

Ellen Linson Directs Playgrounds Pageant

Ellen Linson, 14-E Crescent, supervisor of playgrounds for the Prince Georges County recreation board, directed 200 youngsters from 14 local communities in a pageant, "Meet the 48 States," on the evening of August 30. The program was presented at the recreation board headquarters, the Calvert Mansion, on the lawn before an audience of 500.

Mrs. Linson explained to the on-lookers how the children of each playground had selected a state and dramatized an historic event of that state as their part of the program.

Colonial costumes were very much in evidence in the first scenes of the pageant as youngsters from Takoma Park presented the founding of Maryland, East Pines the Boston Tea Party, University Park the founding of Pennsylvania and the reading of the Declaration of Independence, and Riverdale the parade of Virginia's five Presidents and their wives. Baton-twirlers, dressed as Indians, did a colorful dance of celebration, as part of the Boston Tea Party scene.

Ponce de Leon's search for the fountain of youth, presented by the Berwyn playground, also featured baton-twirlers, dressed in bathing suits, representing the fountain of youth.

A Show Boat scene featuring singing, a tap dance and a specialty dance by twelve girls from the Glenarden playground, represented their state, Louisiana.

Green Meadows' scene of pioneers crossing Wyoming drew cheers as the settlers were attacked by Indians and saved by the U. S. cavalry. The Alamo was bravely defended and avenged by the Mt. Rainier youngsters, who had chosen Texas. They also did a square dance, the Texas Star.

Next came a scene depicting cowboys, resting after a hard day rounding up cattle, who were joined by cowgirls from a neighboring ranch for an evening's sing. This scene, representing Arizona, was presented by North Brentwood.

The Wright brothers took off in their first test flight of the plane at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, to the cheers of the audience. This scene was done by the Cheverly playground.

College Park, which had chosen New York, acted out the purchase of Manhattan Island from the Indians and a typical New York City street scene.

Native life, including the planting of pineapples and the hula dance, told the story of Hawaii, which had been chosen by the Landover Hills playground.

The two playgrounds which had selected California, Silver Hill and Laurel, were unable to be present because of conflicts with their community programs.

An attractive display of arts and crafts from all of the playgrounds drew the attention of those attending the pageant. Mrs. Mildred Reed, crafts supervisor, estimated that over 3000 articles had been made by the children on the playgrounds this summer.

The pageant was the final event in the summer playground program which ended Wednesday.

FIRST POLIO CASE OF YEAR REPORTED

Dr. Max Bloomberg, public health officer, has reported in an interview that Greenbelt has had its first important case of polio this year. A six-year-old child on Eastway has contracted bulbar polio, he disclosed. The polio "season" is just about over now, and Greenbelt's record is far better than that of surrounding municipalities.

GCS Pledges No Profiteering

GCS Directors Give Pledge To Senator

Two members of the board of directors of Greenbelt Consumer Services presented a "We Will Not Profiteer" pledge, on behalf of the local cooperative, to Senator Guy Gillette, chairman of the Senate Agriculture committee, in his office on Thursday, August 17.

The GCS board voted unanimously at a previous meeting to sign and present the pledge, which Senator Gillette had suggested be adopted by retailers, wholesalers, and producers, to take the burden of fighting inflation from the shoulders of the nation's consumers.

The Senator had made headlines in the papers over the country by commending the housewives for their efforts not to hoard scarce consumer items, and condemning the merchants and manufacturers for attempting to cash in on the tight economic situation caused by the Korean war.

The pledge, signed by GCS President Walter Bierwagen, was printed in The Cooperator, and a copy was taken to Senator Gillette's office and presented to him by Vice-President Robert Mitchell and education committee chairman Eleanor Ritchie.

The scroll with GCS' pledge on it, the Senator promised, would be framed and hung in the Agriculture committee's meeting room. The Senator also expressed his appreciation of the GCS pledge, and stated that nationwide response to his suggestions had been most enthusiastic.

School Starts Monday At Center, North End

Classes will be resumed on Monday, September 11, at both the Center and the North End elementary schools. Dismissal will be at 12 noon for this first day of school.

Children who will attend kindergarten at the North End school will report Thursday, September 14. Those children whose fifth birthday occurs between the months of July through December will report at 9 a.m. and be dismissed at 10 a.m. Those whose fifth birthday occurs between the months of January through June will report at 1 p.m. and be dismissed at 2 p.m. for the first day of school.

