Many Changes Expected in County Schools as Six-year Plan Begins

by Altoria Bell Ross

Greenbelt School Board Representative Suzanne Plogman told the Greenbelt City Council at a work session on June 15 that the biggest challenge the Prince George's County School Board faced was implementation of the six-year neighborhood school plan. This plan resulted from the March agreement to end the county's 25-year school desegregation case.

Currently the county buses 11,000 children involuntarily, but 75 percent of school-age students are within walking distance of their neighborhood schools, Plogman said.

Even with the neighborhood plan instituted, Mayor Judith Davis said there will still be students bused. Some will be magnet school students, and others will be elementary school children who live beyond the half-mile mark for walking to school.

Davis asked Plogman to report on the status of construction and renovations in District 2. In May, the construction of Ardmore-Ardwick High School began in Springdale on Ardmore-Ardwick Road. This school should take 600 students out of Eleanor Roosevelt High School, Plogman said. "Ardmore-Ardwick will do a lot to relieve the crowding," she said. "I see that as a big help."

Plogman next talked about timelines for the renovations. Plogman placed the council on a list to review the preliminary plans for the renovations. Davis also said she would write a letter to the superintendent of schools to that effect and would request a plans for reopening Berwyn Heights Elementary School. The Board of Education is waiting for the state to give the Maryland Fire and Rescue Institute, which currently occupies the building, $4 million to construct a new edifice at its training facility on Paint Branch Parkway in College Park, said Plogman, who predicted the school will reopen in the year 2001.

Plogman said this arrangement is more cost-effective than building a new school. "It's a win-win situation," she said.

Greenbelt Middle School is up for renovations and will be closed one year while the school gets new lighting, windows, and heating, Plogman said.

Councilmember Thomas White raised a concern about historical preservation of the school which was built in 1937. Davis asked timelines for the renovations.

Impact on Students

Councilmember Alan Turnbull expressed alarm that the middle school students would be displaced for a year.

"It would be a terrible impact on their quality of life," Turnbull said.

Plogman cited safety concerns for the children, such as the presence of asbestos. Davis agreed that moving the students would be better than enduring the construction noise and the traffic of workers. "It's a single disruption instead of an ongoing one," she said.

Turnbull said this problem is

Hanover and Breezewood To Get Calming Devices

by Al Geiger

At its June 19 regular meeting, the Greenbelt City Council unanimously approved the installation of various traffic calming devices on Breezewood Drive and Hanover Parkway. These are two of twelve Greenbelt streets that have been identified by Celia Craze, director of planning and community development, as having vehicular travel that exceeds speed limits sufficiently to justify the use of traffic calming devices.

These devices and their use and effects had previously been discussed at a June 1 council work session.

Council approved the installation of a number of islands and "chokers" on Breezewood Drive between Cherrywood Lane and Springhill Lane in conjunction with scheduled repaving. The purpose of these devices will be to narrow the road, block passing movements and improve pedestrian crossings, according to Craze. Street lighting will be improved at the same time.

On Hanover Parkway, council approved the installation of a traffic circle or "roundabout" at the entrance to The Lakes at Greenbelt Village and at Schrom Hills Park. This change will be made in conjunction with road improvements by the developer on Hanover Parkway. The roundabout will help residents as well as Schrom Hills Park users to enter and exit onto Hanover Parkway.

It is anticipated, Craze said, that these improvements will be completed by early fall. There will be a six-month follow-up evaluation.

Legislation

A resolution was introduced for second reading by Councilmember Alan Turnbull to authorize the negotiated purchase of goods and services from various vendors when total yearly purchases from each vendor exceed the city's bid limit of $10,000 but when individual purchases do not exceed the limit. Some vendors are the sole source of a purchase. In some cases purchases are based on bids taken by other government agencies with the bid price extended to the city. The resolution was unani-

GHI Ponders Mildew, Fate of Fee Deferrals

by Sue Krofchik

The annual beautification program of Greenbelt Homes, Inc (GHI) was not on the agenda, but it blossomed into an hour long discussion before scheduled items were addressed at the GHI board meeting on June 11. During the Visitors and Members portion a member from Plateau Place complained about being cited for mildew growing on the vinyl siding of her home and GHI expecting the member to clean it off.

