

Civil Pilots Receive Wings This Week

The ten University of Maryland students shown in the picture are the young gentlemen who have been zooming in the air above Greenbelt since July 15, when they started their "secondary advance course" in aviation at the Schrom Airport under the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Reading from left to right, the graduates shown with their teachers are: J. Leonard Leakin, T. Walsh Porter, Junius O. Hutton, Francis A. Smith, Hobart T. Walker, Arthur G. Norwood, advance ground instructor; "Fritz" Schrom, advance flight instructor Albert S. Aiken, Walter F. Mulligan, Gordon L. Blood, John T. Lambert and Terence Shansey. John T. Lambert won the Shell Trophy at the New York Interregional Flying Ability Contest, as the outstanding student in region No. 1, which includes D. C. and outlying territory.

Citizens Association Holds Nomination Meeting

At the Citizens Association meeting on Monday night, the following nominations in addition to those announced in the last issue of the Cooperator were submitted for the November election:

For President: Sherrod E. East; Raymond A. Hennessy.

For Vice-President: Leon G. Benefiel; Mrs. Eleanor Gluck.

For Treasurer: Robert C. Porter.

For Recording Secretary: Mrs. F. E. Lee; Irvin M. Proctor.

For Corresponding Secretary: Joseph D. Comproni. A motion to require each candidate to signify his intention of running for office by appearing at the November meeting or by letter if he is unable to appear was unanimously adopted.

The two proposed amendments to the by-laws which were announced at the July meeting were adopted by a large majority. Under the first amendment, resolutions concerning national or international affairs must be presented to the Executive Committee two weeks in advance of the meeting at which they are to be voted upon, and are also required to be publicized. The second amendment eliminates a fixed quorum for Association meetings.

A motion for an induction ceremony after the election was also passed. A proposed amendment to the by-laws which would change the meeting night of the Association was given a first reading and will be voted upon at the next meeting.

After a discussion of the county personal property tax, the meeting was adjourned.

Citizens Association Plans Hallowe'en Costume Ball

In answer to many requests, the Citizens Association's next dance in Greenbelt's school auditorium will be a costume affair (for those who wish to dress up and mask) and a prize will be awarded for the most original garb present. Ways and Means Committee Chairman James C. Smith announces that this dance will be held on October 26 — a Hallowe'en dance!

Mr. Smith's committee has arranged for Jack Morton and his Royal Blues Orchestra to supply the evening's notes and chords. Morton is said to produce "music that's delightfully different." It enjoys a fine reputation among Washington dance spots, according to the Ways and Means Committee.

Tickets will be on sale shortly. Place your orders with the following conveniently located "agents": Mrs. Herbert Hall, Sr., 7-C Parkway Road; Mrs. Robert Porter, 4-A Southway; Bernard Jones, 1-D Westway; Joseph Bargas, 6-D Ridge Road; and James C. Smith, 4-H Southway. Tickets are 30 cents; pay 35 cents at the door.

This will be the final dance sponsored by the present Association officers. They promise it to be better than any previous function, and urge all Greenbelters and their friends to glide in and enjoy a pleasant, musical evening. It is hoped also that many Washingtonians and folks from the neighboring communities can attend.

Second Boy Scout Troop Organizing Locally

A second Boy Scout troop for Greenbelt is being organized this month under the auspices of the Greenbelt Citizens Association, Joseph Bargas, president of that organization, announced Monday night. A scoutmaster is expected to be selected this week by the temporary committee so that registration of application for membership can be under way by the end of October.

The temporary committee at its first meeting agreed that Greenbelt was large enough to support three or four troops instead of the single one now existing, if sufficient leadership could be provided.

Committee members for the new Scout Troop are: Donald H. Cooper (chairman), Adolph Juhl, Robert L. Kincheloe, H. A. Bates, George Tretter, and Mr. Bargas. Three of these have had from five to 14 years of previous work in scouting. Chairman Cooper has asked that anyone interested in helping with the new troop get in touch with some member of the committee at once so that a permanent organization may register by the end of this month.

PLAGUE HITS GREENBELT

The so-called "Greenbelt Plague" (not confined to Greenbelt by any means) has now attacked many Greenbelters, both adults and children. While not of long duration, the "plague" manifests itself in vomiting, cramps, and diarrhea.

The Town Public Health Department has checked Greenbelt's water and milk supply and has found that both are free from contamination. Stool specimens are now being examined in hopes of isolating the responsible germ.

Joseph Rogers, drugstore manager, commented recently on the unusual demand for paregoric.

Town Answers Shooting Questions

The Police Department has noted recently that a number of non-residents have inquired at the office as to the place and time when they might practice target shooting in Greenbelt. Chief Mabee and the Town Manager have stated that anyone may use the Greenbelt target range operated by the Gun Club just north of the disposal plant during the hours specified by the club. He pointed out, however, that the police have been instructed to warn, and if necessary, arrest, anyone who attempts to "sneak in a few shots" when no authorized range officer is present to enforce the rules of safety.

One misdemeanor which is particularly dangerous around shooting places is intoxication. The Club is required to refuse the use of the range to anyone under the influence of liquor, and, says Chief Mabee: "In a case of that sort we'll back the range officers completely. Mixing liquor and shooting is gross disregard for the safety of self and others."