Both kindergarten groups are to report to Room 105.

Members of the North End school patrol are asked by Miss Thelma Smith, principal, to report to the auditorium at 8:30 a.m. on Monday, September 11, to receive temporary assignment.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS BAKE SALE SATURDAY

The Woman's Club will sponsor a bake sale Saturday, September 16, in front of the Greenbelt theatre, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Proceeds from the sale will be used to boost the Nursing Scholarship Fund which the Club awards annually to a deserving student who wishes to enter nurse's training.

Council To Plan For City Defense

Civilian Defense will be the subject under discussion at the Council meeting to be held Monday night, September 11, at 8:30 p.m., in the city administration offices.

Attending the meeting in addition to the council members and citizens will be Lt. Col. Adelbert Long, Major Lyman Woodman and Lt. (U.S.N.R.) Burke Horton.

An overall plan will be prepared for council which may become necessary only if Greenbelt is involved, due to its strategic location near Washington. The subsidiary subjects include such emergency measures as mass immunization; secondary water supply; heating sources and electrical power system; gas rationing; and evacuation plans.

GHS Reopens Next Monday

All junior and senior high school students will begin their school term on September 11 at 9 a.m. Buses will pick up as usual. At 9 o'clock, all students who attended Greenbelt High School last year and all 7th graders from Berwyn, Beltsville, and North End and Center Schools will register in their home rooms according to a list posted on the hall bulletin board in the high school. All other students and those whose names are not on the list will register in the auditorium at 9 o'clock.

Boys Club Canvass Starts September 11

The Greenbelt Boys Club will open its annual honorary membership drive on September 11, it was announced this week by Merle Frady, president. Funds from this drive will be used to operate the club for the next year. As all coaching and administration is on a voluntary basis, every cent collected will be used to purchase much-needed athletic equipment, and none of this money will be used for overhead. The drive will offer an opportunity for every resident of Greenbelt to help provide a well-organized athletic program for boys.

A representative of the club will call at every home sometime during the period from September 11 to 24. Honorary memberships are $1, while Grandstand Quarterbacks are $5. Approximately fifteen father-and-son teams have been formed to canvass the city. More can be used, and those wishing to assist further in this effort are requested to call 5507.

Women Voters Meet Here Thursday Nite

The Greenbelt unit of the League of Women Voters of Prince Georges County will hold its first meeting of the season at 8 p.m. Thursday, September 14, in the home of Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer, 6-G Ridge Rd.

"Cooperator" Staff Discusses Expansion

The Cooperator will move this weekend from the basement of 8 Parkway to the basement of 14 Parkway.

Members of the Cooperator staff held a meeting in the Cooperator office on Monday, August 28.

Harry Zubkoff, editor, stated that one purpose of the meeting was to discuss the expansion of the Cooperator from its present four-pages to eight.

A number of columns and features were suggested, and several assignments were made.

Mr. Zubkoff explained that additional staff members are needed in order to put out the larger paper. He asked the present staff to put forth an effort to enlist the help of any of their friends and acquaintances who might be interested in working on the Cooperator.

METHODISTS WILL SERVE HAM DINNER SATURDAY

A ham dinner will be served on the Methodist Church lawn Saturday afternoon, September 9, beginning at 5 p.m. The public is invited. Prices include dessert. Dinners are available to take out.

Moving Along

After having been under the same roof since early 1943 (even our files seem obscure on this point), The Cooperator is moving into new quarters. This is a much more complicated undertaking than it might seem at first glance. There was an article once in a popular magazine about the government moving a huge installation from one end of the country to the other. This is indeed a comparable instance. We are moving from 8 Parkway to 14 Parkway—from one end of an apartment building to the other. True, we do not have quite as much equipment as the government, but neither do we have as much help. Nor do we have as much money! The government can measure its deficit in billions, but we can measure ours in dollars, which is much more sensible—but much more discouraging. Nevertheless, we are moving, we are expanding our staff, and we are planning on expanding our paper in the near future. It is our intention to bring to the citizens of Greenbelt a bigger and better newspaper, more coverage, and improved service. To that end we will welcome your criticisms, suggestions, and help!

