A Large Turnout Explores New Uses for Middle School

by James Giese

After disappointing turnouts at its first two public hearings in Greenbelt East and Greenbelt Center, the Greenbelt Middle School (GMS) Task Force sent out over 1,000 flyers announcing its third hearing, in Greenbelt West on May 19 at Springhill Lake Elementary School. The three task force leaders, Chair David Lange, Vice Chair Beatrice Rogers and David Whaples, must have been impressed by the near-capacity turnout of over 100 in the school multipurpose room.

However, a show of hands later in the evening revealed that by far most parents and children present – nearly all non-Greenbelt residents – had been brought out by Paul Shackelford, chair of Turning Point Academy (TPA) charter school now located on Good Luck Road in Greenbelt. Turning Point is interested in getting use of the old Greenbelt Middle School facility.

This structure is soon to be abandoned as a new middle school is constructed elsewhere on the site. Turning Point would use the building for an expanded academy eventually serving kindergarten through high school.

Nevertheless, the 20 to 25 Greenbelt West and other Greenbelt residents who attended far exceeded the turnouts in the prior hearings.

Many audience questions dealt with how TPA could obtain use of GMS. The answer was that TPA could lease the school from the Board of Education (BOE).

If, on the other hand, part of the structure were to be used for city purposes, the BOE could declare the building surplus. In this case it would be turned over to the county and the county, in turn, could sell it to the city for a nominal amount.

In this latter case, TPA could lease part of the building for its use and share with the city other parts of the building, such as its gym, and still other parts could be dedicated for city uses. Shackelford has expressed interest in using the entire facility but he notes that TPA lacks funds to undertake major renovations.

Artful Afternoon Melange – Art, Peace, Justice, History

June's Artful Afternoon program, which will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, June 5 at the Community Center, will feature an array of activities for Greenbelt's art programs, Greenbelt Day Weekend and Peace Month observances. Programs are free, open to all and kid-friendly.

Tours of the special Peace Month exhibit "Quilt: Art to Mend the World," a display of paper quilt books by Kate Ransohoff in partnership with Karen Rowe, will be available from 1 to 4 p.m. in Room 114. The exhibit is on display at the Community Center for the weekend only, from Friday through Sunday, June 3 to 5. More information is available at www.krquilt.com.

From 1 to 3 p.m. participants can make their own paper quilt page in Room 113, led by Peace & Justice Coalition volunteers trained by Rowe.

Both the Quilt exhibit and paper quilt making workshop are sponsored by the Prince George's County Peace and Justice Coalition.

In the Community Center Art Gallery there will be an exhibit reception for "Syzygy: Paintings by Steven Pearson" and an opportunity to meet the artist from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Pearson uses layered symbols and a superhero/supervillain palette as he examines how people line up diverse information to make meaning of the world around them. Learn more about the artist at www.srpearson.com. Pearson's work will remain on display through July 8.

At 3 p.m., the Greenbelt Concert Band will perform rousing selections to celebrate Greenbelt Day Weekend, which this year recognizes the 74th anniversary of the city.

Immediately preceding the performance, a drawing will be held for two tickets to a performance of the winner's choice at the Greenbelt Arts Center. Enter this free drawing at the Greenbelt Community Center Art Gallery now through 2:30 p.m. on June 5.

Memorial Day Ceremony Pays Tribute to Those Who Served

by Carol Griffith

In a nod to the oppressive heat, the Memorial Day ceremony at the Veterans' Memorial at Roosevelt Center, sponsored and hosted by Greenbelt American Legion Post #136, was slightly shorter than in past years but nonetheless moving and a worthy tribute to our nation's servicemen and servicewomen.

At least 100 people attended, many dressed in red, white and blue and, especially at Mayor Judith Davis' urging, sought out the shady places to sit or stand. Davis and all councilmembers and State Delegate Anne Healey were in attendance.

Kathie Linkenhoker, commander of Post #136, greeted the crowd and offered opening remarks on the meaning of patriotism and concluded that "We will never forget." While attendees stood, many with their hands over their hearts, members of the Air Force Junior ROTC of Eleanor Roosevelt High School presented the flag as "The Star Spangled Banner" was played. All recited the Pledge of Allegiance and Sam Hoffberg, the Post's chaplain, offered a prayer.

Mayor Davis spoke and in her remarks read selections from Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, reminding those in attendance of the familiar yet powerful words and ended with "... so that they have not died in vain." All councilmembers rose as she read a city proclamation expressing the sentiment that all citizens

After very brief remarks by Anne Healey, Councilmember Emmett Jordan read a county proclamation on behalf of County Councilmember Ingrid Turner, who could not attend.

