GHI Board Startled by Manager's Letter about Ukraine Consultancy

by Betty Timer

A surprise memo from General Manager Ron Colton highlighted the April 4 meeting of the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Homes Incorporated (GHI). Other major discussion centered on the upcoming annual meeting.

Colton wrote, "I have been offered a position as a consultant to the Ukraine Republic for a period of two years. My duties would include working with national and municipal officials to implement the transition to private ownership and development of land and buildings. I have been requested to conduct an evaluation visit from April 17 to 30. This will give them the opportunity to evaluate me, and me the opportunity to evaluate the assignment."

"I am sure you understand the challenges faced by the nations of the former Soviet Union in making the transition from centralized government planning to political and economic democracy. The transition from housing produced and operated by the government to homeownership is not unlike the changes Greenbelt underwent in the early 1950's. However, the scope of activity and the magnitude of change will be much greater. I think it is a positive reflection on GHI that I have been chosen for this assignment."

Eunice Coxon asked, "Who will run GHI now?" President of the Board, Alan Freas stated that it is Ron Colton's responsibility to name someone to manage GHI while he is on annual leave. Colton has designated Comptroller Paul Sinner to fill this role. However, if or when the Board receives official notice that Colton is leaving for an extended time, then it is the Board's responsibility to choose a replacement.

A lengthy discussion ensued regarding contingency plans in the event of Colton's possible extended absence. This included: past precedents, legal ramifications, issues related to a search for an interim replacement, and obligations to that replacement.

Director Chuck Hess made a motion that the Board grant a two-year leave of absence to Ron Colton. Director Carol Levin felt that this was a premature action and moved to table that motion. The motion to table was defeated. Levin then stated that, when at least two directors oppose a Board action, GHI's bylaws indicate that the motion cannot be voted upon until the next Board meeting. President Freas concurred with this interpretation.

Director Wayne Williams made a motion outlining a plan of action. It read, "That (1) the President recommend at the next Board meeting an ad hoc committee to consider the issues and options involved related to the Manager's position at GHI; and (2) that the President begin to prepare the material related to this in advance of the appointment of this committee." This motion was approved unanimously.

Member Requests

Early in the meeting Dr. Jay McCarl asked the Board to assist new patients of their dental practice to locate their facility either by permitting a small sign at the corner of Ridge and Southway, or through some other creative solution. The Board expressed its reluctance to permit directional signs for any commercial operation. They did direct GHI's management to discuss with the city's staff the possibilities of larger signs on corner's of key streets.

A member from Laurel Hill petitioned the Board to resolve some financial matters which have triggered a letter of eviction from her home. A window broke in her home. She contracted the GHI fee-for-service to replace it. The owner expected a new window and sash; instead she received a used sash without the air-tight double-hung glass. While she was researching this issue, she refused to pay the $185 contract. Hence, her payments were in arrears. Discussion revealed that she had received four notices of delinquency and that the Finance Department was requesting $800 in overdue charges. The complainants felt that GHI had made many erroneous charges. The Board ordered staff to investigate this matter and then disclose details at a future meeting when the home owner was present. It also suspended the eviction until these issues are resolved.

Annual Meeting

GHI's annual meeting is scheduled for May 19 at 8 p.m. at the Greenbelt Theater. Any person running for the Board of Directors, Audit Committee, or Nominations and Elections (N&E) Committee had to submit a 100 word biography to the committee by April 25. To appear on the official ballot, a written, notarized consent form must be delivered to GHI's offices by May 12. Voting for candidates will follow the annual meeting. The meeting will be recessed until the following day when voting will continue from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Municipal Building.

Greenbelt Students Place In "Odyssey of the Mind"

by Linda Savaryn

It takes a lot of creativity to fashion a vehicle from a tricycle frame, a bent pipe, a gear, a laundry cart wheel and a piece of sheet metal. A team of students at Greenbelt Middle School did just that at the county's Odyssey of the Mind (OM) competition that was held March 27. They won first place in what is known as the "Pit Stop" competition.

Four other teams from Greenbelt Middle School placed in the top three in their respective divisions. All five teams later entered the State OM competition that was held April 24 at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County. One team placed fifth in the "Dinosaurs" competition.

The team that entered the "Pit Stop" competition included Greenbelters Jeff Timer and T. J. Lubey. The team's problem was to design a vehicle powered by a mechanical jack.

According to Jeff Timer, "Everyone on the team designed what they wanted it to look like. Then we just combined all our ideas."

"It looked like a box-shaped car with working headlights and tail lights," said Lubey, who drove the vehicle around a 15 ft. by 20 ft. square course at the competition. "You steer it with your feet. There are two wheels in back and one in front. Your feet go on pegs on the sides of the front wheel to steer so your hands are free to move the mechanical jack that moves the vehicle," he added.

Both students were fifth graders at Center School when their teacher, Carolyn Lubetzky, encouraged them to compete four years ago.

According to Jeff Timer "Mrs. Lubetzky heard about it and asked me if I wanted to do it. Once I heard about it, I liked it."

Dinosaur Competition

The team that competed in the "Dinosaurs" competition placed second in the county and fifth in the State OM. The "Dinosaurs" team members included Greenbelters Megan Thomas, Christina Zugby, Dana Ford, Karim Fadli, Sima Fadli, Cameron Horn and Cecilia Hoffman.