The Greenbelt Gun Club's revised list of range officers includes Harry Bates, Carrol Gardner, Ernest Boggs, Lyman Woodman, Clarence Wills, Aaron Chinitz, Ben Rosenzweig, Don Kern, and Harry Hesse. When any one of these men is on duty at the range, visitors, club members, and non-members alike, may utilize the shooting facilities in accordance with the rule posted on the range house.

Mr. Mabee reminds us that while the police officers may practice on the range in line of duty at any time, their presence is not sufficient to permit others to shoot simultaneously, as they are not range officers.

Rabbi Breslau to Conduct Yom Kipper Services

Friday evening, October 11, 1940, is the eve of the traditional, centuries old, Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur) Services. These services will be conducted by Rabbi Isadore Breslau of Washington.

Tradition requires that this day be spent in prayer and fasting. The service is opened with the singing of the beautiful and well-known hymn "Kol Midre" and marks in the ancient Hebrew ritual the close of the period of judgment which began the day of the New Year (Rosh Hashonoh). During this period it is believed that the shortcomings and merits of all men are weighed in the balance of Divine judgment. The services will continue throughout all day Saturday concluding a twenty-four hour fast at sundown.

Participating in the services will be the Greenbelt Hebrew Congregation Choir, led by Harry Fleisher, and "Kol Midre" will be sung by Clement Nusbaum of Washington, D. C.

Services will be held in the Junior Recreation Hall beginning at 8:00 P.M. on Friday, October 11, and at 9:30 A.M. on Saturday, October 12.

The next issue of the Greenbelt newsreel will be shown in the theatre on Thursday, October 17. There will be two showings that night and none other. The film is all in color and the topic is "The Greenbelt Town Fair."

Dr. Still Enters Hopkins School of Public Health

Only member of a class of eighty not sent by a state health department, Dr. Joe W. Still entered Johns Hopkins School of Public Health and Hygiene Monday, September 30, to study for a Master of Public Health degree.

Factors responsible for this unusual appointment were Dr. Still's membership on the Board of Directors of the Group Health Federation of America, his affiliation with the Greenbelt Cooperative Health Association, and the recognized importance of extending the field of public health and preventive medicine into cooperative groups.

Dr. Still will continue to hold his afternoon and evening office hours in the Greenbelt Health Association, but due to the pressure of office and class work, found it necessary to resign September 30 from the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Consumers Services, on which he has served as secretary since its organization in January, 1940.

HOBBY EXHIBIT A SUCCESS

A versatility of material and expression covering a wide range of interests marked the displays of the children of Greenbelt Elementary School in their Hobby Exhibit October 3. The children, under the leadership of Miss Mildred Parker, planned and arranged the entire show, in an effort not to be outdone by their parents who recently participated in the Town Fair.

Besides the student body and the teachers who came to view the completed exhibit, exactly 100 parents signed the guest register.

A wide variety of collections, some consisting of very old dolls and others of foreign dolls, and well made doll layettes highlighted the girls' contributions; maps, scrapbooks on many subjects of interest several excellent stamp collections and exhibits of matchboxes and feathers held the boys' interest.

The flower arrangement display consisting of cut and potted flowers in unusual containers proved an attractive display. Two miniature gardens under glass, called terrariums, demonstrated interest and skill in horticulture. There was even a little boxed garden, complete with "pool" and rocks, which housed a collection of frogs of different species.

The combined and painstaking efforts of the children made the Hobby Exhibit a definite success, according to the visitors.

The Branchville Firehouse will be open October 15 from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. for new registrations. It is important that all who have signed a declaration of intention to vote in Maryland should register at this time. It will take only 450 registrations to bring a polling place to Greenbelt. Of this required total there are only approximately 150 more registrations needed in order to achieve this convenience. Judge Freeran has the signed declarations at his home at 23 G Ridge Road and will be glad to arrange transportation to the firehouse at Branchville.

VOLUME 5, NO. 10

OCTOBER 10, 1940

Town Government

There was reported in the press last week an item which, if we can accept it as fact and not fiction, holds a lesson for Greenbelt.

The Town Councils and governing bodies of Norway's outlying villages have been forced to resign their jobs of administration, because of Nazi decrees in regard to their political affiliations. The result has been chaos, since Nazis must be imported from Germany to fill these countless minor posts.

This is striking evidence, we think, which shows that while the removal of government from any one small town would scarcely cause a ripple in the national scene, the sudden stoppage of all town and village administrative activities throughout the country poses a problem of gargantuan proportions.

Local government is important. For all its waste in duplication of effort and its inefficiency, it can, in time of a national crisis, either preserve or break a great nation. Given a sound and honest town administration, any local community can carry on in an emergency.

This is not a brief for more extensive local government. We merely recognize that local government, within its own limits is important and merits the close attention of every citizen. In a democracy, government depends not only on how carefully you select its personnel, but also on how well acquainted you are with the administrative work of your community so that you, if called, can capably serve your neighbors in a leadership capacity.

Autumn in Greenbelt

This is autumn. All week the leaves have been changing from green into gold and red. Every year in October there is this ever-new miracle of color in our woods. It is there for the joy of all who take the time to look, and it is all free. In the cool slanting sunlight of a fall afternoon the world is beautiful. It is like that every year, no matter who is elected president, regardless of what the headlines say, or how the radio sounds.

In Europe men are killing men; in Asia men are killing men; in Africa men are killing men. In Greenbelt the leaves are gold and red, but not with the gold of greedy rulers, nor with the red of ravaged slaves. Here the woods are beautiful for all to see on an October afternoon.

