Adopted Legislation Furthers County Setting Growth Policy

by James Giese

The Prince George's County Council recently passed two pieces of legislation to upgrade the quality of new townhouses to be built in the county and to eliminate the Moderately Priced Dwelling Units (MPDU) program. These measures are part of the development of a new comprehensive growth policy for the county according to Greenbelt's representative, on the county council, Audrey Scott. Scott says the county council has been meeting in worksessions for the past two years to examine the issue of growth. The council has acknowledged in a mission statement that the growth policy is realistic, fiscally responsible and based on clear legal standards. It will protect and advance the health and safety of the county's citizens, the integrity of their neighborhoods and the quality of their environment while fostering desired economic development in the context of the region's growth.

"Like Kudzu"

According to Scott, the new legislation came about in response to a concern that the county, over the past several decades, has become the "affordable housing capital of the region." She noted that garden apartments had flourished in the sixties and seventies and that in the eighties and nineties, townhouses had grown "like kudzu." While the neighboring counties had produced balanced communities with relatively equal shares of upscale and mid-priced single family housing, townhouses and apartments, Prince George's County "developed lopsided ratios with a heavy emphasis on the lower end of the housing market," she said. The new legislation requires townhouses to have brick or stone fronts and minimum square footages of at least 1,250. They will also have to be at least 20 feet wide.

"The wonder is that, until now, a growth policy had never been adopted in Prince George's County,"

Audrey Scott, County Council

Other legislation enacted eliminates the MPDU program. That program allowed developers to increase their densities in exchange for providing lower income houses as a percentage of each development. The lower priced units were supposedly unchanged on the outside, but had fewer interior upgrades. The County Department of Housing and Community Development was responsible for marketing these lower priced units. Scott says the developers' desire for increased densities produced a surplus of MPDU's and many units have been left vacant while the county searched for qualified buyers.

Upscale Housing

Since there is an inordinate amount of low income housing already available, Scott says the task of the county government is to attract the upscale housing market suitable for purchase by executives. She singles out the Donatelli and Klein developments of Longleaf and Westwood in Bowie as meeting these objectives. These homes are being built on larger lots to sell for from between $250 and $400 thousand. The present effort to modify and eliminate some past housing policies is consistent with the recommendations of the Housing Policy Task force established last year by County Executive Wayne Curry. According to Scott, the goal is to establish balance in the housing mix, and to

Greenbelt New Year's Party

By Eileen Peterson

Greenbelters will dance their way into 1997 on New Year's Eve at the Community Center — with jigs, reels, polkas, waltzes and other interesting steps — at a non-alcoholic six hour celebration cosponsored by the Greenbelt Recreation Department.

Tickets at a Discount

Advance ticket sales at the Community Center (or by phone or mail by credit card) will be at a lesser price only through Friday, December 27 (see ad elsewhere).

Music and Fun

Doors will open at 5 p.m. to give partygoers the chance for last-minute ticket purchases and time to explore the Community Center.

Programs for this family-oriented evening begin at 6 p.m. The New Deal Cafe will serve a varied menu throughout the evening.

In the gym, Fiddlestyx will provide fiddle, guitar and bass background for caller Lou Shapiro, who will teach beginners the varied dances from 8 to 9 p.m. (and before every song for quick learners who arrive late). The music for contra-dancing has its origins in Ireland, England, Scotland, New England, French-Canada and the American South, explains Shapiro, with a waltz or two or a polka. Country dancing with partners will be broken by the occasional couple dances.

Other Music

In the New Deal Cafe, Bridges to Bliss will perform live folk, childrens' music, country and show tunes from 6 - 8 p.m. They will be followed by an assortment of musicians and then two hours of the Chromatics, a 10-member a cappella group which has performed in Greenbelt numerous times.

Classical to jazz music will be presented by the Eleanor Roosevelt High School Woodwind and Brass Quintets in two separate, hour-long concerts in the building.

For Everyone

Kids Bingo, Arts & Crafts, Double Dutch demonstrations and a clinic are among the many programs planned.

Every hour on the hour, "midnights" in other areas of the world will be celebrated, providing children a glimpse of how other nations celebrate the New Year.