No Profiteering

The Korean situation continues to make headlines in the nation's newspapers, but the initial impact of the announcement of war is gone. The shock is gone. We have settled down to the grim reality that confronts our fighting men—a long, hard, bitter campaign. The initial flurry of hoarding and profiteering which followed the announcement of war is also gone. This is not to say that there is no more hoarding and profiteering, but rather that the feeling of immediate urgency, the compulsion, has subsided somewhat.

It is particularly significant that now, when publicity on the subject has lessened considerably, the Board of Directors of GCS has quietly signed a "We Will Not Profit" pledge. It indicates an awareness, a willingness on the part of GCS management to recognize its responsibility to its stockholders and to the community. It is significant too, that a cooperative was one of the first to sign such a pledge, to take a firm stand against profiteering, to go on record as being opposed to any business tactics which lead to profiteering.

As members and participants of our co-op, we, the people of Greenbelt, must also recognize our responsibility to ourselves, and quietly, without patting ourselves on the backs, refrain from hoarding.

Georgia Benjamin Runs For Assembly

Greenbelt voters have been introduced during the past two weeks to a surprise candidate for the Maryland House of Delegates in the November election: Mrs. Georgia K. Benjamin, wife of the Dean of the College of Education at the University of Maryland. President of the Prince Georges County League of Women Voters from 1941 to 1943, Mrs. Benjamin is a civic leader familiar to Greenbelt members of the League and other organizations who have worked with her in recent years.

Running as a Democrat Independent, Mrs. Benjamin told a gathering of friends on Ridge Road recently that she filed her candidacy just before the deadline, and was told by a well-meaning clerk that "no woman had ever made the grade" by achieving election from Prince Georges county. Undeterred by past history, she is making a personal campaign among her colleagues and their friends in the area, discussing the county and state governmental machinery and the part she hopes to play in it.

Her platform, she states, is "an honest, efficient government, opposed to wasteful duplication of expenditure and costly favored contracts; the administration of the government in the public interest as opposed to special interests." She related to her listeners the difficulties encountered during her service in the League in attempting to get a budget statement from the county commissioners, as an example of the obstacles encountered now by citizens who want to find out how the government is run.

Mrs. Benjamin, who holds BA and MA degrees from the University of Oregon and a PhD from Stanford University, specialized in the comparative analysis of government operations. A resident of Maryland since 1939, she was chairman of the consumer interest for the State Defense Council during the war and won the Evening Star Trophy in 1949 for distinguished service as a citizen.

Her family includes her son Herbert, who served in the Pacific during World War II with the 20th bomber command, and her daughter Georgiana, who was in the Waves. Both Georgiana and her younger son, William, are teachers, maintaining the family tradition in that field. Dr. Benjamin, the dean of education at Maryland University, was a lieutenant-colonel in the air force in the Pacific theater during the war.

Band Makes Journey To Solomons Island

The Greenbelt Community Band is performing for many groups in its busy fall program. Last Wednesday they spent the day in Mt. Airy playing for a tournament. On Labor Day it furnished music for the celebration at the lake sponsored by the American Legion, the Legion Auxiliary, and the Rescue Squad.

Today the band traveled to the Yacht Club at Solomons Island, Maryland to perform for the Calvert County Lions Club's "Ladies Night." The Calvert Club is organizing a band and is hopeful that the Greenbelt band's performance for them will stimulate interest. The majorettes will participate in the evening's program.

On Tuesday, September 12, the Band has been invited by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Washington to participate in the opening game of the East-Coast sandlot baseball tournament at Griffith Stadium. Vice-President Barkley will open the first game of the series, and Arch MacDonald will be the master of ceremonies. The Majorettes will present a show preceding this game. Family and friends of the Band members are invited to the opening game. Tickets can be secured from Edward Halley.

Save Your Energy - Use A Detergent

According to the New York State Experiment Station, women can't break the habit of vigorous scrubbing even though detergents dissolve soil better than soap and water.

Scrubbing may cause unnecessary wear, say the experts, urging householders to save wear and tear on themselves as well as finishes and fabrics when they wash walls, woodwork and other painted surfaces or shampoo rugs and upholstery.

