

Outsiders Want In Residents Warned

A letter to non members from Anthony M. Madden, membership chairman of the Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation, early this week explained that "to the extent that Greenbelters fail to enroll, GVHC will be forced to admit non-residents to membership."

"Desirable Investment" Part of the current GVHC campaign to bring the entire community into its membership, the letter said that Greenbelt is considered "a highly desirable investment" by private interests, and urged residents not to reject their "first right under the law" to buy their own homes.

Campaigners Dined

On Monday evening, the 75 membership campaigners held a supper meeting to plan the operation of the membership drive. Michael Salzman, GVHC president, gave the following chairmen, with their addresses, for the benefit of residents interested in joining:

Michael Burchick, 9-B Research; Hans Jorgensen, 19-E Hillside; Henry Hart, 13-B Laurel Hill; Mrs. Opie Stage, 57-Q Ridge; Norman Granims, 3-K Plateau; William Klein, 12-H Plateau; Walter Bierwagen, 1-B Westway; Mrs. Evelyn Pearlman, 4-C Laurel Hill; Filip Junek, 14-T Hillside; Sam Schwimmer, 45-S Ridge; Kal Tillem, 4-B Gardenway; Elliot Bukzin, 34-L Ridge; Lars Bronstein, 11-K Ridge; Joe Karitas, 2-D Southway; Robert Garin, 54-B Crescent; Mrs. Carrie Harper, 4-C Parkway; and Miss Cyrilla O'Connor, 15-A Parkway.

Office Hours

For the duration of the membership drive, scheduled to close March 4, the GVHC office will remain open Monday through Friday from 8 to 10 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., according to Salzman.

Decorating Class Has Varied Activities

The interior decorating class of the adult education program is engaging in a great variety of activities, according to its teacher, Mrs. Pittman. Some class members who have registered and are not attending were reminded that they are missing several worthwhile projects.

So far during the course, according to Mrs. Pittman, the class has had instruction in making windows more attractive, use of color in the home, making and slipcovering a footstool, making a legless dressing table, and making lamps. At the March 1 session, the class will learn rug-making.

Anyone who wishes to join the class may still register in the social room of the community building at 8 p.m. on Wednesday nights.

2 Basketball Games Aid Lutheran Builders

The men's class of the Greenbelt Lutheran Church will hold a benefit basketball doubleheader Sunday, February 26, at 4:30 p.m. in the community building auditorium, with proceeds to go to the church's building fund.

In the opening game, the Greenbelt Boys Club team will play host to the midgets of Ballston Indians of Arlington, a team that the local five defeated earlier this year. The Greenbelt Lions will play the D. C. Fire Department's team in the feature game of the day at 5:30. Coach Bob Lindeman says he will rely on the same combination of former Greenbelt high school and college stars that have proven successful so far this year, led by Stan Provost and Dene Ward, and aided by Bobo Hause and Tex Cragin.

Asks Local Co-ops To Housing Meeting

Members of Greenbelt cooperatives have been issued a special invitation to attend the Middle Income Housing Conference today and tomorrow at the Washington Hotel's Hall of Nations.

Sponsored by 27 national organizations, the conference in tomorrow's three sessions will feature regional and district conferences at 9 a.m., discussion of the proposed National Cooperative Housing Act from 2 to 5 p.m., and a banquet at 7:30 p.m. Guest speakers at the banquet will be Senator John Sparkman (Ala.), Senator Ralph E. Flanders (Vt.), and Congressman Brent Spence (Ky.), chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee.

Gardner Jackson, executive secretary of the Middle Income Housing Conference, said that visitors who mention that they are from Greenbelt will not be charged a registration fee.

Golden Glovers To Fight Tonight

By Eli Don Bullian

Final eliminations for the Prince Georges County Junior Golden Gloves were held last Monday night at College Park, and what the boys lacked in ring style and finesse they made up for with aggressiveness and the will-to-win. Finals will be held tonight at 7 p.m. at the coliseum in College Park and should be worth attending.

Monday's opening bout, novice 55-lbs., was rather slow because of the over-cautiousness of both contestants. Young Robert Taylor, son of the Greenbelt boxing coach, won over Steven Hart of Lanham with a series of left jabs.

The 75-lb. novice clash brought together Charles Cranford of Marlboro and Dennis Murray of Greenbelt. An accidental blow in the stomach by the taller Cranford spelled defeat for young Murray. The bout was stopped in the first round.