New GHI Board Organizes, Elects T. Boswell President

by Sue Krofchik

When the newly reconstituted Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) board of directors met for the first time following the annual meeting, the directors elected officers, discussed ethics and meeting procedures and went on to schedule summer board meetings, a board retreat and board training.

Other significant matters included a report from the transition team, an overview of the GHI marketing plan and vandalism to lighting in the common area of 14/16 Ridge Road.

Results of the annual election held May 18 and 19 were certified by Kathleen Gallagher, chair of the Nominations and Elections Committee, and the new board of directors and Audit Committee were seated.

Beginning two-year terms on the board are Bill Jones (144 votes) and Chuck Hess (130). Re-elected are incumbents Tokey Boswell (148), Patricia Novinski (139) and Laura Moore (132), all also for two-year terms. Current directors with one year left to serve are Ed James, Diana McFadden, David Morse and Irv Wartel.

Re-elected to the audit committee are Dianne Wilkerson (155 votes) and Debbie Cooley (148), joined by newly elected Bill Edwards (149).

Election of Officers

Tokey Boswell was unanimously elected president. Nominees for vice president were Bill Jones, Laura Moore and Patricia Novinski, with Moore elected by secret ballot. Bill Jones and Chuck Hess were nominated for treasurer. Following two 4-4 ties using secret ballots (with one board member absent) and considerable discussion about applicable bylaws and options, Jones withdrew his nomination. Hess was therefore elected treasurer. Ed James was unopposed for the office of secretary.

The director's code of ethics was reviewed and signed by each director. This document describes how, as trusted agents and decision makers, each director should be guided and inspired. Six articles describe responsibilities to the cooperative, honesty and good faith, scope of authority, conflict of interest, confidentiality and the obligation of non-interference (the duty to participate in operations of the cooperative only as authorized by the bylaws).

Board Procedures

Board meeting procedures were then reviewed. New Vice President Moore recommended that "for transparency" the

Clarification

Thank you for your coverage of the last budget hearing and council meeting on Monday, May 23, 2011. I have one correction. The motion for the tennis courts was made at the meeting and which passed included the lighting of all eight courts, resurfacing of the tennis courts and contingency funding for approximately $312,000. Please see the web cast at 1 hour and 36 minutes.

Molly Lester

Editor's Note: The matter before council for award of purchase was only a contract for tennis court lighting with its contingency. Because there was some confusion over what was included in the motion, the approval of lighting for the 8 tennis courts will appear on the consent agenda of the next council meeting.

Taking Deer Hunting Discovery Seriously

I read last week's article in the News Review about the discovery of a "tree-mounted hunting stand and remains of several deer" in the woods near the Greenbelt Community Gardens. The article credits this discovery to Cam MacQueen, a member of the GHI Companion Animal Committee.

Ms. MacQueen did the right thing by bringing the discovery to the attention of both the Greenbelt Public Works Department and the Maryland Department of Natural Resources Police. The discovery suggests that there has been hunting in the woods around Greenbelt.

In my opinion hunting is a cruel activity but this isn't about the rightness or wrongness of hunting. It's about criminal activity in Greenbelt. The Director of Planning and Development, Celia Craze, makes it clear in the article that hunting animals of any kind in Greenbelt is illegal.

I think it is important that this discovery be taken seriously by the city. As promised in the article, a Public Works crew did remove the hunting stand. However, I encourage Celia Craze to make available resources to inspect the woods for more hunting stands and, if any are found, have them quickly torn down as well. Also the use of "No Hunting" signs should be explored so that those who participate in this criminal activity can be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

It is tragic that these beautiful creatures were more than likely killed as a result of criminal activity in Greenbelt.

New Deal Programs Status Clarifications

In the May 26 issue of the Greenbelt News Review (page 11) there were several inaccurate statements made by a member of the audience at the City Council budget hearing on May 21 regarding the New Deal Café and the Friends of New Deal Café Arts (FONDCA). This letter is an attempt to correct those misunderstandings.

The Friends of New Deal Café Arts is a nonprofit organization dedicated to supporting arts programs at Roosevelt Center and the New Deal Café, especially the free outdoor concert series in Roosevelt Center and the art exhibit program at the Café. All of the concerts and art exhibit programs are free and open to the public. These events are produced by Friends of the New Deal Café by volunteers who put in many hours every year to make them happen. In many communities this time spent in producing free art events would be done by paid employees or government staff.