Dances will be performed by the African Dance Troupe from the Thomas Pullen Arts Magnet School. There will be surprises for young and old: face painting and a wall painting by partygoers (under the direction of artist Mike McMullin) to name two.

Rock Into the New Year

Three bands will provide heavy beats in the multipurpose room upstairs. The evening is cosponsored by the Eleanor

Program

A printed program will guide everyone to the various activities. For more information, call the Community Center at 301-397-2208.

Especially for the Young

There will be activities for all ages until midnight but parents wishing sleepover child sitting should contact the Recreation Department. There is limited space in their program, and the deadline is Dec. 27.

Midnight

There will be a midnight countdown in the gym, and dancing will continue. The building will close at 1 a.m.

Volunteers Needed

Help is still needed for this community party. Please call Joe McNeal at the Community Center or Larry Hilliard, the evening's coordinator, at 301-474-7504.

Santa Checks out Who's Been Naughty or Nice

by Heather Elizabeth Peterson

"It's nice and warm here in Greenbelt," announced Santa Claus as he walked down the hallway of the Community Center. "It was below zero up in the North Pole. I couldn't even take a shower—the water was frozen."

The Recreation Department's chatty Santa—known in his off-duty hours as Joe O'Loughlin—paid a visit to Greenbelt children on December 14. He took on the traditional duty of discovering who had been naughty or nice during the past year, but his conversations with the children who visited him that morning provided much amusement for the adults who attended the occasion.

There was a general consensus among the children that on Christmas Eve they should leave milk and chocolate chip cookies for Santa. "I'm going to open up a milk and cookie factory," Santa declared. The children also agreed that the reindeer should receive carrots and water, though one girl offered to give the reindeer cupcakes, and another planned to leave a flower.

Each child, though, had an individual manner of approaching Santa Claus. Some children reacted with tears at the suggestion that they should sit on Santa's lap. Others ran eagerly to Santa. Most perched uneasily on Santa's knee, answering his questions in shy voices.

Parents did their best to encourage their children to talk to Santa and face the cameras recording the event. "Smile! Say cappuccino!" cried one father.

In turn, Santa urged the children to speak up. "Can you say that louder?" Santa asked one girl. "Santa's deaf."

The girl said obediently, "Santa's deaf."

Santa did his best to promise presents to all the good children, but he obviously had some limits. He explained patiently to one girl

Carriers Bring Greetings

Around this time of year it is customary for the News Review delivery boys and girls to make personal calls on the homes they service to present holiday greetings envelopes. The News Review's financial position is such that we cannot pay our carriers very much. They are therefore dependent on generous holiday donations to supplement their nominal pay.

Most of the carriers range in age from pre-teen to the middle teens. For the younger boys and girls, delivering the News Review is their first job experience. Many of the older carriers started at a young age and continue to deliver the News Review mainly as a service to their neighborhood. It is a learning process for all these youngsters and, in some cases, the instillation of responsibility takes time and patience.

The holiday season affords us all a chance to show appreciation and to provide encouragement for the efforts of these youngsters and at the same time to show understanding for any failings that might have occurred during the year.

Again this year the carriers will leave envelopes when they find no one at home. We hope these envelopes, equipped with our carriers names and addresses, will be helpful to our readers who wish to show appreciation. In case the carrier's name or address is in doubt, envelopes may be mailed to the News Review, 15 Crescent Road, Suite 100, Greenbelt, MD 20770-1887, for forwarding. Please include your address so we can identify your carrier.

Greenbelt CARES

Judye Hering met with Martin Black on Wednesday, December 4. Black is the Youth Director from Kent Youth, a prevention program serving youth in Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne, Caroline and Talbot Counties. Kent Youth is in the process of setting up a volunteer tutoring program and would like to use Greenbelt CARES Volunteer Tutoring Program as a model.

An average of 21 families participated in regular, schedule counseling during November. 46 individuals were involved, 50% of them children and youth under 18 years of age. Weekly tutoring sessions were held in a wide variety of subjects. 54 students participated this month.

