

City's July 4 Celebration Draws 5,000 Spectators

By Carolyn Miller

Greenbelt's Fourth of July program had something for everybody this year, and nearly everybody turned out for the festivities.

The morning parade was longer than usual and beside such popular features as gaily decorated floats and our very own majorettes, neighboring communities were better represented this year with fire companies, rescue squads and ladies' auxiliaries.

The Dalmation on the Laurel rescue squad truck almost stole the show, but the Infantry platoon with colors drew the most applause.

Other standout attractions were the state troopers in the lead, Dr. Harry Byrd, President of the University of Maryland, riding with Mayor Frank Lastner, and Greenbelt's Police Officer Austin Green, mounted grand marshal of the parade.

Acting as judges for the day were Dr. Byrd, Mayor Lastner, and William L. Moore of Greenbelt, representing the District of Columbia Fire Department.

Lastner spoke a word of welcome to the crowd at the lake following the parade and introduced Dr. Byrd, who drew a great cheer when he extended an invitation to "every kid in Greenbelt" to come to the opening football game free at the University of Maryland. He asked Lastner to help him with arrangements so that young football fans from Greenbelt can attend.

In a sober vein, Byrd recalled a young communist rally of 650,000 children he saw in Europe and said that among the best answers of the western world are celebrations like Greenbelt's on the Fourth of July. "We must build community spirit in the tradition of those who have gone before us," he said, "and ask for divine guidance to pursue the ideals of Washington and Lincoln."

A contest was staged at the lake between the Greenbelt and Branchville rescue squads for the most efficient and speediest handling of a broken leg (simple fracture) case. The judges happily called the contest a tie, for although Greenbelt was speedier, Branchville was more efficient.

Afternoon activities at the lake included games and concessions operated by the Boys Club and featured a "giant" bingo game. Councilman Ben Goldfaden ran a track meet for all age groups, two thru fifty.

Supper picnic groups gathered later in the day to listen to a concert given by the Greenbelt Community Band and to watch the Majorettes perform. By the time of the fireworks, a crowd of over five thousand were seated at the lakeside according to Police Chief George Panagoulis. The fireworks display drew enthusiastic applause, and as the crowd dispersed under efficient and courteous po-

Pool's Popularity Increases Daily

Attendance at the Greenbelt pool is keeping pace with last year's, but receipts have increased, city manager Charles McDonald announced this week. Most of the patrons are from outside Greenbelt and pay a higher admission charge, which accounts for the increased money. Also, good swimming weather has helped.

This week, officials of the State Department of Public Health inspected the pool and found conditions "highly satisfactory." The pool has a new chlorinator, costing $2000, which can operate "over capacity." Large attendance and hot weather necessitates frequent water purifying and the chlorinator does the job excellently, McDonald stated. About eight inches of water is added each day, and the water is constantly being re-purified and chlorinated. Three life guards are always on duty, with an additional guard added on days of heavy attendance. The pool is limited to a capacity of 750 persons; when 650 baskets are in use, the admittance of new patrons is halted temporarily. (It is assumed that 100 persons, mostly children, are using the pool without baskets.)

More Children

This week, additional children are using the pool in conjunction with a county playground program. They pay the regular admission fee. Participation in swimming classes this year is excellent, McDonald declared. The size of classes is limited, but attendance is good. New garbage cans for the pool are now being installed; they have "flip-tops" and are more sanitary than those now in use.

No Serious Accidents

Thus far there have been no serious accidents at the pool, and no major rule infractions. Resident cards, required by Greenbelt patrons for reduced admission charges are being used to a great degree. Two clerks, one for Greenbelters and the other for outsiders, are in charge of admission receipts.

CO-OP GROUP BUYS HOOVER CABINS

The four cabins which were occupied by Herbert Hoover's cabinet during the former president's visits to his Rapidan Retreat have been purchased by Rapidan Camps Inc., a cooperative group formed for the purpose, it has been announced by Bruce Bowman, president of the Coop. The cabins are located by the Rapidan River in the Blue Ridge Mountains, about a mile from the spot where the former president vacationed during his four years in the White House.

"Our objective," Bowman states "is to develop a cool, attractive and economical vacation retreat. Other people with similar interests are welcome to join our project."

The group hopes to have the cabins ready for regular occupancy and rental by midsummer. In accordance with the usual cooperative procedure, the coop will charge moderate rental fees with the proceeds going back into improvements in the facilities or patronage refunds to users.