Their task was to create a story about dinosaurs and make one which could perform technical tasks. The dinosaur, constructed from a cardboard box, could pick up a rock with a slinky and magnet, blink its eyes with the help of a lamp, See REVIEW, page 2

GAC's Production Offers Laughter and Relaxation

by Barbara Likowski

The Greenbelt Arts Center offers an evening of fun and relaxation in its production and world premiere of Bruce McDade's comedy, "Small of My Mind." For the evening we, the audience, are transported to a world very different from our own yet in many ways the same. The play is amusing from beginning to end and laughter comes easily and frequently. The laughter comes not only from the humor of the lines but also from our empathy with the characters.

The acting is so good it is hard to single out anyone. They made us believe in them as people.

Ginny Zanner is "Granny" Tucker. We want to see more of her and find out more about the elusive Doris June she's forever calling for. We enjoy each pithy remark so that it isn't till after the play is over that we begin to feel a sadness about her situation.

The three young women who have the main roles do a superb job of holding our interest. Each is different but well suited to her part. Donna Rae Tucker (Julie Eckhardt) who welcomes her former high school friend Ramona (Gina Bilajiw) rejoices with her when she hears about her coming marriage. Donna offers her parlor for the wedding. It is not till after plans have been made for Donna to be maid of honor and her sister Peanie (Mary Goczalk) has offered to be bridesmaid that they discover the groom-to-be is Peanie's ex-husband, Royalle Porterfield. Although Peanie has divorced him she has not severed her emo- See ODYSSEY, page 16

Dispatcher, Traffic Unit, Riot Gear are Police Wants

by S. R. Cherry

The Greenbelt City Council met with Greenbelt Chief of Police James R. Craze and Greenbelt Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) president Robert Keller on April 20, to discuss police allocations for the 1993-94 budget. Craze and Keller outlined requests for over $371,000 worth of police department needs not addressed in the proposed budget for Fiscal Year 1994. Total expenditures are projected for $3,836,300.

Chief Craze asked council members for $25,000 to allow the department to hire an additional dispatcher. He said that the money would allow the department to assign two dispatchers to each shift. According to Craze, dispatchers answer approximately 100 calls each day, in addition to performing computer requests and assisting people who walk in from the street. He said, currently the workload is "burning our people out." The funding would be used to expand the number of dispatchers from seven to eight.

tional ties to him in the "small of her mind."

Joel Parker as Royale Porterfield shows he can be funny and serious. And that isn't easy to do. Nothing could be funnier than the scene in which he is changing into his tux for the wedding. Yet he never lets it become slapstick.

Supporting Cast

The supporting cast of friends of Donna and Ramona are to be commended, too, Trix Whitehall, Jill Loebig, Genevieve Williams and Laura Seng. Each plays a role which makes us think of people we know.

Kudos to Director Jim Robertson, and to all the crew who provided the lighting, sets, etc. It is unfortunate that the GAC doesn't have a home at present. The lack of a real stage does make it difficult to see at times. But the good acting and hilarious dialogue which moves fast and never fails to keep the audience's attention does help to make up for that.

This is not a play for children. Some of the conversations are too adult for children to understand. Sometimes they're too graphic. It might offend some adults, too.

Receipt of a grant from the Prince Georges Arts Council and the underwriting of part of the cast of production by the Arts Council Super Circle helped to make this production possible.

The play will be repeated Friday and Saturday, April 30 and May 1, and May 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. There will be a matinee on Sunday, May 2, at 2 p.m. Since seating is limited people should make reservations. We think they'll be glad they did.

Meet the Author

Bruce E. McDade, author of the Greenbelt Arts Center (GAC) current production, "Small of My Mind," has been a Greenbelter for over a year. This is his first GAC play. However, he has written three other plays which were produced at Arundel High School where he teaches speech, acting and television.

In a note inside the program, McDade explained that he had spent some time in Big Stone Gap, Virginia, an area so different from this area: smaller, but "just as full of passion." There he had met "wonderful people and the spirit of them lives in the people you meet" in the play.

McDade has been writing since he was in the 11th grade and won awards for his one-act plays which he wrote while he was in college. He has also directed plays.

Disturbed

I am disturbed by the GHI Board of Director's consideration of giving the Manager, Ron Colton, up to a two-year leave of absence. Colton is leaving us at a time when we have many preventive maintenance needs that require a manager's assistance. If he is given a leave of absence, this leaves the Co-op and a new Board without a manager and without the ability to hire a permanent manager. The incoming Board will be forced to look for a temporary replacement.

Further, if Colton takes the offered job in the Ukraine, there is always the possibility that other opportunities will arise and he will not return. If he takes the job and is given a leave of absence, and then decides not to return, he has done the Co-op a great disservice. The Board will have had only an interim manager and not a permanent manager. The Co-op will once again have the expense and trauma of recruiting and hiring a new manager.

A decision on granting the manager a leave of absence should be left for the new Board elected on May 20. It is not fair for the existing Board to encumber future Boards and restrict their ability to serve the membership prudently.

The final decision will be made at the Board meeting on Thursday, May 13. I hope some of the members will be able to attend and voice their opinions.

Thanks

I would like to say a long overdue "Thank You" to everyone who has been supporting me during my illness. To my family, for helping with the kids, the housework and for putting up with me. (As unbearable as I've been!) To all my wonderful friends, my neighbors in Greenknolls Place, my caring co-workers at the Post Office, the people on my mail route, and everyone else who has sent cards, flowers or just stopped my family to ask, "How's Frann doing?"

I just returned from Pittsburgh where I underwent my second (and hopefully final) brain surgery. The prognosis is very good and the doctors feel confident that I'll make a full recovery. Finally, I must thank two very special men, my husband and my dad. Thank you for holding my hand when I was scared, for letting me cry on your shoulders, for being my strength when I was too tired, but most of all, thank you for never letting me give in. No matter how hard I fought, you fought harder. I owe you all so much. It's been a long year and there's a long way to go, but I'm so glad that I live in a town like Greenbelt where good friends and caring people are always close by!