Judye Hering held the December tutor's workshop on Saturday, December 7. Topics for discussion included Teaching Grammar, Mathphobia, and Communication Skills. Three tutors attended the workshop.

Woodrow Wallace, a representative of the Prince George's Health Department, gave a presentation Wednesday night to the CARES Family Clinic staff on Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS): its transmittal, typical course, and current treatment options.

Judye Hering met with Richie Scott, Education Director at CBC (Community Based Classroom) in Lanham, on Wednesday, December 11. They discussed the alternative education system: goals, objectives, successful outcomes of programs, and how we can better service student populations.

On Wednesday, Wendy Wexler completed her eighth week session of the Greenbelt CARES Discussion Group at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. Next week she will interview students as prospective members for a new group to start in early January. Interested students should contact their guidance counselors.

Judye Hering attended a meeting of the Prince George's Volunteer Coordinator's Association on Thursday, December 12. They planned training programs and activities for 1997, designed to meet the needs of volunteer programs in Prince George's County. Hering was asked to be the Secretary of the Coordinator's Association.

On Friday, Tammy Mountcastle attended a conference entitled "Victims of Incest: Children and Their Families." the conference was presented by The Sexual Assault Center and was held at the Prince George's Hospital Center.

Hering began publicizing the CARES' free Babysitting Course, to be held Monday, December 30, from 1 - 4 p.m. in the Conference Room. Please call CARES for more information.

GROWTH

create neighborhoods that will stabilize and improve the county's economic base.

The implementation of a comprehensive growth policy plan is needed because of the county's fiscal situation and the council's desire to be more responsible in balancing growth, providing adequate public facilities and conserving natural resources, Scott says. The county is presently unable to keep up with the current demand for road and school improvements and other public facility needs.

Controls

Scott believes the plan will restrict future development by controlling the number of development approvals granted. It will also have to dovetail with the county's economic development strategy. That is a radical change for the county, Scott says. However, talk of moratoriums and down zoning that have made the development community extremely nervous is not the intent of the county's efforts. The ultimate goal is to provide assurances and consistency where none existed before.

Scott expects the process to include a review and the adoption of a new ordinance every two years. The growth policy ordinance would identify core areas for growth, and set annual limits on the numbers of building permits for residential and nonresidential projects. Previously approved projects would have time limits for their implementation. New adequate public facilities standards would be adopted that would require funding for all public facilities needed to support any new development.

Letters to the Editor

Thanks

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to the following people for the support and confidence they committed to my son, William "Bay" Bowden, a senior at Eleanor Roosevelt High School and a member of the Roosevelt football team. Bay is a Greenbelt resident that we all are proud of, especially his father, William Bowden, Jr., who coached him in Greenbelt's Girls and Boys Club. My sincere gratitude to his former coach, Rick Houchens, who was instrumental in guiding his success during the three years he was at Roosevelt; coach Bob Green, who has been with Bay from the start of his playing in Boys & Girls Club football and who was also a great inspiration to him. My thanks to William's good friend and neighbor, who came to his games and worked out with him, Jim Culmone; and also to William's Roosevelt teammates and Coach McGroarty, who were elated at the season they had this year.

Thank you to the school body who cheered and supported the team and all who acknowledged my son's talent as a student athlete and a role model. While maintaining a 4.0 grade point average, Bay was instrumental in helping bring Roosevelt to the championship play-off for the first time in the history of the school! To his teachers, who taught him well; his pastor, who spiritually guided him; and last but not least his brothers and sisters, who admire him greatly, my sincere thanks.

Shawn Bowden

Editors Note: The Eleanor Roosevelt High School football team, on which Bay Bowden was a valuable player, reached the state championship final this year for the first time. The team lost the championship to Sherwood High.

Thanks

Roosevelt Center is looking great this year! The local merchants thank the city workers for doing a great job. We'd especially like to thank Terry Pinckney for going the extra step to ensure the Center is in top shape. His vigilance is admirable. It is rare to see someone so dedicated to doing his job. We hope he chooses to stay for a long time!