Officers of the Co-op, besides Bowman, are Dean S. Carder, vice president; Jane Volckhausen, secretary, and Thomas B. Ritchie, treasurer. The Co-op's office is located at 1300 New Hampshire Avenue N.W., Washington, D. C.

Schrom Development Plans Motel, Homes and Stores

An idea of how the landscape will be changed in the former Schrom airport area as a result of the rezoning exception recently granted by the county commissioners has been delineated for The Cooperator by W. W. Lewis, of Hyattsville, the developer of Lewisdale who has been engaged by the Schrom family for the development of their property.

A chain-type drive-in restaurant, motel, and shopping center will probably be the outstanding features visible from the Expressway, Lewis said. Negotiations are already underway with the restaurant operator, and plans are well advanced for the motel, but actual construction will probably not begin before 1954.

NON-VOTERS LISTED IN POST OFFICE

Attention is called by City Clerk Winfield McCamy to a list on the bulletin board in the post office containing names of persons who did not vote in one of the last two city elections, 1949 or 1951. Such residents must register in the city office prior to August 14 in order to vote in the council elections this September, Mrs. McCamy announces.

Legion Team Ready For Important Game

The Greenbelt American Legion baseball team will play Cissel-Saxon Post of Silver Spring at Braden Field, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. This decisive game will send the winner to Salisbury, Maryland, where state play-offs will be held.

Both Greenbelt and Cissel-Saxon have won five games each and are bitter rivals. Roy Henderson, 17, of University Park will pitch for Greenbelt; his opposing hurler will be either Houlton or Corbin.

The Greenbelt team represents local Legion Post 136 and is coached by Caldwell Baker. Baker is also president of the Boys Club. Assistant to Baker is Cliff Cockill.

National Finals

The winning team in the Salisbury play-offs will journey to Parkersburg, West Virginia, where teams representing four states will compete for the privilege of entering the national finals. Baker announced that the present Legion team is the best he has coached and has a wonderful chance of going into the finals, if they can overcome the powerful Cissel-Saxon nine.

"Moral support by the presence of loyal Greenbelt rooters will greatly increase our chances of winning," Baker added. He urged local residents and baseball fans to attend the game Sunday and promised a baseball game packed with keen rivalry, outstanding performance and good sportsmanship for which Legion baseball is known.

Greenbelt Band Needs Uniforms

It is unfortunate that at this time the Greenbelt Band is unable to appear in complete uniform and it is hoped that other civic organizations in the town will assist the band in obtaining uniforms. The Greenbelt Band and Majorettes will then be glad to represent any organization at any major activity and really make a good showing. The Parent Band Members have endeavored to raise the necessary funds for uniforms with some degree of success, but due to the high cost of each uniform more funds are needed. The Band has purchased new music and is now working diligently for the next outdoor concert to be held the first part of August.

The Schroms and Lewis also intend to construct a large number of houses in the $15,000, three-bedroom rambler class. The houses will be sold complete, and lots will not be sold for individuals to build their own houses. The land plat including layout of streets is in process of recording. The runway of the former airport will become a residential street and has already been sold to the county. Negotiations have been begun with the school board for sale or dedication of land to be used as a site for an elementary school.

No name has yet been chosen for the new development, but the name "Nob Hill" has been suggested by Miss Mabel Schrom, one of the owners, and is likely to be adopted. The land was formerly part of the city of Greenbelt, but was disannexed some years ago at the request of the owners. Mayor Francis Lastner of Greenbelt, in conversation with The Cooperator reporter, stated that he personally favors annexation of the Schrom property to prevent the escape from city taxation of commercial and residential property which will benefit from Greenbelt services and advantages, and that he knows the other members of the city council agree with him on this issue. No action by the State legislature can be taken on local matters before 1955, however, he stated.

Rescue Squad Names Earl Hampton Chief

Earl V. Hampton, 29-A Ridge, was elected Chief of the Greenbelt Rescue Squad at a special election last night. Other officers named were Sergeant, Jim Bordas, and Secretary, Harry Atherholt.

During the 4th of July contests the Squad won a handsome trophy in the leg-splinting contest, tying with the Beltsville Rescue Squad. The winning team was composed of Don Pratt, Harry Atherholt, Jim Bordas and Don Smith.

The squad was on duty the 4th from the time the parade ended until 10:30 p.m. It treated 17 persons for cuts, burns and bruises, administered oxygen to an asthma victim, and took a boy who had suffered a thigh injury to Prince George Hospital.