Thanks again.

Info Needed

On April 24, 1993, I won first place at Maryland History Day in Annapolis. My project was, "The Evolution of a local paper, the Greenbelt News Review 1937-1993." I focused on the Charles Bresler vs. Greenbelt News Review lawsuit which played a big role in the paper's history. I am planning to compete at the National History Day Contest, but I need the community's help. If you know anything about the Bresler case or have some documents on the case itself, please call me so I can interview you personally. My number is 474-1982.

Volunteers Needed

People don't have to be experts to volunteer to help the county bird, the eastern bluebird! All that is asked of adult and teen volunteers is to give a few hours a day, a few days a month.

Volunteers will hike a trail with bluebird nesting boxes to be checked. See all the stages

Fun at Goddard

On Sundays, May 2 and May 16 at 1 p.m. model rockets will be launched at Goddard Visitor Center located north of Greenbelt Road on Soil Conservation Road. According to the Center, if you have ever looked up in the sky and wondered how airplanes or rockets fly, you have the curiosity that it takes to be a model rocketeer. Visitors can bring their own rockets to launch or just observe. They will be able to see how the wing shape, the angle of the launch and the size of the rocket all contribute to the best (or worst) flights. All launches are monitored for safety.

FIFTY YEARS AGO...

by James Giese

February, 1943. The Greenbelt Food Stores began to sell frosted foods for the first time, utilizing second-hand frosted food refrigerating cases adapted for self-service. There was a problem, however, in getting the oversized cases through the doorway.

The Co-op had considered frosted foods several years earlier but after careful study had decided not to carry them. Tests comparing price, taste and time of preparation had indicated, they thought, that the fresh quality and convenience did not compensate for the price differential. However, with the uncertainty of canned food supplies and better price relationships, the Co-op decided to offer this new way of processing and marketing food.

Mary Linstrom Honored

by Jan Kuhn

Mary Linstrom, who was nominated for Prince Georgian of the Year Award, was honored with 51 other nominees at a luncheon on April 22 at Martin's Crosswinds. The Prince Georges County Public Relations Association sponsored the program. County Executive Parris Glendening made the presentations to the 10 nominees who received awards. Although Linstrom was not among the 10 who received an award, her achievements easily matched those who were singled out for special recognition.

Linstrom was nominated by Barbara Havekost for her outstanding contributions to the quality of life in Greenbelt and Prince Georges County. She is past president of the board of the Greenbelt Museum. In addition to coordinating fund raising activities, she has been instrumental in acquiring and authenticating furniture and artifacts.

Linstrom has also been active with the Cultural Arts Center serving as one of the first board members. She was the Center's historian and served on the House and Program Committees.

In addition to her cultural activities, Linstrom has been a member of the local Ladies of Charity at St. Hugh's Church for over 20 years and is past president of the Prince Georges County chapter. She began the SOME (So Others Might Eat) Program at St. Hugh's over nine years ago and works with county agencies in the Safe Haven and transitional homes projects, coordinating local groups to aid in providing subsidized housing for the homeless and transitional homes in helping families move toward independent living. Due to her activities on behalf of people in need, she has become the unofficial resource person for Greenbelt, channeling the needy and those helping the needy to the proper resources. When unexpected social problems arise in the city, the frequent cry is "Call Mary Linstrom."

Greenbelt Citizens Actively Involved

President Clinton has called the nation to service. As part of the effort, Maryland has received one of seven grants to conduct a community peace corps that will provide the nation with a model to address the needs of our communities through service. Maryland's national service program is called Volunteer Maryland.

Already, two citizens from Greenbelt have dedicated their time to this service initiative. Sandra Broadwater and Hildie Sheftel are Volunteer Maryland "coordinators" who will train and manage other volunteers to provide needed services in the areas of education, human welfare, the environment and public safety.

As coordinators of Volunteer Maryland, Broadwater and Sheftel will be taught to persuade people in our community to become mentors to juveniles, tutors to adults learning to read, advocates for Alzheimer patients, helpers to the homeless, friends to wildlife, and educators of AIDS prevention.

Those who are ready to assist individuals and communities in need are encouraged to get involved and pioneer the service movement. For more information on how to get involved, call (410) 514-7270.

Herb Fair Scheduled

The Herb Fair, which is sponsored by the Potomac Unit of The Herb Society of America and FONA, will have herb plants, books, herbal crafts, fresh tussie musses, potpourri, rose beads and herbal refreshments for sale on Saturday, May 1, 10 a.m.-3 p.m. Activities for children, cooking demonstrations, herbal wreath making, potpourri making, and herb garden tours will be offered. For additional information call Cassie Yates at 703-481-5523.

Legion Auxiliary Presents Americanism Awards

by Rusty Beeg

Greenbelt Unit No. 136, American Legion Auxiliary, hosted their annual Americanism Awards Night on Tuesday, April 20, honoring essay award winners, educators, and outstanding school patrols and featuring 1992 citizens of Maryland Girls State. Essay winners, who wrote a maximum of 500 words on the importance of the American Flag, were awarded plaques, U.S. Savings Bonds or honorable mention certificates. Americanism Chairman, Sandi Dutton, explained that a total of 103 students submitted essays.

The Greenbelt winners in Group I for Grades 4 and 5 were: Second Place—Jeanette Savage, Center; and Honorable Mention—Stephanie Meadows, Center.

