of this land to outsiders (i.e., non-members). Nothing could be further from the truth.

The rights to development would not be transferred to someone else, but rather these rights would be extinguished. The easement holder (for instance the Maryland Environmental Trust) would not own the right to develop these woodlands; they would simply be granted the right to inspect the woodlands to insure that development was not taking place.

The Woodlands Committee recommendations to the GHI Board include both the granting of a Conservation Easement and the adoption of a Forest Management Plan. The management plan would govern all annual work plans, which might include everything from removal of lawn debris dumped by members to gypsy moth control to tree cutting. The plan would be flexible and changeable; this is appropriate since the science of forestry and forest management is currently rapidly evolving and the subject of great debate even among professionals in the field.

The management of the forest will remain the responsibility of GHI under the proposed easement. Every GHI member who votes on the easement at the annual meeting should understand that we would not give away control of the GHI woodlands. We would only extinguish the right to develop them.

Letters to the Editor

Clarification

I would like to correct one error in your report of the March 12 meeting of the GHI Board of Directors. It was stated as follows: "Colton explained that even realtors could not run off a list of what was for sale by realtors." My actual statement was that GHI could not provide an accurate list of the homes for sale by realtors. My reason for making that statement appears two paragraphs earlier in the article; namely, we frequently do not receive the notice in a timely manner that a unit has been listed with a realtor. It is only the realtors who have access to the multiple-listing service and therefore could provide an accurate list of homes for sale by realtors at any given time. It is to enable prospective purchasers to receive timely information that we advise them to obtain such information directly from realtors.

COMMUNITY EVENTS

Greens Talk Topic Independent Politics?

The Greenbelt Greens will hold its regular monthly meeting in the conference room of the Greenbelt Library at 7 p.m., Monday, April 20. The speaker will be Dennis Serrette of Oxon Hill. Serrette has been active in the National Rainbow Coalition and is currently treasurer of the Ron Daniels presidential campaign. His topic is "Is 1992 the Time for Independent Politics?" For further information on the Greens, call 474-1998.

Easter Egg Hunt At Nursing Center

An Easter egg hunt and celebration will be held on April 18 at the Greenbelt Nursing Center, 7010 Greenbelt Rd. This free event is held for the enjoyment of children in the community who would like to attend and must be accompanied by their parents or grandparents.

The festivities, scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. and last until 1 p.m. will feature an Easter egg hunt, prizes and surprises, as well as a special appearance by the Easter Bunny.

The Easter egg hunt and celebration is being sponsored by Greenbelt Nursing Center and Unicare Health Facilities, Inc. which owns Greenbelt Nursing Center. Unicare Health Facilities, Inc. a national provider of health care services, owns and manages 143 health care facilities in 17 states.

For more information call Melissa Underdown, 345-9595.

Tree Planting Date

The Greenbrook Estates Homeowners Association will plant seedling trees donated by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources on Saturday, April 18. This Spring Planting Festival will start at 10 a.m. at 7017 Mathew Street with instructions on how to plant and care for the seedlings, planting assignments and tree distribution. Refreshments will be available.

The trees will be planted in the Greenbrook Estates common areas. Volunteer tree planters would be very much appreciated. For more information call 474-4722 after 6 p.m.

Future Color Trends

Mark Woodman, Duron Paints' marketing coordinator, will be taking "Explorations Unlimited" participants on a journey of colors on Friday, April 24. Woodman designs Duron's paint and decorating centers and is a design consultant.

He will be discussing colors and how to effectively use them in decorating to get the desired effect. After showing slides of designs that use color differently he will have handouts and will be available to answer questions.

"Explorations Unlimited" is a speaker series held every Friday from 1-3 p.m. at the Greenbelt Youth Center. Everyone is welcome. For more information please call the Greenbelt Recreation Department at 474-6878.

SHL Good Neighbor Watch Group Fete

The Springhill Lake Good Neighbor Watch Group, whose logo represents communication within the Springhill Lake Community and the Greenbelt Police Department, will usher in its 12th season of community service as it celebrates its 11th anniversary at 7 p.m. at the Fountain Lodge on April 23.

The reason for its success will become clear when Thomas P. Mauriello, guest speaker, reveals his "Secret to Community Involvement." Mauriello, a former police officer for the State of Maryland and criminal investigator, is currently on the faculty at the University of Maryland, Institute of Criminal Justice and Criminology.