According to General Manager Gretchen Overdurff about 250 homes have been cited for mildew on building exteriors. A rehash of previous board discussions of this problem and methods to clean it off ensued. Not all home exteriors have mildew, so everyone should not pay for something that affects only some members. Contractors generally charge in excess of $100 per home to power wash the exterior. Director Bill Phelan said he felt "rub-a-dub-dub" with a brush would suffice nicely. GHI will check with contractors to see if any would give a special price to members if enough wanted to individually hire someone to handle this.

A New Road?

Also cutting in before agenda items was the Greenbelt City Council proposal to build a two lane road through the gardens and woods in back of GHI homes between Gardenway and Green Ridge House, where a new parking lot for 26 more cars is being considered. The city has scheduled a meeting for Thursday, June 25, at Green Ridge House. Overdurff confirmed the city was asked to notify and invite affected GHI members.

Fee Deferral Programs

The Finance Committee made recommendations to the board regarding how the Cooperative might recoup some of the $539,477 currently owed to GHI by 63 families participating in the various fee deferral programs.

Since 1983 and 1989, two fee deferral programs have allowed certain members with low or moderate incomes to defer a portion of their monthly rehab loan and/or co-op fee, the Rehab Loan Deferral Program (RLDP) and Fee Increase Deferral Program (FIDP), respectively. No provisions had been made to terminate these programs, and over the years as property values failed to appreciate as they have in the past, some members now owe more than the current equity they have in their home. This poses serious financial problems for both the member and GHI.

The board unanimously passed a series of motions that will close the programs to new participants and require inactive participants — those no longer deferring fees but who have a balance due — to complete a financial profile to

Reader Just Misses Greenbelt Lake, TX

Twenty years ago, our family was returning from a vacation out west, driving mile after mile through the Texas panhandle east of Amarillo. There was nothing to see of any great interest — just cotton and wheat fields, with a grain elevator and a few houses about every 15 miles. And there was no "real" music to listen to on the radio, just country or blue grass out of Wichita Falls. Our children were 13 and 10 and could hardly believe that not one station carried rock and roll. So we were hearing Alexa's tape of Grease for about the hundredth time, when we saw the sign, "Greenbelt Lake" with an arrow pointing south. We did not follow the sign, because we couldn't see anything except wheat in any direction, but we have wondered about it ever since.

It was a great surprise to return from a 16 day, 14 state Volksmarch last week and have my husband tell me about your June 11 article on Texas's Greenbelt Lake. Especially since I had learned a little more about that lake on the Volksmarch. Two busloads of us were traveling down the road, east of Amarillo, when we stopped for a break at a mall. Standing in line, I glanced up and saw the words "Greenbelt Mall" on a tall sign right outside! Then Fred, a marcher from Pennsylvania, came up and asked me if I had seen the sign in the window, advertising a fundraiser for Greenbelt Lake (Fred had been to some of our Labor Day Volksmarches in the past, and he knew Barbara Havekost and I were from Greenbelt). I looked around for someone who might know about the lake, and saw what appeared to be a resident of that area; he wore a Stetson, plaid shirt, jeans and cowboy boots, as western men are supposed to. All he knew was that it was the source of water for that area, which the News Review identified as Clarendon. Now I wonder if that lake was a New Deal project, like ours was.

Volksmarchers are friendly, interesting people, and Barbara and I came to know some of them quite well. How does one recognize a Volksmarcher? They wear good walking shoes, shorts and t-shirts. They have suntans and muscular legs, and walk at a fast clip. Most are a little bit overweight, because there is so much to eat on the buses and at the buffet lunch counters they are partial to. If you see a group of walkers matching this description, please welcome them to Greenbelt.