Letter From The Editor

TO THE READER:

My county tax bill arrived last week, even as yours did. Maybe yours was O.K. if you like tax bills, but mine failed to satisfy me on two counts.

In the first place the bills were due April 1, 1940, but my first and only statement was postmarked September 27. I received it October 1 and then discovered that it was already overdue and in arrears, subject to interest and penalty charges. These will amount to only a few cents, and I shall pay in full, but I see no excuse for the statements being sent out so late. This might even cost County Treasurer Harry W. McNamee some votes if he tries to run for re-election.

More important is the amount of the tax levied. Mine was $1.51. This is a small tax for county services for one year. I would have no objections to paying twice this sum if we could then pay decent salaries to school teachers in Prince Georges County.

It is interesting to note that while the largest part of the tax receipts is for schools, the next largest item is interest on bonds. That is a pretty large interest charge. What are you going to do about it?

The approach of Draft Day again points to the desirability of having separate registration and poll facilities in Greenbelt, instead of the present dependence on Branchville. More voters from Greenbelt would bring us a precinct status.

NURSERY SCHOOL

To the Editor:

As one who is interested in the proposed nursery school, and having worked with the committee which has the project under consideration, I wish to point out to those interested that the average salary paid teachers in Prince Georges County for this class of work will average not more than $1200, and not $1400 as was stated in a recent article in the Cooperator. —Margaret Taylor.

THE POET'S CORNER

I'm quite unable to decide
The nicest form of suicide,
Since it's impossible to try
More than a single way to die.

I've often thought I'd like to drown.
I've heard that, as you're going down,
Your whole life passes in review.
But, I don't think that story's true.

Then, some folks recommend a gun;
A shot, and everything is done.
But, I would rather not be found
With my brains scattered all around.

I've further heard that arsenic
Will positively do the trick.
Or else, a little ground-up glass,
Or just a whiff or two of gas.

They also say a nice long fall
Will very quickly end it all.
Or, slash an artery or vein
And then let all the red blood drain.

But, with so many ways to use,
It's rather difficult to choose.
In fact, I'm getting to the stage
Where I think I prefer old age.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS ANNOUNCED

In connection with the National Defense Program, the United States Civil Service Commission has announced examinations to fill the positions listed below.

Border patrolman, $2,000 a year, Border Patrol, Department of Justice. Closing date for receipt of applications is October 21, 1940.

Safety instructor, $1,800 a year, and assistant safety instructor, $1,620 a year, Bureau of Mines, Department of Interior. Closing date is November 4, 1940.

Full information as to the requirements for the examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

ARROWS AGAINST DEER

A five day deer hunting open season for the Robin Hoods of the northwest is to precede the regular open season in Itasca County, Minnesota. Coming just before the regular open season, the deer will not have been frightened and it will be possible for the hunters to get within bow and arrow distance of them.

At a sort of archers' rodeo held prior to the open season, one of the men shot an arrow through an eight inch pine board at 80 yards.

The Junior Red Cross Drive closed Friday at the school. A very attractive booth was set up in the hall, displaying Red Cross posters, books and exhibits. The children of Mrs. Alderton's room sponsored the booth. Bill Neblett and Mary Lee Parker took charge Tuesday and Wednesday Michael Juliano and Barbara Keek had charge Thursday and Friday. These Group One children were aided by Angela Lastner and Jeanne Kasko of Group Two. The children took the money before school in the morning and before school at lunch time.

The boys were dressed in white and wore a Red Cross arm band. While the girls were dressed in white and wore Red Cross head dress.

Parents of prospective Nursery School pupils will be interested to know that this project was given whole-hearted support by the Parent-Teacher Association at its last meeting. The support, in resolution form, was presented to Town Council for consideration.

The Nursery School Committee wishes to remind parents of children of nursery school age that final decision as to town participation will be reached at Town Council meeting of October 14.

Due to the fact that a staff of fifteen can not cope with the production problems resulting from the disregard of the established deadline (8 P.M. Saturday evening) notice is hereby served that material submitted after this deadline, unless it is of current date, will not be included in the subsequent issue.

Meditations

by
Robert Lee Kincheloe
Minister to the
Greenbelt Community Church

The other day there came to my attention a poem by Grace Evelyn Tobin, entitled "A Housewife's Thanksgiving". Our America needs mothers and wives who can pray this prayer convincingly.

For these, please make me thankful, Lord:
The things that crowd my daily life,
The minor joy, the petty strife,
The constancy of daily chores,
My gleaming glass, my shining floors,
For grubby hands, and muddy feet,
And table with no empty seat
To make its plenty less.

For these, please make me thankful, Lord:
The homely things that fill my days,
The tuneless air the beggar plays,
A faithful dog, a fireside cat,
The easy, friendly back-fence chat,
For wine-sweet days, and wind-swept leaves,
And household where nobody grieves
At wearing last year's dress.

For all these must I ask thy aid, O Lord,
That Thou wouldst make the thankful prayers
to start,

But for the love which binds me to my days,
I'm on my knees with overflowing heart.

The picture accompanying this bit of verse shows a woman sitting beside a window, peeling potatoes. Another title for the poem might be "The Romance of the Commonplace".

COMMUNITY CHURCH NEWS

If you do not seem to benefit from going to church, ask yourself: "Do I participate in the service with a real intention of getting the most out of it? Do I give myself entirely to the significance and the beauty of the music, the readings, the prayers? Do I really listen to the sermon, agreeing and disagreeing intelligently, squarely acknowledging where it shows up my shortcomings and honestly endeavoring to reshape my life accordingly? Suppose I did this every Sunday?"