An open invitation is extended to the public and to neighboring Watch Groups to join in the celebration. Invitees include Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and the Greenbelt City Council; Prince Georges County Council dignitaries; Greenbelt Chief of Police James R. Craze, Betsy Cantrell, National Sheriff's Association, active in forming Neighborhood Watch Groups; the Greenbelt Crime Prevention Committee; the Springhill Lake management officers, and Greenbelt Police Training Officers. Craze will present certificates of training to residents who have attended the training sessions in the past year.

Not for Seniors Only

The next program of the continuing series "Not for Seniors Only" will be about "Personal Emergency Response Systems" (PERS). These are alarm devices worn around the neck at all times that can be activated to call for help in case of an emergency such as a serious fall. They may be especially helpful for older people living alone. Many models are on the market, however, which may result in confusion about how to evaluate and choose the most appropriate one.

Lee Norrgard, from the Consumer Action Program of American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) will discuss the models available, explain how they work and answer questions from the audience.

To learn about PERS, plan to attend this talk on Saturday, April 25 from 10:30 a.m. to noon at the Greenbelt Library meeting room.

SHL Egg Hunt

The annual Springhill Lake Easter Egg Hunt will be held on the lawn adjacent to the Fountain Lodge on Saturday, April 18 from 10:30 a.m. until noon. Children of all ages are invited to join the hunt and win candy and prizes. There will also be an opportunity to visit the Easter Bunny. Parents may bring their cameras and capture these memorable moments.

There is no admission. Children under the age of 12 must be accompanied by an adult. In the event of rain, the hunt will take place inside the Fountain Lodge with games, contests and prizes for all ages. For information please call 474-4555.

Democratic Club

The Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt Democratic Club will meet on Friday, April 4 at 8 p.m. in the Greenbriar Community Center. Sam Wynkoop, Chief Administrator for Congressman Steny Hoyer is scheduled to speak.

Question:

WHERE CAN I find a "USER-FRIENDLY" CHURCH WITH A POSITIVE, DOWN-TO-EARTH, UNPRESSURED ATMOSPHERE...

A RELAXED, ACCEPTING PLACE WHERE THEY ARE NOT AFTER MY MONEY, OR OUT TO CONDEMN, A PLACE WHERE I CAN GO THIS EASTER (APRIL 19TH) TO STRENGTHEN MY FAITH IN GOD?

Answer:

Cedar Ridge Community Church, an INTER-DENOMINATIONAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH, MEETS SUNDAYS, 9AM & 10:45AM AT CAPITOL COLLEGE IN LAUREL. Call 459-4024 for details!

WHEN WILL THEY EVER MEET?

The GHI Finance Committee hasn't had an official meeting since Dec. 10 because they haven't been able to make a quorum!

They're going to try again on April 22, 8 p.m. in the Board Room. Come see if it's held. Make sure that the financial decisions that determine your monthly fees and your future aren't made in an empty room. I think we need regularly scheduled and advertised Finance Committee meetings.

Greenbelt CARES

The Greenbelt CARES GED course will begin on April 28 and will run through Thursday, July 2. The 10-week course will be held every Tuesday and Thursday, from 1:30-3:30 p.m. For additional information and enrollment, students should call CARES at 345-6660.

An average of 17 families a week participated in regular, scheduled counseling during March. Forty-six individuals were involved, 46% of them children and youth under 18 years of age. Weekly tutoring sessions in reading, math and English were provided to 88 students.

Wendy Wexler will be interviewing interested Eleanor Roosevelt High School students for participation in the next teen discussion group. The group is held on Wednesdays in the ERHS Guidance Office. Any student who would like more information should contact CARES or P. Murphy in the Guidance office, 345-7500.

BARC Open House

The public is invited to an open house at the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center (BARC) on Saturday, April 25 from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Route 1, in front of the Administration Building.

The open house will feature exhibits explaining the agricultural research being conducted by BARC laboratories as well as displays from BARC tenants such as the Food Safety Inspection Service and the Agricultural Marketing Service. Many of the displays will feature the relationship between agriculture and the environment as the open house coincides with the reopening of the newly renovated building which houses BARC's Natural Resources Institute laboratories. BARC will host a symposium on agriculture and the environment at 8:30 a.m. Friday, April 24.

There will also be booths about the Maryland Chesapeake Clean Up, emergency measures for handling chemical spills, local stream clean up activities and BARC recycling efforts.