Actually, the two of us aren't real Volksmarchers compared to most of our companions, because we kept stopping to see the interesting sights when hardly anyone else did. It took us nine hours to do one six mile walk in Santa Fe, whereas most of the group did two or three walks.

Thank You

To the Horticultural Crew:

As I walk or ride along many areas in Greenbelt, I so enjoy the beautiful flowers, shrubs and trees provided for our pleasure. I see in all of this much thoughtful planning, a love of nature, and satisfaction and pride in the work that you do.

What a lovely impression is made of Greenbelt by those coming along Southway as they see the vibrant colors of the flowers intermingled with the greenery, leading to the beauty in the parking lot at the center.

We in Greenbelt are blessed and we can do our part in maintaining this beauty by refraining from littering.

Gas Is Better

If you are thinking of purchasing a barbecue grill this summer, consider the benefits of a gas grill over the charcoal/lighter fluid kind. A gas grill is more environmentally responsible. It is less toxic and polluting of the air, an important concern, particularly during Code-Red air quality days. Burning charcoal lighter fluid contributes more to ground level ozone. Neighbors with respiratory problems will appreciate your getting rid of the charcoal grill.

Also gas grills are safer to use. You won't have the sudden flame-ups that come with improper use or amounts of starter fluid. The gas grill is more convenient and easier to start up. It reaches cooking temperatures more quickly and maintains a more constant temperature. It's also easier to keep clean.

Oh, the gas grill (cheaper in the long run) is a bit more expensive, but at least it's a gas!

Blood Donors Thanked, Sought

The Greenbelt Recreation Department and the American Red Cross would like to thank all those who donated blood on Monday, June 29, at the Greenbelt Municipal Building. The blood drive collected 48 pints of blood, which can be used to save lives.

The next blood drive will be on Monday, September 14, from 2-8 p.m. at the Greenbelt Youth Center. Appointments to donate blood on September 14 can be made by calling Janet Goldberg after 2:30 p.m. at 301-397-2212.

It's the Law

One recent evening a visitor to my home in the 6 Court of Ridge Road, after parking her car on the road, walked on the grassy area near the garages there and stepped onto some unseen dog droppings. She cleaned her very expensive shoe the best she could on the grass and then washed off the rest in my house, removing that shoe first, of course.

If this was your dog, I urge you to carry your plastic bag and scooper whenever your dog is away from your premises. Not only would this be respectful for walkers or children who may be playing where you walk your pet, but, remember, it's the law!

Foreign Teens Need Temporary Families

Hundreds of high school students throughout the world are looking forward to living in the United States for the upcoming school year. There's only one problem — finding families here who will "adopt" the students as one of their own for nine months.

Host homes are needed so that students can be suitably matched with families and schools before their August arrival.

Students are 15 to 18 years old, communicate well in English, are screened for good moral ethical behavior, and have medical/accident money during their stay.

Students are expected to act as a part of their family, integrating into their lifestyle and sharing as much of each other's culture as possible. In addition to being an emotionally satisfying experience, hosting students has a tax deductible benefit of $50.00 per month.

Interested families may call the Youth Exchange Service (Y.E.S.) at 1-800-848-2121, ext. 10.

Free Helmets Offered To Needy Children

CAM Corporation offers bike helmets at no cost to needy children. Individual children may apply by writing to CAM, 7 Church Lane, Suite 8, Baltimore, MD 21208 and answering the question, "Why is it important to wear a helmet?"

Nonprofit organizations that offer a cycling program may apply to CAM Corp for up to twelve free helmets provided they incorporate a helmet safety program. For more information call toll free 1-888-226-7433.

In 1996 as the state mandated the law that children 16 years and under wear helmets, CAM was involved in public awareness. CAM corporation administers the Kevin Lavin Fund to distribute free helmets in memory of the 15 year old boy who, while cycling without a helmet, was struck and killed by a truck.