Since FONDCA provides the funds for these arts programs, most of our efforts go into fundraising, including grant-writing. The City of Greenbelt has awarded us grants every year since we received our IRS nonprofit status in 2003. 100 percent of our arts funding from the city goes to support the free outdoor concert series. Each year we submit a proposal and budget to the city for the new fiscal year and we have to defend our proposal to the Arts Advisory Board and the City Council. In the past, FONDCA's proposals have not always been fully funded and we do not receive any special consideration from the City Council.

Our proposals must meet the goals and objectives of the city. In addition to the city's grants, we also have won competitive grants from the Prince George's Arts Council, Prince George's County, the Greenbelt Community Foundation and the Jim Cassels Service Award from the Greenbelt Co-op Supermarket. The largest single source of our funds is individuals who generously respond to our annual donation drive and thereby demonstrate strong support from the community for the programs we sponsor.

The New Deal Café and the Friends of New Deal Café Arts are two distinct organizations. FONDCA's funds are kept completely separate from those of the New Deal Café, as per IRS guidelines. Donations to FONDCA are tax-deductible, whereas donations to the Café are not. We have separate governing boards with different people. To coordinate activities, the FONDCA board has one non-voting representative from the Café board. This member serves as a liaison to the Café board and this bylaw provision helps coordinate event planning with the Café.

The past few years have been difficult ones for most arts nonprofits in our nation. FONDCA is proud of the fact that we have been successful in funding the arts at our past levels and have expanded to include support for new programs such as the Eileen Peterson Youth Music Series. We feel confident that with continued support, we will be able to continue to support free, high-quality arts programming to Roosevelt Center and the New Deal Café.

ASG Star Party at the City Observatory

Everyone is invited to join the Astronomical Society of Greenbelt (ASG) for a star party Saturday evening, June 4 at the City of Greenbelt Observatory at Northway Fields. In addition to the telescope in the observatory, several members will have set up their personal telescopes and binoculars for the enjoyment of all. Observing will begin as soon as it is dark enough, probably around 8:45 p.m.

The three-day-old moon offers a chance to watch the lunar sunrise in craters. In addition to the moon, objects to be observed include the planet Saturn as well as several nice star clusters and nebulae. ASG members will be available to answer questions and provide advice about getting started in this hobby.

The star party will be cancelled without notice if it is hopelessly cloudy. Attendees are asked to park in the ball field lot at the bottom of the hill unless bringing a telescope. Warm weather has brought swarms of mosquitoes so bug repellent is strongly encouraged.

The Golden Age Club has been enjoying our senior trips this past month. One was a ride on the C&O Canal on a barge pulled by mules while looking at the raging Potomac River. We had lots of fun on the mystery trip with Karen Haseley giving us clues and hints.

The speaker on June 8 will be Rev. Dan Hamlin, with a report on his trip to Kenya. He will show some amazing pictures from safari – don't miss this presentation.

There will be a Meet and Greet with County Councilmember Ingrid Turner on Friday, June 10 at the Community Center. Lunch will be served; you need to register for this.

The Club was saddened by the death of Mary Gardner. She was a longtime member, past president and friend to all. We will miss her jokes and stories. Our condolences to her family and friends.

It seems summer has arrived with a blast. Try to keep cool and drink lots of water.

Greenbelters were saddened to hear of the death of JoAnne (Hardy) Kincius, 51, in Pennsylvania on May 24, 2011, and offer condolences to her family and friends.

Congratulations to:

– Navy Seaman Recruit Edith M. Diadiou, a 2007 ERHS graduate, who recently completed U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

– Miguel Pereira, son of Nancy Boardman and the late Manuel Pereira of Boxwood Village, who, after receiving his Ph.D. in bio-chemistry from the University of Michigan, accepted an appointment as assistant professor at New York University in its Chemistry Department. He has just completed his first academic year of teaching at NYU. Miguel and his wife Jen are greatly enjoying living in the New York City area and have the special attraction there of having his brother Jaime living nearby in Hoboken, N.J.

– Kathleen Quinn McLaughlin, who received a bachelor of arts degree in religion from Colorado College in Colorado Springs. Café Poetry Night Packs the House

Sixteen "kleptomaniacs in the candy store of language" dazzled a packed house at the New Deal Café's most recent poetry open microphone night on Tuesday, May 17.