Our Neighbors

by Linda Savaryn

Greenbelters are saddened to hear of the death of former resident Martha Jane (Hoffman) Brashears who was stricken by an aneurism on December 5.

Condolences to Jeanie McAndrew, of Greenbriar, who lost her father, William McAndrew of District Heights, in a tragic car accident on December 6.

Our sympathy to Jean Jones and family upon the death of husband, father and grandfather George R. Jones. A long-time resident, he was known to many Greenbelters through his numerous community and church related activities.

Glen Lee recently graduated from Ultrasound Diagnostic School in Silver Spring. He received training to become a medical diagnostic ultrasound technologist.

Regina Nelson is one of more than 500 student musicians who participated in St. Olaf College's world-renowned Christmas Festival Concert in Minnesota. Nelson is a soprano in the St. Olaf Cantorei.

Marine Staff Sgt. Steven C. Post, son of Ingrid Post of Mandan Road, has departed on a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea with the 26th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU), embarked aboard the ships of the USS Nassau Amphibious Readiness Group (ARG).

Former Greenbelter, Diane Bodner Brakston, is the proud mother of her first-born, Sarah. Sarah was born September 7, 1996

GED Programs

Greenbelt CARES will begin the winter 10-week GED program on Tuesday, January 14, 1997. (The course will end on Thursday, March 20.)

GED I is held from 10:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. GED II is held from 1 - 3 p.m.

GED I is for students who need review of basic math (addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, fractions, decimals, percentages and word problems) and English grammar skills.

GED II is for students who have successfully completed GED I and/or are ready to learn algebra and geometry, English literature and writing skills, and prepare to take the GED test.

GED is held every Tuesday and Thursday, for 10 weeks, in the Municipal Building Conference Room, 25 Crescent Road, Greenbelt, MD 20770. There is no charge for Greenbelt residents in either course, but students are required to purchase a copy of the textbook (purchased from Greenbelt CARES) at a cost of $11. Non-Greenbelt residents are required to pay a $100 registration fee.

Students do not have to be 16 years of age in order to take the GED course. Students are eligible to take a GED pre-test given at Greenbelt CARES at no cost. The actual GED test is given by the State of Maryland, not Greenbelt CARES. However, students who are ready to take the test can obtain the application forms from Greenbelt CARES.

Questions and enrollment information regarding either GED I or GED II should be directed to Judy Hering, course instructor, at Greenbelt CARES, 301-345-6660.

in St. Joseph's Hospital, Kansas. Diane, her husband Patrick, and Sarah will be traveling to Greenbelt for the Christmas holidays to visit with Diane's family — her mother, Mary Jane Bodner, her sisters, Denise and Debbie and brothers Bob and Dan.

Museum Notes

The Greenbelt Museum is decorated for Christmas with glass ornaments and Christmas cards of the 1930s and 1940s. Of special interest is the metal toy train set recently donated by pioneer Lucille Howell. Howell purchased the wind up trains for her husband in 1937 at People's Drug Store for $1.98. The Museum is located at 10-B Crescent Road, and is open every Sunday from 1 - 5 p.m.

The MARPAT Foundation recently awarded the Friends of the Greenbelt Museum a $4,600 grant to implement an educational outreach program aimed at sixth grade elementary students in Prince George's County schools. The purpose of the program will be to teach young people about the value of planned communities, focusing on why Greenbelt is different from any other suburban jurisdiction in the Washington area. FOGM is matching the MARPAT grant with other funds received from the Prince George's County government to develop the materials for the program.

SANTA

that Greenbelt has a law against residents keeping live ponies. To another girl he said, "A saxophone? You want a real saxophone? You going to make enough money with it to support Mommy?"

Some children came well prepared to explain their needs to Santa. One boy hurried up to Santa and immediately began unfolding an advertising brochure to show what he wanted. Another girl was even better equipped. "Holy mackerel!" exclaimed Santa. "A list ten feet long! . . . My reindeer couldn't even get off the ground with that list."

Day of Reckoning

Children who wanted gifts for Christmas discovered that the day of reckoning had arrived. "How's your schoolwork?" Santa asked various children. "Do you boss your brother? . . . Do you hit your sister? . . . I can see by looking at your Daddy that we have a lot to talk about."