The Tony Salvan (Greenbelt)—David Darnell (Laurel) bout in the novice 80-lb. class saw two scrappers who threw science to the wind and let both hands fly. Slavan, who had previously defeated Bradley Woods of Glenn Dale for the honor of taking on young Darnell, was given the decision because of a very good left and his more aggressive tactics.

Greenbelt vs. Greenbelt

Two Greenbelt boys tangled in the first novice 85-lb. class. Shalom Fisher lost a close decision to Teddy Havens. The second 85-pounder saw Edward Welch of Glenn Dale defeat Joe Bender of Greenbelt, who put up a good scrap, but could not overcome the greater height, reach, and age of his opponent.

One of the best bouts of the night, the second 90-lb. open, was marred by an accidental low blow in the third round, which cost the winner two points in the scoring.

Johnny Bryant's superiority was evident but the spirit and drive displayed by Charles Howey, his teammate from Greenbelt, was a revelation. His performance in this contest, which he lost, was much better than in his two previous bouts, which he won.

Teens Square Off At Drop Inn Tonight

The teen-age square dancing class has transferred its every-other-week meeting to Thursday nights and will convene tonight at the Drop Inn at 8 p.m. Although interest in this activity is increasing, more boys and girls are invited, according to Eileen Labukas, Drop Inn director.

The correct telephone number of the city offices is 2011. The city manager's new phone number is Tower 6330.

Four Local Girls Vie For Crown

Greenbelt High School will present its tenth annual All Greenbelt Night on Friday, February 24, in the Ritchie Coliseum at College Park at 6:30 p.m. The program will open with a concert by the Greenbelt Community Band.

The main event will be the crowning of the queen who will reign throughout the evening. Candidates are Esther Wolfe, Mary Jane Riehms, Rosemary Hennessy, and Anne Lastner. No one will know who will wear the crown until the girls are ready to pass through the door of the hall. Girls on the queen's court are Doris Davis, junior; Carol Day, sophomore, and Patsy Rexrode, freshman.

Greenbelt girls' and boys' teams will play Bladensburg's varsities. Greenbelt beat Bladensburg on "All Bladensburg Night."

City Manager Charles T. McDonald will present awards to outstanding basketball players between the halves of the girls' games. Additional entertainment features will be the Greenbelt majorettes, Greenbelt tumblers and other stunts. Tickets may be bought from junior and senior high school students, and at the door of the coliseum.

JCC Elects Officers, Celebrates Purim

The Jewish Community Center will elect its new board of trustees and officers Saturday, February 25, at 8:30 p.m. in the social room of the community building. The three board members will serve two-year terms in office. Officers to be elected are president, vice president, treasurer, financial secretary, recording secretary, and corresponding secretary, for one-year terms.

A social celebration of the Purim festival, with refreshments, will follow the elections.

PTA Bake Sale

A bake sale, sponsored by the ways and means committee of the Center School PTA to help pay for the new ditto machine, will be held on Friday, February 24, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the lobby of the theater. Mrs. D. Kern is in charge and asks that all baked goods be brought down by 9:30 a.m. Persons who are unable to do so and want their contributions picked up should call 4532 or 7071.

Membership Tea Planned By NCJW

The National Council of Jewish Women's social event for the month of February will be the paid-up membership tea to be held on Sunday, February 26, from 3 to 5 p.m. at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. Eugene Ehrlich, 1903 Dennis Avenue, Silver Spring.

The next board meeting will convene on March 1, 8:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. William Levisky, 60-J Crescent.

A few Council members will hold a rummage sale to raise their donor money on February 28 at 10 a.m. in front of the theater lobby. Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Bernard Trattler at 3362.

An orientation tea for all the new members was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Elliot Bukzin. New members expressed a desire to participate actively in the committees sponsored by the Council.

Council Considers Land, Taxes, Water, Preparing City For Independence

The city council took new steps last Monday to prepare Greenbelt for its eventual independence. A tax calendar; consideration of the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission's proposal to supply water and sewage service to Greenbelt; and a request for dedication of certain properties by PHA to the city provided the council with the groundwork for continued progress.

After emphasizing the need of a tax calendar, City Manager Charles T. McDonald was instructed to establish one and present it to the council for consideration at the next meeting. The calendar would include dates for assessment of property, appeals, hearings, mailing of bills, and payments. It was mentioned that all real property is appraised by the county but the tax rate is fixed by the individual municipalities.