Children's Theater Tickets Available

The Greenbelt Recreation Department still has seats left for the Children's Theater show "Jack and the Beanstalk" at the Burn Brae Dinner Theater. Children will journey along with Jack on his giant adventure in this musical tall tale. This is an opportunity for children to experience the theatre and even meet the "characters" afterwards.

The trip is open to all children ages 4-12. Any adult or grandparent who would like to attend is also welcome. The show is scheduled for Saturday, May 9. Tickets are first come, first serve and reservations must be made no later than April 20.

Seats are limited. The van will leave from the Youth Center at 12:15 p.m. and will return at 3:30 p.m. Call 474-6878 for info.

Attention GHI Members!! Spring Clean Up Day!!

Once again it's spring and time to shape up the house and yard for the coming care-free days of summer. What better way than cleaning up yard debris and excess household items collected over the winter?

Join in the annual Spring Clean-up Days on April 25th and 26th, sponsored by the Architecture and Environment Committee. Clean out the closets, shed, and attic and spruce up your yard and the common areas. The special trash crew of the City of Greenbelt will be collecting trash and leaves the following week of April 27th through May 1st.

For information or trash bags call GHI at 474-4161 or any A & E member. The weekend of April 25 trash bags can be obtained at all A & E members' homes.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

A person was stabbed in the abdomen with a knife during an argument at a party in the 7500 block of Mandan Road around 11 p.m. on April 3. The assailant, a 16-year-old nonresident male, was eventually arrested and charged with assault with intent to murder. He was taken to Boy's Village pending trial.

Robberies

Around 7:15 p.m. on April 4, a youth loitering in the hallway of an apartment building in the 6900 block of Hanover Pkwy. pulled a semi-automatic handgun on a pizza deliverer and demanded money. After receiving the money, he ran away. He is described as black, 18 or 19 years old, 5'8"-5'9", thin build, wearing a black waist-length jacket with the logo "Oakland" on it.

Around 10:30 p.m. on April 6 another pizza deliverer was robbed in the 400 block of Ridge Road by two youths who also had a semi-automatic handgun (silver-colored). The youths are described as: (1) black male, in his 20s, 5'8", 150 lbs., wearing a black jacket with yellow piping; (2) black male, in his 20s, 5'6", 175 lbs., wearing a black jacket with some red coloring in it.

Around 6 p.m. on April 3 a woman was mugged while she was walking under the parking garage towards the Beltway Plaza entrance by two youths; one punched her in the face, while the other took her purse. They then ran towards Springhill Lake. They are described as: (1) black male, in his 20s, 6', average build, wearing a black hat, a black jacket, and possibly stone-washed jeans; (2) black male, in his 20s, 5'8", average build, wearing a black hat and a black jacket.

Two resident children, aged eight and 12, were arrested and charged with attempted armed robbery after they demanded money from and beat up another child who was waiting for a ride in front of the Greenbelt Youth Center. The incident took place around 6:30 p.m. on April 4. Both children were released to their parents pending trial.

Other Thefts

On April 5 a resident reported a breaking and entering of his home in the 7800 block of Chartwell Place; jewelry was stolen. On April 9 a resident reported a breaking and entering of her home in the 9100 block of Edmonston Road; checks were stolen.

While patrolling the 5900 block of Cherrywood Terrace around 2 p.m. on April 6, an officer noticed a vehicle being driven with an equipment violation, checked out the vehicle via computer, and found that the registration tags had been reported stolen. He then arrested both the driver and the passenger for theft under $300. Neither is a resident. One of them, a 29-year-old man, appeared before a District Court Commissioner and was held on $750 bond pending trial. The other, a 39-year-old man, was released to the custody of the Montgomery County Sheriff's Department, since he had an open warrant with the Takoma Park Police Department.

Vehicles

On April 6 a red, four-door 1988 Volkswagen Golf GL, Md. tags MZEPKO, was reported stolen from the 9100 block of Edmonston Road. On April 8, a black 1987 Chevrolet S-10 Blazer, Md. tags 430998M, was reported stolen from the area of Edmonston Terrace and Edmonston Court.

Vandalism to, thefts from, and attempted thefts of autos were reported in the following areas: the 5800 block of Cherrywood Terrace, the 7500 block of Greenbelt Road, the 7500 block of Greenway Center Drive, the 7900 and 8000 blocks of Mandan Road, and 65 Court Ridge Road.