HoopLaw 4 on 4 Basketball Tourney

On Friday, July 24, the City of Greenbelt will be hosting the HoopLaw 4 on 4 Basketball Tournament. This all-day tournament is intended to address persisting hostile relations between area youths and police officers. Officers and youths, ages 16 - 19, are being recruited to play on teams together. Teams will be assigned and consist of either one officer and three youths or three officers and one youth. Officers from the entire Baltimore-Washington Metropolitan area have signed up to participate in this project. Youths are being recruited from area recreation centers, schools, leagues, and local courts. Two hundred participants are expected to attend. All participants will receive a t-shirt commemorating the event. Players will be asked to complete a survey in order for the city to evaluate the effectiveness of such programs in the future.

HoopLaw 4 on 4 will take place at the Springhill Lake Recreation Center beginning at 9 a.m. The tournament is double elimination, consisting of 10-minute games. Advance registration is required. Walk-ins will be permitted depending on team availability. All participants under the age of 18 need to obtain parental consent.

For further information, please contact the event coordinator, Dana Rabois, at 301-345-6660. Registrations are currently being accepted. Any private or corporate donations for prizes and food for the participants are sought. In addition, tournament volunteers are needed for the day of the event.

Ruth K. Powell

Ruth K. Powell

Former Greenbelter Ruth K. Powell, 80, of Sunderland, MA, died Sunday, June 28, at Cozy Corner Nursing Home in Sunderland.

Born in Williamsport, PA on April 27, 1918, she was the daughter of the late Wallace and Clara (Cooke) Kocher. She was the wife of the late Kenneth Powell, who died in 1969.

Mrs. Powell had lived in Greenbelt until moving to Massachusetts two years ago. She was active in both church and community activities, including membership in Greenbelt Community Church, United Church of Christ and affiliate membership in Church of the Savior in Washington, DC. While living in Greenbelt she worked as a teacher's aide in special education. She also was on the staff of the Greenbelt News Review.

Mrs. Powell is survived by three children, Mary Clare Powell of Greenfield, MA; Scott Thomas Powell of Centreville, VA; and the Reverend Kenneth D. Powell of Sherborn, MA; and five grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held on Sunday, July 5 at 3 p.m. at Greenbelt Community Church, followed by graveside services at Baltimore National Cemetery on Monday at 10:30 a.m.

If desired, donations in memory of Mrs. Powell may be made to For Love of Children (F.L.O.C.), 1711 14th St. NW, Washington, DC 20009. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Doherty Gately & Loker Funeral Home of Natick Center, MA.

Peter P. Labukas

Peter P. Labukas, Sr., a long-time resident of Greenbelt, died on June 28. Visitation will be held at Borgwardt Funeral Home, 4400 Powder Mill Road, Beltsville, on Thursday, July 9 from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

A Funeral Mass will be held at St. Hugh's Catholic Church on Friday, July 10 at 10:30 a.m. with Father Tappe officiating. Interment at Arlington National Cemetery will follow the Mass.

Vacation Bible School At Lutheran Church

Holy Cross Lutheran Church has issued an invitation to the community to participate in a unique celebration entitled, "SonLight Island," a Vacation Bible School (VBS) for all ages. Following a theme of "a tropical island adventure," the emphasis will be on guiding children to "discover the treasure of God's love."

A special activity is scheduled for the adults. Jean Scammon will lead a seminar on stress management, a topic of concern with today's busy parents, teachers and advisors.

July 13 through July 17, beginning at 6 p.m., participants in VBS will be served dinner by the husband and wife team "co-chefs" Pastor and Virginia Mentz. Following the meal, a program for the youth and children takes center stage. It includes a variety of interests geared to educational goals.

Under the direction of Holy Cross' Education Board, the church will be transformed into a tropical paradise emphasizing the theme of the Bible study series on "SonLight Island," with a luau as a finishing touch.

Five sessions for youth and children are based on I Corinthians. Titles include God's Extraordinary Love, Unexpected Love; A Father's Love Forgives; Transformed by Love; and God's Eternal Love.