The polymorphously perverse logophiles' poems pulsed with puns, paradox, intensity and humor. They extolled and regretted sex, death, heartache, menopause, war, vampires, salmon and sin.

Some vivid afterimages: A vengeful woman has "volcanic veins, conjuring Kali"; a drunken sailor has "tattoos as stigmata"; Donald Trump has "a big mouth, big ego, big hair"; Rodin's The Kiss "inhales my sight" and Langston Hughes also "sings America."

Peace Theme

The next poetry open microphone night takes place on Tuesday, June 14. Its theme is peace, so join the kleptomania, reading one's own or others' poems dedicated to peace. Sponsored by P&J and the Greenbelt Writers Group, the event's participants can read or hear W. H. Auden's wrenching "The Shield of Achilles" or perhaps Wislawa Szymborska's "The End and the Beginning." Peace out!

Police Pay Out $300 To Buckled Drivers

The week of May 15, as part of the national "Click It or Ticket" campaign, Greenbelt police paid out about $300, one dollar at a time, to drivers "caught" with all occupants properly buckled up in their cars. The "Buckle Up for a Buck" program of the Maryland State Highway Association's Highway Safety Office used funds donated by the Maryland Automobile Insurance Fund.

Officers distributed $1 bills to drivers who had all occupants in their vehicle buckled up securely. Drivers who were unrestrained were educated about the effectiveness of seatbelt and child safety seat use. Greenbelt officers concentrated their efforts in areas that have statistically had the lowest seatbelt/child safety seat usage.

Two vehicles were reported stolen: a gold 2000 Cadillac with Md. tags from the 6400 block Capitol Drive and a blue 1999 Plymouth Voyager van with Md. tags from Kenilworth Avenue at the Beltway. An attempted theft of a vehicle occurred in the 5900 block Cherrywood Terrace.

Cub Scout Pack Camps at Smallwood

by Ben Clarke

Twenty-four Cub Scouts and parents of Cub Scout Pack 202 spent the rain deluged weekend of May 13-15 camping at Smallwood State Park in Marbury, Md. Scouts and parents enjoyed quality time together free from the distractions of telephones, computers, electronic games and household chores.

Scouts were given a quick briefing on the identification of the poison ivy found in the vicinity of the campsite. The Cubs then learned to erect tents and other temporary protective tarp structures and spent the night in tents and sleeping bags.

Arrow of Light Den Leader Mike Brown organized the first of several pack camping trips planned this year. Webelos Den Leader Pat Mulvey provided equipment and instruction for the Scout fishing expedition along the Potomac River adjacent to the park. Mulvey also provided the equipment and instruction for the creation of three legged stools using fallen branches found within the campsite wooded areas. The Cub Scouts worked as a group gathering wood for the pack campfire. Older Scouts who had earned the BSA "Totin' Chip" certification were given instruction on the safe use of a hand saw for cutting firewood.

Group meals were prepared on Saturday for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Every camping participant was asked to bring a mess-kit in lieu of disposable dinnerware and utensils to reduce both the expense and trash generated during the weekend. Scouts were instructed on the proper washing and care of their mess-kits.

The scouts also had time to explore the large wooded areas. The highlight of the expedition was undoubtedly the campfire program where scouts performed skits and song before cooking S'mores over the open fire.

While the skies remained mostly dry during daylight hours, Mother Nature was less forgiving during the overnight hours putting each of the temporary protective structures to the test.

The final event of the weekend, Bear Den Leader Mike Marshall organized the "Leave No Trace" last scout sweep of the campsite to ensure that all debris, wrappers and trash were properly disposed of.

Greenbelt's Cub Scout Pack 202 has been continuously chartered for 66 years, one of the oldest Cub Packs within the region.

Ben Clarke is cub master of Pack 202.

minutes should record how individual directors had voted on issues. Boswell said that, as president, he will follow the general practice of former president Suzette Agans in not voting on issues, except in the case of a tie vote. James replied that “with a small organization the president should vote.”

Three member complaint panels, each with three representatives from the board and one from the audit committee, were set up: (1) David Morse, Ed James, Laura Moore and Dianne Wilkerson; (2) Tokey Boswell, Diana McFadden, Chuck Hess and Bill Edwards; (3) Patricia Novinski, Bill Jones, Irv Wartel and Debbie Cooley.

Summer board meetings will be held once a month, June 23, July 14 and August 18 at 7 p.m. Special meetings will be held on June 6 to discuss the transitioning to a new general manager and to vote on contracts and on July 7, also for contracts.