Group II for Grades 6 through 8 were: First Place—Aurore Marrianni, St. Hugh's; and Honorable Mention—Amanda Freitag, Greenbelt Middle, and Heather Norden, Center.

Introducing the recipients of School Patrol of the Year was Mary Gabriel, president of the Auxiliary's Southern Maryland District.

Among the winners was Mike Davis of Greenbelt Center School. The principals and educators who sponsored the awardees were recognized with desk folders.

Attendees from the 1992 session of Maryland Girls State, Krisanne Allen of Parkdale and Heather Sparks of Elizabeth Seton spoke about their experiences.

Cancer Hot Line

A toll free hot line, 1-800-477-9774, sponsored by the Maryland Cancer Control Program is now operational for callers to obtain information on breast and tobacco-related cancers. The hot line is in effect Monday through Friday, noon to 8 p.m.

Hot line callers can find out about early detection programs, brochures, and a variety of other information concerning these cancers. For example, callers will be directed to the nearest hospital or health department offering low cost mammograms. For tobacco-related cancers, callers will be directed to sources for information on smoking cessation programs and secondhand smoke.

The Maryland Cancer Control Program, which includes public awareness, education, and early detection programs, is committed to reducing the cancer mortality rate by focusing on breast and tobacco-related cancers.

Workshop Held on High School/High Tech Project

Sixty-seven youth with aspirations for a career in high technology assembled recently at Goddard Space Flight Center. That these youth have disabilities did not matter. What did matter was that all had been nominated by their high schools as capable of achieving careers in high technology. They were interested enough to attend the Kick-off workshop of the new High School/High Tech Project. Funded initially by NASA with supports from the Prince Georges Private Industry Council and United Cerebral Palsy of Prince Georges and Montgomery Counties, High School/High Tech represents a community effort to involve youth in technology related careers. The local project is one of five in the country.

Future High School/High Tech activities include visiting high technology companies, workshops at local universities, and many other activities including six weeks of summer employment available between junior and senior years.

High School/High Tech is seeking support from the entire local high technology community. Interested parties can call the High School/High Tech staff for information at 262-4993 or 262-4982 (TDD).

Recycling Dos and Dont's

by Tracy Vincent

The "recycling reference guide" presented in the April 22 issue of the News Review, needs clarification of the recycling do's and don'ts. Lids for plastic and glass containers should be removed before recycling. Paint cans are not accepted at the Drop-Off Center. Latex paint should be allowed to evaporate and be discarded with regular trash. Save oil-based paint and other "hazardous materials" for HAZ-MAT Day, June 27 at Prince Georges Community College.

Magazines and catalogs are now being collected monthly for recycling at Holladay-Tyler Printing in Glenn Dale. The next date is May 8 from 8 a.m. to noon. This program is open to all county residents. For more information call 925-5963.

Recycling is making a real difference in the amount and type of trash discarded by the community. Efforts to divert yard waste have been successful too. Residents who plan to bag grass can have it collected on Wednesdays as special trash. The crew will see that it is included in commercial composting while saving the city $62 a ton in landfill costs. Recycling is working.

Paying to Receive Prize Is Against State Law

The State Attorney General's office warns consumers that requiring people to pay any money for goods or services as a condition for receiving a prize violates Maryland law.

The Attorney General reports on prize scams in the latest issue of "Tips for Tough Times." According to the publication, common scams include sending consumers a document resembling a check made out to them, asking whether they prefer their winnings sent in cash or by certified check, having people call a 900-number to find out if they won or requiring a "judging fee" with their entry forms, requiring entrants to answer a simple question. But consumers who send in their form and money may receive more mailings telling them to enter additional "levels" of the game, requiring more money. Some may continue to send in money, fearing they will lose their chance to win if they drop out mid-stream.

"Tips for Tough Times" advises consumers to be skeptical about all prize offers to read all the disclosures on the prize offering, and to avoid contests where the disclosures are unclear or absent.

"Tips" is available to any company or organization that wishes to copy it for distribution to employees or members. Call the Consumer Protection Division in Baltimore at (410) 234-1655.

Vaccinations and Licenses For Local Cats and Dogs

The Prince Georges County Health Department will be sponsoring five rabies vaccination clinics throughout the county. Pet owners can have their dog or cat vaccinated for a fee. On Saturday, May 22 the clinic will be at Greenbelt Middle School. Other clinics near Greenbelt will be Saturday, May 8 at Laurel High School and Saturday, May 15 at Bowie High School.

Clinics will be held from noon to 4 p.m. All pets must be brought to the clinic by a responsible adult. Dogs must be on a leash and cats must be in a carrier, box, or a pillow case.

Rabies, a fatal disease in humans if not treated, continues to be a top public health priority in Maryland. The rabies epidemic in Prince Georges County began in 1983 and is still present in the wild animal population.

Household pets which have contact with rabid animals may become infested and transmit the rabies virus to humans. The best way to build a protective barrier against rabies is to vaccinate household pets. Three rabid raccoons were found in Greenbelt this year.

Pet owners should be aware of the state and county laws requiring vaccinations and pet licenses of all cats and dogs over four months old. The Division of Animal Control will be at each clinic site to sell animal licenses to pet owners.

Teach children not to pet stray or wild animals and remember if bitten or scratched by a wild or domestic animal (dog or cat) contact the Police Department immediately to make a report.

For additional information contact the Rabies Clinic Hotline at (301) 464-4910.

Pesticide Sensitive People to Be Helped

Some people may experience allergic reactions to pesticides even when the pesticides are properly applied according to label directions. These pesticide-sensitive individuals are advised to avoid exposure to chemicals that may cause allergic reactions.