Strickland Conducts Survey for GHI

by Dennis Jelalian
Farah Strickland, a student intern at Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) for the summer, will finish the demographic survey begun last fall. GHI is anxious to find ways to help its members through youth and senior programs as well as volunteer services. In order to accomplish this, GHI needs to learn about all the members in the community. Strickland will be calling on GHI members personally to collect information on the specifics of their households, or to clarify information provided on the survey handed out last fall. Strickland has first hand experience with housing cooperatives.

In the fall of 1995 Farah Strickland needed an inexpensive place to live at the University of Texas at Austin (UTEXA). Dormitories were too expensive and off-campus housing was worse. Looking for a reasonable alternative, Strickland found the North American Students of Cooperation Organization (NASCO), which runs cooperative housing units at UTEXA. The university owns the buildings, which the co-op rents. Twelve houses each accommodate 16, 18, or 20 people, with 212 co-op members altogether.

Scammon, are: Wendy Linstrom, skits; Marie Ray, crafts; Warren Winker, music; Jill LaCross, volunteer coordination; and Pastor and Virginia Mentz, dinners and the Friday night luau celebration.

Holy Cross Lutheran Church is located at 6905 Greenbelt Road. For information about VBS and registration, please call 301-345-5111.

son, Wisconsin; and with GHI. Strickland says she chose GHI because they run a professional operation, and because they offered her a reasonable stipend.

She will be working here for about three months, completing the demographic survey GHI began last fall. In her work she will call all GHI members to seek information the co-op needs to plan for member services. "You need to know the members in order to serve them well," Strickland says.

GHI requests that all members agree to speak to Strickland and provide the necessary information. For questions or information, call Avis King, 301-474-4161.

Living in a NASCO house for three years, Strickland became interested in cooperatives. She became a manager of one house and a NASCO board member. "NASCO runs by consensus," she says. "If one person says no (to a proposal), it doesn't happen." Another thing she likes about NASCO is that it has allowed her to meet a variety of people from all over the world.

She recounted how fifty of her fellow NASCO students on one occasion got on a bus and drove for 30 hours (each way) to Ann Arbor, Michigan for a weekend NASCO training session. This experience clinched Strickland's interest in co-ops.

When she graduates at the end of the next semester, she would like to work in co-ops. What she likes most about them is that "The almighty dollar doesn't rule," she said. Co-ops consider people, workers — not just how much profit can be made."

Strickland says working in co-ops has been for her "a major source of learning," possibly surpassing her academic work.

When she needed summer employment, she turned to the internship network (one of NASCO's member services) and applied for internship positions with cooperatives in Berkeley, California; Madi-

mously passed. An ordinance to amend the city code to increase fines for illegal distribution of handbills was enacted. The fine for a first offense will remain at $400. A second offense will bring a fine of $800 and subsequent offenses, $1,000 each.

Parkside Annexation

A resolution was introduced concerning the annexation of the Parkside subdivision consisting of 31 homes located on Good Luck Road. The City has received a petition signed by more than 25% of the property owners and 25% of registered voters as required by the State of Maryland. State law also requires that an Extension of Services (EOS) be prepared explaining the impact the proposed annexation would have on city services.

Following introduction, the resolution must be published for four weeks and then be considered by council. It is scheduled to be brought back to council at its September 14 regular meeting. The date and time of a public hearing will also be published.

Other Actions

Six ordinances and resolutions to make adjustments to the city's General Fund budget and other funds were introduced and, with a suspension of the rules, were given final approval. These adjustments are made each year as the end of the fiscal year approaches to ensure that there are sufficient appropriations to end the fiscal year.

An ordinance to add a new Chapter 20 to the Greenbelt city code entitled "Zoning," to provide that the city may grant departures from design and landscaping standards, parking and loading standards, sign design standards and variances from lot size, setback and other requirements of the Prince George's County Zoning Ordinance, was introduced. There will be further discussion at the next regular council meeting.

Council approved a resolution for the negotiated purchase of telephone equipment for the Police Department.