LATTER DAY SAINTS NEWS

Mrs. Vera Van Leuvan was recently appointed president of the L.D.S. Ladies Relief Society in Greenbelt. Mrs. Ida Hamblin was chosen as first counselor, Mrs. Afton Alder as second counselor and Mrs. Ivaloo Ramell as secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Naomi B. Thomas, with counselors Mrs. Emma Stuart and Anne B. Wagstaff, were released with a vote of thanks for their work as officers during the past two years. Mrs. Ida Hamblin previously served as secretary and treasurer.

The organization, which is said to be the oldest women's organization in America, concerns itself with aiding the sick and the needy and sponsors a cultural program which is international in scope. Membership is open to all ladies who are desirous of attending the weekly meetings.

Mrs. Van Leuvan advises that the teachers have all been chosen and the year's outlined courses of study will start immediately. The program includes theology, social service, a monthly literary lesson, as well as at least one evening a month devoted to sewing for the needy.

Elder Donald H. Wagstaff, who just recently returned from an extended vacation in the west, will be the speaker at the L. D. S. Sunday evening services. It is expected that he will speak on "Modern Prophecy and Present Day World Affairs". While on his vacation, he visited many points of interest in the history of the Church, which included Navroo, and Carthage, Illinois, the former being a city that was built from a swamp in 1838 to the biggest city in Illinois in 1844 by Joseph Smith, the founder of the Mormon Church. This city is merely a ghost city of its former glory when it boasted a population of 26,000, and now has less than 1,000.

Joseph Smith and his brother Hymen were killed by a mob with painted faces while awaiting trial for treason at Carthage. The church has just recently restored the jail and the surroundings as they were when the Smith's were killed.

GREENBELT HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

One of the innovations in the high school schedule this fall is a daily activity period. No classes are scheduled during the fourth period, giving an opportunity for clubs and athletics during that hour. Wednesdays are reserved for intramural sports. Some of the clubs and activities are: Journalism, Spanish, Dramatics, Girls Shop, Model Airplane, Photography, Commercial, Glee and Symphony. Some meet twice a week, some once and some on alternate weeks. Students who do not have activities go to study hall. There will be more news about clubs and sports when their programs are fully underway.

A new student council was elected on a home-room basis last week and has met several times.

Enrollment this year is 235; of these 74 are freshmen.

We have two new teachers this year, Mrs. Marshall, English, and Mrs. Becker, Industrial Arts. Mrs. Marshall has taught in the District and in other Maryland schools. Mrs. Becker has taught for several years in Norfolk, Va.

CUSTER'S LAST STAND
VOLUME 4, NUMBER 36

Sport Scribe Ahaesy wonders how one "makes" "Greenbelt Biographies" and the "Hall of Outstanding Greenbelt Residents." I cannot speak for "Biographies" but here are the facts about my "Hall":

1. It pays no, or at most only passing, attention to the person's pre-Greenbelt history. It is concerned with the Greenbelt record.

2. "Outstanding Greenbelt Citizens" more clearly indicates the significance of the "Hall", than "Greenbelt Resident." I shall use the former designation hereafter.

3. Athletic prowess and good sportsmanship per se do not rate the "Hall", although they may be contributing factors. These attributes gain their own special recognition (by and large they get a disproportionate amount of public attention) and there is little, if any, correlation between them and the broader manifestations of civic responsibility with which the "Hall" is concerned. The "Hall" presumes that games are played for their own sakes, and that they bring their own reward. If they do not they have no place in our recreational program; we have no reason to emulate the college high pressure "spirit." Also it seems to me that good sportsmanship should be taken for granted.

4. The broader manifestations of civic responsibility above referred to are those contributions to community welfare made by an individual in addition to the basic civic responsibilities which he owes to the community either as a citizen or as a public employee. It is those who give unstintingly and freely of their time that I here mean to recognize.

5. I have, it seems according to what comment I have heard, been remiss in not following through with my original plan in regard to these citations, which was to publish one about every month. I shall try to do that hereafter. But even so it stands to reason that some worthy candidates will have to wait as patiently as possible for me to get around to them. I have previously asked, and now ask you, not to place too much importance in the order of the citations. I might add that one of the gentlemen Mr. Ahaesy mentioned is already rated by me for future mention. Perhaps one or more of the others should be.

6. As to that, it stands to reason that although I get around the town a good deal, I am bound to overlook meritorious services, unless I am helped by the servant's friends. I have previously asked, and now ask you, most sincerely, and most urgently to give me any suggestions you may have. To be valuable these should make specific mention of services rendered (in writing, please).

7. Of course the final responsibility for what appears in this column is mine. I am determined to call the shots as I see them, and I try to see them right. But I would be more than human if I always did so, and less than honest if I claimed to do so. That makes it possible for each of you to feel perfectly free to judge my statements or lack of statements for yourself. And the statements are not meant to be pronouncements from on high, but merely as points of departure for your own thinking. Anything more than that from me to you would indeed be presumptuous.

—Howard C. Custer.

NEW STORE TO BE OPENED IN DECEMBER

The Farm Security Administration announced, on October 3, that Greenbelt's eighth cooperative unit, a general merchandise store, is to be opened early in December. The Federal Government will receive three percent of the store's income as rental and members of the cooperative will receive patronage dividends on the profit.