Directions for cleaning with detergents include four steps: Do some brushing in advance. Apply the detergent solution to the surface rapidly, using as little as possible to prevent soaking upholstery or dripping on painted surfaces. Remove detergent by sponging the surface or using an absorbent cloth wrung out of water. Dry by quick, light rubbing.

"The coffee men say that coffee must go up again—but here's the inside story. In October of last year they bought coffee for 38c and sold it for 53—a markup of 15c a pound. Today they are buying it for 58c and selling it for 90c—a markup of 32c a pound. But as Senators Taft and George say—we mustn't tax the profiteers now—wait till next year."—Frank Edwards (Mutual).

Arcade-Pontiac Takes Area Softball Crown

By E. Don Bullian

For approximately two weeks Greenbelt has been playing host to the District of Columbia's Amateur Softball Association, which includes teams from Virginia, Maryland, and the District. The Association has been conducting a tournament at Braden Field to select a local representative to the regional playoffs at York, Pa. It seemed as if everyone in Greenbelt attended the games; those who didn't have certainly heard the ones that were there. The cheering was not confined to any one team but rather to outstanding plays and players on every team. If there was a favorite, Thrifty had a slight edge, due no doubt to their having played in Greenbelt during the regular season.

Practically the same two teams who fought to the bitter end last year also battled it out for the championship this year. The Arcade-Pontiac team was almost identical to the old Kavakos team which lost to Thrifty in last year's contest. The real difference between the two teams, however, was Jack Hughes, Thrifty's pitcher, who seems to have lost the zip and fire which helped Thrifty win the championship a year ago.

The deciding game of the series last Thursday night started off with a bang, three up, three hits, two runs. The first man up, B. Smith, got a hit followed by Brassie's single after which came Walter Smith's double that scored two runs. Hughes, however, settled down and retired the next three men in order. It was now Thrifty's turn and Bertolini, the second man to face Kramer, was the hero when he put everything he had behind one of Kramer's fast ones for a home run. The stands went wild at this point. It was a spectators' game, with the underdog fighting back. Thrifty followed this up by tying the score in the next inning. Single by George Hughes and Durkin scored a run with an error bringing Durkin up to third base, where he was stranded.

And now Arcade-Pontiac brought their offensive power into action. Brassie started the inning by getting on first on an error and taking second on a wild throw. A long fly advanced him to third base, where he scored rather easily on Sullivan's hit who also scored when Williams tripled. Collins' safety brought Williams in, making the score 5-2. (Incidentally, Collins, who plays second base for Arcade-Pontiac, is a Greenbelt boy who made some of the best fielding plays of the game. His two stabs at almost sure hits over second base in the seventh inning saved the game for the winning team.) Not to be outdone by Arcade-Pontiac's three-run scoring spree, Thrifty added two runs to their total in the third inning by bunting three hits. Burns' single and Hassock's double put them on second and third respectively, setting the stage for Jack George's hit which scored both runs. B.M. Smith of Arcade-Pontiac started the fourth inning with a double. At this point the Thrifty board of strategy sent in Sullivan to finish the pitching chore for its team. Before the new pitcher could settle down, Smith had stolen third base, where he scored easily on Hinebaugh's long fly, making the score 6-4.

The next two innings were rather uneventful, except for a marvelous stop and throw from a sitting position by Brassie, who got his man at second. George Hughes started the sixth inning with a double for Thrifty and advanced to third on Sullivan's long fly. His hook slide into second base was a thing of beauty and was only exceeded by the execution of a perfect slide into third base. The applause he received for his exhibition of the art of sliding was well-earned. Hassock's single scored Hughes and ended the scoring for the day. With the exception of Hinebaugh's spectacular catch of Bertolini's fly in the seventh, the game was as good as over. The highlight of the seventh inning was the superb pitching of both pitchers. Kramer however was fortunate in having Collins behind him

CHORDS & DISCORDS

By Bill Mirabella

It is particularly important at this time that children study music, or some similar thought-requiring activity. This is so because television, in its present state of development, has been substituted for other pursuits which at least required some thought.

Television programs, as generally presented for children, do not require any thinking. All the kids need do is sit back and watch. Everything is done for them.