Santa's standards were very high, as one boy learned. "Do you do well in school?" Santa asked. When he received an affirmative answer, he added, "That's not what I hear."

"I get almost all A's," the boy said indignantly.

"You have to get all A's," Santa replied.

At the end of each visit, Santa handed each child a candy cane, though he warned one boy, "That may be the most you get." Perhaps the most poignant moment of Santa's visit came during one such presentation.

A boy, who had earlier announced that he wanted a candy machine, was told by Santa that there was only one candy cane left. Would he give the candy to his younger brother, or keep it for himself?

The boy struggled with this dilemma for a moment, then handed the candy cane to his brother. Christmas had arrived.

Molly is prepped on what to say when she meets Santa.

Think Recycling Even in Holidays

Here are some holiday recycling tips:

When shopping, be mindful of excessive packaging. Here are some gift ideas that use little or no packaging: diaper service for a new baby, car tune-up gift certificate, homemade gifts and baked goods, framed pictures, tickets to movies, sports events, or concerts, or a basket with goodies and a bow.

Rechargeable batteries and charging unit, a mulching blade for the lawnmower, stationery made from recycled paper, a light timer or a charitable donation made in another person's name are also good environmental choices.

Use holiday cards that have recycled content, and consider wrapping gifts in paper made from recycled materials. For really big gifts or children's things, use the Sunday comics. Many people enjoy reusable decorative gift bags.

Used wrapping paper (except foil), magazines and holiday catalogs are recyclable and should be set out on recycling day or dropped off at the "mixed paper" bin at Buddy Attick Park.

After the holidays, the city will collect Christmas trees and grind the trees into mulch. Watch the News Review for drop-off locations. Remember to bag those packaging "peanuts" and bubble wrap and bring materials to the Parcel Plus at the Greenway Center or to the Recycling Center for reuse.

For more information on the City of Greenbelt's recycling program, call Jennifer Foley, Recycling Coordinator at 474-8308.

O'Brien Wins Door Decorating Contest

The winner in the first Greenbelt Christmas Door Decorating Contest sponsored by the Greenbelt Home and Garden Club was Bonnie Beck O'Brien of 3 Pinecrest Court. The winning entry was made of natural plant materials — apples, oranges, lemons and tangerines nestled in fresh cut greenery and enhanced by a red plaid bow. The prize given was a slate address plaque painted by Susan Phillips, a local artist with a studio in Greenbelt's Community Center.

The other entrants in the competition were Katrina Boverman, Jim Maher, Mary Linstrom, Ruth Morris, Pearl Siegal, Winnie Taylor, Irma Tetzloff and Becky Weaver.

The Garden Club's first event in the new year, Jan. 9, will include the Pampered Chef.

Green Line Extends To Farragut North

Beginning in early January, Metro will operate direct rail service between Greenbelt Station and Farragut North during rush hours and special events. The new service will eliminate the need for passengers on the outer Green Line (Greenbelt, College Park, Prince Georges Plaza, and West Hyattsville Stations) to transfer to the Red Line at Fort Totten in order to go to locations in the downtown area.

The direct service is part of a test project, initiated by Metro, to upgrade customer service and increase ridership. Depending on the project's success, Metro may extend the service beyond the three to six month period currently planned. In addition to increasing ridership, Metro expects that the service between Greenbelt and Farragut North will alleviate parking congestion at nearby Metro Stations, as riders who currently board at Forest Glen, Fort Totten, New Carrollton, and Addison Road use the Green Line stations to travel downtown. Parking at Forest Glen, Fort Totten, New Carrollton, and Addison Road is usually full by 8 a.m., while parking on the outer portions of the Green Line is under-utilized.

The inner portion of the Green Line, which will connect the two outer sections and pro-

Tricentennial Exhibit At U. of Maryland

"300 Candles: Slices of Prince George's County History" is the title of an exhibit created by the McKeldin Library at the University of Maryland College Park. The exhibit features items from both the Library Archives and Marylandia/Rare Books. The exhibit will run through December 24. For more information, call 301-405-9125.