The store will be housed in the spare room of the Community Center building. In the last eight months the government has received $9,500 in rent from the other cooperative units. The cooperative as a whole has realized a profit of $5,000 in the past six months.

The Garden Club had as visitors Monday afternoon, October 7, a group of Fairfax County Garden Club members. They were especially interested in Greenbelt's unique architecture and its adaptability to individual gardening.

COMMUNITY HEALTH
S. R. BRENNBERG, M.D., DIRECTOR
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH
HEALTH & TEETH, PART 6

The "six-year" molars usually erupt when the child is about six years old and before any of the baby teeth are lost. Consequently they are often mistaken by parents as late baby teeth. This is an unfortunate misconception. No teeth are more important than these first four permanent teeth. None require more watchful care, for these teeth are also termed the "Keystones of the Dental Arch", a phrase which is self-explanatory. These molars arrive about a year before it is time for the first teeth to be dispossessed. Unless these molars assume the correct position, the permanent teeth which are to follow will be out of line. Crooked teeth are difficult to clean, decay more easily and can not masticate properly. And crooked teeth are almost inevitable if these first permanent molars are not in the right place. Extra strain is put upon these molars since they must carry on the process of chewing while the baby teeth are being pushed out and before the other permanent teeth can assist in mastication.

These "six-year" molars often seem less resistant to decay than other teeth. This has been ascribed to the fissures on their grinding surfaces and on the sides of the crown. Probably more study will confirm the opinion that these teeth decay readily because few children are receiving or practicing correct oral hygiene. This is a reflection of the widespread misconceptions that these molars are really baby teeth and that first teeth are not important because they are going to fall out in a little while.

The regular semi-monthly meeting on Thursday, October 3, was designated as All Veteran's Night and was attended by over seventy ex-service men from Greenbelt and near-by communities.

A short business meeting was held at which time plans for the annual Armistice Dance were discussed and it was decided to be held November the 9th, Saturday night, with Jonnie Grahams Orchestra.

The Post went on record to participate in the dedication of the new court house at Upper Marlborough on October 28.

Plans were also discussed to improve the legion home and grounds.

The business meeting was followed by the social activities which were started off by Greenbelt's own Mary Lloyd Willis giving her hilarious reading, the "Jiner". This was followed by opening of the refreshment room with plenty of eats, drinks and smokes. An old fashioned vet's evening followed. Bill Neblett played the piano constantly with the boys singing all the old service songs led by Fred Wilde. Comrade Herbie Hall did his stuff with the accordion and sang his famous laughing songs, helped very generously by the boys.

A number of officers from other Legion Posts and the Southern Maryland District attended the Smoker.

WOMAN'S CLUB OF GREENBELT

Mrs. W. M. Murdock was hostess Thursday afternoon to the Woman's club in their first meeting of the season, Mrs. Glendon L. Allred as co-hostess. After the transaction of routine business, Mrs. Charles E. Fitch gave a delightful resume of her vacation covering the ground from Greenbelt to the coast, supplemented by Mrs. Roy S. Braden and Mrs. Wallace Mabee with their account of their trip to Colorado Springs, and Mrs. Allred and Mrs. Murdock's visits back home in Utah. Many amusing incidents were told of happenings enroute and all agreed Greenbelt was a pleasant place to return to. Mrs. Murdock served her guests a nicely appointed tea.

GREENBELT SCHOOL HAS THIRD ASSEMBLY

Inaugurating a new column, in which the pupils themselves report Elementary School happenings, we offer two versions of the Assembly held on Friday, October 4.

The Greenbelt Elementary School held its third assembly this year in the auditorium. The purpose of this assembly was to acquaint the children with various service clubs and organizations. First, the Red Cross group. These children (most of them quite small) were placed downstairs as representatives of the Red Cross fund for less fortunate children. The children bring in pennies, nickles or any money for the needy.

There were a few skits about the correct and incorrect use of the supply rooms in the school. To the delight of many, town manager Roy S. Braden gave a short account of the trip he made. Margaret Brown read a patriotic poem composed by Ruth Arness, and told how Mrs. Gerrit's class made a patriotic scrapbook which contained this poem. There was a round table discussion in which the school bookroom committee told their duties, and how various things were to be found. There was a short dramatization concerning clean fountains and laboratories. Mrs. Reed closed the assembly with a poem.

Barbara Ann Bonham

The Greenbelt Elementary School held its third assembly on October 4, 1940. The assembly was called for the purpose of introducing the service clubs to the pupils of the school. The service clubs that were introduced were:

- Chair committee-sponsored by Mrs. Keane and commented on by the principal, Mrs. Reed.
 - Lavatory and Hall-sponsored by Mrs. Parker and Miss Straining.
 - Supply Room-sponsored by Mrs. Gerrits and Miss Collier for the second floor and Mrs. Whittaker and Mrs. Alderton for the first.
 - Physical E.-sponsored by Miss Dungan
- These service clubs render a great service to both the school and community.
- Miss Kemp and Mr. Braden were guests at the assembly. Mr. Braden spoke briefly about his vacation. Miss Kemp and Mr. Braden were interviewed by Marilyn Westfall and Shirley Mitchell for the school paper.

In a recent radio program housewives were given scientific tips on doing an efficient job of their fall housecleaning. This program was sponsored jointly by the Consumers' Council Division of the Department of Agriculture, and the General Federation of Womens Clubs, and was given over N.B.C. under title of Consumers Time which by the way, is a regular sustaining feature of the N.B.C., giving timely hints and valuable information on household and consumer problems.