The disposition of the water and sewage system by the government when Greenbelt is sold will present two choices: having that service supplied by the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission or assuming local control. At present

GCS Holds Recount With 32 More Ballots

Discovery that 32 ballots had been overlooked in the first count of votes for candidates to the Greenbelt Consumer Services board of directors last week led to a recount which resulted in the inclusion of Mrs. Carrie Harper among the elected. In the recount, Mrs. Harper narrowly defeated Ben Rosenzweig, formerly announced as one of those elected, according to Hans Jorgensen, chairman of the nominations and elections committee.

To Meet Tonight

The other eight members, as announced in last week's Cooperator, are Walter Bierwagen, George Davidsen, Paul Kasko, John Littleton, Mrs. Carolyn Miller, Robert Mitchell, Mrs. Eleanor Ritchie, and Henry Walter. The new board will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the GCS office to elect officers and form committees.

Center PTA To Meet, Discuss Health Facilities

The Center School PTA will meet February 28 in the social room of the community building at 8:15 p.m. The topic for discussion will be "Public Health Facilities in Greenbelt." Guest speakers will be Mrs. Frances Stauffer, who will talk on local health facilities; Dr. Engler, County Health Officer, who will speak on county and state health facilities; and Charles T. McDonald, city manager, who will give a talk on municipal health policies. A twenty-minute discussion period will follow. Mrs. Lowein Matheny will report on the annual meeting of the mental health clinic of Prince Georges County which was held on February 20 at the University of Maryland. There will be an exhibit by the adult education art class taught by David Young, art instructor, of Greenbelt High School. Beulah Bukzin will be in charge of the exhibit.

Homemakers Meet, Discuss Time Savers

The regular monthly meeting of the Homemakers Club will be held at 8 p.m., March 1, in the social room of the community building. Miss Ethel Regan, home demonstration agent, will discuss savings in housekeeping. Roll call subject will be "my favorite timesaver."

Mrs. David Rothschild, President of County Council of Homemakers, will give a demonstration on processed paintings. Members will take part but must bring their own pictures, thumb tacks, card larger than picture, new cheese cloth, small can of shellack, and 1/2" brush.

the Commission brings water to a storage tank in Greenbelt and government-owned lines pipe the water to the houses.

Commission States Case

Answering a request for information from the council regarding rates that would be charged for water and sewage service, the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission submitted a letter stating:

First, a meter would be installed in the water service line serving each premises and the occupant would be charged the current rate for the water consumed through the meter, which at present is 27 cents per thousand gallons, plus a $2.00 additional annual service charge.

Second, front foot benefit assessment, payable annually for a period of 40 years, would be charged each property which abutted on water main or sewer and the amount of the charge would depend upon the length of frontage which abutted the water main or sewer. There are three front foot benefit charge classifications, namely subdivision, small acreage and business. The subdivision base rate is for the first 150 feet and half the base rate for all footage in excess of 150 feet. . . . These charges are fixed by the Commission and vary from time to time. (Emphasis ours.)

Third, each property, regardless of whether or not it abuts or connects to the Commission's systems would pay an annual ad valorem tax, which at present is 10 cents per $100 of assessed valuation as carried on the county tax books.

The council will consider at a special meeting to be held within the next ten days whether it is to the city's advantage to operate the water and sewage system ourselves, or to allow the Commission to do so.

Legislation Needed

Since the Commission is chartered by the state it requires state legislation to permit acquisition of new territory. Such legislation is now pending in a special session of the State Legislature in Annapolis. However, if the council is undecided before the session ends, the matter will be deemed "controversial" and withheld from further consideration.

The council next considered plans to acquire property from PHA through dedication and purchase. In a letter to council, PHA stated its intention to dedicate certain land and its desire to sell to the city various items of equipment. McDonald was instructed to list separately, with detailed descriptions, the property that council feels the city requires and to inform PHA of council's desires. The property includes park and recreation areas, the swimming pool, and related parcels of land indicated on the Hale Walker Plan as municipal needs. McDonald reminded the council of the expense entailed in maintaining these properties, and its relation to our tax structure.

Given Truman Picture

At the beginning of the meeting the council accepted a 10"x6" photograph of President Truman from John Kenestruck, who made the presentation on behalf of the local American Legion post. The picture was acquired from the White House Photographers Association, of which a local resident, Henry Griffin, is a member.

Whats In A Rose

In line with the current use of audience participation, The Cooperator wants to get everybody into the act. We don't have a complete modern kitchen to give away—although there is an extra, but broken, hot plate in the office. We don't promise to pay anything, not even attention, but we need suggestions.

What should be The Cooperator's new name? Not that imaginative ideas aren't plentiful among Cooperator staff members. That's just the trouble: There are too many.