On Monday, July 20, the squad will start a 22-hour first aid course for any Greenbelt residents who care to register. Come to the Fire House at 8 p.m. Those who complete the course will receive a Red Cross First Aid Card.

Greenbelt people who wish to join the squad should call 3986.

SPECIAL NOTE - The winner of the deep freeze given away by the Squad on July 4th was Ann Porter, 3-G Crescent Road.

Our Neighbors

By Dorothy McGee, phone 8083

Miss Blakely Littleton, 6-E Crescent spent a few days last week at the home of her old friend and former Greenbelter, Miss Marian East in Arlington, Va. Bringing Blakely back on Saturday, the Sherrod Easts, with Kathy, Will and Ellen spent the Fourth here visiting friends. They saw the parade, and also the fireworks at the lake.

There must have been many former Greenbelters back in town for our celebration. Dee and Doti Fairchild of Takoma Park with their two children visited Tom and Ellie Ritchie. Frank and Jerry Rosenthal came from Washington to see friends; and the Isidore Russ family of Hollywood were at the lake in the evening.

To me the parade seemed longer this year, the fireworks more splendid (didn't you like those funny, fish-like things squirming about the sky?) The traffic problem seemed much more efficiently handled, too. Maybe it all appeared better because the weather was so perfect.

In the 56 court of Crescent . . . M/Sgt. and Mrs. J. H. Thomas of 56-E Crescent and their two sons are visiting relatives in Holyoke, Mass. Before they left, a farewell party was given at the home of the George Bernardis at 56-H for Sgt. Thomas, who expects to leave in August for a year in Korea.

Mrs. George (Dusty) Bernardi and her four children are enjoying a visit of several weeks with her mother in Frostburg, Md. The Bernardis went first to Canton, Ohio to see his relatives.

Mrs. Sidney Feldman of 56-F Crescent has as her house guest, a niece, 12 year old Phyllis Skupsky, here from New York City for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haegele moved last week from 1-H Northway to their new home at 7104 Sycamore Avenue, Takoma Park. Elsie Haegele was a kindergarten teacher at the North End School.

We're a bit "Johnny-Come-Lately" with this announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas Bonham of Twinbrook, Md. presented her parents, Dr. and Mrs. James McCarl with a grandson, Robert Thomas Bonham III, born May 22 at Suburban Hospital in Bethesda. The Bonhams also have two small daughters.

Mrs. Ralph G. Miller, 13-V Ridge had as house guest for the holiday weekend, her sister, Miss Mary Helen Russell of New York City.

Rev. and Mrs. Eric Braund spent the past weekend in Pennsylvania. Their mountain cabin is a neighbor of Camp Kanesatake, church sponsored camp.

The phone number of the Ben Kerkofskys, who recently moved to the 5 court of Ridge, is 5932.

If you have an item for this column for next week, please call Rae Algaze at 7502 for Rae Algaze, who has graciously consented to take over the week that we shall be down "by the beautiful sea".

BRADLEY - LASICK

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Bradley, 7-E Ridge Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Catherine to Joseph Michael Lasick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lasick, Sr. of 9100 Baltimore Blvd.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Maffay announce the marriage of their daughter Linda Mary to Sherwood A. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Funck, of Topeka, Kansas, on July 3, 1953 at St. Hugh's Parish House. The couple will live in Boston, Massachusetts where Mr. Clark will be stationed while in service in the United States Navy.

Driver of the bus carrying 40 Boy Scouts of Troop 333 on a 5 week round trip to Los Angeles, Calif., is Ed Beebe of Greenbelt. The group, which left last Monday, will stop at the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Los Angeles.

Wildcats Win Over Giants Ball Club

By Bill Moore

The Greenbelt Little League feature game of the week of June 29 was the 11-3 Wildcat success in their battle with the Giants on Monday evening. Mel Taylor's 'Cats were looking something like the champions they were last season largely on the snazzy 3 hit job Pete Johnson was doing on the erstwhile American League leaders. Mike Hammond collected 2 for 3 and Jerry Gray with 1 for 1 figured in the last inning scoring to ruin Johnson's bid for a shut out over Jim Ewing's Redtops.

George Preston's White Elephants stomped Bob Hofstetter's Tigers by 30 to 14 in Tuesday's McDonald Park feature. The Athletics got 23 hits off three Bengal pitchers, with Bobby Cangelosi garnering 5 for 5. Harvey Sherer banged out 4 hits in 6 tries, young Bernie Emmert and Dick Wade had 3 for 4's while Charley Callanan and John Wayne Tucker collected twin safeties for the A's.