A direct ride to the downtown area, will be complete in late 1999. The two new stations, Georgia Avenue-Petworth and Columbia Heights, will complete the link between U Street-Cardozo and Fort Totten.

The direct service on the Green Line will not affect service on the Red Line.

Holiday Donations

Residents may want to consider donating items no longer in use by their families to charities this holiday season. Large items in reasonably good condition, including couches, bookshelves, mattresses and other furniture can make the holidays more cheerful for many less fortunate. Arrangements for pickup can be made with a phone call to the American Rescue Workers (301-336-6200) or the Salvation Army (301-277-7878). And remember, the monthly donation drop-off is the second Saturday of every month. A truck from the American Rescue Workers collects clothes, books, lamps, and small household items behind City Hall from 9 a.m. to noon.

For more information, call Jennifer Foley, City of Greenbelt Recycling Coordinator at 301-474-8308.

Hubbard To Serve On NCSL Committee

Maryland State Delegate James W. Hubbard, 23rd District, has been named Vice-Chairman of the Environment Committee of the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) and will work over the coming year to influence federal legislation on the behalf of states. As Vice-Chairman of the national group, Hubbard said he will encourage national policy that makes programs more effective and more efficient and saves states money.

Last year, Hubbard served on the NCSL committee that worked to influence the passage of the Safe Drinking Water Act by Congress and a stronger partnership between the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and states for a continued effort to clean up the Chesapeake Bay.

December 1996

Dear Friends and Family,

It is with pride and love that we announce the retirement of Dr. Clayton McClarl, Sr. from our family dental practice. He and his wife Jane will miss all the relationships that have been built over 40 years of practice, but are ready to begin a new phase of life together.

It is difficult to measure a man's professional life just in terms of years of service and accolades, but we feel it would be appropriate to mention a few. Spanning the years from being a Greenbelt youth who met Eleanor Roosevelt, to devoted grandfather, he has been dedicated to various forms of public service.

Clayton Sr. graduated from the University of Maryland in 1952 and the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1956. He then joined his brother and father in dental practice in Greenbelt. Beginning in 1980, he welcomed his daughter Sally, his sons Clayton Jr., and Jay, and his nephew David into the dental practice.

His forty years of dentistry have been marked by a commitment to service. He has been the President of the University of Maryland Alumni Association, the Maryland State Dental Association, and various other professional groups and organizations. His career accomplishments have been recognized by his peers. He was the recipient of the lifetime achievement award by the Southern Maryland Dental Society and was elected to the American College of Dentists and to the International College of Dentists.

Perhaps more telling are the many volunteer positions he has held through the years: organizing the Fathers' Show at the elementary school fair; singing in a Barber shop Quartet at the Junior High Parents' Follies; having homecoming floats built in his garage; camping out over night with the kids for the school "Pig Roast;" etc, etc, etc.

You could always tell when "Sr." was in the building by the laughter from him and his patients at the end of his hallway. How many people can say they enjoyed coming to work for forty years? He can.

The laughter will continue as Jane and Clayton are off together to fun destinations. When at home, they'll be busy with their many projects, activities and nine grandchildren.

The "younger generation" looks forward to providing Clayton Sr.'s personal patients with the same care and attention he did. Without you the patients, none of this is possible. We wanted to share with you our fond memories as we thank a wonderful person for an outstanding professional career.

Sincerely,

Cherrywood Lane Restriped

by James Giese

Motorists strung up by the pressures of the Christmas rush might wish to drive over Cherrywood Lane between Breezewood Drive and Kenilworth Avenue to see if the city's efforts at traffic calming help. With the assistance of a Prince George's County Department of Public Works and Transportation (DPW&T) line painting crew, the street has been restriped to provide for only two travel lanes for automobiles.

Bicycle lanes in either direction are also provided. Parking along the street has been prohibited, except on the Springhill Lake side of the street from Breezewood to Springhill Drive. There is now a large painted median strip running down the center of the street, where vehicles are not supposed to travel, except for making left turns. If the city council becomes satisfied with the way the new lane markings work and if it can find the money, it may order the medians to be reconstructed as landscaped planting strips.