Job Fair at PGCC Held Wed., April 22

The Office of Job Placement Services of Prince Georges Community College will sponsor its annual spring Job Fair on Wednesday, April 22 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. in the Largo Student Center.

Over 60 employers are expected to participate in the event. Prospective employees should bring resumes and completed SF-171 forms with them to the fair.

Jelly Bean Contest

A jelly bean contest was held recently at Green Ridge House and winner Jim Rawlings, whose guess was closest to the correct number of jelly beans in a jar, received a large hickory smoked Mash's ham. Runners up Hazel Parent, Merl Fike and Mary Reamer each won a one pound Dak ham while the booby prize winner, Rosalie Jones, won two bags of jelly beans. Fifty-six residents of Green Ridge House participated in this contest.

Currently on display in the Community Room at Green Ridge House is an Easter Egg Tree made by the residents and featuring the names of all the 107 residents on the eggs.

GHI Notes

Members are reminded that general yard inspections have begun.

The Finance Committee will meet on Wednesday, April 22 at 8 p.m. in the Board Room.

Reception for all committee members is on Friday, April 24 at 7:30 p.m.

The Architecture & Environment Committee is sponsoring a Spring Clean Up on the weekend of April 25. A Court Beautification Contest is also planned. (See ads elsewhere in this newspaper.)

Garden Club Plots Are Still Available

The Greenbelt Garden Club still has some plots available in all three fields. For information on the club and on how to get a plot call 474-8483 or 776-6505 evenings only. Both full and half plots are available with a full plot being approximately 50 by 50 feet.

There are three fields divided up into the plots in the central part of Greenbelt: two near Hamilton Place and one between Gardenway and the BW Parkway. Interested gardeners are encouraged to check out the fields. Some fields are plowed. There is a fee for a plot.

was slightly wealthier, with a household income of $1,038 more a year, and a home valued at $141,900, considerably higher than the city's average of $96,811. Even if the resident was a renter, the rent paid ($714 a month) was higher than the $674 city average.

Greenbelt Center

In the central part of Greenbelt, the percentage of females was again a little greater than for the city as a whole, and the age of the typical resident was

CENSUS

31.8 years, more than two years older. Almost three out of every four residents over 65 lived in Greenbelt Center, although overall, persons in that age group comprised only 7.2% of the city's population. As with Greenbelt East, the typical resident lived in an owner occupied home with one or more other members of her family. In Greenbelt Center, the chances are slightly better that the family would have three members, compared to an average family size of 2.3.

The value of the typical person's home, $87,132 on the average, was much less than in Greenbelt East and below average for the city as a whole. The median rent of $598 for residents of Greenbelt Center who were renters also was lower than for other areas of the city. This is not surprising considering that Greenbelt's oldest housing is located in this part of town.

Greenbelt West

This section of the city differs considerably from the other sections, primarily because the area's housing consists only of one huge apartment complex, Springhill Lake. There are no owner occupied homes here.

The typical resident is a white male 24.6 years old. However, males are in the majority by only a small percent, 51.4%. In Greenbelt West, a resident is more apt to be of a minority race than in other sections of the city. While 53% of the residents were white, 34% of the residents were black and 10% were oriental. Nearly one out of every three residents in Springhill Lake were between the ages of 20 and 25, a figure which reflects the large number of students who live there. The typical resident lived in a non-family household with one other person. The average size of households here is 2.17. The typical resident paid a monthly rent of $694, slightly higher than the city average.

Differences by Race

While detailed information on the basis of race is still not available, some differences have been noted, based on available data. The widest divergence between race appears to be in Springhill Lake. White residents were most apt to be males between age 20 and 25.

Throughout the city, blacks owned homes of slightly greater value than whites and paid somewhat higher rents, $721 vs. $674, although in Springhill Lake, blacks paid rents that on the average were a little lower than for whites. Of the 6,668 white households in the city, 53% were owner occupied. Of the 1,563 black households, only 20% were owner occupied.

Overall, the minority population by race (people of Hispanic origin can be of many different races) was 20.8% of the Greenbelt population with blacks being 19.4% and Asians 9.0%.

The minority population was the highest percentage of total population in Greenbelt West, 46.9%, and the smallest in Greenbelt Center, 10.6%. "the quartet is tight, together, and, at times, downright brilliant, the band really rocks out."

Jazztimes Magazine

Washington Post says the band "easily eclipsed the energy level generated by most fusion bands these days, on or off stage."