"Pesticide-sensitive individuals or individuals with a condition or ailment that requires avoidance of a pesticide may receive advance notice of pesticide applications being made by lawn and landscape companies under a program conducted by the Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA)," according to Secretary Robert L. Walker.

"Departmental regulations require that commercial pest control firms and public agencies notify pesticide-sensitive individuals listed with MDA before applying pesticides to lawn or to landscape plants on neighboring properties," said Secretary Walker.

"The regulations do not pertain to homeowners using pesticides or to pest control companies applying pesticides to sites other than lawns or landscape plants," he concluded.

To be placed on the pesticide-sensitive list, an individual must complete an application provided by MDA, listing the names and addresses of adjacent or contiguous property owners to their property. A physician's certificate is required stating that the named individual should avoid exposure to a pesticide because of a documented sensitivity to certain pesticides or because of a current diagnosed condition or ailment.

Recreation Budget Request Rises To Support Expanded Facilities

by Mary Lou Williamson

Greenbelt, a pioneer in Maryland 50 years ago in providing recreational facilities and programs for its residents, is still on the cutting edge, Director of Recreation Hank Irving told the Greenbelt City Council at its first budget worksession on April 19.

He is proud of his department's new facilities—the aquatic center, which has attracted more users (revenue) than anticipated; the new Schrom Hills Park, which has been well used since the park opened last June; and the fitness center, which will open this summer offering a vast improvement over the old weight room at the Youth Center.

Total expenditures, $2,174,400, proposed for recreation for fiscal year 1993-94 (FY94), would mean an increase of 8.5 percent over last year. Twenty-five percent of the recreation budget will be paid for by users. The new budget includes an increase of the equivalent of 1½ staff persons, to be made up of a number of part-time people, mostly for the new fitness center.

All departments of the city have been directed to present a budget of no more than two percent above last year while maintaining last year's goal of doing more with less. An exception, the Recreation Department with its new facilities, has had to find extra dollars to pay for their operation.

Aquatic Center

The cost of next year's aquatic center pass, which will include for the first time use of the fitness center as well as the pool, will increase by eight percent. Daily fees will go up by 50 cents. Irving says the revenue from the pool users is expected to cover 73 percent of the cost of operation. By comparison, said Irving, users of the county's

Achieving the proper adjustment of heat and cold in the women's locker room and the showers has been a problem also. Leonie Penny came to council to complain. Rogala assured council they were aware of and working on the problems. A very sensitive fire detector has been set off a dozen times this year when vents picked up tiny particles. Architects are looking for a solution. The women's dressing rooms are somewhat cut off newest and comparable indoor pool in Fairland are not yet paying 50 percent of their operating costs, the county's goal.

Getting the Bugs Out

One extra cost this year, Pool Director George Rogala explained to council, has been the chemicals used to clean the water in the pool. Rogala noted that some design modifications for the filter and circulation system are being explored.

New lighting fixtures above the pool will be installed while lighting along the sides will be removed, providing better visibility in the water and a savings in electricity, Rogala reported. A further savings is expected through a rebate program for installing energy-efficient lighting. Contracting the pool cleaning to a commercial firm has reduced costs and will be continued.

from the larger and more open shower/bathroom area, which heats up from the hot water and turns down the heat.

A contractor is coming this week to rework the complex mixing system that causes the showers to cycle warm and cold. "We've been getting the bugs out of the new building," said Rogala.

Separate Passes?

Council asked whether users could purchase a separate pass for just the fitness center. Staff responded that the interior design of the building, with the dressing rooms and hall linked to both the pool and fitness center, is not suited to separating the two groups. They calculated that to hire a person to monitor which facilities patrons could use would cost $30,000 annually, a cost they did not want to assume.

The fitness center is expected to add $43,500 in operating costs for FY94 and bring in an estimated $59,500 in new revenues. A recreation instructor/coordinator is proposed to be available in the center weekdays in the late afternoons and evenings to assist users.

Total proposed expenditures for the Aquatic and Fitness Center for FY94 is $586,100; fees of $430,000 are anticipated, with the general fund contributing the remaining $156,100.

Schrom Hills Park

"The alle is beautiful," commented council member Antoinette Bram of her visit last week to Schrom Hills Park. The alle is the decorative central walkway with attractive park benches, landscaped with trees and shrubs and spring flowers. The park is open during daylight hours, with bathrooms open from 7 a.m. till dark. After school drop-in programs are staffed weekdays from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. during the school year and from noon until 3 p.m. in the summer.

A new program, Teen House Party, is planned for this summer offering teens a supervised place to meet with parties, trips, and classes. The program has been developed and will be co-sponsored by the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission (M-NCPPC). The program operates in a number of recreation centers around the county. A sports camp is also planned for this park with its community center and new ball fields which are now in use.

The park's community center and picnic pavilion, which can be used for parties or meetings, has been reserved 100 times since the park opened. Operating expenses for the park for FY94 are projected at $19,700. The city plans to purchase some additional equipment and continue landscaping.

SHI Rec. Center

New cushioned wooden flooring is currently being installed at the Springhill Lake Recreation Center to provide a safer surface for basketball, aerobics, and other active uses. The club house has been renovated. Some staff support will be paid by M-NCPPC. Goals for the building and its surrounding community are to provide more community awareness of the center's program and to provide greater opportunities "for the special needs of low-income and minority individuals and families." A SHI Parent Advisory Group was formed last year. This group of interested adults meets to assess center activities and recreation opportunities.

Total budget expenditures proposed for FY94 are $158,300.