Jimmy Dean and Bob Hoffman had perfect 2 for 2's in Bengal rebuttal.

Co-Op scalped the Indians in Wednesday's game. Bernie Emmert's Green Sox scored in every inning to completely rout Chet Speziale's Redswins 29 to 4. Third-sacker Harrison Gillett led the way for Co-Op with 3 hits in 5 batting attempts. John Michael Pinkos, Jackie O'Neil and pitcher Charley Clark hit successfully twice each, one of Clark's a triple and one of O'Neil's a home run. O'Neil scored 5 times.

The Tribe could stir up but 2 hits off Clark, one each by Billy Page and Earl Doss.

Dollars And Sense

In recent tests on women's nylon hosiery, Consumers Union found that there are some good brands that are relatively inexpensive. You can spend almost twice the price and get a poorer pair of hosiery.

Before getting into brands, a word on the question of sheerness. The denier count is a measure of the thinness of the thread used. The higher the denier count, the thicker the thread, and the MORE durable the stockings. "Consumers Union believes that a well-made pair of 30 denier, 51 gauge probably offers the longest life expectancy of any currently available type of nylon hosiery . . ." "Now the common industry complaint is that the 30 denier stockings wear too well to offer an adequate sales volume." Of course the thinner hosiery, say 15 denier, is supposed to be more glamorous.

In any case "For those who wear stockings regularly it will be good news that in CU's durability tests, stockings selling at 65c to 89c, in both 15 and 30 denier, 51 gauge, did just as well as the high priced brands offered for $1.35 to $1.85. For the woman who has been buying the expensive brands, this offers the possibility of saving like half of her stocking budget."

In 30 denier, 51 gauge hosiery, the best buys are "Primrose" sold at Woolworth's for 89c and "Clara-belle" by Spiegels for 65c plus postage (Cat. No. 21R537). In the "more glamorous" 15 denier, 51 gauge the best buys are "Clara-belle" by Spiegels at 89c plus postage (Cat. No. 21R549), "Carol Brent" by Montgomery Ward at 89c plus postage (Cat. No. 30B1822) and Primrose by Woolworth at 79c.

HOLLYWOOD KEEPS 'MADAM' FILM INTACT

In bringing Irving Berlin's successful comedy "Call Me Madam" to the screen, Twentieth Century-Fox made little change story-wise from its Broadway format. When this gay musical opens at the Greenbelt Theatre on Sunday, July 12th, Ethel Merman will repeat the title role she played for almost two years on the New York stage and co-starring with her will be Donald O'Connor Vera-Ellen and George Sanders.

The Berlin show-stopping tunes sung in the Manhattan production remain intact except for one which was deleted from the standpoint of timeliness, the "I Like Ike" song, for which Berlin's "International Rag" was substituted.

"Call Me Madam" was photographed in color by Technicolor, produced by Sol C. Siegel and directed by Walter Lang from Arthur Sheekman's screen play which was based on the book by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse. The musical numbers were staged by Robert Alton.

I'm New Here

Any Greenbelt organization wishing to earn the undying gratitude of every resident here has only to start a campaign to number or mark every court so that a person seeking a certain house does not have to spend half a day looking.

It is bad enough during the day for outsider or even a native Greenbelter to wander in and out of courts trying to find the correct house. But at night it is well nigh impossible.

Could we arrange with Pepco to put some small signs on poles, with arrows, indicating the numbers of the houses and the letters, such as "13 Ridge, A thru V."

Greenbelt is a city, not a village. How about it, City Council?

Q. How can I improve the smoothness of clothing that has been starched?

A. Smoothness and glossiness can be more easily secured, when ironing starched pieces, by stirring the starch three or four times while boiling with a paraffin candle.

LEGIONNAIRES BEAT MARYLAND TEAM

Greenbelt's American Legion nine continue to roll along victorious in the Southern Maryland District league Sunday by downing My Maryland 11-3. Jim Strippling picked up his second win against no defeats in league play as he scattered 7 singles and fanned 10. Strippling also led the hitters by collecting 3 hits, driving home 3 runs. "Bing" Miller, Bill Rector, and Bob Hospan were close behind with 2 apiece. Hospan's bringing in 2 runs. Greenbelt's league record is now 5 wins, no losses. They have yet to score under 9 runs in a single game.