A training session will be scheduled with an attorney to discuss fiduciary responsibilities and legal duties of the board.

Transition

Dianne Wilkerson reported that the application of Eldon Ralph and associated documents for the general manager position have been submitted. Ralph, currently assistant general manager, is the only candidate being considered for the position. The salary survey for the position will be available next week. Wilkerson reminded the board, “You might want to consider making up interview questions.”

Marketing Plan

A one-page summary of the marketing plan was presented by Wartel. It included a task list, a description of how and what GHI markets as well as general principles about what is being done in the community. Several ideas and suggestions for expanding the plan were suggested.

Wartel found himself repeating several times that these items are included in the four-page document but he was instructed to submit only a one-page summary. The full report will be circulated and discussed at the next board meeting.

Vandalism

The board then dealt with an issue of vandalism. Five bollard light fixtures near the entrance to 16 Court Ridge have recently been severely damaged by vandals. Options are not to supply light to the area, to replace the five bollards (again) or to install two lights on 10-foot poles.

Potential liability for lack of lighting was discussed. GHI had consulted an attorney several years ago, asking if the cooperative could be held liable for injuries to members in common areas where there was improper lighting. The attorney had cited the case of Hemmings vs. Pelham Wood, LLP, wherein the Court of Appeals had found that a landlord can be found negligent for maintaining or failing to correct a known defect such as lighting in common areas.

Options for lighting will be discussed at a later date after more information is obtained for both bollards and pole lighting.

Financial Outlays

The board approved for second reading and final passage two contracts with B&P Utilities. The first is for repairs of underground sewage and storm drain utilities at 23 sites at the bid of $220,090 plus 10 percent, not to exceed $242,099.

The second contract is for drainage system improvements at two locations, 10A-F Plateau and 10A-D Southway, at the bid of $40,530 plus 10 percent for contingencies, not to exceed $44,583.

Also approved for second reading and final passage is a contract with Greenbelt Builders, Inc. to make repairs to a home on Laurel Hill Road at the bid of $11,750 plus 10 percent, not to exceed $12,925.

For first reading a contract with B&P Utilities was approved for parking lot repairs in multiple locations not to exceed $69,715, including 10 percent for contingencies.

While the school board has budgeted $6 million toward building repairs, a school architect had once estimated a $15 million cost to rehabilitate the building.

Other Uses

The task force has been trying to identify unmet needs that might be housed in the old school. Some possible uses, it has found, are already located in the Franklin Park area of Greenbelt West or have no identified sources of financing programs. Some possible county services for the Franklin Park area could also be housed in the old school.

The committee believes, however, that raising $9 million or more in city funds to rehabilitate the entire building is not feasible. It is, therefore, considering proposals to expand existing shuttle bus service in Franklin Park to enable residents to reach existing services more easily and to utilize only part of the school, including its “historic” original structure of 1937-8.

The committee is under a tight schedule as the school will be vacated in another year. The school board has asked council to present by this summer its proposals for future use. The task force is to provide an interim report in June and a final report in September. The task force is also grappling with the lack of good cost information.

Assistant Recreation Director Joe McNeal has estimated that due to the need to rehabilitate the building, the old school would not be available for use, at the earliest, until 2014.

Lois Browne, a resident of Springhill Lake/Empirian Village/Franklin Park for 12 years, told the task force of the difficulty of children there getting to Greenbelt Center to use city facilities. She noted in particular the city’s indoor pool and expanded recreational opportunities beyond those offered in the Springhill Lake Recreation Center, as well as the lack of parks in Greenbelt West.

Temporary Solutions for Dental Emergencies

McCarl Dental Group

It is important to have routine dental hygiene care and a dental exam at least every six months. It is also valuable to select a dentist who provides same day emergency dental treatment. When a dental emergency is causing pain or prevents you from going out in public, your dentist should ask, “How soon can you get to our dental office?”

Pain, swelling, broken teeth and a lost crown are the most common dental emergencies. Sometimes dental emergencies happen when you are traveling or when you just can’t get to a dental office. Here are some short term remedies you can try if you are not able to see your dentist immediately.

Tips for a Lost Crown, Veneer or Permanent Bridge – If your crown, veneer or bridge has come loose, the primary short term goal is: Do NOT swallow or lose it!

If there is any risk of swallowing or losing your crown, veneer or bridge, keep it out of your mouth, store it in a safe place and make an appointment as soon as possible!

Hint: a clear sandwich bag or medicine vial is much safer than wrapping it in a tissue or paper towel – tissues, napkins and paper towels are often accidentally thrown away or simply disappear.