In the study of music, or any other worthwhile subject, the child must think. He does not merely sit back and utter a series of grunts, groans, growls or howls depending upon the particular image before him on the video screen. In music he must look at what is before him and then do something with his head, hands and feet. If he sings, or plays a wind instrument, he also uses his mouth and lungs. The child must therefore develop some parts of his anatomy as well as his mind when he studies music. As far as I have been able to notice, the only thing a child watching a TV show develops is that portion of his anatomy on which he is momentarily resting.

The purpose of this article is not to "blow the whistle" on TV. Rather, it is to call attention to an apparent weakness in present-day TV programs which are obviously in an underdeveloped stage, and to raise the thought that parents may find it necessary to insist on a more meaty diet for their children from the video industry. In addition, they might want to see to it that their children do a little work with their heads through the study of music or some other such pursuit.

THE PRESENT "CRISIS"

(Inspired by daily newspaper accounts of the Korean fighting)

By D. A. Mednick

First, it's called a "conflict." In rotation, "situation." When that tires, it's "armed resistance" And that involves the nation.

On the list comes "stalemate" As the casualties mount. Perhaps the word "developments" Will balance the account.

"Invasion" is a fit description . . . Depends which side you mean. "Aggression" is a favorite As World War II has seen.

Perhaps you like "emergency." That word I just abhor. I wish they'd simply label The Korean thing-a-ma-bob "WAR."

to pull the game out of the fire with the two great stops mentioned above. Final score, 6-5 in favor of Arcade-Pontiac. Winning pitcher, Fred Kramer.

The umpire's call of the third "out" in the seventh seemed to be a signal for a mass surge of the entire Arcade-Pontiac team towards Kramer, who had pitched them to a championship and a chance at the playoffs at York, Pa. Kramer seemed to wither under the backslapping and handshaking, but that was to be expected after pitching seven tough innings of softball. Everyone seemed happy over the outcome of the game; even the Thrifty team was all smiles, with the managers, bat boys and ball players extending congratulations and well-wishes to the winning team.

The writer is sorry to hear that there is a strong possibility of the annual softball tournament being taken into Washington. Although it is an advance in the right direction and will be a great help to the softball league and to softball in general, it still is a loss to Greenbelt. The enormous crowds that have overflowed the stands practically every night, even in threatening weather, proves rather conclusively that the sports-minded people of Greenbelt know and appreciate good softball when they see it.

Before They Go To School

"Children are not really ready to enter school until they have had a complete physical examination," Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the state department of health, reminded parents this week. "All boys and girls enrolling in the kindergarten or first grade classes of Maryland schools should be taken to their physicians, or to a public health clinic, for an immediate physical check-up if they have not had such an examination in recent months.

"It is important to act as promptly as possible, in order to allow time for medical treatments or corrections that may be necessary before school opens. No youngster should be permitted to begin a school career with less than the best possible physical equipment.

"As most parents know, vaccination against smallpox is required by law before a child will be accepted for enrollment in Maryland schools. Those who received this immunization in infancy should be vaccinated again in order to assure a high degree of immunity. Those who have never received this protection should be vaccinated without delay. It is desirable to have this done as soon as possible so that the scar will heal before September.

"Diphtheria immunization is also an important safeguard for all boys and girls about to enter school. Those who have never been immunized against this disease should receive toxoid shots now. Children who were inoculated against diphtheria when they were babies should now have a 'booster dose' in order to maintain their immunity at a sufficiently high level.

"Other immunizations that the individual physician may recommend and also desirable as further health protection. Whooping cough, typhoid fever, and tetanus are among the diseases against which the doctor may advise safeguard.

"Regardless of a child's apparent state of health, parents should consider a trip to the physician's office an essential preparation for school attendance. Assurance that the boy or girl is in good physical condition and able to withstand the added strains of school attendance is of vital importance. If unfavorable conditions are detected the check-

Waltonians Take Trip, Catch Fish Impromptu

By E. DonBullian

One of the most successful fishing trips, at least from the fishing angle, was conducted by the Greenbelt Izaak Walton League last Sunday on the Severn river. A phone call to interested members was all the advance preparation for an enjoyable fishing trip.