City Manager Daniel Hobbs reported that the city has drawn up plans to enlarge the SHL Rec. Center using Community Development Block Grant funds. The estimate is $360,000.

Youth Center

Renovation of the men's locker room and weight room into men's and women's locker rooms is well along, Irving reported. Some facelift measures are underway for the game room and the lobby, plus a coordinated color scheme throughout the building. The total cost of operating the city's largest recreation center is projected at $198,000.

Public/Private

Efforts by the Recreation Department to encourage a partnership with private businesses has brought in significant help over the years from the Lions Club, which is offering three scholarships for needy children for Camp Pine Tree and made a donation to the therapeutic recreation program; the American Legion, which has cosponsored the Christmas and Easter children's programs and will host this year's Greenbelt Day celebration; the Lerner Corporation, manager of Springhill Lake, who made a donation toward equipment and maintenance of the SHL Rec. Center; and the Mead Foundation which has supported the summer arts camp. Many Greenbelt businesses contribute free gifts for special events throughout the year.

Unmet Needs

The pair of tennis courts on Lakecrest Drive needs a new fence ($10,000) and resurfacing ($20,000). Irving told council he would like that project moved forward on the city's list of needed capital improvements.

He and Hobbs disagreed over how to fund the three department employees who plan to take work-related college courses next year. An incentive program offered to all city employees, Irving objected to having the required dollars come out of his limited budget. Hobbs said each department head had been required to make tough decisions. Council listened to the argument, but took no action.

POLICE BUDGET

(Continued from page one) the feasibility of using temporary enforcement professionals. She suggested the idea of drawing from a staff pool to fill the position only when there was a need for additional personnel. Bram pointed out that temporary staffing would allow the city to avoid the additional costs of having to pay for an employee benefits package.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld also suggested the possibility of hiring part time workers. He said part time employees are not as likely to be seeking career opportunities which might cause them to change jobs. Weidenfeld added that because of the fewer hours worked, part timers would experience less job-related stress.

Chief Craze acknowledged the merits of both ideas and said that he would not close the door to the issues suggested. However, the chief indicated that he favored a solution that would "professionalize" the position by hiring a more permanent employee. Craze explained his position by characterizing the job as "a lifeline to the public."

Traffic Unit

Lt. Daniel O'Neil emphasized the need for a traffic unit which would be dedicated to enforcing traffic laws and investigating accidents. Duties of the unit would also include driving while intoxicated (DWI) enforcement.

O'Neil said the request was made in anticipation of the new Greenbelt Metro station due to open late this year.

O'Neil also requested funding to purchase four police vehicles to replace existing cars which should be removed from service. The cost of the acquisition would total $85,125. Also requested was additional funding for officer protection when dealing with civil disturbances (riot gear). Several large scale altercations were cited which seemed to come as a surprise to several of the council members. Another request included a lifeguard alert system for police canine units.

Pay Differential

FOP president Robert Keller requested $38,000 for night differential pay for police officers who work for more than half of their shift between the hours of 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. He also asked for funding to replace one officer position lost through attrition when the department's automation analyst position was "civilianized." That position had been performed full time by an officer but is now being performed by a non-officer employee. Keller also called for expansion of the take-home car program so that officers could live outside of Prince Georges County or south of Central Avenue and be able to take their vehicles home when off duty.

A Few Words From GHI Board Candidate

Alan Freas

Regarding GHI Fee-For-Service

Have you ever heard someone say, "GHI is ripping off the members"? I certainly have, and far too many times. A number of us have explained the program to individuals or small groups, but still this statement persists, so here's the story for all to see.

Several years ago the Board established this program at the request of members who wanted a convenient alternative to trying to find private contractors. It is there for those members who wish to use it - no one is required to call them. If you do call and get a proposal and feel the cost is too high, don't accept the proposal - find someone else. If you do accept, it is your free choice to pay that price.

As for the amount charged, you must remember first and foremost, that it is money paid in by all 1,600 members that is being expended to provide a service that will benefit one individual member. The fee is set to recover from that one benefitting member the cost of materials, labor, and attendant administrative and management costs. Would you have GHI do otherwise with your money?

Finally, after the work is completed, the member is sent an invoice, and asked to pay within 30 days. The member is also told that interest will accrue at 1-1/2% per month after that time. After 30 days, it truly becomes a loan of your money to one member, and interest is only right and proper. Would you have it any other way?

Office Park Wins Award for Recycling

The Prince Georges Business Recycling Advisory Council presented awards to county businesses that have made recycling part of their operating policy. Awards were presented on April 21 in Landover by County Executive Parris N. Glendening.

Among those receiving awards was Greenbelt's Capital Office Park/Community Realty. Capital Office Park recycles between 15 and 20 tons of white paper each month—the largest recycler of white office paper in the county. David Dawson, property manager, Capital Office Park says that recycling has caused their waste hauling costs to drop by 50 percent in the last 1½ years. Dawson says "all the credit goes to our tenants, those employees who participate in the recycling program."

CRIME RATE Per 1,000 Population

Greenbelt Crime in Review

by James Giese

Included in the city budget document is a short article, 1992 in Review, for the Police Department. The article notes that overall, the number of Class I crimes remained the same for 1992 as they were for 1991. Arrests for 1992 declined by eight percent for adults and by three percent for juveniles. This leveling off is in contrast to increases in the number of crimes by eight percent and four percent in 1990 and 1991 respectively.

The report contends that Greenbelt is one of the safer communities in the Washington Metropolitan Area. For example, FBI Uniform Crime Reporting Program statistics indicate a crime rate here of 57.2 per 1,000 population. The report compares this to the crime rates of the county and other nearby communities: Hyattsville, 66.7; Laurel, 67.6; Takoma Park, 69.8; and Prince Georges County, 73.6 (see display graph).