Attick Park

The Attick Park Master Plan was reviewed for council by Craze. Councilmember Rodney Roberts inquired about the removal of the old concession stand. City Solicitor Robert Manzi said that with the pending lawsuit, the place should be made safe but not removed until the suit is settled or an okay is given by the court.

Roosevelt Center

Council approved an addendum to the contract with Bradley-Papp Landscape Architecture, Inc. for the design of Roosevelt Center Mall renovations. The addendum is for coordinating the renovation of the Mother and Child statue and the reconstruction of the theater marquee for a fee not to exceed $3,040.

Other Actions

Council voted for the city to remain a member of the Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments (MWCOC) by

Investigation of Train Crash Continuing

by James Giese

Preliminary testing of the mechanical equipment involved in the Metro train accident in the Greenbelt Maintenance Yard on June 8 found the equipment to be in good working condition at the time of the accident, according to Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority spokesperson Cheryl A. Johnson. Investigators are still waiting for an opportunity to meet with Alfred Baldwin, the 59-year-old train operator, and his attorney. Johnson is not aware of any effort to delay the investigation, she said.

The train was being operated manually and without the safety controls that are used while the train is carrying passengers.

It failed to stop at the end of the tracks upon which it was being parked, knocked over a steel bumper, and crashed into the side of a brick operations building, damaging both the train and the building. Damages to the train have been estimated at $200,000.

According to other newspaper accounts, Baldwin told reporters that he lost consciousness as his train was approaching the barrier. He suffered back injuries.

paying the remainder of this fiscal year's dues ($5,624) and all of 1999 FY dues ($10,892) while seeking to have Prince George's County reinstate its longstanding policy of paying half of the city's dues.

Council accepted the resignations of Lu Price and Harold Miller from the Senior Citizens Advisory Committee.

GREENBELT AQUATIC & FITNESS CENTER

1998 SUMMER CHILDREN'S WEEKDAY LESSONS - SESSION II

In-person registration, first-come, first-served basis. All classes have a limit on enrollment. Early registration improves your chances of getting the class you want!! All registrants must sign up at the Greenbelt Aquatic & Fitness Center for aquatic and fitness classes.

REFUNDS: The Greenbelt Aquatic & Fitness Center reserves the right to cancel classes due to insufficient registrants or causes beyond its control. Refunds will be made if classes are canceled by the Center. Other refunds will be made according to the provisions in the City of Greenbelt Resolution No. 65, which also requires that refund requests, for valid reasons, are to be submitted immediately in writing to the GAFC.

CITY RESIDENCY: Greenbelt residents are those who pay taxes to the City of Greenbelt AND are eligible to vote in City elections. That is as it should be, as our residents pay taxes to support the Recreation Centers and the Aquatic & Fitness Center in our community. However, just because someone has a Greenbelt address, does not necessarily mean they pay taxes to the City of Greenbelt and are able to vote in City elections. We want to be fair to the people whose tax money supports our programs. If you are not sure that you have a Greenbelt address, are able to vote in City elections, and pay City taxes, call 301-397-2204.

All registrants registering as resident non-passholders must show proof to receive Greenbelt resident status. Acceptable Proof: Valid license or current lease.

MAINSTREAMING: Anyone who is physically, mentally, and/or emotionally challenged is encouraged to participate in any of the Aquatic & Fitness Center's programs. If you need any special assistance, please call 301-397-2208 or TTY 301-474-1811 and ask for Karen Haseley.

identify their ability to repay their loans.

No participant, active or inactive, will be allowed to incur further debt against their home, except for deferral of interest. Staff will work one-on-one with affected members to explore all possible options for repayment. The goals are to help participants pay back their deferral loans and help relocate those participants financially unable to repay.

New Riding Mower

The request to purchase a Kubota riding mower for $10,800 was quickly and unanimously approved for first reading. Staff reported the existing 14-year-old mower was out-of-service because an axle broke, propelling the operator out of the seat which did not have, and could not be retrofitted with, a seat harness. Fortunately, the employee did not suffer serious injury. The new mower has a 60 inch cutting deck in addition to safety features.