Greenbelt Public Works Director Carl Hirsch advises that the street marking work is not done, and some of it may not be completed until next spring, unless there is a good break in the weather. He would like the county crew to come back to mark a second set of yellow lines for the median strip. City crews also need to do considerable work, putting on the pavement crosshatch lines, crosswalks and bikelane symbols.

The new lane markings continue over the Cherrywood Lane bridge, where the county had recently restriped it to narrow the road to two travel lanes crossing over the center of the bridge. This was done as a precautionary measure as the county has found cracks in the outer sides of the bridge structures. Engineering studies are being done to determine what the problem is that caused the cracks.

The new lane markings place bicycle lanes immediately adjacent to the bridge sidewalks. This presents no problem according to DPW&T Associate Director of the Office of Project Management, Edward Binseel. Binseel said that the statement in the December 5 News Review that bicyclists are not permitted on the six-foot outer lanes was incorrect as a result of a misunderstanding of his comments. He said there was no problem with bicycles crossing the bridge along the sides.

The city also shifted the two travel lanes away from the center of the bridge in order to provide for the continuation of the median. Binseel expressed no concern either with these changes having been made.

Holiday Recycling

Remember to recycle during this holiday season. For every ton of material recycled, the city saves $49 at the landfill. In addition to holiday catalogs, gift boxes and non-metallic wrapping paper, old mail, newspapers and magazines are also recyclable. Flattened toy boxes with plastic windows removed and shipping boxes are also recyclable. Mixed paper should be placed in a brown paper bag, tied with string or placed in a permanent container and set out by 7 a.m. on the regular collection day. It is important to keep paper materials separate from other recyclables, which are collected by a separate recycling truck.

When entertaining, remember to recycle glass bottles and jars, steel and aluminum food cans, plastic milk and water jugs, plastic laundry detergent bottles and plastic soda bottles. Screw-on lids and caps should be removed and discarded. Residents should place glass, plastic and metal recyclables in their yellow recycling bin. Those needing a new yellow bin or more information should call Jennifer Foley, City Recycling Coordinator at 301-474-8308.

POLICE BLOTTER

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

Police dealt with two cases of domestic violence. One occurred in the 6200 block of Springhill Court on Friday, December 13, where a woman and her boyfriend had been engaged in a verbal argument. The quarrel escalated when he struck her several times in the face and abdomen. The victim was taken to Doctor's Community Hospital for injuries to her face, and the suspect, a resident, was arrested for assault. A computer check revealed that he already had an open warrant with the Arlington County Police Department.

The other incident took place in the 9100 block of Edmonston Ct. on Friday, December 6, where a domestic altercation broke out in a parking lot, with the victim being struck in the jaw. A 32-year-old resident male was arrested and charged with second degree assault.

Armed Robbery

A citizen who was just leaving his parked vehicle near the Beltway Plaza on Sunday, December 8 at about 2 p.m., was approached by two suspects, one of whom asked him for a light, then punched him in the face. As the victim struggled with the assailant, the second suspect told the first to stab the victim, who then turned over his money. Both suspects then fled on foot toward the mall.

They are described as black males in their 30s. One was 5'11", about 190 pounds, and wearing a black sweat shirt and black knit hat. The other was described as 6'1", 220 pounds, with short black hair and wearing a black parka type jacket.

Another armed robbery occurred on Thursday, December 6, near midnight in the 7500 block of Mandan Rd. The victim was about to enter his car in the parking lot when he was approached from behind and pinned between the door and the door frame. Demanding the victim's money, the suspect produced a knife. In a subsequent struggle, the victim received a minor cut on his hand. He then gave his wallet to the assailant, who fled to an awaiting vehicle, described as a large white mid-70s four-door, possibly a Dodge or Plymouth. The suspect is described as a black male, about 26, 5'7", 170 pounds, with black hair, brown eyes, a mustache, and wearing a black knit hat and dark clothing.