There's the guy who reported his carpool companion's remark that since the paper is thrown on every doorstep, wanted or not, it should be called The Greenbelt Inescapable. The possibility of typos discouraged this. What if the "es" were left out?

Then there was a request for dignity, with the suggestion of The Greenbelt New York Times, but that sounded familiar, somehow. And The Weekly Leader lends itself too well to phonetic misunderstanding.

The committee charged with the responsibility of suggesting a new name must report to the membership at its next meeting. Any (printable) suggestions?

OPERATING REPORTS

Something occurred at the GCS membership meeting last week which requires a full and complete explanation by the board. No operating report, covering the financial results of each enterprise, was passed out with the ballot and other material as the members registered. We were told, and then only upon questioning, that they were available, but only if the member asked. This is certainly a far departure from previous conditions. When I first joined GCS in 1944, financial information covering each enterprise was mailed to the membership. This allowed an intelligent analysis before the meeting, and gave the membership a basis for discussion at the meeting. During my tenure on the board, I am sorry to say, this practice was eliminated and the membership was informed that financial reports were available at the office.

At least the entire board voted on that decision. At last Wednesday's meeting, we discovered that a small group, whose identity I have not been able definitely to ascertain, decided that the membership was not entitled to a detailed report showing the operating results by stores. They based their reasoning on the fact that the membership might use the information in a way which would adversely affect the co-op. As a member, I feel that the board owes the membership an explanation and apology for this insult to their intelligence. It also seems that the board needs to be educated as to its responsibilities. Let's figure out a way to give the membership more information, not less, so that we do not degenerate into simply aping a stockholder's meeting of our apparent models, A & P or Safeway Stores, Inc.

APOLOGY

To both those who participated in and those who witnessed a heated verbal barrage between myself and others at the close of the GCS meeting on last Wednesday evening, I apologize.

Having made an unpopular and possibly unwise decision regarding distribution of information which can be harmful to GCS when in the wrong hands, I was morally bound to face the adverse effects of the decision and prevent, if possible, the blame being wrongly placed.

Regardless of how provoking the circumstances or the hostility of those who challenged me I would be depreciating myself if I failed to publicly apologize.

Brownies Combine Birthday, Valentine

Brownie Troop No. 42, under the leadership of Mrs. Philip Crofford and assistant leader, Mrs. Bernard Feig, held a combination Valentine and birthday party on February 17. Each girl brought a package of refreshments which were bought at auction by the girls for pennies equalling their ages. After all the packages were sold, the girls opened them and ate the contents.

Auctioneers were Debby Webster and Pat Hogan, who are the Juliette Low representatives of that troop. The proceeds will go to the Juliette Low Friendship Fund. The birthday party was held for all the girls whose birthdays occur in February.

GCS Employees Meet, Discuss Gross Margin

The third session of the regular GCS employees discussion group meetings was held last Monday night. George Spillman, the new food store manager, lead the discussion in the absence of general manager Ashelman. The topic for discussion was Gross Margins—What They Are and How to Control Them. Present were: Harley Mimura, Homer Jorden, Hugh Hawkins, Steve Wilson, Floyd Martin, and Ralph E. Miller.

The topic for discussion at the next meeting, scheduled for Monday, March 6, will be History of Cooperatives.

Personal Touch

Doris Asbell Mednick, 3518

Not a day goes by that you don't see an account in one of the daily papers of a new dramatic group ready to put a play upon the boards. It makes us wonder whether there aren't the makings of an adult "Little Theater" right here on our own home ground. Surely in a city of this size there must be a number of people who would enjoy putting on a play and everything that it entails—from back-stage work to before-footlights emoting. Breathes there soul so dead that it at one time has not said, "I'd love to be in a play." Come on, fellow thespians, if you want a drama group in Greenbelt, let's know about it. Simply contact me after 6:30 p.m. or Sam Fox, Recreation Director.

Who said we weren't going to get any cold weather? I bet their faces are red, and their toes and fingers blue. And aren't the Tom Freemans (he's the Postmaster) 23-G Ridge and the Leon Benefiels, 50-B Crescent the wise ones? . . . they left over the weekend for a two week trip to Florida.

There was a touch of June here on Saturday when 19-year old Rosa Ann Elliott, niece of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Murray, 45-G Ridge, became the bride of Walter N. Ruthersford, Jr., who lived here with his sister, Mrs. Raymond Noolan, 62-F Ridge. They were married at the Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church and will make their home in Berryville, Va. Patricia Plackett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Plackett, 4-E Hillside, came home for the weekend to be maid of honor at the wedding. Mrs. Murray celebrated her birthday the same day as George Washington . . . Marjorie Weidberg and Sandy Bowman had a joint party for their 6th birthday at the Weidbergs', 14-Z-2 Laurel Hill.