Oil Tanks and Sewers

Second readings to enter into contracts were approved: $75,000 to B&P Utilities to replace sewer lines in thirteen locations and $30,000 to Tri-County Industries to remove seven underground oil tanks. Oil tanks had been closed off and filled with sand during rehab in the 1980s when electric baseboard heat was installed. This is an on-going project with some 65 additional tanks still to be removed.

Member Requests

A member's request to replace a privacy screen and make it one foot higher was unanimously approved. The existing screen had been removed to accommodate sewer replacement and was not in suitable condition to be reinstalled. The owner agreed to purchase the materials and GHI will do installation.

The board also approved another member's request to build a porch with materials and a roof design that do not match the main building. Part of the wall will consist of glass block and the roof overhang will be rounded with an extended roof line. Director Susan Ready noted the art deco style of this proposed porch will blend perfectly with the spirit of early Greenbelt and is an example of something that is desirable but probably would not be allowed if Greenbelt decides to pursue Historic District status.

Miscellaneous

Goal setting and educational needs of the board were discussed and a board retreat was scheduled for August 20.

A Greenbelt Development Corporation (GDC) board meeting was held prior to the GHI board meeting. Following tradition and appropriate motions, the current GHI board and officers

SCHOOLS

Turnbull said this problem is deep-rooted and cyclic. "We build a school, then neglect it until major renovations are needed," he said.

"That's what has been going on in the last couple years with the school system," Davis said. "The constraints of money have been everywhere."

Councilmember Rodney Roberts wanted to know if the renovations would include the school's ballfields, which are dwindling due to the expanding bus lot next to it.

"It would be incredible if it would be solved with renovations," said Plogman, who said she would find out.

Springhill Lake School

Leta Mach, chair of the Greenbelt Advisory Council on Education, asked Plogman if more room would be available at Springhill Lake Elementary School after the additions are constructed to replace the temporary buildings. Plogman said that she did not know if the additions would eliminate the crowding, but that the opening of Berwyn Heights Elementary would.

Plogman said the results from a management audit of the county school system would be released the second week of July. The audit would focus on the system's weaknesses. Plogman thought that the community's perception of the schools and leadership issues might be addressed in this report.

School Violence

Davis asked Plogman about the school board's discussions on violence in light of the school shootings across the country and an increase of parents assaulting teachers in the county.

Plogman said a task force on school safety exists to monitor the violence and give suggestions to increase security. Mach suggested an expansion of the state's character education program as a possible solution. Twelve county schools are participating in this program, which teaches students about ethical behavior, such as honesty, respect, and responsibility.

Wendy Wexler, youth and family counselor of Greenbelt CARES, told the council and Plogman about a community response to students' problems before they lead to violence. Wexler holds three Teen Talk sessions at Eleanor Roosevelt High School during school hours. The sessions are designed to help students, including those who are truant, suicidal, depressed, or drug users, to cope with their problems.

"Essentially what we are doing is making a connection," said White. "The health of the schools is affecting our communities."

Test Scores

Council asked Plogman to address the county's test scores on the Maryland School Performance Assessment Program. In 1997, the county's elementary and middle schools ranked 23rd out of 24 districts in the state.

"We are not happy about the scores. We've got to strive to be better and to bring those scores up," she said. "We are putting a number of initiatives in place."

Turnbull said he thought students should be tested at the beginning of the school year and at the end to determine how much they have learned.

Davis said elementary students take the tests in the third and fifth grades to measure their learning. But because of the transient nature of the county, Davis said the fifth graders are an entirely different group of children by then.

"The turnover rate is amazing," she said.

Added to the high turnover rate, Turnbull said the county struggles with a cluster of socio-economic handicaps.

"It's a bogus analysis," he said.

"We are going lower and lower," councilmember Edward Putens said, referring to the drop in test scores for the last three years. "Other counties are going higher and higher."

Other Challenges

Plogman expects to see more