As to the various types of crime being committed, rapes, robberies and breaking and entering/burglaries all were down significantly. One category, however, thefts increased by 11 percent.

Demographics

Of the 1,126 persons arrested in 1992, 906 were adults and 220 were juveniles. In racial composition, 58.5 percent were African Americans, 36.5 percent European Americans, 3.6 percent Hispanic Americans, 1.3 percent Asian Americans and .1 percent Native Americans. Residents of Prince Georges County outside of Greenbelt made up the largest segment of arrested persons (44.6 percent). City residents accounted for 25.9 percent of the arrests. Out of state residents comprised 19.2 percent of those arrested and 19.2 percent were Maryland residents from other counties. A few persons, 1.1 percent, had no fixed address.

Effectiveness

As a measure of effectiveness, the department cites a comparison of the percentage of cases cleared by arrests to that of other area police departments. For the county as a whole, the average rate of clearance was 14 percent. Greenbelt was 16 percent. However, of the jurisdictions compared, Laurel took the lead with a 24 percent clearance record (see accompanying graph).

As to other departmental statistics, while call for services increased only slightly, there was a 30 percent increase in the number of police reports taken. Most startling, and possibly reflecting area road construction was a 75 percent increase in motor vehicle accidents—from 655 in 1991 to 1,145 in 1992. Traffic summonses, on the other hand were down 19 percent while the number of parking tickets issued increased by 5 percent.

Animal Calls

The Animal Wardens are a part of the Police Department. The number of calls for the warden increased from 3,500 to 3,860 and the number of animals impounded increased from 175 to 300 between 1991 and 1992. The department attributes one reason for this increase to an increase in animals-at-large complaints — particularly in the "wild" cat population.

Also on the increase was the number of animals tested for rabies. It tripled. Three raccoons were found to be rabid.

Animal cruelty complaints, including animal neglect, were also up. Most neglect cases are handled through the issuance of warnings and the education of pet owners on proper animal care.

CRIMINAL CASES CLEARED

Residents Arrested

On April 22, at approximately 1:25 a.m., the Greenbelt Police Department Narcotics Investigations Unit executed a search and seizure warrant at 65-G Ridge Road.

As a result, a quantity of marijuana was seized. Arrested and charged with Distribution of a Controlled Dangerous Substance and Maintaining a Common Nuisance were Roy Colvin and Christopher Colvin, both of 65-G Ridge Road. Roy Colvin was released on personal recognizance while Christopher Colvin was incarcerated in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Police Blotter

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

A 21-year-old resident man was arrested and charged with breaking and entering an office suite in the 7300 block of Hanover Pkwy. on April 18. The man appeared before a District Court Commissioner and was held on $10,000 bond pending trial.

A 34-year-old resident man was arrested and charged with two counts of battery on April 18 after he had punched a woman in the face during a domestic dispute and then pushed an officer while trying to flee the police. He appeared before a District Court Commissioner and was held on $1,000 bond pending trial.

Responding to a report of a possible stolen vehicle in the area of Breezewood Court and Springhill Lane on April 18, officers located a 1982 Toyota Cressida that had indeed been reported stolen. The car was occupied by three youths. Although the car sped away, it was later found in the 6400 block of Ivy Lane, and the youths were apprehended as they were trying to run away. Two of the youths are 17 years old; one is 16. None is a resident. All were released to their parents pending trial.

While patrolling the 7700 block of Hanover Pkwy. on April 19, an officer stopped a vehicle for an equipment violation and found that its registration plates had been reported stolen. Consequently, a 28-year-old nonresident man was arrested and charged with theft. He appeared before a District Court Commissioner and was released pending trial.

A 1987 four-door Isuzu I-Mark was reported stolen from the 6000 block of Greenbelt Road on April 16; it was later recovered.

A gray, 1980 Honda Accord, California tags 1AFM680, was reported stolen from the 7400 block of Greenway Center Drive on April 16.

On April 17 a 1990 Nissan Sentra was reported stolen from the 6100 block of Breezewood Drive. It was later recovered.

A dark blue, four-door, 1986 Toyota Camry LE, MD tags ZYW371, was reported stolen on April 21.

A gray, four-door, 1986 Mazda 323, MD tags NAC329, was reported stolen from the 7800 block of Mandan Road on April 21.

Vandalisms to, thefts from, and attempted thefts of autos were reported in the following areas: the 6400 block of Capitol Drive, the 9100 and 9200 blocks of Edmonston Road, the 6000 block of Greenbelt Road, the 7700 block of Hanover Pkwy., the 7600, 7800, and 8100 blocks of Mandan Road, the 400 block of Ridge Road, the 9100 block of Springhill Court, and the 9200 block of Springhill Lane.

Host Families Sought

Host families are being sought for high school students from Scandinavia, Europe, Asia, South America and Australia for the 1993-94 school year in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

The students, ages 15 through 18, will arrive in the United States in August, attend a local high school and return to their home countries in June of 1994. The students, all fluent in English, have been carefully screened by the local representatives in their home countries, and have their own medical insurance and spending money.

Host families participating in this program may deduct $50 per month for income tax purposes.

AISE is also seeking American high school students ages 15 through 17, who would like to spend either a school year or a summer abroad.