- Sometimes a patient can re-seat a crown and have it “snap” into place.

- Another temporary solution is to use Vaseline or an FDA approved denture adhesive as a temporary glue. DO NOT use super glue or any other type of permanent glue to hold your crown, veneer or permanent bridge into place!

Emergency Care for a Broken Tooth - Does cold air or water cause pain? If so, you should schedule a visit with your dentist as soon as possible. Do not chew with that tooth. If your sensitivity is caused by a cracked tooth, chewing hard objects can make the crack expand. Early treatment can prevent further damage.

What To Do When a Permanent Tooth Is Knocked Out

Gently pick up the tooth by the chewing surface being careful to not touch the root of the tooth. If dirty, gently rinse the tooth in water or milk. Do not use soap and do not scrub the tooth or wrap it in a tissue. Try to reposition the tooth in its socket immediately - do not use excessive force. The sooner the tooth is replaced the greater the likelihood it will survive. If you cannot get the tooth back into its socket, keep it moist either by carrying the tooth in cool milk or in your mouth – do not swallow the tooth!

See your dentist as soon as possible and ideally within 30 minutes.

You may also apply a cold compress or even a popsicle to the mouth and gums to decrease pain and bleeding.

June Is Peace Month, Its Theme Is Mend the World

by Lucy Duff

Again this year the City of Greenbelt has declared June its official Peace Month. Several local groups are sponsoring events to point out social problems, promote solutions or celebrate the spirit and work that advance a more peaceful, just and diverse society.

Through most of June one of these observances – a free exhibition of paper quilt books called Quilt: Art to Mend the World – will pull together these inter-related themes.

Rendered in a patchwork-like mosaic via language and graphic arts, Quilt will be on display from Friday, June 3 through Sunday, June 5 at the Greenbelt Community Center.

Making one's own paper quilt page will be the focus of a hands-on activity during Artful Afternoon on Sunday, June 5. After that weekend some parts of Quilt will be hosted by the Greenbelt library and the Community Church during their regular hours with guides to interpret the exhibit during some time periods.

The creator of Quilt, artist and educator Kate Ransohoff, whose website is www.krquilt.com, summarizes her work in these words: "Each quilt panel focuses on a single topic of conflict, injustice or inequality and honors all cultures, world experiences and differing perspectives. It supports human rights, women's empowerment and healthy economics. Quilt invites public participation, conversation and communication."

The exhibit consists of hanging panels accompanied by booklets of prose and poetry. Each set can stand alone in expressing an individual theme: "Voices from the Common" to honor those unrecognized by the world; "A Letter to Women" to elicit their unrealized power; "A Letter to Artists" to join folk, fine and craft arts; "Money: Contradictions and Conundrums" to share diverse attitudes toward money; "About the World" to shift perspectives toward disparate cultures; "Sign of the Ribbons" to end violence against women and build friendship networks; "Pearls" to show the beauty, strength and courage of violated women; "Haves and Have Nots" to reveal how the rich deny and ignore the poor.

The Greenbelt exhibit is coordinated by Karen Rowe, Quilt's community relations and program director for this region, and the Prince George's County Peace and Justice Coalition. Quilt can be seen at the Community Center Friday from 6 to 10 p.m., Saturday, June 4 from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. On Sunday Rowe will lead guided tours from 1 to 4 p.m.

Other Activities

Sunday, June 5 from 1 to 3 p.m. there will be a paper quilt making art activity for Artful Afternoon.

Selected Quilt panels will be displayed at the Greenbelt library lower level from June 7 through 30 during regular library hours. The library exhibit will have guides present to interpret Quilt from 7 to 9 p.m. on Mondays and Tuesdays and 2 to 4 p.m. Saturdays from June 13 to 27.

June 7 through 30 selected Quilt panels will be shown at the Greenbelt Community Church, 1 Hillside Rd. from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Sundays, 9 a.m. to noon Tuesday through Friday and at other times by appointment (call the church office at 301-474-6171 to arrange). There will be a presentation at the church by Rowe at 7 p.m. on Sunday, June 12.

On Tuesday, June 14 from 7 to 9 p.m. an open microphone session for readings of "Poetry and Prose for Peace" will be held at the New Deal Café. Sponsored by P&J and the Greenbelt Writers Group, participants can read or hear W. H. Auden's wrenching "The Shield of Achilles," or perhaps Wislawa Szymborska's "The End and the Beginning."