The group left at 10:30 a.m. Sunday and arrived at the fishing grounds about noon, after a brief stop for refreshments. The distinction of catching the first fish—and his last—went to Donald DonBullian. The honor of being the outstanding Greenbelt fisherman seems to have been divided between Jack Swisher and Red Weber. Swisher caught about everything that could be caught, including eels, crabs and even some fish, while Red caught the greatest number of fish. Pop Van Arsdall of Riverdale was in a class by himself, pulling in two fish at a time, with one on each of his two hook lines. The Orings, including two of the boys, were the unluckiest fishermen, with not a single fish in their boat. The stop for refreshments on the return trip took a little longer than expected and it seemed as if the fish began biting just when it was time to go home.

The family weekend trip scheduled for the third weekend in September may be cancelled because of lack of interest on the part of the general membership. It is urgent that everyone planning to go on the trip contact either Red Weber, 2981, or the chapter president this week, since reservations must be made in advance.

County Appoints Group To Plan Civil Defense

Bruce Bowman, 14-Z-3 Hillside, who is president of the County Council of Parents and Teachers, has been appointed to an advisory committee to plan civilian defense measures for Prince Georges County and to coordinate them later with those of the Washington metropolitan area and neighboring southern Maryland counties.

The first meeting was held at the County Service Building in Hyattsville on August 24, at the call of P. E. Clark, civilian defense director of the county. Other members of the committee include Harry W. McNamee, president of the county commissioners; G. Gardner Shugart, county superintendent of schools; Dr. Thomas Englar county health officer; Police Superintendent Ralph W. Brown; Walter F. Mulligan, president of the Civic Federation, and Dr. Aaron Dietz, president of the county medical society.

up may be doubly valuable to the child's present and future well-being."

Hay Fever Victims Can Feel Better

By Md. Tuberculosis Assn.

Hay fever, an affliction of some 2,500,000 Americans, is caused by an allergy, or sensitivity, to pollen. Its victims are easy to spot—with their inflamed and running eyes, stuffed-up noses, and sudden and sometimes prolonged paroxysms of sneezing.

Victims of even mild cases of hay fever are as miserable as they look. Hay fever in a mild form is not a serious illness, although it may cause great discomfort and cut down on the sufferer's sleep and his appetite. Severe hay fever, allowed to go untreated, can lead to asthma, a chronic obstruction of the bronchial tubes which produces a hard cough and difficult breathing.

Hay fever in the spring and summer is due to pollen in the air which comes from trees, grasses, and weeds. The hay fever prevalent from about the middle of August until the first frost is usually caused by ragweed pollen.

Anyone who suspects he has or is getting hay fever should see his doctor. While there is no specific cure for hay fever, there are treatments which will make the sufferer more comfortable, and may help him ward off asthma and other respiratory illnesses to which hay fever might make him susceptible.

The doctor will make a thorough study to find out what kind of pollen is causing the trouble. Once it is known, he can advise the victim on avoiding it. He may also give injections of pollen extract to help the person build up resistance to it. These injections, called "desensitization treatments," are usually most helpful if given before the attack of hay fever.

There are drugs on the market which sometimes relieve hay fever, but they should be used only with the advice and supervision of the doctor, since they can cause painful, and perhaps harmful, reactions.

The person who has hay fever should build up his resistance to all respiratory infections and consult his doctor, who will prescribe measures for his relief and help him avoid further irritation and infection. While there is no definite proof that allergies, including hay fever, have an emotional or psychological origin, the hay fever sufferer should avoid all emotional stress, since it tends to worsen the condition.

Many communities are trying to stamp out the offending ragweed by spraying it with chemicals or cutting it down and burning it. Best stamp out the offending ragweed are destroyed, over a large area, before the seeds mature and are carried about by the wind.

CO-OP TIRES

We want to apologize to our many customers who have wanted Co-op tires and have had to buy other brands we carry.

It has been interesting to note the overwhelming demand for Co-op brand tires during the present tire buying spree. We had regular large shipments of Co-op tires right up to the time of the freeze, and popular sizes were always sold out within 48 hours—far in advance of any other brand.

Our customers evidently know the quality of the Co-op tire which has been proven by many road tests and above all by hundreds of customers in actual use on their cars. Then, too, the unconditional guarantee against all road hazards and twenty percent saving in cost increase the attractiveness of the Co-op tire.

We expect more tires to be coming thru shortly and hope to be able to take care of necessary tire replacements. Meanwhile we have a limited stock of popular make tires and are doing our very best to take care of all patrons. Stop in and let us know your requirements.