Good Evening, Mrs. Greenbelt

Back again, gals, doing business in the same old stand, and happy to be doing it.

Looks like I'm going to get plenty of support these days, with Peggy Bargas doing the recipes and our new bride, Dottie Van Schelven, also standing by. As for the rest of you, I'm not questioning the support you'll give me. If it is like last year's brand I'm satisfied.

I hope to adequately introduce my staff to you next week, and I hope you'll be as nice to them as you have been to me.

Better Buyers Briets

Mrs. Evelyn Boggs was hostess to twelve members of the Nifty Shoppers Club at her home, 32 Crescent Road on October 2.

The group was given its first lesson in the art of making leather novelties by Mrs. Doris Seybold.

The Nifty Shoppers will meet next on October 16 at the home of Mrs. Jenevie Johnson, 5-F Ridge Road.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB TOURS GREENBELT

On Saturday, October 5, the Home Economics Club of the Maryland Board of Education was conducted on a tour of Greenbelt by Mr. Harvey Vincent. They were greatly impressed by the facilities available to Greenbelt residents.

TIMELY HOUSEHOLD HINTS

These black lines in the hands and knuckles left after housecleaning etc., can be removed by rubbing with a mixture of soapsuds and cornmeal.

Save the left over pieces of toilet soap and tie them in a cheesecloth bag. This makes an excellent bath cloth replacing both wash cloth and soap.

HOW DO YOU PURCHASE STOCKINGS?

Do you know the difference between a full-fashioned stocking and one that is circular knit? Here is how the CONSUMERS' GUIDE, publication of the Consumers' Council Division of the Department of Agriculture, gives the answer:

"Look at the back of the stocking and find the small fashion marks on either side of the seam half way down the leg. Then examine closely the row of stitches on the outside of these fashion marks. Do they meet the marks at an angle, or are they parallel to the marks? If they are at an angle, then the stocking is full-fashioned. If the stitches are parallel to the fashion marks and seam, then the stocking is circular knit. In that case the fashion marks are put there merely to deceive the eye.

"A circular knit stocking does not require a seam, but one may be 'planted' simply to imitate full-fashioned knits. Putting mock fashion marks and mock seams in circular knit stockings is a common practice.

"Full-fashioned stockings are not only fashioned in the leg portion, but also in the foot, heel, and toe. If the stocking has a full seam, running under the heel and foot, chances again are that it is full-fashioned.

"Circular knit stockings are cheaper to make, may be just as durable, as full-fashioned hose, but there is no guarantee against their becoming baggy after laundering. Many women can wear the circular knit hose just as well as the full-fashioned kind, and can accomplish substantial savings to boot. About one out of every 3 stockings sold in 1937 was circular knit."

"When you put on or take off a stocking, be careful of sharp fingernails, jewelry, and calloused skin," cautions the CONSUMERS' GUIDE, publication of the Consumers' Council Division, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"A good idea is to roll the stocking before putting it on, then slip it over the foot and gently draw it over the calf. This will avoid accidental snags or runs.

"Wash stockings as soon as possible after each time they are worn. Use a mild soap and lukewarm, soft water.

"Press or squeeze out the soap suds and rinsing water - never rub or scrub hosiery. Then roll the stockings in a soft towel to absorb the moisture, and hang them over a line to dry, rather than fastening them with clothes pins. Don't hang the stockings in the hot sun or near a hot radiator. The best place is a warm room with a circulating air.

"Last, never iron hosiery. Ironing not only causes them to lose shape, it can ruin delicate silk and rayon fibers."

RECIPES

How about that wiener roast you've been planning? Here is a recipe for a relish that goes particularly well with "Hot dogs" or hamburgers.

PICALLILI RELISH

- | | |
|-------------------------|---------------------|
| 1/2 peck green tomatoes | 2 cups onions |
| 1/2 peck ripe tomatoes | 2 cups celery |
| 3 cups red peppers | 3/4 cup salt |
| 3 cups green peppers | 2 tbsp. celery seed |
| 1 tbsp. cloves | 2 tbsp. cinnamon |
| 6 cups sugar | 8 cups vinegar |

Put vegetables through meat chopper or chop very fine with knife. Sprinkle with the salt and let stand all night. Drain well in the morning, add rest of the ingredients and cook slowly for 40 minutes, stirring often. Seal in sterilized jars. Makes 20 pints.

SWEET PICKLED PEARS

- | | |
|----------------------|----------------------|
| 5 lbs. seckel pears | 1 tbsp. whole cloves |
| 1 stick cinnamon | 1 quart vinegar |
| 1 tbsp. whole ginger | 3 lbs. sugar |
| 1 tbsp. allspice | 1 lemon sliced thin |

Select pears that are firm and slightly under ripe. Wash do not remove stems. Peel and put immediately into a bowl of cold salt water. Tie spices in cheesecloth bag. Boil spices, vinegar, sugar and lemon in large preserving kettle for ten minutes. Simmer pears gently in syrup until transparent. Remove spice bag. Pack pears in clean sterilized jars, fill to overflowing with hot syrup and seal.

TO CHAZ - AN ANSWER

Dear Chaz, I simply cannot understand, with poems to "eats" on every hand, how you can wonder and sometimes wish for verses built 'round steak and fish. See here - a dinner all in rhyme, by poets of this and former time.