James Taylor McCarl, son of Dr. and Mrs. James W. McCarl of 9 Forestway, has been named on the dean's list of Bob Jones University, which means he has averaged "A" or "B" in all courses for the first semester as senior.

Mrs. Betty Harrington, our mayor, has gone to Mississippi to visit her parents who have been ill. She will be gone about 3 weeks.

A birthday party was given for Ellen Jane Crofford, who was 11 years old on Saturday, February 18, by her mother. The girls who helped Ellen Jane celebrate were Yvonne Lee, Peggy Ford, Kay Branch, Doris White, Judy Ransom, and Susan Cockill.

Scout Thinking Day To Be Held Sunday

The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 88 entertained at a Valentine Party February 14 in honor of their fathers. A variety show was presented, after which games were played.

Meet the voice behind the "Voice with a Smile"

Her title is Chief Operator. Her job is to see that your telephone calls are handled quickly and accurately. Oftentimes, her duties include the selection and training of new personnel. And she helps guide their progress and development in their jobs.

As you can see, the Chief Operator plays a mighty important part in the rendering of good telephone service. And she's well qualified to perform that part. She has come up through the ranks - has acquired her skill and knowledge through years of experience.

Furthermore, like most telephone men and women, she is interested in the community where she lives and works. She may take an active part in your church or school activities—or in your favorite welfare campaign.

There are many reasons why the Chief Operator is respected as a leader and valued as a partner on the team which furnishes telephone service in your home town.

Boys' Club Juniors Win Sixth Straight

Greenbelt's undefeated Boys' Club Junior basketball five made it six in a row on Monday by defeating Cheverly by a 42-22 margin on the loser's court. Roger Frady and Bobby Miller led the local attack with 12 and 9 points respectively. Bobby Dove played an outstanding floor game for Greenbelt.

The 90-pound quint dropped a 19-18 decision to the Trinidad Boys' Club last Friday nite at Greenbelt. Greenbelt finished fast after trailing 6-14 at half time and managed to go ahead 18-17 only to be nosed out in the final moments. Mike Cockill's 8 tallies were high for Greenbelt.

On Saturday morning, the 90-pound and 80-pound fives travelled to Washington where they divided a twin-bill with Nye House at the Jefferson Junior High School. Jim Stripling netted 12 markers as the 90-pounders won 38-36. The 80-pounders were on the short end of a 19-16 count with Freddie Comings and Ronny Brooks each getting 4 points. Tony Baker excelled on defense.

Trapping Talks Well Attended

By E. Don Bullian

The first in a series of trapping lectures sponsored by the Izaak Walton League of Greenbelt at the Drop Inn was instructive, entertaining, and well-attended. Approximately 25 teen-agers, many of them Boy Scouts, in addition to several members of the sponsoring chapter, attended Jake Hoffman's first talk. He touched on every trapper's needs, such as boots, gloves, proper clothing, and traps, and brought out a point which most youngsters are prone to overlook: "go home if your feet or clothing get wet." The need for a hunting and trapping license was also mentioned, in addition to a warning to youngsters to keep away from specific danger points in the areas surrounding Greenbelt.

Hoffman plans to give a practical demonstration of the art of skinning furbearing animals this Saturday, February 25, 6:30 p.m.; at the Drop Inn. Adults are also invited to these lectures, especially scoutmasters. The date and time of the field trip which has been planned to follow this lecture will be announced Saturday.

Rita Gets Crown At Valentine Dance

By Eileen Labukas

Last Friday night the senior high boys and girls held their annual Valentine dance with Rita Snoddy winning the title of Senior High Sweetheart. Rita was presented with a bouquet of American Beauty roses with a gardenia corsage center by Joe Brosmer, president, and was crowned with the sweetheart crown purchased this year by the senior high group as the symbol of this annual honor.

Gene Kellaher won the door prize.

Another highlight of the evening was the announcement that the name "Rhythm Kings" had been chosen by the members of the teen-agers band as the most appropriate name for their group, and Bobby Kosisky, the members making the suggestion, was given a $5 award.

Interest of parents in the sweetheart contest and the name-the-band-contest was well expressed by the number who dropped in during the evening to check on the results.

The Youth Center will be closed tomorrow/night because of All-Greenbelt Night.