A woman walking from the parking lot of Chi Chi's Restaurant in the Greenway Plaza at around 6 p.m. on Tuesday, December 10, observed a man standing outside the restaurant. Saying, "How are you?" he suddenly wrenched her purse from her hand, breaking the strap. He then fled to a waiting vehicle, described as a Mazda four-door with Virginia tags ZKP3189. The suspect was a black male, 6'1", wearing a dark colored jacket, a black skull cap, and a black and white striped shirt and black pants. He was accompanied by another black male.

Drug Possession

The driver of a vehicle stopped in the 9200 block of Edmonston Rd. for a registration violation attempted to flee on foot after pulling into a parking lot. Ordered to stop and walk back toward the officer, he went to his vehicle instead and lunged into the driver's seat with his head and arms. Ordered out of the vehicle, he obeyed, while refusing to keep his hands in view. He was found to be in possession of a quantity of crack cocaine. A 22-year-old man from Landover, he was arrested and charged with possession and intent to distribute a controlled dangerous substance.

A Hyattsville juvenile taken into custody at the Giant supermarket for shoplifting was found to be in possession of a 'butterfly' type knife and of suspected marijuana and a pipe commonly used to smoke it. He was released to his mother pending court action.

A Greenbelt juvenile female and a 19-year-old male Springhill Lake resident were arrested in an apartment hallway in the 6200 block of Breezewood Dr., after police responded to a complaint of subjects smoking marijuana. Several people were in the hallway, one of whom was holding paraphernalia commonly used to smoke marijuana. Both persons arrested were observed using the paraphernalia, one of whom, trying to flee, was caught after a short foot chase.

Gun Possession

When an officer stopped a vehicle in the 100 block of Crescent Rd. for an equipment violation, he saw a handgun on the floorboard next to the driver's seat. After the driver, a 29-year-old Mt. Rainier man, was arrested and removed from the vehicle, officers discovered that the gun was a fully loaded 40 caliber semi-automatic and that a MAC 10 assault weapon with a magazine in it, although not loaded, was also in the car.

Burglaries

A burglary was reported to an office suite in the 6400 block of Golden Triangle Dr., where a brick was thrown through an exterior window to gain entry. Pagers and a TV/VCR combination were taken.

Another was reported at Boston Market, where money was taken.

Two burglaries were reported from Springhill Lake, one from the 6100 block of Breezewood Ct., where a television and stereo equipment were taken, and one from the 5800 block of Cherrywood Lane, where jewelry was taken. In both cases the method of entry was unknown.

A woman's coat was taken from a residence in the 8000 block of Mandan Rd., where entry was gained through an unlocked front door, and an attempted burglary was reported from the 100 block of Lakeside Dr. There someone had tried to pry open a livingroom window.

Thefts and Stolen Cars

An unattended wallet was taken from a desk in an office suite in the 6400 block of Golden Triangle Dr. When the victim called to cancel her stolen credit cards, she was informed that several charges had already been made at unknown locations.

Credit cards were also taken from an unattended desk at an office suite in the 6300 block of Ivy Lane, and an unattended cellular phone was removed from a desk at an office suite in a building on Walker Dr.

A 1992 Honda Accord, stolen from the 9000 block of Breezewood Terrace, was reported to its owner, who was not aware that it was missing, after it had been involved in an accident after fleeing from police in Alexandria. A Washington resident was arrested in the incident.

A tan 1983 Buick Regal two-door, Maryland tags DJA021, was reported stolen on Thursday from the 9 Court of Southway.

A maroon 1993 Honda Accord four-door, Pennsylvania tags BAZ7345, was reported stolen from the 5800 block of Cherrywood Terrace.

Other incidents

A counterfeit $20 bill was passed at the Greenbelt American Legion post.

An indecent exposure was reported in the 5900 block of Cherrywood Terrace on Wednesday at about 9:30 p.m. A male in his 20s, possibly Hispanic, 5'8", 180 pounds, wearing light colored pants and a dark top, fled after he realized he was being observed.

Vandalisms to, thefts from, and attempted thefts from vehicles were reported from Springhill Terrace, Breezewood Dr. (two), Edmonston Ct., Ora Ct., Hanover Parkway, Greenway Center Dr., and Greenhill Rd.