"Beautiful soup, so rich and green,
Waiting in a hot tureen,
Who for such dainties would not stoop?
Soup of the evening, beautiful soup!
Soup of the evening, beautiful soup!
Beau—ootiful soo—oop!
Beau—ootiful soo—oop!
Soo—oop of the e—e—evening,
Beautiful, beautiful soup!"

"Tis the voice of the lobster, I heard him declare,
'You have baked me too brown, I must sugar my hair!'"

"When mighty roast beef was the Englishman's food,
It ennobled our hearts and enriched our blood,
Our soldiers were brave and our courtiers were good.
O, the Roast Beef of England,
And O, the old English Roast Beef!"

"Then in his low and pine-built hall,
Where shields and axes decked the wall,
They gorged upon the half-dressed steer,
Caroused in sea of sable beer."

(Chaz this one is especially for your sweet tooth)
"...he from forth the closet brought a heap
Of candied apple, quince and plum and gourd,
With jellies soother than the creamy curd,
And lucent syrups, tinct with cinnamon,
Manna and dates, in argosy transferred
From Fez; and spiced dainties, every one,
From silken Samarcand to cedared Lebanon."

Carroll, and Fielding, and Scott, and Keats,
They all knew their stuff when it came to "eats".
But, Chaz, I have one request to make -
Don't have a mental stomach-ache!

Peggie A.

When separating yolks and whites of eggs it is important to see that no yolk is left in the white if the white is to be beaten. To remove any part of the yolk use a piece of egg shell and you will find that the piece of yolk can easily be removed.

AHAESY CANDID ATHLETIC COMMENTS

Athletic Club activities were practically at a standstill this past week. The between season lull is beginning to get on the nerves of some of the more active athletic minded club members. The Clubhouse was closed all week due to the fire a week ago Sunday. Herb Hall, Joe Todd, and Buck Williams worked feverishly all day Saturday to get the fire place in working order. The Clubhouse Committee purchased a new wood stove Saturday that should take care of the heating problem. Harold Meek contributed a radio and a wicker sofa to the club which was greatly appreciated. The Club could use some more card tables, so anyone wishing to donate one should contact Bill Neblett, who will make arrangements to have them picked up.....

Bill Neblett, popular club president, was confined to bed over the weekend with a slight touch of gripple. Here's hoping Bill is feeling better by now.....

Buck Williams has turned prognosticator of football scores. After his second guessing on Duke last Saturday it is suggested he stick to softball.....

Monday night the Shamrocks baseball team held a party at the Clubhouse. This affair brought to a close a very successful baseball season.....

Boy, oh! Boy, here is really news. A short time ago the Starlight Barons of the Greenbelt Bowling League challenged the Starlight Women's team to a match game. Well, were the Barons' faces red when they dropped two out of three games to the women. "Red" Stewart was heard to remark, "Look at the handicap we gave them", but the score sheet told a different story. In the first game the women and men's scores showed only a slight difference of four pins without the handicap.....

By the way, while we're on the subject of bowling, have you noticed how reluctant the colored boys are about spotting the pins at the alleys. In fact, at times they are insolent about it. I guess Charlie has a hard time getting pin boys or I'd suggest that if these boys refuse to spot the pins he 'can' them. I'll bet a lot of husbands were curious about the pains their wives took with applying their make-up last Monday, September, 30. Well at last the secret is out. Fosnight, the Cooperator's ace photographer, had made arrangements to take pictures of each team in the Greenbelt Women's Bowling League. The pictures turned out fine. Step right up, girls, and let your captain know if you desire any extra copies.....

EXPLANATION OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND RECREATION ACTIVITIES

All classes as listed below will begin the week of October 14, except for the following: Elementary Physical education classes which have already begun; Touch Football and Soccer, already under way; and the Women's Reducing class, which will not start until November 1.

On nice days gym classes will be held outdoors except for basketball and tumbling. These classes will be conducted on the Athletic fields with basketball and tumbling in the gymnasium. The Women's reducing class will be held in the Social room of the school provided there are enough women participating.

Adult gym classes include all persons over high school age. All classes are free to residents of Greenbelt and rubber sole shoes must be worn in the gymnasium.

A member of the Recreation staff will be in charge of all classes and the Recreation department are working with the Elementary School staff to try and arrange for a number of hikes.

PROTECT OUR LAKE

Greenbelt's lake has been a source of enjoyment to hundreds of people, both Greenbelters and visitors from far and wide. It has a good spring and surrounding picnic grounds, boat wharf and boats. It has been stocked with ducks and fish.

Thirty-two wild ducks of four different breeds have been liberated there. All the ducks except the Mallard species have disappeared from lack of proper supervision and organization. The sixteen original Mallards now number forty after three years of breeding. The lake was also stocked with several kinds of fish four years ago, and this past fishing season less fish were caught than the original stock of a-dult fish liberated. The largest bass caught this year was much smaller than the original breeders, which is proof that something is radically wrong.

According to J. H. Shepherd, Deputy County Game Warden, the reason for Paul Zimmerman's model of the lake at the Town Fair was to try to interest enough people in forming an organization to develop the lake. By developing the lake, is meant restocking, furnishing and planting food and cover protection and elimination and control of turtles, catfish and carp. The plan for the ducks is to have as many colorful varieties as possible but limit the breeding stock to twenty-five or thirty birds. This control could be done by establishing a banding station under the supervision of the Biological Survey. They have expressed a willingness to help us in various ways and have already given a setting of quail eggs which have hatched and been liberated in Greenbelt. If we would like to put feed and suet out for our feathered friends this winter, we must get started right away.