Interested persons should call 1-800-SIBLING for further information.

of the Board meeting focused on shortening the length of the annual meeting! Because of the length of last year's meeting, Director Levin made a motion that the upcoming meeting start at 6:30 p.m. Most Board members felt that this early starting time would create too many problems for the majority of GHI's members. Director Williams made a number of suggestions. They included: allowing each member to speak once on a given issue: limiting each speaker to three minutes and encouraging the membership "to call the question," thus ending debate. Having two stationary microphones and requesting speakers to line up would minimize confusion about the order of speakers. The Board recognized and agreed that an official parliamentarian was needed.

The only bylaw revision to be considered at this annual meeting is one concerning absentee ballots. It was proposed by the membership at last year's annual meeting. The final version will be submitted to the membership for approval.

The Board also adopted the agenda for the annual meeting.

The Greenbelt Nursery School and Kindergarten would like to thank the following Greenbelt merchants for their donations to our Spring Fair and Silent Auction. The Spring Fair and Silent Auction will be held this Saturday (May 1st) from 9-2 at our school, 1 Hillside Road (behind the Community Church).

JOE'S TIPS OF THE WEEK

Hello again !!!

It's warming up outside, so we're going to be using the air conditioners in our vehicles soon. But before you hit that switch, check the system to make sure you'll get fresh, cool air.

First, make sure the air conditioning drive belt has proper tension and is free from oil and grease. Also check belt for rips, tears and dry rot cracks.

Second, take a look at the front of the air conditioning condenser, which is located at the very front of the vehicle behind the grill area. Make sure this area is free from leaves and other debris that may block air flow.

Third, check all cooling system components to see if they are intact and antifreeze is properly mixed. The air conditioning system strains the cooling system and will cause the engine to run hotter than usual.

If you have any questions about your air conditioning system or about any other components, just give us a call.

TILL NEXT TIME

Need Host Families

Host families are being sought for 25 high school students from France, Germany, Belgium, Spain, Denmark and other foreign countries for the upcoming school year, in a program sponsored by the American International Youth Student Exchange Program (AIYSEP).

The students, age 15 through 18, will arrive in late August, attend local high schools and return to their home country in June, next year.

The students, all fluent in English, have been screened by school representatives in their home countries and will have spending money and medical insurance. Host families may deduct $50 per month for income tax purposes.

Anyone who is interested in hosting, please contact the AIYSEP International Headquarters: Office of the Director, 200 Round Hill Road, Tiburon, CA 94920. 415-499-7669 or 1-800-347-7575.

and have its tongue uncoil with an air pump, among other tasks.

First time team member Christina Zugby said, "It was fun. I liked the competition and you get to make things. I plan to do it next year."

Megan Thomas, another team member, said that this is her fourth year doing it.

"It's a lot of fun. You get to be creative and get to look weird, but people don't laugh at you," she said.

Other Competitions

The team in the "Which End is Up" competition included Greenbelters Desiree Volkmer and David Vetro. Their team placed second in the county competition. Their task was to design a wooden structure that could support as much weight as possible. The team decided to construct a tower with four columns.

Team member Desiree Volkmer expressed positive feelings about OM.

"I liked it. You get to express your ideas and nobody tells you they're wrong."

The team competing in the "Old Man and the Sea" competition had to present a performance based on that story while incorporating an analogy of their interpretation of it. Their efforts earned them second place in the county OM. Greenbelt team members included Erin Hyde, Lavettia Wilson and Kimberly Nelson.

Greenbelt Middle School also had a team winning third place in the "Folk Tale" competition. They had to create and perform a folk tale. Greenbelt members included Katie Lee, Heather Durance and Leta Green.

Erin Hyde, a member of the "Old Man and the Sea" reflected on her experience participating on the team.

"I got to do something that was new to me. I could bring out my emotions and intellect. Usually I'm afraid being on stage, but I was on for eight minutes. It was a new experience for me. I had faith in myself and others had faith in me."

Maha Fadli, the team's coordinator, felt "it was an exciting day for everyone."

Katie Lee, who participated in the "Folk Tale" competition, summed up the creative spirit of OM when she said, "There was no idea that was wrong. We could be as creative as we wanted; we could go as far as we wanted."

All the students said they plan to be involved next year in OM. For now, they are planning a field trip to see the World Competition that will be held at the University of Maryland, College Park, between June 3 and 5.

Attention All GHI Members: The 1993

Annual Meeting and General Elections will be held May 19-20. This is YOUR opportunity to decide who will serve on YOUR GHI Board of Directors and Audit Committee.

Voting in a GHI election is a privilege only 1,600 people on the planet can experience.

But consider this: last year only 22.5% of all eligible members bothered to vote.

Only 22.5%! Put another way... if GHI was a country, it would have one of the worst voting records in the entire world!

It's an embarrassing statistic... but not something that can't be turned around. May 19 is YOUR chance to really make a difference in YOUR corporation. Put the power of YOUR GHI membership to work — VOTE!

NEED A RIDE IN ORDER TO VOTE?

Free van rides will be available May 20 from 9:30 a.m. - 11:00 a.m. and again from 2:00 p.m. - 3:30 p.m. For more details, call Joan Krob (474-4161). The Greenbelt Connection (474-4100) also offers rides anywhere in Greenbelt for $1 each way. (Note: members who do not have a ride to the Annual Meeting (May 19) should talk to someone in their court to arrange transportation.)

1993 GHI Annual Membership Meeting:

Wednesday, May 19, 8:00 p.m.

at the P&G Movie Theatre at Roosevelt Center.

VOTING

Voting for the GHI Nominations & Elections Committee (NE/C) will take place during the meeting.

Voting for the GHI Board of Directors and GHI Audit Committee will take place upon recess of the Annual Meeting and all day Thursday, May 20, at the City Administration Building, 25 Crescent Rd., from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.