If you are interested, please check the form below and drop in at the Post Office for J. H. Shepherd, Paul Zimmerman, John Belton, or contact them in any other way.

I AM INTERESTED IN:

1. Restocking lake for future fishing
2. Restocking woods for future hunting
3. Game promulgation
4. Winter feeding stations
5. 4-H Wildlife Club
6. Making Greenbelt a wildlife refuge

Paced by the STARLIGHT BARONS' 555, a new high team game, the BARNACLES high team set of 1551, and Timmons high individual game of 136, the sixteen teams of the Greenbelt Bowling League met for the third round of competition last Tuesday night, Oct. 1, at the College Park Alleys.

Two shutouts were registered, one by the league leading RED SKINS over the COMMUNITY MEN'S CLASS, and the other by the BARNACLES, who trounced the DODGERS in all three games. The RED SKINS are the only team that have not lost a single game.

The STARLIGHT BARONS, rolling a new high team game of 555, finished up with a 1502 set to whip their STARLIGHT rivals, the EARLS, two games to one. The BADGERS held on to second place in the standing, despite their poor set of 1445, by taking the odd game from the BUCKEROOS.

In the other matches of the evening, all won by a 2 to 1 count, the EAGLES beat UNIVERSITY MOTORS, the ORIOLES defeated the CONSUMER CO-OP #2 team, the CARDINALS trimmed CONSUMER CO-OP #1, and the COLTS won their first match when they defeated the KNIGHTS of COLUMBUS.

MARVIN'S PRIZE, $2.00 in merchandise free, and the weekly league prize of $1.00 in cash, was won by Timmons, of the BARNACLES, for his high game of 136.

Folk Dancers Purchase More American Records

Current record purchases of the Greenbelt folk dance group include five American dances: "Lady of the Lake," "Durang's Hornpipe," "Pop Goes the Weasel," "Soldiers' Joy" and a new Virginia Reel. The folk dance enthusiasts hope to obtain a complete collection of the Victor Company's "Physical Education Folk Dances," of which there are about 100, of Danish, English, Swedish, German, Belgian, Hungarian, French, Scotch and American nationality. The Greenbelters have about 50 of these at present.

The dance repertoire of the group now includes the Virginia Reel, various schottisches, Down in the Paw-paw Patch, The Ace of Diamonds, Little Man in a Fix, old-fashioned American and Viennese waltzes, and waltz quadrilles. Square dances performed by the enthusiasts are Pop the Cyster, Red River Gal, Sally Goodman, Chase the Squirrel, and Swing Like Thunder. These are all American.

The best time to learn the various dances is early in the evening, say leaders George Tretter and Howard Custer. The sessions are held in the Junior Recreation Hall Saturday evening from 9 to 12.

Berenberg Attends Meeting of Public Health Group

Dr. S. R. Berenberg left Saturday afternoon for Detroit, Michigan where he will spend a week attending the sixty-ninth annual meeting of the American Public Health Association. The Program Committee has indicated that many of the talks will deal with the problems of maintaining and extending public health work "where human life is still valued" despite the effects of the war upon other phases of life in the United States. Dr. Berenberg is most interested in attending the meetings devoted to Health Education problems in order to improve that aspect of the work of the local Department of Health.

HOMEOWNER'S ARCHITECTS DESIGN $3,500 HOUSE

Henry Klumb, architect, and Dave Humphrey, assistant designer, have had accepted preliminary drawings for a basic house with two bedrooms which can be constructed in masonry for $3,500.

In this Tuesday night's meeting the Homeowner's Cooperative discussed further plans and the architects have been commissioned to work out three, incorporating three bedrooms and more spacious floor plans. From these homeowners may select the plan most suitable to their requirements.

PERSONALS

Mrs. S. Burdwise of Philadelphia is spending some time with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fleisher.

Miss Elizabeth Yuretich attended the wedding of her brother, Frank R. Yuretich, to Miss Marion E. Brown, which took place on Sunday, October 6 in Brooklyn, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Benefiel returned on October 7 from Indiana. Their trip was made necessary due to the death of Mr. Benefiel's father.

With the exception of one family, the entire court of 58 Crescent Road could hold a third year anniversary party this month. Eleven of the twelve families living there are residents of three years' standing.

Mr. Louis Gerstel arrived home October 2 from the hospital, where he underwent a major operation.

Mrs. Gertrude Brennon, operator at the Greenbelt Beauty Shop, is recuperating the Greenbelt Hospital from an emergency appendectomy.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wagstaff returned last week from a vacation trip which took them to the west coast and into Canada. They spent several weeks at the home of Mrs. Wagstaff in Riverside, Utah and at Mr. Wagstaff's home in Salt Lake City.

CO-OP Better Business Methods

Mean Real Economy

The CO-OP label on merchandise means that you know the quality you are buying. The better quality CO-OP goods usually sells for less than cheaper quality in other brands, so you not only save money but get better value.

Bread and Butter Time

When the kids come home from school with their healthy growing-boy-and-girl appetites, satisfy their hunger with crusty, fresh bread spread with CO-OP 93-SCORE BUTTER. Serve this delicious butter with all your meals. Every member of your family will agree there's none better.

Red Label CO-OP 93 Score Print Butter

Your Food Store has 93 Score Butter under the CO-OP Red Label. This butter has a certificate of Quality that is issued by the Authority of The United States Department of Agriculture.
